The "Big Wheels"—on the job in the Pointer office are the new heads of the Pointer staff for the second semester. Pat O'Brien will succeed Chuck Hodgdon as Business Manager for the coming semester and Joe Boettcher will assume the Editor's chair vacated by Fred LaLeike.

Boettcher Named as Pointer's Editor for Coming School Year

O'Brien to Be Business Manager

Because of graduations, military service and transfers to other schools, there are several changes in the Pointer staff for the second semester. The editor, Fred LaLeike, is leaving, as he graduates in February and is already teaching at Harvard, Illinois. Joe Boettcher is taking over his job as editor. Joe, a senior in the secondary division, hails from Merrill. He has an English major with speech and history minors. He is president of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and is a member of the Student Council and Forum. In his speech work he has managed the forensic tournaments. Joe worked on the Merrill Herald for two and one-half years while he was going to Merrill High school.

Pat O'Brien has been named Business Manager for the second semester, succeeding Charles Hodgdon, who has enlisted in the Navy. Pat is a Stevens Point boy. He graduated from high school in '47 and worked for the Telephone Co. as a lineman for 15 months before coming to college. He is a Junior in the Intermediate division, a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and the Round Table.

Ray Venn, the Pointer composition editor, graduates, too, and starts

CSTC May Have ROTC Unit

CSTC may have a Reserve Officers Training Corps on the campus in the near future. In a meeting last Monday, the faculty voted to apply for an ROTC unit for the college.

Some other colleges throughout the state already have such units active on their campuses. Among the state teachers colleges, Superior already has a unit and Whitewater and Oshkosh have recently applied for an ROTC group.

The unit would function as part of the college work and would offer college men an opportunity to receive some military training while going to school.

teaching at Westfield on Monday. His assistant, Frank DeGuire, is leaving at the end of the semester for far distant shores in the Navy. Dave Ross will be the new composition editor and will be assisted by Willis Zick and Jerry Boettcher.

The news editor, Gretchen Holstein, is transferring to Wisconsin to pursue her work in medicine. Patricia Derge, who has been her assistant, will take her place. Pat, who comes from Marshfield, is a sophomore in the Intermediate division. Her assistant will be Sally Scribner of Stevens Point.

The new staff is now in the process of orientation. With a few pointers from the old Pointers they hope to put out good Pointers in the coming semester.

February Grads Prepare For New Role as Teachers

Although June is the month of graduates, quite a number of CSTC students will go out into the world during February.

Those graduating from the Secondary Division with a bachelor of science degree are Donna Alderton, Laona; Robert Cole, Nekosia; Rudolph Horn, Chili; Donald Jaeschke, Tomahawk; William Koch, Wausau; Fred LaLeike, Stevens Point; Helen LaLeike, Stevens Point; Richard Lorenzen, Racine; Richard Lund, Bryant; Dale McCutcheon, Stevens Point; Philip Nelson, Iola; Donald Sargent, Wisconsin Rapids; George Stevens, Marinette; Ralph Storm, Merrill; and Raymond Venn, Elcho. Charles Hanke, Wausau, of the Intermediate division, will also receive a B. S. degree.

Those graduating from the Intermediate and Upper Elementary division who will receive a bachelor of education degree include Loran Elis, Plainfield; William Plath Jr., Spencer; Edward Pliska, Stevens Point; Eunice Rothweiler, Milwau-

Drop Draft Rule Which Sentenced All to Army

The defense department announced last week that it had dropped the draft rule which automatically sent all draftees to the army. This was good news to thousands of college men who were contemplating quitting school in order to enlist in the service of their choice. Under the new plan the student who gets a draft call may volunteer for the armed service of his choice and not be called to active service until the end of the school year that he has started.

When asked to comment on the recent development, President William C. Hansen said, "It is certainly a step in the right direction and should relieve a lot of pressure on the college men."

Debate Tournament Here

CSTC will be the scene of the district high school debate tournament on Friday, February 2. Approximately 12 schools will be represented at the contest.

Leland M. Burroughs, head of the college speech department, is in charge of the tournament. Several students of the college will assist him with the tourney.

There will be three rounds of debate during the day, with the teams winning the most debates being eligible for the sectional tourney to be held here at a later date.

Grads Bring High School Bands to Clinic at CSTC

A large group of musicians are expected here, Saturday, January 27, for the High school band masters clinic sponsored by the Music department. Several directors, including CSTC alumni, are bringing their entire bands. The program, scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the college auditorium, will include numbers to be played by the High school bands in the spring music festival.

The CSTC band will play the selections under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, who will also make comments and explanations to the audience pertaining to tempo, rhythm and style. The band will play five selections in each of the A, B, and C classes. Following the morning clinic, the band and CSTC alumni will have a noon luncheon in the band room. Anyone who would like to listen in on the morning or afternoon session in the auditorium is invited to do so.

Some of the alumni expected to attend are: Jack Perry, Melrose; John Whitney, Woodruff; John Edwards, Boscobel; Marjorie Loberg, Mishicot; Marjorie Kohler, Weyauwega; Walter Peterson, Marathon; Ralph Abrahamson, Medford; Harry Hemstock, Fall River; Grace Peterson, Bahr, Shawano; Sam Winch, Adams-Friendship; Melvin Wunsch, Valders; James Whelihan, Unity; Fred Parfrey, Beaver Dam.

Keneth Sauter, Stevens Point; Marcella Schantz, Stevens Point; Kenneth Veselak, Antigo; and Brice Warner, Plainfield.

Primary division graduates who will receive a B.E. degree are Patricia Harrison, Wausau; Adeline Kijak, Edgar; and Kathleen Pierce, Stevens Point.

Rural graduates this year include Marion Schwab, a two year diploma graduate, and Joseph Mayer, Tomahawk, who will receive a Bachelor of Education degree.

U. of Minnesota Players Will Present Play, "Night Must Fall"

The University Players of the University of Minnesota graduate school, the same group which was so well received here last year when they presented "But Not Goodbye," will stage a well-known three act play, "Night Must Fall," by Evelyn Williams, in the college auditorium, Tuesday, February 13, at 8 p.m. This is the first of a series of very interesting and worthwhile second semester assembly programs which has been arranged by Dr. Arthur S. Lyness and his committee on school assemblies.

"Night Must Fall" is a play of suspense and intrigue which came to the U.S. from England to become a smash hit on Broadway. Miss Williams' fascinating mystery is well remembered as the play which was adapted for a motion picture starring Robert Montgomery. In a recent article on Mr. Montgomery, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, the actor referred to his part as Dan in "Night Must Fall" as the most exciting and important role of his film career.

The cast for this play has been selected by Dr. Frank M. Whiting, Director of the University Theatre. This is not an amateur production but professional level theatre presented by top drama graduates in this section of the country. In their fall tour, these same performers were widely acclaimed for their outstanding presentation of Oliver Goldsmith's comedy classic, "She Stoops to Conquer."

"Night Must Fall" is a sophisticated tale of murder and mystery which concerns the relationship between Dan, a bellboy, and an old English fustibudget, Mrs. Bramson. Dan, a cocky but enchanting young man, who is actually insane, plays his mistress for a fool and manages to make a very nice young lady fall in love with him even though she realizes he is evil. Leo Hartig, well known to Midwest theatre goers, will star as Dan and Shirley Jac Warner will play the part of Mrs. Bramson.

