Annual AKL Banquet To Be Saturday Eve

The annual AKL venison banquet will be held on Saturday, December 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Training school. All conservation majors or minors are invited to this banquet and a number of the faculty and the alumni of the conservation department are also invited each year.

Les Woerpel, president of the Wisconsin Federation of Conservation clubs will be the main speaker. Three juniors majoring in conservation will be given awards at the banquet. One award will be the $100 scholarship given by the Wisconsin Federation of Garden clubs. In addition, two $50 scholarships will again be given by the Fox River Valley Garden club.

The decorating committee for the banquet includes Bob McMahon, Ransom Rhode, Don Wilde, Parr Eves, Bill Spaulding, and Russ Hutter. The clean-up committee, Richard Jensen, Bill Kohls, Ray Cook, Ransom Rhode, Eugene Koehn, and Robert Netzel; the reception committee, Bill Kohls and Dick Hall.

Entertainment will be programmed by Bob McMahon.

Charter Grant to Chi Delts Marks Beginning of CSC Sig Ep Frat

Climaxing a busy day of initiation ceremonies, meetings, and an installation banquet Saturday evening, was the presentation of a Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter charter to Chi Delta Rho, a Central State college fraternity. The local group will now be known as Wisconsin Delta chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon, national fraternity.

The charter was presented by J. Russell Pratt, Chicago, grand historian, to Frank DeGuire, Chi Delta president. DeGuire also acted as toastmaster.

The 6:30 p.m. banquet at Hotel Whiting opened with an invocation by Norman E. Knutzen, a Sig Ep alumnus and faculty adviser, and a turkey dinner followed. After the dinner Raymond M. Richtsolt, the original faculty adviser of Chi Delta Rho, gave a short account of the history of the organization. Speaking for the Sig Ep alums was Mr. Knutzen.

Herbert R. Steiner, dean of men, welcomed the guests and new chapter to the campus on behalf of the college administration and faculty.

Harland L. Klipstein, Madison, the district governor, officially welcomed the new chapter into the district.

Doudna and Pratt Speak

The main speakers of the evening were Dr. Quincy Doudna, dean of administration and Mr. Pratt.

Immediately preceding the speeches, the toastmaster read a message of greeting from William W. Hindman, Jr., grand secretary of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Then followed the presentation of the charter by Mr. Pratt. Mr. DeGuire accepted the charter on behalf of the whole chapter and thanked the Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter.

Installation by McBride

The officers of the new chapter installed by M. Matt McBride, field secretary, were DeGuire, president; William Clayton, vice-president; LeRoy Purchatzke, comptroller; Ken Hurlbut, historian; Robert Ullsperger, secretary. The 30 charter members are as follows: Faculty members; Gilbert W. Faust, Norman E. Knutzen, and Raymond E. Specht, Stevens Point. Undergraduate members, Robert E. Emery, William Conway, Marshfield; Bartlett McNamara, Rice Lake; Hurlbut, Gene Hurlish, DeGuire, Ed Wenzel, Jim Mulady, and Eric Hedequist, Stevens Point; Clayton, Baraboo; Bob Flint, Stoughton.

Marlyn Gilbert, Appleton; John Bruha, Dick Bruha, Purchatzke, Weyauwega; Mark Schommer, Kaukauna; Dick Kussman, Amherst;

Hear Ye!

The next issue of the Pointer will be published on January 15, 1953. The Pointer staff wishes all students and faculty a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

John Sandberg, Mountain; Bob Ullsperger, Algoma; John Mallow, Wabeno; Gary Krueger, Roland Krueger, Mosinee; Jerry Boettcher, Merrill; William Miller, Wisconsin Rapids; Lester Carlson, Lannon; William Anderson, Wittenberg; and Ronald Meyer, Medford.

Guests at the dinner included Mr. Knutzen, Mr. Faust and Mr. Specht, faculty advisers; Jerry Bartosz, president of Phi Sigma Epsilon, campus fraternity; and the members of the initiating teams from Lawrence college and Carroll college.

Let's Play Santa; Help Student Union

The CSC Union at Delzell hall is celebrating its first Christmas and it has been suggested that presents such as playing cards, magazines and tables would be welcomed by the young and struggling union.

Some of the college organizations are donating money and gifts which will help fill students' needs at the Union. Omega Mu Chi sorority's Christmas gift is a $5 start for any kitchen articles which may be needed to increase kitchen facilities.

