Men's Glee Club Concert Delights Capacity Crowd

With their voices raised in merry song, the Central State Men's Glee club under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen, again presented two rousing concerts, both for capacity crowds. A concert for the public was presented on Tuesday evening, December 2, with college students being guests at the 10 o'clock hour on Wednesday morning, December 3.

Ruth Ann Charlesworth, New London, and Gwen Fischer, Stevens Point, assisted as piano accompanists with Fred Stephanek, Tomah, at the organ.

Solos were sung by Roy Hackbart, Poynette, baritone; Dave Ross, Stevens Point, bass, and Jerry Boettcher, Merrill, baritone.

The program for the pre-holiday concert was arranged as follows:

"The Purple and the Gold," Prayer; "Bone, Sing On," Grieg; "Bone, Jesu," Palestine; "De Gospel Train," Noble Cain, by the club.

Solos, "Pale Moon," Logan, Mr. Hackbart; "Without a Song," Youmans, by Dave Ross.

"I Love a Parade," Arlen; "In the Gloaming," Harrison; "The Drum," Gibson; "From the Sea," MacDowell; "Men of Harlech," a Welsh melody, arranged by Norden, by the club.

Solo, selected, "Silver Bell" Livingston-Evans, by Jerry Boettcher.

"The Bell," a French carol, arranged by Bement, "Skip To My Lou," Griffith; "All Through the Night," McLeod; "Cantonian Christmas Carol," arranged by Lefebvre; "Fugate Amen," Kjerulf, by the club.

Knit One And Purl Two, Omeg Knit Sale For You

December 3, Wednesday, is the day for the annual Omeg Knitting Bazaar to be held on second floor near the auditorium. Knit items include Christmas stockings, argyles and baby outfits. These and other articles, such as hand-made aprons, hot-pad holders, and miscellaneous items will be on sale all day and Omega Mu Chi sorority girls will be there to sell them.

Betty Crook is general chairman of the sale. Head of the posters is Mary Ann Raschka, with her committee of Janet Bergelin, Dorothy Gilbertson, Pat Giese, Pauline Vincent. Head of publicity is Donna Thompson. Chairman for the marketing and pricing of the items is Delores Thompson, with the assistance of Margie Benson Koepke, Sharon Sutton and Sally Scribner. Chairman for the preparation of the sale is Judy Clayton, with Carol Corliss and Cleo Gilbert helping. Peggie Figel is chairman of clean-up, assisted by Joann Gilbert and Joann Cuff.

With Sympathy

Students and faculty express their sympathy to Dr. O. Floyd Nixon, whose wife died last Friday here in Stevens Point. Besides her husband, Mrs. Nixon is survived by two sons, Major Robert T. Nixon with the army in North Africa and Floyd E. Nixon of Ventura, California. Both of the Nixon sons are graduates of CSC.

Sympathy is also extended to Miss Emily Wilson, whose brother died in La Harpe, Kansas last week.

Egypt on Stage!

Dr. Quincy Doudna will talk on Egypt and show his films (and wear his fez!) on Thursday, December 10 at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Students, faculty and the public are invited.

Pan-Hellenic Dance Will Climax Greek Dinners and Pledge Rites

With the theme of 'Winter Fantasy,' the Pan-Hellenic dance will be held at Delzell Hall Saturday night, December 5, from 9:30 to 12:30. General chairman of the dance Jerry Boettcher, Pan-Hell president, announced arrangements for the affair, which is open to all Greeks and their guests. Preceding the dance, the Greeks will hold their annual Pan-Hell banquets.

With all fraternities and sororities sharing in the arrangements, the dance promises to be a beautiful and enjoyable affair.

The Sig Eps, in charge of location and orchestra, have secured the services of Billy's Quintet from Marshfield. Tom Wirkus, who completed arrangements for the Quintet's appearance here, says that the leader has played with Sammy Kaye's orchestra, while another band member was with the Harry James aggregation.

In charge of programs and tickets, the Phi Sig announce that ticket prices will be $1.25 a couple.

Three couples have been selected as escorts by the Psi Betas, who were also in charge of invitations. The chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Runke, Mr. and Mrs. Alf W. Harner, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Anderson.

Posters for the dance were in charge of the Omegas, while theme and decorations were handled by the Tau Gammas.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's Pan-Hell banquet will be held at 6 o'clock at the Hotel Whiting, according to chairman Chuck Sohr. Toastmaster for the event will be Homer Plumb. Earlier in the afternoon, the Sig Eps will formally initiate their new members in the Home Ec living room. New members are Ellis Weaver, Jack Frisch, Lewis Mittens, Roland Young, Mark Farris, Ralph Seefeldt, Ronald Larson, Jack Mrochek, Bill Rhusam and Bob Johnson.