We Need a Rest!

What with semester examinations coming up next week and the following week being devoted primarily to the registration process, this will be the last issue of the Pointer until February 15.

Registration is the fifth and sixth of February with classes beginning on the seventh.

Second Annual BIE Day Plans Near Completion

Plans are near completion for the second annual Business-Industry-Education Day, which will be held on February 15. Last year the teachers visited businesses and industrial plants in Stevens Point, but this year the tables will be turned and the business men will visit the schools of Stevens Point.

The day's program will start at noon with luncheon for the business men at the Emerson, McKinley, P. J. Jacobs, St. Peter's and the Training schools, in their respective lunch rooms. This will be followed by a briefing session for everyone at the CSTC auditorium. During the afternoon, visitations will be made by the business leaders to the various city schools, including CSTC. In the evening a social hour at the American Legion club rooms and a banquet at the Hotel Whiting are planned with the teachers as guests of the business men. Victor J. Bukolt, president of the Lullabye Corporation, is general chairman of B. I. E. day.

Summer School Field Trip To New England Offered

A summer school field trip is again to be offered students at CSTC. This, the third annual field trip, will take students into New England and French Canada for a period of three weeks. Covering work in geography and literature, the course will be conducted by Raymond E. Specht, instructor in geography, and Norman E. Knutzen of the college English department.

The three weeks motor trip will begin June 25, 1951, and will include stops at Niagara Falls; Sturbridge Village, Boston and Concord, Massachusetts; Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto, Canada. Industrial tours will include the Studebaker corporation, the Shredded Wheat plant, asbestos, marble and granite quarries, shoe and textile factories. Literature highlights will include such places of interest as Longfellow's Wayside Inn, Walden Pond, the House of Seven Gables, the Old Manse, the site of the "Wreck of the Hesperus," and the Great Stone Face.

Students taking the course may earn six credits, three in geography and three in literature. The first

Pre-Can Conference

The Newman club of CSTC is sponsoring a conference on marriage, called a Pre-Can Conference, in the auditorium this afternoon beginning at 2:10 p.m. The conference will be conducted by Reverend Joseph Halloran of Milwaukee. Father Halloran is a very popular speaker and is well known throughout the state for the previous conferences of this type that he has conducted.

Two talks will be given, the first at 2:10 p.m., and the second at 3:15 p.m. They will be short and very informal with a question and answer period after each. All college students are invited to take part; however, no one may be excused from classes to attend.

Attention, Alums!

The section containing news of special interest to you, written by Miss Syble Mason, will be found on page 3 of this issue. We hope you enjoy it. Let the Pointer staff know your reaction.

More Job Placements

Several superintendents of schools have been at CSTC recently to interview students for teaching positions. Among them are Frank Weix, superintendent of schools at Bonduel and G. W. Bannerman of Wausau. Miss Martha Madson, elementary supervisor of Wausau, and Miss Martha Sorenson, elementary supervisor at Appleton, were also here.

Students who have accepted positions are Ray Venn of Elcho, who will teach mathematics and science at Westfield and Donna Alderton of Laona, who will teach English and speech at Beaver Dam.

week of the summer session will be devoted to orientation on campus. Following the three week bus trip the students will spend the last two weeks on campus during which time they will complete field reports under the guidance of the field trip instructors.

Reservations will be made for 26 students. The group will travel in the college bus. The driver will be Eugene Polzin, a student at the college, who also accompanied the group last summer.

What About The N. S. A.?

According to all reports, CSTC is going to become a member of the National Student association at the beginning of the second semester. To many here at the college it is news. They have not heard of the NSA or what it will do for the college.

What is the NSA? Is it good or bad? Will it help us as students? How much will it cost us? These are all questions which naturally arise in the minds of students. Yet, who can tell us the answers?

Evidently the Student Council knows the answers. They were the ones that voted it in way back in November, but they don't seem to be giving out with any information. If the name means what it implies, National Student association, the student body should have been informed about it before now. From what little has been said about NSA, it seems like something worthwhile, but we, personally, would like to know about anything we're getting into, and we're sure there are many more like us. If we're joining the NSA in February, we deserve to know what we are joining.

We've had the opportunity to talk to some students about NSA. Many of them did not know we were joining it. Most of them knew we were joining, but knew nothing about it. Only a few knew anything about the NSA itself. We should be better informed than that?

How about it, Student Council????

Good-by and Good Luck

The following is an excerpt from a talk given by Governor Walter J. Kohler to the University of Wisconsin's mid-year graduates recently. It will fit CSTC's mid-year graduates as well.

"Today you are formally going forth in the world.

"Broadly speaking, I believe that whatever happens to you in your civilian lives will depend upon yourselves.

"If bad things happen to you, it will be pretty much your own fault. And if good things happen to you, it will be pretty much by reason of your own virtues.

"I don't think that there is much in life that need concern you. If you don't know it already, you will find out that virtually all mankind is decent and that you will find decency if you give it.

"Truth, honor, justice, beauty, courage are commonplace words whose elusive, essential meaning I hope that will constantly rediscover throughout the years. I hope that you will respect those words and never use them lightly.

"I would ask you, too, to cherish the little things — sparkling raindrops on the bare branches when the sun comes out after the rain; the quiet peace of a snowfall; the blossoming of lilacs for one breathless week in May.

"These are the joys that will outweigh the sorrows that lie before you in the years ahead.

"You have confidence. Keep it. Remember, too, that no good cause is ever lost.

"Go forth into the world and shape it to your ends. I know that they will be good ends and that you will shape them well."

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Social Studies Club

The Social Studies club met and elected officers for the second semester. They are as follows: President, Clarence Karick; vice-president, Alvin Long; secretary, Jack Polzin; treasurer, Irving Mochuk. The club is presently undergoing a comprehensive re-organization.

Opinions Are Asked By Social Studies Club

Again the Social Studies club offers a questionnaire on important issues of the present. This month the subject is domestic issues of today.

Cut out the questions, answer them and put them in a box which is in front of the library and is provided for that purpose.

1. Should the federal government take care of present expenditures by the "pay as you go" plan?
Yes No
2. Would you approve of a federal sales tax?
Yes No
3. Do you approve of admitting Alaska and Hawaii as states to the union?
Yes No
4. Should America draft the 18-year-old men?
Yes No
5. Should there be educational deferments for college students?
Yes No

Sigma Zeta

Movies were shown by Raymond M. Rightsell at a regular meeting of Sigma Zeta on Wednesday evening, January 17. Sigma Zetas saw a comedy and three movies on bird dogs.

A short business meeting was conducted by President Edward Furstenberg.

LSA

An election was held at the LSA meeting at Trinity Lutheran church, Sunday, January 21, and the following people were elected: President, Robert Kristiansen; vice-president, William Cook; secretary, Sylvia Abrahamson; treasurer, Jeanette Holm.

A film was shown entitled "I Am With You."

The next meeting will be held February 11. At this meeting the newly elected officers will be installed. Further details will be published later.

Omega Mu Chi

The Omega Mu Chi sorority held election of officers at the regular meeting Tuesday, January 17. The newly elected officers are: President, Virginia Gmeiner; vice-president, Isla Mae Friberg; recording secretary, Beverly Tibbetts; corresponding secretary, Molly Knope; historian, Ann Phelan; press representative, Ardis Raaths; Pan-Hellenic representative, Nancy Sannes; chaplain, Sally Connor.

