

Princeton Chamber Orchestra Will Perform Saturday

On Saturday Apr. 8, The Arts and Lecture Series will present Nicholas Harsanyi and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra in concert at 8 p.m. in the Fieldhouse.

The Princeton Chamber Orchestra, entering its third season, made its debut under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi in Princeton at the 1964 New York City's Bicentennial Festival of Music.

The orchestra is composed of 21 string players. The repertoire spans a wide range, lending variety to the orchestra work, from classical to contemporary.

Many of the players have been associated with leading symphony orchestras and chamber ensembles throughout the country.

The press has indeed treated the Princeton Chamber Orchestra as well as the New York Herald Tribune said, "Under Nicholas Harsanyi's disciplined direction, this orchestra again un-pressed with its collective quality of beautiful sound born of happy coordination of dedicated individual virtuoso players."

CAS Presents 'The Red And The Black'

The Cinema Arts Series will present "The Red and the Black," a French film with English subtitles, on Friday, Apr. 7 at 3 and 7 p.m., and on Sunday, Apr. 9 at 7 p.m. It will be shown in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center.

Directed by Claude Autant-Lara and based on the novel by Stendhal, "The Red and the Black" is the story of an opportunist's career, and also the story of class society in 19th century France, which offered few opportunities for an "outsider" to rise above his background. Had Julien Sorbe been born earlier, he would have become a soldier in Napoleon's army; hence "the red" in the title; instead he was compelled to aim for the priestly caste, hence "the black." Gerard Philippe (as Julien Sorbe), ambitious son of a provincial carpenter, Danielle Darrieux (as Louise de Renne), the married woman with whom he has his first affairs and Antonella (as Mathilde de la Mole), appear in lead roles.

Memorial Service Held In Colorado

A memorial service was held for Dr. James H. Albertson at Colorado State College, Greeley, Colo., on Thursday, Mar. 30.

Dr. Albertson was a faculty member at Colorado State College from 1952 to 1955. During this time, Dr. Albertson taught social science, education and psychology, was coordinator of Dr. Sylvester Toussaint, professor of speech and former dean of students, and Dr. William Hartman, professor of English and director of public relations, spoke during the memorial program.

Both Dr. Sylvester and Dr. Hartman worked with Dr. Albertson while he was at the college.

Speaker, Petitions, Meetings Highlight Government Week

Student Government Week, sponsored by the Student Senate to promote its spring elections, will be held the week of Apr. 9. The spring elections are to be held May 3.

William Steiger, the youngest congressman in Washington, will speak Sunday evening, Apr. 9, at 8 p.m. in the Wright Lounge of the University Center.

On Monday evening, May 10, at the Student President's Executive Council meeting, the new representation system and the requirements for office set up by the Student Senate will be explained for the benefit of the student leaders on campus.

Petitions will be available in the Student Senate Office for circulation by prospective candidates during this week. Under the new representation system of the Senate shall be: two (2) senators elected from each of the four classes; two representatives from each Student Senate approved organization having any Student Senate organization or more groups with similar interests, etc. RHC; two representatives from any Student Senate approved organization having a membership of 500 or more.

The groups to be represented under the revised system are: Interfraternity Council, P. A. Hellenic Council, Council of Religious Organizations, and Associated Women Students. Other groups desiring representatives may apply to the Student Senate when they meet the qualifications outlined above.

Only candidates for the positions of Senate Officers and class-senators need to circulate petitions. The representatives from the various groups are elected by their respective group.

Petitions for the class positions must be signed by at least 50 members of the candidates' class. The petitions for the Student Senate officer positions must be signed by at least 100 members of the entire student body.

Due to the consideration of a new constitution by the Student Senate, which will be voted on at its Apr. 6 meeting, there may be only one Student Senate Officer position open that of president. If the new constitution is passed then the positions available to the general student body will be those of president and two representatives from each of the four classes.

A list of positions available will be posted in the Student Senate Office during the week of Apr. 8. At least 25 over all grade point is required for election to any office.

Kostroski Holds Sessions

Student Senate President Warren Kostroski has called a meeting for Thursday and Friday, Apr. 6 and 7.

In reference to the meeting, Kostroski said "the primary purpose of the information sessions is to provide the student and the faculty with an opportunity to clarify in their own minds the position of the Senate president regarding recent criticism."

Kostroski was criticized recently in a Pointe editor for being irresponsible and unfair.

