An Evening with the Dance

WDSN Adopted By CSC Station

"WDSN is the new name for the college radio station," states Mr. Robert S. Lewis, director of the radio station operations. The interpretation of WSC played no small role in the quick death—it sounded too much like "White-water State college."

The letters WDSN have been officially adopted by the radio station staff. It is named after the three residence halls on campus, Delzell, Steiner and Nelson. The "W" is the standard symbol for most radio stations east of the Mississippi river.

Staff members of the radio station for the second semester are: Mr. Lewis, faculty director of operations; James Krems, program director; Gary Wrzesinski, chief announcer; Lyle Evans, chief engineer and Bernard Coulthart, business manager. Keeping the station well organized will be their most important job.

Also, if anyone is interested in working with the radio station they should contact the person in charge of the department in which they are interested, reported Mr. Lewis.

WDSN will be on the air Monday thru Thursday from 6 to 10:15 P. M. for the remainder of the semester.

National Ballet of Canada to Perform at Pacelli High School Auditorium

Glee Club Will Present Concert

Hail, friends of music! The Men's Glee club under the direction of Mr. Norman E. Knutzen, will present their 25th annual concert in the college auditorium on Monday evening, March 7, at 8 P. M.

The men have been very busy preparing for this concert since the second semester started. This concert will include numbers such as, "The Galway Piper," "The Creations," by Richter; "Break Forth," "Oh Beautiful Heavenly Light" and "Beautiful Savior," plus many others.

Lee Kersten is the accompanist for the Men's Glee club. Veteran accompanist, Mr. Edward J. Plank will take part in the concert as guest accompanist. Another feature will be a duet by Etienne Vander Bloemen and his sister Mary. Mary is a high school senior from Manitowish, Wisconsin.

The National Ballet of Canada, one of the two major ballet companies on the North American continent, will perform in the auditorium of Pacelli high school March 9 at 8 P. M. This program will be presented as part of the College assembly series.

The widely known National Ballet of Canada has 75 members. A 25-piece orchestra will accompany the dancers. Directing the orchestra will be George Crum, who has a background in ballet, opera, and the concert stage in Europe and North and South America.

The National Ballet Guild of Canada was established formally in October, 1951. Since its first performance in Toronto, Canada, in November of the same year, it has traveled extensively.

The purpose was to create and maintain a professional ballet company in and for Canada which would strive for a high standard of performance and offer talented young Canadian dancers the opportunity for a ballet career. Various guild branches have been established since.

The Guild is fortunate in having obtained Miss Celia Franca, of London, England, as director. Dame Ninette de Valois, director of the Royal Ballet (formerly Sadler's Wells, generally considered to be perhaps the finest of all ballet companies anywhere in the world), recommended Miss Franca.

The permanent repertoire of the National Ballet of Canada includes such famous works as "Swan Lake," "The Nut Cracker," "Coppelia," "Giselle," and "Les Syphides."

The following are examples of enthusiastic reviews which presentations of the Ballet have received in various North American cities:

"Ballet Electrifies Miami — The National Ballet of Canada's 'Swan Lake' was surely the most exciting and rewarding Miami has ever had the good fortune to view . . . A raft-shaking ovation was given everybody in the company." . . . Miami Herald.

"This company must have one of the best corps de ballet in the world." . . . Montreal Star

"It has been many years since we have been visited by a company of this caliber . . . brilliant success." . . . Mexico City Excelsior

"The corps de ballet was precise, unified, and in good style throughout." . . . New York Times

CSC students can get their tickets for this major cultural opportunity merely by presenting their activity cards at the Book Shop where they will receive tickets without additional charge. Student tickets can be obtained between February 22 and March 3.

Others may get their tickets in advance right now at the College Book Shop in the basement of the College library building; at the City News Service, 457 Main street; or by writing to the Ballet Assembly committee at CSC. The remaining tickets will be sold at the door.

Perilous Trek

A hearty welcome to all of you students who are back among the books and the bats again this semester! Let me now offer a word of advice. Please notice the statistics which represent the number of first semester drop-outs and the percentage of students who now are on probation. (These facts are listed in an article found in this issue of the Pointer.) Next stop and figure out what your chances are of surviving this struggle for the opportunity of getting an education at the climax of this semester. The Union is a grand place to go for a break, but perhaps too many students' breaks are too long. Granted, many things can be learned over a cup of coffee in the Snack bar, but they may not apply to the subject matter being dealt with in your next class. This search of ours for knowledge can not be facilitated by continuous card games or coffee breaks.

According to the Stevens Point Journal for January 22, President William C. Hansen was criticized by the Board of Regents for the high standards of admission and retention we have here at CSC. I feel we should stand behind him on this issue. The way to the degree and diploma may be rugged, but remember, climbing Mt. Everest is more of a triumph than a trip to the top of Rib Mountain.

"Kennel" Now Official

The Kennel is the name chosen for the new center on the lower floor of the Union. This area is the central control center for all the Union game rooms as well as a general store, information center and operational headquarters of the Union board.

The services offered by the Kennel are all a part of the program of the Board which operates this newest union facility through their student manager, Gloria Richard. The original game center was too small, too hard to operate and out of the general traffic pattern.

