Student Activity Fund Hike Passes Crucial First Test

The Student Activity Fund committee has been busy for several weeks trying to get all of the student-supported organizations on campus and still have the lowest possible activity fee for next year. After weeks of discussion, the voting members agreed to raise the student activity fee $1.50 which will make the 1960-61 student activity fee a sum of $14 per student per semester.

Rising costs of operations, new organizations, and need for equipment are some of the reasons why more money is needed, stated Dr. Frank W. Crow, chairman of the Allocations committee.

The present student activity fund is $12.50. Breaking this amount into allocations, the athletic department gets $3, Parking $1.60, Iris $1.60, assembly series $1.60; College Union board, $2.00; Forensics, $2.00; Men's Glee club, $2.00; Miami University drama, $2.00; Bands, $2.00; Orchestra, $2.00; Men's Glee club, 10 cents; plus the miscellaneous fund, $4.

Iris class, 20 cents; Junior class, 15 cents; Sophomore class, 10 cents; Forensics and Student council have asked for an increase in funds. The Men's Glee club has asked for an increase in funds.

From the above organizations, the athletic department, Iris College theater, debate and forensics and Student council have asked for an increase in funds. The Men's Glee club has asked for an increase in funds.

College radio station and the library film series are the two new college services asking for an increase in funds. The Men's Glee club is the only organization asking for an increase in funds.

The Student Activity Fund committee is asking for an increase in funds. The committee is asking for an increase in funds. The committee is asking for an increase in funds.

What is wrong with American Education?

I should like to express some of my thoughts to you concerning the education of the average American student today. It seems to me that much of the educational system of this country is so designed that our students are not learning the true meaning of American education. The emphasis seems to be on rote learning and memorization rather than critical thinking and creativity. Our students are not being taught how to think for themselves, but rather how to repeat what they have been told.

I believe that our educational system should focus more on the development of critical thinking skills and problem-solving abilities. We need to teach our students how to think, not just what to think. This will enable them to become independent thinkers and effective contributors to society.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
The largest number in Central State college history, 425 students, voted in the student elections held on Thursday, March 31, from 6:35 A.M. until 4 P.M. in the Old Pointe Office on the first floor of the main building. Even with a record turn-out for this spring election, the total number of votes cast was only third of the possible total and many candidates had no opposition.

The most important result was the election of Bob Kiefer to the office of Student Council president by a goodly margin. Although Kiefer won the election, he was not victorious in every class. This is shown by the fact that Kiefer’s vote is divided quite evenly among the freshmen (44 fresh and sophomores) and that the vote in the junior class was 63-33 for Maxine Albrecht.

In other elections, Jon Schweppe won a close race for senior class president, beating Martin Boerst by only 5 votes. The other offices of the Senior class were won unopposed as follows: Ray Bolgrim, vice-president; Mrs. M. A. Raben, secretary; and Bob Chock, student council representative. Bill Gruver won the Junior class presidency and will have as his subordinates: Don Johanneson, vice-president; Sue Hollen, secretary; and Jim Jeffers, student council representative. The Sophomore class chose Gary Schreepher, president; Bobbie Frohman, vice-president; Kathy Hobbs, secretary; and Mike Flumes, treasurer and Sophomore class president. Sue Kergart, president; Martin Boerst, vice-president; Jim Jeffers, student council representative.

Ann West was unopposed for the office of President Student Union board representatives.

Notice!

Today, April 8, 600 additional people are eating lunch at the Student Union. They are elected delegates to the Future Teachers of America convention.

The result is that 1,150 people will be served lunch, compared with the usual 500. There will be a delay, because the Union staff have to cooperate. They will be working as rapidly as possible to serve you.

Another coming event may be remembered. On April 22, the Youth Conference is having a dance for 1,000 people, sponsored by the Union. Again, the Union asks for your cooperation.

Thank you.

Talent Ability

At Phi Sig Show

By Jon Schweppe

My, how the time flies. It seems that only yesterday the Phi Sig brotherhood was in the Student Union Conference Room, with a delay, and the senior Phi Sig brotherhood was performed by their voices and music. It seems to have their eyes on some of the Phi Sig group.

In addition, the chorus line will give their final production and the new interpretation of beautiful show tunes. They will be under the artistic direction of William (Bitch) Haack.