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will hold their dinner at the Antlers Cafe at 5 p.m. Bob Konopacky and Lee Miller are in charge of invitations and John Amburgy and Bill Schroeder.

Student Council Meets

The second meeting of the CSC Student Council was held November 24. Much old and new business was discussed.

Donna Thompson, senior class representative, reported on the work of the council with regard to student prices at the local theatres. A council delegation was told by the local theater manager that no special college price was being considered, but suggested writing to the head of the Fox Corporation in Milwaukee. Kenneth W. Boylan and President William C. Hansen will be consulted as to what further action should be taken.

Ed Jacobsen, council president, told of progress made on the student wage schedule. If accepted, this would set a 75 cents per hour minimum wage rate for college students working in Stevens Point. Jacobsen, Jack Frisch, and Gladys Lehmann volunteered to work with the Deans on this.

A committee was delegated to see Nellis R. Kampenga about the problem of reserved books. It is the council's hope that some system can be developed whereby a portion of the reserve books can be checked out after 3 p.m. and the remainder after 8 p.m. The council believes that this system would benefit those students who can't get up to the library after 8 o'clock because they are commuting or working.

The council appointed Margie Gerhard and Larry Cook to the Assembly committee; Tom Wirkus and Dave Ross to the Allocations committee; and Bill Jablonske and Rosemary Polzin to the social committee.

It was decided to assign a skit or program to each campus organization for the pep rallies. The assignments will be made by letters.

er are arranging for transportation. Bob McMahon will act as toastmaster for the dinner. The Phi Sig pledge is Donald Page.

Omega Mu Chi will hold its Pan-Hell banquet and pledge ceremony at the Meadows. Joann Cuff is general chairman for the banquet. The theme of the dinner will be Snowflake Ballet. Sharon Sutton will be toastmistress. Omeg pledges are Joan Thimke and Carol Crosby. Committees are as follows: Theme, Bobbie Anderson, chairman, and Marlys Hvass; decorations, Jo Gilbert and Jan Bergelin, co-chairmen, Joyce Zerneke, Carol Corliss, and Shirley Sonnenberg; invitations, Joyce Thomson, chairman, Betty Crook, Bobbie Vaughn; pledge ceremony, Mary Raschka, chairman, and Margie Koepke; entertainment, Pat Giese, Sharon Sutton, Sally Rose; transportation, Pauline Vincent and Judy Clayton; favors, Carol Holt, chairman, Dorothy Arndt, Benita Held, and Dorothy Gilbertson.

Psi Beta Psi will hold their dinner at St. Paul's Methodist church at 6:30. Committee heads are: Invitations, Donna Waltrath; decorations and theme, Annette Bras, entertainment, Radine McIntee; transportation, Dorothy Berger; program, Mary Ann Panke. Psi Beta Psi pledges are Mary Louise Bloczynski, Mary Jo Reznicek, Chloe Brody, Janus Schellin, Mary Jane Wagner, Frances Kuch, Edith Helland, Deloris Kusch, Lenore Gaylor, Mary Jean Lehman, and Marlene LeMere.

Tau Gamma Beta will hold their dinner at the St. George Hotel at 6 p.m. General co-chairmen for the affair are Charlene Kabat and Grace Collins. Other committee heads are: Invitations, Mary Ann Smith; decorations, Delores Miller; entertainment, Janice Schroeder; clean-up, Betty Kuserow; transportation, Luella Gram. Theme of their dinner is also 'Winter Fantasy.' New Tau Gamma members are Gladys Lehmann, Ellen Elide, Diana Bloom, Claire Mueller, Ariene Golowski and Virginia Brisco.

Blood Donors Needed

ATTENTION! — all you red blooded Pointers willing to donate a pint, or even a half-pint of that life-giving fluid to someone who needs it badly.

The bloodmobile will be here December 7 and 8, Monday from 12 to 6 p.m. and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Cars will leave the east entrance of the college every half hour to transport you to and from the bloodmobile.

Those who donated in October are not urged to donate this time — but if you didn't then, how about now? Let's try to make it 100 volunteers from Central State this time.

