CSC FACULTY VOTES ON INTEGRATION BILL

At a special faculty meeting, led by Kenneth W. Steiner, the Central State College faculty voted against the integration plan. In the vote taken they were against the integration bill as introduced in the state senate last week by a margin of 39 to 18.

By a vote of 31-17, the faculty bill, which was improved by the following amendments suggested by the executive committee of the Wisconsin State College Faculties association: A. Addition of all those whom the appointment of members to the Faculty Council was for the whole University system.

The faculty bill as finally adopted was favored by a vote of 18 to 11. This third vote was optional and consequently several of the local faculty omitted it in final consideration.

Dr. Edgar P. Fierens, president of the Wisconsin State College Faculties association, reported that he had received from the Board of Association thought that the individuality of the smaller state college would be endangered by the passage of this bill.

However, President William R. Huxford, took a different view in this fact. He said that the autonomy of each college will be enhanced by the passage of the rules made by the board.

Wisconsin Institute of Technology at Platteville would become a part of the University of Wisconsin if this bill is passed.

Each branch of the university system is given the right to choose its own degree.

Warren Beck to Go Talks Today, Friday

Warren Beck, professor at Lawrence college and nationally-known author, will visit Central State College today and Friday to speak on various phases of his latest book, "The Sigma Tau Delta," honorary English fraternity, will serve as special host to him.

Following a Sigma Tau dinner at the College Cafeteria Thursday evening, the noted writer and teacher of English will speak to a group of people especially interested in writing, in the college auditorium. During this period, the program expected to begin about 7:30, Mr. Beck will discuss one of his books, "The Far Whale," and his process of creating it. All students and faculty are especially invited to this meeting.

Mr. Beck is a Big Eye from the Wisconsin Alpha chapter at Lawrence College.

Teachereon offers a vacation

Because of the forty-thousand annual enrollees, the Central Wisconsin Teachers association at Wausau, the students of CSC will have a free day on Friday, March 6. (Thursday will be spent mourning; socks will be worn at half mast).

Members of the faculty who have special assignments at the convention include Mrs. Elizabeth Pfifer, who is on the committee on resolutions; Robert S. Lewis, vice-president of the Audio-Visual Education section and Miss Gertie Hansen, who will speak on "Radios and Tape Recordings" at that sectional meeting.

Some of the things the pledges will be required to work into their manuals as pledge period activities are: to prepare entertaining (invitations, teas, dinners), correct parliamentary procedure, to know the sorority songs and other special sorority procedures, recognition and meaning of the other Greek symbols, etc.

The sorority and Phi Sigma Epsilon pledge will have a pledge period of six weeks while Sigma Phi Epsilon will begin in two weeks. During this time all the pledges will work on the pledge manual program and on individual Greek songs. The Phi Sigma Epsilon groups will begin work on the song manuals for their respective groups.

FAMILIAR FACES

This week's familiar face is that of Oliver Andrews, more commonly known as "the guy who runs the college bookstore." Not only is he familiar with Chemistry as his major, but he is also familiar with the bookstores of Plymouth, Wisconsin, and the college bookstore on campus.

Besides being in charge of the college bookstore, he is interested in athletics of all kinds. He has participated in basketball and baseball and is known to arrive at practice as a fresh man. Interpersonal skills and Sigma honorary fraternity were factors in securing his high on his list of interests.

John Oliver practiced teaching chemistry at the local high school and is often seen walking around with an iron rod.

Home Ec Club Elects Dahn New President

At the February meeting of the Home Ec Club, Dahn O’Brien was elected new president for the current semester and semester were installed. They are: Dahn O’Brien, first vice-president; Debra Newhall, first secretary; and Dahn O’Brien, third president. The election was held on March 9 at 8:15 p.m. in the college auditorium. Mrs. Gartes is to be presented by the Business and Professional Women’s club of Stevens Point.

There are 100 tickets free to students upon presentation of their student passes. The profit from the sale of the tickets may be secured at Mr. Edward’s store and Miss Rhonda Rulison in the main office and Miss Delores Van Ornum in the office. To others the price admission is $1.00.

