

Malcolm Rosholt To Be Lecturer February 13

Mr. Malcolm Rosholt of Rosholt village will address the student body at Central State College in the Library Theatre on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 13, at 2:30 p.m. on the subject, "Who Speaks For the Wisconsin River Scrolls?" This lecture will be open free to the public. For the past year, at the request of the county board of supervisors, he has been engaged in writing a history of Portage County, one copy of which will be laid in the cornerstone at the dedication of the new county-city building in Stevens Point, the rest to be offered for sale by the county board which holds the copyright to the book.

Ten years ago Mr. Rosholt wrote and published a history of Alban township called Town 25 North which received favorable comment and helped to establish him as a student of local history. Since that time he has translated, from the Norwegian, the most significant chapters and stories appearing in a two-volume book called Fra Indianernes Lande ("From the Land of the Indians") written by Thor Helgeson some 50 years ago on the pioneers of Portage and Waupaca counties. He has not completed the revision of this translation but expects to return to it as soon as the history of Portage County is completed which will be on or before May 1, 1958.

Mr. Rosholt spent several years as a newspaperman in China before World War II and during the war served with the U.S. 14th Air Force under Gen. Claire L. Chennault. He has traveled widely in China, Japan and the southwest Pacific, and at one time made an expedition of 500 miles by camel across the Gobi Desert. In 1949 he visited with the Panchan Lama of Tibet near Kumbum.

Meanwhile, on the occasion of the Wisconsin Centennial in 1948, the speaker launched a campaign to establish a Pioneer Museum at the Rosholt Village Park. With the help of the county board of supervisors, a log cabin, built in 1881, was moved to the park and opened with a display of articles of regional interest. Since that time, a second log cabin has been added to the museum which now has several hundred exhibits together with one of the finest collections of pioneer photographs in northern Wisconsin. The museum is opened to the public each year during the Rosholt Community Free Fair and in the past three years, according to unofficial count, has attracted not less than 8,500 people each year. Mr. Rosholt serves as the director of this project for the fair board.

"All My Sons" Cast Rehearsals Underway

All My Sons, a play written by Arthur Miller has been chosen by Miss Elizabeth Thompson to be presented March 21 and 22.

Rod Justeson was chosen to portray Joe Keller, a man who appears to be outwardly strong but whose inward doubts. These doubts stem mainly from the long absence of his son, who is believed to be a war victim. His wife, Kate Keller, portrayed by Mary Ann Camber, refuses to believe this possible, however, and is looking forward to the return of her boy. Bob Brown is cast as Chris Keller, the son who receives his parents' disfavor at his engagement to Anne Diever, portrayed by Kathy Adams, his missing brother's sweetheart. The plot further develops around the arrest of George Diever, played by Mike Farrell and Joe Keller.

The rest of the cast includes Debby Manke, as Sue Bayliss; Bob Caylor as Dr. Jim Bayliss; Glenn Zipp as Frank Lube; and Jim Dobbs, a Campus Science pupil, as Bert.

Play rehearsals for this production have already begun under the direction of Miss Thompson.

Interested in Med Tech?

Are you interested in pursuing a course leading to the profession of Medical Technologists? You can complete such a course in this college and St. Michael's Hospital. For further information, contact Mr. Epple on the college staff or Dr. Gerald Fox at St. Michael's Hospital. They will be glad to inform any interested students concerning the course.

Men's Glee Club Readys Annual Concert Program

Under the direction of Norman E. Knutzen the Men's Glee Club will present its annual concert Thursday, February 20, at 8:15 in the college auditorium.

The group will sing: "This is My Fathers World", "Hallelujah Amen", "The Omnipotence" with the solo by Nancy Coon; "Give me your Tired, Your Poor, A Winter Lullaby", "The Creation", "Turkey in the Straw", "Silvnight" from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata"; "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again", "Red River Valley", and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A feature of the program will be a piano duet by Mr. Plank and Mr. Faust. Soloists will be Jim Hoffman, Larry Cook, Jim Wright, and Dave Chickering.

Accompanist will be Lee Kerster, with Lolly Schlack and Margaret Christ accompanying the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Alpha Gamma Begins Its Functional Proceedings

On Wednesday, January 9th, Alpha Gamma, an honorary social fraternity recently reorganized on campus, met for the purpose of electing officers. The results of the election were as follows: president, George Hahner; vice president, Bob Priplipp; secretary, Mary Jo Buggs; treasurer, Gloria Radloff; press representative, Neil Greehling.

Another piece of business taken up by the group was the selection of advisors. Dr. Guy Gibson, Garland Fothergill, and Elwin Sigmund were selected by the group to be the three advisors for the year.

The next meeting of Alpha Gamma will be held on Wednesday, February 12th, in room 306. The main purpose of the meeting will be to set up a program and a membership committee.

Righting an Error about Our Science Department

Science and education have become the key words in most American conversations since the launching of space missiles, but on the campus of Central State the advancement of such scientific fields has not been delayed until the need for this phase of education was made apparent. During the past years the science department has developed until it has reached its present status.

This status was recently misconstrued in an Associated Press release which was reprinted in both the Milwaukee Journal and the Pointer of December 19. The Milwaukee Journal, seeking to condense the article, stated:

"Six of eight state supported liberal arts colleges in Wisconsin offer major work in mathematics, chemistry, and natural sciences, the State College Board of Regents reported Thursday.

The two which don't, Stevens Point and Superior, offer minor work."

The impression given readers of this article, concerning courses offered at Stevens Point, was erroneous. At the present time Central State College is offering a 31 semester hour major in mathematics; a chemistry major entailing at least 28 semester hours of study; a biology major, 30 semester hours; and a physics minor of 16 semester hours. In each of these courses extra semester hours are offered, enabling the student to fill his credit requirements with electives.