As its Yuletide gift, W.S.G.A. has given a much needed coffee-maker, which has already been put to good use. Other gifts would aid the union in its still far from prosperous financial condition.

Nelson Hall to Hold Christmas Open House

Nelson Hall is ready for the Christmas Spirit. The fragrance of evergreen boughs, red candles in Christmas trees, festive and religious bulletin board displays all create an atmosphere of Christmas, as Nelson Hall prepares for its open house and tea to be held Sunday, December 14, from 3 to 5 p.m., in the dorm living room. Parents of the dormites are invited to attend, as are all others who wish to visit.

Sylvia Abrahamson, as chairman for this event, has appointed the following committees: Invitations, Beverly Ziebart, chairman, Caryl Edmund, Mary Ann Polzin, and Sandra Quail; decorations, dining room, Joanne Jersey and Diane Seif; bulletin boards, Betty Kussow, Pat Schultz, Carol Collins, Dorothy Germer, Barbara Weisbrodt, Vivian Hoffman, Gloria Vomastick, Carol Daanen.

Living room and tea table, Barbara Hanson, chairman, Mary McCaulley, Janice Gruen, and Nancy Pautz; food, Dorothy Kuhnke, chairman, Joann Cuff, Delores McLees, Rosemary Polzin, Joanne Untiedt, Diane Albrightson, and Sally Rose; and clean-up, Gladys Lehmann, chairman, Helen Jones, Phyllis Caskey, Marlene Schuett, Joyce Jones, and Faith Pomeroy.

Annual Christmas Concert to Usher in Spirit of Season

Be Sure To Attend WRA Christmas Cheer

Free cookies, hot and cold cider—that's what awaits all students and faculty at the WRA's annual Christmas Cheer to be held today December 11 in the college student lounge from 3 to 5 p.m.

Committees which have been working on the Christmas-Cheer are as follows: Publicity, Mary Brittnacher, chairman, Ardele Sobczak, Roberta Broeren, Geneva Holen; program, LaNore Stertz, chairman, Phyllis Rickford, Alice Pietz, Shirley Zander; decorations, Rose Marie Christoffersen, chairman, Myra Buggs, Norma Herrington, Eileen Schieb; refreshments, Lou Breymann, chairman, Joanne Butts, Ruth Ann Charlesworth, Joanne Smit; clean-up, Marguerite Smith, Joyce Thurston, Joyce Henschel, and Lavonne Tellock.

Sigma Tau Delta Entertains Pledges

Nine rushees became pledges of Sigma Tau Delta, National honorary English fraternity, at a formal ceremony Wednesday evening, December 3, at the home of Mrs. Florence Payne. Those who were embarked upon a three-week pledging season are Bernadelle Polivka, Shirley Kulisak, Amy Kampenga, Suzanne Tate, Joanne Wysocki, Katherine Stankevich, Sally Scribner, Jerry Boettcher and Dave Ross. Ruth Tallmadge, unable to appear Wednesday evening, is also one of Sigma Tau's new pledges.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith of the English department was a special guest.

President Jack Popek welcomed the group and explained the history, purpose and significance of Sigma Tau Delta. Then, in a candlelight ceremony, each rushee repeated after him the Sigma Tau pledge, after which a ribbon of the traditional cardinal and black was presented to each, to be worn during the pledging season.

The pledge-mistress, Maryjo Renznicke, then designated assignments for the pledges. Poetry, essays and short stories are to be written.

Copies of the latest national publication of Sigma Tau, "The Triangle," were distributed by Leland M. Burroughs, the group's adviser. Entertainment was by recording, as the group listened to T. S. Eliot's play, "The Cocktail Party."

Lunch was served cafeteria style. Virginia Fischer Cable and Mrs. Payne were in charge of food.

Michelsen Is Director

By Virginia Brisco

Glowing Christmas trees, soft organ music and voices lifted in song await the audience at the annual Christmas concert to be given in the Central State College auditorium on Sunday and Monday evenings, December 14 and 15, at 8 o'clock. To introduce the audience to the Yuletide mood, "Prelude to Christmas" will be played on the organ by a guest soloist, Miss Patricia Hinz of Port Edwards, who has studied music at the Juilliard School of Music in New York city.