Along with this there will be other groups sponsored by various national conventions. Of course, their voices aren't quite like their weak sisters, TV, but it's better this way.

Mike Liebendorn, the MC and Stanley Sampson, the show's director, will wish to remind all students that the show will begin at 7:45 on or off on April 18, the first campus after the last. It's opening night and a sellout gala event as the Phi Sig brothers and sisters present a wham-doozer of a production.

The FTA Highlights

The Puget Sound FTA will begin on Friday, April 8 at 11 A.M. with an introduction from Mary Ann West, State WEA President. Mr. Quandt Discusses “Athletics” Problems

By Francine Townsend

Coach Hale Quandt, athletic director of Central State College, is receiving an additional $22,500 allocation per student. The athletic department has been operating on the proverbial “shoe-string” for a number of years and although they have had moderate success with their teams, Mr. Quandt is attempting to place CSC on an equal athletic basis with the other state colleges. This can be done only by an increase in its allocation.

Try To Cut Costs

Although department officials do their best to keep costs to a minimum, raising costs and additional expenses make this difficult. For instance, the mileage has risen from six to ten cents per mile. Team members are expected to take up as little space as possible.

Many Expenses

In some cases, the department finds it difficult to cut corners. Football is allowed to have no football or baseball teams, but CSC teams are required to use the high school facilities or must play where conditions permit. The baseball team practices in their own gym and takes turns playing their home games at Pecell or F. J. Jacobs. This is difficult for a team because they have to eliminate opportunities of a court vary a great deal.

If the allocation is approved, conditions will be improved for the players; Mr. Quandt will have fewer worries; and the school itself will profit as better facilities make better teams—which arouses more student interest in college activities.

Although it may seem a little belated by now, we still feel that we should mention that Sammy Sampson was named to the all-conference basketball team. Sammy was the Pointers’ leading scorer and finished fourth in the conference scoring race. His shooting wasn’t his only strong point as he also did a good job bringing the ball down the court with Gary Herold. He was a good defensive man too.

All conference, we would also like to give notice to the fine third place finish in the AAI wrestling meet at Marquette two weeks ago. We’ve got Arvin Britton both took second place medals in the meet while Wayne Radke and Jim White finished third and fourth respectively. Wayne and Arvo wrestle the same weight class and both lost to the same man, a UW wrestler, Hank Yeater, a former CSCI who teamed with Jack Blosser and Gene Storms to win CSC. Won the 147 pound championship.

Now that springweather is approaching, the baseball team is training under the tutorage of Duane Connell. Last year’s team won the northern division title of the conference crown, but a playoff with the southern division winner had to be cancelled because of final exams.

This year’s team has talent, but then, so did our football and basketball teams. I put the jinks on them by predicting first place so I won’t make any predictions for the baseball season. Back from last year’s team are Bill Kise and LeRoy Ferrites. Bill was the team’s leading pitcher with a 51 record and Ferrites led in batting with a .480 average and 5 home runs. If he keeps up this pace for a 154 game season (as major league play) he would end up with 65 home runs and break Babe Ruth’s record.

Actually, the mileage has risen from six to ten cents per mile. Team member are expected to take up as little space as possible. Sometimes as many as eight basketball players, with their luggage and equipment, are crowded into a school station wagon. To save lodging expenses no team stays at participating in some athletic event but return home the same evening, sometimes as late as 3 or 4 in the morning.

Meals on trips are kept to a strict minimum and anything in excess is paid by the athletes themselves.

Dear J. J.

"Search and You Shall Find"

Dear J. J.

Now we know what the Union lounge is for. But what is the "proper time and place for public displays of affection?"

Dickenson

Dear D.

I was always under the impression that that was what the "res- room" at Nelson hall was for. If I'm wrong, contact me again and I'll reserve one of the back rooms in the Union for you.

Dear J. J.

I've got a secret which I have never told to anyone before. Not even to my roommate at Nelson hall.

I know it's not right for a girl of my age to be so strongly attracted to a pet, especially a snake, but I don't want to go to court lectures on what I should do. My problem is this: I had a cute little garden snake for a pet in my room. Yesterday, it got away. I don't know if it got loose or if someone stole it. I don't want to accuse my roommate of stealing him, but I think he got loose by himself. The snake means an awful lot to me. Should I do something about it?

Girl who feels bad

Dear Girl who,

I'll be glad to come over any night and help you look for him.

