Miss Veterinarian Administration Hospital

December 7, 1952

Mr. W. C. Hansen, President
Wisconsin State College
Stevens Point, Wisconsin

Dear Mr. Hansen:
I have just had the pleasure of reading the December 6 issue of the Pointer. In nine places throughout the paper the students have featured traffic safety.

Those of us in the insurance industry who see the terrible results of today's unspeakable ignorance, sometimes wonder what the students and the educators can do to help stop this shocking waste of human life.

The leadership which the State College here in Stevens Point is taking in training drivers and in preparing teachers for driver training is in our opinion a most encouraging forthright and achievement. Education is still the key to all social changes desired by humanity. Without effort such as yours, we believe the tragic trend could only become normal.

On behalf of the people in the insurance business, we express thanks and appreciation to you and Mr. Bay E. Specht, his students, and Miss Beulah Glennon and her staff of Pointer writers for a wonderful job of tackling a tremendous problem. Your efforts should help bring life-saving results.

Sincerely,
Carl N. Jacobs, President
Hardware Mutual Casualty Co.