The Kennel will continue to provide the functions of the game center as well as expand in to other services as they are requested. This is the point that all equipment for ping pong, billiards, chess, cards, etc. is checked in and out. It also provides a central information center for the Union and the campus. The attendants are informed of all campus activities as well as most local information for visitors to the campus as well as students who have questions. Within a short time, a call to extension 77 will provide the answer to any question.

Another major function of the Kennel is to make available to the students a selection of items which are offered for sale. The only things stocked are those which the students have requested or have a need for. Daily newspapers, stamps, cigars, playing cards and photographic supplies are only a few of the items always on hand. A full line of personal items such as soap, razor blades and toothpaste is available for those who need some in a hurry.

In addition, the Board has subscribed to four or five weekly magazines which may be checked out at any time. After one week these are taken to the main lounge where most back-issues are available.

A lost and found system is centered here and is fast becoming a feature in itself. Anyone finding lost articles — anywhere on the campus — is requested to take them to the Kennel. Owners may claim them by proper identification.

The addition of this new facility in the Union is part of a definite plan by the Union board to provide the whole student body with the best possible facilities. This program is a direct result of a student's suggestion and is an example of the help and co-operation which has become the trademark of the Board's services. A suggestion box is kept in the Kennel for all to use, or any Board member may be contacted. They welcome your idea, and if practical, you can be sure of action — not just talk.

As a result of this move, the Union food service will be expanding its Snack bar facilities in the near future. Service will be provided at the window during rush hours. This will provide still faster service than is now possible.

Know Your Union

Dear Pointers:

At the last meeting of the Union board before semester finals, the house committee gave a report on the selection of the spot for the new building within a building in the Snack bar — the Kennel.

The photographic darkroom is ready for use and will be used under the direction of Bob LaBrot.

The tournament and games committee reported that it is too late in the year for any of us here at CSC to begin working for state or national honors in ping pong or billiard tournaments. Local tournaments will be beginning sometime this spring, however.

The Union board has purchased an FM aerial to enable the radio in the music listening room to pick up FM stations.

Pictures were taken for the Iris.

The last meeting of the board was held after the deadline for the news for the Pointer, so an account of it will be in the next Pointer. Won't you let us hear from you?

See you at the dance this evening?

Sincerely yours,

Jane Ann Johnson,
President,
College Union Board

Press Agency Keynote of Journalism 201

"Public Relations" is the byword for the fifteen students enrolled in Journalism 201. Dr. Joel C. Mickelson, director of the Journalism department, is the instructor of this new course.

Conservation, economics, home economics and journalism students make up the class who are learning how to use the various media for getting a definite or preferred result. Publicity for "The National Ballet of Canada" will be their first attempt in getting results according to accepted publicity techniques.

From writing articles for various newspapers to making posters will be the jobs of various committees that will be formed. The class feels that CSC and Stevens Point are very fortunate to have the Ballet appear here and their aim is to see that many college students and adults from central Wisconsin take advantage of this opportunity.

An Open Letter

Another weekend is coming up, and much fun is in the offering. Along with the fun, many will crack the old books and attempt to catch up on some studying. One problem remains, though. Where to study? It's noisy in the room, TV is on in the lounge, the music box is on in the Snack bar and it's cold sitting in the car.

It seems that a simple solution to the problem would be to open the library. The present library hours are too short, and the entire schedule could easily stand revision. Where does one go to study after the library closes at 8:50 in the evening? I'm sure that we all agree the night doesn't end at this early hour.

As a suggestion may I offer that the library remain open until 10 P. M. every night during the week. I also suggest that on Saturday afternoon, and all day Sunday, one reading room remain open. It wouldn't be necessary for the entire staff to be present, just open a study room.

Perhaps the library committee can find it in its power to revise the schedule of hours on a trial basis, and see what the reaction would be.

Sincerely,

Daniel E. Housfeld

Roll Call! Count Down of Second Semester Enrollments Revealing

How many hours per day did you spend down in the Union Snack bar last semester? Do you remember the number of nights per week you spent at one of the local "pubs"? And when those long-anticipated, or was it long-dreaded, grades came out, did you feel a slight tinge of guilt when you recalled all the times you could have studied instead of . . .

Statistics on file in the record office show that 237 students, most of which are freshmen, are now on probation. This is 14.7 per cent of the total student enrollment as compared with 219 students or 13.7 per cent "on trial" last year.

Maybe you are not even here to read this article this semester. One hundred twenty-two students were dropped while 23 of these have been readmitted.

The present enrollment of 1,505, the largest second semester student body in the history of CSC, can be broken down as follows: 1344 students here last semester
57 transfer students
29 "new" students (not in college before)
72 our former students (not here last semester)

1502 total enrollment

Workshop Class On Television

Radio-TV Workshop (Speech 127-227) will present two television programs this semester over the Wausau television station, WSAU-TV channel 7, reports Mr. Robert S. Lewis, instructor of Radio-TV workshop.

The choice of programs and dates is the first thing being decided upon. Closeups of two departments will be the subject matter, but "what department?" is the question to be answered.