AKL Plans Annual Dinner

The annual venison steak dinner will be held by Alpha Kappa Lambda, conservation fraternity, Saturday evening, December 12, at the Training school. This event will be highlighted by the Conservation Alumni association meeting in the afternoon and the dedication and raising of the long awaited campus sign proclaiming that this is Central State College.

Three Men of the Cloth Attend CSC Creative Writing Classes

With ideas for good stories fairly popping from their eyes and pencils, three gentlemen of the ministerial vocation add their talents to Norman E. Knutzen's creative writing class here at Central State. These men are Rabbi David Jacob Matzner, Father Norbert J. Wilger and Rev. Gordon E. Dalton.

Rabbi Matzner was born in Wiesbaden, Germany, and has attended colleges and universities in Leipzig, Jerusalem and Frankfurt. In the latter part of 1933, while he was studying in London, he had to make a choice between going back to his native Germany, never to be able to leave it again, or of going to Palestine. He chose Palestine and there he attended the University of Jerusalem, earning his degree of Rabbi. In 1938 he was deported by the Nazis to Poland. During the following year he made several illegal entries into Germany, trying to find a way of getting safe passage for his family to America.

In 1940 he was arrested on the grounds of being "suspicious." From then on, until 1948, Rabbi Matzner saw the inside of 21 German concentration camps including Auschwitz, the famous German gas chamber. Finally, on May 2, 1945, the Rabbi was in a group that were liberated by American pilots and Russian infantry men. Soon after this, he learned that his parents, his sister and his niece had been killed at Auschwitz.

Today, the Rabbi, his wife Lucina and his son Gary, 5, are living in Stevens Point, where he is Rabbi at the Beth Israel Synagogue. He is working on his Bachelor of Arts degree here at CSC. Of America, Rabbi Matzner says, "The life and freedom here are not comparable with that anywhere else. We are very happy to be part of the United States."

Rev. Norbert J. Wilger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Wilger of Athens, is assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Stevens Point and also is the chaplain for the CSC Newman club. He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree at St. John's university, Collegeville, Minnesota. For six months after graduation he worked as a newspaper reporter on the St. Cloud, Minnesota Daily Times and then for another six months, he wrote a science column for a St. Cloud weekly.

Christmas Concert To Be Really Spectacular

The Christmas Concert promises to be bigger and better than ever this year. Peter J. Michelson, music director, and Lawrence K. Davis, chief maintenance man, and the maintenance men from the college have already cut about 65 Christmas trees for the concert. If you'll just take a look at the tennis court next to Nelson Hall you'll see them, ready to be put up and decorated.

The Mixed Chorus will be composed of about 85 voices this year. Mr. Michelson says that it has more balance (namely, more men) than it had in previous years. The Girls Glee Club has also been working hard on their part of the program. Miss Carlsen is again in charge of the background scene for the stage. Students from her art classes will help do the work. Plans are also under way for the Nativity Tableau which will be under the direction of Miss May Roach.

He was ordained a priest in July of 1947 at La Crosse. His first parish was the Sacred Heart church in Eau Claire. While in that city, he worked with the welfare and juvenile delinquency agencies. Writing and science are his two hobbies. At present he is helping set up the amateur radio transmitter on the third floor at CSC.

Rev. Gordon E. Dalton is pastor of the First Baptist church at Wisconsin Rapids, and he is taking credits here at Central State toward his Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary at Chicago. Before going to Wisconsin Rapids, he was pastor at Appleton for eight years and at Rhineland for six years. He has had two years of missionary work for the Utah Gospel Mission in Utah and Idaho.

During these two years, he was part of a group of traveling missionaries who preached their faith to the people in that area. They lived in house buses and traveled from city to city. Reverend Dalton is Moderator of the Central Association of Baptist churches and is a member of the Board of Managers for Wisconsin Baptist churches.

He has a son who is a sophomore at Bethel College in St. Paul, a son who is a junior in high school and a 10-year-old daughter. His favorite sports are hunting and fishing. When asked where his home was, he chuckled and said, "I'm often called Dalton of Dalton." (His hometown is Dalton, Wisconsin, although he was born at Troy, Idaho.)

Projects Of Primary Council Are Planned

Plans for several projects were made at a recent meeting of the Primary Council.

The most immediate business of the day was the Sparta Christmas project. The girls have again adopted the children at the Sparta orphanage for the Christmas holidays. Gifts are being collected by the Council members with very able help being given by the Training School children and other organizations at the college.

