

Placement Office Releases List Of 1955 Graduates In Teaching

Dr. Raymond E. Gotham, director of the Central State College placement office, has announced the placements of the 1955 graduates. These students, who will graduate this year, have accepted teaching positions throughout Wisconsin and in various other states.

Following is the list of graduates who have already accepted teaching positions:

Primary:
Nadine Bahr, teaching position, Green Bay; Benita Blomley, Port Edwards; Ruth Charlesworth, Manitowoc; Grace Collins, West Allis; Nancy Court, Waukesha; Luella Cram, Wausau; Ellen Eide, Fort Atkinson; Charlotte Forth, Neenah; Leona Forth, Green Bay; Dorothy Gerner, Madison; Patricia Ann Giese, West Allis; Cleo Gilbert, Woodruff-Arbor Vitae.
Phyllis Hoeft, Portage; Beulah Huettl, Green Bay; Charlene Kabat, Green Bay; Frances Koch, Greeley, Colorado; Arnold Lenius, Racine; Mary McCauley, Milwaukee; Patricia Rickel, Milwaukee; Shirley Sheets, West Allis; Mary Ann Smith, Racine; Gloria Suckow, Wautoma; Joyce Wenzel, Schofield.

Intermediate-Upper Elementary
Billings Collins, Milwaukee; Norman Frenzel, Marinette; Marjorie Gerhard, Neenah; John Gosbee, Green Bay; Lawrence Hoffman, Laona; Carol Holt, Waukesha; Charles Kellogg, Pewaukee; Mary Jean Lehman, Oshkosh; Robert Lindholm, Madison; Delores McLees, Green Bay; Leo Mueller, Milwaukee; Harvey Steffen, Shawano; Lenore Stertz, Wausau; Jeanette Suehring, Wausau; Larry Tylke, Green Bay; Rosella Voigt, Green Bay.
Secondary — Junior and Senior High schools

HOME ECONOMICS
Janet Bergelin, Green Lake; Germaine M. Blaskey, Manawa; Erna Lou Breyman, Clintonville; Virginia Bricco, White Lake; Chloe Brody, Granton; Judith Clayton, Eau Claire; Kathleen Conover, Bonduel; Marjorie

Iris Heads Appointed, Allen, Jeske To Lead Annual Publication

By Pat Sell
Alice Allen, a Secondary division junior, has been appointed by Dr. Clifford A. Morrison, Iris editorial and business adviser, to lead the Iris staff for the coming year. Ted Jeske, a sophomore in Letters and Science, has been named business manager.
The new Iris editor, a Stevens Pointer, has had quite a bit of experience in the "publications field," having served as first editor for the Newman Club "Perspective," as layout editor on this year's Iris, and as feature writer on the Pointer. For a sample of Alice's writing refer to the "Here's How" column in the Pointer.
Alice, however, doesn't confine herself to the school publications. She is a charter member and last year's president of Orchesis, the modern dance group on campus, is active in Newman club, and has been elected next year's president of the Future Teachers of America organization at CSC.
Her sorority is Tau Gamma Beta and she is also a member of the honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta. Miscellaneous jobs like helping on the decoration committee for Dill, Mishicot; Rosmary Polzin, Antigo; Eldora Reineking, Spencer; Phyllis Rickfort, Clintonville; Janice Schroeder, Denmark; Janice Thurston, Eagle River.

CONSERVATION
Kenton Stewart, Wausau.
BIOLOGY
Mary Bartelt, Columbus; Felisa Borja, Afame Sinajana, Guam; Fredrick Stephanek, Columbus.
CHEMISTRY
Edward Kmiotek, Spencer; Leroy Purchatzke, Marion.
GENERAL SCIENCE
Robert Way, Milwaukee.

ENGLISH
Gladys Lehmann, Green Bay (Preble High school); Wayne Salter, Granton; Jane Schultz, Brillion; Diane Seif, Wausau.
GEOGRAPHY
Don Hermann, Wittenberg.

HISTORY
Virjean Drexler, Park Falls; Gerald Foster, Prentice; Lois Langfeldt, Augusta.
MATHEMATICS
Kenneth Hurlbut, Minneapolis, Minn.; Carl Wiemann, Wausau.

Rural Education
Three Year:
Lois Bogsted, Marinette; Joanne Untiedt, Manitowoc.
Two Year:
Mary Lou Ambrosius, East DePere (rural); Eleanor Asenbrenner, Palmyra; Wanda Grottko, Chili (rural); Carol Hansen, Birnamwood; Betty Hoffman, Marion; Henrietta Kizewsk, Marathon; Dorothy Lippe, rural school Marathon County; Roberta Netzel, Marshfield; Eleanor Schram, Phelps; Eleanor Simonson, Birnamwood; Ann Stoleson, Marion; Donna Witte, Waupaca; Darlene Zamzow, Palmyra.

THANK YOU!

The Pointer staff thanks Miss Rita Youmans for the money she sent them for a Monday night treat. Miss Youmans is chairman of the Home Economics department, now on leave to do graduate work at the University of Illinois.

the Prom and taking care of the Tau Gam bulletin board manage to squeeze their way into her tight schedule.

An English major with French and History minors, Alice plans on a teaching career. At times, a doctorate in English appears in the rather hazy future.

Alice's prediction for next year's Iris: "It will be quite different." Pressed further, she replied, "No comment until next spring. I'll be closer to graduation then!"

Ted Jeske, a Three Lakes sophomore, has been appointed to take over the books for the Iris during the coming year. Enrolled in Letters and Science at present, the new Iris Business Manager plans to go into the Secondary division at the beginning of his Junior year. He is working on a double major — History and Geography — and a Social Science minor, which tells us where Ted's main interests lie. Other interests, less profound, but more fun, are swimming, fishing, hunting and tennis. Ted has sung in the Men's Glee club, is a member of Newman club, and is currently working out with the tennis team.

Eat, Drink and Be Merry

At 6:30 this evening many hard-working journalists will forget for a moment their scrolls, pens, notebooks, and aspirin tablets. Instead they will concentrate on a wonderfully delicious chicken dinner. Yes, it's Pointer-Iris banquet time and the scene this year will be "The Antlers" on the shores of Lake Du Bay.

Following the conclusion of the meal staff awards will be presented by the heads of the various departments. Dave Behrendt, composition editor of the Pointer, will be master of ceremonies. Faculty members present will include Miss Bertha Glennon, editorial adviser of the Pointer; Dr. Clifford A. Morrison, Iris editorial adviser; Robert T. Anderson, business adviser of the Pointer; and Raymond E. Specht, who is the photography adviser for both publications. All arrangements for the banquet have been made by Jo Daniel, Iris editor, and Earl Grow, Pointer chieftain.

All those planning to attend and desiring transportation are asked to be at the southeast entrance of the Main Building by 6 o'clock. Anyone able to provide transportation is also requested to meet there.

CSC Alumni Association Schedules Meeting, Picnic

By Joyce Spencer
Plans are being made for the welcoming of CSC's Seniors into the Central State College Alumni association on Saturday, June 4, at Alumni Day activities.
Delzell Hall will be the scene of the annual business meeting at 2 p.m. when returning alums and seniors get together to review the past year's achievements and to plan the program for the coming year.

