

President Announces Student Government Days

A proclamation signed by President Albertson last Friday officially announced the observance of Student Government Days which will be held at WSU next week, Mar. 8-11.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the purpose of Student Government Days is three-fold. First, it plans to bring to the attention of the student body their responsibilities in student governing activities. Second, the responsibilities and potentialities of the Student Council will be emphasized. And third, the student elections on Thursday will underscore the importance of the student in his government.

The week's schedule includes meetings, coffee hours, and group discussions, all designed to fulfill the above mentioned purposes. Monday from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., coffee and cookies will be served in the Main Lounge of the University Center. Displays will be set up around the lounge showing student council representation, the election of representatives, and the various activities which concern Student Council participation.

Audubon—"Teton Trails"

"Teton Trails," a film in the Audubon series, will be presented in the Auditorium on Wed., Mar. 10, at 8:00 p.m. Students will be admitted upon presentation of activity cards. Mr. Charles Hotchkiss will narrate his film.

He is interested in recreation and wildlife management and has worked in Grand Teton, Mt. McKinley, and Everglades National Parks where he spent much of his time filming for the National Park Service. He studied the lives and habits of various birds and animals.

In this film, he captures the beauty of the magnificent Teton Range which lifts abruptly from the valley to a height of over 10,000 feet near Jackson Hole, Wyoming. The mountains take on different aspects depending upon the time of day.

In his film, he follows the many animals, large and small, who forged the first trails in this isolated valley. He visits Indian villages and examines artifacts from the tribes who spent their summers hunting and fishing in the shadows of the Tetons. A dramatic climax to the film is the climbing of the Grand Teton, the highest peak of the range.

Today, the main trails of the Teton Range are maintained in the Grand Teton National Park, where they still lure those seeking the solitude and adventure of the wilderness.

MR. C. HOTCHKISS

tion. Also being shown will be many of the problems facing the WSU campus. These include the formation of a student court, the initiation of an honor system, and the evaluation of courses offered at this school.

Candidates running for offices will also be present as well as current members of the Student Council. This will provide the WSU student body with a chance to meet the candidates and discuss the issues of most importance of them.

A brochure to be distributed around campus Monday will explain the remainder of the week's activities. Included is an open, regularly scheduled Student Council meeting at 6:00 p.m., Tuesday, in Rooms 21-22 at the University Center. The topic up for discussion will be the plans for next year's Homecoming Week activities. Everyone is cordially invited to attend and bring their suggestions and comments.

On Wednesday, another coffee hour will be held at the Center Lounge from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. The candidates will again be present throughout the day to answer questions and discuss their platforms. That evening at 8:00 p.m. in the Center Lounge, a meeting will be held to discuss expanding representation on the Council to include not only students from each class and the general student body, but also to include students from the various campus interest groups.

Thursday will climax the four day observance with elections being held for president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the Student Council; three representatives from each of the classes; and president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of each class. Voting will be held at the Snack Bar in the University Center from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. and at Allen Center from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Winners names will be announced on the Snack Bar bulletin board that evening about 8:00 p.m.

The requirements for running for an office are as follows: all candidates must have a 2.25 overall grade point average; petitions, including 25 student signatures for the position of class officer or Student Council representative, and 50 student signatures for Student Council officer candidates; and a written statement stating their reason for seeking office and their qualifications to be turned in by 9:00 a.m., Friday, Mar. 5, 1965. Campaigning will begin at 7:00 a.m. Monday, Mar. 8, 1965.

U.C.B. Plans Hawaiian Luau

The University Center Board Social Committee is presenting an "Hawaiian Luau" Dinner-Dance on Sat., Mar. 13. This semi-formal event promises to be one of the highlights of the school year.

The evening will start with cocktails in the Center Lounge at 6:45. The "Hawaiian Luau" dinner will be served in the Center Cafeteria at 7:15. After dinner, music will be provided in the Center Lounge until midnight.

