

Gertrude West Receives National Recognition for Play

Gertrude Ann West, a junior from Stevens Point, has received national recognition for a conservation play she has written.

The title of her play is "Tomorrow Begins Today," which is copyrighted. It will appear in the June issue of The Instructor magazine, a national magazine for teachers. The publisher's explanatory comments indicate that the play presents conservation facts via entertaining dialogue and is "good for classroom reading, radio, tape recording or public address broadcasting."

Gertrude Ann is an English major in Secondary education. During both high school and college she has been interested in writing. She was the recipient of eleven awards for material published in national magazines including the National Anthology of High School Poetry and the National Anthology of High School Essays. Locally she has had articles published in Words Worth.

Extra-curricular activities occupy some of Gertrude's spare time. She is vice-president of the Inter-Sorority council, Psi, treasurer of Sigma Tau Delta, secretary of the College Union board, president of the Inter-Sorority Council, and business manager of both the Iris and the Pointer. In addition to her school work and extra-curricular activities, she works her way

Nat'l Society Re-elect Faust To Presidency

Gilbert W. Faust, a member of the Central State College faculty, was re-elected president of Sigma Zeta, national honorary science society, at its annual national convention held recently at Anderson College, Anderson, Ind. Mr. Faust and Central State representatives attended the three-day convention.

The representatives from the local college were Charles Richards, president of Zeta Chapter at CSC, Edward Mealy and Jerry Madden.

The program highlights for the convention were the reading of student papers on scientific research; a field trip to General Motors' Delco Remy division where electrical automotive parts are manufactured; and a speech on "Why Explore Space?" by A. J. Sobe, a member of the Advance Engineering section of the Allison division of General Motors in Indianapolis. Jet engines such as the "Electra" are manufactured and tested at this plant.

Election of national officers was also a part of the main business of the convention. Faust, who has been the national editor from 1938-42, national recorder-treasurer from 1942-59, and national president for the past year, was re-elected for the coming year. Other national officers elected are from Illinois and Indiana.

Sigma Zeta chapters from various colleges throughout the United States attended the annual national event.

Change Commencement Plans; UW Dean to Guest Speak

Seniors from CSC will graduate at 10 A.M. Saturday, June 11, in the P. J. Jacobs gymnasium. Although the announcements indicate that graduation will take place in the new field house, the lack of sidewalks, steps and seating facilities have necessitated the change in location.

Mr. Paul Wallace and his brass choir will provide music for the processional, recessional and will contribute several other selections.

Editorial

EXPRESS YOURSELF!

Throughout the 1959-60 school term the Pointer has made an effort to print the news of the college and the opinions of the students and faculty members in an unbiased fashion. I do regret that there were not more "Letters to the Editor." Perhaps next year students will find the time to write their thoughts and opinions on paper so that others may share them.

Sincere Thanks

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the entire Pointer staff for the hours they have spent in the Pointer office and "on the beat." Thanks also goes to President William C. Hansen for his contributions to our school paper and to our advisers, Mr. Joel Mickelson, Mr. Robert Anderson and Mr. Raymond Specht for their guidance. In short, our thanks to all who have made this year's Pointer possible!

Letters to the Editor

Dear BBC:

I would like to gently disagree with the last editorial. I hope that you won't think me too unAmerican, but I just don't think that the American films compare very well with the foreign ones. Even with the splices and the subtitles, the foreign films far outdistance Hollywood's extravaganzas as far as art is concerned. The art that goes into the writing of American films is lost in the gloss that Hollywood spreads over the story to sell it to the public.

Another fault with showing films made in America is that the school would then be competing with the local theater or the television set. The answer really lies in the tastes of the college students and the ambitions that they possess.

Edward C. Mealy

Dear Bernard:

We appreciate your editorial congratulation on the financial success of Picnic. We regret some misplaced emphasis and exaggerated words such as "huge success."

Dear Editor:

I wish to speak in behalf of this year's Iris Staff who worked so hard on the 1960 year book. We are happy to say the Iris should be coming out on time thanks to the work of about twenty-five students out of the whole student body.