Beards Abound For Woodchoppers Ball

In the coming weeks many activities herald the coming of the famed and notorious Woodchopper's Ball. Throughout the halls of CSC, scraggly-bearded students have begun preening their proud crests. Prizes for the longest, neatest and scraggiest beards will be awarded the night of the dance. The judge will be none other than the renowned and impartial beard judge, Mr. Lee Andreas. Music for the dance will be provided by the band of Stan Ness in the College union. Free refreshments, numerous contests and an exciting and relaxing time for the entire student body and faculty is guaranteed.

Dress for this affair includes any old comfortable "logging clothes," in fact any relaxing attire appropriate. Remember, reserve Friday, March 11, for the Woodchopper's Ball.

Beautiful Music

Wouldn't you like to see and hear 35 lovely girls? The Girls' Glee club of CSC under the direction of Mr. Wendell Orr, will present a concert on March 1. The program will take place at 8 P. M. in the college auditorium. The club will present Swedish folk songs and arrangements of English madrigals and renaissance music. In addition, other folk and popular songs will be sung.

Assisting the Girls' Glee club will be the madrigal group under the music department of the direction of Dr. Hugo Marple.

"The Crucible" to be Staged in College Auditorium

By Jane Ann Johnson

"Small lies — children's lies — build and build until a whole town is aroused and 19 men and women go to the gallows for being possessed of the Devil." This is the plot of the Arthur Miller play, "The Crucible," to be presented February 23, 24 and 25 in the college auditorium. The play is being sponsored by College theater and the Department of Speech and is directed by Mr. William M. Dawson.

The plot revolves around a young farmer, his wife and a servant-girl who causes the wife's arrest for witchcraft. The farmer brings the girl to court to admit the lie. The thrilling trial scene depicts bigotry and deceit.

The cast includes Roger Gruman as John Proctor; Barbara Holand, Elizabeth Proctor; Myrna Dunst, Abigail Williams; Bob Schwarz, Rev. Samuel Parris; Judy Ryan, Suzanna Wallcott; Marilyn Kott, Mercy Lewis; Pat Pronz, Mary Warren; Darlene Dequaline, Betty Parris; Sandy Seis, Tituba; Gary Schroeffer, Mr. Hale; Bob Check, Deputy-Gov. Danforth; Richard Arnold, Judge Hathorne; Darrell Monk, Mr. Putnam; Angie Zink, Ann Putnam; Dave Jeffers, Mr. Cheever; Tom Jensen, Willard; Emmy Eunge, Rebecca Nurse; and Dave Roach, Carey.

Members of the cast have said, "The play will be a change for the public and students because it is different in phases of time, place and mood than anything we've done here for some time." "The play is something out of the ordinary . . . everyone will enjoy it."

"I SAVED HER LIFE TODAY," Pat Pronz is saying as she and Roger Gruman rehearse a scene from "The Crucible."

Econ and Business Students Aid People Puzzled by Tax Problems

It's that time of year again when we find ourselves knee-deep in papers as we figure out Uncle Sam's portion of our yearly earnings. Let's see now, does this figure go on line 12 or line 13?

This year, as a school service, the members of the newly formed Central State Economics and Business Association will offer their assistance to all students with tax problems. Any person who would like some aid in filing his State or Federal tax return for 1959, will find the Economics association near at hand.

The counseling service will be offered from Monday, February 22 through Friday, February 26. The schedule of hours is as follows:

| Friday .....    | 2:30 - 5 P. M.                       |

A table will be set up at the entrance of the Snack bar in the Union building, with at least two members of the association present during the above hours to assist you.

Bring your tax forms, W-2 forms and any tax problems or questions which you would like answered.

Library Shows "The Berliner"

The International Film series presents "The Berliner" tonight, February 19 and Monday, February 22. This German film with English narration by Henry Morgan will be presented in the Library theater at 4:25, 6:30 and 8:30 each day.

This comedy of high quality is written in the style of the post-war German cabaret. The stars of this biting social satire are Gunther Neumann and Gert Frobe.

The panel of CSC students who reviewed the film found it most entertaining, although the satire has more bite for the Berliner than for the American.

This picture has received international acclaim and is a Venice Festival award.

In addition, a 23-minute art film, "Renoir" will be shown. It is a very good review of Renoir's art with intelligent commentary and commendable color photography.

The charge for the matinee performance is 20 cents; for the evening, students and faculty, 25 cents; friends, 50 cents.

Corner at CSC

By Elmae Omerink

Did some teacher once tell me that setting was important to almost any kind of writing? All right, then, picture the setting of this article. It is late in the afternoon and I am sitting on a hard bench in a hot, stifling locker room. The stillness is broken only by a very steadily maddening pitter-patter of one of the showers. If that sounds like the beginning of a mystery novel I'm sorry to disillusion you, because those are merely the circumstances under which I often write.

Now that I've been here for a semester, my impressions of the school and the students are beginning to take a more tangible form. I am no longer surprised at the informality of classes or the wearing of slacks by girls to classes. And it was a very pleasant surprise to find the teachers so helpful and friendly, contrary to the "you will be entirely on your own" attitude with which we are indoctrinated in high school. But one thing that did, is and always will surprise me is the discourtesy and inconsideration that students practice toward fellow-students. Just the simple practice of saying "hi" to acquaintances adds a lot to that person's feeling and to your personality, because immediately you are mentally classified as sociable and possibly a prospective friend. And name something more important than friends.

