Here's Who Said What About That

Last week the Pointer printed rules 1,2,3, and 6 of the 1964 WSU Homecoming Constitution. In point number 2 it was stated that the constitution has caused considerable concern in the Student Council. Rule number three reads as follows: "Each candidate must be sponsored by a campus organization."

In an endeavor to print the news factually, and without bias we here print the notes of Carla Schultz, Secretary of the Student Council, on the first three meetings which all bear relevancy to the issue. This is due to the fact that this is happening. These are the facts.

5:00 P.M.

On October 8, 1964 at 5:00 p.m. the Student Council Executive Committee met with the Inter-Hall Council, which is composed of the president of each hall.

The purpose of the meeting: The Student Council wanted to know the plans of Inter-Hall for Homecoming.

The following was said by Inter-Hall: They had recently held a meeting of the Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Hall to elect a queen candidate. Their reason for running a candidate as a group was for financial reasons. They, then put the question up to run or not run. The Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Hall voted to run a candidate. They had, in an individual hall, Smith, may run a candidate yet this year. The present Inter-Hall Council stated that in writing their constitution it would be 31 high schools instead of just one. Inter-Hall Council in theory considers the halls running a candidate. They did feel that the halls ran a candidate more students would be more actively involved in Homecoming.

6:00 P.M.

On October 8, 1964 at 6:00 p.m. a meeting of the Student Council Executive Committee with school organizations concerning Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Hall took place.

Discussion started on what constitutes an organization. The administration now determines what an organization is and the Student Council has to be what they say. The administration recognizes the individual halls as organizations and it recognizes Inter-Hall as an organization.

The meeting proceeded with the reading of the Homecoming rules. After reading rule number 3 which is: "Each candidate must be sponsored by a campus organization," questions arose.

It was said that there should be equal and fair representation concerning a possible sponsor for Homecoming. The organization of the Rules Committee was then explained. It was pointed out that everyone is to run or not run a candidate. It was suggested that the Student Council should be two representatives from the involved organization on the Rules Committee.

Rule number three was in the rules in the past and it was supposed that the hall that run a candidate being caused by the Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Hall to elect a candidate. The rule number three states that the halls, the hall council in the rules being run or not run a candidate must be discussed. An oversight was made in that there was no deadline for running a candidate. The halls then made their point that they were not running a candidate this year.

Mr. Hatcher talked on organization recognition. Because of a lack of sufficient students present, the one to one idea if a group was recognized as an organization.

It was pointed out that this year's rules were made from a guide of last year's. No radical changes were made.

The following pointed out: Freshmen are a part of Homecoming, but they have only been here six weeks and they lack knowledge, experience, etc., so they should be spectators. If each hall runs a candidate, who would the Greeks appeal to for votes. If this happens the essence of Homecoming will be ruined. The Greeks will drop out if this happens and what will happen to candidates. The Frosh really don't know what they are getting into. The convention presented a case of the Inter-Fraternity-Inter-Hall. The rules better be revised soon. There should be equal and fair representation on the Rules Committee. If this is not done, drastic measures will be taken.

It was pointed out that the halls have looked into this and they are not running a candidate this year. The problem should be making rules for next year. Inter-Hall spoke on the points they discussed of running a queen candidate this year. They saw they contributed a certain amount of money to the Homecoming campaigns and they expected to make a profit. They then discussed of running a queen candidate this year. They saw they contributed a certain amount of money to the Homecoming campaigns and they expected to make a profit.

To show Homecoming interests the halls are planning decorations outside their dormitories. The halls are divided into sections, more people see it and more enjoyment is derived out of it. They said they are not trying to be unfair to the Greeks and they thought of the positions of the Greeks in not putting up a candidate. The Greeks have not run a candidate this year.

Discussion on deadline for candidates. If someone had asked for it, it would have been put in. After this meeting a suggestion was made that the Student Council should discuss the problem. The question was asked if a hall was running a candidate this year. The main problem was one of numbers vs. Greeks. It was said all halls could never run a candidate because they couldn't afford it. Then it was stated by a hall member that it was not a point of money. Question: Is each student as loyal to a hall as a fraternity man is to his fraternity? It was felt the... (continued on page 2)
The New Challenge

The Pointer

EDITORIALS

This year you are reading a new POINTER. It is new because its philosophy is new, its goals are new, and its challenge is new.