Special recognition should be given to Marilyn Roth, who did a wonderful job as editor of this year's Iris. She was the one who saw that things were done at the right time and if they weren't done finished them herself. The job of editor takes a very capable and reliable person and it was filled this year as well as the other years the Iris has been published.

A compliment should be paid to the photography staff who spent much of their time developing the many pictures that are used in the Iris.

What about next year's Iris? You people who are about to complain about this year's book come out to work on the Iris staff and put your words into action. Only you can make the improvements that you want.

A Member of the Staff

Your point, Mr. Editor, in editorializing on the picture, I believe, was to kill the series as far as its financial support by the whole activity program goes. The film series cannot succeed in any other way. This is as true of giving the college good music, good art or good drama, good choreography; all these fine arts need the same support on the campus. The objective of the film series is not to repeat what we get in good measure at the Fox Theatre, but to bring to our campus an art form that in the fullest pleasure is now only as close as the Play Circle Theatre in Madison, the Coronet and Downer in Milwaukee or the Art Cinema or World playhouse in Chicago. The fact that our series is not always in as fresh film or in as best quality is to a great extent because of the struggle for funds. The faithful supporters of the series are willing to take the discomforts in order to have this much. That it is successful to this extent is proved by the fact of its already five years of showing good films. Help us to keep it coming to the students, faculty and friends who do like it and for the students and others who will come in later years to take pleasure in it.

Sincerely yours,

N. R. KAMPENGA

Sigma Tau Delta Accepts Members

Censorship was the topic discussed by Dr. Lee A. Burgess, Jr., when he spoke to Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity at its meeting on Wednesday, May 18. Drawing on several books for his references, including The Censorship of Books by David Fellman and Banned Books by A. L. Haight, he stressed that "people who are wise enough to be censors are too wise to be censors."

Two new members were accepted into the fraternity. They are Sandra Alexander, Baraboo, and Nancy Lingenfelter, Antigo. During the business meeting new officers were elected. They are Virginia I. Marquardt, Wausau, president, Annette Herman, secretary, Gertrude Ann West, Stevens Point, treasurer and Sandra Alexander, historian.

Off-campus Teaching Is a Good Experience

By Jean Droeger

Students enrolled in the home economics education program are fortunate in being able to participate in the student teaching program here at Central State college.

Preparation for student teaching begins for home economics education majors in the first semester of their junior year with a methods course, Education 225-Home Economics, which includes observation of junior high classes.

During the second semester of the junior year or the first semester of the senior year, the girl begins her first actual experience as a student teacher. Supervised by Mrs. Agnes Jones, head of the home economics department, two girls work together in the teaching of one class of seventh or eighth graders per day over a 9-week period. These sessions are conducted at the college with either campus school or Emerson junior high school pupils and provide two or three credits toward the required student teaching credits.

The second teaching experience occurs during the second semester of the senior year when each girl must go off-campus to a high school for a four-week period. Upon the completion of this requirement, she goes to a different school for another three weeks. As an alternate to this, she may choose to teach one class per day for nine weeks at P. J. Jacobs high school. Central State is the only school in Wisconsin which provides this opportunity to student teachers in two different schools.

At the student teaching center for the first two days, the girl observes the classes in session; then she begins to assume the conducting of classes until she will probably be teaching all but one class a day. During this classmate she can watch the supervising teacher in action. The student teacher participates in all school activities from working with the Future Homemakers of America chapter to attending faculty meetings.

Approval Needed!

High schools which serve as student teaching centers must be approved by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education. Mrs. Jones tries to visit the schools before the student teachers go there to check on the desirability of its being used as a center. Criteria for the selection of the schools are based on the teacher who is there, the adequacy of home economics teaching facilities and the location so it will not be too far away and will not interfere with student teaching programs at Stout State college and the University of Wisconsin. Mrs. Jones emphasized the teacher should be outstanding and have at least two years experience; she may be graduate of any approved school.