At 5:30 p.m. all will assemble at Iverson Park for a picnic supper and ball game between members of the senior class and alumni. Bill Golomski, Milwaukee, president of the Alumni association, and Ken Hurlbut, president of the Senior class, will speak at the short program, which will be followed by games.

Mrs. Marjorie Kerst, chairman of the Faculty Alumni committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, executive committee member of the Alumni association, are serving as picnic committee members, and senior members of the committee include Kenneth Hurlbut, chairman, and Carl Wiemann.

A sizeable number of CSC facul-

Photography Display

A display of photographs taken by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht will be on display next week in the Library Theater.
The photographs, of varied subjects, including several prize winning shots, will be on display during the regular library hours and on Graduation Sunday, June 5, from 1 to 5 p.m.
All students and faculty members are invited to view the exhibit.

ty members are alumni of the college, and several are on the faculty alumni committee. They work very closely with the general association in carrying out the policies and program for the year. At present the Alumni association is attempting to set up chapters in the various counties where alumni members live. During the past year, two chapters have been started, in Waupaca and in Marathon Counties, and plans are being made for more as the year progresses.
Faculty Alumni committee members are Mrs. Kerst, Burton R. Pierce, Miss Bertha Glennon, Miss Lulu Kellogg, Miss Vivian Kellogg, Mrs. Phyllis Ravey, Miss Syble Mason, and Mrs. Pfiffner.

U of W President Fred Slated As Main Speaker At Graduation Here

President E. B. Fred of the University of Wisconsin will be the main speaker at the annual commencement exercises to be held in the CSC auditorium on Sunday, June 5, at 2 p.m.

To open the program, the college band, directed by Dr. Hugo D. Marple, will play "Processional" by Schmidt as the graduates march in.

The invocation will be given by Reverend Perry Saito of St. Paul's Methodist church.

President William C. Hansen will follow with a charge to the class of 1955. After this the college choir, under Dr. Marple's direction, will sing "Hear My Prayer" by Mendelssohn, with Barbara Meyer as soloist.

Following the address by President Fred, the college band will play "Chorale and Alleluia" by Hanson.

President Hansen will confer the degrees and present the diplomas to the members of the graduating class, with the candidates being presented to him by the directors of their division. Dr. Quincy Doudna will present the graduates of the Elementary and Rural divisions and Raymond M. Rightsell, the graduates of Letters and Science and of the Secondary division.

Concluding the program, Reverend Saito will pronounce the benediction and the college band will play "March and Procession of Bacchus" from "Sylvia" by Delibes, as a recessional march.

The Service group of the Faculty Wives, with Mrs. John E. Roberts, chairman, is sponsoring a reception for graduates and their families at 4 p.m. in the lounge at Delzell Hall. Punch and cookies will be served and all graduates and their relatives are cordially invited to attend.

The following will receive Bachelor of Science degrees in Secondary Education:

Edward Kmiotek, Junction City; Kenneth Kritz, Mellen; Lois Langfeldt, Loyal; Gladys Lehmann, Granton; Claire Mueller, Plainfield; LeRoy Purchatzke, Weyauwega; Eldora Reineking, Greenwood; Phyllis Rickfort, Dancy; Janice Schroeder, Antigo; Jane Schultz, Antigo; Harold Schumacher, Marathon; Diane Seif, Neillsville; Patricia Sisel Sell, Wisconsin Rapids; Marguerite Smith, Mellen; Fred Stephanek, Tomah; Kenton Stewart, Greenwood; Janice Thurston, Hancock; Robert Way, Stevens Point; Carl Wiemann, La Crosse.

The following will graduate with a degree of Bachelor of Science in the College of Letters and Science:

The following will graduate with Bachelor of Science degrees in Primary Education:

Nadine Bahr, Amherst Junction; Nancy Court, New London; Luella Cram, Stevens Point; Ellen Eide, Granton; Betty Kussow Fairbert, Wittenberg; Charlotte Forth, Rhinelander; Leona Forth, Rhinelander; Dorothy Gerner, Phelps; Patricia Giese, Stevens Point; Cleo Gilbert, Mellen; Phyllis Hoeft, Westfield; Mary Ann Smith, Neillsville; Beulah Huettl, New London; Frances Koch, Port Edwards; Gloria Suckow, Wisconsin Rapids; Delores Thompson Clayton, Waupaca.

The following will graduate with Bachelor of Science degrees in Intermediate-Upper Elementary Education:

Carol Holt, Wisconsin Dells; Mary Jean Lehman, Tigerton; Robert Lindholm, Madison; Harvey Steffen, Wausau; Rosella Voigt, Wausau; Larry Tylke, Medford.

The following will graduate with degrees of Bachelor of Arts in the College of Letters and Science:

Mary Louise Bloczynski, Athens; Lyle Briscoe, Stevens Point; David Matzner, Stevens Point; Mabel Papenfuss, Wausau; Ralph Sluis, Chicago, Illinois; and Ellen Zerneke, Wausau.

The following will graduate with Bachelor of Education degrees in Intermediate-Upper Elementary Education:

John Gosbee, Medford; Lawrence Hoffman, Crandon; Charles Kellogg,

New London; Delores McLees, Medford; Jeanette Suehring, Tigerton.

With Bachelor of Education degrees in Primary Education:

Ruth Ann Charlesworth, New London; Grace Collins, Stevens Point; Alice Hitzke, Wausau; Charlene Kabat, Stevens Point; Arnold Lenius; Watertown; Patricia Malick, Stevens Point; Shirley Sheets, Wisconsin Rapids; and Joyce Wenzel, Wausau.

Lavern Brandt, Rothschild; and Louise Bruneau, Waukegan, Illinois, will graduate with Bachelor of Education degrees in Rural Education.

The following will receive diplomas in the Three Year Rural Education course:

Lois Bogsted, Suring; Darlene Jorgensen, Berlin; Marjorie Schielke, Gleason; and Joanne Untiedt, Curtiss.

The following will receive Two Year Rural diplomas:

From Our President To The Seniors

One might compare the students in a school or college to the customers of a business. However, there is at least one important difference. Most businesses take great pride in pointing to customers who have patronized them for many years, but in college our customers come and go. About the time we become acquainted and have learned to like our customers, they move on.

We may not like to see you leave but neither would we want you to stay. You have new challenges to face, new responsibilities to assume in the work you have chosen. We wish you unlimited success and happiness in whatever you may be called upon to do. Your success reflects credit upon yourself and upon us. We hope you remember us and come back occasionally to visit. We will have a continued interest in your welfare. So congratulations on your success thus far and our best wishes for the future.

William C. Hansen, President

Coming in one year — the 1956 Iris. Here is the person who will be in charge of that future publication, Alice Allen. Gather ye rosebuds while ye may, old deadlines will soon become trying.

