Saturday, May 16, is the night for everyone to come and dance to the music of Harold Ferron at the Junior Prom. Past Proms included 16% of the eligible voters cast ballots in the April 30 election. The race for senior class president drew 25% of this year’s juniors to the polls. In that contest, Norm Domn’s name appeared on the last ballot counted and that gave him a 28 to 27 win over Jerry Bower. Norm is the second man in a row to be elected to succeed himself for class president, as Annie Tschirle did last year.

Also on the senior ballot, Jerry Woodward won the vice-president’s post by tying seven write-in votes. Hein were elected without opposition for council representative.

Two candidates on the junior class ballot attracted 18% of that class as Chuck Ross secured himself the job of class president. He, Jon Schup­pert, and Joyce Thorson were among the candidates who were unsecured.

Jon was elected vice-president and Joyce is the new treasurer. In a contest for secretary Judy Engrodt best Janice Johnson, Maxine Albee, and the writer, and Joe Miller and Dave Ra­ser to earn the right to represent her class on the student council.

Nine per cent of the freshman class turned out to elect officers for next year. When it was all over, the present slate of officers was re-elected with one exception — Bernard Schackow took the student council position unopposed. He was the only name that appeared on the ballot as the freshman class didn’t come up with a full list of nominees. Twenty different people received votes for president and Bill O’Gara with a total of 16 votes will succeed himself.

Jim Benbow won re-election for student council president. Of the write-ins, 41% of the vote was tallied. Joyce did get more support than Gary Goddard for the man of the office of the junior class, and Beth Janke took the women’s portion without a contest. Paul Becht became another one of those unopposed student council­­ president. Let’s hope that some day this office and the others be­come elected by the students so that they can spare a few seconds to vote.

Emerson — On Circles
Reflections on the Elections

From the results of the elections held April 30, it is reasonable to conclude that the CSC voting pattern again ran true to form. Approximately 175 ballots were cast of about 1275 which were possible!
The election of the Homecoming queen last fall seemed to indicate that the student body might have awakened and finally taken an interest in their school activities. Actually it only showed that the student body will participate when somebody subjects them to a great deal of self-government, such as was undoubtedly provided by the inter-sorority council, which helped to bring about the good turnout for the election. Now, when the students are on their own, they seem to be uninterested.

But many of these same students who failed to vote — probably the same ones who failed to participate in school activities all year long — will criticize when their class activities, student council, or student union board don’t accomplish what these people want. They will find that the faculty supervision the students do not have enough voice in their student government. These same students ought to try to show enough interest and ability in student activities to convince the faculty they need supervision.

The Students’ Voice

In the last meeting of the student council, the council voted to deny an extension of time to the representatives of the Indianapolis News Agency of North America. They were not able to send the material in time for that meeting. The council then decided to accept the letter from V. Lee Cassady’s bid to continue the insurance program for another year. We have gotten excellent cooperation from the Murat-DeRidder agency here in Stevens Point and that service will continue. This program should really pique more student support than it does now.

Why do you think of that election? If you’re disgusted with the turnout you’re one of the many who feel that way but if you helped create that lousy showing you’re one of the many more.

But we agreed that talking about apathy is not going to solve anything. Recently we have seen apathy with respect to town meetings, with respect to the library, and with respect to the student vote. We commented on the Speaker were well-written headlines, good make-up, plus zest, and fine picture and news coverage.

The Peter Pumpers

The Peter Pumpers must have chosen their name with discretion, for the editions they feature all cost $1 or 90c at Book shop reduction. I have a pile of the little volumes on the typing table beside me, and they encompass a variety of material. Ideal bedside reading, all of them. Ideal graduation gift giving. And some of them are special gift.

One of these is "Comic Epitaphs ... from the Very Best Old Gradeyards." Any collection of epitaphs is bound to contain delightful proverbs, even in the funeral vitality, but this is especially vivid. As proof, let me quote one of my favorites:

Harry B. Hurlburt

Aunt Hannah Proctor, who pumped but didn’t
Call the doctor;
She couldn’t stay afloat
One and one who considerate book publishers could easily remedy. I cannot endure a book which is of good quality but is subversive on my stomach, and they encompass a variety of material. Ideal bedside reading, all of them. Ideal graduation gift giving. And some of them are special gift.