Soon St. Augustine will host a University. You, the students, are part of this University, and we, the POINTER staff, are dedicated to serve the University which is you. In order to do this effectively we need policies to operate under and goals to strive for. Here are the policies and goals for the 1964-65 POINTER.

1) We will print as much news as is pertinent to the student body and as there is room for.
2) We will print both sides of an issue.
3) We will print the opinions of students on any reasonable topic.
4) We will print editorialists that will be the position of the staff on various topics which are neither chosen by nor necessarily the position of the advisors.
5) We will reprint, from time to time, articles which have appeared in periodicals or newspapers if we feel that they have a bearing on the WSU students.

The goals for which we are striving are as follows:

1) To keep the students, faculty, and interested citizens up to date on campus activities and affairs.
2) To be an effective forum for student opinion.
3) To broaden the scope of many who will soon be living away from this University.
4) To be a forum for the student population for their great fulfillment.
5) We feel that most readers are not conscious of what this article implies and that it is a political article. As it now seems to be put as the notion of the paper and the student body which is supposed to represent. I hope you will not feel this criticism seriously because it causes others the way I do.

Richard Weasel

Mr. Richberg's qualifications were stated in the last issue of the POINTER. However, with your second point you raise a legitimate argument. What place does an article such as "Compulsory Unionism" have in our student newspaper? It is a political article which we had no place in the PWC paper.

There is a place for an article with a new philosophy, and new goals. The 1964-65 POINTER is supposed to broaden the scope of the activities.

We are not so much concerned with the fraternities' personal lives, with sitting in, with jello as with their policies. We feel that such matters should be left to the Greek House which has been set up for this purpose.

Please read the editorial, "The New Challenge."

Halls Challenge Greeks Question Place of Frats.

On almost every University campus in the U.S., the major events are sponsored by fraternities. This year this activity is going on for the first time with a "great fun" and of broadening their educational, cultural, and social activities. The fraternities have been asked to come to a decision on running the Halls.

During the past two weeks a controversy has developed on our campus, one that concerns every student at W.S.U., and one that we shall attempt to clarify at this time.

In the past years, the fraternities have been asked to come to a decision, the nominees for Queen were chosen, and all for all to witness. This year, Inter-Hall Council, while considering the majority of the students, suggested that these Halls together sponsor one candidate. This idea was met with opposition from the fraternities and from the majority of the Greeks. This is a question of opinion of many since the Inter-Hall Council is not headed by majority of Greeks, these students would vote as a "block," thus overwhelming the fraternities. Inter-Hall Council decided that a candidate would be voted on them but that it would be left up to the discretion of the representatives of the exception of Smith Hall, and that no candidate would be allowed to run a candidate.

The student Council realizing that there was a conflict with the Inter-Hall Council, met with any interested organization at 6:00 p.m. the same evening with the Inter-Hall Council in presence of the Residence Halls for homecoming. After these two groups had met in an attempt to settle the disagreements between the fraternity and the Residence Halls. Although the students were successful in their attempt as mediator, there were no clear cut decisions resolved at that meeting. It was decided that the fraternities were divided in their opinion.

On Sunday Oct. 2, at 6:45 p.m. the formal statement was issued to the student body and the President of Student Councils and member of the Inter-Hall Council. From the Inter-Hall Council to the Residence Halls and the Inter-Hall Council.

In the past two weeks the Inter-Hall Council has come under a lot of fire. The fraternity system is the best organized, the most effective, and the most efficient means of producing the type of Homecoming we desire. The Inter-Hall Council and the Residence Halls, have agreed to work together and welcome the alumni back. This meeting will not go on the past, but shouldn't we all work together for the good of ourselves with the present? Today, the Greeks of our campus are facing a new struggle, a struggle that is necessary, beneficial, and an undisputed asset on this campus, it is a struggle that is necessary, beneficial, and an undisputed asset.

Here's Who Said It

person isn't as loyal to the hall, but then again he is not any more loyal to the Greeks. The statement was made that the students are interested in the fraternities and that the fraternity has arrived and they would vote for their candidate. It was made clear that the Greeks are not trying to win the election except for Smith, Smith Hall is interested and they would like to. They voted it over to Inter-Hall, but now Inter-Hall won't so Smith might not have a chance.

It was pointed out that Homecoming is for the Alumni and we should not be concerned with having the Greeks involved in Homecoming or have their candidate.

