Welcome! Alums!

Once again, it is Homecoming time at Central State. Committees have been working earnestly to make the 1952 activities the biggest and best ever witnessed. Miss October, with her "winning" ways, has the football team under her spell. There will be bands galore in the traditional parade. Hearty handclasps and echoes of "Hi! Hello! Glad to see you!" await you at the Alumni-Faculty mixer-luncheon, the game, the open house at Nelson and Delzell

Halls, to mention a few of the many events planned for your pleasure. We extend a most cordial welcome to our alumni. Enjoy the gala festivi-ties to the fullest. If perchance, you

1952 Wildfire

Welcome Alums! Welcome to the biggest Homecoming celebration in years. Remember — the highlight of this Homecoming is not Hobo Day! — It is not the parade! — it is not the dance! No, it is not the election of a Homecoming queen! The highlight, the feature attraction of the 1952 Homecoming, is the football game between Whitewater and our own UNDEFEATED POINTERS.

Attention Alums! Check our spirit. Check it closely.

It is hard to write of school spirit. For just what is the spirit of a school? One cannot define it:

But school spirit can be felt. It can move one to tears or laughter—to songs and yells. It can win football games. It can make one feel proud of his school. It is strong. School spirit is powerful. Yet one cannot define it.

The results of a vibrant, growing school spirit, but not the spirit itself can be seen. They can be seen at Central State. For the first time in many years we Central Staters may proudly say, "See, our spirit is strong and growing."

Whence came Central State's surge of spirit? Perhaps this new and exciting spirit was first evident in the ranks of Coach. Roberts' rampaging Pointers. Perhaps our spirit is largely due to the friendly and inviting atmosphere of the student union of new Delzell Hall or the fact that men as well as women can now live on campus. Or perhaps the new freshman class instilled this growing spirit into our school. No one can tell for sure. However, no one can deny the fact that a new Central State spirit is here.— AND it's growing like wildfire! Let's keep it up. Let's not allow it to waver.

Come to the HOBO DAY PEP RALLY

Friday 3 P.M.

The fever mounts! Probably no other group of CSC students senses the pressure of Homecoming as much as does the Saturday afternoon attraction, the football players.

This year-is-far-from an exception. The boys know that this year's rival, Whitewater, is more than apt to be set on darkening our Homecoming and will be no-push over. Via experience, the older members of the squad will yerify the fact that Whitewater repeatedly comes up with a well-balanced, well-coached team and, in recent years especially, has records recent years especially, has records to prove it.

However, siding in with the Pointers, it looks as though the Quakers from Whitewater are really going to be in for a rough afternoon of football. The P and G offensive forward yall has been a solid, though pliable, smooth working machine. The rampaging offensive backs have proven that they can roll when the occasion demands. The defensive team-has caused many an opponent to give up in utter frustration. Such is the team which will clash will will be the such that the such t

One of the many elements to cause Wisconsin to go down in defeat-last-Saturday was the presence of little Dan Weed, Ohio State's place kicking specialist. Dan is so small, 5'5" tall. 128 lbs., that the coaches completely overlooked him. That is, until someone kept a record and found that he booted over 600 perfect kicks in a row. Against Wisconsin he made two out of three points after touchdowns and booted an eleven yard game-clinching field goal.

Pointer scoring goes something

Pointer scoring goes something like this: Nubbs Miller leads all CSC backs with 36 points to his credit, amassed via six touchdowns. Russ Stimac, Don Herrmann, and Jim Giordana each, have-two touchdowns for 12 points apiece. Al Due also has 12 points, kicking nine extra points and one field goal. Completing the scoring, Sid Davidson and Bry Purchatzke each have scored one touch-

Former Kaukauna High School players Mark Schommer, Marly Gil-bert, Ken Roloff, and Jim Giordana met face to face with a former teammate now playing with Stout when they played against Clarence "Barney" Lamers Saturday night. Lamers plays offensive end and is a sophomore at the Institute.

The climax of Homecoming will be Saturday's clash between the Pointers and the Whitewater Quakers. The game will be staged at Goerke field with game time at 2 o'clock.

The Pointers will be sporting a 2-0 conference record and a 5-0 over-all-record at game time. Whitewater, on the other hand, is boasting a 1-1 conference record and is gaining strength with each game.

Coach Edgar Schwager boasts a team built around 16 lettermen, including big Lawrence "Red" Entress, polished defensive linebacker and place-kicker. Last year's game, played in a heavy downpour, garnered the Quakers a hard-earned 7-0 victory, but this year's Pointer team is going for this special game will be chosen sometime this week.