Radio Workshop Players . . . A familiar group to listeners of the Radio Workshop programs is the Radio Workshop Players who present a different drama every Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. on station WLBL. Pictured above are a portion of the "Players." They include Mary Lund, John Behrendt, Garth Spees, Moe Mead, Wilbur Way, Bill Metzger, Ed Furstenberg, in the control room, and Don Blais seated at the table.

Many Students Unaware of Radio Workshop's Various Activities

While the rest of CSTC is calmly proceeding to the end of the semester, the radio rooms in the basement are the scene of many varied activities, most of which the student body is not aware of. However, their indifference is more than matched by enthusiasm of the regular frequenters of Studio A.

Probably the most prominent feature of the program is the drama presented by the Radio Workshop Players, Wednesdays at 3 o'clock over WLBL. Under the direction of Vern Varney, they are working for one-half credit in Education 226. Although 54 students are signed up, only 29 are active. When casting material grows a little thin, the director and his assistants go out into the highways and byways to ferret out some actors. These abductions will cease when more people show up at casting, on Thursdays at 4 o'clock. Participation in these shows is more helpful to the individual student than to anyone else.

Correct Speech

"Many speech impediments can be corrected by working with a tape recorder. In any event, almost everybody's voice can be improved by radio work," claims Mr. Varney.

The Workshop obtains its plays from the National Scripting service. "Look Out Below" and "See a Pin and Pick It Up" are coming attractions.

The Round Table is the other student activity of the program. Frederick A. Krempel and his panel of more-or-less experts hash over the topic for discussion before going on the air on Thursdays at 4 o'clock. Although they don't have a direct line to Washington as yet, their time is well spent. Here again more students would be welcomed.

The newest course in radio work is Education 231 for juniors and seniors. It will consist of preparation for teaching in radio and visual aids.

Recording for organizations is one of the other tasks of the students. Added to these are the everyday jobs of making sure all the flips, switches, needles, dials and buttons are in order, preventing all those volts from running through visitors, and most of all, keeping CSTC on the air.

FAMILIAR FACES

The loss of editor-in-chief Fred LaLeike and composition editor Ray Venn through mid-semester graduation will be deeply felt by the POINTER staff during the second semester, for the success of the last 12 issues of the POINTER was largely due to the efforts of those two capable and experienced staff members.

This is the first time this year

At the present LaLeike is in Harvard, Illinois, where he will teach the seventh grade during the second semester.

LaLeike Began as Reporter

Soft-spoken but energetic, LaLeike started on the POINTER as a reporter and then served as assistant composition editor and composition editor. He moved right up the line of succession on the POINTER staff

"Familiar Faces" has been able to present "ye ole editor," since Fred's modesty and behind-the-scenes hard work would not allow it previously. But now the opportunity of giving Fred his due credit is possible, as Joe Boettcher has taken over the POINTER's most coveted swivel chair.

until he reached the top, becoming editor-in-chief last September. A 1944 graduate of Stoughton (Wisconsin) High School, he has lived in Stevens Point for the past four years. Last August he married Helen Offerdahl of Stevens Point. Round-faced and light-haired Fred has been very busy during the first

Status of CSTC Men In National Emergency

Since the beginning of the first semester, 27 male students have left Central State Teachers college to enlist in the armed forces. Included in the 458 men left on the campus are 25 members of the national guard, 39 members of various reserve components, 199 who aren't in the guards or reserves but are of draft age (19-25) and single, 26 who are of draft age but married, and 125 who are either under 19 or over 25 years of age. Among male faculty members there are four who are members of the reserves.

The present selective service setup calls for delaying of the induction of draft eligibles until the end of their current college year, providing that they maintain satisfactory grades. However, many students have felt that they would be better off enlisting in a more desirable branch of the service than waiting to be drafted into the army, the only branch which is taking draftees at the present time.

The following students have been accepted as enlistees and have officially withdrawn from school: Russell Alderton, Dick Davis, Gerald Foster, Roger Hendrickson, John Potter, Kent Roebert, Jerry Scheel and Edward Tierney.

The following is a list of students who have left school to enlist in the service but have not officially withdrawn yet: Donald Betry, Eugene Paulsen, Robert Rude, Harry Campbell, Leland Knudson, Darrell Benson, William Clayton, John Christian, Terry Cooper, Joe Costagna, John Irvine, Quinten Laabs, Lawrence Novak, Richard Wiener, James Tracy, Robert Hill, James Lawton, Ronald Mehlem and Rueben "Tomato" Clark.

Besides fulfilling the heavy duties of his editorship and practice teaching work, Fred was active in Chi Delta Rho and the Forum.

On November 9, Fred and his wife became active members of Sigma Tau Delta, the national professional English fraternity, along with 10 other CSTC students.

Fred will graduate at the end of this semester with a Bachelor of Science degree. His major is geography and minors, Spanish, English, and history.

A Sound Editorial Policy Without doubt the majority of CSTC students will remember Fred mostly through his editorials. Possessing the deep insight and sound judgment of an older and experienced student, he steered clear of a policy of gossip and yellow journalism for the POINTER. He did everything within his power to give CSTC a school paper of which future teachers could be proud. He welcomed and asked for constructive criticism on numerous occasions, but clearly

CSTC Alumni Serving in Various Offices Throughout the Country

Many Alums Accept New Positions

Several CSTC alumni are serving as presidents of the local associations of the Wisconsin Education association. Wilbur J. Stowell, class of 1931, is president at Cornell; Bjorn Christenson, class of 1938, at De Pere; Clifford Hodgins, class of 1944, at Kaukauna; Jay Sweet, class of 1947, at Marshfield; Ralph Abrahamson, class of 1938, at Medford; Harold M. Ankerson, class of 1942, at Mosinee; Nelda Dopp, class of 1947, at Neokosa; Warde W. Whittaker, class of 1947, at Waupun; Harry Bender, class of 1936, of Clark county; Wilmarth Thayer, class of 1948, of Forest county; Robert Shorey, class of 1946, of Jefferson county; Edward Fenelon, class of 1949, of Marinette county; Charles Bart, class of 1949, of Oconto county; and Joseph Albrecht, class of 1940, is president of Vilas county.

Louis Clock, class of 1940, principal of the Campus School at Eau Claire STC, was re-elected secretary of the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers association at the annual convention at Eau Claire in October. Samson J. Paynter, class of 1937, an elementary school principal at Wausau, was elected 2nd vice-president of the Wisconsin Elementary Principals association at its annual spring meeting in Madison.

Lulu Kellogg, class of 1938, principal of the Wausau County Normal at Wautoma, was elected secretary of the County Normal School Principals association at its fall conference.

Dr. Herrick is Guest Speaker

Dr. Virgil E. Herrick, class of 1925, professor of education at the University of Wisconsin, was the guest dinner speaker at an In-service training institute held at La Crosse STC on October 23. His subject was "What Other Schools in Wisconsin and the Country Are Doing in the Way of Developing Programs of Growth in Service for Teachers, Supervisors, and Administrators."

Miss Irene Kronenwetter, class of 1942, Marathon county supervising teacher of Wausau, was elected 1st vice-president of the Wisconsin Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development at a recent meeting of the group. Raymond G. Hager, class of 1946, biology instructor at P. J. Jacobs High school, Stevens Point, was recently elected chairman of the health section of the Wisconsin Education Association for 1951. Mr. Hager also serves as chairman of the high school health committee. The chairman is selected each year in recognition of his good contribution to the program of better health for Wisconsin school children.