Inspiring Christmas music will be sung by the Girls' Glee club and Mixed Chorus, and will be played by the Symphonette of the college, all under the direction of Peter J. Michelsen, head of the music department. The Training school chorus, directed by Miss Helen Heel, will also join in the concert.

An effective and colorful backdrop showing the Star of Bethlehem with the town of Bethlehem in the background will make a beautiful stage setting for the singers. This is being made by art students under the direction of Miss Edna Carlsen, art instructor. Lighting effects will be handled by students under the direction of Lawrence K. Davis.

To make the concert complete, the traditional Nativity tableau, under the direction of Miss May Roach, will be staged. Leland M. Burroughs will read the scripture message. In the tableau will be Claire Mueller as Mary, Albert Krohn as Joseph, Lawrence Formella, John Sotter, and Jerry Munderloh as the three kings, and Howard Bestul, Raymond Wilde, and Kent Trotter as shepherds.

Symphonette Opens Concert

Opening the concert the Symphonette will play "A Merry Christmas" by Frankrig, followed by the processional "O Come All Ye Faithful" by Reading. At this time the members of the Glee Club and Mixed Chorus will form a candlelight procession, making single lines down the aisles of the auditorium to the stage.

"Beautiful Savior" sung by the Girls' Glee Club, with Mary Ann Smith as soloist, will begin the program. Then they will sing "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by Sweenelke, "Each Christmas Night" by Swift, and "Thy Glory Breaks Before Us" by Shure, with Gloria Suckow as accompanist for the Glee club.

After these selections the Symphonette will present "Symphony No. 1" by Beethoven. In addition to local students, teachers and students from Port Edwards, Wisconsin Rapids, Neokosa, Amherst, Athens, and Weyauwega will also take part in the Symphonette.

Solos, "Birth of Christ," by Hoffmeister and "Birthday of a King," by Neldinger, will be sung by Mary Ann Smith, with Benita Held as accompanist.

Nativity Scene Next

The impressive Nativity scene opens the second half of the program at the Christmas concert. Dorothy Allen will sing "Cantique de Noel"; Claire Mueller, "Slumber, Jesus, Slumber"; and the quartet, "We Three Kings of Orient Are".

"JAM SESSION"
The "Dixieland Syncopators" will hold an informal "jam session" in the student union this evening from about 8:30 to 10. Come and listen or dance. It's free.

From the background will come the strains of "Ave Maria" by the Girls' Glee club. Following this the Symphonette will play "A Dream of Christmas".

The Mixed Chorus, with the Training School Chorus, then join in singing "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," and "Come Thou Jesus" by Prichard. Accompanist will be Gloria Suckow.

Jack Popek will narrate "The First Christmas Candle" by Olds with a background of music by the Mixed Chorus. Mary Ann Smith will sing "In the Bleak Midwinter" by Prosser.

Closing the program, the Symphonette will accompany the Glee club and Mixed Chorus in Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Ceeds from Nelson Hall will usher on Monday evening, which is especially for college students and the faculty of the college. On Sunday evening when hundreds of townspeople and visitors from out of town are attracted, the Rural Department students will usher.

Townpeople are asked to purchase their tickets early to insure getting seats at the concert. Tickets are on sale at Hannon-Bach's, Taylor's, and Westenberger's drugstores. Student tickets are being issued free to all students this week.

All School Christmas Party to Be Gala Event

A merry prelude to Christmas vacation is the annual Christmas party to be held at the Delzell hall student union on Wednesday, December 17, from 8 to 11 p.m., with free refreshments, games, carolling and dancing. The entire student body and the faculty are invited for this pleasant social get-together.

The party is sponsored by the student faculty social committee. The following organizations are helping to make this party a success: Alpha Kappa Lambda, which is in charge of getting a Christmas tree; Alpha Kappa Rho, tree decorating; Interfaith council, program and Christmas carols; Rural Life club, in charge of dance; sororities, refreshments; and the fraternities, clean-up.

The Way of Rome:

America the Christian

America is not going the way of Rome. The Romans took no note of Christ's birth. They scorned His message and persecuted His followers. America, in general, celebrates Christ's birth, accepts His message, and follows Him.

The Romans could find no Christmas joy such as we know today. The Romans knew not the blessings of giving, of helping the sick, the troubled, and the needy.

