New $600,000 Hyer Hall
To Be Dedicated Sunday

The dedication of the new $600,000 Hyer Residence Hall for women will take place from 3:30 to 5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 8. The hall is named for the fourth president of Wisconsin State College here.

The dedication ceremony is set for 3 p.m., when the residence hall will be formally dedicated. The vice president in charge of residence halls, Mrs. Orland E. Radke will give brief talks.

Mistress of ceremonies for the dedication will be Doris Wadzinski, hall president. Marilyn Sherman will give the response on behalf of the 200 women students of the hall.

Fischman, Schneider and Associates, La Crosse, were the architect and construction company. The project was supervised by Stevens Point, the general contractor. The building was financed through federal loans to be paid back in 10 years.

Frank S. Hyer came to Stevens Point in 1904 as institute co-focusor, and in 1905 was appointed principal of the Model School. He remained here until 1919 when he became president of Wisconsin State College, until his retirement in 1963.

During his tenure at Whitehall, the enrollment more than doubled in spite of the fact that there was a decline in state appropriation and in number of students.

Forty years ago, Mr. Hyer served as chief of Wisconsin State Colleges.

Mr. Hyer died March 1, 1957 at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Invitations will be sent to Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Leishman, Elmhurst, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Walton, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hyer, Crosson; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hansen, Milwaukee, and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Hyer, Waupaca, his widow.

In A SCENE FROM last year's Christmas Decorating Party, sponsored by the Union Board Social Committee, the festive atmosphere and joyous activities are seen on the faces of these girls as they decorate the bulletin board in anticipation of the Christmas season and their treat from St. Nick! This year's party will be held Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8, in the College Union.

"Rhinoceros"
In Final Week Of Rehearsals

Fourteen Wisconsin State College students are rehearsing for "Rhinoceros" a play by Eugene Ionesco to be produced at 8 p.m., Dec. 11 through Dec. 14 by the speech and drama department in the auditorium.

The play, first produced in Paris at the Odeon in 1960, and later that same year by Orson Welles at the Royal Court Theatre in London, is a satire on herd conformity.

Ionesco's rhyming couplets and the empty, shrill shouting of every day, together with the voices of the animal men, make for a compelling, exciting and humorous comedy of political and social comment.

This year the debaters are not only the usual crop of such as why people go to college, who goes to college, the historical relationship between art and the university, higher education, and the study of art, etc., but they must also do their homework for this event.

In the cast are Joyce Wolter, the waitress; Kathleen Prakovich, the housewife; Jerome Keras, the grocer's wife; Cynthia Hartwig, the grocer; Truman Flowers, an old gentleman, and Mike Worman, the logician.

Playing roles are James Mueller, Berenger, a pompous and pompous fellow, Jean, the nonconformist, and Sue Siebert, Dalvy, a beautiful young French girl who works in the office with Berenger.

Others in the cast are Ann Henrichs, and Kil Henry, and the chorus, so don't miss it.

Student's Work On Exhibition

A painting by William Ludwig, a student at Wisconsin State College here has been selected for exhibition in the Twenty-Ninth Wisconsin Salon of Art at the Wisconsin Union Galleries of the University of Wisconsin.

The painting entitled, "The President Speaks," will be on exhibit through Jan. 7, 1964.

The purpose of the Wisconsin Salon of Art is to display the best work currently being done in the state by faculty members, professional artists, graduate and undergraduate students.

Three hundred and eighty artists submitted 665 works of art in either oil, watercolor, graphics or sculpture with a limit of two works each.

Student Receives Recognition For Literary Work

A Wisconsin State College junior recently was honored by the Wisconsin Alumni Association of College Poetry, a collection of the finest poetry written by college students.

Judith Ostrowski, a history and English major, received this literary distinction for her poem entitiled, "In the Old Ghost Town." Miss Ostrowski said she was especially surprised when she heard of its acceptance because she had almost given up hope.