Place your reservation by buying a ticket at the Kennel. The tickets, which include cocktails, dinner and dancing, are only $3.75 a couple. They will go on sale Wed., Mar. 3.

Budget Hike For State Universities

More than 97 per cent of the proposed budget to operate the nine Wisconsin State Universities for the next two years is needed to keep up with expected enrollment growth, the Board of Regents office in Madison reports.

A hearing on the State University system budget before the legislature's joint committee on finance was scheduled for Thurs. afternoon, Feb. 25.

The total recommended by the Governor for the two years is $110 million, of which $2.8 million or 2.6 per cent is earmarked to change the present level of operations or start new services, said Eugene R. McPhee, Director of State Universities.

The budget presented to the finance committee includes these points: A total of $59 million in state tax funds is recommended for the two year period. The budget was cut about $9 million from the request for tax funds approved by the Board of Regents and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, most of it by trimming or eliminating requested increases in present operating levels. The 1963-65 budget included $35 million in tax funds.

In addition to the $59 million in tax funds, the budget provides for $51 million of revenue from student fees and self-sustaining operations such as residence halls and food services.

A recommended fee increase of $16 for the academic year and would bring total fees and textbook rental charges at the nine State Universities to approximately $275 a year for residents and $615 a year for nonresidents.

The fee increase would be partially offset by an increase in legislative scholarships available to qualified students.

Enrollments at the State Universities are expected to increase from approximately 30,000 last fall to 44,000 in Sept. 1966. The State Universities for the first time expect to be enrolling more than half the total undergraduates entering state supported higher education institutions.

In the 1966-67 school year, the State Universities expect to enroll 1,480 graduate students.

Funds are included to increase the average pay for student help to $1.10 an hour. At present it averages 95 cents to $1 an hour.

Sixteen new academic buildings will go into operation during the two year period on the nine campuses of Eau Claire, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Platteville, River Falls, Stevens Point, Stout (Menomonie), Superior and Whitewater.

Arts And Lecture Series Strives For Improvement

A series of programs of the sort second only to those of University of Wisconsin was the way Mr. William Dawson described WSU's Arts and Lecture Series. Mr. Dawson holds the position of Director of the Arts and Lecture Series for which he has final responsibility, though he has the advice of a student-faculty committee when necessary. This series includes the Audubon films, the Nickelodeon series, and the more familiar stage presentations in the auditorium and the fieldhouse, including orchestras, soloists, and the various other events. The problems faced in the presentation of these programs include money (approximately half of which comes from student allocations), facilities, and the kind of programs that will be attended by the student body in sufficient numbers to justify the expenditure.

Mr. Dawson admits that there is now no real balance between the "Arts" and the "Lecture" but the latter is weak for some good reasons. First, the attendance at such functions has been very low and any further experiments will have to wait because, second, the amount of money available at this time is too small to permit full development of both areas. In addition, it was pointed out that modern methods of communication leave the student with little familiarity of classical forms. Just about any night on television one can find an expert speaking about his favorite topic or some popular art form. This does not explain the lack of such events as ballet. These are not programmed because our facilities are inadequate. The fieldhouse needs substantial improvement and the auditorium is too small.

In concluding, Mr. Dawson pointed out that in the near future the position he holds will become full time and the Series will become more balanced and better housed. His final advice was to simply go and enjoy the program and not to worry about consciously learning wonderful new facts or theories. Between now and the time the Arts and Lecture Series reaches the dreams Mr. Dawson has for it, we'll just have to be satisfied with the second best series in the state.

Library Acquires Old Newspapers

What good is yesterday's news? The answer is obvious. Yesterday's newspapers become historical documents over a long period of time. The library received about 500 volumes of old Chicago Tribunes, weighing from fifteen to twenty pounds each, from the Wisconsin Historical Society in Madison. At present these hard-back historical documents are in the tunnel and have been there for more than a week. Mr. Kam-perma, Director of the Library, expressed hope of storing the papers in one of the rooms presently occupied by the Center.