General chairman of the undertaking is Delores Thompson. Her committees are: Publicity, Nancy Court, chairman, Jean Getchell, Doris Moss, Pauline Weissen; wrap sheets, Pauline Vincent, and Betty Kuserow; buying, Dorothy Gerber, chairman, Peggie Figel, Helen Bovee, Doris Moss, Pauline Weissen; wrapping, Nadine Bahr, chairman, Marie Doro, Sharon Sutton, Charlotte Aronson, Grace Collins, Pat Giese, Helen Schlack, Tere Relland, Phyllis Lemieux, Diana Bloom, Mary Ann Smith, Marilyn Ware, Carol Crosby, and Bueh Huettl.

Discussion was also held as to the Clair Tree Major production. It was decided that this nationally known dramatic group would give two performances of "Puss in Boots" here on March 12. This play will be for the school children of the city and will be held in the college auditorium.

A movie, Skippy and the Three R's, was shown at the meeting and punch was served.

Betty Crook is the president of the group, and Dr. Mary Elizabeth Smith, the adviser.

Do They Fill The Bill?

When the rush of the election of class officers is long over is perhaps no time to discuss the qualities which these officers should have, but since some criticism of both faculty and student body has come to our attention, we felt that this was a proper time to devote some attention to the matter.

First of all, how do people get put up for class offices? Do they get up because they have a real desire and interest in the position, or are they put up by their friends in the wild frenzy of a popularity contest, with little or no regard for qualifications?

And then, what about you, the student? Do you think when you are at the polls voting? Do you think when you sign a petition? If you do not know the person on the petition do you sign it anyway, just to be "sociable." If you do not know the people who are up for an office do you make it part of your duty to find out who these people are and which one has the best qualifications for the job? Or do you just coast along in a vacuum, and then when you get to the polls, just take a wild guess at which name sounds best, or close your eyes and say "eenie, meenie, minie, moe?"

We have been talking rather loosely about the qualifications of a good class officer, and this would seem to be a good time to list some of the more important ones.

1. He must have the courage to stand up for his own convictions and carry out his duties with soberness and intelligence. He must have a sense of responsibility to himself and to the student body which elected him.

2. When appointing committees or making selections he should try to make a limited use of friendly "patronage," rather appointing those people who he knows will do the best job.

3. He should try to plan for the future, realizing that the things he does today will leave their mark on tomorrow. He should be rational and farseeing in his plans and ideas.

4. He should be able to get along with other people and he should have a pleasing personality. He must have the qualities of selflessness and he must learn to put the wishes of others before his own.

5. He must be sincere in his desire to do a good job, and must not take the job just for the "honor" connected with it. He should do the very best job he can so that he will elevate the standards of his job in order that other people will find it profitable to follow in his footsteps.

This may sound like a regular old political "harangue," but really isn't. It is merely trying to point out the fact that so many people overlook, that the people who are elected to positions have just as much responsibility to their "constituents" as do real political candidates. The sooner everyone, including student, faculty members and officers realize that student officers have a very important job and one that should be played up much more than it is, with more powers and advantages, the sooner we can expect really "great" things from our student government.

FAMILIAR FACES

Jerry Baerenwald and Rosemarie Christoffersen

The familiar sprinter so often seen going down the gridiron or pounding the court carrying water in one hand and towels in the other claims to be "the most unathletic manager in the history of CSC." Jerry says, "I'm not even very good at ping pong."

Gerald R. Baerenwald, CSC student sports manager from Clintonville was once on a team, though, that won a first place. It was a Crop judging contest with 53 teams of three men each. Jerry came out with a score of 98 — only one error. The prize for the winning team was a three day trip to Chicago.

Sports editor of the Pointer is one of the titles held down by "Herbie." (There, that should take care of all his names.) Jerry also works on the Iris as a reporter. (He must be the good-will ambassador between the Pointer and Iris.) He says, "Mostly I just carry paper clips around."

Being a member of "A" club and

There's no need to introduce Chris, but few of you might hesitate at "Rose Christoffersen." It makes no difference though, she's still the same grey-eyed senior who is as serene as the very north woods she lives in (Tomahawk Woods). Chris loves it up there — loafing all summer, meeting different people in the resort area, and deer hunting during vacation. Yet after Chris shot her deer, she felt so bad she could have cried. While hunting, she's scared stiff of bear and other hunters.

On campus Chris doesn't have time to loaf. This semester she's kept particular busy as Tau Gamma Beta president. As a sorority girl, Chris received the Splendor Scholastic award. Chris also lists Gamma Delta, WSGA Board, and WRA as her extracurricular duties. She's sports assistant to Mr. Baerenwald on the Pointer.