One peevish from whom

Of course, there are several volumes on the same subject. (For the time being I ignore the enormous selection in the field of cooking — reading a Peter Pumpers cookbook somehow heightens the health of inactivity.) There’s a nice introduction to Zen Buddhism, with stories to guide the wary reader into the subject. There’s also the standards like the "Bhagavad Gita" and "Buddha's Bowls" of good editions with block-print-type illustrations to lift them above the ordinary. One of my favorites of the series is "Bicchuit Heine" and his "Bitterweeter Poems" in translation. Here’s a sample.

The next time a song of the old croaker be me to me:

A May night warned the boughs
When the light showed up the linen tree
And snow once:

We awore and swore between blises, caresses
Through curled garlands of silent love;

But just when I thought how fany is success,
You hit your band against the barrier;

O sweetheart, with the eyes so bright,
That was a bit excessive.
That was a bit excessive.

Honesty, can you think of anything more appropriate for a gift to a June graduate?

Wishes Fulfilled En Masse
New Union Offers Snacks, Games, Dances, Banquet Space, Lounges

Stop! Look! Listen! Yes, not only this but — Eat! Play! Study! Dance! Did you know this is not a dream anymore? Where else but in our new beautiful union building will you truly find all these activities under one roof?

On the ground floor there is a snack bar open daily for short orders, coffee, cards, and conversation. Then there are two snack-meeting rooms for use by groups up to twenty wishing to have coffee together. The colorful game rooms will provide facilities for billiards, ping pong, and music listening. There is also an area off the snack bar for dancing and another room for making posters, woodworking, and other activities. No play area would be complete without a game center and a general information booth issuing game equipment, keys, cards, records, and selling tickets. For those interested in photography, there is a dark room open to qualified persons, besides a publication’s dark room for use by the Iris and Pointer.

Proceeding to the first floor you will see a cafeteria for use by persons holding meal tickets and also open to guests wishing to purchase a meal. One end of this room may be used as two semi-private dining rooms for banquets or groups wishing to eat together. At noon it will be used tentatively for the faculty dining room. The cafeteria area is designed for use in the evening for dances and parties. The Union office will serve as a center for reservations, music, and food service.

A highlight of the second floor is the beautiful, spacious main lounge, filled with light, comfortable furniture, for reading, talk, or just relaxing. The room may also be used for receptions and teas. Offices tentatively scheduled for the Pointer, Iris, Inter-Fraternity and Inter-Sorority are located here, besides a conference room and lounge. The two large meeting rooms will hold up to sixty persons each and with the dividing doors there are four rooms holding thirty each. Another feature of the Union is the food service pantry.

With its vivid shades of red, yellow, and green, plus all its big windows, this Union represents a dream fulfilled. Although it will not be completed in time for an open house this semester, it will be in operation during the summer, as a “break-in” period, and will be open to all in the fall.
Enthusiasts Applaud Annual Spring Concert
Miss Eastwood and Mr. Jaeckel Solo

Those who attended the CSC Band's Spring Concert, Wednesday, April 29, showed their appreciation in loud applause for a fine performance.

The flute solo in "Concertino," was rendered by Susan Eastwood. Miss Eastwood is a senior here at CSC. She began studying piano at the age of six in Chicago. Since then she has studied in Stevens Point, Wausau, Duluth and also spent two years at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, where she minored in voice and organ. In 1954 she played "Mozart Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in D minor" with the Wausau orchestra. During August and September of 1957, Messa toured Germany and Austria as a member of a youth chorister of Rochester, New York. This summer she will be director for "a Christian Ministry in the National Parks" in Grand Teton Park. In the future Miss Eastwood plans to return to Eastman for a Master of Music Degree.