Loyalty has been one of those virtues that somehow always latches onto me. So perhaps in the name of loyalty I ought to plug our school radio station. Like a commercial, I'll say, "Listen to WDSN, your college radio station, bringing you the finest in music — for studying, listening, dancing or relaxing — WDSN." Life is just a bowl of cherries, but watch out for the pits!

Bernie's Best Bets

By Bernard Coulthurst

"On the Beach." Being careless in matters of atomic warfare is what this movie is about. It is based on the novel by Nevil Shute, a story of what could happen when two countries, supposedly the United States and Russia, misuse the atom. The story takes place in Australia, a country which hasn't been directly affected yet like the whole northern hemisphere.

Summing things up: Entirely too pessimistic!

"It Started with a Kiss." Debbie Reynolds and Glenn Ford team up in this laugh-loaded story of an air force sergeant who buys a raffle at a charity bazaar and wins a car of the future as well as a bride.

Spanish backgrounds in cinémascope and color make this a hit. Summing things up: Loaded with laughs! I recommend it to everyone, especially to the "anti-Elizabeth and Edward" fans.

"On the Beach" will be playing February 17 to 23 at the Fox theater; "It Started with a Kiss" is showing February 28 to March 1.

CSC Profiles

Joe Pease

The face this week is that of Joe Pease, Senior from Wyocena. Joe is rather familiar to most of us through his baseball efforts. He has been the number one shortstop for the past three seasons.

"Billings," as he is called by his closer associates, started his educational journey at Portage High school; transferring from there to Fardesville to complete his Junior and Senior years. Here he played football, basketball and naturally baseball. In 1954 he decided on college and chose Central State. After a year and a half he was in need of a vacation so he volunteered for the draft and spent the following two years in the army, ten months of which were spent playing baseball and basketball for the Okinawa base team. Joe liked Okinawa very much and states he would again like to "tour" the Orient.

Upon discharge he re-entered CSC and decided on secondary education and coaching as his field. Joe is a biology major with psychology and physical education minors. He also feels that his drivers education course from Mr. Duane Counsell will be an asset in his search for a job.

Joe is currently practice teaching eighth grade general science at the training school under Mr. Thomas J. Hayes. Although he is only observing now he says he can see where "it will be very interesting and enjoyable."

After graduation in August, Joe would like to get a position in the southern part of the state, possibly at his own Alma Mater, Fardesville. He very much wants to be a head baseball coach "to teach the kids some real ball."

Joe's comment to the freshmen is, "Work and study hard."

Your first two years are important and if possible get your grade average up as quick as possible."

We wish you luck, Joe, and hope your teams come out on top like the ones you've been performing for.

LeRoy Sroda

Who's the "fastest" man on Coach Hale Quandt's charges? Why it's this week's familiar face, LeRoy "Buff" Sroda.

Lee is a native of Stevens Point, where he attended grade school and P. J. Jacobs high school. He was also a member of the basketball squad here. (Of course one must realize the game was much "slower" than now.)

LeRoy entered CSC in 1952 with his ambitions already set on coaching. In 1954 he entered the Army and was stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska. His main reason for going into service at this time was because in this way he got half of his education paid for by Uncle Sam.

After being discharged (honorably) he decided on his biology major. Physical education, general science and drivers education constitute his minors. Lee has already practice taught under Mr. Eugene Brodhead and Mr. Cardinal and is currently practice teaching sixth grade general science at the training school under Mr. Edgar Pierson. When asked what he thought of it and how he thought he would like teaching his reply was "It's really going to be great!"

Other than sports, Lee has found time for various extra-curricular activities. He is a member of the Newman club, "the 550 organization and also is a member of the "S" club where in 1958 he held the office of vice-president.

Upon graduation in June, he wants to find "the best job in coaching as possible" with no special city in mind. Also upon graduating, in fact 15 days later (June 25), he will claim Miss Mary Lou Davis as his bride. Mary Lou is also a CSC grad. Lee says "she's a very good cook (Home Ec major) and sews real well."

The genetics course from Mr. Pierson and the Advanced Botany from Mr. Robert Whitnire are on Lee's list as the most interesting courses he has had in college.

Lee enjoys hunting very much and claims, "There's nothing like getting up in the early morning and romping around in the woods. It really gets you refreshed and relaxed for a tough day ahead in the class room."

A word to the wise from Mr. Sroda goes something like this, "Grab your books and run to the library. Master all your materials and don't let your social life get ahead of your academic life." Freshmen take notice!!!

Best of luck, Lee, and congratulations on your wedding! We know that best coaching job will turn up!

Pointers 63 St. Norberts 60

Still hurting from the lopsided defeat at Whitewater, the Pointers avenged the Warhawks with a 91-80 win at P. J. Jacobs gym.

It was noticed by everyone in the gym that the Pointers were out to get the Whitewater team the minute they stepped out onto the floor, and began their intricate warm-up drills.

Sammy Sampson and Chuck Millenbah combined to give CSC the needed punch to out perform the men from Whitewater all the way.

Don O'Neil, transfer from the U. of Minnesota, added the touch of spark that the Pointers were lacking in the early minutes of the ball game. O'Neil showed good rebounding and driving ability, and should prove to be a big help to the Pointer squad with his go-go-go spirit.

The Pointers quickly broke into the lead in the first three minutes of play with Sampson, O'Neil and Tom Gurtler, leading the way.

