Open House Plans Told

Open house will be held only on Saturday this year rather than on Sunday, too, as in previous years. The domes, the athletic building, and the Union will be open following the game from approximately 4-6 p.m. The main building and the library will not be open.

Simplified plans of the athletic building will be available to the visitors. Plans call for having sorority girls pass out this information.

Open house at the top lounge of the Union will be for alumni and faculty. The group who will be responsible is the Faculty Alumni committee. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. This will give the alumni a chance to talk with each other and with the faculty. The rest of the unions will be open to the general public.

Get Marceau Tickets In College Book Shop

CSC students, remember to see the noted pantomimist Marcel Marceau at the College Book Shop on Tuesday, October 26, 8:30 p.m., at Pacelli high school auditorium.

Free tickets for CSC faculty, and students may be obtained by removing one's identification card at the Book Shop, between October 15 and 22. Additional tickets may be purchased at the Book Shop and the City News Service. Adults $2.00. Children through high school age $1.00.

This program is sponsored by the Central State College Assembly program committee.

CSC Homecoming Highlighted by Queen Selection

Friday, October 21, Central State College will hold its Homecoming activities in the auditorium. The events of the evening will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will last till approximately 7:00 p.m.

At this assembly, the loyal Pointers of the CSC Homecoming Queen crowned. Our laudable , and Coach Duane Counsel will say there to encourage a loyalty among our capable cheerleaders.

The Pep Band will be there also, and Joe Miller, Homecoming Chairman, has practically promissed that you will hear a note or two from the fraternity boys.

Yell Like Hell" Contest Saturday

The "Yell Like Hell" contest, a traditional pep-tally, will be revived at the Homecoming parade on Saturday morning.

Tentative plans are to have this event function much as it has in the past whereby, the leaders leading various segments of the student body in competitive cheering.

The master of ceremonies will be Bob Reeves. The "City Crier" of Athens, Ohio. He is also expected to add music to this terminal portion of the parade. To accomplish this, a large crowd expected for the "Yell Like Hell" contest, arrange ment are being made to close off the street at 8th and Main.

The event once again promises to add the necessary "Pointers" spirit as a prelude to the game.
The Housing Problem...

There has been much discussion about the housing crisis encountered here this fall. Dean Orland Radke told the Pointer that circumstances encountered last July caused an administration, after much discussion, to change: Nelson Hall to a men’s dorm, and Steiner Hall to a women’s dorm. Preliminary enrollment figures indicated a 25% increase in women registration, and only a 1% increase in men registration.

The private houses in Stevens Point were not able to cope with the situation, due to the fact that most private homes own 3 rooms or less. This explains why so many students were forced to return to campus dormitories. Curfews and other conditions forced the change in residence halls.

Dean Radke stated “Unless the present conditions change, next fall’s enrollment will cause another serious shortage. One of the solutions to that problem might be the changing of more rooms in Nelken and Nelson Hall. A place where almost everybody must pass sometime during the day. In spite of the efforts of a large number of student workers, you took the time to scop and clean. The majority of those who worked at the vating tables was “Be Among The Things” student workers. It is felt, however, that it is true that we have forgotten our government and thus the problems of the student’s welfare, as a whole, a serious affair.

The administration has not been standing still on the problem. Two new dormitories are in the planning stages, with a possibility that construction might begin this spring. With the building, the rooms will be ready for occupation in 1962.

Another solution might be the building of “unit houses.” These buildings would be built by private interests and would house from 24 to 27 persons. Four of these buildings could take the strain off the state-owned residence hall.

The problem is one that is being given serious planning by the administration, in the quest for a solution to the problem.

L.C.H.
Along with the turning of the leaves, spoaks on Halloween and the world series games, Octover has come to signal another event in most colleges — that of Homecoming. This weekend is that of the game,

"homecoming" that of Homecoming.

Central State Teachers college was established in 1904, but football and Homecoming did not only get under way this year. The usual rival team selected for the Homecoming game was Oshkosh.

Let us, via old issues of the Pointer of October 19, 1959, see what this Homecoming was all about.

"The annual Football Homecoming parade was held Friday afternoon with a pep meet and band, which had been arranged by the freshman class. Following this, the team and fans participated in a snake dance led by the cheerleaders. This ended at the campus school gym where other teams and teams from other schools were seen.

The evening concluded with an Inter-Greek dance at the Hotel Whiting.

The annual parade highlighted the activities Saturday morning. After the parade, the floats were entered in the parade, and the second prize winners received a silver cup and a three pound box of candy; second place winner, a handpainted pumpkin, which, when touched by the hand of one of the queen's court, turned into a carriage. The queen was escorted to her carriage, and the hand placed an appropriate number of candies in her hand, and the number, the carriage once changed into a pumpkin.

That evening the 'S' club performed in informal dance at P. J. Jacobs.

