WSC Program Honors U. of Cracow Anniversary

The 600th anniversary of the University of Cracow, Poland, will be commemorated by a lecture at Wisconsin State College here, Monday, April 13 at 8 p.m. in the College Union Lounge.

Dr. Helena Znaniecki Lopata, assistant professor of the Department of Sociology at Roosevelt University, Chicago, Ill., will speak on "The University of Cracow and Polish Culture," in a program sponsored by the WSC history department.

The department has received word from Jan Nowak, director of the Polish Broadcasting Department of Radio Free Europe, Munich, Germany, that his transmitters will broadcast to Eastern Europe news of the program held on this campus.

Dr. Lopata is the daughter of the late Professor Florian Znaniecki, the world-famed sociologist, and was born in Poland.

The family escaped Poland during World War II, and Dr. Lopata completed her high school and college training in Illinois, obtaining her B.A. degree and M.A. degree in 1946-47, respectively, from the University of Illinois, and her Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1954.

Dr. Lopata has taught at the University of Virginia Extension at Langley Air Force Base and in Chicago at DePaul University.

She has conducted research on "The Ethnic Community in the United States," "The Suburban Housewife," and "The Recommendation Process in Consumer Buying." Dr. Lopata specializes in social psychology, social psychology, social theory, and race and ethnic relations.

Last fall Dr. Lopata taped five programs for television dealing with "The Teenager," for a five-city circulation.

She is now working on 1,000 interviews with urban and suburban housewives and is finishing a book on the subject of "woman."

She recently edited a book of her father's on sociological theory which will be published this year.

Present day Cracow is a city of over 400,000 on the Vistula River in southern Poland. Cracow University is the oldest in Poland and was founded by Casimir the Great in 1364. Its rich library is housed in the old fifteenth century university buildings, in the beautiful Gothic court of which a bronze statue of Copernicus was placed in 1900.

Noted for its intellectual life, Cracow has many learned societies and academies and contains the National Museum of Art. It is the intellectual center of Poland. In its Gothic Cathedral, the kings of Poland were crowned, and the church was the burial place of several of these rulers.

Mayor and Mrs. Edward C. Plotrowski and other Stevens Point community leaders have been invited to be present at the commemoration meeting.

There is no charge for admission to the event. Faculty members, students, and the general public are invited to attend.

DR. HELENA ZNANIECKI LOPATA, assistant professor of sociology at Roosevelt University, Chicago, Ill., will be guest speaker at ceremonies commemorating the 600th anniversary of the University of Cracow, Poland, at 8 p.m., Monday, April 13 in the Union Lounge. News of the event will be broadcast to Eastern Europe by the Polish Broadcasting Department of Radio Free Europe.

Speech Student Finds Hobby In Producing

Larry Klobukowski, award-winning producer of "Elkay Productions," is also a WSC student here who finds enjoyment in producing movies as a hobby.

A program featuring 8 mm movies which he has produced, will be presented by the Union Board Cultural Committee at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 14 in the Union Lounge. There will be no admission charge and all are invited.

Klobukowski acting as director, script writer, film editor, producer, cameraman and enterprising executive has been making films since his high school days at West Allis Hale in Milwaukee. It all began under the Christmas tree in 1960 when Larry, now a freshman at WSC received an 8 mm Kodak Brownie movie camera. At first he confined himself to the ordinary home movies but then he decided to try something different . . . and different his films are.

To date "Elkay Productions" has produced 23 films many of them award winners in regional and national competition. Klobukowski is a member of the Milwaukee Movie Makers which in turn is a member of the Chicago Area Camera Club Association and an honorary member of the Photographic Society of America. In August of last year "Elkay Productions" was featured on a television program "The Other 98" in a WISN-TV in Milwaukee.

Though Larry's hobby is film production, he has a practical attitude and plans to become a high school speech teacher and keep movie making a hobby. That is, unless he gets what he calls a "lucky break" somewhere along the line.

Among the eight films on the program are:

"For He Shall Conquer," the story of a crippled boy. This film won an honorable mention in the Eastman Kodak contest for teenagers. It was then selected to represent the United States in an overseas film festival sponsored by the Kodak Company in association with the Committee for International Non-Theatrical Events. The film also won a second place award in the 1964 Milwaukee Movie Makers competition.

"Sanguinary Mortem," the story of a beheading. The title means "A Bloody Death" but it could be appropriately titled

Student Council Proposes Constitutional Amendment

Major business at the April 2 meeting of the council was a proposed constitutional amendment to permit the direct election of the officers of the council.

