College Theater Cast

For “My Three Angels”

By Joyce Spencer

Study is not the only center of much activity this past week due to the planning of the 3–act play, “My Three Angels,” which will be directed by Richard C. Blakeman, this December 3 and 4. Monday and Wednesday, and will be held again on Monday, February 21. The hours are 3 to 7:45 and 8 to 9:15.

“My Three Angels” by Sam and Bella Spewack is a comedy adapted from the French play “Trois-Neuf” by Georges Feydeau, presented by the college theater in 1955. The play definitely promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season.

The cast consists of 10 men, three women, and a chorus. The tryouts will be held for the roles of snake or chicken because these have already been cast by Mr. Blakeman.

Tryout dates are Wednesday and Thursday, April 27 and 28. The cast for the college theater will be announced as soon as possible after the tryouts have been completed.

“My Three Angels” is the play that students have been talking about, and read in the Def Theater Journal on January 25. The author of the presentation was given by Jim Stasko, Gladys Lehman, Frank Brocker and Bertha Hoffman. It was supervised by Professor Miss Inaeson.

Another Korean Student Among Registrants Here

The registration at Central State college, which started on January 14, broke attendance record for a student from Korea, brought total enrollment to 224, it was reported by Dr. Quincy Doudna, dean of administration. Chong Nam, a business student from Sungchung-university, Madison, Tenn., who serves in the Korean army, has been admitted. He has been in the United States since August 1949.

Came here by arrangement made between Central State and Sungchung Univ., a high school in South Korea. He transferred from Sungchung in 1952. He was associated with chemistry and was a high school student in Sungchung in the southern high school. He is the sec- ond student from Korea to register, the first student campus, by Syng Ai Lee, from Seoul, Korea, who registered as a freshman.

She also came here through the Korean-American foundation. Other students who contributed to a foreign student fund to pay the student’s tuition fees. Miss Inaeson Choy was expected to be on campus this week to talk with the student. Dr. Doudna said, but did not report the student’s name. He was in December when she wrote that she was delayed. She may not be able to come to campus until the fall term this year, Doudna said.

Cory is not receiving aid from the federal government to help with the cost of his education. In his major in chemistry and here continues education until he receives his doctor’s degree. He will then return to Korea to work as a textile engineer of a textile mill and a member of the city assembly in a city south of Seoul. Cory has been a member of South Korea for an uncle and now is attending college for the purpose of improving the production. They attended the college for three years, incorporated with inter- nal education. Cory is a member of the English "reasonably well." Doudna said.

Cory is learning a new language. He is learning Korean since his arrival in the United States. He is rooming at Detelli Hall.

Coke Parties Planned

Once again, the preliminaries for the annual spring event. Thursday, April 18, will be the occasion of the arrival of the Anta News for three performers.

At 10 Friday morning, and again at 2:30 in the afternoon, these will be the times that the American National Theater association will present the children’s classic “Alice in Wonderland” by Lewis Carroll. This play is expected to be as good as, or better than, the Clader Tree productions, according to the school newspaper. This is the last year that delighted an audience of mixed ages.

These two performances are being sponsored, on a non-profit basis, by the Primary School under the direction of Benita Bloomly, president of the 1955-56 Anta Players. Students who purchase tickets in advance, are expected to be seated at Forte Hall, and the first performance, says President William C. Hansen. These majors will be more likely to be seated, and will be particularly interested. Clee Gilbert and Marie Smuhl, are co-chair- men in charge of ticket sales, and Mary Ann Smith is chairman of the house committee. Dr. Mary Elizabeth Anderson, dean of the Fine Arts.

Friday evening at 8 p.m. the Anta Players will present another play, “The Skin of Our Teeth,” by Thornton Wilder, in the College Theater with Frank Brocker, presi- dent. Students and faculty will be the only people admitted to this performance, with the last change to get them in.

Familial Faces

JUDY CLAYTON

Our pretty blond, blue-eyed family is a helpful and interesting life. To begin — she — we have the benediction of consin. After 12 years, Judy and her family will have given the last year in the field of Colorado. Her college life, of course, tops the height. At the University she has a rolled with CSC and Home Economics and is always satis-ified. As Judy says, hopefully, "I would like to go back to the sport some day if I find time again." Judy is pretty good at a variety of sports.

JUNE BEATY

Two of those who were faithful to the Four Stars of the Thirty-two year will receive a unique face at Ralph "Mick" Sisca. Our Pointer just will not let.size live. We are glad to hear that

FAMILY TREE

The highlight of the year was being the Northwest with 1943, 1944 and 1945, she said, happily. Judy was the Phi Sigma Epsilon candidate for queen of the freshman homecoming court.

