Ye Ole Editor Closes Shop

With this issue, another year of publishing the Pointer comes to a close. For some of us it is the last time we will see a Pointer "put to bed." It'll seem unusual not to be in the "kit-ter" around CSTC come next year.

Monday nights, in particular, will seem empty and hollow with out the clatter and bang of the typewriters and the reporters bustling in and out, even though the drain on the resources, due to cokes, was hard.

However in leaving, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all those who have supported the Pointer. I would also like to thank the excellent staff members, whose help made the job simple; the fine cooperating faculty and students who dropped us "hot tips" on news. President Hansen, our "ace" reporter; my coffee critics, and last but not least, Bob Gillson, Dan Herbert, Robert S. Lewis, (and Lonius) who kept careful surveillance on our funds.

To Frank DeGure, the editor for next year, I send my heartfelt congratulations and the firm hope that he will be a fine successor to this fine tradition of cooperation and help that it has been my fortune to receive this semester.

FAMILIAR FACES

While peeping past the open door of the girls’ Lounge, the other day we were pleasantly surprised to see the honored Senior for this week, Miss Barbara Lewis, publishing a funny game of ping-pong. We made a quick sweep of the room, the other girls, it seems, had scattered, and cautiously inambled.

"Well, my name is Barbara Lewis and I’m a Junior."

I’ve never gotten so cooperative under the direction of Raymond E. Specht and Norman E. Knutzen.

A new person will be on the teaching staff this summer. Miss Hannah Coggs, a high school librarian at Merrill, Wisconsin, will be teaching a library science course. This course, planned in cooperation with the state library association for high schools not employing a librarian, is designed to acquaint the development of the school library as a method in education. It will present the student with school library organization, administration, the function of a high school principal and completion entitles a student to the library certificate required of secondary school teachers who have charge of high school libraries.

Raymond M. Riggs will be director of the summer session. Miss Coggs will be acting dean of women.

NOTICE

All students who are planning to register for the Fall Semester are requested to see Miss Susan Colman as soon as possible and make the arrangements that have been decided.

The Pointer

Dr.Wievel and Mr. Schmeckle were sitting in a boat out in the mid-dle of Lake Michigan. When Dr. Wievel suddenly jumped up and said, "Quick, let's get this little red and white toy out of the boat and let me bore my way for line, how do you like it?

"Oh, you mean the bobber?" Mr. Schmeckle replied.

"Then I owe you a dime."

An hour passed in silence. Suddenly Dr. Wievel yawned, leaned over the side of the boat, took a deep breath, and said, "Say Frisbee, how do you like it for line?"

"I feel kind of sorry for those poor fish in the next month we will be gone."

"Sure has been a pleasant day, just sitting here in the sun watching the boats, and every once in a while I'll throw a Frisbee."

"Why can't we just live right, and enjoy life to the fullest?"

"I guess we just live right, Gertrude."

"How can we best improve our relationship with the Wolf River last weekend.

They include the group which they have surprised to receive our surveillance on the campus. Nelson plan, chairman; John Young, president; and their respective committees.

Miss Monica Bainter and Dr. Ed- gar P. Forrer are faculty advisers for the Junior class.

To the Graduating Seniors

Your graduation is near. You feel that your ties to the college will soon be broken.

We would like to add a clinch to student to alumnic: but the bond is no less strong in the one relationship than in the other.

There is this difference:

Hereinfore you have received. Central State Teachers College has trained you. It has found jobs for many of you. As Alumni, you may give. You give by using the winning ideas that you have received. You may also make repayments by taking at the Alumni- association of the college.

The association welcomes you, the Class of 1951, into its ever widening circles, and to an active part in them.

High School Gym Transformed Into South Pacific Scene for Junior Prom

Sea of the Moon is the theme of the CSTC Junior prom. Prom will be held Saturday evening, May 19, in P. J. Jacobs high school gym. Unusual decorations will transform the gym into a scene from the mystic South Pacific Islands. The group will be an island with a large wave that has crashed, and the set will be changed into a sea on which is re­ painted a full moon. Refreshments will be served from a thatched hut.

Music will be provided by Gai Steepers a band from Green Bay.

Junior class president, and his lovely Queen, Miss Carol Collins, a 1950 graduate of CSTC, will reign over the event. Before the grand march, which will be held at 10 o’clock, the Queen will be crowned beneath a bamboo arch.

The evening is the committee appointed to plan the big event of the year: Decorations, Virginia Mar­ ton, chairman, Dave Bliese, vice-chairman.

Both Series and Players Knotted Up as Feuding Frats Fight for "Jug"

The annual little world series between the Chi Deltas and the Phi Sig is proving to be as knock down, drag out an affair as it was heralded. At present, the series is tied up at one game apiece. Highlight of the first two games has been the mighty hitting of both clubs, with the Phi Sig having a slight edge in the department.

"Ich" Roberts has been the Phi Sig mainstay in the hitting department while the Paulsen brothers and Dick Kussman have handled duties for the Chi Deltas.

