We propose that an honorary degree be awarded to the wives of CSTC students for meritorious service above and beyond the call of duty. They have all cooperated and worked together to create a family atmosphere in which the children of CSTC have thrived.

If the marriage has been blessed with children, the mother does the endless round of required tasks with a minimum of complaint. She tries to keep the children quiet at night with the aid of a rule book, without trying to understand the law of probabilities. She rejoices in her husband's successes and sympathizes with him in his defeats. She persists in thinking that her husband is the greatest man in the world when he has been away.

When their husbands obtain positions after leaving these cloistered walls, they fulfill the fondest dreams of their fondest wishes, (within the limits of a teacher's salary, of course).

FAMILAR FACES OF CSTC

Working in a library has been described as boring, useless or just plain fascinating. Well, if that's so, then there is but one of CSTC's foremost librarians, Roberta Henderson, who probably knows more about the library and books than anyone else.

Thus, it is no surprise that when asked about her experiences in this library, she says, "You'd be surprised at the different types of people I meet. And the things they say!" Quite a number of students have wrenched excuses for bringing books late on the day of book sales before 8 p.m. One boy said that his landlord wouldn't let him take the book home because his family was going to go out after a bath, so he'd have to get it now.

Maybe it's clairvoyancy, or perhaps just enough literature to make her look at faces from the library. At any rate, she can usually tell in some students that the books they insist on have not taken out are in their bookcases at home or in some similar hide-out.

Biggest Shock

Roberta's biggest shock in her work to date was the fellow who bounced into the library and said, "I want to see a real live librarian without a hat on." Without even introducing herself, Roberta flashed back, "Well, I don't look like a real librarian, do I?" He then wanted to know what a spark or two could do in that pile of books.

"Bobbie," from Monroe, is now a junior majoring in English, with French and biology minors. She has been a librarian since her freshman days and is working toward a library certificate. However, WSCA has been her biggest job and hobby this year.

Roberta's career in WSCA has been as confused as the association, since it is a new group on the campus. Although there are chapters in most other colleges, this one has been organized on a national level. WSCA was organized in 1949, Roberta was the junior representative. She was elected president in February, 1950. Miss Minnie

Sixty Members and Their Guests Attend Annual Pointer Banquet

Sixty members of the Pointer staff and their guests attended the annual banquet held last Thursday evening in the Nelson Hall dining room. The guests were attractively decorated with clever crepe paper bluebirds, bluebells and paper flowers. Some of the guests were garbed in their favorite costumes of the fall season, the gaily-colored costumes of the gals and strikingly colored costumes of the gents. A centerpiece of white and yellow flowers was served on every table.

"A AND THEREFORE curril," January, 1950, Pointer news editor, is shown in her capacity at treasurer of the annual Pointer banquet held last Thursday evening in Nelson Hall. Autograph pantograph may now proceed to re-use (though facsimile the impression is made on these beautifully engraved)

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Westley Foundation

Gordon Sorensen, the new president of the Westley Foundation, had charge of the WSCA banquet on May 11 in the department store banquet room. He was assisted by Miss Nelson, Miss Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gilbert, and Miss Elsie Brown. The banquet was held in the dining room of the Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Berg became the parents of a nine-pound, 10-ounce baby, James Brian, last Thursday afternoon. (This answers the concluding statement in the feature story of a newborn baby."

Tom Sawyer Opera Presently the Junior High Students

"Tom Sawyer," a childhood classic retold in musical numbers, was presented as an operetta May 10 and 11 by the Mary D. Bradford Junior High School. Under the direction of Miss Helen Heel, Grace Peterson, and Miss Dorothy McDonald, the eighth grade students admirably re-created the color and excitement of the original play. The scene in the opera is on the banks of the Mississippi River, the exciting action in the big cave and the gaiety of life on its banks. The actors and actresses made their performances realistic and successfully re-created the children.

Can't Stop to Concentrate

Some new light in the 18th century invention. Came to our attention recently. The younger generation of this year's winter content with the super-equipped-operated-by-the-felt bicycle. Instead, to imitate the sound effects of the old becoming prevalent motor bike, the younger generation has rigged up a clothes-pin-cardboard affair that when attached to the back of a bicycle makes the noise of a motor. The more clothes-pins and cardboard one uses, the greater the number of cylinders to the motor.

Pointers Lose in Close Meet
To Houghton Tech,

The Pointers lost a close decision last Saturday to Houghton Tech, 70 1/3 to 60 2/3. Frank Crow, W. Crow's crew could only win four firsts out of the 15 events.

A few hundred fans were on hand to witness the meet, but their exact purpose of attendance was doubtful. The viewers stretched their tongues and cheer-leavened the field and took in the warm rays of the sun. Only the crack of the starter's gun broke the droning summer whispers and if the event didn't look particularly interesting the idle seekers rolled over and went back to sleep.

The results:

100 yard dash - 1, Shaw (H) 2, Luhm (CS) 3, Patton (CS) Time: 10,8.
220 yard dash - 1, Shaw (H) 2, Luhm (CS) 3, Patton (CS) Time: 22,4.
300 yard dash - 1, Veges (CS) 2, Patton (CS) 3, Shaw (H) Time: 33,6.
440 yard dash - 1, Veges (CS) 2, Patton (CS) 3, Shaw (H) Time: 1,04.
1 100 yard low hurdles - 1, Luhm (SP) 2, Jung (EC) Time: 1,55.
Mile - 1, 1,000 yard run among Byers, Cathcart and Dosch (H), Time: 4,55.
Twinsville - 1, Cathcart (H) 2, Jung (EC) 3, Allen (H) Time: 4,55.

220 yard low hurdles - 1, Luhm (SP) 2, Stewart (CS) 3, Seaton (SP) Time: 25.

From all indications football fans really have something to look forward to next year when Coach Quandt's gridiron defenders gain their championship title.