The papers date back to 1866 and are of particular importance because of the 1920 decade material, the "jazz age." Whether you're interested in tracing the history of crime in Chicago, reading about Al Capone and Elliott Ness, or just thumbing through the pages at random, these papers should prove both interesting, stimulating, and useful. These newspapers are available to both faculty and students.

Mardi Gras Coming

The UCB Social Committee and International Students Organization have combined their efforts and talents to present an International Mardi Gras on Sat., Mar. 6. Allen Center will be the scene and 8:00 p.m. is the time. International and American music will be played. The highlights of the evening will be dances given by the foreign exchange students representing their countries. Admission is only two bits.

Recital Scheduled

Mr. Paul Tarbeck's Chamber Orchestra performance is to be given May 11 and not Mar. 7 as was stated on the Student Calendar.

However, a Student Recital is scheduled prior to this larger performance. The tentative date is Wed. Mar. 10 at 3:45. The numbers to be played are as follows: "The January-February March" by Don Gillis, "Symphony in C" by Carl Von Dittersdorf, "Night Soliloquy" (for flute and strings) by Ken Kennan, and a solo number by Paul Beyerl on the flute.

Mr. Tarabek said that any students interested in credit or non-credit musical work should sign up for next semester. He is especially interested in string students.

The

PODIUM

University Casino

There is a group of students on this campus with special privileges. These students are not members of any organization or service that gives them a reason for being so privileged.

These people are allowed to put their feet up on the tables and chairs in the University Center. They are not reprimanded for throwing trays of dishes and food on the floor. Don't you wish we were all allowed to do this?

Without going any further you know I am referring to the card room. Is this "quiet games" room necessary?

I have seen few girls in this room, the language is not complimentary to them.

There is GAMBLING going on in this room (?). Page 54 of the student handbook makes clear the University's standing on this subject.

I feel that each student should be treated equally! Either the whole student body should be allowed such free and liberal use of the University Center (which would be folly) or these "privileged ones" should be made to conform to the norms.

Next time you are in the Center, stop for a look at this card room.

President's Proclamation

FEBRUARY 26, 1965

by Don Hammes

I hereby proclaim the days of Mar. 8-11 as Student Government Days at Wisconsin State University at Stevens Point.

In that the Student Council is made up of 0.7% of the student body, and is invested with numerous duties and powers concerning student participation in college affairs, I would emphatically urge that each student use his vote to select the best possible representation of said student body.

It is my personal belief that student government can and must play an active part in campus life. Only through the support of the entire student body can this be accomplished. It is because of these beliefs that I am happy to make this proclamation.

Sincerely,
JAMES H. ALBERTSON,
President

Winter Carnival Scores

Dear Editor:

It has come to our attention that some of the events of Winter Carnival were run with biased management. Some members of the student body would like to see a run-down of total points for each event as to first, second, and third places, and the points given for each place. If the POINTER is a student paper, I think the students should know what happened. I think this would clear up some misunderstandings that have been circulated around campus.

AN INTERESTED STUDENT

Karl Langlois, Winter Carnival Chairman 1965, does not feel that publication of all the scores of the W. C. events is justified. However, he will be happy to discuss the scores with anyone in the office of the University Center Board, Room 29, University Center.

Idealistic Generation

Dear Editor:

Today during one of my classes, a fellow student had occasion to allude to the school paper, THE POINTER. Referring to it as "the weekly scandal sheet," he criticized it for publishing certain letters in the "Podium" dealing with world problems and problem areas.

He commented that he couldn't see what business youngsters "the age of nineteen and twenty had expressing their certain and cure-all opinions." Apparently, he was quite disgusted with the paper's editorial policy and the "trash" (translated: student letters to the editor) which were being published.

Rather upset over this student's misunderstanding of the attitude of "youngsters of nineteen and twenty" and possibly other people's misconceptions, I would like to make a few humble comments (humble because I am eighteen and have not yet reached the certainty of nineteen and twenty).