The Romans knew no peace, while we Americans carry in our hearts that peace which the world cannot give. In a confused world torn by the ravages of war and man's evil genius, we can find peace when there is no peace. America, a Christian nation, can find peace through Christ.

We are at war; we are losing men and resources in that war. We may have cause to regret our adherence to the material in life. Yet, we hope. We plan for a better tomorrow. We can dispel that cloud of pessimism. We can be idealists.

Why? Certainly not because we are so intelligent that we will be able to solve the problems of the world — the fragile human mind will never accomplish that task.

We can have faith in the future only because a loving God sent His only Son into the world 1,952 years ago that he might die and thus make possible a glorious future for us in heaven.

And America, by believing and following Christ's teachings, can make its future a bright one.

May the spirit of Christmas 1952 bring us such a faith in the future — in our future and in the future of our country. Then we may say —

Such was not the way of Rome, but such is the way of America the Christian.

It's in the News

What does the news really mean to you? Do you interpret news items in terms of what they mean to you in real life, or do they just function as dissociated ideas? The weary editors of newspapers don't even try to give interpretations of most news any more, because they have come to realize that the public would rather read about Marilyn Monroe's dimensions than study a corn crop curve. But all disinterest cannot be blamed on the general populace either. Sometimes the articles are uninteresting, but too often the main idea of a news story is lost to the public in the conflict of varying opinions expressed by commentators.

It is true that today the world is small — small to airplanes, cablegrams and such — but in reality men's minds are still far apart. Whose job is it to get men's minds integrated and in step with modern science? Who must change the focus of public thought? It's something for you as Young America to think about!

FAMILIAR FACES

A blond flash from Pulaski, our familiar face for this week, is Ardis Raaths, a Senior in the intermediate division.

Ardis belongs to Mixed Chorus, is treasurer of Round Table, press representative for Gamma Delta and head typist for the Pointer. Her sorority is Omega Mu Chi. She says, "Right now I am taking it easy trying to build up strength for my 10 credits of practical teaching next semester." Hmm!

Ardis is also working in the library at the main desk and acts as general office girl for Mr. Kampenga. "I enjoy library work so much that I sometimes wonder if it's the profession I should be in," said Ardis.

During the last two summers she worked steadily at Luick's Ice cream played on last year's sorority basketball team.

This future teacher's main interest right now is contemplating — on the degree she hopes to receive in June.

In looking ahead, Ardis remarked, "As for the future, it is a secret, and only time can tell!"

Christmas Projects Flood the Art Room

Under the direction of Miss Edna Carlsen, art classes are preparing Christmas projects to get ideas which they can later use in their classrooms. The ideas are all simple enough so that children can make them. Among the articles being made are wastebaskets, tree decorations, greeting cards, candleholders and styrofoam figurines. There is also a display of Christmas pictures. Students and faculty are cordially invited to come into the art room and look over the display.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INVITATION TO SKI

Do you like to ski? Would you like to learn? Several of us have discovered what a wonderful sport skiing is, and we think you might enjoy it too. Therefore, plans are under way to form a new club at CSC, a Ski club. While everything is in a tentative state now, we hope to have CSC identification "patches" for our jackets, trips to Rib Mountain at Wausau, free lessons at Iverson park and parties, of course, for skiing is a very sociable sport.

What is skiing? Well, it is a wonderful recreation whereby you get your nose and ears cold and your muscles weary. You work up a tremendous appetite and you discover what wonderful things winter has to offer and what a marvelous sensation it is to whiz down a hill under your own power. A spill now and then adds to your enjoyment. Last but not least, you meet many swell guys and gals warming up over a cup of steaming hot coffee.

Doesn't that sound inviting? Well then, come on and join. All you need is the interest. — Oh yes, and a pair of skis—but come even if you don't have the skis. Maybe we can find a pair for you.

What do you have to do to join? Just watch for a notice on the main bulletin board for the time and place of the next meeting. Watch closely, for it will be soon. See you there!

Padded Cell

by Benita Held

Here we are again. How swiftly the time goes by!

It was nice seeing so many of you at the Senior Ball. Everyone looked so spiffy and dreamy and happy. We did miss a few of those "always there" faces, but guess you just can't do everything, eh?

Time out while we use a piece of Kleenex — the daily nosepaper.

Back again —

Do you know how to classify human ages?

School tablets.
Aspirin tablets.
Marble tablets.