The following intermission, the band played "Montmartre March," Haydn Wood; "Arabesques," Paul Jean Jean; "Symphonic Songs for Band," Robert Russell Bennett; "Sussex Psalm," Russell R. Howard, and "Relax! Rhumba," Paul Yoder. Music major, Wayne Jaeckel, played the clarinet solo for "Arabesques." Wayne began his music training in the sixth grade with piano lessons which he discontinued after high school until the time that he entered CSC. In the seventh grade he began studying the oboe. During high school he also studied on the clarinet and saxophone. For two years after high school Wayne played saxophone and clarinet with Franz Pfeifer, a travelling band from New Ulm, Minnesota. When he was in the Army, Wayne played oboe and clarinet with the 31st Division Band at Columbus, South Carolina, and the 31st Division Dance Band. This dance band was a fifteen piece group that was flown to New York City three times to make TV show appearances at Rockefeller Plaza. After three years in service, Wayne worked as pianist-player with the Billy Bishop orchestra, a semi-name band from Chicago. After two years with this band, he entered Central State. In 1954 he received an organ scholarship from Alpha Kappa Rho for two semesters of pipe organ study. Also in 1958, he received a cash award from Alpha Kappa Rho for "outstanding progress in applied music." This June, Wayne will enter Michigan State University at Lansing to begin work on his Master's Degree in Music.

The band is presenting two concerts this spring. A "pop" concert will be given May 24.

Sophomores and Guests Gather for Picnic Fun
About fifty students, and faculty members — Dr. and Mrs. Lee A. Burton, Jr. and Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson — gathered at Bukolt Park Saturday, May 2, for the Sophomore Class picnic and dance. Food was, of course, the center of attention. The picnic was held in a secluded corner of the park, out of reach of buzzing bees. Food was eaten quickly, the picnickers excitedly discussing plans and activities for the remainder of the summer. Many students enjoyed the picnic, and the band played a lively selection of music to add to the merriment of the occasion.

Another talented senior major from Stevens Point is Wayne Jaeckel who also gave a solo performance at the spring concert.

The Pointer trackmen achieved a second place behind Winona State College in a triangular track meet which was held in Point Thursday, April 30, at 3:30 p.m. Winona had a convincing 68% points for first place and were followed by the Pointers' 55½ River Falls was the third place holder with 38%.

The weather was in fine shape and the weather was perfect for the track meet; add to this the fact that one school record was broken and another was tied. Well, here's what happened.

Gary Joe Walters, a freshman from Breezy Point, broke the school record in the discus with a toss of 124' 2" - the record was held by Harold Pratcher who threw the discus 131' 8" at the spring meet of 1950. Walters, recorder, in the shot, took another first in the shot by powering the 14 pounder 45' 5".

One of the most exciting events of the day was in the long jump. Jack Buck, a speedster from Wausau, reset the distance at 10 seconds flat to tie the school record. Buck finished only inches ahead of Bill Homer of River Falls. Homer turned the tables on Buck in the 220 and edged him by a few feet. Homer's time was a fine 22.6 seconds.

Other first place winners for the Pointers were LaVerne Lohstorf and Don Rysko. Lohstorf threw the javelin 158' 4" for his best toss of the season. Rysko cleared 12' 3" in the pole vault, just 3 inches from his own school record.

The 400 was a race to behold. Wayne Kempski finished strong and almost glanced at Glansman of Winona, who won the race. There was some chance of slowing and cutting the curve, but it never bothered Kempski and he was too far behind. Kempski is suffering from a severe knee injury which is quite contagious on the track squad.

Coehoorn-Brodmann's team was shot in the leg by Kempski and lost the meet, 180, and the mile relay.

The results of the meet are as follows:

Pointers Duplicate Earlier Game’s Split

CSC baseball team took another step toward the State College Conference title Saturday, May 9, by splitting a double header with Platteville at Platteville. The final scores were 5-0 and 8-2.

The split leaves the Pointers with a 5-1 record and University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, which is in second place, with a 4-2 record. Those two teams clash Saturday at Bukoli Park.

Bill Ries pitched a sparkling two hitter to gain his second shut out of the year. He walked only three and struck out 10.

CSC got three hits themselves off Jim Nittler. Joe Pease, Sam Antcliff, and LeRoy Ferrers for the hits for CSC.

Platteville got only six hits in the eight cap, but due to Dave Homans’ wildness they managed to come out ahead at the end of the game. The CSC right hander walked seven in the first three innings. Gene Alexander relieved Homans on the mound.

The winning pitcher was Bill Erickson. He pitched all but the final out of the game which Burke pitched. Erickson walked five, struck out three, and allowed singles to Antcliff and Cole.