FAMILY TREES

As far as the future is concerned, she adds, "I don't know where I'll teach next year. I'd like to get a position in the school, but if I can't,
I just don't know." Judy said...

SUMMERS HAVE BEEN SPENT IN RESORTS

The "summer is a "ba•••" girl at the Minnesota Country club.
In Minnesota's capital, she has was put in as a short order cook in nawaters. This summer's greatest accomplishment was her work at the library or Parkin's store, where she work at the store. You'd really be advised to go and see her.

Outside interests are skiing, swimming, music and art, Judy says. Hopefully, "I'd like to go back to the sport some day if I find time again."

SMALL TOWN GIRL

This modern girl has a very interesting personality. The future years are sure to be the same. "I have a license to drive, and Home Economics is my field. I guess I'll stay for quite a while," she concludes.

RALPH SICING

Besides those who were faithful to the Four Stars of the Thirty-two year will receive the unique face at Ralph "Mick" Sisca. Our Pointer just will not let.size live. We are glad to hear that

Comment on the week: "The faculty must be in the world!"

The convocation committee appears to be happy with the success of the new library and band tour. They will do their share to interest new students in the school.

We are looking forward to the next season of operas. As for the American Association, we can keep them happy with the usual concerts and lectures. In the meantime, let's hope for a good season!"
Next Two Tilts To Decide Pointer Rank

The Pointers' very slim hopes for grabbing of a first division berth in the Wisconsin State college conference ringers on the next two conference games at Platteville on Saturday, February 19 and Milwaukee here, Monday, Feb. 23. The Pointers also have a nonconference game on the St. Norbert Green Knights sandwiched in between the two on Saturday, Feb. 19.

The Platteville Pioneers, champions for the last two seasons, have slipped to sixth place with five wins and four defeats. The Pointers have played up and down ball all year — a far cry from last year's performance. The bigger guns for the Pointers are Larry Marshall, Royce Reeves, and Kraig Vogler, who are in the top ten in conference scoring, all with near 150 points to their credit. The Pointers shot a convincing 85 to 71 win on the Pointers at home, which means little as the Pointers will have heavy competition since and the Pointers have won four.

Little is known about the St. Norbert Green Knights except that they have had a better than average season. They have beat Milwaukee twice and the Pointers by four early in the year. The three have been shopped up and around an equal amount, one consolation, it’s played at home. The Pointers will have four of their starters in the conference game with four wins and four losses. The Pointers will run up against the second highest scorer in the conference in Scott Neset with 172 points and one Wayne Krager, also in the top ten scorers. Gerry Stander is a high scoring guard with plenty of class. The Gals have won only one game away from home and won all but one game on their home floor, which would seem to give the Pointers a psychological advantage on their home court. Milwaukee downed the Pointers at Milwaukee 9-10 this season.

The Pointer’s season record is six wins and 11 losses and the conference record now stands at three and six. They must win the next two conference games or win up dangerously near the cellar.

Quandt’s Cagers

Harland Ware . . . A transfer from Superior state, he has been having an excellent sophomore season. The 5'10” guard from Baraboo is a good ball handler and fine scorer. He is eligible the first semester, butM, playing varsity ball now, after playing for the Cardinals the first eight games.

Phil Cole . . . T 5'9” freshman from Prairie du Chien got off to a slow start due to the football season, but has shown the ability to run the ball behind his foot strength to use under the boards. Much is expected of Ware and Cole after this year’s experience. Ware has great potential on the hard court as well as off.

Jim Boddig . . . Biggest regular on the squad, he has been a standout in gaining much needed experience. For the first time, he is making a name for himself after this year’s experience. He is eligible the second semester and will be one of the team leaders next year.

Coach Quandt has been an excellent young man, he has been quiet and he will be a welcome addition to the team. The freshmen are here. They are the best bets to make a mark here. Coaching sports way, they are Initiating region for the trip. From this section, the team will be here. This is an opportunity to see in his home town. A.KL... . . e . . 12

WANTED:
Student Mailboxes!

DESCRIPTION: Small, compact, inexpensive.

Sought: by every CSC department to relieve needless wandering around trying to locate students for meetings, rehearsals, etc.

PROBABLE HIDEOUT: Any hallway, such as second floor, as they would take up little extra space.

REWARD: A gracious "Thank you" from the Pointer staff and all other CSC organizations.

Fabric for School People:
Once upon a time, the school decided that they must have something heroic to meet the "problems of a new world." So they organized a school.