Chris has finally settled in Secondary after spending some time in L. and S. and Intermediate. She's picked Biology for a major and Phy. Ed. and English for minors. After graduation Chris wants to teach for a while and then, maybe, enter a recreation field. She hopes to marry — some day.

Chris likes to talk, especially with her roommates. The girls in her house have settled so many of the world's problems it isn't funny. Guess they also settle or soothe their problems too. Chris rooms with Shirley Achenreiner or rather Shir rents from Chris — anyway, that is the standing joke at their house.

Scoop!

Do you have it figured out yet? Well, it's not for publication, so don't breathe a word. There are approximately 11 and one half school days left before we can again pack up with a million things to get done over vacation, and depart. What joy we get from the little things in life!

We heard the news that at least one car, headed home for the holidays, met with misfortune. Too bad we don't have more details to pass on, but if you're interested, take a gander at Cleo Gilbert's knee — with due apologies to Cleo! What else was it . . . something about a new windshield for Don Page? It's too bad when things like that happen.

The paper last night said something about there being less than 20 shopping days left before Christmas. Wonder how many of us have been accused of the following as we merrily did our Christmas shopping.

It takes all the joy from a wild shopping spree

And the next day it drives me distraught

To find that the shops took me

seriously

And sent me the things that I bought!

A proposal — to add to the curriculum an education course — "How To Make Teaching Tasteless." Mr. Lewis has been nominated as instructor — anyone that can get fudge out of a study of rocks and minerals has some good ideas! Ask him about it.

News of the Cribset:

John Farrell, a freshman conservation major from Wisconsin Rapids, became the father of a baby boy this past weekend. This is Mr. and Mrs. Farrell's second child, so he took it calmly. Their other child is a little girl.

A baby boy, Raymond Ernest, was born to Ray and Patricia Lavers Venn of Elcho on November 18. Both Ray and Pat are alumni of CSC. Ray was former composition editor of the Pointer.

It seems that even the turkeys and Cupid get along, at least for some people. Sharon Sutton, a senior in primary, became the proud owner of a left hand "sparkler" during Thanksgiving vacation. She received the ring from Keith "Keebo" Rand of Milwaukee.

A rather strange typographical (look Ma — five syllables) error appeared in one of the Pointers typed copy. In the story, one of our CSC lads was referred to as a Sip Ep. Could we say he was chosen by a straw vote? Ouch!! One might get the impression they're a drinking fraternity. Man, that's the last straw!

Before we close up shop, another item along the line of Christmas: How lovely Christmas boxes look. All holly-trimmed and ribbon-tied! It's often quite a shock to see The funny things there are inside. Bye now.

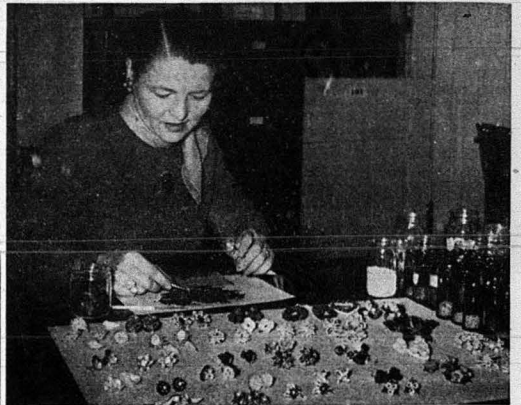

Hackbart Named Regional Gamma Delta President

The local Gamma Deltas have a celebrity in their midst. Their president, Roy Hackbart, was elected president of the regional Gamma Delta lakes area at a regional convention held at Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Indiana, November 13 to 15.

Other representatives from CSC Gamma Delta at the convention were Bill Wicke, Walter Zeng, Irene Krause and Mrs. Marjorie Kerst.

Round Table To Meet

Round Table will hold its December meeting Monday night, December 7, at 7 o'clock in Studio A. All students in the Intermediate-Upper Elementary division are urged to come. The program committee, composed of Wallace Bohler, Caryl Edmond, Bob Hammersmith, and Ruth Borchardt has arranged for the showing of the movie, "Introduction to Student Teaching."

IT'S SHELLS AND EARRINGS for the attractive CSC brunette who holds claim to this unusual hobby. The above display is only a small portion of the many earrings and shells she has at the present time, and has used over a period of years.

Money Talks They Always Say Our CSC Miss Has Earring Aid

Did you see that bright, sparkling creature with the fascinating earrings shooting down the hall? She's Doris Dohms, and even though you haven't seen her around the campus before this year her earrings, which she makes from shells, have come before her to bring her fame.

