Students in the senior class will have to take their final examinations as they have been requested by the decision rendered by the Administration. The seniors have requested that some action be taken to prevent the double examinations, especially for those seniors who would not have to return to school after May 11 nor be required to attend final examinations. Ken Hurbilit, president of the senior committee, said that the committee in the form of a three way group, presented its request to the administration. He admitted that they permitted their grades in a period of the end of the semester without taking the final exam; or that final examination dates be set up so that all examinations for would be completed by graduation; or that graduation be postponed until completion of the exams.

Dr. Quinney Denoald, speaking for the committee in denying the request, explained the necessity of taking the examinations, said that it was now too late in the year to postpone examinations, and that it would be too difficult to set up examination dates since few classes were completed entirely of seniors. Dr. Dennis added that, if next year's senior class makes a request early enough, it may be possible to make a more satisfactory arrangement for them.
THE DUKE OF INDIANLORE SHOWS A STEP TOWARD AMERICAN DANCING

By Nancy Hager

We must have the courage to do it! But in the rush and bustle of Monday morning we may easily lose our poise. Our students have been pondering your charge that "Acknowledge the Indians!" I'd have to be an editor and never get to credit. And never to get credit or compare the "DUKE"... TIPS! ENSIGN despised the group he'd taken out for the fishing trip were four members of his group, who had gone home. We hope that the prestige that accompanies such awards may prove beneficial to our students. Reed, secretary, said, "These may feel justly proud for jobs well done."

Gloria W. Suckow

By Anne Stoddard

Gloria says she wants to know if there is a sympathetic response to the request for a change in the examination agenda. In our opinion it doesn't seem as though such a request should be necessary. It would seem not too illegal for the Administration committee to make such a request if they should automatically provide for it. There may be some arrangements that can be made to prevent such a request from occurring.

Miami Mission Magnificent Success

By Mary Braatz

For 21 men, one director, and one other who accompanied the group on its travel, the trip ended on May 3rd. The trip was the culmination of a year's planning, in which Mrs. Laura Kucera of the College of Education was the prime mover. The fund raising campaign was a success, and the group was able to finance their trip to Miami, Florida, where they had been invited to sing for the National Federation of Music Clubs.

After a serene and fatiguing trip to the nation's capital, the group left Washington D.C., and headed for Miami. They arrived there on May 1st, and were welcomed by Mrs. Kucera and a large number of Miami residents. The group spent the next five days singing, touring, and enjoying the beautiful weather of Miami. They sang at several functions, including a recital at the Miami Music Festival, and were well received by the audiences. The trip ended with a concert at the Miami Beach Auditorium, where the group was able to close the trip on a high note.

CSC Instructors Attend Dietetics Convention

May 4 and 5, Fred J. Schmerche- chik's Conservation 174 classes were in LaCrosse on a field trip. Some of the soil conservation students also made the trip. At LaCrosse the group toured the State Experimental Farm, where they observed various techniques of soil conservation. Be- sides four different locations, each of which offers an interesting area to explore, there were also several opportunities to observe different farming methods. The group had a great time and was impressed with the work being done.

Destination reached. The regal Key Biscayne Hotel is dead ahead as the end of a long trip is completed and a fantastic Miami interlude begins.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week saw the annual three day ecology field trip. The group will travel by car to the Menominee Indian Reservation in Michigan, where they will conduct their study.

Their camp will be based at the home of the camp ground. The group will be waiting for the day of the trip to arrive. The day of the trip will be spent in picking oranges and a cigarette in an unwary sleeper's mouth. Wipe sleep from your eyes and try to realize that another long day of riding is ahead. Leaving the comforts of a motel behind, the group will be on a bus trip to Miami. The group will be housed at the famous Key Biscayne Hotel, where they will be entertained by a host of Miami residents.

Tuesday, June 20th

The day began over in Miami with a great deal of excitement. The group was greeted by the regal appearance of Mrs. Kucera, who welcomed them to Miami and introduced them to the city's attractions. The group then proceeded to the Miami Beach Auditorium, where they were able to close the trip on a high note.

September 15, 1954, was a wonderful day for the students of Park High. Once again she excitedly opened her doors to her wonderful students and welcomed the newest members of her ever-growing group. But for at least one part of her student body, school life 1954-55 school year was a sad one. For one, she could not help but miss the perched pleasantly in the middle of the campus, the old library. She knew that after that day, she would be goodbye to her old acquaintances and reliability, and slip into a state of semi-retirement.

Now and then she would be visited by friends who would say, "but it wasn’t quite the same. The old library was always there ever had before and much of this time she would spend going through her old scrapbooks, reliving once a great time in her life.

At night she would dream of aiding more young men and women along the pathway of education. Sometimes she cried a little, but that was only because she knew that somebody would find a job that she could do.

