An Evening With Basil Rathbone
Famed Actor Here March 15, Will Present Dramatic Readings

The college assembly committee announced that Basil Rathbone will appear here March 15, at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Rathbone's program will consist of four parts which are as follows: The British Theater, songs by the greats, and selections from the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights. Freshman and under upper classes will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Rathbone, an actor of Shakespeare, is best described by himself. "All of the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players," he continued his studies in pictures (16 in all), "Captain at Paramount."

Rathbone, who was a star in Broadway and Hollywood's most versatile performers. What he brings to the concert audience is a command of the English language, a command of the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights. Freshman and upper classes will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The club presented its recitals with Andante, Menuetto, and Allegretto as the selections. The program will consist of four parts which are as follows: The British Theater, songs by the greats, and selections from the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights. Freshman and upper classes will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

Debaters Return
After a comparatively successful session of debates while composed in an all-star team at the close of the year, the debate team held at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., the victorious debate team is composed of 7 wins and 9 losses and was equal in the eyes of the world to the best of the college. They competed in football and on the road to be named the outstanding student of the English-language world. The debate team will consist of four parts which are as follows: The British Theater, songs by the greats, and selections from the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights. Freshman and upper classes will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

New Dormitories To Honor Three Former CSC Heads

The Board of Regents have designated the residence halls at Central State University to honor the three former presidents of the college. The north wing of the Lasherd dormitory being constructed on N. Reserve Street will be named in honor of the first president, Norman E. Knutzen, after Corn. The south wing of this building will be named for Mrs. Cell Kelly. A new dormitory in the making will be completed next spring and will be called Hyer Hall.

These names are in honor of the following former presidents of the college: Orson Welles, Frank S. Hyer, and James H. Lasherd.

Speaker Service Established
A roster of College Speakers composed of Central State College faculty members and members of the high school administration throughout the state of Wisconsin, Madison, and Madison University is being established by the Central State College Speakers Bureau, headed by Mr. Kelly, a ready source of new student loan funds. The bureau is available for commercial and educational purposes. The list is composed of Mrs. Patrick, a former bureau chairman of the college, and Lee A. Burress, Jr., chairman, Department of Government, "Beyond the Horizon," "Sight and Insight.

William H. Clements, professor of English and Director of Youth, "The Luxury of Integrity.

George J. D. Dixon, chairman, Department of Speech, "The Art of Speech Education." And I mean young.

Fred R. Dowling, associate professor of speech, "To Work or To College. That is the Quest for Women.

Chaplin has starred on many top television spectaculars. He has appeared with many orchestras as narrator in such programs as "Step into Heaven," "Till We Meet Again," "Mark of Zorro," and "The Scarlet Pimpernel." Mr. Rathbone's next appearance is to be at the Paramount in "The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit." After their recent tour of the South, Mr. Rathbone has reached Hollywood, where he has been under contract to the Warner Brothers, and has written and produced pictures. He was a star in Broadway and Hollywood's most versatile performers. What he brings to the concert audience is a command of the English language, a command of the works of the English-speaking world's great poets, novelists and playwrights. Freshman and upper classes will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.
Congratulations To The Best

Bob Davis Answers Mr. Greagle

Dear Editor:

Mr. Greagle's rejoinder to my critique of his speech is in order. He charges me with being a "racist," for which I fail to see my rationale. He pièce de résistance is his charge that I "blames only Liberals for the state of things in which we find ourselves today." He ends with the exclamation point, "Do I say so, not as I do.

Let us now consider, one by one, Mr. Greagle's arguments. If a syllogism from my college student of the present time. I am out of touch with the times."

I suggest that it is Mr. Greagle, not I, who is in place of "Americanism."" As far as the derivation of a syllogism from my recent remarks. For, in terms of this derivation, his conclusion, he rhetorically asks how I can maintain the support of the U.N. by such men as Henry Kissinger, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Russell Kirk. However, I suggest that the same men who would explain this failure of the liberal intellectuals to maintain consistency in the transition of "Americanism" into "Conservatism" and "Christianity." And, I suggest he do so in terms of their personal and political principles: veneration of tradition, belief in the American way of life and the higher-browed, strivings for the good of this country, . . . no matter the cost. I seem to be the only idealist in our society.