The Pointers shot a hot 45 per cent the first half and were not in any trouble throughout the whole ball game.

Coach Quandt, instructing his players to go into a stall with four minutes to go, showed us some of the tactics that helped to win this particular ball game. The Pointers showed some of their finest basketball of the season in the Whitewater game and it is the hope of all of us that they will continue this high quality of basketball in the remaining games of the season.

Basketball Briefs

February 20 Stevens Point Pointers will play host to Platteville in a WSCC basketball game. CSC will be out to get revenge as the Pointers defeated the Pointers in the earlier match 89-88.

The game will be played in the P. J. Jacobs gym starting at 8 P.M.

Antcliffe, Kuse, Herold, Gurtler and Sampson will probably comprise the Pointers starting five. O'Neil and Millenbah will also see action as the Pointers try to get a better place in the won-loss column of the standings.

Sam Sampson is currently holding down spot number six in the individual scoring race.

February 29 the Central State college basketball team will travel to Milwaukee to play the University of Wisconsin Milwaukee in a WSCC basketball game.

UWM handed the Pointers an earlier loss by the score of 74-60. In this earlier game CSC was ahead for awhile after the half-way mark in the game and this next time they will try to be ahead at the end of the game.

The Pointers have an excellent chance of upsetting the leaders. UWM has suffered only one loss handed to them by Whitewater last week.

The Scoop From Schup

I imagine that the first thing to do now is to congratulate all the students that are back this semester.

Tomorrow night the Pointers play their last home basketball game of the season when they take on the Platteville Pioneers in another grudge match. On January 15, the Pioneers nosed out the Pointers by one point in an overtime session at Platteville and this alone should provide the Pointers with plenty of incentive to destroy Platteville's pioneering spirit when they invade our homeland.

Sammy Sampson, high scoring guard from Wisconsin Rapids, was setting quite a pace in the Whitewater and Oshkosh games with 32 and 33 points respectively. He may have kept this up during the games against River Falls and Eau Claire last week-end, but even if he didn't, that's quite some scoring. In the Oshkosh game he sank 16 out of 22 field goal attempts all from twelve to thirty feet out.

The wrestling team seems to have finally gotten their feet off the ground and won a dual match. To make sure that they wouldn't be beaten out, every member of the team won as they compiled a 34-0 win over Ripon. As an added touch to the victory Boyd Gibbs, who won his heavyweight match by forfeit, defeated a Ripon wrestler in an exhibition match. Art Rouse, Arvo Britten, Kim Stein and Norm Dorn all won their matches by pins while Jim White, Kep Pagel and Gary Dorn won decisions.

Prospects for the second semester continue to look brighter as several lettermen from last year's team return. Charlie Wittenberg, a little heavier after a year off, will compete with Stein for the 147 pound berth while Wayne Radke will try to displace Britten as the team's representative at 130 pounds. Gary Dorn also returned this semester and has already stolen a starting spot.

The next home match will be the conference wrestling meet which will be held here on the 12th of March. Anyone who wants to become a wrestling fan won't dare pass this up. About six of the men that will be here hold Wisconsin State wrestling crowns in their respective divisions and will provide enough competition for the rest of the teams to shoot at. Along with these, just about anyone of the CSC delegation could come out of the meet wearing the conference crown in his division.

The Intramural - or Intermurder - leagues seem to be progressing at a fabulous pace. As of the time this article was written the Bobcats are in first in the American league with a perfect 3-0 record while the Beetles lead the National loop with a 2-0 record. Right behind the Beetles are the Rats with a 1-0 campaign. These two teams clashed last week Thursday, but this column had already gone to the dogs by that time, so little was known about the results except that Arvo Britten ruled the Beetles as heavy favorites in the game.

About 140 to 150 of the masculine sex are participating in intramurals and if you girls want a chance to see some real he-man builds, this is it. Every Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 8:45.

I see that the Pointers had a new basketball coach last weekend. With both Mr. Quandt and Mr. Counsell sick, the wrestling coach, Gene Brodighagen, was called back to active duty. Here's hoping that the Pointers didn't pin too many of the men from River Falls and Eau Claire. It's like my high school English teacher told me, "There's a time and a place for everything, but this isn't it."

In order to finish up with a respectable record in the conference this year, it appears that the Pointers will have to beat Platteville and Milwaukee to finish with a winning record.

Dave Gilson hit quite a scoring spree the other night in the City league. Playing for Merritt's Maulers, Dave connected for 26 field goals and one free throw to walk away with the scoring honors for the evening. If he keeps going like this, basketball fans will forget about the "Big O" and "tall Will" and start to talk about "Dizzy Dave."

Now that the column is finished, I'd like to say, "It's not for the Pointers to question why, but for them to do and to succeed." Sound familiar?

Pointers 91, Whitewater 80

In a game played during the semester break, the Pointers were able to squeak past St. Norberts by the score of 91 to 80. The game was for the benefit of the Stevens Point youth baseball league.

As usual the Pointers were involved in a deadlock during the last three minutes of play.

Don Kottke and Gary Herold were able to put forth their best efforts before the buzzer sounded.

St. Norbert held a 37-32 half-time edge over the Pointers, but CSC cagers were able to come back strong in the early moments of the second half and pull ahead.