This time the weekend didn't end after the dance. The Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Norman E. Konstanz, entertained their appearance. The group, consisting of 30 voices, staged their performance in the college auditorium, including another Homecoming in the history of the club.

If this year's Homecoming is anything like that of 1929, we can expect a victory, because in that year the Pointers romped over Platerville 36-0. Let's hope Pointers and fans and make this Homecoming to remember.

Stars of “Born Yesterday”

GERRY HUEBNER

Special: What junior has the starring role for the upcoming production of the laugh riot “Born Yesterday”? Mr. William Dawson, director, has announced that Gerry Huebner from Wisconsin, a newcomer to the CSC stage, has captured the role of Billie Dawn.

This bright young starlet has already appeared in the public eye as last year’s Homecoming queen candidate for the Tekon. Gerry is a home economics major with an avid interest in theatre. Previous experience has taught her work in high school and 4-H Pro- ductions where she portrayed everything from teenagers to grandparents.

The role of Billie Dawn is something new, different, and exciting. Billie is the beautiful but not-so-bright mistress of the unethical Jink, Harry Brock. Gerry is so dumb that even her lover, the junkman, is disgusted and sets out to give her an education. In the process, the audience gets an education also.

BILLY GOERING

Flash: Music major turns to acting. Bill Goering, freshman from Manitowoc, became a director this year.

In his first appearance at CSC, Bill turns from his high school accomplishments in operettas to the part of Harry Brock in Garson Kanin’s hilarious comedy. Harry is the diabolist, overbearing junk dealer who is in Washington to put across a deal that will enable him to control the junk market. Wanting Billie to be able to meet his senator and high society and not appear dumb, he hires Bill Goering to educate her. The education she gets is something Harry never bargained for.

THE POINT CHORALIERS rehearse for their Homecoming Concert.

Point Choraliers to Sing on Sunday

The CSC music department presents a new singing ensemble, the Point Choraliers. This organization was started because a great many people wanted to sing in the college choir. In order to satisfy this need, two choirs have been formed: one, the regular college choir; two, the Point Choraliers.

The Point Choraliers has a membership of about 84 mixed voices. This group plans to sing anthems, folk songs, Broadway tunes and novelty numbers.

Their first concert is the Homecoming concert Sunday, October 23, at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium. Colorful Homecoming with the newest musical group on our campus.

The Homecoming concert program will be as follows:

1. Gloria Patri, Palestrina
2. The Morning Star, Praetorius
3. Lost in the Night, Christiansen
4. Every Time I Feel the Spirit, Dawson
5. That Old Black Magic, Ringwald
6. Across the Wide Missouri, Fleming, St. Alban, Capell
7. The Calypso Song, G. Gardner

The Point Choraliers are directed by Mr. Robert J. Murray, who joined the music faculty this year. Accomplished for the group is Kathy Carstens.

Whitewater festivities this weekend. Saturday night, but still lost to worthy opponents. Actually, if it weren't for the last few minutes of each game, the Pointers might have been underdogs now. Oschost scored in the first two tries, and best CSC. Whitewater scored three TD's in the first quarter and won 26-28. Next came a defeat at Stout by a 26-33 score. They were losing 15-0 after ten minutes.

The Pointers are non-stop Homecoming and a slight chance the ground the second half and, however, the Pointers have big troubles.

Of course, the reason, it seems that it is time for the Pointers to come first, as things stand.

Art, Art, Cooe on Pointers! That is just one of the many cheerful yarns of the squad of CSC cheerleaders lead the spectators in at all Point games.

This year's cheerleading captain is Carol Chudzinsky, who was also a member of the squad last year. There are 14 cheerleaders. All members are freshmen. They include Ann Madonna, Nancy Stone, Carol Smith, and Bonnie Beversdorf. There will be selected by a committee appointed by the varsity council. The tryouts, which were open to the whole school, were held in the auditorium.

Every Wednesday the girls practice to see if they can jump a little higher and yell a little louder. They will have to be trying to improve on the cheers and find out which are not supported by the spectators. To be sure everyone knows the school song and cheers, the girls are planning on placing microphone sheets of the school song and cheer in a music folder in the Homecoming program.

The girls also will be wearing new uniforms for the game and have a new megaphone to use this year. The new megaphone will be purchased by Student council.

A good practice and bonfire tonight will see the girls the cheer and spirit in the Homecoming parade with our float. We should take a picture. A good picture will be in the Homecoming program.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Chi Delta Rho-Sigma Phi Epsilon Alumni corporation has been invited to hold a meeting of the seminar at 7:00 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 21, in the common room of the College union.