Jobs and Honors

Mrs. Eva (Last) Amerpohl, class of 1933, is second grade teacher at the Washington school in Appleton this year.

Ethelwyn Baerwaldt, class of 1934, was one of the first two students to earn a BLS degree this past summer from the University of Wisconsin Library School through attendance at summer sessions. She is assistant librarian at the Appleton High school.

Elizabeth (Stadler) Simoons, class of 1948, began work as Librarian in the General Library of the University of California at Berkeley on September 18.

Ellery Frost Bassler, class of 1937, is now chief claims adjuster of the Liberty Mutual Insurance company, Los Angeles, California. He is a lieutenant in the Navy reserve.

Donald Bednarek, class of 1950, is attending Marquette university, "learning the truth."

Robert Brehm, class of 1950, 5th and 6th grade teacher at Wabeno, was assistant director of the playground activities at Port Edwards this past summer.

Kenneth W. Brenner, class of 1945, former principal of the state graded school at Combined Locks, Wisconsin, became a critic teacher at the Northland Michigan College of Education at Marquette, Michigan, this fall.

Cletus Collins, class of 1934, entered the insurance business after two years of teaching. After serving in World War II, he established his own insurance agency, the Kuehl, Collins Agency, Los Angeles, California. He was married in 1940 and has four children, Mike, 8, Karen, 6, Tim, 4, and Kathy, 2. It was a pleasure to receive a most appreciative letter from Cletus in response to the Homecoming letter.

Gordon Cowles, class of 1939, who gave up teaching after three years to become a chemist and insurance salesman, has returned to teaching. He has been a social science teacher at the Wittenberg High school since 1949.

Greetings, Alumni!

With this issue, the second of four issues of the POINTER being sent to alumni during the current school year, we bring you greetings and best wishes for a successful, prosperous and peaceful new year. Because of the increased cost of printing and the decreasing funds of the alumni treasury, only 300 alumni, in addition to those on the regular mailing list of the POINTER, will receive this issue.

Of the 900 biographical information blanks sent to alumni with the Homecoming letter, only 150 have been returned. We would appreciate receiving the remaining 750.

We hope that you have enjoyed reading these alumni briefs. We urge the alumni to send us news of themselves and others. It is vitally important to know about changes in positions and addresses, marriages, births, advanced study, business and professional affiliations, etc. In any event, we would like to hear from our alumni.

Miss Syble Mason,
Alumni Secretary

the Stevens Point Daily Journal during the past summer.

Virginia Hull, class of 1949, has been assistant school nurse at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, since January 1950. She works in the 15 public schools helping the doctor with physical examinations, testing eyes, giving classroom talks, making home calls and doing follow-up work and first aid work.

Alums in Las Vegas

Lillian (La Marche) Korzilius, class of 1948, is teaching Home Economics in the Las Vegas, New Mexico, High school. Her husband, Edward, who received his degree in 1949, is attending the graduate

Celestine Nuesse, A US UNESCO Representative, Sent to Germany

Celestine Nuesse, class of 1934, assistant professor of sociology, Catholic university, Washington, D. C., administered a program of study tours for German religious leaders referred to the National Catholic Welfare Conference this past summer. Then he was named the Conference's member of the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO. In October he was sent to Germany for the current academic year as a special representative to work with German Catholic groups. He represented Catholic university of Washington, D. C., at the international conference of universities at Nice. Several members of the faculty received Christmas greetings from Celestine. The experience has been impressive and unique, but Celestine will welcome his return to the academic halls of Catholic university.

Gerhard Krembs, class of 1939, superintendent of the Door County Memorial hospital, Sturgeon Bay, was recently cited in the CRUSADER, the publication of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, for his outstanding work in fighting TB. This small hospital has a modern physical plant and has accomplished work on a small scale comparable to that at Milwaukee and Wausau, metropolitan and medium-sized cities, respectively. "Jerry" has been superintendent since 1947. He did his graduate work at Wisconsin and Columbia university, and spent a year's internship at Grace hospital, Detroit. His wife is the former Zilphia Webster, class of 1939. They have two children, James, age 3, and Gerhard Anton, born Sept. 22, 1950.

Mr. Belongia Is Subject Of Viroqua Paper's Column

Eugene Belongia, class of 1939, was the subject of the Viroqua BROADCASTER's weekly column entitled "Main Street Folks" recently. The articles are written to acquaint the paper's readers with men and women who have distinguished themselves in the community life of Viroqua. Eugene has been principal of the Viroqua High school since 1948. Prior to his present position, Eugene taught at Pound, Abrams, Gillett, and Linden. While at Gillett, his basketball team had a record of 55 wins and 27 losses. One of his boys scored 47 points in one game. The record still stands in Wisconsin high school circles. While at Linden, there were 15 boys at the school and all played basketball, except one, who was the cheerleader. Before the season closed the cheerleader was also playing basketball. This team had a record of 18 wins and four losses. His accomplishments were noteworthy, because the team did all its practice work before the games. They had no place to practice.

Eugene received a Master's degree in Education from the University of Wisconsin in 1949. He is a member of the Wisconsin Secondary School Principals association and Phi Delta Kappa, a national scholastic honorary fraternity. He is also a member of the Viroqua Lions club. Eugene's wife is the former Elva Twamley, a two year Rural State Graded graduate of 1938. They have one son, Billy, 9.

Louis Drobnick, class of 1940, County Superintendent, Waupaca county, is serving as Waupaca county campaign director of the March of Dimes drive.

Paul Gurholt, class of 1940, attended a four-week course in "Position of the United States in World Affairs," at the American university in Washington, D. C. this past summer. Two days were spent at Lake Success, N. Y. visiting the United Nations and Mr. Gurholt was privileged to sit in on a meeting of the trusteeship council which was considering the question of the unification of the Ewe tribes in Africa. Paul has given several talks on his experience during the summer.

Alum Coach of Chippewa

James McGuire, class of 1939, coach at Chippewa Falls, has had 10 straight victories without a defeat during the current basketball season. The team recently defeated Eau Claire for the first time in eight years. This is Jim's second year at Chippewa Falls High school and it is the first time since 1943 that the Falls cagers have been able to win consistently. Jim's wife is the former Gene Connor, class of 1938.

Don Unferth, class of 1936, has been named secretary of the Chicago Pitch and Hit club, an organization composed of players, umpires, and office personnel representing each of the 16 major league clubs and many of the minors. Don is assistant to John Rigney, farm director of the Chicago White Sox.

Betty (Brooks) Hall, class of 1945, is now living at Chatfield, Minn. Her husband is manager of the Hotel Chatfield. They have a daughter, Charlotte, who will be one year old on February 15.

Reuben Beilke, class of 1950, will receive his Master's degree from the University of Wisconsin at the close of the semester. His thesis is entitled "Student Political Action at the University of Wisconsin, 1930-1940." His wife, the former Patricia Anderson, class of 1950, is working in the classified ads department for Madison Newspapers, Inc.

Alan Fostad, class of 1947, is with the United Air Lines in Portland, Oregon.

