Songfest Sings Success! Tau Gamma's Third Triumph; Taking Traveling Trophy

It was truly a "Grand Night for Singing." Monday evening, February 21, when CSC presented their third annual concert to a packed auditorium of students, faculty and townspeople. Ruth Ann Charlesworth, President of CWAA, was the mistress of ceremonies for the gala musical evening.

Before the student-produced musical event was presented, Fred Stepanek played several interesting selections on the organ. The Songfest opened with a graceful exhibition of a ballroom dancing by Marcia Shab and Jim Richards to the tunes of "Chasing the Clouds Away." The Peta Beta Philomelia started off with their harmony arrangement of "Let's Have Fun Again" by Omega Xi Alpha's "Perfection Day." The carol was presented by Newman Club's singing of "The First Noel," "My God, My Father," and "It Came Upon The Midnight."

Gala from Nelson Hall clair in their first number "A Lover's Dream," in the dorm, and "Songfest Specials." The choral pen of "In the Still of the Night" and the chorally skilled

Margaret Ann Christ at the piano, led community singing while all in attendance were singing along. The judges were the following:

Patricia Osmundson, Mrs. W. Miller, Bella Nelson and Mrs. Margaret Anderson.

The judges based their decision on ten points for musical performance, five for originality, and five points, stage appearance. Kate Smith was in charge of lighting and Tass Cappas Elfridson acted as master of ceremonies for the enjoyable musical event.

Who's Who Among Us?

- This is the time of year in which a large majority of the nation's colleges make their selections for the College Who's Who. These selections are based on students who have made themselves outstanding throughout their four years at their colleges.
- This year's Who's Who selection is connected to the selection; you merely get your name published in the book "Who's Who in American Colleges," but you must strive to be a worthy student and to have made yourself acknowledged by others at your institute and to have merited having your name included among the elite of our nation's institutions of higher education in an issue of so small prestige, but, most important of all, to be selected as one of the students whose work and achievements at your college have been recognized and appreciated.

We don't know why this award was dropped, but the important thing is that the boys and girls attending CSC are every bit as capable as the students of the rest of the nation's colleges and to withhold the honor of Who's Who is not only to rob the students of deserved acclaim, but also to withhold from the college of its much deserved honor.

We suppose that one of the arguments against such awards is that too many can be chosen and too many cannot too great a problem. In every graduating class there are those that stand head and shoulders above their classmates as far as services rendered during their college careers. Not being named is not going to help you with the worry of the administrators of such an award. The present "Deans' List" is no longer practical for the purpose at hand.

We strongly urge that the "Who's Who" award be again given to those deserving of such accolades here at CSC. The quality of our students reflects on all of us.

GLADYS LEHMANN

By Anne Nordoime

- Everyone knows something about me. There isn't much to hide or tell.

- "And please call me Gladys, I can't stand Gladys. My name is just Gladys." (The name is just Gladys and there is nothing more to it.)

- Please note: "Lehmann is spelled with a "n.""

Always smiling, laughing and bubbling with pep is the description of the girl who has won such wide admiration from the students who know Gladys will agree, that she is the true All-American Girl.

- She is the first to dance.

- Gladys claims Gracie, Wisconsin as her home and she has never heard of it, but there she stayed in "Remien's 591," including me. (I don't know who have ever heard of Gracie, it is.

- szy-wi-est between Point and Eau Claire wearing the white uniform, and sisters - they replied, "Oh, have on your country and your folks."

- I'm afraid you wouldn't trade it for anything. Your younger sister is a Bethel student. She is a great student and she has never heard of being a Bethel student.

Dr. Sachs Reveals Wide Experience In Investigation

A dictionary or a biology major is needed to understand the life history of Dr. Irving Sachs, CSC's new biology professor. For instance — he served as a parasitologist in the Navy during World War II; in other words, he worked on studies of malaria and parasites.

Dr. Sachs has his Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctor's degree from the University of Illinois. He also did seven years of teaching there while working on his doctorate. The list of subjects he taught looks like this: Histology, Advanced Protozoology, Systematics, Cytology, Comparative Embryology, Protozoology and General Zoology.

Then there is the more understandable side of Dr. Sachs. He is a family man with two children. The elementary and high school years of his life were spent in Champaign. When asked why he decided to come to Stevens Point instead of the towns (Stevens Point?), the answer is obvious.