Discussion centered about Sigma Phi Epsilon's activities in attending the convention sending Tom Jensen, Larry Bakke, Bernie Herron and Jerry Wages to Whitewater to investigate the feasibility of attending on that campus. Their report to the audience will be presented to the Alumni corporation in building fraternity and sorority housing. The plan now awaits a decision by the directors of the Wisconsin fraternity.

The directors verified the nominations of Gilbert Faust, Ronnie Cooper, Bill Bachle, and Dave Gimbaldi. The election will be held at the annual alumni cor-

Committee on November 3 and 4.

More undergraduates are now looking to Sigma Phi Epsilon as a major step in their college career.

DENNIS SCHMIDTKE

"Oh what can all that, knight, Alone and pally lottering?" - John Keats.

Well, at the moment a sprawl and scarcely swollen ankle is allasing our CSC knight of the football field.

Some 21 years ago, Chicago, Illinois, announced the birth of today's "familiar face." At the age of ten, however, Woodstock, Wisconsin claimed Dennis as its own citizen.

He closed the Arbor Vitae-Woodruff high school door behind him for the last time in 1973. Next on his list of "things to do" was to travel south a piece and stand before the larger doors of our own CSC.

Searsh? I suppose he was.

In the beginning aren't we all? But it didn't take his classmates long to realize this boy's potential.

By Dale Whitney

As a freshman Dennis received the Outstanding Freshman Athlete award, and in his sophomore year he stepped up the ladder a year. Phi Sigma Epsilon saw him first, followed him, and through the past four years he has made him its historian, social chairman, and corresponding secretary. You can also expect to find Dennis snuggling with physics-hardy at any "S" club or Newman club meeting.

For four years we CSC fans have seen Dennis trotting on the intramural field. Goerke, to to many, "bring home the bacon.

He doesn't lack for his voice, either. The past three years the Men's Glee club has had the benefit of our first tenor.

Academically, Dennis is an English major and a history minor, or in secondary education. Presently he serves as a teaching assistant for J. P. Jacobson. (I wonder who the teaching assistant’s teaching assistant is for his favorite student teacher.)

These four years have flown, and Dennis is now close to securing his second big door behind him. Where now, my son? Our subject seems to want a good job and is even considering one, wherever it may be.

Through it all, Dennis recalls his best friends.

And as to this year’s Homecoming: "The football team can’t do too bad this year. As for the students, how can we expect to have a lot of spirit ourselves? We have a chance to beat Eastern and if we work, it will take 1800 of you not just 119.

Words to live by, Pointers. As a food farewell to an outstanding senior, let’s help make Dennis’ Homecoming the very best yet.

The monthly meeting of Sigma Zeta was held Wednesday evening, October 5. A very informa- tive and interesting talk was given by Mr. Oliver Andrews of the chemistry department. He chose as his subject "The Chemistry of Color." Plans were made for the na- tional convention which will be held January 13, 14, and 15 here at the college. The general chair- man will be Ed Moley and the nominating committee was chosen: Virginia Fischer and Ross Maas, co-chairmen of housing; Jim Bray and Barb Landeswek, co-chairmen of food; Jane Johnson, publicity; and Ron Landwek, program.

Dear R. C.

I find myself deeply attracted to one of my instructors. Although she calls me by my first name she shows no special interest. Since she is about the same age as I am, how would it be possible to establish a more personal relationship without harming my grade point?

Dear Unnoticed,

It seems that you desire more than the common student-teacher relationship. Possibly her apartment needs painting. I suggest you start there and let nature take its course. Forget your grade point.

Dear R. C.

On one of my recent hunting trips I encountered a shapely young maiden. She said she was lost and needed my help. Being young and in need ofoom a relationship, possibly her apartment lead me deeper.

However she probably lost her shoe or something and tried to go back. I find her nature take her course. Forget your point?

Alpha Kappa Lambda held its first formal meeting in Room 26 of the Union. A short business meeting was held at which time plans were told of the forthcoming booster button sale and the Homecoming float. Another crew of fifteen men was organized to work at the Meade Wildlife refuge on Saturday, October 1.

"Trees For Tomorrow" was one of the movies shown at the meeting. It dealt with modern forestry practices that are used in our western forests of today.

The second movie was compiled by the conservation students here at the college. It is called "College of the Outdoors," and deals with the conservation summer camp program. Many familiar faces were seen in this film.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Y-DEM News

On October 5, the second regular weekly meeting of the Young Dems was held in the Library. Plans for the Homecoming float were discussed and officers were elected.

Fred Flueck was elected Vice chairman and Charles Polcen was elected treasurer.

Right now the Young Dems are conducting a membership drive. With the feeling that interest in legislation for a stronger America should be stimulated during college years, we are strongly urging young citizens to join the Organization of Young Democrats.

Volunteers for a fundraising drive are needed. The drive will not take too much of your time. If you are interested in working for, or contributing to, the cause please contact either Mike Ferrall or Dorothy Doran.