The adopted an activity curriculum consisting of running, swimming, writing, and the arts. To make it easier to administer the curriculum, all the animals took all the subjects.

The school was a success, in fact better than their instructor, but he made only a passing grade in flying and was very poor in swimming. The principal, in charge of swimming, had to stay after school, and also drop swimming in order to get a practice running. This was kept up until his weight became half-way and he was only an average in swimming - but average was acceptable in school, nobody worried about that except the duck.

The rabbit starred at the top of the class in running, but had a nervous breakdown because of too much make-up in swimming.

The squirrel was excellent in climbing until he developed frustration in the flying class where his teacher made him start from the ground up instead of from the tree-top down. He also developed a "chattie horse" from over exerzation and then got C in climbing and F in running.

The eagle was a problem child and was disciplined severely. In the climbing class he beat all the others to the top of the tree, but insisted on using his own way to get there.

At the end of the year an abnormal- ized feel that could swim exceedingly well and also run, climb, and fly a little had the highest average and was valedictorian.

The prairie dog stayed out of school and forgot the tax levy because the administrators would not add digging and burrowing to the curriculum. They apprenticed their child to a bogger and later joined the groundhogs and gophers to start a successful private school.

Lights Out!
Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is sponsoring a "Lights Out" campaign on our campus to help cut the tremendous lighting costs. They have put up cards to remind the students and faculty to flick the switch when vacating the room. President William C. Hansen and APO alumni hope for campus-wide cooperation in this project.

CWA Elects Officers
Roderick Vangheli was elected presi- dent of the College, Women's Association at a recent meeting of the group. Other officers named were Janet Madison, vice president; De- lores Schinkel, secretary; Jean Ocht- chel, treasurer. Committee names- tively chosen were Mary Bartell, sen- ior; Diane Bloom, Junior; Nancy Ganz- hert, sophmore; Dorothy Cuff and Joyce Schlottman, freshman.

Letter To The Editor
Dear Editor:
Very pleased I was upon reading your nice article about the tropical fish and how to raise them. If you know, or may you don't, have quite a collection of tropical fish here at home. The third floor of my home is full of guitarist and all, poor dear. and I have a big tub of stinging fish in the basement, all alive. The little monsters. Sting rays are such nice pets if you know how to talk to them. I'm sure, that is pretty sure, that if anyone else wants to know more about me, they have, I would be glad to ...

(End Note: The remaining five and one-half pages of this letter have been cut because of limited space. We hope Miss Arachta Crunchwood, the writer, will not be offended, poor dear.)

Dear Earl,
I've written you three extortion notes now and haven't gotten any an- swer yet. What's the matter, can't you read my writing? Please! If you don't get scared pretty soon and come through with the money I'll have to get desperate and write in blood.
Sincerely yours.

Molly Stephey.

Dear Editor,
This is just to tell you how much I appreciate getting your paper every two weeks. You have no idea how much brighter my day to read about the old gang. I sure wish I was back on the campus and could personally say hello to all my old buddies and instructors. Please give them my address and tell them that I'd sure like to hear from any of them that could take time to write to an old alum. Thanks just loads for everything. And be sure and tell everyone to write to me. Gee, I wish I was back with you in body, but my spirit is over with you at CSC. Thanks again.

Name and address illegible.

To Whom It May Concern:
I was extremely disappointed over your exploitation of class in the Mystery Man contest (?). I think you distorted the class to suit your own purpose and if you had ever had even bothered to read my entry, I'm sure you wouldn't have been able to print such a confusing set of solutions as you did. I, of course, am glad now that I wasn't the winner because I wouldn't want my name associated with that contest.

No matter what you say, I still think that great man Orson Grochwith was the Mystery Man.

Disappintedly yours,

Orson Grochwith

Dear Editor,

We don't know if you're in the habit of printing these types of let- ters but, as our organization is quite poor and unable to afford regular ad- vertising, we would appreciate it very much if you would print this letter as a public service.

We are the sole manufacturers of a variety of interesting products that are kept off the markets by the greed of capitalist big businesses. Among these are:

We feed scrap iron to sheep and obtain high grade steel wool.
We mix cleaning fluid with pepsi- cola and then we not only hit the spot, we remove it.
We sell IPB Records. These are short playing records for people who have music.

We would sincerely appreciate any order that you can place from the way. One more favor — please don't let the husband come through with this. If he does see this, They're jealous.

Thank you
Wilbur Krombholz
President

Dear Tufton,

No stuff about wrapping shrunken heads as gifts like you promised? My uncle's birthday was last week and he's wondering why he hasn't gotten a present yet. Get him please.

Yours,

OG
