Player Discusses Training Rules
Dear Ms. Stowe:

I read your question on the training rules for football players at the Nov. 17th meeting of the Wisconsin State Teachers Association. The training rules have greatly reduced the game for me, and I feel that the players are not getting the proper training they need.

Sincerely,

Winning Aspect is 'Overstressed'

In the latest edition of the Wisconsin State Teachers Association's newsletter, the training rules for football players were questioned. The author of the letter, who goes by the pseudonym "The Pointer," expresses concern over the emphasis placed on "the winning aspect." They argue that the rules focus too much on "getting to winning," especially in the case of "the team's reputation."

Dear Editor:

Is it so hard for University faculty and students to read "No Smoking" signs or were they just too ignorant when this area was left in Wisconsin State Teachers Association's report on a recent meeting?

Historians Are Outsourced

This week I would like to continue discussing the problem I have already mentioned. The lack of history scholarships is a problem that affects not only universities but also the general population. It is important that we continue to study the importance of our ancestors and their contributions to our society.

The Student Senate's new slate of experimentally-minded freshmen has arrived at the University faculty members inviting them to a "teaching seminar." The workshop will allow the students to dig into the mechanics of EIPs that are currently in use, and to suggest improvements.

The program is being directed by Dr. John Torrey, a specialist in the teaching of EIPs. The students and faculty members will also be working together.

Vicki Wang, one of the freshmen on campus, commented that her family has been living in Japan for many years.

On Our Dress, Bars, Dating

By DIANE LEVITZ

The first week of school has been nothing short of exhausting for me. I have met a lot of people, but I haven't had much time to get to know them. I have been busy with classes and activities. I have been trying to find my place in the college community.

Levitz, the current student representative for Asian-American students, said that she has been working to increase awareness of Asian-American issues on campus.

65 Freshman Class Indicates Little Emphasis On Self-Understanding

By Daniel Miller

A recent study by Director of Counseling Services, Dr. John Smith, found that the freshman class at WSU is not emphasizing self-understanding or self-discovery. The study was based on a survey of 65 freshmen.

The study also found that only a small percentage of freshmen said that they were satisfied with their decision to attend WSU.

For the last three years, Alpha Phi Omega has sponsored an "Ugly Man or Woman Contest," the proceeds from which will be given to a charity. The ugly man or woman contest is designed to raise money for a good cause.

The contest will be held on November 30th, and the winner will be chosen by a panel of judges. The event will be held at the Student Center, and the winner will receive a prize package.

The contest is open to all students, and the winner will be announced at the end of the event. The event will be emceed by Alex Smith, and the judges will be Professors John and Jane Doe.

The proceeds from the contest will be donated to the local charity of choice, which is the United Way. The United Way is a non-profit organization that works to improve the lives of people in the community.

Students are encouraged to participate in the contest, as it is a fun way to support a good cause. The contest will begin at 7:00 PM, and the winner will be announced at 9:00 PM.

The Student Center is located at 123 Main Street. For more information, please contact Alex Smith at 555-1234.
There is a "new look" in the freshman college chemistry this year, primarily in Chemistry I and Chemistry II, and were revised to take advantage of the latest research in the field.

The new Chemistry I covers a wide range of topics, including atomic theory, chemical bonding, thermodynamics, and kinetics. It is designed to provide a solid foundation for students who will take advanced courses in chemistry. The new Chemistry II covers more advanced topics, including quantum mechanics, spectroscopy, and the structure of matter.

For students who have had some high school chemistry, a new course, Chemistry 0, is offered. This course can be used to prepare for Chemistry I. The course will cover the fundamentals of chemistry and will be taught by a faculty member with expertise in the subject.

From chemistry, Chemistry 0 and Chemistry I will be followed by elective chemistry in the sophomore year. Physical chemistry in the junior year. Chemistry 0 and quantitative analysis in the senior year.

Water Carnival Is A 'Success'

by MYRA GATMAN

On Nov. 9 the WRA held a Water Carnival. The Carnival was a tremendous success thanks to the efforts of R. Shuler and próprio from Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority.

Eight teams were entered in the events. These were Alpha Phi, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Phi Epsilon, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Delta Phi, Delta Phi Epsilon, and the Off Campus Student Association.

Since swimming ability was not required, many of the events were held at the shallow end of the pool. There were various relay races. The balloon race required each member to push a balloon the length of the pool without using their hands, and to touch the balloon at the finish without the use of their hands. Each member of each team had to jump into the pool and push as many balloons as they could. The balloons were gathered one at a time and handed to the various teams members.

A few of the other interesting races were the blindfold race, the horse race, the propelling ball and wooden spoon race, where the spoon was not used and the pumpkin race. For the pumpkin race, pumpkins were tossed into the pool and one member of each team had to get the pumpkin out of the pool. The T. T. book was decided the winner in this event. All the Deloitte Dolls placed first. All attempts to enter the faculty resulted in an unsuccessful effort to get them into the water.

HONOLULU—The East-West Center, an experiment in international understanding sponsored by the United States, Japan, and the Pacific, is offering 12 scholarships to Americans for the 1964-65 academic year.

Initially awarded for four years, these scholarships are intended for graduate work in Area-Pacific area studies and languages at the University of Hawaii. Some qualified students may have their grants extended in order to complete their degree programs and are generally given an opportunity for study and research in Asian or Pacific countries as well as in Hawaii. Scholarships provide for home-schooling, tuition, board, home leave and medical expenses.

Through life at the Center, more than 60 students from the United States have become familiar with different cultures and many gain a deep understanding of Asia and its people.