Enrollment in these courses has been high. College mathematics classes include 441 students, 376 in chemistry, and many more in biology courses. This high enrollment includes many future elementary teachers who receive training under higher than usual requirements in science.

Although a "physical science" major is not presently included in the curriculum, credits in physics and chemistry are available for such a major.

With these facts before the students and faculty of state colleges, and the people of Wisconsin, it is evident that Central State College has every right to be proud of its Science Department.

Notice

A meeting of the entire POINT-ER staff will be held next Monday evening, February 10, at 7 o'clock in Room 208.

All old members and any new students who are interested in journalism are urged to attend, since the announcement of new policy is to be discussed.

From the President:

The Police Department has alerted me to the fact that some of the residents in the college area are complaining about overtime parking on Main Street and other streets where there is a one hour restriction. The Police prefers not to ticket student cars if they can avoid it. They prefer LAW OBSERVANCE rather than law enforcement.

Some cars can be parked on the football field and there is adequate space also north of P. J. Jacobs High School off Sims Avenue, and there is also a good parking strip off Stanley Street where it joins Portage Street directly west of Dellzell Hall. LET'S COOPERATE WITH THE POLICE AND OBSERVE THE PARKING RESTRICTIONS.

Everybody REALLY worked hard during registration this year. The textbook library workers are seen here. Could it be that books ran out even earlier this semester?

AKL Elects and Plans

Alpha Kappa Lambda, Central State College's professional conservation fraternity, held its first meeting of the new semester last Thursday evening.

Officers for the coming year are: president, Ron Keri; vice president, Allan Skinner; secretary, William Sekel; and treasurer, Curtiss Judd. Paul A. Yambert is faculty adviser. During the business session a special projects committee, headed by Norbert Yingling, was formed. One of the projects to be undertaken is the establishment of an AKL Alumni Assn. Following the business meeting several films were shown.

A special "get acquainted" meeting will be held on Feb. 6, at 7:30 p.m. All conservation majors and minors are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Tau Gam Installation

A party and candlelight installation of the new officers of Tau Gamma Beta sorority was held at the home of advisor, Mrs. Robert Lewis. Installed as president was Pauline Answorth; vice president, Karen Beebe; recording secretary, Sue Johnson; corresponding secretary, Donna Sanks; alumni secretary, Diane Baehler. Beth Janke is the new assistant treasurer; press representative is Lila Alard; historian, Sue Mills; Inter-sorority Council representative, Marjo Mathey.

Refreshments were served by the Lewises and Mrs. Kerst, another advisor.

A coffee hour was held in January for all faculty and students with the Tau Gams as hostesses. This was one of the few coffee hours to which the fellows were invited. Many of the faculty and students-fellows included — enjoyed the hospitality of the sorority.

New Camping Rules for Nelson Hall Girls

For past years the residents of Nelson's Hall have been inconvenienced by rather strict camping rules. During this time a girl was campused one night for each minute she remained out after curfew hours, for the first five minutes. Thereafter she was campused one night for each fifteen minutes late.

After many complaints and suggestions, this problem was put before the CWA board and the dorm council, with the following results: A recent will not be campused until she has accumulated a total of fifteen late minutes. No more than five minutes after curfew will be allowed on any one night. If more than five minutes, she will be campused according to the old rules.

CWA Elects Officers

New officers for the College Women's Association have been elected for the coming semester. They are as follows:

Ed Terrill Lauds Good Government at Meeting

The YGOP-CSC Club held its first meeting of the new semester on Wednesday, Jan. 29, 1958, in room 107. The guest speaker was Ed Terrill, who is the Field Director of the Wisconsin Republican Party.

Phyllis Caskey, the President of the group, outlined the events and dates of the meetings for the rest of the semester. There will be seven meetings, which will include events such as movies, parties, banquets, and guest speakers.

A meeting with Governor Thomson is also being arranged.

Miss Caskey appointed Bob Davis temporary secretary until election of officers in May. Other committee appointments made were, program chairman, Anne McLendon; Education chairman, Paul Rassmussen; and campaign chairman, Wayne Schmidt.

The guest speaker, Ed Terrill, gave a very interesting talk. He stressed the good government we have in Wisconsin and what might happen if a man like Gaylor Nelson should become governor. He made four basic points for his statement which are the following: first, Nelson voted for the lobby bill and one week later condemned it saying he didn't understand the bill when he voted for it; second, he attacked the highway fund that he also voted for, but then attacked the auditing of the highway fund books when he learned that the county commissioners liked the measure, only to drop this charge when he found out that the books are audited very closely; third, he condemned the welfare bill, saying that it killed a child in Milwaukee; however, Nelson also voted for this bill. Further, it was proven that this child's father was getting relief, but was spending it on liquor; fourth, he added that Nelson was a Republican when living in a Republican county, but became a Democrat when he moved to Democratic Dane County. Terrill concluded that a man who has two faces politically as Nelson apparently has, would make a poor governor, signing a bill today and then condemning it the next day.

Debate Contest Here

Saturday, February 8, the high school sectional debate contest will be held at Central State College. Represented at the contest will be schools from the La Crosse Oshkosh, and Stevens Point districts. Included are New London, Two Rivers, East Green Bay, West Green Bay, Kaukauna, Kewaunee, La Crosse Central, La Crosse Aquinas, Tomah, Arcadia, Merrill, Wisconsin Rapids, Stevens Point, and Wausau.

Sectional chairman for the debate is Erv Marquardt, professor of speech and history at Wausau Senior High. Judges for the debates have been selected by Mr. Marquardt from schools participating in addition to the judges from CSC.