A bowl of things. Creatures of arms and legs — And little mind. A bowl of jumping, sprawling things. These grip. These scratch. And these fall back. To enlarge the pile Of arms and legs — And little mind. Red eyes search. Blood mouths scream. They crawl up and fall back. The pile grows larger. And the edge grows nearer. Circles the last circle of little mind. He sees up and he crawls. He makes the escape — The first of his kind To fall into the larger bowl. A larger bowl of things. Final tabulations have been made on the 1964 Bloodmobile campaign. WSU won the contest by contributing 207 pints of blood as compared to the county’s 183. Earning special merit however, are Smith Hall and its drive director, Mike Hansen. Smith Hall alone added 118 pints of the WSU total. Some wins reported that 90% gave blood.

War And Peace...

It’s usual on the eve of every war for the two leaders of the people concerned to meet privately in some innocent village on a terrace in a garden overlooking a lake. And they decide together that war is the world’s worst scourge, and a solution of all the rippling reflections in the water, with magnolia petals dropping onto their shoulders, they both of them peace-lovin’, modest and friendly...and when their meeting is over, they shake hands in a most jocose manner, and say to one another, “And the next day war breaks out.”

Shophores Speak Out

This is the campus... these are the sophomores... and here are the facts. Only the names have been changed to protect those who run off at the mouth.

To the question: "How does WIU strike you this year?" Jean Belongia replied candidly, "This year it seems that it's harder to make friends. Everything is so spread out, it gives you a feeling that you're going to a bigger school. About the main thing I don't like about it is that there are so many boys at the Union cafeteria — and all they do is sit there and stare!"

"Oh, love that ratio!" laughed one of her friends.

Well, I didn't intend to cover the boy situation so soon, but since we're on the subject, the question is: "How does the boy situation appear to you junior sophomores?"

"I think it's great!" says our happy friend who likes the 2:1 ratio at the Union.

"I think it's sad," says another.

"The boys are not only uninteresting, but they're uninteresting!"

Nan Daniels took the time to explain her feelings on the subject: "Yes, most of the boys on this campus are uninterested. But perhaps they're not entirely at fault. After all, who wants to notice a girl who goes to class, to lunch, to the library, or just about every place else wearing beat-up tennis shoes, cut-offs, and a baggy sweatshirt?"

Shyness and laces are out of place on campus, but whatever happened to just plain neatness? (You might apply this to some of the fellows, too!)

Next question: "Anything else, girls? Come on, release those explosive tensions."

"Oh! The boys around here are so polite!" exclaimed Jean. "I can't decide which one I should hold the door open for!"

"Yeah," agreed another irritated sophomore girl. "If you walk down the sidewalk, the girls would get trapped while the boys decide to move!"

So much for gentlemen! Now, for the next amusing question: "What else?"

I don't like the idea of dis-constituting the mail boxes at Old Main," went one remark, while another came rather coolly, "I didn't even know we had them."

"Why don't they enlarge the library?" quizzed one sophomore.

"Here they are, spending millions on new dorms and other buildings to manage the increase in enrollment when the library is packed now."

Question: "Any political statements?"

"I think Goldwater should be president!" said one unbiased student.

"You're crazy!" said another.

Of course, America had often been discovered before, but it had always been hashed up.

Oscar Wilde
Point Symphony Orchestra To Perform

An exciting young talent who has studied in Europe and the faculty of Wisconsin State University will be introduced to Stevens Point concert-goers for the first time Thursday evening, Oct. 13, at 8 p.m. in the University Gymnasium, when the Stevens Point Symphony Orchestra presents the first concert of the 1964-65 season featuring the Canadian pianist, Jack Cohan.

Dr. Hugo Marple, conductor and head of the University's music department, said that the major symphony on the program will be performed by the orchestra's first program in 1964-65.

First in C major, Mr. Cohan will be on piano, and will play Concerto Number 2 in F minor by Chopin. Two light-hearted pieces round out the orchestra's program: "If I Were King" during the 1963 summer, Dance Numbers 3 and 4, by Dvorak.

Orchestra patrons will be admitted on presentation of their season tickets. These tickets entitle not only graduate programs during the regular academic year, the Board of Regents to all concerts.

On all nine WSU campuses, the presentating of the 30,000 includes 569 graduate students. Most of the graduate students are enrolled classes on Saturday mornings.