Two years ago her husband George Dohms attended school here. As Doris says with a giggle, "He worked part of his way through by selling shell earrings. Quite unusual for a man." George is now the principal at Sunnyside School at Madison. Those earrings George sold were the design and workmanship of his talented wife.

As the bubbling brunette told of her interesting hobby she left this reporter completely fascinated. She says, "I got started on this hobby in 1950 through a friend who was doing this kind of work. That winter, when I was in Florida with George, we went through many of the huge shell warehouses. I now buy all of my shells in Florida from three different houses."

Working with shells requires patience, as the work is very intricate. The shells must be cut and matched for both color and size. The variety of shells which is used is extensive. Many have adventurous sounding names such as: King's crown, baby rise, cat's eye, bleeding tooth, and money cowery. The latter one is "gotten from Africa and the natives use them for trade. It takes just 60,000 to buy a wife." An interesting statement for all African bound males to note.

"Good-looking earrings," claims Doris, "depend on the trick combination of colors and shells. Being animals they vary just as people do and no two grow alike." When the shells arrive they aren't cleaned and the dead body must be taken out with a needle. After the design is planned the earrings may take from six to eight hours to complete.

"I've sent my earrings to fifteen states," says Doris with justified pride. "Also to Sweden, England, France, and Germany."

Doris also makes shell pins, necklaces, and jewelry boxes. She remarked with a twinkle in her eye that large earrings are her own favorites and she has a special weakness for the valentine heart earrings for Saint Valentine's Day and the gay holly wreath earrings for Christmas.

Though she has many, many opportunities to go into business with this captivating hobby Doris explains, "I don't want it to be a business enterprise. It would take away the individualism of each piece of jewelry. This way I make what I want to when I want to, and it remains a hobby."

High School Thespians Compete Here Saturday

CSC Cage Team Opens Season, Two Home Games This Week

Coach Hale Quandt's edition of the 1953-54 CSC's basketball team will be unveiled tonight at P. J. Jacobs gymnasium against Northland College of Ashland. The game will get underway at 8 p.m., before an expected capacity crowd. On Saturday, December 5 at 7:30 p.m., the Pointers will play host to the Huskies of Michigan Tech. This game will also be played at P. J. Jacobs gym, and will be staged early to allow Pointer fans to attend the Pan-Hell dance after the game.

Coach Quandt has built his team around his six returning lettermen. They are Ray Anderson and Fred Schadewald, seniors; Jerry Boldig, Les Thompson, juniors; and Ken Roloff and Erv Redding, sophomores. The squad has been cut to 29 in an effort to concentrate on the varsity. An intra-squad game was held Monday night, November 30, to help determine starters.

The Quandtmens had little trouble downing the Northmen 91-58 last year in a game played at Ashland. However, the Northmen lost little through graduation and should give the Pointers quite a tussle.

Michigan Tech will be hampered by the loss of Gary Lundin, their high scorer last season, who is currently out of play with an injury. Lundin hit for 237 points in 14 games last year. The Pointers downed the Huskies last year 84-75 at Houghton, Michigan, and the battle should prove to be just as thrilling this year. Coach Quandt has indicated he will start Les Thompson and Erv Koepke or Bob Johnson in the backline and Erv Redding, Ken Roloff, Bill Watson or Ray Anderson at the guard spots.

Various organizations throughout town have helped sell some 600 reserve seats, so a large crowd is expected. Enthusiasm shown by the townspeople will certainly be an incentive to college routers as it has been in the past. The cheerleaders have indicated there will be a pep rally in the auditorium at 3:15 today. We'll see you there!

Campus Keglers Vie For Lead As Play Progresses

The bowling season is well underway as the eight teams in the Campus Bowling League are vying for first division spots. The race is a tight one with six points separating first and sixth place.

The Miller High Life team held onto their first place berth by splitting four games with the Phi Sigs in last week's competition. Millers took the team high for three games with 2169 pins. Individual high for three games was Gilbert Stasek with 559. The team high for one game was Essers with 776 pins. Dennis Schrank took the individual honors with a 213 single game. The team standings are:

	W	L	Pts.
Miller High Life	10	5	15
Essers Paint	10	5	13
Hannon Drugs	9	6	12
Sig Eps	8	7	11
Phi Sigs	8	7	9
College Eat Shop	7	8	9
AKL	5	10	6
Vetters Lumber	3	12	5

Four CSC Men Named To WSC Honor Squad

Four CSC gridders rated positions on the 1953 WSC honor squad as conference coaches, and athletic directors picked a 22 man squad as all-loop material.