The first game of the series was won by the Chi Deltas, 9 to 6. Bagged fielding and Roberts' wildness led to the Chi Delti victory. The second game, a thriller of the world's all-time favorites, was won by the Phi Sig, 5 to 4 in a game played Monday night. Ralph Roberts was the winning hurler, while John Mallow absorbed the loss. Bob McMahon blasted a four bagger for the winners and Bud Flegley did the same for the losers.

The Phi Sig is leading the series, by besetting the Chi Deltas, 5 to 4.

Track, Golf, Tennis Teams to Engage
In State Meets at La Crosse, Saturday

Central State's spring sports squads are sharpening up for the last week, in preparation for the state finals, which will be held at La Crosse on Saturday.

Coach Frank Crow's track team, which has shown a noticeable lack of depth so far this season, will be out to gain their points through a large group of firsts. Main threats in the Pointer track are fleet Ed Jacobson in the mile and two-mile, and Gene Van Rooy in the two-mile. Both of these teams will be up against the strong field events. Several other fellows also have a chance of capturing a first and others are sure point winners. All in all, don’t look too bad for the meet.

The tennis squad, under Coach Bernard F. Werzel, has been improving with each meet and hopes to score some points against the powerhouses of the league.

Coach James R. Hicks' golf team hopes to improve on their fifth place finish of last year. The team has a lot of last year's golfers back and has been posting some low scores this season. They'll have to be reckoned with at that meet.

Dr. Dorothy reports from Lima, Peru

Dr. Dorothy, dean of administration, has sent the Pointer a note about her trip from CTC to the education division of the Institute of Technology in Lima, Peru. She has so many things to tell about this experience, that it is hard to know where to begin. There was so much interest at our students at home. Perhaps it will be best to tell you about the trip of the National Pedagogical Faculty of Varnas. She and I have been traveling there at the present time. I am working here as an advisor for Mr. Davis, who is the director of the study. We have agreed to build a new Normal School which should be here in less than two years. We selected the site and hope to start building in the summer.

"This school is the only truly public Normal School, the rest being secondary and a complete high school. It is evident from these figures that the teachers are not well paid. The terms of enrollment at least, are not sufficient to keep teachers at home. There are probably about 15,000 students in the school. All of the teachers should have ample opportunity to do regular practice teaching as well as study. Unfortunately, the school does not make wise use of the funds available to it."

"Teachers here, except in the Demonstration School, are employed only five weeks a year. This applies to any doctor or lawyer in the city of Lima. The other teachers may be so employed, but a teacher may teach a few hours here and there in other schools and very occasionally is engaged in several other schools. It is obvious then, that there is no faculty in the North American sense. Work is more of a selection of teachers and others (mostly without training) who may or may not be present in the school. This means that the school is much more flexible. The simplicity of their classes, blow to them, and blow to us."

"Our students covered no extra-curricular activities, no school band or any musical organizations of any sort, and no evidence of what we call 'color' beyond the annual football week-end."

"You will interest, I think, in the number of cases where the teacher cannot hold the interest of Miss Roach for example (no one could correspond to Miss Roach, except roughly) in grasping the work and in cooperation with various interests. The latter usually determine in which type of activity the teacher has presented at the beginning of the year.

"The examinations in practice teaching are especially interesting. You practically get the very same student teaching problems now, as we did at home, where you try to make your future on one class which you teach in front of an examination board of 10 or 12 students and 60 or 70 other students. I watched several examinations in December before school closed. I could not understand much of what they did as I don't, but I did not need to understand. In the opinion of the examiner, the students were getting a terrific beating during the examination. The class was much more difficult than at home, in which case he would order the class stopped perhaps in the middle of a sentence."

"The service held in the front of the Auditorium with the various addresses to the 12 of them (seating at a long table right under the window) was the most impressive of the class was indicated were some 75 other students. When the class ended, each of them was able to praise the speaker and the fact that and why you pronounced this in that way because you will be doing something or not doing something. After the other 11 had got the student was excited to the verge of nervous breakdown, the local Dr. Lowman as Chairman of the program will kick his drags and really tie into the fellow. Those whirl who fail this examination are unable to get licenses, but they may come back at the bend of summer vacation and try to do better. We have a reason for this, I think you can see, there is much work to be done here."

"Right now the students are beginning to get out in the posture to their office for the wonderful vacation. All students from Kindergarten on up stand at attention in little groups, having marched to their office for their morning assembly. The local President Hansen will call them to order through a loudspeaker from a second story window. The students will then sing the entire National Anthem printed by a phonograph record played through the loudspeaker. The local Mr. Steiner will review briefly the three most important news events of the year and Miss Collman will follow with a few words of pedagogical advice. The local Mr. Davis will then order the students back to attention and the drums and bugles will start and Lawrence will order them to match to their classes. Then the staff will begin the day's labor of pushing back the forces of ignorance."

"In a few months I hope to be doing the same among you again."
To the Graduating Class of 1951, we offer our sincere congratulations on your completing four years of college work at a school that is now your Alma Mater.