The same Old Story

On Friday, February 23, Wisconsin's lieutenant governor, Warren Knowles, spoke in the College Union. He announced candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. This year Mr. Knowles directed his talk towards the problem of "Conservatism" in Wisconsin, one of the few--if any--state college systems. He outlined the need for the relating the size of facilities and physical plants in face of the tremendous increase in the student body, the effort that went into the present arrangements, the need for a great record of 18 wins and a cut in their defense. They showed that he was definitely at a loss of words when the enemy shall set loot burning, something apparently lacking in the Minutemen. They set out to maintain the spirit of the Minutemen.

In the post-speech question period, possible the following syllogism: Premise A: John Bircher is a "Nut" and a "Douchebag". Therefore, John Bircher is a "Nut" and a "Douchebag"

Premise C: The John Bircher's are the real champions of collegiate basketball in Wisconsin and are to be congratulated for their great showing and for the prestige they have brought to the college. From CSC to our campuses, the best of wishes and the heartiest congratulations possible. Our hats are off to a really great team.

People Helping People

Someone once said that man's highest purpose on this earth is to help his fellow man. It is a noble idea, too, but perhaps that is too idealistic a desire in our society.

The Pointer

Central State College

The Pointer, published bi-weekly except holidays, during the regular terms, on Thursday, Pointe's Point at 9 A.M. Paper is sold everywhere on campus, and is available by subscription at 100 cent a year. The editorial office is located in room 29, College Union, Telephone: D-4-718. Business Manager -- Gordon B. English. Street, Hollis, Telephone: D-6706

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

George Washington would not permit his children to attend Central State, and he might not be proud of some of our Liberals, but there are a few things not worth defending. The last Pointer which I believe he would have been against it. His advocates even slickens George Washington.

What would a man who led in the destruction of America's independence think of a typical Liberal today? Robert Welch, who seems an obvious doctrine for one, I might add, believes that "Liberals are the enemy of our country."

Would he like those of those who have stood by and watched the cancer of Communism envelop world's heart at the expense of the tile? What would he think of those who are out to defend the cause of Communism for a while longer? And, as a threat to Conservatism? And, most dedicated Masochist would since my logic, unlike his,

Dear Editor:

Many Liberals are considering the problem of this campus both on the faculty and in the student body. Many Liberals are considering the problem of this campus both on the faculty and in the student body. They like the union and Thursday nights and dancing and Saturday nights, and music and Shelley Burman, and the popular girls. They want good jobs and the social position. They are men and women of talent and books. They are grade point average of 3.5 and on the honor list and a grade on test on the highest. They are men and women of talent and books. They are grade point average of 3.5 and on the honor list and a grade on test on the highest.

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they are well fed; they are good people; they like the union and Thursday nights and dancing and Saturday nights, and music and Shelley Burman, and the popular girls. They want good jobs and the social position. They like controversy and criticism, and they like good music. They are grade point average of 3.5 and on the honor list and a grade on test on the highest. They are men and women of talent and books. They are grade point average of 3.5 and on the honor list and a grade on test on the highest. They are men and women of talent and books. They are grade point average of 3.5 and on the honor list and a grade on test on the highest.

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they

Campus Carouse

By Jean Droeger

They are well dressed; they
Concert In Brass

The college Brass Choir under the direction of Paul J. Wallace jousted a concert March 7th at the University of Wisconsin, Madison for the North and South Division of the National Music Teachers Association.

The program included Donald Noyes’s “Jenestina for Brass Instruments” and “Wood Tree” by James Hanna, narrated by Robert J. Murray, a member of the college music department. Dr. Hugo D. Marple, head of the music department, composed a brass quartet entitled “Rondo for Brass Quartet” for this occasion. “Prise, Poem, and Postlude for Brass Choir,” by Richard Steindl, was given its premier performance at this competition. Mr. Steindl is a 1961 graduate of CISC and is presently a scholarship student at the university majoring in composition. The program was concluded with Gordon Johnson’s “Segersen” and Gabriel’s “Canons per sonae No. 2.”

Members of the brass choir included: trumpeters: Ronne Schell, Bruce Laube, Perry Wagner, Jerry Klotz, Michael Kolos, James Houle; French horns: Shirley Kittscher, Jeannette Kees; trombones: George Packard, Neal Harwig, David Becker; baritones: Richard Mavrakis, raha; Rick Semler; percussion, John Hartmann.