All of the State Universities now offer fall graduation programs for elementary schools and high schools to take graduate work in their fields at any of the State University and to transfer up to 15 hours to the State University of Wisconsin at one WSU to another.

Of the 569 graduate students enrolled in the elementary schools and high schools, 65 and 155 women are in the new program for elementary school teachers.

The others are enrolled in specialized graduate programs offered for many years at La Crosse, Superior and Stout State University and in the State University of Wisconsin. Other WSUs are at Eau Claire, Oshkosh, Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point and Whitemap.

Last summer, the second summer session of the graduate program, saw 1,503 classroom teachers working toward their Master's degrees. The first degrees under the program were granted at the end of the 1964 summer session, to eight men and 10 women, and the winner of the Manitoba Music Teachers Association Scholarship Competition. Also in 1959 he achieved a Master's degree in music, attainable by young Canadian artists when he was awarded the Music Scholarship Board of Music Traveling Scholarship, based on the difficult Licenciate Examination.

Mr. Cohan has appeared as guest soloist with the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra. His professional engagements include the preparations of search station CJAY-TV in Winnipeg and piano examiner for the University of Manitoba, as well as private and public school teaching.

Mr. Cohan can be reached out of the United States to pursue his advanced degrees in music at Indiana University. He has received his Master's Degree in piano and is currently nearing the end of his work toward the Doctor of Music Degree. His major field is in literature and with performance with minor fields of music history and literature. Mr. Cohan is Licenciate and Licentiate diplomas of the Royal Conservatory of Music in the Associate diploma from the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto. His teacher at Indiana University is Menahem Pressler, internationally famous concert pianist.

Volunteer Workers Wanted
by Louis Cussens

Wanted: Men and women over 18 for difficult work in grim surroundings. Must be willing to live in slums. Long hours guaranteed.

Would you respond to that kind of "help wanted" ad? If so, VISTA is looking for you.

VISTA is a new program of the Peace Corps, which is being established as part of the war on poverty. It stands for "Volunteers in Service to America."

The anti-poverty legislation authorizes Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity to recruit 5,000 VISTA volunteers. Applications are being accepted by VISTA Box 1847, Washington, D.C.

DUTY IN APPALACHIA, NOT AFGHANISTAN

"This is in many ways a bigger challenge than the Peace Corps" he said.

The workers won't have the glamour of serving in a far-off country. They'll be doing the same sort of thing that peace corps members do -- but in Appalachia instead of Afghanistan, in Harlem instead of Kenya."

VISTA volunteers will sign up for one year. After four to six weeks of training, they will be assigned to a wide variety of rural and urban projects.

Some will go to Indian reservations to help build desperately needed sanitation facilities for people who have the highest disease and death rate in America. Some will live among migrant farm workers, providing education and health care for children who are often put to work in the fields at the age of 6 or 7.

There will be VISTA volunteers in city slums, operating day-care centers for the children of working mothers; conducting literacy classes for unemployed adults who cannot read or write; helping poor and ignorant people to fight their way through the morass of bureaucratic tape which often prevents them from receiving public health and welfare services.

Some will go to rural areas and try to help farmers who suffer from a chronic shortage of manpower to apply to VISTA for help. Special priority will be given to community agencies serving the mentally ill and mentally retarded.

RETIRED PEOPLE. MARRIED COUPLES ELIGIBLE

"The only absolute requirement is that they be more than 18 years old," said Ferguson. "There is no upper-age limit. We'll take retired people."

We will also welcome married couples -- including those with children under 15 if they are willing to have their families live for a year in the environment of poverty.

"We can use a great variety of skills -- nurses, teachers, social workers, farmers, carpenters ... in all, more than 100 occupations."

We also can use young people, housewives, retired businessmen who know how to do something -- from teaching a youngster to swim to helping a mountain family start a vegetable garden. The one basic requirement is that they care enough about poor people enough to share their life and try to help them."

We don't want any 19 to 5 volunteers who want to return to middle-class America every evening. One lesson we learned in the Peace Corps is that you can't impart skills and insights to people until you have established a basis of friendship with them.

"To make a real contribution to the poor, a volunteer must learn to know them as human beings -- and be accepted by them as a fellow human being rather than a condescending outsider!"

JOBCORPS CAMP ALSO TO NEED TEACHERS

In addition to VISTA volunteers, Shriver's fledging agency is seeking applications from teachers and counselors to serve on the staffs of the Job Corps camps which will be set up across the nation this fall to provide remedial education and work experience for youths 16 to 22 who are out of school and out of work.