Out of the mouths of babes — When refused admittance on an adult ticket at the Ladies' night college basketball game last Monday night, a little girl about "so high" turned to a small gentleman behind her and declared, "If you were a man you could get me in."

Here's a bit of news of former teachers at CSC. Miss Beatrice Merkhofer is now teaching in a branch of New York State University located at Geneseo, New York. Miss Myrtle Spande, who had been teaching at the University of Oregon in Eugene, is now teaching in Augustana College in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Miss Frieda Schleuter is in far away Japan, where she is teaching in Tokyo.

We seem to be operating largely in the dark this week, but here's a hot tip. On her recent birthday, a gal living at the dorm got a diamond in the mail. It came in an envelope and there was not even a finger print on it, as a clue to the sender. We can't give you any more information, but if you're interested — well, — quiz, kids.

It was heartening to see so many of you at the blood center. That just goes to show that some college kids are growing up and realizing responsibility. Maybe we'll see more next time, huh? Honest, it doesn't hurt any more than if you had your little toe on the left foot cut off. And oh those nurses! Wow! Just ask Schweinler or Bruha.

Blood transfusions are often given after an operation, so here's what "operation" means: A surgical job taking minutes to do, and years to describe. If it's a major operation the victim is an Army officer. A minor operation is where you cut off a small boy's allowance.

Latest development — Jean Sarbacher traded in her fraternity pin for a diamond. Congratulations, Jean and Dennis Schrank.

Nuff said — but remember: Promises may get friends, but it's performances that keep them.

A Student's Dream

by Dave Jersey

Once again the season's here. When everyone's heart is full of cheer.

The snow is white upon the ground, And skating and skiing are all around.

But the main event as all of us know Is not skiing or skating or even the snow.

Vacation it is, where all our minds roam To Mom and Dad and Christmas at home.

We think every day of feasts galore Of presents and paper all over the floor, Of relatives roaming all over the place, Of kids rip-roaring and setting the pace.

Our minds also dream of the 16 days Of being free from the classroom haze. No books to read, no themes to write, Sleep all day, go out all night.

Inquiring Reporter --

What Can Santa Bring CSC This Christmas?

We got the word! Santa is coming to town and rumor has it he may enter a CSC chimney or two. To prepare for this visit, your inquiring reporter has sounded out great minds on the campus, with these results as to what Santa should leave in our CSC stocking.

Pat Varney: "Bring our basketball team all the luck needed to win the conference."

Tom Lund: "A new school!"

Jim Newman: "More weekend college spirit would be just the thing..."

Phyllis Jarwick: "A nice women's lounge."

Fred Schadelwald: "... have the basketball team win all their games and then go to Kansas City."

Janice Schroeder: "Escalators for Mr. Harter's 8:15 class"

Jerry Bolding: "Twenty-one victories in basketball"

Margie Benson and Sharon Sutton: "If dear Santa is an electrician we would like him to set up a public address system in every classroom and to put modern lighting in the halls."

Miss Hanson: "A new Magnacorder."

Mr. Faust: "A good student spirit among students"

From publicity shy students came requests for Santa to bring "a place for women to smoke in the building," "no compulsory class attendance," "ice cream brownie sales between classes," and "answers for semester finals." Maybe President Hansen could see to it personally that Santa receives these requests. Surely we've all been good students, haven't we?

Large Crowd Enjoys Annual Senior Ball

"I'll have a Blue Christmas without you..." Ahh! Still echoing through the minds of students and the corridors of CSC are those glorious strains, remnants of the Senior Ball, which was held last Saturday night, December 6, in the student union at Delzell Hall. The orchestra of Jerry Smith, Green Bay, provided the musical notes for those four wonderful hours.

King Henry Drechsler escorting his lovely Queen, Mary Pfiffner, led the estimated 70 couples into the student lounge in the grand march. They were followed by the Royal Court which included Vice-president Bob Gruling with Eppie Shulz, Secretary Mary Lund and Ed Jacobsen, Treasurer Eleanor Curtis and Byron Walters and the Student Council representative, Bill Clayton and DeLores Thompson.

General co-chairmen for this annual event were Mary Brittnacher and Bill Clayton. Committee chairmen were: Theme, Joyce Moll; decorations, Glenna Clark; dance hall, Ed Heuer; orchestra, Jack Popeck; publicity, Ross Papke; invitations, Mary Pfiffner; chaperones, Helen Isbener; tickets, Barbara Nelson; furniture, Frank Hoffman; and cleanup, Arlene Altburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette W. Eagon, and Mr. and Mrs. Arol Epple were chaperons.