Applications for the April 17, 1962 administration of the college Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country. Eligible students who intend to apply for the test in April should file their applications for admission in as early as possible. Don’t wait until late July or early August. And please refrain from enrolling in college before that time. The number of contestants who file their applications for admission in as early as possible. Don’t wait until late July or early August. And please refrain from enrolling in college before that time. The number of contestants who file their applications for admission in as early as possible. Don’t wait until late July or early August. And please refrain from enrolling in college before that time.

Our flowers are
GREENHOUSE FRESH

SORENSON’S
FLORAL SHOP

510 Briggs St. Di 4-2244

Fast Photo Finishing
Color and black and white

TUCKER
CAMERA SHOP

“Where service show you now”
Phone Di 4-6224
201 Stongs Ave.

Hot Fish Shop
Duck Fat
SEA PRAWN STEAKS
Coral Room Available for Private Parties
127 Stongs Phone Di 4-6334

Bill’s Pizza Shop
CRISPY SPECIAL
SHRIMP & MUSHROOM PIZZAS
Call for Free Delivery To-Angle of the College-Dorms
Phone Di 4-9557

Billy’s Pizza Shop
CRISPY SPECIAL
SHRIMP & MUSHROOM PIZZAS
Call for Free Delivery To-Angle of the College-Dorms
Phone Di 4-9557

$2,000 in Cash To Be A Warded
For Best College Short Stories

Cash prizes totalling $2000 await collegiate authors in a short story contest designed to discover talented young American writers, it was announced today.

Contest winners will have their stories published in an annual hard-cover volume, “Best College Writing.”

Eligible to compete is any college or university student or member of the Armed Forces accredited to educational institutions anywhere in the world.

The search for promising young fiction writers is the 17th annual in a Member College story contest conducted by STORY Magazine. Prize money is being provided by The Reader’s Digest Foundation, which recently offered cash prizes in a competition in finding outstanding new and feature writing among college newspaper editors. The Digest Foundation is adding a grant of $2000 to cover administrative costs of the contest.

The first prize for a short story submitted in the contest will be $500. The number two entry will win $350, and third prize will be $250. The next eighteen winners will receive honorable mention awards of $30 apiece.

Announcement of the contest was made by Whit Burnett, editor of STORY and Sterling Fisher, executive director of the Digest Foundation.

Two urged contestants to prepare entries as soon as possible, noting that the contest deadline is April 28, 1962. Manuscripts should be from 1500 to 9000 words in length and should be submitted to STORY Magazine College Contest, c/o The Reader’s Digest, Pleasantville, N. Y. Manuscripts must be certified by a faculty member.

Judges in the competition include Harry Hanson, critic and former editor of the O, Henry Award Volumes: Ralph E. Hendrix, editor of Reader’s Digest Condensed Books and Whit Burnett, editor of Jitney’s, and Richard Waten of STORY. Bill Harrelson is contest director.

Further details about the contest are available in the current issue of STORY or by writing to STORY Contest, c/o The Reader’s Digest, Pleasantville, N. Y.

Poetic Viewpoint

By James Dean Bertolino

YOUTH’S END

I am trying to cry out
Against the merciless wind of the world
It is cold and raining
I cannot be heard.
You’ve heard me, but now I must go
And for the first time in my life
To be swallowed up in the hallucination
That is found at youth’s end,
Tomorrow I am a man.

THE MACHINE

I am a machine.
I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
I am a machine, I travel on a track and I cannot leave it.
Ardis Werner

Just recently Ardis Werner graduated from her work and association with 4H during those eight years, she achieved a marked happiness and great satisfaction through her local 4-H Club. Ardis lived in a farm near Medford and attended Westboro High in Westboro, a small neighbor-hood town. Her fondness for animals and home economics dealt her the success she had in 4-H.

In high school Ardis devoted most of her time and energy to 4-H, but she participated in band, where she played the saxophone, choir, and Forensics all four years. Among the numerous awards, trophies and honors she attained were the Key Award (state award for leadership) and a home economics award. About midway in her 4-H career, Ardis went to Saskatchewan, Canada for two weeks as a county exchange delegate.

In 1958 Ardis chose to come to CSU and she continued her interest in 4-H but during her senior year she was the president of Home Economist Club. This year, she is the art editor. These are both high positions in her 4-H career.