Bill Kuse, showing some fine shooting from his forward position, was able to lead this attack by the Pointers with much success.

Using a tight zone, the Green Knights made the Pointers go into a stall to draw the defenders to the outside. This stall proved to be the deciding factor as the Pointers were able to drive to the inside and score. The Pointers while hitting a somewhat hot 43 per cent from the field, were not able to manage the free throws when they counted.

On the whole, the Pointers did a good defensive job on the boards, even though they were handicapped by lack of height.

The Pointers were finally on the long end of the score in one of those proverbial "close ones."

Elections, rushing and the Inter-Sorority formal seem to be the center of the sororities' attention this week.

The first election to announce is that of the Inter-Sorority council. The newly elected officers for the second semester are Gertrude Ann West, Psi Delta Psi, president; Evelyn Smythe, Alpha Sigma Alpha, secretary-treasurer; Grace Sommers, Omega Mu Chi, press representative; Jan Campbell, Tau Gamma Beta, student council representative.

Inter-Sorority's second semester program began Saturday, February 6, with the Inter-Sorority formal held in the College union.

A panel of girls from each sorority directed a discussion in the auditorium on Wednesday, February 10, for all girls interested in sorority membership. Gertrude Ann West, moderator, welcomed the girls and spoke on the requirements for membership in a sorority on the CSC campus. The costs were explained by Gloria Richard, Alpha Sigma Alpha. Tau Gamma Beta's representative, Karen Braem, spoke on rushing procedures. Jewel Henschel, Omega Mu Chi, told the advantages of belonging to a sorority. The discussion was closed with a question and answer period.

Rushing began Sunday, February 14, with the Inter-Sorority coke parties from 2 to 4 P. M. at the College union. This opened three weeks of rushing which will be followed by six weeks of pledging. On April 23 the pledges will be welcomed into respective sororities as actives.

Tau Gamma also recently held election of officers. The results were:

Karen Braem, president; Virginia Johnson, vice-president; Joan Trickey, recording secretary; Alice Wagner, corresponding secretary; Joan Doyle, press representative; Jo Ann Van Ornum, assistant treasurer; Linda Kuhl, historian; Jeri Sperberg, alumni secretary and Jan Campbell, Inter-Sorority representative. These officers will serve for this semester.

Omega Mu Chi's new officers were installed at Nelson hall in January. They include: Diane Darling, president; Grace Sommers, vice president; Emmy Millard, recording secretary; Marge Witt, corresponding secretary; Judy Jesse, alum secretary; Marilyn LuMaye, treasurer; Ruth Ann Way, assistant treasurer; Judy Garot, parliamentarian; Jeanine Guetschow, chaplain; Patsy Otto, historian; Penny Maahs, Inter-Sorority representative and Caryl Erickson, press representative.

The Omegas held their dinner before the Inter-Sorority formal at the Hot Fish shop. Grace Sommers opened the program which followed the dinner. Marlene Cable was toastmistress. Mr. Oscar Villarejo of the CSC faculty was the guest speaker. Caryl Erickson and Will Haack also spoke briefly. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gotham, Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins. General chairmen were Mary Lou Cruieger and Marlene Cable. Committee were headed by: Javors, Judy Jesse; decorations, Carol Jensen; invitations, Mary Krasny, and clean-up, Claire Ann Jensen.

The Omegas also wish to announce that they are happy that Mrs. Raymond Gotham has accepted an advisory position in the sorority.

Twenty-eight were in attendance at the Psi Delta Psi banquet before the Inter-Sorority formal. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitmire were the guests at the dinner at the Sky club.

Jo Andree was elected by the Psi Deltas to fill the vacancy on the Inter-Sorority council caused by the graduation of Mary Ann Kucharak.

List Y-Dem Doings Sigma Zeta Installs

On January 18, Governor Gaylord Nelson spoke before the student body in the college auditorium. The program consisted of the Governor's speech, followed by open questions from the audience.

On Wednesday, February 3, a regular Y-Dem meeting was held, with three main orders of business being brought up. Two new amendments to the present Y-Dem Constitution were discussed, new ideas for the raising of needed funds were suggested and who the speakers for the coming meetings were to be was also discussed. The speaker for the next Y-Dem meeting on February 17, will be Dr. Lee Burress. His topic, however, will be announced at a later date. With this, the business meeting was adjourned.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. Richard Feil and his talk was on "The Sales Tax in Wisconsin." A panel discussion followed, with questions being addressed to Mr. Feil and then discussed by the panel, which consisted of Chuck Ross, Dave Karraker and Mike Farrel. Glen Zipp was the presiding moderator.

It was also announced that Senator Humphrey would tentatively be in Stevens Point on February 29. Definite arrangements, however, are not as yet known and will also be announced at a later time.

Fraternity Features

Interfraternity

At the regular meeting, February 8, new officers were elected to guide the Interfraternity council for the ensuing year. Dave Buss, Alpha Beta Rho, was elected president; Ed Hunold, Phi Sigma Epsilon, vice-president and Lud Miller, Alpha Beta Rho, secretary-treasurer.

The officers retired were Bob LaBrot, president; Dave Paasch, vice-president and Ed Hunold, secretary-treasurer. LaBrot and Paasch are both members of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The financial report was given by Ed Hunold. It was approved by the council.