In the absence of President William C. Hanson, Gordon Haferbecker, Dean of Administration, will give the speech of welcome at the general meeting. A short coffee hour will follow the meeting.

Time keepers for the debate have been selected by Miss Pauline Isaacson from her advanced speech classes. They are Eugene Westphal, Mary Marinack, Francine Townsend, Barbara Williams, June Zielsinski, Karen Beebe, Sharla Giese, Janet Duranec, Glenn Moberg, Nancy Veeva, Donna Mueller, Pat Davis, and Mary Jo Buggs. Carol Jensen and Caryl Erickson are student co-chairmen.

The "A" winners from this sectional contest will compete for state honors on February 21-22 at Madison.

Science Education Crisis Panel Discussion Held

Open to the public Wednesday, Feb. 5, was a panel discussion on "The Crisis in Science Education."

Held in the college library theater, the participants on the panel were community education leaders.

Panelists were Norton E. Masterson, actuary with Hardware Mutuals Insurance Company, who is a member of the state coordinating committee for higher education; Albert Moldenhauer, superintendent of the Stevens Point public schools; Albert C. Harris, CSC associate professor of psychology; and Gilbert Faust, CSC associate professor of chemistry and national recorder-treasurer of Sigma Zeta, honorary science fraternity.

Dr. Roland Trytten, CSC professor of chemistry, served as moderator. Sigma Zeta sponsored the program.

Our Connecticut Yankee Endorses Folk Music

By Dave Roman

Professor Richard "Dick" Blakeslee was born in the city of Camden, Connecticut, in the year 1922. He is now thirty-six years old. The year 1958 marks the fourth full year that he has been an English instructor at Central State College. Formerly, Mr. Blakeslee taught at Northwestern University for four years and graduated from the University of Chicago. Presently he is the father of five children, including two teenage boys and three younger girls. His wife's name is Pat.

His intellectual tastes lie in the field of the 17th and 18th century English literature and literary criticism. He enjoys such leisure activities as reading (covering all fields) and sports. At the University of Chicago he was a 440 track man. As far as non-participating sporting activities, he likes to watch baseball games.

Professor Blakeslee has served his country by being a member of Uncle Sam's Army. He was outfitted in the infantry division and served in actual combat in Germany for three years. While in the Army, he received three battle stars and one presidential citation for outstanding service rendered.

Probably his real love in life is folk music. He became first interested in this while serving his three years in the Army. The other men he met (mostly Southerners) helped spur this avid appreciation for folk music to greater heights. Upon being released from the Army, he began to buy records and go to many folk shows. He maintains that his favorite folk music singer was a man named Leadbelly. In 1948, Mr. Blakeslee wrote his own folk song called "Passing Through," and the Union of Packing Houses used it in their advertising business. Later, he found out, somebody had added more verses to the original song and it became very popular. In his classes of English literature and literary criticism of the 17th and 18th century, he illustrates how well he can sing folk music and also vividly explains the meaning behind folk music. His only regret about the whole subject of folk music is that he claims he never learned to play the guitar as well as he wished.

Mr. Blakeslee likes movies and television when he has a chance to watch them. As far as a favorite meal, well, he states he consumes meat, vegetables, milk, and beer frequently. He explicitly has no desire for eating desserts unless forced to do so.

His affiliations with the school clubs extend to being the advisor of the 550 Club and the Pointer. In 1956, he was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention. He is active in Democratic politics, and claims the reason for this is because he came from a long line of Republicans.

Finally, to the amazement of some students, I'm sure, his teaching philosophy reveals firm belief in the discussion method of teaching with the "open-book" examination.

Our hats off to a fine teacher and friend of the student body, Mr. Blakeslee.

After the "Twilight"

Over 150 couples attended the Inter-sorority Formal last Saturday, February 1, at Pacelli High School. The couples danced to the music of Larry Woodbury and his orchestra from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

The theme "Twilight on the Desert" was carried out with a western theme. The couples danced among silhouettes of cowgirls, cowboys, and cactus. One side of the gym was enclosed with a large mural of a western desert scene. In the center of the floor stood a large, beautifully colored cactus. Couples were served punch throughout the evening from a chuck wagon. The tables were covered with white paper and black silhouettes of couples dancing were in the center of each table. The decorations committee had 2 representatives from each sorority: Nancy Skaltitzky and Monica Woodlarski from Omega Mu Chi; Rita Ristow and Pauline Ainsworth from Tau Gamma Beta; and Lois Merkatoris and Ernie Polhamus from Alpha Sigma Alpha.

The three sororities cooperate in sponsoring this dance. The Omega Mu Chi sorority was in charge of the invitations and guests. The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority was responsible for the orchestra and theme. The Tau Gamma Beta sorority took charge of the tickets and program. At ten o'clock each sorority in turn, Alpha Sigma, Alpha, Omega Mu Chi, and Tau Gamma Beta, formed a circle and sang its song.

Chaperones for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Faust, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wievel and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pierson. The presidents of the three organizations are: Helen Lewis, Omega Mu Chi; Pauline Ainsworth, Tau Gamma Beta; and Allene Grimm, Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Proceeding the dance each sorority held a formal dinner. The Omega Mu Chi held theirs at the Hot Fish Shop. The Tau Gamma Beta held theirs at the Coral Room and the Alpha Sigma Alpha held theirs at the Sky Club.

Teachers All

Of teaching, Thoreau was not too fond:

He much preferred his Walden Pond. Walt Whitman felt so ill at ease. He quit and wrote his famous "Leaves."

And Melville fled the teacher's desk. Pursued the sea and Ahab's quest. Why can't I give in like these? And write some splendid masterpiece?