This honor was not the first of its kind this year. Earlier this fall, Miss Ostrowski had also received a coveted award of the Blue Pencils. Published in a high school anthology, which also won the School of the Catholic Daughters of America (Continued on page 4).

Ooralie Honors Christ's Birth Through Music

Wisconsin State College students and Central Wisconsin residents will present Handel's "Messiah" at 8 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 8 in the Physical Education Building.

The oratorio depicts the prophecy and glorification of Christ's birth in an unadorned drama set to music.

Dr. Hugo D. Marple, professor of music, will direct the " Messiah" featuring an orchestra of persons and a chorus of about 200. The chorus will include the choir and choralliers of WSC and as well as community choruses from many communities in the area.

Four soloists will have numbers in the performance. They are Fumi Salit, Karen Diehn, David Dick of the music department, and Tom Courtney, also of the music faculty.

The faculty and students are please to have a free ticket or additional tickets may be obtained for $1.50.
ID's For Wives?

by Don Heindereger

During the past several weeks much has been said and written about school spirit. Yell Like Hell, Enthusiasm, and 'Lacetera La Crose' are slogans that have appeared on almost every bulletin board in the College. These attempts to revive school spirit have not been entirely unsuccessful as witnessed by students participating at recent football games.

However there is still a segment of society that will attend athletic events, adding to our cheering section, if they see a good show. Unfortunately for some of the wives, the men are the ones at the game and the wives who try to attend college. They must pay one dollar and three cents for the opportunity of watching Blugold football games.

To those of you that are not married and being put through school by Papa, you are doing just fine and sound a little like the old 1930's. But to the married guy or girl, this sum for five home games does amount to something.

So what is the answer? Many college students might simply suggest that you borrow another student's ID card. But this violates the uses of the ID card, cannot always be done on time, and cheats the function out of some money that it could have had. The answer of this writer is to issue ID cards to the wives and husbands of students, and therefore charge a more nominal price for these people.

We realize that this is not an original idea. At a recent meeting of the Student Senate a motion to issue these ID cards was introduced at the request of the Commission on Student Welfare. It has not been heard of since.

At a meeting of the Student Wives, an organization composed entirely of student wives and open to all student wives, the matter was discussed. The group favored issuing spouse ID, but took no special action to accomplish their goal.

It is too late to accomplish this goal for reduced prices at football games. But the basketball season is right around the corner, and the College Players will present four more productions that will do for the same thing which could be enjoyed by more people if this spouse ID program were adapted.

If you feel that you want to help push this idea, or are just a rebel looking for a cause, you can help. Talk to members of the Commission on Student Welfare or any member of the Senate. Let them know how you feel about the idea, and the board may be the final verdict on the matter.

Pointers Humble Alumni Jayvees Win; Grapplers Out on Winning Road

Led by Stevens Point's Mike Fortune, the Pointers of Wisconsin State defeated a strong Saturday opening game of the season.

Pointers scored 15 points to lead the WSC attack on the old, 11 of those points coming in the first half of the game. The only other Pointers to score for Kaukauna guard Bill Borchert, Jerry Quandt of La Crosse, State Collegiate La Crosse.

Borchert and Pouba combined for 12 of the final 14 points scored in the game, with Pouba leading the Way with six points. The two free throw attempts of the game, in the waning portion of the game.

Bill Kuse, currently head baseball coach at D.C. Everest, counted 16 points to lead Coach Hall's Quints "Old Men." Kuse had a hot second half, hitting six of his eight shots and two of three free throw attempts.

The Everett coach personal best shot for 10 of the last 14 points scored by the alumni.

WSC coach Bob Krueger plans to use the Pointers' opening game performance as a gauge for the usual first game mistakes as the boys gave the ball away 22 times.

On the basis of performance against the alumni, Krueger said his cagers are still pretty equal. "We'll give everyone a good game," Krueger said, "and I'll get four games scheduled and then make a decision on a starting lineup next month." He added that the Everett has won Platteville," he said.