Alum Marriages

Viola Gericke, class of 1941, is Mrs. Fred T. Watson. Both are

Several Alumni Called Into Military Service

Several alumni have been called into military service. Frank Koehn, class of 1943, principal of the high school at Bear Creek, reported at Fort Sheridan, Ill. for processing and reassignment on Jan. 10. Frank was a member of the inactive reserve corps, having served as a physical conditioning and rehabilitation instructor in World War II from June 1943 to February 1946. He will be replaced by Keith Fox, class of 1949. Mrs. Koehn is the former Maxine McGuire, class of 1943. She will spend the winter in Bear Creek with her two sons, Frank, five, and Bruce, 10 months. Mrs. Fox in the former Margaret Larson, class of 1942. There are three sons in the Fox family, ages two, three and four.

Recruits, James S. Davis, class of 1949, who has been teaching at Medford, and Robert Ellingson, class of 1950, were recently assigned to the medical replacement training center, a unit of Brooke army medical center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. At the Texas base, recruits learn the fundamentals of medical support of patients in hospitals and troops in the field. Both recruits entered service in December. Mr. Ellingson was married to Beverly Berg, a senior at the college, on Saturday evening, Dec. 2, at Decorah, Iowa. Mr. Ellingson was employed by the Wisconsin Public Service before entering service.

John Judd, class of 1949, inducted into the armed forces on Dec. 14, is now located with the army field forces, at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. James Buelow, class of 1949, who was inducted at the same time, is now located at Toledo, Ohio.

The January 9 inductees included Elmer H. Hayes, class of 1949, who has been teaching at Washington Island, George E. Emmerich, class of 1949, who has been teaching at Lena, and Joseph H. Martini, class of 1950, of Stevens Point.

Miss Fredrick, Richard

Marshall Receive Honors

Two of our alumni have brought honor to themselves and to CSTC by being elected officers of the Wisconsin Education association for 1951. Miss Hattie Fredrick, who received the B.E. degree in the summer of 1941, was elected 1st vice-president. Miss Fredrick is a supervising teacher in Rock county and was a former teacher and supervising teacher in Wood county. Miss Fredrick served as president and secretary of the Rock County Teachers association, served on the Wisconsin Teachers Retirement committee and the legislative committee of Wisconsin Supervising Teachers association.

Richard J. Marshall, who received the B.E. degree in 1931, was elected 2nd vice-president of the WEA. Mr. Marshall is superintendent of schools at Jefferson. Prior to his present position, he was a high school teacher at Washburn, and Rhineland, and principal at Oconto, Princeton and Port Edwards. Mr. Marshall is a past president of the Washburn and Rhineland Teachers associations, and a past chairman of the resolutions committee of the Wisconsin Association of School Administrators. He also served as a staff member of the Badger Boys' State, and chairman of the Green Lake Red Cross chapter.

teaching at New Canaan, Connecticut.

Virginia Ruth Evers, class of 1950, became the bride of Robert Winston Pradt, Jr., Wausau, on Thursday, Dec. 28. Mrs. Pradt teaches English and History in the Abbotford High school. Her husband, an employee of the Wausau Daily Record Herald, expects to be inducted into the armed forces in the near future.

Floyd Emerson Nixon, class of 1942, was married to Catherine Anne Smith at Harriman, Tennessee, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 23. The bride and groom met while attending Ohio State university, at Columbus, (See NUESSE, page 6)

Dave Bliese —

Gridiron Star Succeeds As Painter

"Gee-e," murmured the little freshman stopping in awe before the picture. "Gee, but isn't that good!" He wasn't alone in thinking so. Many have paused to admire this painting hanging in Miss Edna Carlsen's art room. The painting is a winter scene of the house, part of the street, and the trees in front of the Training school building. The painter is David Bliese, an art student, who started a pencil sketch of a building. At Miss Carlsen's suggestion he painted it. The result is a wonderful example of a snow scene, of perspective, and of a painting.

A native of Wausau, Dave was active in athletics and played four years of football there. He is now a junior in the upper elementary division here and would like to teach and to coach in the future. Dave is a familiar figure on the campus, especially to the CSTC football fans because of his feats on the gridiron. But all of his feats have not been accomplished in sports or with a football in his hand. Dave has taken up brushes and paints with equal success. Although this is his first year of art in college, he has had about four semesters of art in high school and painting in water colors and tempera is his hobby.

In painting this picture Dave spent about two hours each afternoon for about four afternoons. By skillfully using the blues, blacks, and whites, he created the beautiful effect the snow has in the winter scene. In fact the more it snowed outside the more Dave piled it on in his picture. And what started out a mere pencil sketch in perspective ended up a really beautiful painting.

150 Couples Present at The Inter-Sorority Formal

Over 150 couples danced to the music of Larry Woodbury and his orchestra at the Inter-Sorority Formal Saturday night. The dancing took place from 8:30 to 12:30 at the American Legion Hall.

The theme "Harbor Lights" was carried out in the decorations for the dinners and dance. The dance floor represented the deck of a ship and was bounded by white ropes. A ship leaving a distant harbor was portrayed by a mural. On the walls were portholes and anchors bearing the names of the sororities.

At ten o'clock the dancing ceased while each sorority, Tau Gamma Beta, Psi Beta Psi and Omega Mu Chi, formed a circle and sang their sorority songs. Before the dance, each sorority gave dinners for their dates.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kerst, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pieper, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht were chaperones at the dance.

Elmarie Sbertole, a Psi Beta, Barbara Lewis, a Tau Gam, and Beverly Tibbets, an Omega, were the general chairmen.

Sorority Girls Fete Escorts; Then Make Them Work Dancing

Omega Mu Chi sorority held its formal dinner, Saturday, January 20, amid nautical decorations carrying out the "Harbor Lights" theme of the dance. The tables were colorfully decorated with harbor scenes and novel nut cups representing buoys. The mantle in back of the speakers' table was adorned with a model ship. As favors each escort received a white buttonerie.

After the dinner the toastmaster, Nancie Goebel, welcomed the members, guests and alumni and expressed the appreciation of the sorority to the acting president, Helen LaLeike, for her conscientious work throughout the semester. As the first speaker of the evening Mrs. LaLeike spoke briefly on the semester's activity and then introduced the new president, Virginia Gmeiner. The toastmaster then presented Mrs. Gene Raddant, the guest speaker, whose talk centered around the "Lights We Harbor." As the dinner drew to a close Joan Fehrenbach, accompanied by Gretchen Holstein, entertained the diners with two vocal selections, "The Man I Love" and "Harbor Lights." The dinner closed with the singing of the sorority songs.

The guests present at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Raddant, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pieper, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Gotham, Miss Syble Mason, Miss Susan Colman, Miss Pauline Isaacson, Miss Bertha Glennon, Miss Harriet Wright and Miss Arlene Kromroy, an alumna.

The chairman of the dinner was Jean Sarbacher. The co-chairmen were Joyce Pinkerton, program; Virginia Fischer and Jean Dobeck, decorations. The decoration committee consisted of Ardis Raaths, Eleanor Hummel, Jean Robertson, Isla Mae Friberg, and Ruth Schein.

Psi Beta Psi

Jerry's All-American was the scene of the dinner for the Psi Betas last Saturday night. The 38 attending were served at a table centered with a lighthouse, gum-drop trees and green candles. A peach-colored cord, which circled the table, connected "anchors" which formed the place cards, marking each cover. Life savers dangled from the "rope" between each card.

