Misdirected March Would Maim Our Image

The new policy on alcoholic beverages has created considerable stir on campus. There is a feeling that student rights are being infringed upon. Much controversy has occurred since the policy went into effect. Students have risen to their own defense.

Last night representatives of the Student Af fuiffJal Affairs Staff met with members of the Senate to present their case. There was considerable protest. The Chairman called for order and constructive. Sound arguments were made in the student body. The debate on the test and action of this colleague something can be accomplished.

This is not the case in a disorganized, chaotic march such as the one planned for Thursday night. To begin with, the proposals suggested by the sheet circulated among campus are nearly impossible to obtain. They would violate the law in regard to those under 21. They propose nothing with which to work in chang-ging present policy.

Then the march itself. We supposedly pride ourselves on being a community. How can a mob of students appear when carrying signs begging for beer, or sucking their thumbs at the dorm windows? What respect and support can the student body expect from the city, or the state legislature, after a performance of this sort?

In light of this, what is to be done now, and we are definitely against the method used to bring it about. We also strongly condemn a pseudo-protest such as this proposed march which is sure to bring regression rather than progress, and which will destroy any favorable image we may have as a student body.

Want A Job?

The passing of the semester will bring the need for a new editor for the Pointer. (Although some may like this need has existed all year.)

This job has an added advantage - it can put a student in a very influential position if he utilizes it to the fullest extent. It provides insight into nearly every aspect of campus life. A person who would meet a great many people would not ordinarily get a chance to meet. It is excellent journalistic experience, and growth in confidence, and also an interest in a journalistic career. It will be a past position. It provides a challenge to take on and to meet and to be a part of.

Fire Alarm Squelches Escape

The escape took place when the fire alarm was rung in the rear south exit. Yes, there appeared on the scene, and the whole thing was a complete waste.

One student pointed that the fire alarm sounded the fire alarm, but that was when the fire alarm was rung in the rear south exit.

The deadline for submitting advertisements for the current issue is April 22. Advertisements are due for publication in the summer session in April. There will be a Student Affairs Office, on the second floor of the Student Affairs Building.

Answer:

Weary, but not overwhelmed, the seniors in our lives prepare for graduation. It is an event that is looked forward to by many, but feared by none.

There’s been a proposal here for a new system of student government that is designed to function in a number of ways. It is the hope that, if implemented, it would bring about some much-needed improvements in the university’s student government.

One of the main aspects of this new system is the creation of a new student government. The new system would be made up of a number of different councils, each of which would be responsible for a specific area of student life. These councils would be composed of students who are elected by their peers to represent their interests. The councils would be responsible for making decisions and policies that affect their respective areas, and these policies would be implemented by the university administration.

Another key aspect of this new system is the creation of a new student government. The new system would be made up of a number of different councils, each of which would be responsible for a specific area of student life. These councils would be composed of students who are elected by their peers to represent their interests. The councils would be responsible for making decisions and policies that affect their respective areas, and these policies would be implemented by the university administration.

In conclusion, while there are some potential drawbacks to this new system of student government, the benefits are clear. With a more decentralized and representative system, students would have a greater say in the decisions that affect their lives, and the university would be better positioned to meet the needs of its diverse student body.

The Big Technique, Or How To Catch A Man

(Reprinted from WUM News)

With a hook of the mouth, a fisherman must guide his bait in such a way that he will not spook the fish. Unfortunately, not so many fishermen are aware of this fact and many of them fail to follow the basic technique of fishing. From the advice of the experts, it can be determined that a fisherman should try to hook the fish in such a way that it will not feel any pressure. The fish will then be more easily caught.

On Wednesday, March 4, at 7:30 p.m., the National Child-1n-need center will be holding a lecture for parents and children about the proper way to catch a fish. The lecture will be given by Dr. John Smith, an expert on fishing techniques. Parents and children are encouraged to attend.

Women Live In Dream World Says Daily Texan

(ACY - College women live in a dream world, says the Daily Texan. For four years they have been fighting for their rights, but they cannot even become elected head of the student body. The Daily Texan noted in an editorial that they will be fighting for a while.

On the other hand, we were interested to learn that women can catch a man.

ALICE IN DAIRYLAND CONTEST

A tremendous experience awaits the young women who enter the Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland contest. The Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland is held every year in Madison, Wisconsin, to find the most attractive young women in Wisconsin. The contest is open to women between the ages of 18 and 25, and the winner will be crowned the Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland.

The contest will be held at the Wisconsin State Fairgrounds in Milwaukee on July 6, 2009. The winner will then be crowned during the Wisconsin State Fair, which takes place from July 26 to August 16.

The Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland contest is a great way to showcase the beauty and talent of Wisconsin's young women. It is a great opportunity to gain experience and meet new people. The winner of the contest will have the chance to meet with the governor of Wisconsin and other state officials.

The Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland contest is open to women between the ages of 18 and 25 who are residents of Wisconsin. The contest is held in two main categories: the Dairyland Contest and the Miss Wisconsin Contest. The Dairyland Contest is open to women who are interested in dairy products, while the Miss Wisconsin Contest is open to women who are interested in fashion and beauty.

If you are interested in entering the Wisconsin's Alice in Dairyland contest, you can find more information on the Wisconsin State Fair website or by contacting the Wisconsin State Fairgrounds in Milwaukee.