Game statistics point out a Schultz is still the only point guard to more than likely plague WSC all season long. He rebounded. The alumni grabbed off 41 rebounds compared to 33 by the Everett. A shorter breakdown indicates the current Pointer squad is out.

Getting fewer rebounds the Pointers relied on greater accuracy on the floor and the line to come through with the victory. The variance cannot be calculated, but the Ephs were able to cash in on 16 of 20 free throws, and therein lies the story.

Outscored in the line, the Pointers put enough to 29 points, compared to 41 for the alumni.

Krueger started a veteran lineup, using his five lettermen to open the game. At Tempe and Jerry Quandt of La Crosse, State Collegiate La Crosse.

Opening for Quints' alumni were Chuck Millenhall and Don O'Neil, with Jim Mattson of La Crosse, State Collegiate La Crosse.

Throughout the game, the alumni plagued their personnel. Playing tough defense, the men were back to the team members of the 1963 team and another unit with playing experience.

The game got off to a slow start with neither team showing any sign of life. The varsity moved out

WOJU Swimming Team Faces New Coach

With six returning lettermen on the 1963-64 WSC swimming team faces a new coach. Bob Jones didn't attempt to predict anything as yet, but he noted that the team has a high spirit and great potential.

The six veterans are Greg Ziegler, Ed Peters, Ken Wingerter, Dick Larsen, and divers Tom Roberts and Ed Beach.

Freshman who impressed Jones thus far are Tom Frank, John Mundy, Bill Wetwicks and Dave Hudzinski. Jones pointed out that some of the boys on the squad are pushing hard for a starting spot.

The swimming schedule for this year's swimmers is:

Dec. 7—Platteville, 2 p.m. (H)
Dec. 12—La Crosse, 4 p.m. (H)
Feb. 1—River Falls, 4 p.m. (T)
Dec. 7—Platteville, 2 p.m. (H)
Feb. 1—River Falls, 4 p.m. (T)
Feb. 8—Oshkosh (T)
Feb. 12—Whitewater (T)

Feb. 22—Tomahawk, 2 p.m. (H)
Feb. 25—Conference Meet at River Falls
Feb. 25—River Falls, 2 p.m. (H)

Jones hopes to have an intra-squad meet sometime in January.

A swim consists of 11 different events. In a dual meet two men are relegated from high school in each event. The events are: 50 yd., 100 yd., 200 yd., and 300 yd. breaststroke, 200 yd. freestyle, 200 yd. medley relay, and a medley relay consisting of each swimmer contributing to two strokes; breaststroke, butterfly, backstroke, 200 yd. butterfly, 200 yd. breaststroke, 200 yd. individual medley where one man does a variety of strokes, and finally diving.

Following is a list of the top Pointer candidates in each weight division:

137—Rich Summer
157—Gary Van Wormer
185—Mike Plumley
215—Dave Petzer

Martin Thanks College, Students For Cooperation

The United Fund of Portage County has gone over the hump in their drive to raise $37,000 for 3 charitable and service organizations.

The total amount received is $37,329 in a campaign directed by Stratton Martin, chairman, and Robert Fick, co-chairman. John Bedrose is United Fund president.

Mr. Martin thanked the college and its students for their wonderful cooperation in the drive.

Although the drive officially ended Saturday, a few contributions are still coming in. Whatever is collected above the $37,000 goal will be placed in a surplus fund.

This is used for emergencies and to make up the shrinkage which occurs annually when people move away or for other reasons do not fulfill pledges and payroll deductions.

Last year, the UF drive fell $307 short of its quota of $26,046. The goal had been raised $3,000 from the year before, and that apparently was too big a jump.

This year, the increase in the quota was limited to less than $500.

The six-week campaign started in mid-October and moved ahead of last year's place at times and then lagging.