THANKS FOR THE MEMORY

This is the time of year for reminiscence. Students look back with pride at credits fulfilled, instructors look back with pride at demands met, and the Pointer also looks back. This is our sixteenth and last issue, an accomplishment that we look back at with no little surprise. All told, about 20,000 Pointers have rolled off the presses this past school year, providing enlightenment for alums, irritation for faculty and scratch paper for students.

Truly this has been a noble experiment. We have tried many things this year in this publication, some of which we would just as soon remember and many others that we would just as soon forget.

This year's Pointer has never fallen below six pages and has many times risen to the heights of eight. (Whoever paid for this, we thank you!) We have run more pictures than previous Pointers, thanks to the efforts of Messrs. Kosmicki, Hopkins, and Specht. We'll admit that some of the pictures weren't too good but when you borrow from the Iris what can you expect? We've tried to inject some humor into the paper periodically and some of you have vigorously questioned our definition of that word humor.

We sponsored a Mystery Man contest that met with overwhelming disinterest, but we enjoyed ourselves. We induced several fictitious people by the names of Beanish, Fritchie, Tichbourne, Osgood, etc. into enrolling here at school and then abused them terribly, for which we humbly apologize.

Editorially, we came out fervently for student mailboxes, and we still think they would be a gift from heaven. We also provided many a subject for a theme when we "unjustly" attacked those able CSC'ers — the suitcase students. Unlike Abou Ben Adhem, may their tribe decrease. We would also like to take credit for the building of the new library, but we can't.

This is also "thank you" time, and we certainly owe plenty to many. We'll just make a general sweeping vote of appreciation to Miss Glennon for keeping us from going off the deep end too many times, to Mr. Anderson for helping us hock tables on which to distribute Pointers, to President Hansen for his unfailing cooperation, to Mrs. Pfiffner for her good advice, to those reliable men at Worzallas, notably George, for assembling the "finished" product, and to every one on the Pointer staff for their indispensable help and patience.

Well, we've gotten ourselves all sentimental and before we get too choked up (lynched) we'll close with a rousing thank you for everyone, from everyone on the Pointer staff down to, and including, the lowliest member (the editor.)

ESG.

FAMILIAR FACES

GINNY BRICCO

By Nancy Hager

"I like people," remarks Virginia Brisco, a native of White Lake. But when one comes from a family of six children, it's a good thing to have such an attribute. This family (or miniature convention) consists of three sisters and two brothers, Ginny being the oldest of the girls. Her sisters include an eleven-year-old and two twenty-year-olds. Two? "That's right," says Ginny. "My twin sisters are quite an addition to the family."

Ginny, a senior and Home Ec major, is looking forward to teaching in her home town. "I can hardly wait," she smiled. "Every time I go in the Home Ec room at my old high school I want to change everything to suit me." Ginny's list of extracurricular activities includes Home Ec club, of which she was president, Tau Gamma Beta, Newman club, and Pointer. A little more personal list is: Brown eyes, brown hair ("That I can't keep short") height — 5'2½", age — 21.

As Ginny puts it, she has approached CSC from every angle. She's lived every direction from school in her four years, except up and down. Presently she resides in an apartment with three other girls, two of whom are also Home Ec majors. Delores McLees, the black sheep of the apartment, feels left out because she is the only one who isn't in Home Ec. "We manage to do most of the cooking," answered Ginny, but Delores gets her share of cleaning to do."

Ginny is also quite a familiar face around the library where she works during the school year. However, the summer finds her employed in Antigo. "But," she adds, "I really like Stevens Point. It's sure been a lot of fun. The last sentence I said without thinking of the trials and tribulations."

Ginny's interests range from playing baseball, to singing, to pounding on the piano (for her own enjoyment). But Ginny says, "I like to do anything that's fun." Perhaps that's why she is commonly seen wherever a good time is to be had or in the midst of a roar of laughter.

When asked what her future crystal ball foretells, she remarked, "I'll wait and see what happens, and if I don't get married I'll work on my master's degree." But the common belief is that Ginny will have a Mrs. before an M.S.

The oddest incident that Ginny recalls about her school years was a physiology experiment that involved four rats. It was an experiment concerning anemia. After putting iron into the rat food, two of the rats turned pink, and one died before the experiment was completed, she hoped of anemia.

"If you think I'm small, you should see my dad," Ginny stated. "It isn't every girl that can look her dad in the eye." Apparently the "Tiny" Briscos have a little trouble being just a size too small. One of Ginny's sisters wants to be an air hostess but finds that she isn't quite tall enough. Perhaps when graduation is over, the space left by Ginny won't amount to much, but her list of achievements will. For it's quality, not quantity, that makes this familiar face.

LEROY PURCHATZKE

By Anne Stoleson

This feature might well be entitled "This Week's Familiar Face, Plus Tag-Alongs." When this interview was being made, not only was the familiar face present but several of his accomplices as well. (Their names are being withheld on the grounds that it might incriminate them!) Dum da dum dum!

The purpose of this feature is to prepare a report about LeRoy Purchatzke, so let's get down to facts:

Born: East Bloomfield in Wau-shara County.

History: Little except attending high school at Weyauwega.

Following that, LeRoy came to CSC for two reasons: first of all, he thought the school looked pretty good, and second, a few of his associates went to the school and their talk was convincing enough for him. So, he entered his years of preparing for future employment. And he suc-

Letters To The Editor

2965 Calle Noguerra
Santa Barbara
California
April 29, 1955

Dear Editor:

Many times I have almost written to tell you how thrilled I am each time the Pointer shows up in our mail-box. It's like getting a long letter from a friend. You and your staff produce a splendid paper, your photography is clear and well reproduced, and the subject matter very meaty.

As you see on the letter heading we have a new address. The District office for South Pacific of the Hardware Mutuals was moved from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara the first week-end of this month. Open House for the public will be held next Wednesday evening.

We live right across the street from a good elementary school and quite near some high mountains. It's nice in the mornings to pull the draperies and look right up the steep sides of them. It's bad for television but nice for grand scenery. The beach is only a couple of miles away but it's been too cold to go down there yet.

We will soon visit the famous old mission, about a mile east of us. It is one of the first Spanish Missions of a chain founded by Father Junipero Serra.

Have a nice summer and don't work too hard.

Leila Tolo
(Mrs. Harold Tolo)

ceeded. His big job next year will be teaching chemistry at Marion, Wisconsin. For a sideline he will coach the Frosh at the high school.

While serving his term he did a lot of little (?) jobs on the side. For example, he worked for a major in chemistry and a minor in mathematics and physics, served in the Men's Glee club for two years, was a charter member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, being their first president after the frat went national, presided over Sigma Zeta, took part in Forum, worked as Soph class president and starred (and we mean starred) in the Sig Episodes.

Interests: Hobbies consist of baseball and furniture building. Some of the furniture, such as a bar in the basement of his home, was not completed.

Pet Peeves are few: people who disturb him at midnight.

Favorites are few, except food. "I'm called the human garbage can by my frat brothers," he explains. Spare time interests are none, because, he says, "I haven't any spare time. The time between studies is spent in the chemistry lab where I was chief bottle washer, but now I'm just putting in my time."