Ardis has been in a dorm for four years and is the president of the student president and counselor, and this year she is the state president of 4-H. She is active in Delta Phi Epsilon in which she is an Inter-sorority Council and was their representative in Student Council.

A big moment in Ardis’ life was work and some type of work in the results being selected on June 1st.

Along with that goes the ex- ploring of college and work. Both of these, the late in 1961 Alice in Dairyland eastern date of her life, and the forgetting the interviews, beautiful floral brochures, future friends, inter- resting people, and treatment of people.

Ardis converted from swimming, riding, reading, seeing and anything to do with school. She likes to bowl, travel, draw, make her own clothes, and watch operas and ballets.

She chose a number of different style entertainers. Her favorites are: Johnny Mathis, and Montavani.

While dropping helpful hints to freshmen, she had said, “As you can because time is short. Learn to love it, and you’ll be happy.” It becomes increasingly difficult with the time Ardis said, “The pace here is good.”

Come June, as mentioned, Ardis will marry. Next year she wants to teach in a high school with home ec. and art and available. Other plans, a legind of meniory including eventually are extension work in the art field, preferably painting and drawing. She had a long range goal to see the world and there are plans of going to Peru, Chile or Brazil or other South American countries.

On The Book Shelf

With the wealth of new books which are published every month, it is impossible to keep storehouse with the developments as they pertain to one's studies at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Of the notable works which have come out recently are: "Freedom In the Ancient World," by Rudolf G. Hoffmann, which deals with the cultural history of man and his activities in vanishing groups ranging from the Roman Empire to the Golden Age of Greece in ancient history, Professor Hoffmann has written several other works such as "The History of the English Language" and "Uses Of The Past," both of which are available in paperback editions.

Another new release is "The Tragic Conflict," by William Hes- selman, Professor of American History at the University of Wis- consin. An outstanding authority on the Civil War, Reconstruction and the South and North-South relations, Professor Hesselman has written "Civil War Prisons," "Twelve Representative Americans," "The South in American History," "A Nation Divided," and "Lincoln and the War Gover- nors." This latest work which is in process as a new title is a representation of events that have taken place by both the North and South. A good read to be had among the many books published this month.

While reading, listening to music and playing sports, she maintains her happiness, and is a student at attending college this year.

Ardis will probably soon make a decision on the desired course of religious expression through it, man personified his desire for goodness and God's blessing. By doing rather than saying, it was assured that the powers that be would receive the prayer and assurance. Since some individuals were undoubtedly bet- ter at "acting" than others, take- ing part in a drama would become some sort of "shillcell" work among early men.

As acting became specialized so did the drama, and so we can see among the Greeks. As socialized as the drama became, however, it still maintained a religious basis. The common, theological basis of the Greek nation provided a background for their drama. That this is true can be seen in the Middle Ages, where the beliefs published began as an integral part of the church serv- ice.

In the modern world, however, there is no basic religious back- ground to the drama. Along with painting, music, and the drama, the profession of the actor has spread far and wide. And the satisfaction of this desire.

The drama probably began as a form of religious expression. Through it, man personified his desire for goodness and God's blessing. By doing rather than saying, it was assured that the powers that be would receive the prayer and assurance. Since some individuals were undoubtedly better at "acting" than others, taking part in a drama would become some sort of "shillcell" work among early men.

As acting became specialized so did the drama, and so we can see among the Greeks. As socialized as the drama became, however, it still maintained a religious basis. The common, theological basis of the Greek nation provided a background for their drama. That this is true can be seen in the Middle Ages, where the beliefs published began as an integral part of the church serv- ice.

In the modern world, however, there is no basic religious back- ground to the drama. Along with painting, music, and the drama, the profession of the actor has spread far and wide. And the satisfaction of this desire.

The drama probably began as a form of religious expression. Through it, man personified his desire for goodness and God's blessing. By doing rather than saying, it was assured that the powers that be would receive the prayer and assurance. Since some individuals were undoubtedly better at "acting" than others, taking part in a drama would become some sort of "shillcell" work among early men.

As acting became specialized so did the drama, and so we can see among the Greeks. As socialized as the drama became, however, it still maintained a religious basis. The common, theological basis of the Greek nation provided a background for their drama. That this is true can be seen in the Middle Ages, where the beliefs published began as an integral part of the church serv- ice.