The "Challies" have been called by reviewers of the book, "an outstanding novel." Most readers of the book will remember the stories that follow, including the adventures of the characters of the book, the Holy Family. This is another of the stories that follow the adventures of the Holy Family, and the characters of the book are also included. The book is a work of art and is recommended to all students.

Modern Dance Group Admits New Members

Orchesis, a modern dance group, has announced the admission of new members to the organization. The new members are: Dorothy Otis, Patricia Glinn, Trudy Schaefer, Ardelle Sosob, and Mary Ann Johnson.

Orchesis meets every Monday night in the college gym at 7 o’clock. Members are working on some dance numbers but have not decided whether to give a recital this spring. They are working hard to prepare for the spring recital scheduled for the spring semester.

CSC Frats and Sororities Herald Opening of Pledging Season

At the new semester—began its course of activities the sororities and fraternities were active. The rush party for Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity was held at the home of Mrs. S. S. Scott Wednesday, February 24, at 8 p.m. Entertainment was provided through movies and a dance that was the highlight of the evening. Jim Wilkinson, president, spoke to the guests and he was assisted in his duties by Deanne Schraub, and his committee consisted of Pat and Bob McMahon.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity entertained prospective members on Sunday, February 22, at an informal smoker at the Platt club house.

The program for the evening included short talks by the president, Frank DeLatour. The faculty advisors, Raymond M. Richtsmeier, Gilbert Marshall, and Bill Specht. Bob Ulleplper showed slides of the 1951 Rose Bowl parade.

Gary Krueger, the rushing chairman, was in charge of arrangements. A formal pledging ceremony and dinner will be held next Sunday evening, March 8.

The Omega Mu Chi rushing party was held at Judy Clayton's home on Friday, February 20, at 7:30 p.m. The theme for the evening was "Trip to Omega Island."

The Omega Mu Chi rushees were entertained by the Omega quartette, Carol Settel, Jackie Lightle, Phyllis Hansen, and Judy Clayton. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Miss Susan Colman, an honorary member, was guest speaker. Favors were given to the girls. Soaps on paper mandelina, tropical flowers for the hair, and leis were given by the rushers. Bowls of fruit, flowers and plants, palm trees, and streamers were decorations for the gala affair. The centerpieces for the table consisted of camellias floating on water in a dark green bowl, with a tall rose candle flanking each side.

"Tourmament of Roses" was the theme of the Tau Upsilon rush party held at the Elvin Winkler home on Sunday evening, February 22, at 7:15 p.m. Bouquets of pink and yellow roses were placed about the room.

The rushers were presented with corsages by the lady hostesses, and they presided over the party as the Court of the Tournament of Roses, as Grand marshal and the event started with a pageant as Mary Ann Smith sang "Only a Rose."

Games appropriate to the theme were introduced and the evening culminated in the crowning ceremony. Mrs. Monika Gill La Fleur, spoke. She is from Stevens Point and graduated in 1947. Other features of the evening was the presentation of an unusual corgie fitter the character of each letterman.

Coaches for the Tournament of Roses were Miss Cecelia Winkler, Mrs. Gladys Van Arsdale and Mrs. Marjorie H. W. Moescher.

There's a big day coming. On Wednesday, March 3, there will be the all-conservation day here at Central State college. Four highly trained specialists from the state conservation department will be on hand with a very valuable information. Besides lecturing, they will bring along plenty of things to see.

Exhibits will be set up in four different rooms and along with the exhibit will be a lecture. Each exhibit and lecture will be on a different phase of conservation. The day's activities will center around the four main branches of the conservation department, namely, game management, forestry, fish management, and law enforcement, which will also stress gun and boat safety.

The stations will be set up in the following manner. Station 1 will be fish management, located in the auditorium, Station 2 will be for forestry, located in the rural assembly, Station 3 will be for police management in room 116. Station 1 will be in the auditorium, with game management as its activity. Station 2 will be in the auditorium, with the law enforcement activity.

The conservation day will be featured by exhibits and informative talks by the state specialists. There will be three conservation days, the first one will be March 3, the second one will be April 1, and the third one will be May 19.