Tau Gamma Beta Banquet

Tau Gamma Beta sorority held its annual banquet before the Inter-sorority Formal at the Coral Room of the Hot Fish Shop. Approximately 20 Tau Gams and their escorts attended along with faculty guests.

Before dinner a quartet composed of Joyce Schlottman, Sue Mills, Donna Sanks, and Karen Beebe sang "Moments to Remember."

Barbara Blabitch, toastmistress, introduced Pauline Ainsworth, president of Tau Gamma Beta, who welcomed the guests. A resume of the various activities of the sorority members was given by Mrs. Kerst, their advisor. Barbara Stoleson followed with a humorous declamation about "Eloise."

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Yambert who cleverly discussed a very complicated theory of a so-called former professor of his.

To close the program Louanne Simonson and Bill Bucher gave short talks.

Special guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Yambert, Mr. and Mrs. Kerst, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Schuler and Mr. and Mrs. Wievel.

Western Theme Prevails at the Alpha Sig Dinner

On Saturday evening, February 1, Alpha Sigma Alpha held its Inter-sorority dinner at the Sky Club.

Mistress-of-ceremonies, Jan Durancane, introduced the faculty members present. President Allene Grimm extended a welcome to the faculty, advisors, and patronesses, and to the girls and their dates. A note of humor was added to the evening as Evelyn Smyth gave an impression of Inter-sorority from the girl's point of view. The main speaker for the evening was Dr. Frank Crow of the college faculty. The theme of his talk was "As You Journey Through Life, Live by the Way". He emphasized the importance of "living 365 days a year." The program was closed as everyone joined hands while "The Hymn to Alpha Sigma Alpha" was sung.

The theme of the dance, "Twilight on the Desert", was carried out through the table decorations. The favors consisted of place cards depicting a desert sunset. Cactus plants were also on the tables.

Guests at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Frank Crow, Dr. and Mrs. George Dixon, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Specht, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tosser.

Committees for the banquet were: Gloria Richard, general chairman; Rosemary Opiechka, place; Jan Notteman, program; Elaine Eis, chaperones; Barbara Williams, favors; and Suzanne Muck, invitations.

Committees for the dance were: Lois Merkatoris, campfire; Joyce Hannemann, letters; Elaine Eis, table decorations; Marianne Liehl, silhouettes; and Evelyn Smyth, tables.

Roving Reporter By Francine Townsend

Nothing, including semester exams, low grades, and probation, could make the students of CSC lose their sense of humor. When asked the question of the day they give snappy answers, walk off, and then come back looking for this reporter with blood in their eye.

The question: As an outsider, what do you think of the human race?

BOB WAID — Where there's life, there's hope.

LOIS HOLUBETZ — Who's running?

ART WILKE — Rather than cause embarrassment, I decline to comment.

MARIBETH SALVADOR — I'm not being paid to think.

BILL WORTH — Mixed emotions cause great confusion.

JANET SWADER — Who says I'm an outsider?

FRANK CHECK — It's rotten through and through and through and.....

PAT DAVIS — The females are all right but the males are rather uncivilized.

BARBARA FUST — I haven't had enough contacts so I'm not qualified to say.

After hearing these opinions of the human race is there any insider who would care to read the book THEN EASY WAYS TO COMMIT SUICIDE?

FAMILIAR FACES

Jean Gatzke

Jean Gatzke is the girl who almost four years ago came to CSC to prove to her mother and her high school home ec. teacher that she wouldn't like it here, and that college just wasn't for her.

But now Jean admits she really loves it here. A senior home ec. student, Jean is looking forward to her four weeks of practice teaching off campus during April at Omro, near her home town of Berlin. She has already taught the Campus School 7th and 8th grade boys sewing, cooking and first aid; and the Emerson 7th grade girls sewing.

Jean's college activities and honors include being president, vice president and secretary of the Home Ec. Club; secretary-treasurer of the College Club Section of the Wisconsin Home Economics Association; attending many home economics conventions; press representative and member of Gamma Delta; a member of Sigma Zeta, honorary science club; member of Tau Gamma Beta sorority. She also received a $100 scholarship from the Wisconsin Home Ec. Assoc. Jean worked for her room and board at first, and during that time served as the representative of such women on the CWA Board. She then moved to the apartment on Main Street which she presently shares with four others, who call themselves "The Hungry Five!"

Jean's hobby is archery and bow hunting, (that's BOW not beau, as Jean's plans for the future already include a fall wedding!).

With her future built on the sparkling ring of her left hand, and her past record of success, all that remains to be said is "Best wishes, Jean."

Bob Prielpip

With all the interest in rockets at present, Bob "Bilko" Prielpip is asked quite often about his younger brother, Ronald, a senior at D. C. Everest in Schiefel. Ron with five other boys has successfully sent a rocket up one-half mile, but as Bob goes on "they also sent one down — 18 inches into the ground," when a trial run backfired.

The Prielpip family, with their three sons, lives in Rothschild. Bob, a mathematics major with minors in history and German, is in Secondary and practice taught recently at the Campus School and P.J. Jacobs High School. Here in college, he's vice president of the newly organized Alpha Gamma, local social studies society, and a member of Sigma Zeta, national honorary science society. He was a member of the German Club for two years, an important addition to the Pointer staff for three years during which he served as Composition Editor for two of those years. Last year he was junior class treasurer.

A resident of Delzell Hall all four years, except for a brief stay in Bilko Hall, Bob served as vice president of the dorm for two years. Although he became known as "Bilko" and even posed (in uniform) for the 1957 Iris, Bob has not yet had the pleasure of enjoying the joys of military life.