High schools in Wautoma, Coloma, Waupaca, Denmark, Casco, Oconto Falls, Omro, Prentice, Randolph, Preble, Westfield, Kiel, Pulaski, Reedsville, and Schofield served as student teaching centers this year. These centers vary somewhat from year to year due to the change in teachers.

The student teaching program operates on the "block system" with second semester senior courses meeting the first five weeks and the last five weeks of the term so no classes are missed.

Some girls may elect to student teach at the vocational school here in Stevens Point either to complete credit requirements or to gain experience in adult education. They receive one-half credit for each six or seven week period (one two-hour lesson per week) they teach.

Department Is Federal Approved

The Central State home economics department is on the federal and state list of approved home economics departments for the training of teachers in federally aided home economics programs. This endorsement simplifies the placement of Stevens Point graduates in out-of-state teaching positions.

LARRY HAAK

members this year. They include Ronald N. Nelson, Emily Runge and June Zielinski.

The climax of the evening was the announcement of next year's staff. Mr. Mickelson announced the following: co-editors: Jane Ann Johnson and Larry Haak; business manager, Gertrude Ann West; circulation editor, Roselynn Barbian; co-sports editors, Jon Schueppert and Elmer Karas; news editor, Karen Knowler; and Barbara Quinn, assistant news editor.

Officers Elected By Round Table

A meeting of the Round Table was held Monday evening, May 16, in the College union. It was decided that no picnic would be held this spring, but held next September instead, at which time all members of the Intermediate-upper Elementary division would be urged to attend. This would offer an opportunity to welcome all of the new members and to greet the other members.

We were very happy to congratulate Marie Nemitz as the recipient of the first annual scholarship being offered to the most outstanding second semester junior of the division.

Election of officers resulted in the selection of Marie Nemitz, president; Elizabeth Berry, vice president; Harriet Angelsen, secretary and Beverly Borg as treasurer.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank Jim Smith, Bill Caskey, Jim Schaeffer and Sylvia Low as officers for guiding the activities this past year.

"Big Four" Flop Again - Time for New Solution

By Colette Disher

Children have Christmas and Easter to look forward to with anticipation; politicians have Summit conferences. With their practical knowledge they evaluate what has been said at the conferences, then evaluate the evaluations. The blase adults grin at the mention of Santa Claus; "blase individuals" smile slyly at the mention of the "Big Four." Who but politicians could look forward to four men getting together and seeing which of them can bring the most notice to himself. Is the subject of the Summit conference — peace — or which man can obtain more pieces (of anything) for himself and his side?

CSC Profiles

By Dick Busse

Gloria Richard

Probably one of the busiest and most active girls on campus is our CSC familiar face for this week, Gloria Richard. Gloria is from Wisconsin Rapids and attended Lincoln high school there. She belongs to the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, is the current president of Sigma Tau Delta, has been secretary of LSA and treasurer of CWA. In her sophomore year she was secretary of the class. Being general chairman of the junior prom highlighted her junior year. Gloria also was on the Student council and the Pointer staff. Being on the Student Union board for four years, she is now the student manager. By this you can see that her four years at Central State have been busy and active. For her many activities and duties she was awarded the Fellowship award on Awards Day May 11.

Gloria has accepted a teaching position at a Central Junior high school in Madison. She likes this particular age group because of their bursting energy, and their need for the direction of it. With the background she has received in practice teaching from Mrs. Hibbs and Mrs. Burroughs she feels confident and capable to start teaching this fall. After teaching a year though, she plans to pick up credits at the University of Wisconsin for her graduate work. Gloria is an English major and has history and social science as her minors.

She places Dr. Mary Elizabeth Smith and Dr. Lee Burreas as her favorite instructors. Gloria likes to bowl although she says she doesn't get too much time for it. Meeting and getting to know people is one of Gloria's main interests.

To the freshmen Gloria says, "College is a good place to find yourself, decide who you want to be, then work to be that person."

Now that Gloria is leaving CSC she has this to say, "I have a rather mixed feeling, but I'll be glad to stand on my own two feet and face the world. I'll miss a lot of the kids around here, but one has to leave sometime."

