A Point Well Taken

By BILL MILENN

Some night when you don't have anything else to do, wander over to the library. . . not to read or study but just to watch other people. Actually this is what most students do anyway but they usually have exterior motives for studying. Go without any study motivation, just go to watch people. They're better than before. They're studying. Their preconceptions have been erased. Many of the students in the library have their books out on the table and are just reading. It's a good sign of annu.ounce that.

Mrs. Freiman Gets Spirit To Eau Claire

Dear Editor,

I want to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Freiman for her efforts in getting a few of us interested in the idea of trying to set up an Eau Claire chapter of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. Mrs. Freiman is a true friend to Sigma Phis and is a great boss. Since we need to do more talking about the idea this week, we will be putting her on notice once more, so she can get on with the business of running the library.

Philosophy Is Outdated

by JAMES KELEPPER

When I came into one of my studios, a called, philosophy classes for the first time, the librarian told me: "If you want to learn something worthwhile you are in the wrong class." I was told I was in the wrong class.

Philosophy today has failed our civilization. In my opinion it is no longer about what "should" but rather, what "is." I feel that it should be eliminated from our society and the philosophy classes should be closed down.

The reason that philosophy is no longer about what "should" is because of the multitudes of other subjects which people are choosing to learn about. These subjects include math, science, history, philosophy, and music. Mathematics is the study of the relationships between numbers and objects. Science is the study of the relationships between objects. History is the study of the relationships between people and events. In short, philosophy is no longer concerned with what "should" but rather, what "is."

Fun, excitement, and hard work

Katie Dever, 16, freshman, 330 Nelson Hall, Madison, manager in secondary education.

Fun, excitement, and hard work is what Homcoming means to us. I believe it is really important for many people to make it to make this program. The reason for this is that many students who attended the program are sure they will have a great time, but they also realize it is a lot of work. One of the best parts of the program is that there are a lot of different opportunities to take part in. The more opportunities you have to choose from, the more chances you have to find something that you enjoy.

The promotion of a spirit of unity, excitement, and the promotion of a spirit of unity within the school is also starting to be felt in the community. The reason for this is that it is really important for people to show their excitement, even if it is only a small part of the program. The reason for this is that the program is being held to make the community feel more excited. The reason for this is that the program is being held to make the community feel more excited.

To me, it is a happiness

Compiled by BILL MILENN and DON FEATHER

QUESTION: What does Homcoming mean to you specifically? Do you think there is too much emphasis being put on Queen campaigning and competition?

"To me, it is a happiness to see a lot of people come together and have fun. It's a great feeling to see everyone enjoy themselves and have a good time. It's a lot of fun to see people come together and have fun.

David Newkerk, 21, sophomore, 725 Smith St, from St. Cloud, Minnesota, majoring in history. (Member Sigma Tau Gamma)

Blowing In The Wind

The issue of equality for the Negro has been a growing concern in recent years, and the NAACP is working towards equal treatment and opportunities for African Americans. Despite some recent gains, the struggle for civil rights continues to be an important issue in American society.

But now, he had become a threat to the poor Southern white. And while any Southerner might have expected him to be opposed to the Negro, Tunstall realized that he would be opposed to the Negro just as much as any other Southern white.

Myers and his administration had long maintained that the Negroes were a threat to the safety of the state, and today they pop language like "black" and "Negro" in almost every conversation.

Last week, the black nurses at Myers' hospital were removed for allegedly exceeding their duties, and the state would close them down if they did not cease.

Yes, the state's anti-Negro sentiment was evident, but it was not just the state. The whole country had been divided on the issue of civil rights for years.

The Negroes, as a whole, were determined to fight for their equal treatment. They knew that the struggle would be long and hard, but they were determined to prevail.

The Negro revolution is inevitable. It will come with a shock, and a shock it will be. But it will be a shock that we can bear.

It will, and it will be a shock that we can bear.

May Roach Shows Students

Spirit Song Never Dies

Lost Saturday some friends and two WSU students. It was not caused by an excited spirit, but rather by the very nature of the event.

The sky was dark and the wind was howling. The building was illuminated by a single light that flickered in the wind.

But still, the students sang. Their voices were strong and resolute. They sang with a passion that was both heart-rending and heart-inspiring.

The song was "Blowing In The Wind" by Bob Dylan. It was a classic that had been sung at many events over the years.

But this time, the song was meant to be a farewell to the friends who had passed away. It was a song of remembrance and respect.

The students sang with a depth of emotion that was almost palpable. It was as if the wind itself was feeling their pain.

They sang until the last note was heard. Then they stood silent, remembering their lost friends.

Pointers Hold Off Blugolds For Second Straight Win

The Stevens Point Pointers had themselves a ball and had their best game of the season in a 26-12 win over the Wisconsin Lutheran Blugolds. The Pointers have had a few close calls this season, but tonight they were able to put together a full 60 minutes of football. In the end, they came out on top with a score of 26-12.

The Pointers were able to build a two-point lead in the first quarter, with quarterback Joe Thompson connecting with receiver Mike Williams for a 10-yard touchdown pass. The Blugolds were able to keep up with the Pointers in the second quarter, with running back John Smith rushing for a 2-yard touchdown. However, the Pointers were able to score on a 20-yard field goal by kicker Tim Green, giving them a 10-7 lead at halftime.

In the third quarter, the Pointers were able to pull away with a 25-yard touchdown pass from Thompson to receiver Matt Johnson. The Blugolds were able to score another touchdown on a 1-yard run by running back Tom Brown, but the Pointers were able to respond with a 25-yard field goal by Green, giving them a 23-14 lead heading into the fourth quarter.

In the fourth quarter, the Pointers were able to put the game out of reach with a 40-yard touchdown pass from Thompson to receiver Kyle Johnson. The Blugolds were able to score one more time on a 2-yard run by Smith, but it was not enough to overcome the Pointers.

The Pointers finished the game with 254 rushing yards on 44 carries and 260 passing yards on 14 completions. Thompson finished the game with 229 passing yards and 2 touchdowns. Johnson led the receiving corps with 90 yards and 2 touchdowns on 4 receptions.

The Blugolds finished the game with 111 rushing yards on 29 carries and 217 passing yards on 14 completions. Smith finished the game with 80 rushing yards on 14 carries and Brown with 31 passing yards on 2 completions.

The Pointers improve to 6-0 on the season and remain in first place in the Midwest Athletic Conference. The Blugolds fall to 2-4 on the season and are in danger of falling out of contention for a playoff berth.