As a Boy Scout and 4-H Club member and leader, Bob has had many honors and wonderful experiences including being a member of the Order of the Arrow, Brotherhood Honor; being an Eagle Scout; giving a demonstration on "How to Remove a Fishhook" at the State Fair in 1953; attending the National 4-H Club Congress in 1953; selected as the outstanding boy Jr. 4-H leader in the state in 1953; and being president and treasurer of the Marathon County 4-H Leaders Federation. At the age of 15 he received the Danforth Foundation citation for youth leadership work.

Bob Prielpip

Bob played football, basketball, baseball and participated in track in high school. He presently officiates at football and basketball games. During his high school days he was class president for three years; annual editor; president, vice president, and secretary of the Student Council; a graduation speaker and received the Schofield Study Club's Annual Scholarship. His second year here at CSC he received a 4-H Fire Prevention and Safety Scholarship and his junior year a May Roach Scholarship.

Bob isn't sure what the future holds for him. Perhaps teaching high school or continuing his education and getting his master's degree. Whatever the future of Bob Prielpip, it is certain to be a successful one.

Ratting with Rufus

At long last the great burden has been lifted, but don't forget to come around to the same station at approximately or ultimately the same time come June of '58. I've heard quite a few gripes that semester tests could just as well be exterminated from our curriculum, but then just think of the fun of cramming we'd miss.

A problem each of us has faced is the fun-filled two days of registration. It surely looked like a good crowd turned out to see the show, but I bet many of them were ready to turn in when they got through. It certainly made my heart bound with joy to be able to stand in the long lines until we finally got through the first door. Then some wise professor asked how many class slips you had; you answered, "one," and he said the rest of the classes are filled. That's gratitude!

They certainly weren't too badly in need of money this semester, especially mine. I had a whole fist full of newly-printed (in fact, wet yet) bright green genuine dough to give them, and then they slammed the door in my face, even though I tried to get under it, and said, "come back some other time." I figured if they didn't want it, I wouldn't give it to anybody. What I can't understand is why there's a great big sign at the door that says "PAY FEES HERE" and then there's not a sole outside the door to take them. Well, I finally got through that Rat-race at 4:29 on Tuesday. With a minute to pick up my books, I bet I got my tail stepped on about 29 times per second. Then none of the proper books were left. Instead I was told to take about 30 different ones to read in the meantime. Nobody wants you to have leisure time!

I thought Medeline would ask me to the Inter-sorority Formal, but when Saturday came and she hadn't I became a girl and asked her. We had a wonderful time except I kept getting picked on the cacti, singed my tail on the silhouette campfire, and kept getting caught in the roulette-OOPS-I mean wagon wheel.

The Sig Eps were nice enough to ask me to be in the Sig Episodes, but I just couldn't find a part to fit my simply unearthly-inhuman, rat-like personality.

Well, so-long! I can be reached at D14-1-2-3 jump if it's important or an emergency.

Mr. Richard C. Blakeslee is pictured above glancing over a shelf of books which have nothing what-so-ever to do with one of his interests, ballads.

FROM THE SIDELINES

The turning point of the season has come for the CSC cagers. They are in a position where they have to win the rest of their games to have a chance at the title. As I am writing this the Milwaukee game has yet to be played. This is the must game for the Pointers. If they can emerge victorious the schedule is in their favor as they only have Oshkosh to face on the road. Then the important last game of the season brings the Platteville Pioneers here to face the Pointers. This is the if game. If the Pointers beat Milwaukee and if they are undefeated going into the Platteville game they have a chance. Then it will be a big if as Stevens Point emerging victorious against the powerful Platteville five. Another if arises then. A Pointer victory over the Pioneers would mean something only if Platteville enters the game in the loss column.

So the rest of the season for the Purple and Gold is a series of if's. The boys can still do it but they'll have to win them all. Of course if Platteville doesn't get a loss it'll be all over and the Pioneers have a powerful enough team to do that but this Wisconsin State College Conference race is unpredictable; anything could happen so it is possible for Platteville to get another loss.

The game that may have killed the Pointers chances was the River Falls game. The Pointers should never have lost to the Falcons.

It seems that, with the exception of the Platteville game, the Pointers have lost only when they have had a fairly bad night in shooting percentage. This was especially true of the St. Cloud and St. Norbert games. The Pointers could stand some improvement from the free throw line as their percentage hasn't been the best in many games.

Well, win or lose, I don't think the CSC student body should be ashamed of the Pointers, as they have given us many exciting moments throughout the year. Here's hoping, Pointers — the ball is yours — do your best.

Platteville Pounds the Pointers to 87-76 Defeat

The cagers of CSC lost their second conference game of the season in a hard fought battle at Platteville, January 25th.

The rebounding ability of the Pioneers was too much for the Pointers as they out-rebounded CSC 58-44. Led by Smedema, Kruschke, and Schroeder. Smedema gathered in 15 and latter two 13. LaVern Luebster was the only Pointer who could keep up with the rangy Pioneer trio, as he gathered in 13.

Dale Schroeder, a 6-3 junior forward, led the Pioneers with 33 points on 14 baskets in 33 attempts with five free throws added. From the opening tipoff he was all over the floor and his long shot artistry was nothing short of brilliance. Without Schroeder in the game the Pioneer eleven point margin wouldn't have meant much.

The Pioneers pulled out to a 16-5 lead but with nine minutes to go in the half the Pointers had closed the gap to 19-18, but Schroeder, guard Don Gruber, and forward Fred Zamzow started and the Pioneers had a 44-31 halftime advantage.

The Pioneers held the same advantage through the early stages of the second half until Sammy Sampson hit on four straight shots to cut the margin to 57-50. With 5:10 remaining, Jack Krull and LaVern Luebster hit to pull the Pointers within 5 points at 73-68.