The president is presently elected by the student body but the other officers are elected by the council itself. Also it would provide for the election of three representatives to the council from each class instead of the present two. The vice-president of each class is, and shall remain, a council member. There would be no representation from other groups such as the dorms.

These amendments cannot, according to the constitution, be voted on until the next regular meeting of the council.

The council also heard from Steve Hanson who is in charge of bulletin boards. It seems that he is at a standstill on the construction of the new boards in the Union. He has been unable to get a favorable price quotation.

The treasurer, Tom Corrigan, reported that since the allocations have finally been received, the financial status stands at $265.16 in the red.

The Allocations Committee has received requests from only four groups.

All members were either present or were excused. However, two members-elect were absent. They were Bob Whyte and Dan Sheier.

A question concerning the office of Secretary of the Senior Class came before the Student Council in its meeting of March 19. There were no candidates for the post in the election but there were a few write-in votes.

One person received four votes and another received three. It was decided that the office should be given to the person with the plurality of the votes.

Comment was made about the poor turnout and that therefore more emphasis should be placed on elections next year with a greater opportunity to meet candidates and hear their qualifications and opinions.

The committee set up to investigate the Student Wives request for a type of activity card for spouses surmised that the wives or husbands be permitted admission to school functions for a reduced rate, perhaps 50%. There is to be more research into the problem.

Another problem that came before the council was a complaint about the automatic two-week renewal of library books. It was felt that two weeks were enough, but there should be a stipulation that books could be renewed for two weeks automatically if the borrower so requested. It was suggested that it be referred to the Library Committee.

Absent without excuse were Jerry Hartwig, Carolyn Miller,

Junior Prom Ticket Sales Start April 15

Tickets for the 1964 junior class prom, Harbor Lights, will be sold beginning April 15. Robert Epp, ticket chairman announced tickets will be sold at $3.00 a couple at the kennel. Tickets may also be purchased at the fieldhouse the evening of the dance, April 25, at $3.50 per couple.

The decorating committee under the direction of David Zick and Sharon Lindberg are in the process of building a lighthouse. Mary Ann Feutz and Gloria Kubiak painted the harbor scenery, during spring vacation, in the Campus School gym.

Plans for a style show and billboard advertisement are being organized by the committee in charge of publicity, and a hike to Milwaukee to the home of Chuck Howard, who's orchestra will provide the music for the event, is also under way.

Cheryl Danielson announced that invitations are being sent to special guests from the class.

New Breed ... The Taker

There is a crisis in the morality of the college generation today; but it is a crisis far different from the "sex-boozeparties" attacked to which college students are always subject. The immorality of our generation is selfishness.

Our society has spawned the new breed of youngsters — the Taker. He is everywhere on campus, and his total devotion to himself extends to his "friends," his social life, and his studies, and pervades his whole outlook. The world is his oyster and no one else's. It is simply discourteous to ask him to exert some effort and pry it open — he wants you to do it for him.

He can be seen all over campus. In the dorms he enters your room when he feels like it, interrupts you if it suits him, indignantly demands his own privacy.

He borrows your notes for class and returns them when he feels like it. He expects your favors as his right; he looks on your requests with the contempt they obviously deserve for asking him to give of himself.

He dates people he can show off and catalogues his amorous exploits (real or feigned) to anyone who will listen to them, because they increase his stature. The other person's feelings in the matter are irrelevant, because they do not deal with his own self-glorification.

His courses are to be avoided, not taken. His task is to get away with as much as possible, and still maintain a respectable grade. He looks upon any deadline as a challenge to skip; the professor's approach to subjects is to be ignored if it conflicts with his own interests.

Obligation is a word unknown to the Taker, because it means he may be bound to do something he may not feel like doing at the moment. Responsibility is a word meaning blame; and the Taker always makes sure he's never blamed for anything.

His friends are contacts, or sources of advantages. His goal in life is to be free from the nagging sense of self-doubt which comes with a view of life that is bound by the limits of the self.

Fellow men are his enemies for they may have what the Taker wants. Love charity kindness are alien to him; and so, inevitably is the sense of communion with his brothers on this earth.

It is this generation's tragedy that the philosophy of the Taker is prevailing. It will be this generation's doom if it is allowed to flourish.

Letters to the Editor..

A Letter For

The Editor Of The POINTER

The rapid sale and dissemination of the first issue of the DISAPPOINTER has served to crystallize a general latent attitude concerning your newspaper. Although the methods of attack in the DISAPPOINTER are not of high intellectual calibre, there exists in this effort the possibility of forced drastic changes in your own paper in order to conform with high college standards. Judging from general opinion, if the POINTER continues to remain an enlarged edition of the weekly bulletin with pictures under the heading of "newspaper," then a large segment of the student body will remain dissatisfied while the remainder are cheated.