We know the kids will miss you too, Gloria. Good luck!

Bernard Coulthurst

"I really hate to leave CSC because there are many courses I still would like to take and many courses I feel should be taken. I might just come back for that reason," states our profile for this week, Bernard Coulthurst.

Bernie hails from Stevens Point and is a graduate of P. J. Jacobs high school. He is enrolled in L & S and has a conservation major with biology and general science as his minors. He has lined up a job in Richmond, Virginia, with the Commission of Game and Fisheries. An interesting side note here is that Bernie has taken the three journalism courses offered here at the college. Journalism is his greatest interest and this is clearly shown by his extra curricular activities. He is News Editor of the Pointer, the publicity writer for the college (to the Point Journal, local daily newspaper), alumni secretary of AKL and also the business manager of the college radio station. Bernie also belongs to the Newman club.

He rates Dr. Joel Mickelson as one of his better instructors because he is very tactful. Dr. Bernard Wievel is also high on his list and he has this to say about Mr. Wievel, "He's a good politician." Miss Lucille Johnson is the first woman teacher Bernie has ever had and he thinks she's terrific and has inspired him in the field of psychology. Playing chess, hunting and fishing are Bernie's ideas of good past-times although he says writing as a past-time beats them all.

Bernie didn't go into teaching because he felt there's little money in it and that it is a mother-father sort of thing. "It's good if you like it, but it just isn't for me."

To the freshmen Bernie says, "Do what you want to do, be yourself and don't be afraid to change your field of interest. Don't work while you're a freshman or sophomore, it'll be your biggest drawback."

Attendance Announced For 1959-60 Film Series

About 5 per cent of the student body attended the Library Theater Film series the past year. The attendance at the fourteen films was 1,621, an average of about 120 per film.

Better attendance could possibly have been obtained by concentrating on stronger publicity, however, the directors have felt that it is better to let the attendance grow through interest and enthusiasm of a faithful attendance. It could also probably be increased by presentation of more popular movies. The directors of the series feel that they should not abandon bringing the films that will not be shown at the Fox Theater, films which are typical college and university fare.

The best attended movies were "Genevieve," 164; "Death of a Salesman," 176; "Alexander Nevsky," 157; "Picnic," 200. WDSN gave exceptional attention to publicizing "Picnic" in its broadcasts.

The receipts for the year have been $534.27; the expenditures, $964.26, which includes $746.76 for films and $217.50 for projectionists; leaving a deficit of $429.99. The deficit has been covered by the $200 Activity fund allotment and $299.99 from receipts from the 1959 summer session.

The struggle for funds has resulted in the fact that the series is not always in the best quality of film or as recent as would be liked. The faithful followers of the film series have stated many times that they are willing to take the discomforts that go with 16mm film and the language difficulties in order to have this richer film experience.

Other attendance figures include: "Green Man," 120; "Twelfth Night," 113; "Court Martial," 120; "Circus Arena," 104; "Emperor's Nightgale," 77 plus campus school students; "Captain from Koenigsberg," 114; "Dreams," 94; "Berliner," 69; "Magnificent Ambersons," 70 and "Carnival in Flanders," 61.

Dear J. J.

Dear J.J.

Just what is the student lounge for? First, I was informed it was not for "public display of affections." Now it seems as though it is not for lounging in either. Every time I go up there for some quiet, comfortable studying, I am informed that I'll have to leave as the Stevens Point Garden club or the Bird Watching society or the Down-with-Instant-Coffee league is meeting there. Just what was the student lounge intended for?

Perturbed.

Dear Perturbed,

One thing you'll have to learn is that the name "student lounge" is apparently a misnomer. I suppose it might have originally been intended for the comfort and relaxation of the student body in general and especially for those commuting who do not have a comfortable room to go to when they get tired of sitting on wooden chairs. But cheer up, maybe they'll let you have the use of it during exams at least!

Dear J. J.

Don't you like the lounge? Am I wrong in defending the only place where my boyfriends and I can go other than the Nelson Hall porch? As long as we don't go "too far" who says anything? Don't you and yours use it?