Perhaps the certainty and the cure-all opinions to which my fellow student referred is the natural idealistic nature of each new generation. Born with the necessary "we'll conquer the world" attitude of each new generation, college-age people want to read, study, trade, ideas, and ultimately express their feelings on nearly any and all subjects. This is necessary because it is the fire for forging tools of progress; this attitude results in the type of "trash" submitted to the editorial page, and it is published because it encourages controversy and thought.

Isn't one of the purposes of college to develop people who can think on their own feet—who can argue, reason, and make independent decisions? What better way to accomplish this goal is there than the editorial page of the school paper?

Please, have patience with us, fellow student. Us, an idealistic generation faced with situations unimagined even by the generation of forty years ago. Given time, we will outgrow our need for action and ideal solutions; we will reach your level of maturity and wise pessimism. Let's just hope that there will be another group of youngsters of nineteen and twenty who will continue to carry on a spirit of inquisitiveness and idealism.

Sincerely,

JAN RASMUSEN

PODIUM POLICY

All letters must be signed, but names will not be published upon request. Address all letters to the Editor, "Dear Editor."

Focus

by Sue Stanke

Everybody's catching it.

In class, students loll unashamedly, their eyes vacant, a dreamy smile on their faces, and completely oblivious to the droning voice of the instructor.

Outside, perched along the edge of the Science Building, on the benches in front of the University Center, and in front of the Library, WSU's male population once again lounge, cigarette in hand, busily eyeing trim, pert coeds in soft bright-colored dresses bustling to and from class, minus the heavy ski jackets, boots, mittens and mufflers of a few days ago. Girl-watching is "in."

Throughout the campus, scattered across the lawn of Old Main, sitting on the steps of the halls, wherever there is a dry spot, students sit on swamp coats and sweaters, sunglasses on, supposedly trying to study.

Licking ice cream cones, coeds and their boyfriends stroll hand in hand around campus. The demand for bicycles soars.

Fellows without cars heave sighs of relief — what girl in her right mind would object to walking anywhere on a beautiful, balmy evening?

It becomes vastly easier to find a place to study in the library (if you're disciplined enough to ignore the glorious weather and GO there!)

And of course, with the hint of nice weather, soggy though the ground may be, regardless of puddles and slush, the place to be on a warm afternoon is not in zoology or English class, but out at a park. Equipped with a carton of Milwaukee's best, sunglasses and blankets and tanning lotion in hand, this indeed becomes "the best of all possible worlds."

Even the bar "regulars" are affected. They stand in clusters outside, glass in hand, forming a male gauntlet that subjects every entering bermuda-clad coed to merciless scrutiny. There are less coeds hustling rides home, and more and more couples walking to and fro.

Though it snows and dips below zero three days out of the week, there's no denying it — Spring is a'coming. Spring fever is sweeping the campus.

Campus Commentary

A Study in Depth

by Don Hammes

IT IS THE PURPOSE OF THIS SPACE IN YOUR NEWS-PAPER TO INFORM YOU, THE STUDENTS, OF PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE ACTIVITIES OF THE VARIOUS ORGANIZATIONS ON THIS CAMPUS AND THE GOVERNING BODIES WHICH RUN THESE ORGANIZATIONS YOU PARTICIPATE IN.

While information is being gathered for the next commentary in this series, this space will be devoted to an appeal to you, the student body.

Do YOU want to know more about:

1. Student Council?
2. Inter-Hall Council?
3. University Center Board?
4. Fraternities?
5. Sororities?
6. Administration?
7. Faculty?
8. Students?
9. Other organizations?

Do you want THESE questions answered? ? ?