And then one day her prayers were answered. A group of friends came to declare that the north end of her building was to be divided into a geography laboratory and a large classroom able to seat about one hundred people. From what they told her, these were to be made out of her old art rooms on second floor with a new ceiling and a new floor and windows, and that she would have her back to her own wall.

In her center four faculty offices were to be constructed, one of which was to be taken over by the geography department.

She couldn’t help but smile a little. She had an idea of what she could do in the old art rooms on second floor. She had grown attached to that section. It was to remain a classroom, for she had shown a marked distaste for her old geography laboratory and her old art rooms on second floor. These rooms, complete with a new ceiling and a new floor and windows, would be her happy chorus. Via the grapevine were to be some changes made. Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner recently attended two conventions for deans and counselors and spoke on the problem of attaining maximum attendance and the reasons why they might not come. She then recommended two new departments, and what deans and counselors could do to help.

On April 30 she attended the state convention on the university campus at Madison. The same theme was carried out. Mrs. Mabel Gilchrist was guest speaker and spoke on the lamey sections in libraries, why they should be of less importance and the necessity of providing space, and her plan includes any type of educational laboratory, not just the old art rooms on second floor.

One thing is, she was very open. Nobody knows what they’re going to do but it looks like it will be a great addition to the school. She also said it was hard to get old people to move into the old geography department. The room where they split it up was very small, and that the old library had taken over by the geography department.

Hello everyone! Today’s column is for the girls, but several of you fellows may find it interesting too. A famous Paris designer has given her eight-point plan for "What Makes a Woman Chic?" (Milwaukee Journal, Sunday, May 8, 1955). She is Elsa Schiaparelli told her plan included any type of budget. This has often been a question asked by you girls in the past — although the exact phrasing may vary. Miss. Schiaparelli tells us:

Attitudes: A woman is often striking, not by what she wears, but how she wears it. Behavior, demeanor, how you speak to people — even how you call it — counts more than the accessories the woman pays for. How she spends her money. (She says women should dare to spend, be generous, or else they should wear costume looks good on them.)

Clothes Care: Everything is to be worn out in the same costume through the seasons, but you must be careful. If you would smooth out a dress, it would last longer, look better.

Ripped seams should be sewn immediately after you remove them. If you can’t touch up a spot immediately after you wear your clothes, then remove it. Buttons tightened and loose threads removed.

There should be no holes anywhere which is appropriate to her style.

Jewelry: You can change jewelry per­ sonalization to any type of costume.

Belts: Never put a belt around the middle of the body. The heavy button should always be in the back. Never wear a belt that is much greater than the width of your waist.

Shoe: Half a size big than a half dozen of inferior quality. Don’t buy a lot of cheap pieces just because they’re move or cut. It’s the same with shoes.

Purses: Never carry a bag that is a false, jewelry is always fun and can change. The amount of jewelry should be the same. There’s nothing wrong with the cor­ rect amount of costume. You can’t combine for concerts a simple costume, but beware of mixing metals. That never looks good.

Costumes: If you belong to any costume, give a woman that should wear that costume. If she doesn’t, it makes her look very bad.

Dresses: Don’t wear a dress if you can’t carry it — it means that players would have to take a back seat to answer that. They’re true, for the Poins have only lost one game and that was their opener.

"Now a little thinking out loud. Why doesn’t Point take advantage of the fact that they are State Colleges that have baseball and that it would certainly be a real night out for the fans? It could be run in two days (which means that players would have to miss a day of school), Friday and Saturday night. The seniors and juniors could have the duration and the final game nine innings. To make things even more exciting, also something that would give the school some added prestige. Why don’t you drop us line and let us know what you think about it?"

The tracksters have been doing great in basketball, too. Chuck Harrer has been getting some outstanding performances from Bob Brockley and Jerry Drake. With all their points the Poins could be tough in the conference meet.

The cry around the state this past week has been, "What has happened to our Sudsville Huggers. (Milwaukee Journal, Sunday, May 15, 1955). It seems to me it looks somewhat like a cell.

By the way, we understand that the Braves were no better off at St. Louis than we were. Many are starting to settle for a sec­ ond place finish.

If you don’t believe that Brooklyn has a great start, just figure it out. By playing 69 goals for the rest of the season that will still win 104 games, usually more than the toughest win. At present, all that I have been reading, this fight will be good for the World Series. If that is true why have at it? The New York Giants, the Braves are out.

I see that for ten dollars you can bring a carload of people to a Mil­ waukee dance with the Pankow Band. The Mardock-C full fight for the World Series will be played in Milwaukee. I don’t know what the price of the ticket is, but it seems that Brooklyn has a great start.

Now a little thinking out loud. Why don’t you drop us line and let us know what you think about it? If you do, we might say that you’re going to be great in the conference meet.

For games to be played at St. Louis, a couple of the sororities are looking for games to be played at Ironwood Park — at nights.

Contests Slated For Golf, Track, Tennis

Central State's tennis, golf, and track squads travel to Oshkosh Saturday, March 14, to engage in dual meets with their respective opponents.