Here are two suggestions your staff might consider. First, putting the POINTER on a voluntary subscription basis. College students are certainly capable of judging the value of a newspaper and then freely accepting or rejecting it. Second, enlarge it, and even increase the price, but by all means have a section dedicated to the free discussion and exchange of ideas concerning all aspects of life. Why must students always be forced to find an independent organ for their views like the CRITIQUE and now the RENAISSANCE to express their opinion without censure? If a publication calls itself a "college newspaper" it should fulfill this function!

JAMES JABLONSKI

Letter To The Editor:

We have been shocked by the racketeers in Labor Unions, Dave Beck and Jimmy Hoffa — and recently by the Bobby Baker scandal. But do we think anything of the stealing that takes place among our own peers?

Any conscientious observer and frequentor of the Union must certainly be aware of such action. It must be nice for some people to be eating for free everyday. A roll and coffee or milk for breakfast. A plate lunch or sandwiches and a coke for lunch. Perhaps a couple of quick cokes downed at the counter for a mid-afternoon refresher. I am certain that friends of those individuals who are guilty of deliberate stealing must have recognized this action at some time. But do they do anything about it? Evidently not! Some seem to think this is being smart or clever.

If there is any student at this school who can not afford to pay for his food I'm sure that arrangements for meals could be made without having to steal. The Union is for all of the students. As community property it should be used in such a way as to benefit all students and not just a few. This is our investment and it is up to us to make the best use of it not only for ourselves, but also for the other students.

FRAN GUDERSKI

To the Editor:

Because I am interested in who my leaders are and what they are going to do for me I didn't vote in the student elections. I am surprised that as many as 40% voted, the way the campaigns were run.

The idea seems to be to put up the most and/or the biggest posters stating, "VOTE FOR ...". No campaign promises, platform or personal resume.

Since I (and 60% of the student body) can not judge a candidate on the area of the walls he has plastered with posters, I felt I could not cast an intelligent vote and therefore withheld it.

Sincerely,

JIM MAAS

Fellow Students,

My purposes in writing this letter are first to thank all those who supported me in the recent campaign for Student Council president, and second, to ask the students of this college for co-operation in the coming year to make it possible to provide an effective student government.

As the organization through which students support the Student Council by their interest and participation for only through participation is a strong student government possible.

JUDY CHRISTENSEN,
President-elect,
Student Council

AWS Members Attend Meet

"We Continue to Grow" was the theme of the 1964 Region II Convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. recently.

College and universities from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Nebraska were represented. Approximately 160 delegates and advisers were in attendance from 43 different schools. Representing W.S.C., Stevens Point, were AWS board members, aKren Corsten, house representative; Judith Davis, IAWS representative and corresponding secretary, and Patricia Reznicek, president.

Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church was the guest speaker at the banquet climaxing the convention. Mrs. Church's topic for the evening was "The School's Dilemma: Is Pen Still Mightier Than the Sword?"

Through this and other regional conferences of IAWS, the process of examining the academic communities against the background of the world at large was continued. The convention attempted to apply basic truths to new situations.

Focus

by Sue Stanke

It happens every Spring: Someone walks through the front entrance of the library, shattering glass and the maintenance crew's morale.

Fraternity men and independents alike perch companionably on the library steps between classes, mentally assessing the height, weight and giggles of the coed from possibilities passing in review. Sneakers, sun-glasses, sun-lamps, long walks, convertible rides and Sunday afternoon jaunts to Joe's are "in."

The big question is "Where's the next party?" "When," is every day/night that it doesn't rain. Certain organizations, worried about the scholastic mental stress endured by their members thoughtfully provide gala park parties where the most popular fellow is the one who can dance for an hour with a can of beer on his head without spilling a drop. No park party is a success if the police don't stop by at least twice.

The snack bar set makes the scene in cut-off jeans, cut-off sweatshirts and cut classes. Someone catches poison ivy.

Term papers are due. The front lawn of Old Main and the residence halls look like miniature Miami's, with sprawled figures in swim-suits and shorts dotting the lawn.

Teachers sprawl as listlessly as the students and lectures become reminiscences of old undergrad days when THEY used to . . . The smell of sunburn salve soaks through the shirt of the boiled lobster two rows down, permeating the room.

The parking lot behind the Union becomes a muddy obstacle course impossible to get in or out without a pogo stick, stilts or hip boots.

Yes indeed.

Five Pointer Cagers Rank With Best SCC Scorers

Final State College Conference basketball statistics announced recently revealed that Stevens Point ranked sixth on offense, fourth on defense and had five players on the list of top scorers in the conference.