1. Are you a member of an organization on campus? Do you feel your organization is communicating with the student body? What do YOU want printed? NOTHING???
2. Students! What do you want to know about these organizations? NOTHING???
3. Are you satisfied with the way organizations on campus are operating? What would you like to see done on the WSU-SP campus?
4. Do these organizations benefit me, a student on this campus? How?
5. Why are these organizations present on the WSU campus?
6. What are these organizations doing or what are they NOT doing to help me, a student on this campus?

Any area on this campus will be investigated, involving any organization and the activities the said organization participates in; the information shall be printed for all to know.

If you want this service, put your question or questions in a sealed envelope and deposit it in the ballot box in the main lobby of the Library from March 4th to the 11th!

The Man From U. C. B.

by Warren Kostroski

The primary reason for the existence and utilization of the camel blazers worn by the University Center Board is simply this: to let the students know who the members are so that they can then contact them directly at any time with questions relative to the Board or its functions. This then provides a means of direct communication whereby student problems can be resolved and student activities provided according to student desires.

To publicize the Center Board's open meetings, held each Friday at 3:45 in Room 21, all members are required to "don their uniform" on that day. Other than that, the blazers are worn only at official University Center Board functions and the annual Association of College Unions Convention. More information will be given relative to the Convention in a later article.

The responsibility for the purchase, policy, and resale of the blazers rests with the House Committee. When deemed necessary by the Board, a small percentage of the House Committee funds are implemented to purchase the needed blazers. A general policy statement is then issued by the Chairman, deemed to be in effect for that academic year. After a number of years, when it becomes apparent that the blazers are no longer in proper condition to represent the WSU-SP Center Board, they are offered for general sale at a reduced price. This procedure not only allows the blazers to serve a useful purpose but also prevents them from becoming a financial burden.

Thus it can be seen that the UCB makes every effort to make itself available to the student body so that the genuine student interests may be served.

Another prime purpose of the blazers is to project the "image" of the UCB to people both inside and outside the University Family. This function becomes more important as the University expands. Another effective method of projecting the "image" is through the utilization of a uniform symbol, the UCB crest.

Some positions pay $400 a month with no previous experience or foreign language ability required. Room and board are often included. The most requested jobs are in resorts, offices, factories, and restaurants; on ships and farms; in child care, lifeguarding, camp counseling, and sales work. Interesting summer work not found in the U.S. is living as a guest of well-to-do European families in return for teaching their children English.

Job and travel grant applications and detailed job descriptions (location, wages, working hours, photographs, etc.) are available in a 36-page booklet which interested students may obtain by sending $2 (for the booklet and air mail postage) to Dept. LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFTS

A gift of $200 was made to the University Library of WSU-Stevens Point by Consolidated Papers in Wisconsin Rapids. The grant was in appreciation of an employee attitude study conducted for the firm by two university students, Jane Burgess and John Altenburg, under the direction of Mr. Haferbecker, Vice-President for Academic Affairs, and Mr. Dixon, Professor of Sociology. Mr. D.P. Meyer, Director of Public Relations at Consolidated Papers, said that the study was very helpful and asked that the money be used for library books in business administration.

A second gift of $100 was received for the University Library from Sentry Insurance from their Foundation, this money is to be used toward the purchase of books in insurance and related fields. For several years Sentry has given a similar sum for this purpose.

Speaking Of Sports

by Duane Clark

Hats off to the Purple and Gold cagers of W.S.U. for putting on such a tremendous display of determination and spirit last weekend at La Crosse and River Falls. Even though the Pointers lost a heart-breaker by a single point to the La Crosse Indians Friday night, they walked River Falls for their eighth victory on Saturday night. There were feathers flying in every direction on the River Falls State campus as the Pointers clipped the Falcons' wings by fourteen points.