About 750 teachers and counselors are needed for the first year of the program. They will be paid professional salaries, ranging from $5,000 to $7,000, a year. Although a teaching certificate is not a rigid requirement, priority in hiring will go to those with training or experience.

"The most important qualification" said James Gillis, an aide to Shriver, "is that they be sensitive, understanding, flexible people, free of social or racial bias and willing to tackle the challenging assignment of teaching youngsters who have failed or dropped out of regular schools."

Applications may be submitted by mail to the Job Corps, Box 100, Washington, 25, D.C.

Compulsory Unionism: The New Slavery

By the late Donald B. Ricketts, distinguished attorney, author of Railway Labor Act

3. The free rider argument: Much public stress is laid on the argument that union activity is chiefly a free-rider project, since union workers of a class, all such workers should be compelled to contribute to the cost of maintaining the union activities.

The third defense is also both fundamentally unSound and highly deceptive as to the facts. The argument is that unionism weakens the voluntary character of our society voluntary organizations carry on activities which benefit the group as a whole, and the union is like any other. Fraternal organizations, churches, civic and political organizations raise money, organize work, and carry on the work for the benefit of the group. But how absurd it would be to suggest that whenever a voluntary organization was attempting to bring about unionism it should be enjoined to compel them by law or by economic pressure to contribute.

The argument is also highly deceptive for three reasons. First, only a part of the dues and assessments of the unions is devoted to maintaining their activities. The unions spend a great many of their funds for such as political campaigns, social and economic propaganda, insurance, wages of a fourth of the time to support the office of the union. Second, the real object of forcing all workers to join unions is, as the union leaders themselves admit, not so much to compel them to pay their share of an expense, as to compel them to put their share of an expense, as to compel them to put their share of the management of their own affairs. The third, the unions sought and obtained by law a special privilege — the right to represent any minority of non-member employees in the plant. It is said that if any group of workers are not free to organize as a union and to have the union contracted to take any steps for their benefit, then there is a violation of their rights.

The unions believe that non-union employees, who cannot be disciplined by discipline of the plant, do not contribute to the union and are not responsible to the employer because they will not live up to contract obligations.

The argument is a fraudulent because the non-union employee is just as much bound as the union employee to carry out the agreements of the contract. Also, without being made a member of the union, the independent workers are just as much affected by the rules as a union member. If he breaks contract obligations, or refuses to obey management orders, he can be and will be disciplined by the employer as much as any other employee. He will be given the same notice as a union member.

The third defense is a special privilege for the unions to carry on the activities of the union. The argument is that the unions are like any other voluntary organization that the union officials in whatever positions they may take which is antagonistic to management. Speaking Of Sports

by Duane Clark

Since many students have been wondering just what authority the four men in the black-and-white striped shirts have on the field during a football game, this issue I would like to introduce you to the authorized officials of a football game. They are the referee, the umpire, the line judge, and the field judge. All officials have concurrent jurisdiction over any foul and each of them should be available for the proper conduct of the game and enforcement of the rules.

The referee has general supervision and control of the game and has the final authority in decisions not assigned to another official. Before the game, the referee inspects and approves the ball, inspects the field, and arranges for any ground rules which may be necessary if there is a deviation from the standard construction or marking.

He is responsible for having the ball legally put in play and he has the final authority in determining the position and progress of the ball. When the ball becomes dead, he sounds his whistle, and in case of doubt, designates where the ball became dead.

The umpire has primary jurisdiction over legality of equipment and timing. He starts and stops the clock. He also notifies the referee when time has expired for any period and notifies the captains of both teams through the referee when approximately four minutes remain in each half.

In cooperation with the linesman, he observes whether ineligible players illegally advance beyond the neutral zone on a forward pass which goes beyond the line of scrimmage and whether there is any illegal interference during a short forward pass.

For a snap, the umpire's normal position is on the defensive side of the line of scrimmage.

The linesman has primary jurisdiction over legality of action in the neutral zone or on the lines of scrimmage. He also rules on legality of the action of the defensive players in the use of their hands or arms on a prospective pass receiver.

Prior to the game, the linesman sets up machinery (yardage stakes, down marker) for marking the position of the ball for the distance to be gained and any necessary measurement to determine whether the ball has been advanced to the line of scrimmage.