Dear J. J.

It seems that I lost my wife at the 500 Spring Banquet two weeks ago. I'm afraid to report her missing as she might be found. What should I do?

Dear Night Owl,

This is something that should be taken care of as soon as possible. I'd advise that you report the scene of the mishap.

In order to do this, you've got to wait until the next Swing Banquet. If you don't find her there, then you might try an ad in the paper.

Dear J. J.

I have heard there was an organization on campus by the name of the "Old Maid's" club. What ever became of this group?

A Frusterated Old Maid

Dear Frusterated O. M.

I'm not sure if my source of information is reliable or not, but I heard they are organizing as a women's auxiliary for the Sissors.

Dear J. J.

Thank you so much for all of the campaigning you did for me for the class election. It was so nice of you! !

Dear Number Two,

I guess you're welcome! ? ? Just don't try to horn in on my racket, or I'll meet you at dawn some day with a loaded water pistol.

I do hope that I've helped these people and brought them some relief. I should like to offer the same services to all the rest of you.

If at any time you feel you are carrying a burden which could be lifted by a good cut, or any other cut, I'll do my very best to help you.

To Continue Here

The College Library Film series will offer the semester with three films — an American, a French and a British.

The first, the American, is "The Magnificent Ambersons." It will be shown April 22 and 23. This is Booth Tarkington's elegant Victorian piece with Orson Welles, actor and director.

"Carnival in Flanders," will be shown May 13 and 16. This is Jacques Feyder's masterpiece, "LaKermesse Heroique," a beautiful fine art production from France that explores the world of Rembrandt and Brouelis.

The final film in the series, the British film, is "The Belles of Trumpton." This British comedy in the vein of "Genevieve," with Alastair Simmand Hermione Baddeley, will be presented May 20 and 21.

If you like the effort to bring to Stevens Point a few of the finest bits of the form, those arts that are more typical of the campus theaters would you write up and support it now in full strength? These last three films must be sustained as a series.

The Library theater needs the confidence of your support in order to continue the program in the summer session and into the next year.

Buy a series ticket now for all three shows — students $1.50 faculty and townpeople $1.50.

Two hundred full series tickets must be sold.

Can they count on your support?

"Cast a Long Shadow." Parent's Magazine has this to say: "Nameless youth (Audie Murphy) returns to a bankrupt ranch and inspired by old sweetheart determines to win respect of neighbors who scorned him for being illegitimate." Summing things up: Something different.

"Suddenly Last Summer." Here is a movie with outstanding acting by Katharine Hepburn and Elizabeth Taylor in Tennessee Williams' play. The plot is absurd; the theme concerns homosexuality; the movie is highly symbolic. But the subject matter is almost intolerably evil. Summing things up: Don't relax it; it is a revelation of superior acting.

"The Magnificent Ambersons." Booth Tarkington's elegant Victorian piece comes to CSC. Orson Welles is not only the director of this magnificent masterpiece but he also acts in it. Summing things up: Don't miss it or the other two films in the three film series that the college library film series will be presenting. "The Magnificent Ambersons" is an American film; the second film is a French masterpiece; the third is a British creation.

"Cast a Long Shadow" will be playing April 13-19; "Suddenly Last Summer" begins April 27 at the Fox theater. "The Magnificent Ambersons" plays April 22 and 25 in the College Library theater.

Passive Resistance Not Restricted to S. Africa

By Colette Disher

A death toll of 89 lives was the result of human fear combined with mass passive resistance recently in the Union of South Africa. The question of how to successfully combat passive resistance and still retain national prestige seems the government's problem.

The phrase "passive resistance" is not new, nor just an Indian practice. Before independence, India has practiced it frequently and received the same drastic casualty results. Some Negroes in the United States practiced passive resistance, encouraged in part by Rev. Martin Luther King, and received less notice but more in terms of immediate results.

Passive resistance is a person's responsibility. In order to be effective it must be a continual action lasting an indefinite period of time. Since it is a move for the betterment of a whole group, that group must successfully work together.

At this time there is not enough knowledge of a successful way to combat resistance. If passive resistance is a personal action, then retaliation is certainly personal too. A small group of soldiers or legal officers confronted by a quiet group of people, proportionately greater than them, find it much more unnerving than a riotous mob. It is no wonder that the officers fight bitterly at the first slight move made by the larger group.