Inside The Union

We Call This Special, We Really Mean Special!

When you come right down to it you just can’t beat a good steak... cooked to perfection... like we prepare it on our new Char-Roast open hearth grill. And they like the way it comes off our open hearth - crispy brown on the outside, juicy in the center, and with that special flavor that only open hearth cooking brings. And they like the side dishes, especially Antoinette’s home-made soups and Marie’s salads. The secret of the Spa Special dinner? Just $1.95. Now, when are you coming out to see us?
"Nothing ever happens in this town," is a lament too often heard on the lips of those from your humble scribe. It's true that we haven't contributed a local citizen as a political candidate, nor have we seen any visit from Queen Elizabeth when she travels this way to dedicate the new Municipal Center. But Main Street will reveal nothing more exciting than the arches circled around the clock tower, the orderly arrival and departure of students and city dwellers on the duties of the day; the frisky squirrels playing hide and seek with passersby. In the past, Main Street was the showplace of the town, the scene of much activity; maybe it's because you just don't look close enough that you feel this way.

For instance, what could possibly be more important than the safety of a small boy whose whereabouts is unknown? what can give more heartache to hear of another student whose short legs could be carrying him to disaster. And minutes can make the difference between a distraught mother clasping her cherub in her arms against her breast, and a body in the Morgue. Yet, it's all in a day's duty for the radio announcer when the college and keep tabs on this busy hootenanny back behind the lathe gate. And it's all the more important then that mention of one's own name is music to the ears, especially if that name is connected with the winning of an award and is announced by a pleasant voice, to the delight of the entire student body.

And how about the weather, the subject we all talk about, but in this town, we don't talk about by the barometer. Why not? Did you consider it possible that, with weather being possible by no other medium than the radio and its timing, how much calmer a community becomes a collective sigh of relief and relaxation a bit, the radio station can do? Cheerful chatter and pleasant platters fill in until — who knows when the worst of all might be flashed over the air. "A spectacular thunderstorm occurred at 6.34 a.m. Just as soon as we have more information, we'll pass it along to you." You can bet that people will remember the date on which the reports of the audit, properly certified, must be turned into the auditing committee on or before a designated date.

The Executive committee of the faculty has defined the activities of the Auditing committee as follows: "Due to the increase in the size of the student body and in the number of student organizations, it has become impracticable and burdensome for some of the faculty and committee to assist in the auditing of the financial statements of the student organizations. Therefore, in the future the auditing committee shall concern itself only with student organization accounts.

The exception of those whose auditing is done by the state, shall be the responsibility of having its books audited by any of the following: 1) The sponsoring organization of the group; 2) any local sponsor (school church, political party, etc.); 3) the faculty advisor of the organization or another faculty or alumni comptroller; 5) a professional auditor."

The rules have been amended by one of the above shall be turned into the auditing committee on or before a designated date."

In case of lapse on the part of a student group, the auditing committee shall have the power to enforce a professional audit at the cost of the organization or to recommend that the organization be suspended from activity until the next date on which the reports are submitted.

The committee met with the faculty advisers and the treasurers of the student organizations to discuss the new requirements for the audit of student organizations accounts.

The Auditing committee has designated Wednesday, May 27, 1959, as the date on which the reports of the audit, properly certified, must be handed in to the committee.

Operation: Spirit Lake Adviser, Members
Find Outdoors Fun
By HELEN FEDE

Friday, May 1, found eight girls parking suitcases very appropriately. What will the weather be like, what can be expected in weather that weekend turned out to be beautiful, with the result, a pleasant weekend for adviser Mrs. Marjorie Schellhaut and eight stalwart members.

The group left for Spirit Lake, where the course was taken Monday afternoon and returned Sunday evening. During this time much happened. Events included driving through Mendota and didn't realize that we were in the town, someone "fixed" the beds in the cabin, ran a cowbell, eight girls had taken the boat out on the lake and another day started sunny time, two girls had gone fishing and gone back and had caught all and other ants along with bowing, speed boat riding, lots of good eating (the chef had a turn at cooking) and friendly talks while doing so.

Conclusion: a worthwhile weekend.