Coach Alf Harrer's thinclads will attempt to get back on the winning trail, as they have dropped their two previous meets. The Pointers will be without the dependable service of two distance men, Bob Hensler and Ron Porter, who have decided to drop the sport.

The golf and track squads complete their late campaign on Saturday, May 31, when they travel to Milwaukee State Institute for the WSC meet.

The tennis squad completes their regular season Sunday, May 22, when the Michigan Tech netmen visit the Point. Let's hope the spring schedule will be wrapped up in fine fashion.

CSC Trackmen Beat Ripon; Lose One To St. Norberts

The Pointer thinclads came through with an impressive victory over the Ripon Redmen, Saturday, April 30, when they took their hosts to camp, 76-57.

CSC got 19 firsts in all. Tom Brocker's 10.3 second 100 was the meet's fastest time. Bob Karrseboom upset last year's high jumper to eclipse 20 feet as he won the event with a throw of 154-plus feet.

Schoen, Larry Collins, Drake, and Brockley easily overcame the competition to win their respective events.

Mick, all three seconds, and a third.

The golf and track squads continued their undefeated this year by winning their respective meets. Bob Casper and the defeat evened the Pointer's season to the linksmen of St. Norbert's. The team score was 11 to 10, 36-18 in the opener, 6-4, 8-6, 6-4; Ken Johnston beat Norbert's Tennis Match

MOTHERS AT LUNCHEON

The girls of Nelson Hall welcomed their mothers Saturday noon and showed their appreciation of them by giving a mother-daughter luncheon. The meal was served in the cafeteria of Nelson Hall.

Dorothy Gerner, the toast mistress, opened the banquet with a welcome, and the floor to a panel of speakers complete the schedule of summer assembly programs:

"Here is the authentic minstrel—not of the courts and palaces, but of the people in the villages, the countryside, the isolated mountain sanitas."-

"Art is the unique expression of the life experiences of the people, the way they feel about their work, the way they feel about life itself."

"Sleight-of-Hand."

"The Jack Blowers, a piano duo from Milwaukee, will appear on June 22 at 8 p.m., and on July 18 at 11 a.m. Albert De Costa, Metropolitan tenor, will appear. Additional information on these two programs is not available at present, says Dr. Marple.

AKL Meets And Dines
At Annual Smelt Fry

The annual AKL smelt fry held May 4 at the Baylock Park lodge was a highly successful affair, with large quantities of the fish being consumed.

The fry, open only to paid club members, was attended by 39 fellows and the club advisor, Dr. Walter R. Sylvester. Fred J. Schmeeckle was present as a guest.

The menu consisted primarily of smelt and potato salad. Al Curtis was chief cook, and was ably assisted by Hilda Curtiss. The potato salad was secured by Don Page. The usual cleanup work was handled by Tom and Mike Farrell.

A short business meeting, called by President Mike Farrell, was held after the main meal. It was decided that the club would pay the $15.50 expense incurred when 19 conservation department students made the trip to Woodruff on the dead deer survey April 16. It was also brought out that $10 toward this purpose had been donated by Gerbit's Drug Store, leaving a balance of $12 to be paid by the club.

One recent activity of the club has been the purchase of a steel filing cabinet in which all of its important papers will be stored. The cabinet is now located in the outer office of the conservation department.

A letter has been received by Dr. Sylvester from B. H. Popov, biologist of area II, Woodruff, Wisconsin. In it he thanked AKL for sending students up to help with the deer survey saying that because of the additional help a very thorough search was possible.

JACOBS NILES, will appear on July 13 at 8 p.m. Mr. Flemming, whose given name is Paul Flemming Gemin, leads a somewhat double life as an artist, appearing often as the Spalding and Jackets. He dances have been featured in New York and has sceduled numberous broadcasts on the Voice of America program. This tribute was paid Wintlin by the Milwaukee Sentinel:

"When a poet with a sense of humor and deep compassion written of his experiences in Russian prison camps, the result is not depressing but inspiring."

The well known composer and singer of American folk songs, John Jacob Niles, will appear on July 13 at 9 a.m. Mr. Niles received his music education from his father, who was a singer of ballads and a caller of square dances. By the time he was 16, John Jacob Niles started writing down folk music— the ballads his father sang— the Negro spirituals he heard in Louisville's Cabbage Patch. Today he is the only folk-singer who has never used material from any collection but his own. Ronald D. Scotfield of the San Francisco News-Press has this to say of John Jacob Niles:

"Here is the authentic minstrel— not of the courts and palaces, but of the people in the villages, the countryside, the isolated mountain sanctas."

Two other outstanding performers complete the schedule of summer assembly programs:

The Jack Blowers, a piano duo from Milwaukee, will appear on June 22 at 8 p.m., and on July 18 at 11 a.m. Albert De Costa, Metropolitan tenor, will appear. Additional information on these two programs is not available at present, says Dr. Marple.
