The Podium

Slaying Dragons
Isn't Everything—

Being a "Sea Queen" doesn't always involve slaying dragons—nor does the ability to discern the difference.

There are many facets to the job. Witnessing the growth of the student body, the editor works with the university administration, and with an unusual chance to meet a great many people who are truly dedicated to the university. Both ability and interest is stimulating. It is an excellent journalistic experience for anyone interested in the university's activities.

Chris Paul, Point editor for the spring semester, and his staff for the fall semester, will be at the podium next year.

Southern Seminaries
Roderick Council, 403 McClurg, adds: "I was able to get the hang of it so that it wasn't the same every day."

All the editors were very happy and enjoyed the experience."