The Pioneers and Pointers traded baskets during the next minute but then the Pioneers hit for eight straight points to ice the game.

The Pointers lost despite shooting 500 percent in the second half on 19 of 38 and out rebounding the Pioneers 24-22.

Victory Against Great Lakes Training Team

Central State College defeated a powerful Great Lakes Naval Training Center team Friday night 71-70 at the P. J. Jacobs gym on Kestly's free throw with only four seconds remaining in the game.

Both teams hit from the floor at better than 400. The fine work of Jack Krull produced 23 points which was high for both teams. Sampson and Luebster scored 13 points apiece. Gary Hulst led the Great Lakes team with 19 points. The action of the first half saw the teams closely knotted with CSC leading 34-33 at the end of the period. Early in the second half the Pointers attained a 5 point lead, but the Great Lakes crew rallied to lead 41-38. With 10 minutes left to play the Pointers were ahead 55-47, but the Naval team kept pecking away and came within one point of CSC with only a minute remaining. Sampson dropped in a free throw to give CSC a 70-68 lead. Broderick made a quick bucket for the Great Lakes team to tie the score 70-70. Kestly was fouled with four seconds remaining and made his first attempt, missing the second. With one second left Broderick fired a shot from mid-court which missed by only a few inches.

Milwaukee Wins, 91-88

The season virtually ended for the Pointers Monday night as they lost to the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee by a score of 91-88. The Pointers trailed through most of the second half but pulled within one point in the closing minutes before Vincent of Milwaukee dropped in two free throws to make up the winning margin.

Actually Milwaukee won the game from the charity line as they hit on 21 of 25 while the Pointers missed repeatedly.

LaVern Luebster led the Pointer scoring with 12 baskets and 5 of 9 supported with 16 points by Sammy Sampson and 12 each by Jack Krull and LeRoy Sroda. Bill Sekel added 10. Don Kotke did a fine rebounding job to lead the Pointer surge at the end of the game. But the Pointers had too far to come in too short a time.

Ranty's Ramblings

Extended greetings to any new students who happen to glance at this section of the paper, and of course for you old returnees, I don't leave this sanctum of mystery either.

I understand my journalistic talents have been the one example which Mr. Dixon uses for showing gross misquotations. You see, it is actually his dog which was trying to teach him to play chess, not visa-versa. These are not complaints and I do humbly apologize, but there should be a hats off to Mr. Dixon's dog since after Herman's ventures I was able to sneak by another sociology course among courses. This is a cue, gang, actually Mr. Dixon's dog does the evaluating in his courses. After all, who is closer kin to "horse sense" or whatever is used as determiners.

I see everything is back to normal at CSC. Those every half year scares are not good for the well-being. There is just too much material to cover in one night. Anyway, it is gratifying to see that no one is studying again and enjoying every evening playing the mistletoe game at Nelson Hall and tucking Rudy in every morning.

There have been a few comments about the availability of the fairer sex on campus by some males. I wish to assure them that if hunting is bad, I will fix any one up with what will develop into the nicest chick ever seen. In fact, fellows, any of you that find yourself in this situation, let me know and I will, without charge, fix up the first TWELVE guys. This offer is good only to CSC males; Address all letters to Ranty, The Harem Keeper, % The Pointer.

Since the Explorer is up I guess the educational system will be able to survive for another few months.

Until next time, if there be one, don't smile if you have no teeth as it isn't good for the toothpaste manufacturers. Of course one consolation is that you won't have to worry where the yellow went. Or will you?

Medical School Candidates Advised to Take MCAT if Entering School Soon

Candidates for admission to medical school in the fall of 1959 are advised to take the Medical College Admission Test in May. It was announced today by Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test for the Association of American Medical Colleges. These tests, required of applicants by almost every medical college throughout the country, will be given twice during the current calendar year. Candidates taking the May test, however, will be able to furnish scores to institutions in early fall, when many medical colleges begin the selection of their next entering class.

Candidates may take the MCAT on Saturday, May 3, 1958, or on Tuesday, October 28, at administrations to be held at more than 300 local centers in all parts of the country. The Association of American Medical Colleges recommends that candidates for admission to classes starting in the fall of 1959 take the May test.

The MCAT consists of tests of general scholastic ability, a test on understanding of modern science, and an achievement test in science. According to ETS, no special preparation other than a review of science subjects is necessary. All questions are of the objective type.

Copies of the Bulletin of Information (with application form bound in), which gives details of registration and administration, as well as sample questions, are available directly from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey. Completed applications must reach the ETS office by April 19 and October 14, respectively for the May 3 and October 28 administrations.

The Falcons Nipped Us

The River Falls Falcons nipped CSC 67 to 62 Friday, January 17. It was a close game all the way with both teams putting up a stiff defense.

Griff owell, the Falcon's 6-3 center, poured in 27 counters on eleven field goals and five out of six free throws.

Guards Jack Krull and Fritz Kestley led CSC in scoring with 15 points apiece. LaVern Luebster added 12, and Lee Sroda chipped in another 12.

Coach Quandt said that the boys were really battling and that he couldn't ask for any more than that.

SIASEFI NEWS

With the second semester in full swing we notice some gaps in our ranks. To our illustrious comrades who have graduated, we wish Bon Voyage, to those who have left for other reasons, we wish Bon Perage. Life isn't really so bad in the ranks of the proletariat. Siasefi average grade point set a new record.