Guests included Dr. and Mrs. Nels O. Reppen, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond

E. Specht, Mr. and Mrs. John McComb and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Benn. Delphine Marth was the toastmaster and Mrs. Benn, a patroness, spoke briefly. A trio composed of Rosemary Boote, Faith Spencer and Dorothy Omerink sang "A Fellow Needs a Girl" and "Harbor Lights." They were accompanied by Dolores Witter.

Tau Gamma Beta

A harbor scene bedecked the tables at the Cartwright Hotel, Saturday evening where the Tau Gam and their escorts and guests dined. Pipe cleaner girls standing on white sailor hat islands waved to ships sailing on blue crepe paper water. Place cards with their names etched on them were at the girls' places, while white carnation buttoneries were at the men's places.

After the dinner, toastmaster, Beverly Barnes introduced the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Faust, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Frazee, President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kerst, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, and Miss Gladys Van Arsdale and the alumna, Patricia Carver, Carol Collins, Dorothy Thompson and Lola Van Ornum. She then called upon Janice Gruen and Barbara Nelson, who sang "Mighty Lak A Rose" accompanied on the piano by Barbara Bea. Miss Barnes then introduced Mrs. Frazee, who spoke on being careful about becoming too efficient in life. Mr. Lewis followed with a few choice rhymes. The last speaker was Miss Barnes' escort Bob Johnson, who very fittingly concluded the program.

Those responsible for the decorations were Barbara Bea, Phyllis Gertschen and Dorotheanne Rebella.

This photograph of an oil painting could just as well have been a photograph of the actual scene that Dave Bliese chose to put on canvas. The original painting is now hanging in the art room and displays as life-like a picture of the sidewalk and street in front of the Training School as any camera could do.

Epidemic Hits CSTC

Afraidus of Failingae Testus
Claims Several Hundred Victims

Sadly enough, the CSTC campus is becoming abundant with walking evidence that a dreaded plague is upon us. This blighter of high marks, which feeds upon student-ignorance, carries a long Latin name — Afraidus of Failingae Testus — which has been shortened to a quaint "Examstosis." This is faintly related to "Halitosis," except that Listerine will not help.

This mutilator of college students takes on two distinct, separate forms. One occurs in the student body, the other wreaks havoc throughout the faculty.

When the pitiable student is afflicted with this malady, the obnoxious habit of studying becomes an obsession. Books are taken home every night, and, in the worst cases, they are even opened and looked at. Nights are wasted at home studying when "the gang" is out whooping-it-up. In very rare cases, these horrid symptoms have even been known to continue into the next semester!

But the situation of the student is heaven compared to what happens to an instructor when "Examstosis" strikes. He will walk around with a ghoulisn smirk on his face, and he will, when the poorer students slouch into the classroom, greedily rub his hands together and snark happily to himself.

An extreme faculty case has already been spotted at CSTC. The instructor in question has been sighted tip-toeing down the corridor, gently mashing passing Freshmen's heads into the wall, and whispering, "Hehhh, I'll bring those grades down now!!!"

All of which brings us to the "Accepted Rules For Exam Studying" which are listed below:

1. First of all, DON'T!
2. Stay out until at least three o'clock on the night before your test. This makes nice, baggy eye-balls, which always induces pity from the teacher.
3. Take along a good supply of crib-notes, rubber bands to snap other students with, and test-aid sticks in your pants cuff. The instructor likes to see you enjoy yourself while writing your test.
4. And after you've failed, remember:

Attention, WSGA Members!

The following officers were elected by the WSGA in their elections held Tuesday: Eleanor Curtis, president; Glenna Clark, vice-president; Kathleen Leahy, secretary; Phyllis Jarnick, treasurer; Betty Gilbertson, senior representative; Norma Mayer, sophomore representative; Janice Gruen, sophomore representative and Sally Scribner and Shirley Sonnenberg, freshman representatives.

Nominations were made for WSGA representatives last Friday at 10 o'clock at a meeting of the college Women. The elections were held on January 22, with Jean Ann Dobeck in charge.

After nominations were completed, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner gave a short talk on the state convention to be held at Milwaukee February 2 and 3. She explained that the WSGA would send six representatives and Miss Miriam Moser to the convocation. Three of the delegates will be from the old WSGA board and three from the new board. The three co-leads already chosen are Roberta Henderson, Glenna Clark and Mary Douville. The girls will give a report to the WSGA on the outcome of the convention.

The meeting was followed by a short meeting of house presidents. The meeting was called to discuss hours during registration week. A committee, composed of Margaret Jones and Suzanne Swanke, will present the idea of having 12 o'clock hours during registration and regular late hours on the night before the day classes begin to the Student Housing Faculty committee.

Pointers Traveling to Oshkosh; Plan Destruction of Titan Lair

The Pointers take to the road tonight, when they travel to Oshkosh to engage the Titans.

Coach Bob Kolf's cagers are in the midst of a rebuilding program. Last year's graduates include the Titan's high point man, Doug Ritchie, plus six other lettermen. In conference play last year the "married men" placed second. This year the Kolf team has yet to taste victory in three conference attempts.

A pleasant surprise to the "overall city five" has been Tom Paul. The six foot forward has supplied most of the scoring punch for the Titans. In addition to Paul, four lettermen have been seeing regular action. They are Laurence Spaulding, senior center, James Dees, sophomore forward, Dave Popp, senior forward and Carroll Vaughan, junior guard. Vaughan is a former CSTC student.

The Pointers' biggest headaches will come when they attempt to adapt themselves to the new home of the Titans. The men's gym is the site for the Titan's games and from all reports received, the gym resembles anything from a bowling alley to a match box. A zone defense that is employed under such circumstances could change the complexion of the game considerably.

Ramblers, Cadavers, Pubs, Chi Dels, Remain at Top

The rambling Ramblers of the Red Division continue to roll on undefeated by virtue of their 55-45 conquest of the second place Jays. In a like manner, the Chi Dels, minus high scoring Bill Bart, disposed of the troublesome Blackhawks 40-29 to remain in a first place tie with the undefeated Pubs. The Cadavers of the White Division have gained the coveted first place position in their league and now lead the All Stars by a full game.

Most of the action this week will center around this afternoon's battle between the Chi Dels and Pubs of the Blue Division. Both of these teams have yet to taste defeat, so plenty of thrilling action is in store. The Pubs are short on height and reserve strength but their well balanced scoring punch may affect this. On the other hand, the Chi Dels have a host of talent in Bart, Olsen, Feigley, Johnson and Mosey. These five, plus reserve power, will probably give the Pubs a rough afternoon. If you crave excitement and good basketball don't miss this one.

Pointers Best Stout in Hard Fought Tilt, 69-64

Displaying a well polished scoring attack, CSTC's basketball quintet came through for their first teching conference win of the season by besting a fighting Stout team, 69-64. It was in the final minutes, when a more aggressive Pointer team finally subdued the visiting Blue Devils.

Holding a slim 63-60 lead, the Pointers went into a semi-stall which proved to be a winning tonic, as they found a weakness in the Stout defense to score three baskets on sure layup shots. The Blue Devils could never get their scoring punch rolling after this. They seemed to lose their fighting spirit in those final minutes and ended up as the first league victim of the CSTC team.

Coach Hale Quandt's boys played a fast charging and spirited game as usual. But, unlike other contests where they had trouble in the final minutes, they showed the fans they could come through.