ANON.

Dear ANON.,

You quite obviously missed the point. Me and mine don't get a chance to use it and we can't see joining all these assorted culture groups.

For the next few months all you students (and the few faculty members who read this drive!) will have to be brave and attempt to cope with their problems themselves. However, this shouldn't be as difficult as in the past, as by now all of you should have picked up a few tips on how to handle almost any situation. Should anything drastic come up and you feel it best to write me, I'll leave my address as soon as I get settled, I'll be advising the U.N. on world problems, but I think I'll still be able to find a little spare time.

In the April 29 issue of the Pointer, there was a letter signed by "Oddball." This was an inquiry of student reaction to construction of the Physical Education building, Student Lounge and new dorms as opposed to classroom space. This article attracted a little attention, to my surprise.

One of those who reacted, I was informed, was President Hansen who was not too enthusiastic over my grasp of the situation. I then took it upon myself to go and talk to Mr. Hansen with the hope that he would explain the situation, which he did.

It seems there is a lot more than meets the eye in the financing of new buildings for state colleges. One of the most important considerations is budget of course, but another which had not occurred to me is that of the building paying off its own debt rather than through taxes. In short, it is easier to obtain the money to build dorms and student unions than it is for other buildings and classrooms.

President Hansen went into some detail in his explanation and also expressed his views on the condition of our classrooms, but it is not my purpose to repeat all of it.

It is instead, my purpose to explain that the situation is fully understood by President Hansen and steps are being taken to alleviate our expansion problems as rapidly as is possible within the restrictions imposed by the difficulty of obtaining money.

Miss Wilson
To Retire

Miss Emily Wilson, assistant Professor of English, is retiring after thirty-nine years at CSC. During this time she has enjoyed teaching classes as well as working with individual students.

Miss Wilson, a native of Kansas, has no definite plans for the future. She hopes to do some traveling and just enjoy life.

During her years at CSC, she has seen the college change from a two year normal school to the present graduate school.

Miss Wilson had no definite advice for the freshmen, but she did say that self-discipline is a great determining factor in the future of a college student. This element has ruined the education of many good students.

The faculty and student body wish to extend their heartiest congratulations to Miss Wilson for a job well done, and best wishes for a pleasing future.

State Colleges
Hold Track Meet

The Wisconsin State College conference track meet was held last Saturday at La Crosse State college. It was a fine day for puddles and poodles, but for trackmen, and especially for "Pointers," the day left much to be desired.

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee team won the meet in a duel down to the wire with La Crosse State, defeating them by a score of 65 to 62 1/2. Platteville took third place with 32 points and River Falls captured fourth place with 21 1/2. The best the Pointers could come up with on the soggy track was a tie for fifth place with Oshkosh State with 17 each. Whitewater scored 10 1/3 while Eau Claire and Stout failed to score a single point.

The high point of the day was the setting of a new conference record for the half mile.

Pointers who placed in the meet were Bush who finished second in the 100 and 220 yard dash events; Johnson, fifth in the shot put; Newton, fifth in the 440 yard run; Jersild, fourth in the high hurdles; O'Neil, tied for second in the high jump; and the 880 relay team placed fourth in that event.

The Scoop From Schup

Even though we didn't fare too well in football and basketball, our spring sports are taking a better slant. The baseball team is in the thick of things in its battle to retain the conference crown for a second year. Bill Kuse has been robbed on a couple of fine pitching exhibitions when UWM beat him 1-0 and he was beaten 3-2 by St. Norberts.

Dick Meunier has been giving the pitchers quite a bit of support with his heavy stick as he is leading the league with a .600 batting average. He has 6 hits in 10 times at bat in the first four games of the season.

In tennis Coach Schuler's team has a 2-2 record in dual competition so far with the state meet still an up coming event as this story is being written.

So far the less said about golf the better off we will be. One word, however, Bill Snow shot a 73 in his match against White-water with a 2 under par performance on the back nine.

In track so far Jack Bush has been doing his usual job in the 100 yard dash and the 220. He's come in right around 10 seconds every time he travels the 3600 inch track.