Our latest communique from Cape Cannibal, Florida, reports that the failure of the Siasefi rocket to blast off on schedule was due to the fact that no one had a dry match. The field team has been holding nightly meetings to determine the precautions necessary to obviate a second occurrence of this nature. The copper tubing problem has been licked, and the Miami Beach fuel tanks gave satisfactory results except for some wicked after-effects on the handlers, these were cleared up completely after several hours of complete rest and quiet. One pint of the final fuel reportedly produced enough energy to keep one 160 pound experimenter off the ground for several hours.

At our last meeting before the great mid-year Armageddon, elections were held with the following results:

President: "Honest" Rich Marko. Vice-president: LeRoy "Behind the Scenes" Bidgood, secretary: Don "T.S. Elliot" Harrington, and treasurer: Jerry "Dave Beck" Kudla. The job of writing this also changed hands. This writer will strive to maintain the high standards of his predecessor, Jerry Kudla.

Plans were made for the gala social event of the year, the Siasefi Snowball. It is to be held at the first opportune time at the first available place.

Immediately after the meeting, the new president set out on a round-the-world tour to check on the international situation first hand and to see about the possibility of opening a new chapter in Bangkok.

One of the first acts of the new administration was a resolution to make the wealth of information contained in the minds of the members available to everyone. Watch the Siasefi bulletin board for the Tip of the Week. Helpful hints on etiquette, personal hygiene, tips to sportsmen, etc., will appear there regularly.

In keeping with this policy, a "do-it-yourself" department is being instituted in this column. Secrets given here will make untold savings possible to the financially hard-pressed student.

For the girls we offer the following perfume recipe: Take one ounce of oil of lavender and bergamot, 1 pint of rectified spirits of wine, 4 cloves bruised. Shake the above well, let it stand a month, then add 2 ounces of distilled water, and 1 scruple of essence of ambergris. This mixture is guaranteed to permeate the atmosphere for hours.

Modern Education Via Classrooms Abroad

Two groups of twenty selected American college students will visit Berlin, Germany and Grenoble, France next summer to study the language, culture, art, and civilization of Germany or France during a six-week stay. Both groups will undergo intensive language training during the boat trip. Graded classes in small sections of six to eight students each under the supervision of native professors will deal with the reading of classical and modern texts, the daily press, publications on contemporary problems, conversation and composition, pronunciation and grammar. Students will also hear lectures on history and meet with outstanding personalities. The Berlin group will have full auditing privileges at the Free University. A large number of courses is also offered at the University of Grenoble, attended during the summer term by over a thousand French and foreign students, and the Americans will be able to participate in all academic and social activities.

Members of Classrooms Abroad will live with German and French families and will have ample opportunity to meet young people from student, religious, and political organizations. They will visit theatres, concerts, movies, operas, museums, libraries, factories, youth organizations, and other points of interest. Berlin, today perhaps the most interesting spot in Europe, also offers opportunities to visit refugee camps, the East Sector, the East Berlin University, and Potsdam. Grenoble, "the city with a mountain at the end of every street," is situated conveniently for excursions into the French and Swiss Alps, the Riviera and other beauty spots. The Berlin stay will be followed by a two-week tour of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, whereas the French group will travel through France, Switzerland, northern Italy, and Belgium.

"We found during the past two summers that it is quite possible, even if you don't know a word of German or French, to learn more than a year's worth of college German or French in the space of a twelve-week summer," says Dr. Hirschbach, Director of Classrooms Abroad, "provided that we get serious and mature students who are willing to mix business with pleasure." Dr. Hirschbach who will head the German group is an assistant professor of German at Clark University and taught at Yale for ten years. The French group will be led by Mr. John K. Simon, member of the French Department at Yale University. Dr. Hirschbach stresses that the program does not aim at superficial impressions or "tourism" but rather at the profounder experience of becoming acquainted with the personality of a city.

Full information on the program and a report on last summer can be obtained by writing to Classrooms Abroad, 18 Auburn Street, Worcester 5, Massachusetts.

Religious Club News

By Pastor Stan Klyve
Trinity Lutheran Church

A great danger of our educational system and of a so-called educated man is the danger of growing lopsided. What I mean is that there is an increased tendency to combine immense knowledge in one field with astounding ignorance in most other fields. A great scholar in history may know nothing whatsoever about the basic insights of modern physics. Whereas a brilliant physicist may be utterly blank when it comes to the ebb and flow of ideas and nations.

It has been said that "We learn more and more about less and less until we eventually know everything about practically nothing." Although we agree that this in general is deplorable, do we realize that it may be tragic in its effect upon the Christian faith of a college student? Often when a student enters college he is walking fairly straight. He doesn't know much about the faith of his Church, but he doesn't know much more about anything else either. He is well balanced, if uninformed.

What happens during the subsequent four years of college and possibly some graduate school? Now he knows a great deal about ichthyology or can explain the difference between epistemology and ontology. He can confront the non-college man with obscure terminology. But he doesn't know anything more about the Christian faith of the Church than when he was the greenest of freshmen. In other words, he has one leg that is mighty long and strong, but his spiritual leg has completely atrophied. Too many so-called educated men have considered their religious faith as an appendix. At one time it may have fulfilled a useful purpose but is now merely a source of irritation and infection. There is no balance in the man who has the "Now I lay me down to sleep" religion of a three-year-old combined with the well-trained understanding of a scientist.

What can be done about this situation?

Students must realize that theology is a subject that is to be studied and that needs as much attention and is fully as important as, for example, trigonometry. There are countless books available that can help you examine your faith and find a real foundation for living. Unless a college student wants to be a mental cripple, he should study (Yes, I said study!) the Holy Bible. To be an educated man is to be a man of large responsibility. You, a student, are trained to be a leader. It's just too bad when the result is a lopsided, limping leader! We are in need of men and women with a strong spiritual foundation to guide us through the confusing days in which we live.