In the modern world, however, there is no basic religious back- ground to the drama. Along with painting, music, and the drama, the profession of the actor has spread far and wide. And the satisfaction of this desire.

The drama probably began as a form of religious expression. Through it, man personified his desire for goodness and God's blessing. By doing rather than saying, it was assured that the powers that be would receive the prayer and assurance. Since some individuals were undoubtedly better at "acting" than others, taking part in a drama would become some sort of "shillcell" work among early men.

As acting became specialized so did the drama, and so we can see among the Greeks. As socialized as the drama became, however, it still maintained a religious basis. The common, theological basis of the Greek nation provided a background for their drama. That this is true can be seen in the Middle Ages, where the beliefs published began as an integral part of the church serv- ice.

In the modern world, however, there is no basic religious back- ground to the drama. Along with painting, music, and the drama, the profession of the actor has spread far and wide. And the satisfaction of this desire.

The drama probably began as a form of religious expression. Through it, man personified his desire for goodness and God's blessing. By doing rather than saying, it was assured that the powers that be would receive the prayer and assurance. Since some individuals were undoubtedly better at "acting" than others, taking part in a drama would become some sort of "shillcell" work among early men.

As acting became specialized so did the drama, and so we can see among the Greeks. As socialized as the drama became, however, it still maintained a religious basis. The common, theological basis of the Greek nation provided a background for their drama. That this is true can be seen in the Middle Ages, where the beliefs published began as an integral part of the church serv-ice.
On February 24th the following 4th
It. That is if this winter
snowfs to Oshkosh; 2nd-
Rip
694
2nd place
GreHing
Ste.,
JeO~
spectators would break, It Is that short time toward next year.
The game against White water is to say some nice things this year so one will never know about the team and all concerned. until the time comes.
"if even if White water did come out of the energy that was
Bill
CSC in so far as outstanding round ballers are concerned? The with

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department depart-

will have been no doubt as to whether they would have been champions or not, but win or lose I think that the Pointers can think in their own mind that they are the champions even if Whitewater did come out top statistically. Now that the season is over one can say "if only," but what good does it
Gr

Gr

compared with the 3rd 14-4 record and the 4th 18-4 record. so the memory of a 96-54
record and the excitement that was
William Stoelk

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Department have recently come under fire for alleged politicking. Judging by the public response in the state regarding this issue especially in regard to the so-called public hearings which are held to obtain the recommendations and opinions of the people concerning regulations which then are flagrantly disregarded in the formulations of the same, there is a definite need to look into the matter of play-

as his parents

"Close but no cigar," would be that appropriate cliché to use
A game against Whitewater is

Although the team did a good beating the grill and baseball get underway. With the pipedream of a trip to the tournament at Kansas City City,

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Department have recently come under fire for alleged politicking. Judging by the public response in the state regarding this issue especially in regard to the so-called public hearings which are held to obtain the recommendations and opinions of the people concerning regulations which then are flagrantly disregarded in the formulations of the same, there is a definite need to look into the matter of play-

those fans who dissenting, those fans who

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Depart-

In some tIME OUT WITH DUG

Central State College gave Whitewater's All-WW-M
basketball a lesson in championship basketball to start
Monday night, humiliating the State College Conference winners with a 26-16 brushing at the Point house.

Before the Pointers remain the conference champions

to say some nice things this year so one will never know about the team and all concerned. until the time comes.
"if even if White water did come out of the energy that was
Bill
CSC in so far as outstanding round ballers are con-

compared with the 3rd 14-4 record and the 4th 18-4 record. so the memory of a 96-54
record and the excitement that was
William Stoelk

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Department have recently come under fire for alleged politicking. Judging by the public response in the state regarding this issue especially in regard to the so-called public hearings which are held to obtain the recommendations and opinions of the people concerning regulations which then are flagrantly disregarded in the formulations of the same, there is a definite need to look into the matter of play-

those fans who
dissenting, those fans who

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Depart-

In some

the Pointers remained the conference champions

The policies of the Wisconsin Conservation Department Depart-

In some

the Pointers remained the conference champions

Women In Sports
By Dorothy Severson
On February 21st the following girls went to Oshkosh for the College Swimming meet: Mary Berg, Mary Ellen Ferris, Jean
O'Kane, June Robin, Penne Rude, and Anne Wohlt. The results for all of the school's participat-

1st - Oshkosh: 2nd - UW-M; 3rd - Stevens Point; 4th - Rip-con - 5th - Eau Claire

Individual results are as follows with these girls representing Stevens Point:

100 yard freestyle relay - 2nd place with time of 1:05.5 minutes. Team: Mary Berg, Mary Ellen Ferris, Nancy Opperman, Penne Rude.