Mr. Knutzen Says: "Classroom not Workshop"

By Emily Runge

"Never a day goes by that you don't learn something very fine and valuable from the people you work with . . ."

With these words Mr. Norman E. Knutzen explained his success as a teacher, friend and confidante of young people.

As I talked with him in his familiar office (room 107) he offered further bits of philosophy on successful living and working with people. Concerning teaching, "If you don't love children, don't stay in it . . ." Mr. Knutzen says the human element is of number one importance in one's work. Humanize what you do. A class room is not a work shop.

Mr. Knutzen was born in and grew up in Manitowoc, Wisconsin. He worked in a drugstore during his high school years and graduated from Manitowoc high school. After graduation he worked a year as a newspaper reporter then entered this college during the second semester. He completed a three-year high school course and following that he taught at Chippewa Falls, Wittenberg and Stambaugh, Michigan. (At 19 he served as a high school principal.)

Mr. Knutzen was invited to join the CSC faculty where he taught one year in the English department. Then he left to complete his A. B. work at Lawrence from which he graduated cum laude. (He was also an honor student at CSC.)

He taught four years at Lawrence, then returned to the CSC faculty. At this time he began work on his M. A. which he completed in summer sessions at Lawrence and the University of Chicago.

Music has always been a foremost interest in Mr. Knutzen's life and he actively participated vocally in glee clubs, choruses, church choirs and community song groups. He feels that his musical background and experience has been tremendously important as a helpful adjunct to his work in the English field.

He has been affiliated with Men's Glee club for all of its twenty-five years of active existence which he formed with the original group of twenty-six singers who looked forward to forming an organization "for men who want to sing for the sheer enjoyment of it." (He and the Glee club boys are busy now with plans for the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration to be held June 10 and 11.)

English is Mr. Knutzen's field but he confesses that geography was his first interest. In his first teaching assignment, he taught three classes of geography, one of English and one of speech. But now he devotes his time and labors to the field of humanities upon which he coming and concern for young people in his assertion "I've always felt that to interest people in college one must be interested in them."

Mr. Knutzen wrote his dissertation for his masters on the individualism of Thoreau and akin to this idea, his "home in the world" (cottage at Pike Lake) is one of his side interests. To enjoy something like this, one is not being a "recluse" or "running out on people" but it enables a person to view a little different application of life and the things dear to him mean that much more when he comes back to it.

His number one past-time is the trips to New England, followed by trips to the Rockies and Upper Michigan. The itinerary for the New England and French Canadian excursion on which he and a small group will leave June 18 is already complete.

I didn't have to ask Mr. Knutzen to know that he favors the New England Circle and Midwest literature courses which he has inaugurated and teaches. As a teacher, his great contribution to education is his ability to inspire his students to strive for self-expression. He looks back on his teaching and affirms "I've never worked without enjoying it." He looks forward to his remaining

THE "MIAMI GROUP" of the Men's Glee club is shown in the N.A.T.O. Court of Flags near Lake Wales, Florida. A picture of the entire glee club group was printed in the Pointer prior to the Florida trip.

Club Celebrates 25th Anniversary

By James Haugsby

In the fall of 1933 an organization was begun that has been known through the years as "The Ambassadors of Good Will." This organization is better known as the Men's Glee club, and is now making plans for its 25th anniversary celebration. This celebration will be held on the CSC campus on June 10 and 11, commencement weekend. (You may wonder about the figures. There wasn't a glee club for a few years during World War II. Not enough men were going to college then.)

Mr. Norman E. Knutzen has been the director of the Glee club for the entire twenty-five year period.

A concert will be given in the College auditorium on Friday, June 10, at 8:15 P. M. This concert will feature the "Miami group" and soloists who sang with the Glee club in the past. The partial listing of the program is as follows:

In the first group the men will sing: "Purple and the Gold," Prey, Percival, Doudna; "Brothers, Sing On," Greig; "The Green Cathedral," Hahn; "Stout Hearted Men," Romberg; and "De Gospel Train," Noble Cain. This will be followed by the Men's Glee club quartet composed of Jim Haugsby, Ken Schmidt, Dale Maher and Bill Zeigler.