Our greatest cultural lag is not in the realm of technology. It lies in the realm of understanding the spiritual problems that confront man. Here is the area of greatest need — a need for teachers and scientists and economists who understand the Christian faith so profoundly that they can use their knowledge to the glory of God and the good of men. My plea is for this balanced man of education.

Now is the time for you to give your faith an education, too! Be active in your student organizations. Take time to discuss with tolerance the beliefs of others. Read and study this area of life thoroughly. Your life and the lives of others may depend upon it. Make certain that yours is a balanced education, not a lopsided one!

LSA NEWS

Do you enjoy tobogganing on a cool, crisp, winter evening? If you do, LSA'ers, be sure to be present for the meeting on the toboggan slide at Iverson Park on February 13. Watch the bulletin board on second floor for further details.

The past and present officers met with the advisors at the church January 30. Some stimulating topics are being planned for discussions at future meetings so why not plan to attend meetings regularly?

New officers are meeting Tuesday evening to appoint committees. If you are appointed, please try to carry out your responsibilities and if it is not possible, please notify Judy Ungrodt or Jon Kleiber.

Newman Club

The Newman began its activities for the second semester last night with a meeting of the executive board.

Next Thursday evening, February 13, the club will hold one of its regular meetings at the Pacelli High School cafeteria. For the exact time watch the Newman Club bulletin board on second floor. The main business of the meeting will be the election of Miss Newmanite. The dollar dues for the second semester will also be collected at the meeting.

Miss Newmanite will reign as Valentine's Queen at the annual KC — Newman Club dinner and dance, which will be held on Sunday, February 16. She will also be CSC's candidate for national Miss Newmanite at the National Newman Club convention next summer.

All Catholic students are urged to attend these activities and become an active Newmanite.

GAMMA DELTA NEWS

At the January 9 meeting, a forward look was made into next semester. Number one among the coming activities is our participation in the Lakes Region's Project to raise funds for the Concordia Seminary in Nagercoil, India and the new preparatory school in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Everyone will be working hard on this project to help our fellow students in other parts of the world to have better educational facilities.

Second semester officers for Gamma Delta were elected at the January 30 meeting. They were installed in a candlelight ceremony at the same meeting.

Elected as president was Wayne Schmidt. Vice president is Lynn Thalsdorf, while Anne Hanson is secretary, Marilyn Roth is treasurer, and Jane Trappe is press reporter.

Jan Nottelman was selected as chapter projects chairman. Ann Zimmerman will assist her as co-chairman.

Many of the members are looking forward to the Lakes Region Winter Camp, which is scheduled for February 14-16 at Houghton, Michigan. Winter sports, fun, and fellowship comprise the program for that weekend. Many of the state and private college chapters will be in attendance.

New York, U.S. Dramatic Center Visited by 8 CSC Travelers — What a Ball!

During vacation between semesters, seven CSC students and Dr. Pauline Isaacson visited New York City. The students who took the trip were Barbara Bowen, Pat Pronz, Jane Pichette, Mary Jo Buggs, Ken Wanserski, Tom Gruman, and John Lueck.

When the students gathered in Milwaukee, they found out that, because of the heavy snowfall, all flights were cancelled. They finally decided to take a train to Chicago and try to get on a morning flight to New York. They got tickets on a mid-morning plane and sat all night at the airport waiting. Many cups of coffee were consumed!

But, at last, they were on their way. They landed in New York in mid-afternoon.

The main activity of the stay in New York was play-going. Not everyone went to the same plays, so collectively they saw a total of 13 plays. Some of the group saw "As you Like It" and "The Brothers Karamazov" which are off Broadway. Broadway plays that they saw are "Look Homeward, Angel," "Long Days Journey into Night," "Nude with Violin," "Time Remembered," with Helen Hayes, "Garden District," "The Rope Dancers," "New Girl in Town" which is enjoying its third year on Broadway, "The Music Man," "Look Back in Anger," "Two for the Seesaw," and "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

After "Long Days Journey into Night," the students were able to go back stage and talk with Frederick March who starred in the play. Mr. March is from Racine. He talked with the group about the play which has been playing for about 56 weeks.

Another high-light of the trip was a visit to the training school of the American Theater Wing. The dramatics class they saw was under the direction of Uta Hagen who has been in movies and has been prominent on the stage. Miss Hagen is also a native of Wisconsin.

The days were spent shopping and sight seeing. Some of the places they visited were the Museum of Modern Art, the United Nations, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Empire State Building, Washington Square, Greenwich Village, Central Park, and Radio City Music Hall.

Barbara and Mary Jo report that they spent much of their time lost. They even got lost in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. No matter which way they turned, they seemed to end up in a room displaying arms and armor. Finally a guard who probably understood their predicament, politely showed them their way to the stairs to the next floor. From there they managed to find their way out of the building.

The others in the group also had their share of "misshape." They arrived at the Staten Island Ferry docks just as the last ferry pulled away.

Despite, and perhaps partly because of such "goings-on", all seven of the students agree that a better time could scarcely have been had.

Ode to English

I've spoke American for quite some time

And always tho't I was doing fine. Never had trouble talking to folks And some egen understood my jokes. Got along fine with all kinds and types

From poor to rich I even gripes. Made some friends wherever I went And they figured out what I meant. Then came the day I went to college Tho't I could get a bit of knowledge. I was trying hard and doing my best Then came that damn diagnostic test. I sweated it out and I almost quit. My participle dangled and my infinitive split.

My grammar was bad, my spelling poor.

But my punctuation really made 'em sore.

I finished the course — it was no fun.

I feel sorry for students in 101.

But I'm happy now, I'm all through. Now, what the hell is this? 102?