Meeting was adjourned with no further business.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon is proud to announce the acceptance of nine new actives into our brotherhood of over fifty-seven thousand men. Initiated last Saturday were: Larry Baker, Paul Biechler, Jerry Fluno, Robert Kiefert, Dave Stanton, Tom Steink, Steve Swanke, Bruce Wittenwyler and Denis Wikel. These brothers are now accorded the supreme privileges and responsibilities of our great national fraternity.

Following the initiation a majority of the brothers attended the Interfraternity formal. Sigma Phi Epsilon congratulates the sororities of CSC on their accomplishment in providing such a successful evening of entertainment.

The weekend was culminated with a banquet at the Laurel club. Tom Jensen served as toastmaster displaying his usual humor. The Best Pledge award went to Bob Kiefert for his accomplishments. He was presented the traveling trophy — a large Sig Ep pledge paddle — upon which the recipients inscribe their names. Larry Baker received the Sigma Phi Epsilon Pledge Scholarship award for scholastic excellence. It was presented by Paul Becht, president of Wisconsin Delta. The award consists of an engraved Sig Ep tie clasp. Jerry Fluno was also cited for scholastic excellence by scholarship chairman, Gary Goddard.

In all it was an exciting evening of good fellowship with the brothers of Sigma Epsilon enjoying their banquet and entertainment to the greatest extent.

These new initiates participated in campus and chapter projects during their "Help Week" which began on Tuesday, the ninth. For their civic project they helped collect books and games for the patients at River Pines Sanatorium.

After the Sunday afternoon initiation ceremony, they were honored at a banquet which was held at the Laurel motel.

On Being Educated

By George Howlett

All this talk about the loyalty oath and student loans reminds me of a little incident in history dated November, 1956 — the place, Budapest, Hungary. What happened? The youth of Hungary rose together to fight Soviet armor with light arms and homemade explosives. Why? Because they knew the value of freedom and were willing to shed blood to get it.

American youth have never had to shed their blood on home soil to fight for freedom. The college youth of today does not know the real meaning of freedom. Sure it is all around us. We are ensnared in the benefits of freedom. But who of us knows anything about it? What does a Rich man know of the well-being of a full stomach? Would not one who has faced starvation know better the value of a mouthful of food? But who of us has faced barbed wire with a gun at our back? And yet our college youth, led on by the pseudo-liberal, the pseudo-intellectual, scream out that our freedom is disappearing because students have to take an oath that they believe in their country to get a federal loan.

The first argument against it they say is that the disloyal ones will take the oath anyhow. But this is an argument ad absurdum. Persons are expected to perform the duties of their oath of office. We have oaths before a court of law. People daily break these oaths also. But perjury remains a crime before God and man.

Then they say that such an oath takes away intellectual freedom. 'Tis a pity that college students aren't required to learn a little logic. These pseudo-intellectuals have their wires a little crossed up as to the point at question.

A loyalty oath does not deny a student intellectual freedom. The right to search for truth is not abridged. But it does give rather a purpose and an incentive to study well, to work diligently to become a defender of freedom. The whole purpose of this project is to train people who will work for the defense of our country, who will let themselves be trained in the arts and sciences so that we will have intelligent defenders of freedom.

Bob Chesebro Featured in Civic Orchestra

Bob Chesebro, a Senior at CSC, will be featured in the Civic Orchestra concert, February 28, 1960. He will play the Mozart Clarinet concerto.

The concert will be presented in the college auditorium at 8 P. M. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. Approximately ten students from CSC and five teachers will also be playing in the concert, which is sponsored by the Civic Orchestra society.

Other numbers in the program include Brahms Academic Festival overture, Handel Water music and Brahms Hungarian dances 5, 6 and 7.

Forecast For Fun

Pillows were in great demand as CSC students skimmed around the plastic roller skating floor at the Lo-Nor Skating rink. The expressions heard as the students skated were "Look out," "I can't stop," "Women drivers!" and "This plastic floor is softer than a wooden floor?" In any case, all present seemed to have fun. The evening began at 6:30 on February 1 when 20 CSC'ers with fun on their minds lined up in front of the library to load the buses. The chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Phelps, Miss Doris Davis, Mr. Dean Blair and Miss Marjorie Schelfout, came prepared for a good time. The evening was highlighted by a moonlight dance, the two step, bag tag and the hold-up dance. Forty-three rolled around too soon and the buses had to aim toward home.

By popular demand the Freshman class will sponsor another all campus roller skating party on Sunday, March 13. Roller skates and a 60 mile round trip ride will cost only 85 cents. Other plans include a tobogganing party.

Positions for Students

The Student council would like to announce the openings on the following student-faculty committees: Library, Calendar, Housing, Athletic, On-campus public relations and Off-campus public relations. These committees have been designed to help provide student opinion in matters of school administration. Students, this is your chance to help design school policies. Any Freshman, Sophomore or Junior interested in being on one of these committees may sign up in the Dean's office.

Thirty-five cents is the price of the Spa's hamburger sandwich, with the cheeseburger only a nickel more. And those prices include a cup of fresh-brewed coffee. ## Old Soldiers Never Die, They Become Recruiters

By Bernard B. Coulthurst

"Take six, is your best bet" said Second Lt. Gaylen McCormick, senior at Central State, when I interviewed him last month to receive information on the latest military obligation that most men must fulfill in their early twenties.