25 yard backstroke - 5th place with time of 20.6 seconds. Anne Wohlt.

25 yard butterfly - 4th place with time of 19.5 seconds. Mary Ellen Ferris.

75 yard individual medley - 2nd place with time of 1:04 minutes. Penne Rude.

50 yard backstroke - 4th place with time of 45.5 minutes. Beatrice Locker.

50 yard freestyle - 2nd place with time of 28.5 seconds. Penne Rude.

50 yard breast stroke - 4th place with time of 20.4 seconds. Anne Wohlt.

75 yard medley relay - 4th place with time of 1:46.4 minutes. Mary Berg, 5th place with time of 45.5 minutes. Beatrice Locker, Anne Wohlt, Penne Rude.

Thebadminton tournaments will be completed on March 14th. The style will be played eff off on that night.

DON'T FORGET
For friendly service, convenient shopping, for health needs, cosmetics, greeting cards, shoe supplies
IT'S

Westenberg's
Prescription Pharmacy
on Stevens Point's
BUSIEST CORNER
Main and Strong

Keep Your Eye on the Want Ads of the Daily Journal
NATIONAL WANT AD WEEK
March 11-18

WISCONSIN'S NEWS
We keep your eye on the want ads of the Daily Journal, if you want to sell or buy.

Do you sell? We keep your ad up to date.

Do you buy? We keep your eye on the want ads of the Daily Journal.

When you write the name the best way of doing business.

Selling or buying? Write the name.
Falcons Dump Pointers

Saturday, February 24 was the date of a wrestling meet at the CSC Fieldhouse against the Falcons of River Falls.

It was what one might call a devastating defeat for the CSC grapplers. Art Rouse captain of the home team had the only win, while Todd Wise and Jim Hermans both fought to a draw for the CSC team after the nine minute time limit had expired.

Jim Hermans should be congratulated because the man that he wanted had lost only one match in four years and Jim fought him to a gratifying exhibition of wrestling skill.

So far this year the record is as such:

Art Rouse (Capt.) ............ 9-2
Ralph Meinert ........... 4-2
Jim Hermans ............. 3-2-1
Jack Kardulas ............ 6-5
Tom Dlugos ................. 9-4
Kip Pagel .......... 4-8
Rich Sommers ............ 2-3
Bob Schultz ............. 3-1
Todd Wise .......... 5-2-2
Dave Menzel ........ 1-0
*Just wrestled second semester; (US class is not official in the conference, it is just wrestled with the consent of both schools)

As of now there is only one dual meet remaining and that is UWM March 3. The conference meet is March 10 at the CSC Fieldhouse.

Superior and River Falls are the teams to beat and Coach Bill Burns states that he would like to place at least as well as last year when the team came in third.

SKI in Waupaca

- 1600-ft. Run
- 230-ft. Vertical Drop
- Reasonable Rates

This highly rated ski hill is designed to afford thrills to skiers of all abilities.

Just 5 miles from Waupaca; 28 miles from Stevens Point.

WAUPACA CHAIN O' LAKES SKI CLUB, INC.

FALCONER DIX with the hold on CSC's Kip Pagel.

VICTORS IN THE recent curling tourney from Notre Dame. Left to right order: Terry O'Connor, Portage, Wis.; Dick James, Portage, Wis.; Ty Demetrio, Chicago, Ill.; Bob Maturi, Hibbing Minn.

“KUSK” Hits For Two Against The Warhawks

JOHN KRUGER Throws A Warhawk Out Of Joint

JACK KARDULAS with a Falcon on his back.

CSC’S TOM Dlugos doing a one-legger.

BIG “RICK” Nails Two While Don O’Neil Watches
"The Mousetronaut No One Knew"

By Mary Loberg

Not long ago in a little village,
A village of mice, they say.
And living in a mouseton do and joy . . .
Was to travel in space some day.

On a Tuesday morning, bright and early,
A man by the name of Glenn.
Was to go into orbit around the earth
Three times and come down again.

