Southernites Will Sing For Students March 13

When the Southernites come to CSTC on March 13, students will be privileged to hear a group that is ranked among the greatest vocal ensembles heard today over the radio and all across the nation.

With a repertoire of songs reaching back to the days when the voices of the past were the only ones available, the quintet is full of variety. This vocal ensemble, ranked among the greatest since 1929, present songs from the classics, old English folk songs, the more modern composers, as well as the Negro spirituals and folk songs loved by everyone.

Movie on Marriage Is Scheduled for Tonight

"Are You Ready for Marriage?" a movie sponsored by the Y-Dubs, will be presented tonight at 7 o'clock in the college auditorium. "Are You Ready for Marriage?" is a flick, yet clear screen guide designed for the use of every group concerned with life adjustment problems. Through the story of Sue and Larry, a vital problem affecting everyone is brought into a fascinating screen presentation.

The role played by the parents and a sympathetic marriage counselor in helping this couple provides a working pattern for thousands of others in similar situations. "Are You Ready for Marriage?" was filmed under the direct supervision of Dr. Reshen Hill, research professor in family life, University of North Carolina.

A special invitation has been extended to the various religious organizations, although everyone is welcome. All members of the cast and representatives of YWCA will attend the meetings to be held by the religious groups. At the next meeting of the Y-Dubs the movie will be discussed, each representative giving a report on their discussions of the religious groups.

Wanted-CSTC Mascot Dog

A committee of Student Council members have looked into the matter of obtaining a stop dog as mascot for CSTC. So far, no purchase has been made. Anybody interested in getting a mascot dog is asked that anyone or any group interested in the matter contact Bob Cook, or some other Student Council member. All suggestions pertaining to the purchase of such a dog will be gratefully accepted.

Rushing Time Is Here Again

Again the five Greek organizations on campus are preparing for the acquisition of new members. Beginning with Omega Theta Chi-secrecy's rushing party on Sunday, February 5, the "rush" season will officially start.

Rushing consists of a party given by each of the sororities and fraternities for the purpose of acquainting the rushers, or prospective pledges, with the members of the organization. These parties are usually of an informal nature featuring entertainment, informal talk and refreshments.

The Omegas are holding their party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Schein. The Phi Betas, on Sunday, March 4, will entertain their rushers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCarron. The following afternoon, March 5, the Tau Gamma lambas will hold their party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Funk.

The dates for the Chi Delta and Theta Delta parties have not yet determined.

Musicians Hold Elections

Wesley Installed As Head

Frank Wesley was installed as president at a regular meeting of Alpha Kappa Phi on February 19, at P. J. Mitchell's. Janet Green is the new vice-president; Barbara Nelson, secretary; and Nancie Goebel, treasurer. TheOrganization was organized in 1929 by a group of CSTC students interested in promoting the advancement and understanding of music. The club sponsored several interesting programs to the college as part of their program.

A New Honorary Fraternity, Alpha Gamma, Being Formed

A new honorary fraternity is in the process of being formed on the campus of the Social Studies Club at the Greek letters Alpha, Gamma, and Omega. A derivative from two Greeks, one a symbol of the letter, the other a meaning; the third letter, Alpha Gamma hopes to join a national in honor. The national organization was organized in 1948 by a group of CSTC students interested in promoting the advancement and understanding of music. The club sponsored several interesting programs to the college as part of their program.

Previously the organization was open to any interested student, but now the fraternity has set up a definite set of requirements for membership. Among these are; a student must have a 2.0 average in a social studies minor, and must have two or more social studies minors. For the first year, the fraternity is $1.50 per semester, plus the initiation fee covering the cost of the initial installation and banquet will take place in March and invitations to members will be sent.

The charter members of the group are: June Koestler, Barbara Davies, Fred Hirzy, Jim Myer, Clarice Kercheville, Charles Meggs, Larry Berg, Leland M. Linderquist, Alfred Long, Irving Monch, Richard Muhl, John P. Nagele, John Pollock, and Ralph Storm. The present officers of the fraternity include: Leland M. Linderquist, president; Alvon Long, vice-president; Richard Pollock, secretary; and Irving Monch, treasurer. Among those who will become Alphas are: Robert F. 1. Briley, A. P. Fitzgerald, and Margaret L. McHugh, representing the geography department. The major portion of the reorganization was done by a committee composed of Clarence Kercheville, Alvon Long, John P. Nagele, Alvin Long, Tom Shamps, and Ralph Storm, representing the history department.

June Graduates Accept First Teaching Positions

Already many June graduates have accepted teaching positions. Additional offers have also been made. Most of the Donald Sargent of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin. (See Washington, page 4)
In the opinion of Homecoming, perhaps Louis best serves the city as director of the Homecoming activities. Aside from these sports he takes part in all types of football and basketball games, and is the star player of the track team as a freshman.