Lt. McCormick and I were having a ten o'clock coffee break when we began talking about the U. S. Army National Guard. I asked him, "What is the latest scoop on the U. S. military obligation? I think it would make an interesting and informative feature for the male readers of The Pointer." "I agree," he replied. "How about you and me getting together some evening to get the latest dope?"

Last week, we met in the Student Union and discussed the military obligation as planned. I asked him the following questions which he very willingly answered.

Q. What is the military obligation as of 1959?

A. If you are between 17 and 18½ years old, you may take six months of active training and serve three more years in your local National Guard unit. Attending 48 drills and the two week summer training make the annual requirement for the Guards.

If you are between 18½ and 26 years old, you may take six months of active duty and spend 5½ years with your local unit.

Of course, you can wait and take your chances of being drafted into the regular U. S. Army for two full years. But, in my opinion, the Guards is your best bet. You are away from your job, school, or what have you, for only six short months.

Q. Gaylen, what is the National Guard?

A. The National is a volunteer organization of citizen-soldiers with one or more units right here in your hometown. It is a military organization, but its members are civilians. They are local citizens who go to school or work — in offices . . . in factories . . . in stores . . . in banks . . . on farms. But whatever their civilian occupation, they give a part of their time every week to train in defense of their community and country.

Q. Gaylen, you mentioned that the National Guard was about the best bet for the young man to serve his country. Just what are some of the advantages of being a member of the National Guard?

A. Well, Bernie, the Guard offers many advantages to its members. A few of them are: top training near home, extra income, educational opportunities, new skills that may be very helpful, in civilian life, advancement and promotion, opportunities for a commission like I took advantage of during the past two years, leadership and retirement benefits.

Q. You covered the subject well. In conclusion, Gaylen, how about making a general statement about the Guards?

A. Sure, Bernie. Many people think that the individual soldier is no longer needed as much as he was in the past. Really, this is a serious misconception. A quote of General Matthew B. Ridgway clearly indicates this, "Man is and always will be the supreme element in combat, and upon the skill, the courage and endurance, and the fighting heart of the individual soldier the issue will ultimately depend."

Debate Groups Head Into Tournaments

The CSC debate group is having a busy February. On February 4, two units composed of Sally Jensen, Francine Townsend, Geraldine Case, Gary Wrezinski, Jack McKenzie, Dave Jeffers, George Walters, Jerry Bower and Bob Check went to Charleston, Illinois, for a 29 school tournament. The last two, a negative team, won three of their four debates.

While at Charleston, the debaters, along with Mr. Robert S. Lewis and Mr. Gilbert Faust who accompanied them, were dinner guests of EIU's president, Dr. Quincy Doudna and Mrs. Doudna. Dr. Doudna, former CSC dean of administration, invited the group to attend either an EIU theater production, "Born Yesterday," or the basketball game.

Another group of debaters was scheduled to debate at Moorhead, Minnesota, but the latter tournament was called off.

February 19, four teams will debate in the Eau Claire tourney. Patricia Slack, Sally Jensen, Beulah Poulter, Joan Sprea, Francine Townsend, Gail Wickus, June Zielinski, Tom Briddle, George Walters, Gary Wrezinski, Dave Jeffers, Mike Liebenstein, Jack McKenzie, accompanied by Miss Pauline Isaacson and Mr. L. E. Burroughs, will make the trip.

On March 11-12 the University of Wisconsin will be host to the Chi Delta Rho tournament which includes cross-question debate.

Students interested in joining the debate group should express that interest to any member of the department of speech. It is possible to join the group now.

Dear J. J.

"Sing A Song Of Sixpence"

Dear J. J.

We have at last been successful in locating you. It seems as though there is a little matter of a considerable sum of money you owe us. Through many changes of address, you managed to evade being contacted. It has entailed much work, time and trouble on our part to keep track of you. We also feel more than a little put out with your methods of fulfilling obligations. We expect to hear from you soon.

Friendly Finance Corporation

Dear Friendly:

"Don't tell me your troubles, I've got troubles of my own."

Dear J. J.

What can I do?

Constant Anxiety

"It seems to me I've heard that song before."

Dear J. J.

My boy friend just got pledged to a fraternity at your school. Now he won't let me write to him unless I address his letters in Greek. What can I do?

Agitated Annie

Dear A. A.

"My heart cries for you."

Dear J. J.

Lately I've noticed that some people don't care for the way I operate my establishment. Is it just me, or have you noticed this too?

Joe

Dear Joe,

"Set 'em up, Joe, I've got a little story, you ought to know."

Dear J. J.

I've just been asked in philosophy to explain what is meant by "life is just a bowl of cherries." What can I do?

Snowed

Dear Snowed:

If this bothers you that much, my only advice is, "Don't take your guns to town, Bill."

There has been a notable absence of correspondence lately. At first this was disappointing but it turns out that even this has its benefits. To wit, I no longer have to climb the stairs to the Pointer office to see if there is any material which has been deposited in the Pointer mailbox for me. In a way, this seems like such a waste of my vast store of information and advice. These people nowadays just don't know a good thing when they see it! Now when I was a kid . . .