Senior class advisers are Miss Pauline Isaacson and Dr. Frank Crou-

"California, Here We Come!"

Ten Students Plan Trip to West

"California Here We Come!" is the happy tune being sung these days by 10 young men students and alumni of Central State. Truly happy and lucky they are, for on Friday afternoon, December 19, Bob Flint, Don Benz, Frank DeGuire, John Mallow, Gene and Bob Paulson, Jim Mayek, Bob Ullsperger, Jerry Jelinek and Harry Zukoski will begin the long trek by car to Los Angeles, California.

A trip such as this is nothing new to at least half of the fellows. Last Christmas some of them spent the vacation in Florida, and Easter found them in Washington, D. C.

A southern route to the west coast has been charted, with stops planned for Albuquerque, N. M.; the Grand Canyon and Death Valley.

Need Bowl Tickets

Rose Bowl tickets have been one of the big problems faced so far. However, Bob Flint says, "Don't worry. The Republicans are back in office." Don Benz isn't too interested in seeing the big game between USC and Wisconsin. He just wants to see "those 103,000 screaming fans."

Not many definite plans have been made for the time to be spent on the coast. Ullsperger would probably say, "We'll just soak up a little sunshine and see the sights." The logical question is, what sights? In unison the fellows answer, "Marilyn Monroe."

The trip will not be all pleasure, however. Upon their return, Flint and DeGuire are scheduled for two days of lecture in Mr. Specht's historical geography class on the physiography of the United States between Stevens Point and Los Angeles.

Automobiles are no problem at all. The boys will be riding in Flint's newly acquired 1953 Plymouth and all of Jelly's fire engine red Pontiac convertible.

The return trip will take them over farther south, with the route almost touching the Mexican border at some points. Their famous last words upon departure will be, "We'll be back on time!"

Quakers, St. Norbert's Play Here; Next Six Games Tough for Point

Six games, four of them to be played on the road, will be contested in rapid succession as the Pointers dive into the tougher part of their schedule. Conference foes to be encountered are Milwaukee, Whitewater, and Oshkosh, while Lawrence, Ripon, and St. Norbert's will furnish stiff non-league action.

According to Coach Quandt, CSC's head basketball mentor, these next few games could very well mean the difference between a successful or a not-so-successful season for the Pointers. Although all the games will be stiff contests, Coach Quandt is especially fearful of the Lawrence and Ripon aggregations.

Milwaukee's Green Gulls will furnish the Pointers with the first conference action this year when they clash at the southern city. The Gulls are operating under a new coach and appear to be gunning for a successful season. The game will be played December 13.

Play Quakers Here

Next it will be Whitewater, the game to be played here at P. J. Jacobs high school gym December 18. The Quakers wound up last season as conference champions. Their only loss was suffered at the hands of our own Pointers in the final conference game of the season. However, the Quakers lost heavily through graduation and are undoubtedly not up to their last-season strength.

The following night, December 19, the Purple and Gold will journey to Appleton to clash with a top-notch Lawrence team. This will probably be one of the better foes the locals will meet this season, with a great game sure to ensue.

Play at Ripon

Then it will be Ripon in a game to be played at Ripon during Christmas vacation on January 3. This will be the only meeting of the two schools this year. Point and Ripon did not play against each other last season.

Two nights later, on January 5, St. Norbert's will bring its contingent to Point for another non-league game. Coach Skat of the Knights has only five letters, all sophomores, with whom to work, but boasts a

Pointers Win Easy Game; Roll Over Milton Wildcats

Outscoring the Milton Wildcats in each quarter, the Pointers rolled to an easy 76-56 victory Monday night in P. J. Jacobs gymnasium. The win was the fourth in a row for Coach Hale F. Quandt's squad, their first at home.

The Pointmen, after a rather cold first half, poured 23 and 20 points through the hoop in the third and fourth quarters, respectively. The last quarter saw Coach Quandt clear his bench in giving everyone on his 15-man squad a chance to play.