A big time-consuming task is a 250 project for chemistry. The official title is "A Spectro-Determination of Fluorine and Iron in Water." To those of us who can't quite decipher that lingo, it's plainly an analysis of water.

At 200 North Reserve street our hero says, "I like to let the landscape radiate off me." (He likes to sunbathe on his private patio!) Several of his friends from the block seem to inhabit LeRoy's little domain every night. "I live in solitary confinement, but you'd never know it with Al Braun and Wendel Frenzel always present," he says in a resigned voice.

Bodies are of special interest to Mr. Purchatzke. "In the summer I work in a furniture store and funeral home. My most exciting experience was picking up my first body." During school the theme changes to heavenly bodies, of which he likes to take pictures. ("One turned out, too.")

Speaking of exciting things, this week's celebrity was an usher for "the most exclusive wedding in Wisconsin for the past 10 years." This was the Bauer-Strum wedding in Weyauwega. "I have loads of newspaper clippings about it," he confides.

Future: After serving a term of four years at college, LeRoy is now being sent out with loads of good wishes for success in his job.

From Our Senior Class President

In but a few short days our lives at CSC will come to a close. We will be going out into many different walks of life. Yet, as we leave our college we cannot fail to recall the things we have to be thankful for. We are truly grateful to the individuals who made our college days a success. We must realize the many benefits we have gained here at CSC.

Many of us are leaving CSC with mixed emotions. We do not quite know if we should rejoice or shed a few tears now that our formal education here is finished. But regardless of these feelings, our lives here are finished. I am sure that as we go our way in the future, our hearts and thoughts will often return to CSC, our college home.

Kenneth Hurlbut,
Senior Class President.

Cupid Corner

Miss Marjorie Gerhard, a mid-semester graduate of CSC, has recently become engaged to Donald Knapp of Mosinee. Margie, whose hometown is Wausau, is teaching at Neenah.

Ronald Young, a CSC June graduate from Wisconsin Rapids, is engaged to Jo Chapman from Birnamwood. Miss Chapman graduated from CSC last spring.

Joan Neale, a CSC sophomore, will be married to George Krienke, who attended college here, on June 22. Krienke is stationed at the naval base in Coronado, California.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keyser, Zanesville, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jessiemae, to Paul K. Lewis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Lewis, Sr., of Monticello, Ark.

Miss Keyser teaches physical education at Central State college, and Mr. Lewis is a research assistant at the University of Wisconsin, where he is working on his doctorate. The couple plan a June wedding.

The Long, Curved Walk

By Gladys Lehmann

The long, smooth curve of cement swings in through grass, trees, shrubs at Central State college and then swings out. . . .

The lazy smell of autumn eases the lonesome soul. Now the walk that swings in is filled with new shoes — white bucks and smoke-colored saddles. With steps — apprehensive — eager — flippant — the shoes pound the incurving walk.

Days pass, and with their passing comes the gaiety of football. Excited voices cut the crisp air as laughing, singing steps dance on the long, curved walk.

Months pass. High heels click by to teas, concerts, dances. Almost every night the ambling steps — long, heavy masculine, coupled with quick light feminine — lead to the porch of the girls' dorm.

With rushing eagerness comes spring to the long, curved walk. The shrubs sprout intoxicating blossoms, and the lawn suddenly sprouts dreamy couples. Mesh shoes and strap sandals scuff along the curve in the late days of spring to picnics, all kinds, and to banquets, all kinds, too.

Then a lull comes to the curve of cement — a lull of three months — till the flaming leaves herald in the cycle.

Years pass. And in those years, some of the shoes become older — their steps surer. But some of the steps are tired. Six hours of waitress work, three hours of sweeping floors, days of washing dishes, anything to keep the shoes going up that long curved walk.

And some are disappointed. A "D" in chemistry — no date for the prom

— no part in the 3-act play. But most of the steps are gay, young, and memorable.

Memorable. It is winter. Footfalls from snowboots are muffled by the gentle snow. From the biology lab dim lights glitter through the early darkness of the late afternoon, as the mellow sounds of "Glory to God in the Highest" float through the snow-laden air . . . the Girl's Glee club rehearsing in the auditorium.

Memorable — shrieks of laughter over an impossible hopscotch game — the bowing and scraping of quaking pledges — the strong, uniform strides of the frat initiates — "hup — two — three — four!"

Memorable — long hours of rehearsal — gooey make-up and Shakespeare costumes — the electric excitement of opening night — and the final loneliness of the darkened, empty stage.

Then one day it is June, four years after the new white bucks and the homesickness. The walk is filled with shoes — shined black shoes — new white heels. With majestic step, the black-robed procession moves along the curve of cement that swings in, and finally, out. The steps are slow — sure — reluctant — as they travel down the long, curved walk — remembering — remembering — remembering . . .

Faculty Familiar Face

Mr. Herbert R. Steiner
By Ginny Brisco

"Didn't have time to get my hair on straight as yet," our familiar face laughed (as he reached up and adjusted it). (Just couldn't resist that, Mr. Steiner. Please forgive this reporter).

There is no need for further introduction to our faculty familiar face for this week. His good humor and chuckle are well known and remembered on our campus.

Mr. Steiner is a native of Wisconsin. He and Mrs. Steiner have traveled quite extensively, but Mr. Steiner said, "I can say without hesitation that I like Wisconsin best." The Steiners have included most of the United States in their travels. "We've been to the East and West coast and Canada, but the farthest south we've reached, so far, is Virginia. We both enjoy traveling very much," Mr. Steiner commented.

When Central State was Stevens Point Normal, Mr. Steiner was a student here. He has done his graduate work at the University of Wisconsin and at Harvard. When he came to our school as head of the history department, it consisted of two members. "We had only one class in History 116 at that time," Mr. Steiner recalled. "Next fall we will have nine of them. We have added many fine members to our department." Until two years ago, Mr. Steiner was also Dean of Men. "My jobs were just growing too big for me," he said. "I had to make a choice of being

New Station Wagon Made Available For Foresters

By Archie Schmidt

Another substantial gift from the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Foundation of Wisconsin Rapids has made possible the acquisition of another Ford nine-passenger station wagon for the Conservation department here at CSC. The older station wagon the college now has was also given by the Foundation in 1952.

The use of this wagon will make possible and greatly aid field work in the advanced courses in conservation education.

The recently acquired wagon will be used at the Trees for Tomorrow Summer Camp for teachers at Eagle River, in their program of leadership training in conservation.

"The support that industry gives our department is in recognition of the values the department is contributing to the welfare of the state. These include the training of men to serve in the teaching of research education, as well as in other areas of conservation," says Fred J. Schmeeckle, chairman of the Conservation department. "We are grateful to the Consolidated Water Power and Paper Foundation for this wonderful support."

On Tuesday, May 17, Mr. Schmeeckle was at Washington High School, Milwaukee, where he gave a lecture on social and economic aspects of conservation to about 100 students enrolled in the three sections of conservation education which the school has in its curriculum. Much interest in conservation was shown by the students, and several are now planning to enroll in the conservation department here at CSC next fall.

