"Star Of Nativity" Shines
At University Planetarium

Byonda Magee
The Planetarium Lecture Series is allowing you to Christmas program. The Star of Nativity, is a new medium. Not only will the program be shown during the day, but the students will also have the opportunity to join in the welcoming party at the University Center. The Planetarium will be open from 3:00 to 5:00 on December 5th and 6th.

A brief explanation of the show will be given by the programmers. The students will then be allowed to view the show at their own pace. The show will be repeated several times throughout the day.

AEK Goes Tree Cutting For Campus

Along with the Christmas season comes the tradition of decorating trees. One of the oldest and most beloved traditions at Christmas is, of course, that of the Christmas tree. Since the formation of Alpha Phi Kappa Lambda (Philosophical Conservation Fraternity), in this university organization, has brought the students in the campus each year. Up until last year, AKL had cut and decorated Christmas trees from the student houses. Last year, however, the trees on those houses were taken, forcing the AKL Fraternity to cancel its plans.

This year, however, a Christmas tree has been planted in the middle of the University Mall. The tree is being cared for by the Alpha Phi Kappa Lambda Fraternity.

Must Register Off-Campus Fund-Raising

A new policy has been approved by the International Services Center student organization with regard to fund-raising and fundraising. Organizations representing the student body shall be registered in advance to raise funds for their respective organizations, provided that the funds are used for the purpose of the organization and that the organization has an approved specific purpose.

For the Road

"Give One For The Road"

"Give One For The Road" is the theme of a long-standing fund drive held throughout the nation on North America. It is the idea of handing out a wish list of essentials to the homeless and the poor. The idea is to give them something that they might need and to help them get back on their feet.

is the author of "The Road" and is a well-known author and speaker.

It is estimated that 100 million dollars are raised each year through this fund drive. The money raised is used to purchase clothing, food, and other essential items for the homeless and the poor.

For Bloodmobile

Dear Editor,

For the first time in Wisconsin State University Student Point History, the Red Cross completed a campus visit. Located in the Union, the drive is expected to run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8th.

This is the last organizational meeting during the semester. If everyone can manage to make a contribution, the success of this Bloodmobile would become a reality.

When someone preaches love, he is being asked to do many things. Don't think love means that he will be popular and patient. He is not going to be popular with our generation, and he is not going to be popular with almost everyone who has never heard of the Bloodmobile's existence. And when we hear that the Bloodmobile is a way to help people, we think that it is a way to help people.

The Bloodmobile is a way to help people. The Bloodmobile is a way to help people.

Gene’s Sport Report

This year’s basketball team has given us an exciting season thus far. The Pointer women will play their second straight division II game against Western State Friday night, starting at 7:30. Surely the Pointer women can’t be strolling. Let’s hope they come out ready to start Christmas partying.

Sunday the Pointer women play the Mt. Benchful State U. The Packers will win with their second straight division II game against the Los Angeles Rams to take the title. Their offense will be too hot to handle. The game will start at 2 p.m. and the Pointer women will face the Dallas Cowboys Sunday night.

Over the weekend the boys headed into the football season in the Fieldhouse and made off with approximately 2,000 fans. The boys kicked off against the Wisconsin State Stout, just like last year. The Pointer men were the only counter to the Packers and could use to win the conference title.

Just two days before Christmas, Stout was practicing just like we were. Why not wait until after the game to start your Christmas partying?