Pointers Lose To Green Knights; Cage Tilt Ends As Season's Fiasco

The CSC Pointers went down to another defeat in view of a large home crowd who werecorded 34-24 lead after half time, but not without a fight. They lost the home run to the Green Knights who won the bruising battle in the last 15 minutes of the game. The Pointers held a 30-19 lead at half time.

In the first minutes of the game, in which the Pointers led all the way, 18 points at one time, the game set a new record. The result was almost an all-out riot. — Orv Koepke. Jim Marko, who also played a beautiful floor game as well as dishing in 11 points, left the game with five personal fouls. Dick Twiska, a big man all night, also left the game soon after. Then the fun began.

Jim Richards played good, steady ball for the entire 40 minutes and wowed up the night with 15 points.

Bugsak, Ritchay and Neja led the Green Knights in scoring with 15, 14 and 14 points.

CSC Cagers Topped In Platteville Tilt

Coach Hae L. Quandt's cagers took another one on the chin Saturday, Feb. 19 at Platteville as the Pointers smothered them, 17-26.

Platteville jumped off to an early 18-8 lead and held leads of 14-2 and 22-9 before the Pointer machine could set rolling. The spark that started the Quadrants rolling was provided by Jim Richards, and the Pointers took a 32-21 lead late in the first half.

The Pointers countered the Pioneers from the field, collecting 26 field goals while the Pioneers only had 24. But Platteville was far more secure from the free throw line and that provided the difference in scoring.

Jim Richards was the leading scorer for the Pointers with 23. But for honor, coach Terry C. Carlen must give credit to diminutive Larry Marshall, who swished the nets with 18 points.

University Jayvess Best College Matem

The Central State College wrestlers dropped a 24-10 meet to the University of Wisconsin junior varsity at the indoor gym in Madison on Saturday, February 19.

Both Terry McLarry and Ken Hurbut plied their men to give the Pointers their only points. Neither man had any trouble in pinning their opponents. McLarry was edging 3-1 when he pinned his opponent early in the third round. Hurbut won his match near the end of the second period.

Don Smith lost a heartbreaker when he was beat on time advantage. This is the second time he has lost by a single point. These are the only two matches which he deprived an of undefeated record.

Dave Harrington added 3-2 in a match to a heavier opponent, and Al Atteo sustained his first loss of the year. A near pin in the first round put Atteo behind and he never recovered.

Terry McMahon and George Weir were plied and Dave Jersey lost by decision. This meet leaves the Pointers with a 4-3 record for the year.

Green Gulls Thwarted In Great CSC Finale

Coach Hae L. Quandt's cagers scored the season's most fantastic feat when they upset a highly tuned Milwaukee state five 83-34. The Pointers jumped off to a quick lead and built up the record against the excellent shooting of Green Knights and the Knights added no more points. The Gulls were not defeated.

The Gulls were never less than 10 points ahead as the visiting Green Knights struggled in the clutch and the local quintet shot with tremendous accuracy. Coach Quandt, who was not pleased with five of whom played all but the re- gional meeting, said his team played his usual tremendous floor game, overpowering the opponents with his Deleting s s and terrorizing Dick Twiska did an outstanding job of rebounding the entire game. John Amburgy showed Richards in scoring with 17 points.

Milwaukee's leading scorers were held down considerably as the Gulls high points pairs had only 7 points. Dietrich and Krueger were fined for their part in the triumph and Fred Nocito, one of the league's top scorers, had only nine tallies.

Pointer Grappers Drop Last Match To Milwaukee CSC cagers maintained an 18-4 defeat from the grappling Green Gulls of Milwaukee Monday night in the P. J. Jacobs gym. The match closed the regular season and brought their season record to five wins and three losses. The State A.A.U. meet at Milwaukee March 4 and 5 will ride the curtain on the 1953-54 season.

Terry McMahon dropped the opening match on a decision but the Pointers avenged the match score then forged ahead 3-0 victories from Don Smith and Terry Carlen from that point on. Milwaukee dominated the action.

George Weir, Dave Jersey, and the Hurbutts all lost on decisions. However, the matches were fast moving and enjoyed by the numerous spectators.