Next year, 1956, is the tenth anniversary of the Conservation department here, as it was established in 1946. Tentative plans call for a reunion of all conservation graduates to be held during the regular Homecoming festivities. The graduates are expected to have discussions on the work, past and present, of the department, and suggestions will be received on how to better the department for its future work.

Dean or staying with history before they put me out of this world. So I chose to stay with history."

Mr. Steiner has moved around in the building quite a bit. "I started out in Mr. Michelsen's old office. From there I was moved to the other end of the building where Mrs. Blodgett now has her office. There I stayed quite a while, but, eventually, moving time came around again, and I went into the "hanging gardens", where Mr. Reppen now reigns. And then, finally, I moved to my present location down in the 'history corner'," he related.

Sports has always been one of his chief interests. "I played football and basketball back in school. My crooked nose is a relic of playing football," he grinned. Mr. Steiner has done a great deal of refereeing. Up until his sons were old enough to be competitors, he refereed in the Valley. "Also I have always enjoyed singing. Mrs. Steiner too, likes to sing. She was first president of the music club here. That was one of our points of contact," he said with a twinkle in his eye.

There are very few things our familiar face is not interested in doing. He likes hunting, fishing, gardening, and reading, to name only a few. "The days are too short," he said.

Mr. Steiner has two sons and one daughter, all married. He also has six grandchildren — the "bestest" in the world.

When Mr. Steiner was in school, fraternities and sororities were not allowed on the campus. "We had literary societies though. We used to have some good debates at our meetings. I remember one time we even debated whether a member of another society should have his hair cut. The decision was 'yes' so we proceeded to go and do so. Our victim objected slightly —, but it was fun," Mr. Steiner recalled, his eyes twinkling with mischief.

Most of the persons Mr. Steiner graduated with are scattered far and wide. He recalls many important names such as Everson, Fromm, May Roach, and —, need more be said?

He is still just as anxious to have our school succeed and grow as it has in the past. "It has grown and has a great future," he said, proudly. "This college has always been most fortunate in its selection of congenial, scholarly staff members who have been responsible in large measure for its progress. The record of achievement of alums from Central State is outstanding.

"It must be awful to teach in a school you don't care for," he said sincerely. "I feel we are very fortunate to have what has always been known as 'the friendly school.' It is like a well-knit family."

Mr. Steiner, we thank you for helping to make it that way.

Men's Glee Club Holds Spring Dinner At Park

Members of the Men's Glee club of Central State college, their director, Norman E. Knutzen, and guests gathered at Iverson park lodge on May 19 for their annual spring dinner.

The club's new officers were installed following the meal. Serving for the next season will be: Elbridge Curtiss, Poynette, president; George Hammersmith, Kennan, librarian; Ben Foltz, Marshfield, corresponding secretary; Richard Spindler, Stevens Point, wardrobe chairman; James Richards, Gresham, business manager.

Four-year gold keys were presented to Roy Hackbart, Poynette, current Glee club president, and Ray Cook, Wisconsin Rapids, secretary, while three-year silver keys went to Kenton Stewart, Wausau, manager of the Miami, Fla., trip, Roger Schneider, Wisconsin Rapids, Irving Hutter, Milton, and Leroy Purchatzke, Weyauwega. Bronze awards went to 18 and freshmen awards were received by 25 members.

Edward J. Plank and Gilbert W. Faust were co-toastmasters of the ceremony, for the event attended by about 75 members and guests.

Mr. Knutzen announced that the club will celebrate its 20th anniversary next fall during the college homecoming activities, Oct. 14, 15 and 16. There will be a banquet on Oct. 14 and a concert on Oct. 16.

The evening was concluded with movies and colored slides of the Miami trip shown by Larry Cook and Curtiss.

HERE'S HOW

by Alice Jean Allen

Hello everybody! As long as this is the last column we'll be pounding out this year, we want to take a few lines to say good-bye to all the seniors. We hope that the graduates all have the very greatest of success, and that they don't forget CSC too soon. We will miss all your smiling faces next fall, but feel confident that you will be out spreading the traditions of Central State around. To all the undergraduates we want to say, "Have a nice summer, and here's hoping to see you next fall!"

Because summer is so near at hand and all thoughts are turning to summer fun, work, and friendships, let's take a few minutes to look at the more serious side of summer past-times — safety. It is very easy to have fun, and even more easy to get reckless. Just try to remember a few of these simple rules so we can welcome you all back next fall!

1. Don't take unnecessary chances in, on, or around the water! If you aren't an excellent swimmer, stay where lifeguards and regulations can keep your fearlessness within bounds. And if you are a good swimmer, you won't swim alone or take risks.

2. Be careful with that car! Even though you may be able to take care of yourself behind that wheel, you have responsibilities. Don't ever take the other driver for granted, and don't break the traffic rules. They are made to help you — and those you meet on the highway.

3. Eat enough, sleep enough, and don't get too much sun. Don't get overtired by racing from the tennis court to the golf course for 18 holes before that evening swim. Enjoy sports, but don't overdo them all in one day.

4. Don't work too hard! Have some fun so that you can return next fall ready and willing to work.

With these four simple rules for summertime, yours truly bows out for the 1954-55 school year. The first rule of etiquette is: If you are going to hurt someone's feelings, embarrass someone, or make someone uneasy, forget the rule that will cause woe! Don't correct someone who introduces people wrong, as it may embarrass him. Don't criticize anyone's behavior about etiquette because it may hurt his feelings. Just try to do things correctly yourself in an unobtrusive manner so he may learn the correct method. This is the only rule you have to remember to get by all right.

Here's to the greatest of summer vacations! 'By now.

Big-Little Sister Program Planned

The College Women's association has announced completion of plans for the Big-Little-Sister program next fall.

Diana and Sandra Bloom will be the co-chairmen of the program. Sally Rose and Bernice Hahn have volunteered to make arrangements for the Big-Little-Sister party to be given during Freshman week.

All girls who are willing to be Big Sisters are asked to sign the Big Sister list found on the various bulletin boards. Be sure to give your summer address.

Getting the feel of a cluttered desk is Ara Sergenian, next year's Pointer business manager. Better get some comfortable shoes for walking, Ara.

Freshman to Sophomore Transition Brings Nostalgia and Anticipation

By Mary Braatz

The end of the first year at college seems to bring out whatever sentimental reminiscences one can squeeze from among the innumerable term papers and brain-twisting tests. The hour that should be spent in scholastic industry becomes just one more mark in the column headed "day-dreaming". And, although the approaching summer has the charm of the rainbow's pot of gold, the combination of misty spring and memory clouds even the profitable glitter beyond the first year college gates.

Do you remember when school started last fall? — how every particle of heavenly moisture condensed itself manfully and treated us to a week-long deluge. Can you recall the agonies of registration? — the hundreds of cards and numbers and schedules and upperclassmen proud of their scars from last year's ordeal and all too eager for you to get yours. Surely you haven't forgotten that first day of classes and the slow-dawning revelation that 8:15 is truly "for the birds." Even if these memories have faded, a vivid word wash is all that is needed to bring them forth again in their full panorama of colors.