Jack Crook, a tackle, Mark Schommer, at end, and backs Don Herrmann and John Smith are the Pointers' representatives on the annual dream team. Schommer and Herrmann have completed their collegiate football careers, while Crook and Smith each have two seasons of eligibility remaining.

Only La Crosse, co-champions of the conference, placed more men, five, than CSC. Milwaukee placed three men, and Platteville, Stout, and River Falls each placed two, while Eau Claire, Oshkosh, Superior, and Whitewater each placed one.

No first or second teams were picked this year.

by Jerry Baerenwald

We sat in on a little sneak preview of the 1953-54 Pointer edition Monday night when coach Quandt staged an intersquad game at the P. J. Jacobs gym. The twenty-man squad was divided into two squads of 10 men each, one black, one white. Actual game conditions prevailed with Don Herrmann acting as ref.

The dark squad romped off to an early lead and continued piling it on as the game progressed, running up a final tally of 98-46. Fred Schadewald led the Blacks with 18 marks, followed by John Amburgy and Les Thompson with 16 each.

Coach Quandt was well pleased with the showing of each man, being especially joyous over the ball handling shown along with the excellent maneuvering of offensive plays and some spectacular firing from the field.

One dark spot was the showing the Pointers made from the free throw lines from where they could manage only a low 60 per cent. Other phases of play heavily outweighed this however, and the squad showed great promise. Purple and Gold fans can expect a fast, high-scoring, exciting brand of ball. Look out WSC!

Mark Schommer was happily waving a treasured envelope around all day Monday, and rightly so, seeing the contents was an application blank for a tryout with the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League. Mark has completed his collegiate eligibility, has been named to two consecutive WSC all-Conference squads, and has been named on several all-opponent squads of conference teams. Lots of luck, Mark. CSC can use another Ted Fritch to come back and speak at S-club banquets!

You'll have to go a long, long way to find another small-college town which is backing their collegiate basketball five as Stevens Point is theirs. Let's not leave it all up to townspeople; it's our team—LET'S ALL BE POINTER BACKERS!!

Intramural Basketball Has Opening Clashes

CSC's intramural basketball season swung into its opening round of play Monday night, Dec. 1 as two teams, representing the National League, clashed head-on in the college gym in four and five o'clock skirmishes.

Nineteen teams, 10 in the National and nine in the American League, will be jockeying for first-place berths throughout the season.

Each league will play one complete round, with the champions of each loop to clash Tuesday, March 16 in the Training School gym to determine the Grand Champion.

The All-Stars reigned as champs over the intramural enthusiasts last season as they walloped the Ramblers, 85-53, in the big finale. The Ghosts captured consolation honors when they squeezed past the Sig Eps by three points in the pre-lim contest.

CSC Hoopsters To Meet Southerners At Milton

Monday, December 7, will see the Pointers in their first of nine games away from home and also their first of three straight contests on foreign courts, as they tangle with Milton in the Milton College gym.

The locals rolled over the visiting down-staters last season by a twenty-point spread, 76-56, with every man on the Pointer bench seeing plenty of action.

Little is known of the strength of this season's Milton basketball five. The hosts have a relatively small home-court, however, and the small school may press the home-floor edge to good advantage. At any rate, the Pointers will have to be on their toes and should be ready to expect just about anything the Southerners are capable of producing.

FTA Council Organizes And Elects New Officers

An FTA (Future Teachers of America) Council, the functioning unit on the campus this year, has been organized and held its first meeting on Nov. 2.

The officers are the same as were elected at the final FTA meeting in the spring of 1953, with the exception of Mary Ann Raschka and Dennis Schrank, who have withdrawn because of other obligations next semester. President is Maryjo Reznicek; vice-president, Bill Kohls; secretary, Charlotte Larson; treasurer, Betty Kuserow. The newly-appointed librarian to replace Mary Ann is Wallace Bohler, and the new press-representative to replace Dennis Schrank is Lois Bogsted.

Other members of the council are Betty Crook, Primary division; Robert Lindholm, Intermediate division; Sally Miller, Rural division; Virginia Brfco and Bernadelle Polivka, Home Economics department.

This group will help set up FTA chapters in high schools within a certain radius of the college if and when their help should be called for. They will keep informed on FTA data and help to knit together more closely the five teacher organizations on the campus.