Louis is well-known and liked by many CSTC students and his girlfriend, K. P. in a familiar and affectionate way. Louis is also a pretty familiar name in the city and is known to talk at long distance with his very friendly friends and tell them to "just call me Joe."
Pointers Face Oshkosh Titans Last Home Contest of Season

The curtain falls on the 1950-51 home basketball season, when CSTC college quarters. A formidable opponent from Oshkosh this Saturday at P. J. Jacobs gym, high Havoc Quad, was hoping to stage an earlier defeat at the hands of the Titans. Saturday night, which they dropped a 67-39 decision in the Oshkosh "crackerbox" gymnasium.

Punning a 4-5 won and lost record through the play thus far, the Titans are a 'must' for the Pointers if they chance to win a conference victory, category. And not only is this game a 'must' for the team, but equally so, for the Pointers have a last chance to see their fighting team maintain its current strength in winning their last league contest en masse.

Veteran coach Bob Koll has had to rely on a green squad this season, due to the loss of seven out of eight lettermen from last year's team. This veterans Juan was going to stand up against two victories and five defeats. The wins were over CSTC and newcomer to the division.

Koll will probably use the same alignment tonight and stamp his name in the initial encounter. The main attrition will take place this time around return from last year's squad, and Tom Paul, who between them scored 30 of the Titans points in the conference race.

Player Sketches

One of the Pointers who plays guard on the team and is very much in action on the basketball court is Ray Anderson who hails from White Lake, Wisconsin. This is his first year of college after serving two years in the air force. He played a great deal of basketball while in service and he did compete against some famous army stars as "Doug" Blanchard and Arnold Tucker who were equally adept at basketball and football.

Ray likes to hunt and fish especially in Canada where he has resided for many years. One of his greatest prides is the fact that he played basketball on the White Lake playgrounds city team. He seems to have endless praise for it and what he remembers most about it is when they won the gold medal Trophy at Grandon last year.

Ray thus far is undecided what field to pursue at school, but he knows that he is at CSTC and is very happy about it all.

An amazing fact about Gerald Rued is that he is a senior, but a first year man on the varsity cage squad. He alternates between guard and forward and is quite a playmaker on the court.

Besides the basketball team, Rued participates in golf and tennis and belongs to the Young Republicans. He has decided to enter the commercial arts field and has been studying for that purpose at CSTC.

Rued never played basketball until this year at college. While at Texas Tech in Austin, Texas, he was not on the high school team, but he has accomplished a great deal by gaining a berth on the college team.

His best experiences, he relates, were when he played most of the games in the season's opener against Northland and Milton colleges. In these games he played against his friends that were in high school and him and was proud that he would show them his basketball feats.

HONOR WAGNER SCORES 27 POINTS AS POINTERS BEAT HIGH-SCORING FALCONS

The rampaging Pointers gained a 2000 percentage rating in the Teachers conference when they defeated the River Falls Falcons there last Saturday night, 86 to 76. The win gave the Purple and Gold squad four wins and four defeats.

Coach Hale Quandt came up with a center who just about matched Roger Kiss, the point conscious gentleman from River Falls. Bill Wagner "singled the twinge" for 27 points and Kiss gathered in 20 points. Also instrumental in the Pointer win was "Tex" Polzin with 29 points, Don Schroeder 17 points, and Chet Polka and Walt Samuelson with 10 points each.

The game marked another step toward the Pointers finishing the season strong. The last three games have been a joy about face from the earlier encounters. The spirit and morale of the squad is vastly improved.

Commenting on the heralded Kiss, Coach Quandt took a rather "I saw and I believed" attitude. "Kiss could play anybody's squad," the Point mentor commented.

WASHINGTON
settled down and married the widow Martha Custis.

Washington 8th President

Another misconception is that Washington was the eighth President of the United States. Actually, Washington was the eighth President. Seven other men preceded him in Chambers of the Congressional Assembly. But when he did get in, he maintained the dignity of the office. He rode in a large coach drawn by four to six fine horses, attended by lackeys in rich livery. He would parade around at receptions wearing a black velvet suit with gold bangles, yellow gloves, powdered hair, a large hat with an ostrich-plume, and a sword dangling from a white leather scabbard. He was the eyes of the plaza-plunking politicians now inhaling the White House.

Some of the principles set down by Washington in his famous " Farewell Address" of 1796 are still in vogue today as basic reasoning by American politicians. Actually, Washington didn't even write his speech. Alexander Hamilton was entrusted with this job, but it contained all of his ideas. The two most famous passages of this speech stated that two terms as President were enough for any man, and that the U. S. should definitely stay out of foreign wars. The first was observed by all until Franklin Roosevelt declared to make the office his lifetime job, but the latter was generally kicked around by each of his successors.