Then there were the games and the assemblies, programs for the scrapbooks and experiences for all. And, even if you took your free hours in the Campus Cafe or your athletics from the next Pointer, the feel of it was still there. Homecoming events with Judy on the throne and a prize-winning parade; Christmas with its concerts and caroling; plays and the fun they bring; the

College Credits Offered In Five-Week Workshops

College students interested in conservation or art may earn six credits this summer in five-week workshops in northern Wisconsin.

In the heart of Wisconsin's forest and recreational area at Eagle River another conservation workshop is being offered to a maximum of 42 students. Rustic dormitories and a pine-paneled dining hall make living comfortable and the forest laboratory is only a few feet away. Forest, wild life management, water, and soil are studied by students on field trips and "extracurricular activities" include swimming, fishing, volleyball, badminton, horse shoe pitching, archery, softball, croquet, and table tennis.

Classes begin June 20 and the total cost — room, fees, and board — is $170. Inquiries should be sent to Director Fred Schmeeckle, Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point.

On the northern tip of the Door county peninsula an art workshop begins August 1 for a maximum of 25 students. Six hours of college credit are offered for courses in drawing and painting, and metal work and enameling. Students live in log and rock dormitories and eat in a dining hall to dinner music of the waves of Lake Michigan.

Hikes through the forest, art exhibits, plays by the Peninsula Players, and the Music Festival are extracurricular activities which will consume leisure hours. The total cost of workshop attendance is $180 and inquiries should be sent to Adolph Suppan, Director of Summer Session, Wisconsin State College, Milwaukee 11.

Glee club proving "Where there's a will, there's a way." Living up to old traditions and setting new ones — and you, as a CSC'er, had your share in it all.

As a freshman, you first learned about college classes and teachers. You even tried to guess whether Dr. Pierson would pull a dead Baltimore Oriole or a sheaf of check tests from his white jacket pocket. You gave reports and wrote themes and wondered WHY footnotes had to be an essential part of a term paper. The new library came in for a good deal of useage, what with reference books, library theater, and the atmosphere of knowledge-seeking. While on your round of fun and study, perhaps you met someone who went to the same places you liked to go to and thought about things as you did, and college life switched from a one-way street to a two-lane highway. And, if you didn't there're always three more years to go.

June comes, and tests come, and finally the realization arrives that "freshman" is a word that no longer applies to you. "Sophomore" has a nice ring, however, and the anticipation almost outweighs the nostalgia. The green look has gone — the face of experience has taken over — CSC has done it again!

"Tight Little Island" Ends Theater Schedule

By Bob Way

The last movie in the current series sponsored by the library committee will be shown in the library theater today and Friday at 3:30, 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

"Tight Little Island" is the name of the comedy satire, and it stars Basil Radford and Joan Greenwood. As might be inferred from the title, the theme of the movie, an English one, is liquor and drinking. The story is set on a Hebrides island during the last war, when a shortage of good Scotch whiskey causes gloom and bickering. How the islanders illegally salvage a plentiful supply of Scotch makes a very funny story.

The Christian Century, normally very conservative on the subject of liquor, says about the picture: "You may quarrel with the thesis — that drink brings joy and good — but you cannot deny the entertainment of the humorous characterizations."

Union Hours Announced

The Student Union will close this weekend, according to an announcement from Mark Farris, Union manager. This evening, May 26, will be the last evening the Union will be officially open.

During test week the Union will be open for those wishing to study but the snack bar will be closed. Coke and milk will still be available, however.

Pointer Heads Are Named For 1955-56

Earl Grow, Shawano, will be editor of the Pointer again for at least the first semester next year, and Ara Sergenian, Madison, will be business manager, according to announcement by Miss Bertha Glennon, and Robert T. Anderson, editorial and business advisers, respectively.

Grow, who has been editor-in-chief this year, consented to continue when Dave Behrendt, composition editor, who was slated for the position, decided to transfer to the University of Wisconsin next fall. Also transferring to Wisconsin is Roy Halverson, assistant on the composition staff.

Besides being editor of the Pointer, Grow is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, of which he was president the first semester and of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity. He has been active in dramatics and is a member of CSC's tennis squad. A junior in the secondary division, he is majoring in English and minoring in history and speech.

Sergenian, who has been circulation manager of the Pointer this year is also a junior in the secondary division, majoring in history and minoring in geography and French. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, of Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity and of the Canterbury club. As Pointer business manager he will succeed Dave Jersey, who had the position this year.

Primary Council Members Attend ACE Convention

Several members of Primary Council attended the annual ACE convention at Lake Delton, Wisconsin, on May 14 and 15.

Highlights of the convention were a science field trip to Devil's Lake State Park, the Saturday evening dinner address by Dr. Milton Pella, of the University of Wisconsin, and a talk by Miss Gladys Van Arsdale of Central State College on "My Experience in Thailand."

Attending the convention from this college were Eileen Schieb, Lenore, Gaylord, Gloria Garfield, Frances Koch, Beulah Huettl, Dorothy Gerner, Shirley Hutchings, Bonnie Driscoll, Margaret Whiting, Miss Van Arsdale and Miss Myrtle Jensen.

Judy Johnson Named Teke "Sweetheart"

The local chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity has chosen Judy Johnson as their contestant in the annual Teke Sweetheart Contest.

Judy, whose home town is Milwaukee, is a sophomore in Letters and Science, with a home economics major.

The contestants, chosen from over 115 Teke chapters will not be judged in person, but by a general description and an 8 x 10 glossy photograph.

If elected, Judy will become the "sweetheart" of all the brothers of the Teke chapters.

Home Ec Projects Shown

For the past semester the Home Economics Textiles class, instructed by Miss Emily Wilson, has been busy weaving rugs and other hand-woven projects. A display of this work was arranged last week in the foyer cases of the library entrance, room 203, and the display cases adjoining room 203 in the library. The display was open to the public on Tuesday and Wednesday, 9 to 4, and on Thursday from 9 to 8:30. Included in this display were woven rugs, smaller hand-woven articles, books on the subjects, and various articles of textile interest.

"Pearls" Charm Dancers At Colorful Junior Prom

One hundred forty couples passed under an arch of pink net and strands of pearls Saturday night when they entered the dance floor to attend the annual Central State college junior prom, climaxing social events of the college year.

The theme of the formal dance "String of Pearls" was carried out in the decorations of the P. J. Jacobs High school gymnasium where the dance was held. Huge strands of "pearls" decorated the tide walls. The stage was converted into a cypress garden scene for the crowning of the prom royalty, Wendelin Frenzel, junior class president, and Diana Bloom.

The stage scene included a vine-covered bubbling fountain, with revolving spot, two white pillars and balconies at the sides. White stairs and railing led to the front of the fountain where white metal chairs were placed for the crowning ceremony. Strands of pearls and Spanish moss decorated cypress tree silhouettes, which formed a background.

Pastel-covered tables which edged the dance floor were centered with diffwood, pink net, strands of pearls, and wild roses. The chaperons, guests, and advisers were seated around a white, fern-topped pedestal. The orchestra, which occupied the center of the dance floor was separated from the dancers by potted ferns.