Coach Bob Krueger's surprising cagers finished in a second place tie with Superior behind champion La Crosse. The Indians compiled an 11-1 record, while WSC and Superior each had 8-4.

Stevens Point also had one of the better over-all records among SCC quintets. The Pointers won 14 of 22 starts to rank behind La Crosse which had a tremendous 20-2 season and Whitewater which sported an 11-6 mark. Only three top teams compiled a season record better than .500.

Offensively, Stevens Point scored 994 points for an 82.8 average, sixth best in the 10-team circuit. La Crosse led with a 95.8 pace. The Pointers netted 370 field goals, seventh high, and sank 254 free throws, third best.

On defense, Stevens Point allowed 975 points, an average of 81.3, to rank fourth. River Falls led with a 78.9 average, closely followed by La Crosse with 79.8. The Pointers allowed 356 field goals, the fewest of any team in the conference, but permitted 263 free throws, the highest number in the league.

In the individual scoring, forward Jerry Lawetzki was the leading Pointer, emitting 199 points in 21 games for an eighth place (tie) finish. Lawetzki, a sophomore from West Allis, tossed in 72 field goals and 55 free throws for a 16.6 average.

The SCC scoring title was won by Chuck Barnard, Superior center, who came on strong late in the season to wind up with 279 points, two more than Doug Potter of La Crosse. Jim Jaeger of Oshkosh made it a close three-way race by chalking up 270. Barnard led in field goals with 107 while Potter had 106 and Pete Huus, Eau Claire forward who ranked fourth, 105.

Jaeger's 76 free throws led that department while Larry Tranberg of La Crosse was second with 67.

Following Huus in the point derby were Tranberg with 239, Erv Henderson of Platteville with 206, Bob Budgins of Whitewater with 202, Lawetzki and Dennis Kocs of UW-Milwaukee with 199 each and Ken McBride of Stout with 181.

Four other Pointers ranked with the scoring leaders. Guard Bill Borchardt was 15th with 164 points, guard Grant White 31st with 121, forward Mike Fortune 39th with 109 and center Wes Zuege 42nd with 103.

Borcherdt Chosen For All-Conference Team

Wisconsin State College's Bill Borcherdt was one of ten players picked Friday for the all-conference team by SCC coaches.

Borcherdt, a 6-0 sophomore from Kaukauna, wound up fifteenth in conference scoring, despite the fact that he missed a league tilt due to illness. In his 11 starts, he hit 164 points, a 14.9 average. For the season, he scored 279 points, a 13.3 average over-all.

At times, his outside shooting was near phenomenal as he dropped in dropped in baskets consistently from 20 feet and beyond. In addition to his sharp-shooting, he was a fine floor man, capable of breaking up a pressing defense with his ball-handling ability.

The team includes two members of the La Crosse squad, which won the conference title. They are Larry Tranberg and Doug Potter. Also on the squad is Chuck Barnard, Superior sophomore, who won the scoring title with 279 points.

Pointers Grapplers Lose NAIA Matches

Stevens Point College's four entries in the NAIA Wrestling Tournament at Spearfish, S. D., recently, all lost opening round matches.

WSC was represented by Tod Wise at 123 pounds, Rich Sommer at 137, Larry Ironside at 157 and Pete Seiler at 177.

Wise lost to Doug Dufty of Concordia College of Moorhead, Minn., 3-1. The Pointer entry suffered a head cut in the second round which required three stitches to close but he came back to finish the match. Dufty scored a first period takedown and third period escape while Wise escaped in the second period. Dufty had a 19-2 record entering the match.

Sommer was a 2-0 victim of Raphael Gonshorowski of Moorhead State. The winner, who had a 10-0 record, scored the only points of the match on a first period takedown.

Ironside, who was ill part of the preceding week and not up to par, was pinned by John Owens of Bloomsburg, Pa., State in 7:39. The Point grappler was on the short end of a 5-2 score at the time.

Seiler fell, 7-4, to Ray Resavage of Bloomsburg. He trailed by only a 5-4 count going into the third period, but Resavage scored a takedown and Seiler was unable to close the gap.

"It was a great tournament with very fine wrestling displayed. Our boys all did a good job against strong opposition," commented Pointer coach Bill Burns.

Only three State College Conference wrestlers finished among the leaders. Bob Waltzer of La Crosse took fourth at heavy-weight, Glenn Hardy of Stout fourth at 177 and Joe Semrad of Oshkosh sixth at 115.

The meet was won by Moorhead State with 65 points, Lockhaven, Pa., was second with 62, Indiana State third with 45 and defending champion, Bloomsburg, fourth with 40.