Incidentally, La Crosse State University has only one defeat in the State Conference action. It isn't so much the fact that the Indians have terrific ball handlers, good shooters and rebounders, and plenty of teamwork, for the Pointers have that too. The one thing above all others that gives that team its undisputed first place in the conference and a chance of going to Kansas City for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (N.A.I.A.) Tournament in March is — SCHOOL SPIRIT! This is what that team has behind it which many other teams in the conference, including ours, don't have. It is not that the students of Stevens Point "don't give a hang" if the Pointers win or lose; the fact is that our school spirit is poor, really poor. The fans have to want to win a game just as badly as the team which is representing them on the football field, basketball court, baseball diamond, wrestling mat, or in the swimming pool. We are fortunate that all the members of our basketball team will be back next year. Many of the other cage teams in the conference, including La Crosse, will be losing valuable players. The opportunity to take the conference crown will be open next year—and all the Pointers need school spirit!

Grapplers Cop 4th Place

Bernie Christianson added quite a bit of paving on his road to glory as he conquered first place honors in the heavyweight division of the State University Conference held at Platteville last weekend. The bearded "big-boy" from Elderon did it the hard way by pinning all three men he wrestled. These three victories bring the "Crittter's" season record to 14-2 with thirteen pins.

Four other Pointers placed in their respective classes to enable Stevens Point to get fourth place in the team standings. Pete Seiler captured second place in the 177 pound class by defeating Foley of River Falls 4-2, and Roller of Oshkosh 5-1, before being pinned by Ludy of Superior in the championship match. Dick Jensen, Pointer 115 pound wrestler, took third place by winning three and losing one. He defeated Bruno of La Crosse 11-6, Langworthy of Eau Claire 3-0, and Stark of River Falls 2-0. Leonardo of Superior pinned him and then went on to get second place.

Jim Nichols at 137 and Rich Sommer at 147 both won fourths by winning one and losing two. Nichols defeated Oshkosh's Kretz by a 7-2 score. Sommer decisioned Ott of Stout 1-0 in a very fine match.

Coach Bill Burns felt very pleased with the fourth place finish and felt that everyone did a fine job in each weight class.

Final standings were: Superior 107, Oshkosh 53, White-water 51, Stevens Point 36, Platteville 32, Stout 22, River Falls 21, La Crosse 15 and Eau Claire 5.

Pointer Cagers Split

With only fourteen seconds remaining on the clock in the La Crosse State Fieldhouse, the Stevens Point State cagers, determined and still fighting valiantly, drilled in four points as they dropped a 87-86 decision to the La Crosse State Indians. As the score indicates, it was a nip-and-tuck battle all the way.

In the first half of the basketball action, the Indians, under head coach Cliff DeVoll, had as much as a ten-point lead. However, before the half ended, Krueger's Boys were on top of the Indian totempole, 38-36.

It wasn't long after the two teams came out of the dressing room for the second half of the action that DeVoll's cagers pulled away to an eleven-point lead of 62-51 with only ten minutes left to play. For the remainder of the game, the Indians maintained a four to six-point margin until WSU's last-second bid.

La Crosse outshot the Pointers, hitting 30 of 6 tries for a 45 per cent average as compared to WSU's 31 for 74 effort, a 41 per cent markmanship figure.

Jerry Lawetzki with 26 points and reserve guard sophomore Jim Fitzgerald with 17 points paced the Pointers while Terry Schmidt with 21 points was high man for La Crosse.

Coach Robert Krueger's Pointers avenged an earlier season defeat last Saturday as they copped a victory from the River Falls State Falcons. The win gave the Pointer cagers an 8-7 conference standing and an 11-10 record in all games.

The Pointers used a starting lineup of White and Ochs at guard, Fortune and Lawetzki at forward and Zuege at center while River Falls started Snyder and Pritchard at guard, Bloomquist and Lee at forward, and Kramer at center.

It was an especially close contest the first half of action as both teams went into the locker rooms with a total of 3 points. In the next 10 minutes it was a different story however, as the Pointers pulled away to a 60-54 lead. At the final buzzer, the score stood at 80-66 in favor of Point.

The Purple and Gold will be looking for their 9th conference victory this Saturday as they travel to Platteville to battle the Pioneers. This will be the final game for the Pointer cagers.