The court of honor was made up of Ken Hurlbut, senior class president, and his fiancée, Marjorie Schmah; Jack Crook, junior vice-president, and Lou Breymann; Sally Rose, junior secretary, and her escort, Charles Schultz; Bob Wyman, junior student council representative, and Marcie Skalski; Paul Zei and Arlene Golomski, junior decorations committee chairman.

Chaperons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Specht, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Sachs and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Pierson.

"Wordsworth" Release Date Is Approaching

The annual outstanding literary work by CSC students is approaching publication.

"Wordsworth" is a book of poems, stories and essays by CSC authors of 1955. These writings are collected and published by Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and will be for sale at 25c per copy.

The "Wordsworth" staff is: Editor, Diane Seif; advertising editor, Felisa Borja; copy editors, Diana Bloom, Wendy Frenzel, Jack Frisch and Frank Brocker; and typists, Jane Schultz and Claire Mueller.

The staff hopes that "Wordsworth" will be here Friday, May 27. Watch for signs.

Gamma Delta, LSA Picnic Held At Iverson Park

Gamma Delta and LSA combined their efforts and held a joint picnic at Iverson Park Thursday evening, May 12.

Members of the two organizations met at Nelson Hall at 5 o'clock and were then transported to the park.

Swinging, riding on the merry-go-round, and teeter-tottering were activities participated in, with the major event being a soft ball game between the girls and boys. Although the boys were confronted with battling left-handed and allowing the girls four outs, they managed to win by a score of 25 to 8.

A delicious picnic lunch was served in the shelter, and second and third helpings were not unusual.

Following the picnic lunch, a short business discussion on conflicts that arise on the meeting nights of the religious organizations was held.

Group singing and playing games closed the picnic program.

Guests at the picnic were: Rev. Herbert Wunderlich of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Mrs. Marjorie Kerst of the Campus school, and Mrs. Virginia Punke of the Rural Demonstration school.

Sororities Hunt "Spoils" At Inter-Group Picnic

Nine groups of girls began scouring the town for items such as "a size twelve shoe", "a 1954 Woman's Home Companion", and "an Esquire Calendar" on the evening of May 17. The girls were members of Omega Mu Chi, Psi Beta Psi, and Tau Gamma Beta sororities, who gathered for an Inter-Sorority scavenger hunt and picnic.

After an hour of hunting and searching, the girls hiked to Iverson Park to turn in the spoils. The rest of the evening was spent eating roasted marshmallows, singing, and playing games. The sorority faculty advisers compiled the scavenger hunt and judged the items brought in.

Committees for the hunt were: food, Fran Koch; scavenger hunt, Cleo Gilbert; and grouping, Jo Daniel.

Omeg Alums Fete Actives

Omega Mu Chi alumnae feted the Omeg actives at a picnic in Iverson Park on May 16.

Games were played and prizes awarded. A lunch consisting of barbecues, potato salad, coke, and Eskimo Pies was served.

Special guests were: Miss Bertha Glennon, Mrs. Charles Cashin, Mrs. Phyllis Ravey, Mrs. Palmer Taylor, Mrs. Earle Kidder, and Mrs. Ray Bourn.

The committee in charge of the picnic consisted of: Mrs. Richard Schwabke, chairman, Miss Joyce Pinkerton, Mrs. Don Larson, Mrs. Howard Hetzer, Mrs. Jack Knope, and Mrs. Eugene Fick. Mrs. Norman Wanta is president of the Omeg Alum association.

Absent Teachers To Return To Campus After Leaves

President William C. Hansen has announced that Mrs. Mary Samter, supervisor in the first grade at the Campus school, who has been on leave of absence to teach classes in elementary education at the University of Wisconsin, will return to CSC next fall to resume her position here.

Miss Rita Youmans of the Home Economics department, on leave this year to do graduate work at the University of Illinois, will also be back in the fall as chairman of the Home Economics department at CSC. Mrs. Lorraine Otte, who has been taking her place this year, will join her husband in Madison.

It is still uncertain whether Burdette W. Eagon, supervisor in the sixth grade of the Campus school, will return here. Mr. Eagon is completing his doctorate at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennessee, and has had a two-year leave of absence from CSC.

"They never laughed at my jokes. I'll really lower the boom!" Our candid cameraman catches a CSC faculty member in the midst of his semester test preparation. Oh well, there's always summer school.

"SO THAT'S WHERE ALL THOSE hits come from," Coach Hale Quandt (left) seems to be saying to Terry Pease (center) while Jerry Boldig looks on. Pease was named honorary captain of Central State's baseball team. He hit .640 this spring. Boldig was a pitcher and is the only senior on the squad.

Letting Out the Air

by Carl Huberty

It is at this time that we would like to review the 1954-55 season of sports here at CSC.

The football squad opened the sports campaign with what Coach Roberts remarked was a "pretty good year." The Pointers finished the season with a 5-2-1 record, which placed them fourth in the Wisconsin State Conference. CSC was only two points away from a conference championship because of two one-point defeats. Roberts figures the '56 squad to be a tougher team, with the experience that numerous freshmen of this year have now had and with the help of some veterans returning from the armed forces. Ken Hurlbut, Carl Wiemann, and Roy Hackbart will be lost due to graduation.

Coach Hale Quandt's basketball squad kept the sports activity rolling and continued to offer the fans exciting action on the hardcourt. The cagers supported a 7-14 season won-lost record which included a conference record good for a fifth place berth. Coach Quandt says, "We had a young team that committed mistakes which could have meant a few more victories, but the past season gave many yearlings the necessary experience and poise needed for a winning team. The boys played good and interesting ball throughout the season."

The Pointers were severely handicapped in midseason with the loss of Ken Roloff and Bobby Haefner. Quandt definitely expects a more winning combination next season with the return of Bob Blomiley, Bob Bostad, and Joe Sanks, and the addition of some outstanding newcomers to the squad.

The wrestling team brought added enjoyment to sports enthusiasts during the winter months of the 54-55 campaign. Coach Roberts' grapplers finished the season with a four won-four loss record. Roberts remarks, "Considering the competition the boys did very well. Many lessons were learned while competing with the tougher opponents and this was a great asset to the boys." Aside from the loss of light-heavyweight Ken Hurlbut, the Pointers are expected to be tough again next season.

The spring sports calendar was featured by the overwhelming success of our newly installed spring sport — baseball. After dropping the opener to LaCrosse, the Pointers went on to win nine straight games. Quandt said, "Considering the first year, they did a tremendous job." Pitcher Jerry Boldig will be the only graduation loss.

Alf Harrer's thinclads supported a 3-2 won-loss record with one of the losses being a second in a triangular meet with Oshkosh and Michigan Tech. Coach Harrer remarked, "There were many individual performances which highlighted the season, one of over-all success." The half-mile man.

John Roberts' third sport of the only graduation loss is Jim Miller, a year, golf, "Did very well considering the lack of experience," he remarked. Their season record was 1-3 including a second in a triangular match. The linksmen started from scratch with no lettermen and they expect the complete squad to return for a more successful '56 season.