The big gun in the Pointer attack is center Bill Wagner, who finished as high scorer of the evening with 16 points on seven baskets and two free throws. His shots were the highlight of the game, some being extraordinary, especially his underhanded layup. He received valuable assistance from the rest of the team in the scoring department. Don Schneiders potted 13 points, Chet Polka netted 12, Polzin 10, and Anderson seven. It was also Polka's accuracy from the free throw line that enabled the Pointers to stay ahead in the final stages of the game. He made six out of seven attempts.

It was in the free throw department where the final victory came. Both teams scored 25 field goals, but the Pointers made good on 19 out of 35 free throw attempts, while the Blue Devils could make only 14 out of 30 attempts.

La Crosse Indians Scalp Pointers by 68-50 Score

The LaCrosse Indians went on the warpath last Monday night, when they clipped the Pointers by a 68-50 count.

Coach Van Galder turned his charges loose at the start and they never stopped running till the final whistle. Featuring a speedy five, who constantly kept the ball in motion, the visitors took a 15-5 lead. The Quandtmen cut the margin to 37-31 later in the contest, but then Bill Knapton, rapid-fire forward, took charge and increased the lead. Knapton led both teams in scoring with 19 points. Chet Polka gathered 15 points and Nubbs Miller banged in 11 point for the Pointers.

FIFTH QUARTER

The St. Peter's basketball league includes the names of many CSTC students. On the Du City team, Fred Lodzinski, Ed Havitz, Don Olsen, "Ollie" Andrews, Stan Karls, Dennis Schrank, Jim Schrank, Pete March, and Marv Mayer form the nucleus. Playing on Paul's Bar are Al Helminski, Dave Case, Howie Campbell, Tom Nikolai, Ray Mundt, Ken Kulick, and Willis Zick are on the Silver Coach team and Don Tillemma, Dick Toser, Gene Anderson, Bill Sanks, Roy Laszewski, and Ted Salvin put their time in on the Pubs quintet. The Phi Sig team includes Bob Cook, Bob Petranek, Bill Conachen, Jim Wilkenson, Frank Schmidler, Earl Korth, Jack Daubner, and Bob McMahton.

Bill Wagner's great performance last Friday night against Stout left nothing to be desired. Upon entry in the game "Honus" immediately hooked in two beautiful shots. Not being content with just one type of shot, the blond center then employed a fake, pivot, underhand, lay-up combination. Many of Honus' shots rolled around the rim and fell out. Possessed of the best hook shot any center in the entire league owns, Bill ended up the evening with 16 points.

Professional football teams drew the names of several footballers, who performed in the Teachers' Conference, during the annual player draft meeting. The Green Bay Packers obtained rights to Tubba Chamberlain, who played for Eau Claire State. The Cleveland Browns selected Ace Loomis and John Knispel from La Crosse.

It seems that some of the coaches in the State Teachers' Conference are getting a little jumpy. The very thought of entering an opponent's floor immediately instills in the visiting coaches a great fear that the officials will steal their players blind. Whitewater's Bob Weigandt howled and pounded on his chest unmercifully at the men in black and white dur-

Red Hot Knudtson's Team Lengthens Bowling Lead

The red hot Knudtson's Market team continued its sizzling pace in the college league by sweeping its three game series with the Chi Dels. Jerry Stenz with a 555 series and Bruce Menzel with a 502 paced the Knudtson five, while Marv Johnson's 200 game and 508 series was high for the Chi Delt keglers.

In other results, AKL moved into a second place tie with Belke's Lumber Co. by upsetting this team in three straight games. Led by Don Mangold's 209 game and 533 series, Bill Conachen's 214 game and 542 series and Dick Promen's 529 series, the AKL bowlers blasted a 2355 count second only to Don's Coney Island whose 2432 was high for the evening. In rolling up this 2432 count the Coney Island team took two from the Brunswick but at the same time the Brunswick bowlers walked off with the evening's high game of 853, largely on the efforts of Sam Spade, whose 246 game and 557 series were the evening's best. Howard Peterson's 549 and Bob Bahr with a 201 game and a 534 series were the leading keglers on the Coney Island team. The Phi Sigs showed signs of becoming tired of their cellar position as they bested the Campus Cafe in two of three games. Ralph Roberts smashed a 224 game and a 504 series but gave up total pin honors to Thomas of the Campus team whose 215 game and 522 series paced his team.

ing the Quakers' recent visit. However, when the downstayers took a comfortable second half lead, Weigandt found the whistle tooters more tolerable. Stout's coach, Ray Johnson, also put on quite a spectacle last Friday night. During one stage of the game the Stout mentor ran out on the floor to demonstrate his point more clearly. After a technical foul temporarily seated Johnson, he shortly after swung into action and barked furiously at the official score keeper. Johnson charged the score keeper was rendering "excessive information" — and so it goes.

Life at Sims Cottage:

Four Home Ecs, Belching Beulah, Brigadier, Live Together Happily

The pride and joy of the home ec girls at Sims Cottage is their new maid "Brigadier" in the form of an electric dishwasher. It's not that the girls minded washing dishes the hard, old-fashioned way, but after all, they are graduating out into a new and modern world. It is hoped that none of the girls will be disappointed if she receives a dish pan for a wedding gift.

Before graduating, each girl majoring in home economics must live at the cottage for one semester. The purpose for this is to give the girls some practical experience in applying what they have learned in the previous three years. At present, those who are enjoying the happy home atmosphere are Beverly Barnes from Richland Center, Phyllis Peterson from Medford, Mary Jane Buss from Wittenberg, Hermelinda Bohl from Colfax, and Miss Bessie May Allen, who is the home economics director.

New Girls To Move In

The girls often entertain at dinner parties. Recently their guests were the prospective residents of the cottage for the second semester. The new girls who plan to move in are Margaret Jones, Gertrude Collum, Madeline Williams and Colleen Schroeder.

Each girl is given duties which she is to perform for one week. These duties are rotated each week. The cook plans the meals, prepares them, and has charge of the kitchen. The house maid does the laundry and cleans the upstairs, which includes the girls' rooms and Miss Allen's apartment. The mistress helps everyone in general and keeps the living room in order. The dining-room girl takes care of the silver and has charge of "Belching Beulah." For those not familiar with life at the cottage, "Belching Beulah" is the furnace which has her own queer little habits. She likes to be treated with care, and when ignored gives a little puff which fills the cottage with smoke.

Of course, no home can be managed without finances. Therefore, each girl pays in $5.50 a week for food and living expenses. The state pays for the gas, coal, telephone and other utilities.

Time for Outside Activities

Although the duties at the cottage keep the girls pretty busy, they still find time for extra-curricular activities. Bev Barnes was treasurer of the band and president of the home ec club for the past semester. Bev is being succeeded as president by Mary Jane Buss. Another Sims Cottage girl, Phyl Peterson, has served as president of both the Tau Gams and the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Miss Allen encourages the girls to feel at home. They may entertain as often as they wish. The cheerful living room with its glowing fireplace has been the scene of many friendly get-togethers this past semester.

If you're near the cottage around mealtime, you will notice an aroma of deliciously prepared food. The girls at Sims Cottage are firm believers in the old adage that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

ment at Worden, Montana.