The "Miami group" will sing "Break Forth, Oh, Beauteous Heavenly Light," Bach; "Morning," Oley Speaks; "Serenade," Ahlstrom; "I Hear A Thrush," Cadman and "Exaltation," by Gibb.

The last group of songs will be sung by the entire Glee club. This group will open with "Beautiful Savior," Christianson, directed by Jim Haugsby; "The Creation," Richter; "The Omnipotence," Schubert, with a guest soloist and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, with solo by Al Vanderbloemen.

There will be a number of vocal solos sung by former soloists with the Glee club, but these have not all been confirmed as yet.

On Saturday it is expected that many former members of the Glee club will arrive to take part in the celebration. Commencement will be at 10 P. M. in the P. J. Jacobs high school gymnasium and many are planning to attend. In the afternoon there will be an "open house" from 2 to 5:30 P. M. During this time the former members and present members will have an opportunity to visit. Also at this time the former members will have an opportunity to look around the campus to see how our college has grown through the years.

Saturday evening at 6 P. M. a dinner will be served at the College union to all those participating in the celebration. Letters have been sent out too nearly all the former members of the club, asking them to send in reservations for this dinner. Toastmasters for this dinner will be Mr. Edward Plank and Mr. Gilbert W. Faust, former members of the Glee club. After the awards have been given there will be a "sing" for past and present members.

Invitations have also been sent to Mr. Kellenberg, of Fond du Lac, president of the Wisconsin Association of Male Choruses and to Mrs. Ragnild Congdon, of Kenosha, the vice-president of the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs. The Men's Glee club is a member of both these organizations.

The climax of the week-end celebration will be a dance to be held in the Student Union after the dinner on Saturday night.

Knutzen Honored

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity entertained Mr. N. E. Knutzen at a banquet held in his honor at the College union. Mr. Knutzen received a meritorious service award from Wisconsin Delta for his dedicated service to the fraternity during his thirty years at Central State.

The Brothers feel that this award given by the fraternity parallels the recognition given him by the college as a whole for his service as Glee club director, professor and a member of the President's Public Relations committee.

Mr. Knutzen has truly demonstrated his belief that "the human element is number one in one's work," by the tremendous job he has done in public relations for the school, the tours he made with the Glee club and his work on the Alumni association, besides his intercourse with the public in his work with music festivals, speech contests, men's and women's glee clubs, high school commencements, PTA groups and conducting summer session and extension classes. It seems almost unbelievable that spring has finally forced winter into the background and has come out in full bloom with sunshine and greenery. But sure enough, spring is here and though it is a beginning of many things, it is also an ending of much. A few more days and another school year will have been completed by all of us. Through labs and tests, themes and reports, we've wallowed the year long and it's a satisfying thing to be able to think, "We did it!" I'd like to especially congratulate the graduating seniors, whose long struggle will finally pay off. It's an exciting thing, I think, to be able to break with all institutions of learning and training, to fly, alone, with an eagerness to see all and hear all in this intriguing world of ours, like a leaf blown free from the branch's hold by the wind. Live!—that's the key-word.

Our new physical education building is the most! It's going to have room for just everything — basketball, baseball, tennis, swimming and archery. I guess freshmen won't need to dread physical education anymore; it'll be a pleasure in a place as modern and well-equipped as the new building will be. Miss Marjorie Schelfhout says she is "retiring to the swamp," but I'll bet there are many instructors who envy her "swamp!"

I hope everyone has a wonderful summer. I also hope to see many of my friends back here at CSC in September. I'm sorry that the seniors won't be back, because perhaps I'll miss seeing them around. I always think that good-bys are never quite appropriate, so I'll close by simply wishing you good luck on your final exams. And, of course, my indispensable quote, by Abraham Lincoln:

"I can see how it might be possible for a man to look down upon the earth and be an atheist, but I cannot conceive how a man could look up into the heavens and say there is no God."