The spring sports schedule will officially end Friday, when the tennis men play their last match against Michigan Tech. According to Coach Bernard Wievel the netmen's 1-3 record shows a "mediocre season." Again the factor of inexperience was a big deficit.

CSC's sports of 1954-55 could be summarized in the statement, "Wait 'til next year!" Let's hope the Pointers come through with flying colors in all sports in 55-56.

Here's hoping you've enjoyed the writings in this column the past year, some of which have been a bit "off the line." See you fans next year. Good luck and good sports.

CSC Linksters Place Fourth In State Meet

The golf team of Central State found themselves in fourth place at the completion of the six-team Wisconsin State College conference meet held at Oshkosh on Friday.

It took the Pointers 648 strokes, counting the four best out of five cards, to go around the 36 holes. Oshkosh, paced by Dick Spaulding's 67-67-134, won the championship on a record-breaking performance of 557 strokes.

LaCrosse was runner-up with 590. Then came Whitewater with 629, Point, Milwaukee with 659, and Eau Claire with 767.

Jerry Scheel with 154 and Dave Stark with 155 led the Pointers to their fourth place finish. Stark got his with an 80 and a 75 and Scheel produced his with a 79 and a 75.

The scores of the other Point golfers who were in competition follows: Casper 81-82—163, Martell 87-89—176, and Adams 90-86—176.

Netmen, Tracksters Win; Golfers Take Bad Beating

The Pointers traveled to Oshkosh Saturday, May 14, to compete in dual meets in tennis, track, and golf. CSC returned with triumphs in tennis and track.

The netmen won their first match of the season by a 5-4 margin. In the singles department, John Lewis won easily by 6-0, 6-1 scores and Bill Steinkamp and Paul Schadewald won by forfeits. The Wasserman-Grow combination defeated their doubles opponents by 3-6, 7-5, and 6-4 scores. The other victory came from the Steinkamp-Schadewald combination with 6-1, 6-2 scores.

Alf Harrer's thinclads, led by Bill Ruhsam, trimmed the Titan tracksters by a 70-61 margin. Ruhsam won his specialty, the half-mile, plus winning the mile and two mile with little effort. The Pointers got first in all.

The only defeat of the afternoon was handed to CSC's golf team. The Pointers suffered a 14-1 shellacking despite playing a pretty fair game.

Pointers Cop Third In State Tennis Tourney

Ken Wasserman and Earl Grow combined to give Stevens Point third place in doubles in the Wisconsin State College conference tennis tournament at Milwaukee last Saturday. The one point they garnered enabled the CSC squad to tie for the third place team score with Oshkosh. LaCrosse won the meet with ease as they took first and second place in the singles and first place in the doubles. Milwaukee finished second, while Stout and Whitewater failed to score.

In the singles, John Lewis won his first round match by defeating Dick Johnson of Stout, 6-0, 6-1. He then lost to Bob Potthast the eventual champion. Al Due drew a first round bye and then lost to Peters of Whitewater by identical 6-2 scores.

The Wasserman-Grow combine won their first match from Stout (6-3 and 6-4). They then dropped a marathon match to La Crosse's winning combination of Novak and Hays. The first set was 6-2 and the second set went 12-10 before they succumbed to defeat. In the consolation bracket, they defeated Oshkosh 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.

Coach Bernard Wievel's netter's close their season Friday when they play host to Michigan Tech's team. The meet will start at 10:00 and will be played on the high school and college courts.

CSC Finishes Fourth In Conference Meet

The CSC thinclads wound up in a distant fourth place in the Wisconsin State College conference track meet at Milwaukee last Saturday, but produced some excellent individual efforts.

The Pointers' only first came on Carl Huberty's fine high jump of 6'¼", just falling short of the school record 6'¾". This marked the third year in a row the lanky junior has won the high-jumping event.

Next to Huberty's win in the high jump the best Pointer performance in points came from freshman Dick Cox, who flipped the discus 125' 5½", good for second place. Tom Brockley ran the 440 in a sizzling 50.8 and snapped a 30 year old school record. This was also the fastest Brockley ever whipped off the 440 — the Baraboo freshman's best previous time was 51.6 as a high school senior in the state meet last year. Brockley's efforts brought a third for Point. Sophomore Jerry Drake also established a school record in the broad jump with a leap of 21' 10½" and was also good for third place.

The relay foursome of Jerry Schoen, Larry Collins, Drake and Brockley ripped off the 880 in 1:33.4 for another school record made in '52 and another third place in the meet. Freshman Phil Cole sailed 11'-6", his best in the pole vault, and tied for fourth place. Bill Ruhsam won his heat in the 880 in 2:05.6.

Milwaukee won the championship for the twenty-third time in the 24-year-old history of the event with 91½ points. LaCrosse was second with 69¼ points. Then came River Falls with 26, Point with 19, and Oshkosh with 17¼.

Primary Division Holds Spring Luncheon May 21

Frame Memorial Presbyterian church was the scene of the annual Primary Spring Luncheon held at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 21. A large group of Primary Council members and alums attended the luncheon. Special guests were President and Mrs. William C. Hansen, Dr. and Mrs. Quincy Doudna, Mrs. Elizabeth Pfiffner, Miss Patricia Reilly, Miss Gladys Van Arsdale, Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Miss Margaret Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Nelis Kampenga, Miss Miriam Moser, and Mrs. Phyllis Ravey.

The decorations were based on a "Bluebirds Welcome" theme. The tables were decorated with brightly colored bird houses entwined with flowers and with bluebirds peeking out. Fresh flowers surrounded the other decorations.

Toastmistress, Marie Doro, opened the program by introducing Dr. Doudna as the first guest speaker. Dr. Doudna spoke on the importance of a teacher's considering each child individually as well as considering the welfare of the whole group. Primary Council President Benita Blomley then presented Miss Smith with a gift of appreciation from the girls of Primary Council.

Eileen Schieb was introduced as the President of Primary Council for 1955-56. The girls' sextet composed of Connie Weber, Gloria Suckow, Grace Collins, Claire Mueller, Charlene Kabat, and Ruth Ann Charlesworth, sang three selections, "The Gardner" by Brahms, "The Song of the Brook" by Schubert, and "With a Song in My Heart" by Cole Porter. Patricia Giese accompanied the sextet.

Dorothy Gerner spoke on behalf of the graduating Seniors and emphasized the importance of originality and the ability to solve one's own problems on the job. Mrs. Ravey followed as the alum speaker and gave "A Recipe for Preserving Children". To close the program the freshmen presented a humorous skit called "The Blue Bottle Fly". Nona Martens, Dotty Cuff, and Anne Rohlf acted out the skit and Marlene Hanke served as narrator.

The luncheon committees were as follows: General chairman, Nadine Bahr; place, Roberta Vaughn; program, Grace Collins, chairman, and Charlene Kabat; decorations, Eileen Schieb, chairman, Mary Ann Smith, Cleo Gilbert, and Jan Madison; and invitations, Arnie Lenius, chairman, Jean Getchell, Connie Weber, Ann Zimmerman, Suzanne Monroe, and Rita Lepinski.