For a snap, the linesman's normal position is on the neutral zone and outside all players but as near the ball as possible without hindering the action of any caps.

The field judge rules on action which is in advance of other officials. If the ball becomes dead in his vicinity, he immediately gives the dead ball signal accompanied by the sounding of his whistle.

For a snap, the field judge is on the side opposite the linesman. On any field goal attempt, the field judge moves to a position before the snap. These are the officials. The duties mentioned are by no means all the ones they have, but they are the most important ones that are faced with a game.

If you still find it difficult to believe the big job these four men are faced with, then look at it this way. One wrong decision or one simple mistake by these four officials and they are confronted with two strong teams of rugged college football players, very unhappy coaches, and a stadium packed with angry people screaming. "Let's kill the 'ref'!"

Cross Country Pointers Drop Three

Under the coaching of Mr. Don Hoff, graduate of Platteville, M.S., at the University of Wisconsin, and former football coach at Portage, W. S. U.'s cross country team started training on Sept. 14, 1964 for their first meet with Oshkosh and La Crosse, Sept. 26 at the Stevens Point Country Club.

With the return of two lettermen, Jeff Barsh and Tom Frank, and some promising freshmen, Don Cepina (Stevens Point), Dick Berry (Rockford, Ill.) and Paul La Mere (Green Bay), the Pointers took second place running close behind La Crosse 26-4, and far in front of Oshkosh 40-52.

Running first through sixth were: D. Cepina 16:08 (P), T. Deex 16:24 (O), D. Ehler 16:50 (L), J. Nyarki 16:54 (P), L. Morrison 17:09 (L), P. La Mere 17:28 (P). In the Pointers second meet, Oct. 3 against U.W.M., there, the Pointers lost by three points 29-26, on a wind blown course. Bob Menihan (U.W.M.) crossed the finish line a breath ahead of our outstanding runner Don Cepina by four tenths of a second, 15:29 - 15:30. W.S.U. held three of the top five places, but still failed to get enough points to win.

In the meet against Marquette, here, Tuesday, Oct. 6 the Pointers lost, being edged out 29-27. Don Cepina again took the number one spot, running 15:46.5.

The Pointers took the first two places with Marquette running 3:45 and Point sixth.

Saturday, Oct. 10, the Pointers went to Platteville for their fourth meet of the season. Platteville being a little faser then Poin won the meet by 13 points.

Schedules:

Tuesday, Oct. 13 - Carroll College Invitational
Saturday, Oct. 17 - Lawrence University
Saturday, Oct. 24 - Whitewater Invitational
Saturday, Oct. 32 - W.S.U., at Platteville

Logan Pearsall Smith

It was a non-smoker who committed suicide and put an end to the plagues of death into the world and all our woes which was a non-smoker.

Lady Macbeth was a non-smoker. Decisively, the record of th enth non-smoker was then found to be pro of.

Robert Lynd

Nowadays, even a suicide kills himself in desperation. Frequently taking the step he deliberates so long and so carefully that he literally chokes with thoughts. It is even questionable whether he ought to be called a criminal mind. For in a normal mind, he acts which takes his life. He does not die with deliberation, but from deliberate desire.

Halls vs. Greeks

(Continued from page 2) must be realized that this system can no longer offer the majority of the student body the opportunity to be engaged in a meaningful and perhaps illegal participation. Could the solution to this problem be the establishment of new philosophy which is now being honored but which offers the opportunity to be engaged in Halls to consider? They have heard the new philosophy and are aware of the possibility of joining one of participation for the majority. Whether or not this activity is considered a party must be considered. Can the fraternities, on their campus (250 or 360) provide adequate active and integral participation to over 3000 W.S.U. students? If not, then this job should be handled by the body of concerned students through their Residence Halls.

The Residence Halls have the equipment, the funds, and the necessary expertise to make this happen. This activity could be brought under some phase of the administration. Students could be taught the basics of this activity by someone from the administration. Students could be taught the basics of this activity by someone from the administration.

For the benefit of the members of the Pointers, a meeting was held this past Thursday night (9:00 p.m.) in Mr. Mulhearn's residence hall. The discussion centered around the current activities in the residence halls. The meeting was well attended and the members of the Pointers were able to look at the current activities in each hall, and discuss the problems they faced.

In conclusion, the Pointers would like to encourage all members of the Greek system to consider the Pointers as an alternative to the current activities.