This little mouse was chosen by the village people there.
To accompany Glenn on his lonely journey
(or as far as he would dare).

The time had come and the capsule was ready,
And the little mouse was too.
There had been other attempts to launch the craft,
But not had any gone through.

Now it was time to enter the capsule.
So he walked alongside Glenn
There were cheers and waves for the human being.
But the mouse wasn’t noticed then.

So this is the story told by that mouse,
As he experienced his last day.
He walked with Glenn with his tail held high,
He would be with him all the way.

"Twenty six, twenty five, twenty four,
Twenty three, twenty two, twenty one...
...and holding." (Waiting for cloud cover to clear).

Ten, nine, eight, seven, six and five... and counting.
Four, three, two, one... Blast off!

This is Johnny Glennmous, speaking here,
Coming from the Friendship 7.
The sun is shining, the sky is clear,
We’re headed straight for heaven.

Mr. Glenn is seated on my right...
I don’t think he knows I’m here.
I have my own chair, inside of his,
But I can see him very clear.

He has a big smile on his face,
That tells us all is well.
He looks out the window to see the earth,
Getting almost too small to tell.

He has many gadgets he had to learn,
In case of emergency.
And pills to take for air sickness,
And things for urgency.

He’s a very proud man — Mr. Glenn, he is
As he sails through on the sky.
He’s got to have nerves to make this trip.
In that case, so do I.

Onward we went, on over the Atlantic,
Then we heard a voice come through.
"This is ground control, here’s your position
How’re things with you?

Then I heard Glenn answer loud and clear.
"I’m reading you real good.
The view is great and I’m having a ball.
Everything’s going as should.

Then I saw he was having some trouble,
And was sort of ill-at-ease.
His eyes wrinkled and his nose did too,
I could tell he had to sneeze.

This was a problem in itself,
For with a space helmet, how would it be
If he had to sneeze, his helmet would smear,
And he wouldn’t be able to see.

He held his breath with all his might
He had to, I suppose.
He couldn’t manage anyhow,
To blow or hold his nose.

He held it back, it didn’t come,
Now he was at ease.
But what on earth would happen,
If John Glenn had to sneeze?

Now he was about to go around for the second time
We were in a state of weightlessness
And I didn’t feel so fine.

I longed for the airlock pills that Glenn had kept near by his chair.
I unlocked my safetybelt, then remembered about the weightlessness.
I floated by the astronaut,
He nearly had a fit.
I was scared because I kept on floating and couldn’t seem to quit.

We landed in the ocean then,
And a big ship came to get us.
Mr. Glenn got out and all the people around him made a fuss.
I couldn’t get out, so here I am,
Inside the capsule yet.

While Mr. Glenn is honored and cheered,
I knew — about me — he’d forget.
Now no one knows, but you and me,
That I was there that day.
I’m now quite sure that Mr. Glenn was much too excited to say.
So Mr. Glenn has become a hero,
A great man, you know.

But cheers and medals I don’t get.
For Glenn didn’t remember me.
The Omega had a wonderful time at the Interfraternity Council Banquet on February 24. Our banquet at the Sky Club proceeded exactly as advertised. The food was delicious, and the entertainment was provided by Boat, Bar, and Blackmail. Everyone had a good time, and we are looking forward to the next banquet.

During the evening, we were entertained by the members of the Omega Phi Alpha sorority. They sang a song called "I'm Looking for Love," which had everyone laughing and having a great time.

The Omega's rush season was a huge success. Attending were Joan Doyle and Karen Holtman, both second semester students. Joan Doyle was elected as the President of the Omega Phi Alpha sorority. Marge was elected as the Treasurer, and Carol was elected as the Secretary.

The sorority rushing season began on February 27. Those who attended and found it very enjoyable were Karen Holtman, Paul Yambert, Sue Nason, and Robert Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman. The party will be Lenten services begin on March 6.

Thanks should be given to brother Bill Lock who was just elected to the National Executive Council of the Omega Phi Alpha sorority. Congratulations Bill.

The month of February was a very exciting time for the Omega Phi Alpha sorority. A scholarship, available to medical technology students Alpha Gamma, honorary social science fraternity, will present the Scholarship to medical technology students. The scholarship will be presented on March 8.

In conclusion, the Omega Phi Alpha sorority would like to express their gratitude to all those who supported and assisted them during the rush season.