The meeting time was set for the first Monday of each month at the College Eat Shop. Special meetings may be called if necessary. The next meeting date is Dec. 7.

College Theatre Gives Three Successful Plays

Playing to capacity houses both nights, Central State's College Theatre gave its annual presentation of three one-act plays on November 18 and 19 in the college auditorium. Student directors in charge of the plays were members of Miss Pauline Isaacson's advanced speech classes. The plays were "One Hundred Dollars," "Ile," and "The Pot Boller."

When asked their opinion of the plays, the student directors, Maryjo Reznicek, Gladys Lehmann and Jerry Boettcher, modestly expressed the feeling that the plays were quite successful. All of them commended the cooperation of those who worked on the productions.

Jerry Boettcher, in speaking for the student directors said, "I felt the plays were well-done, and I was very much pleased with the outcome. It was a wonderful experience to be able to produce a play and I really learned the procedure. The fine cooperation of everyone made the production much easier than I had imagined."

As in previous years, students from high schools in the areas were invited to the plays. Those high schools which attended this year's productions were: Weyauwega, with 35 students; Wisconsin Rapids, 20 students; Everest (Rothschild) 35 students; Neokosa, 35; Adams-Friendship, 10; St. Joseph's Academy of Stevens Point, 10; P. J. Jacobs, 45; Athens, 40; Port Edwards, 10; and Bowler, 25.

Among the faculty present were Miss Isabelle Steinhilber, Weyauwega; Miss Harriet Schleich, Wisconsin Rapids; Miss Lou Elynn Titus, Neokosa; Miss Mary Jane Crowns, Port Edwards; Miss Dolores Jones, Bowler; and Miss Sarah Steinberg, Stevens Point.

Following the plays on both nights, the Faculty Public-Relations committee, headed by Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, sponsored a mixer at the Union. The casts and technical crews of the plays mingled with the high school students. Coke, coffee and milk were served as "ice breakers."

Hansen, Kampenga Join Campus Visitation Group

President William C. Hansen and Nellis R. Kampenga, college librarian, were part of a visitation committee which made a visit to the campus of the State Teachers college at St. Cloud, Minnesota, on November 15, 16, and 17. The visitation was under the direction of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, an organization which makes regular visitations to the campuses of schools which are in its membership.

The purpose of this visitation is to keep the schools on their toes and make suggestions for their improvement. This is the same type of visitation as the one which was made to this campus last year.

Mabel Papenfuss, a junior in Letters and Science from Wausau, has had her poem "Autumn Song" accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry. The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college students of America, representing every section of the country.

Tentative Projects For CSC Foresters Discussed

Negotiations are underway to have the Howard (Spring) Creek area of Portage county developed as a Stream improvement demonstration area. If this is agreed upon, the work and supplies for this area will be furnished by the Conservation department of CSC. The area will be supervised by the college Conservation department and the Wisconsin Conservation department.

Man On Second!!

A nice looking gentleman he was, too! Who would ever think it? With his light colored trench coat and dark trousers he was every inch a fine appearing man. But, here the mystery enters. (Pardon me, we mean the man!) If you don't know by now who the mystery man is, well here's the dope. It's the man who burglarized the gals rooms at Nelson Hall a few weeks ago. He made quite a haul for himself too, we hear. In these days of inflationary prices, $50 is not to be sneezed at.

Evidently the man was a sly operator. He appeared through the front door about 5:30 p.m. and wandered nonchalantly down the hall. He was just waiting, he announced to the desk girl. Then while the gals were down at supper he slipped upstairs and took all the money he could find and then left by the back stairway. Several people saw him as he was leaving, and later someone recalled that the same man had been seen near the hall about 5 p.m. looking at the upper windows and taking notes.

P.S. The culprit was never caught!

AKL Busy With Projects

Several projects have been undertaken by the AKL and other conservation men in the past two weeks.

One which is very apparent is the spreading of fertilizer on the campus lawn. The other project was the cutting and selling of red pines for Christmas trees. These trees were cut by voluntary help at the Meehan Forest. Part of the money received for these trees will go to the AKL treasury.

Sigma Tau Delta Has Initiation Ceremony

Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, held its initiation ceremony at the Home Management house Wednesday evening, December 2. Climaxing two and one-half weeks of pledging, Diane Seif, Mabel Papenfuss, and Jane Schultz became members of Sigma Tau in the organization's traditional candlelight ceremony.

President Maryjo Reznicek led in the initiation service. The three new members each received a red rose, the symbol of Sigma Tau, during the ceremony. Everett Moore was pledge-master.