Eugene Smiley, class of 1950, assumed his duties as manager of the Fox-Wisconsin theatres, the Grand and the Ozaukee, at Port Washington on January 3. Eugene had been assistant manager of the Lyric theatre at Stevens Point, prior to his promotion.

New Jersey Grad Visits Point

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brill and daughters, Terry Jo, Jackie, and Laura Jean, of Dover, New Jersey, were recent visitors in Stevens Point and Marshfield. Edward is a representative of the Lullaby Furniture corporation in New York City and returned to attend a furniture show in Chicago. His wife is the former Patty Markee, class of 1943.

The little Miss Fortunes, triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fortune of Three Lakes, Wisconsin, celebrated their first birthday on January 4. The birth of Sharon, Susan and Sandra was reported to Alumni last year via the POINTER. The Fortune sons will be celebrating their birthdays within the next three months. Michael Jr. will be six years old later this month. Patrick will be four on April 15, and the Fortune twins, Richard and Ronald, will be three on March 16. Mr. Fortune, class of 1949, teaches French, Social Science and English at the Three Lakes High school.

Arnold Jindrick, '33, a former CSTC student, has been honored as Sparta's man of the year. He received a distinguished service award from the district vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce there.

Ohio. Mr. Nixon received his Master of Science degree in 1948 and Mrs. Nixon received her Bachelor of Science degree in occupational therapy in 1949. Mr. Nixon was recently promoted to senior electro mechanical engineer for the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft company in Baltimore, Md. He is a member of Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary fraternity. He served as first lieutenant in the marine corps for three years. For the past year Mrs. Nixon has been an occupational therapist at the William S. Baer School for crippled children in Baltimore. Capt. Robert Nixon, class

Elizabeth Swenson, class of 1949, who teaches English and Spanish in the Lincoln High school, Park Falls, attended La Escuela Interamericana in Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico, this past summer.

Leone Pazourek, class of 1921, is now state nutritionist with the Board of Health in Illinois. She is also president of the Illinois Home Economics association.

Helen Lohr, class of 1928, is on the faculty of the University of Kansas at Lawrence, in the Home Economics department.

Lucille Lundberg, class of 1921, of the Milwaukee Vocational school, spent a very enjoyable vacation in the Northern European countries.

Joan (Joosten) Yensh, class of 1945, who taught the second and third grades in the Wausau public school system from 1945 to 1948, is teaching the second grade at the John Marshall school in Wausau this year. Joan has a daughter, Heidi, who is two years old.

* Conservation Corner *

A sudden change has come over the conservation corner. The suits of armor and shining swords which our brave crusaders used in their unending fight against the forces of waste and destruction are gone. The forces of erosion even seem to be expending their pent-up anger on Fred J. Schmeckle's desk.

What has happened, you ask? Well let's investigate a little closer. Mr. Schmeckle, Dr. Wiewel, and Mr. Sylvester are still in their respective parts of the conservation corner. But each one of them seems to be armed only with a pen in his hand and a wicked gleam in his eye. A chance explains the reason — Semester Exams.

Our conservation crusaders are taking a little time out from their fight against one of our resources to get a little cruel enjoyment from the agonies of their poor students struggling through their exams.

Speaking of conservation, isn't it strange that no one has found a better use for all the energy wasted in making and writing exams?

of 1941, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Gerald Quinnell, class of 1950, was married to Charlotte Paulson, Amherst, on Friday afternoon, November 24, at Amherst. Mr. and Mrs. Quinnell are living at Bruce, where he is sixth grade teacher.

Grace Peterson, class of 1950, was married to Roderick Bahr on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 6, at Iola. The bride is a teacher at Shawano and her husband, who has been employed in Milwaukee, expects to enter military service soon.

denounced uncomplimentary and destructive comments.

Three months ago — in the middle of October — Editor LaLeike voiced an opinion on military service which many draft-eligible males feel now: "We feel that a desire for peace and further education, rather than war and deterioration, is as American as baseball!"

Fred's analysis of a suitcase student helped prevent the calling of those who have to go home on weekends traitors to school spirit. He also stated that a program of new and varied week-end activities might induce some of these students to stay on the campus. He then gave the Student Council's "Operation Week-end" programs full support in the POINTER. Just last week he gave over what could have been his last editorial to the Student Council president's statement of policy — certainly a generous move on Fred's part.

On the whole, former Editor LaLeike's editorials were well-written, thought-provoking, and of general interest to the students.

The Letter to LIFE

And then there was the letter to LIFE. Fred, Ray Venn, and photographer Dick Francis joined together

CSTC's Faculty Will Offer Extension Work Again

The following extension courses will be offered next semester: Historical geography of the United States (Geog. 206) will be offered at Waupaca, to be taught by Raymond E. Specht.

At the Wausau County Normal school at Wautoma, classes in conservation and art will be held. Fred J. Schmeckle will teach conservation 107, a three credit course, and Miss Edna Carlsten will teach art 211, a workshop course for three credits.

English 125, intermediate composition, is to be instructed by Miss Mildred Davis at Wausau Central school. A second course will be offered if enough people are interested.

Dean Herbert R. Steiner will instruct a Wisconsin history class (History 224) at Wisconsin Rapids. At Merrill, a course will be offered in audio-visual education (Education 231), instructed by Robert S. Lewis.

An English course, yet to be determined, will be offered in Antigo and will be taught by Norman E. Knutzen.

Dr. Bernard F. Wiewel will have a in denouncing LIFE's article which condemned the scorned and neglected teachers' colleges. CSTC's three invited LIFE to visit Wisconsin colleges and present an unbiased account of conditions in U.S. teachers' colleges.

Fred LaLeike and Ray Venn are the envy of many a man suffering from the dreaded campus disease — draft neurosis. They are both overseas veterans, but are not in the reserves, and both are married.

Fred served in Europe with the 11th Cavalry Group in 1945-47.

Ray Venn — A Former MP

Ray Venn served with the XXIV Corps in Korea when it was still a peaceful occupation force. He was a corporal and company clerk in the 207th Military Police company, which served as General Hodge's Honor Guard.

He was born and raised in Chicago and graduated from Chicago's Fore-survey conservation course (Cons. 107) in Clintonville. This course will also be offered in New London, to be taught by Walter R. Sylvester.

English 125 will be taught in Friendship by Leland M. Burroughs. The extension class to be taught in Medford has not yet been decided upon. Other classes in extension work may be added later.

man High school. After a year and a half in the army, he entered Central State.

Ray now calls the north woods his home — Elcho, Wisconsin, to be exact. He has spent his summers in northern Wisconsin ever since he was a little kid.

Big-smiling Ray joined the POINTER staff as a sophomore and worked his way up through reporter and assistant composition editor to composition editor.

Will Receive a B.S. Degree

He will receive a Bachelor of Science degree at the end of this semester with a major in math and minors in chemistry and physics. Just recently Ray accepted a teaching position at Westfield High school. Some day he hopes to be able to do graduate work.

Ray married Patricia Lavers of Tomahawk, a CSTC graduate, on July 22, 1950.

His extra-curricular activities include the Forum and the vice-presidency of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity.

Ray has quite a few hobbies — hunting, fishing, wood-working, and photography — but is "not too good in any of them." (He says.)

Here's Ray's description of Korea for those draft-weary boys who expect to be there soon: He says he spent "five months there, enjoying the fleas and other choice bits of atmosphere."