The Pointers' reliable forward, Bob Bostad, led both teams with 17 points on six buckets and five free-throws. His floor play and rebounding were also outstanding. Bob "Moose" Blomley and Les Thompson took runner-up scoring honors with 15 and 11 points each.

The brunt of the Milton attack was carried by center Don Wyatt, who scored 10 points on four baskets and two free-throws, and forward Jerry Stockwell, who dumped in six free-throws while picking two baskets also for 10 points.

The Pointers' scoring attack, as in their first three wins, was well-balanced with 13 of the 15 Pointers breaking into the scoring column.

Gets Off to Fast Start

Four games were played Thursday, December 4, to open CSC's 1952-53 intramural basketball campaign. Games are played in the college gymnasium and are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday each week.

In last week's games the Sig Epsilon aggregation bowed to the All-Star 34 — 66. Carl Jurgella led the winners with a 21 point total. In a close game the Seven-Day Warriors downed Delzell Hall's Devils 35 — 32. Phil LaFelle took scoring honors for the winners with 11 markers.

The Continentals tramped over S. P. S. to the tune of 52 — 36 with Roy Haback taking game honors with 15 points. In the final game Melvin Karau scored 12 to lead the Ramblers to a 51 — 32 victory over the Gremlins.

Side Lines

by Jerry Baerenwald

As most of you may know by now, college basketball fouling rules have been changed from last season's regulations. The new ruling reads that if a player misses his free throw attempt on a one-shot foul he is to receive a second chance. Two shot offenses remain the same as they were last year. Also, all players fouled within the final three minutes of the game are to receive two gift throws, regardless of whether the first is good or missed.

The original object of the new ruling was to curb the number of fouls in the game, but as the collegiate season advances, the validity of the new regulation is being questioned more and more. About the only notable change it has effected thus far has been the increased point totals caused by the added number of free shots allowed. So far the boys have continued their consistent fouling ways, regardless of the supposed penalty. This holds true not only in our own conference, but in basketball circles throughout the nation.

Although the sport of basketball is not considered so rough a sport as is football, it often is. Usually, however, the injuries sustained are not as critical as those brought about by football and are not as noticeable. Thus far this season the Pointers have been fairly fortunate as far as injuries are concerned. The extent of their injuries has been the perennial nemesis, weak ankles. Five varsity players have their ankles taped during practice and games to prevent further handicap. Dick Bechard is having the most trouble, being hindered by a heel ailment.

CSC wrestlers are continuing their daily workouts under Coach Roberts, although the grapplers still have a long wait before meeting their initial opponent. Techniques, rules, and conditioning are being stressed, taught by demonstration and matches between wrestlers in similar weight classes. The first interscholastic match is scheduled for January 10, pitting the Pointers against Lawrence at Appleton.

WRA NOTICE

WRA's badminton and ping-pong tournaments have almost reached the finals. Competition is reported as "keen" and the sportsmanship as "swell". The championships will be announced at a later date.

All organizations which would like to enter a basketball team in the tournament starting after Christmas should turn in their team names to WRA.

Point Whips Winona For Third Straight

Twelve Pointers saw action as CSC hung up its third straight triumph on Friday, December 5, whipping a Winona, Minnesota, team 70-55. A rough and tumble defensive contest, the game was played on the Minnesota's home court.

The first quarter turned out to be strictly an offensive duel, with the Pointers taking a 26-18 first-stanza advantage. However, the second period saw only eight points tallied by each team, with CSC leading at half-time 34-26. Point slowly upped its margin to 47-36 at the three-quarter mark and then opened up in the final period with a 23 point barrage. The contest was unusually rough, with 27 personal fouls called on the Pointers and 29 infractions doled out to the losers. Point's starting five consisted of Anderson and Bechard at the guards, Bostad and Thompson at forwards, and Blomley at center.

High point manufacturer for the locals was freshman guard Joe Sanks, who dumped in a total of 11 markers. Following him were Fritz Schadewald with 10, and Les Thompson with nine. Ray Anderson, Bob Blomley, and Bob Bostad each tallied eight. Rod Lingenfelter wound up as the night's high scorer with a 14 point total.

The Purple and Gold again displayed their well-balanced scoring attack but were hampered by Winona's small floor and tight, defensive brand of ball. Also, the Pointer's shooting percentage was off in comparison to the previous two games. However, the locals were able to maintain a fairly comfortable margin throughout the game, a factor which enabled them to take their third game in as many starts.