Kostroski also added that he hopes "the session will provide information regarding any aspect of student government."

The meeting will be held in the Turner Room of the University Center.

Dr. Eagon Leaves For Vietnam

Dr. Burdette Eagon, dean of school of education at WSU-Stevens Point; Aid Education Adviser T.C. Clark; and Dr. Russell Davis, assistant director for the Center for Studies in Education and Development at Harvard University constitute the three man team named to complete a draft report on a higher education program for Vietnam.

Dr. Eagon was previously named to head a study team that will survey Vietnam's elementary education needs this summer. Dr. Davis was a member of Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare and John W. Gardner's team to Vietnam in March of 1966.

Dr. Albertson 'Front Line' On March 2

On March 2, Eugene R. McPhee, Director of State Universities, in a statement to National News Service concerning the deaths of President James H. Albertson of WSU-Stevens Point and members of his team, including Dean Donald Beattie of WSU-Whitewater and Prof. Melvin Wall of WSU-River Falls, said:

"President Albertson and members of his team were men of great courage who gave their lives for a cause in which they believed deeply.

They were front line soldiers in the long-range war of ideas. Their weapons were books instead of bullets. Their objective was to help develop universities in which young people of southeast Asia could seek truth to their own destiny.

The regents, fellow faculty and staff members and students of the State Universities are shocked by this tragedy and extend deep sympathy to the families of President Albertson, Dean Beattie and Professor Wall of our system, and to the family of President Beattie who served for many years with us."

Opera Tickets Available

Tickets are now available at the University Center Desk for the second concert "Trouble in Tahiti" by Leonard Bernstein and "Gullinry" by Donizetti Moore, which will be performed Apr. 13-15 at 8 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Council Of Presidents Convened At Stevens Point Over Weekend

WSU-Stevens Point hosted the Council of Wisconsin State University Student Governments, Saturday, Apr. 1.

Dr. J. L. Lamm, WSU-Stevens Point's Director of United Council of Presidents, convened the meeting at the University Center. Dr. William Steiger, WSU-SP's Vice-President for Student Affairs, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Student Senate and the University students. He called for a moment of silence in remembrance of Dr. Albertson and the other educators who suffered the fatal air crash in South Viet Nam.

Tom Schaffer, WSU-River Falls student, United Council President, called for a beginning of the dissolution of the United Council because of the terrible turnover of executives and student unity. At the conclusion of his comment, Tom said, "April Fool!"

The general session then adjourned for respective meetings of the Legislative Affairs Standing Committee, Constitution Committee, and the President's meeting.

Fifteen seminars were raised for consideration to be held at the River Falls State Conference on May 5 and 6, 1967. These seminars are: 1. Education, Reform, Stevens Point; 2. Autonomy Among Universities—Superior; 3. Residence Halls—LaCrosse; 4. Student Constitution and Union Relations—Stout; and 5. Alumni Association—Platteville.

Tom Schaffer expressed that he had the hope of United Council's remembering Joseph Long, United Council officer, who died suddenly in 1966.

Dr. J. L. Lamm, WSU-Stevens Point, called for a moment of silence in remembrance of Dr. Albertson and the other educators who suffered the fatal air crash in South Viet Nam.

Whitewater, newly appointed Vice-President for Legislative Affairs, reported that he would act as an advisor's chair. During voting and discussion of resolutions from seminars and committees, this chair would be filled by the individual university's representative responsible for attending that meeting and advise his school's voting delegate.

In the afternoon, the Constitution and Legislative Affairs Committees reported the closing general session.

A farewell banquet was served in the Frank Lloyd Wright Lounge. Presidents of the Student governments and the Executive Committee were given copies of the 1966 Iris, to act as a reminder of the Stevens Point trip.

WSU Hosts Spring Home Ec Convention

The Wisconsin Home Economics Association's spring conference, "New Dimensions in Leadership," will be held Apr. 28-29 at WSU-Stevens Point.

About 300 participants representing both professional home economists and student members of WHEA College Clubs will attend the two-day program at the WSU-Stevens Point University Center.

Dr. Agnes Jones, chairman of the WSU-Stevens Point department of home economics is president-elect of the association. Conference co-chairmen are Dr. Fern Horn and Miss Bonnie McDonald.

Dr. Jones, who recently returned from overseas study in Malaysia, has also served as consultant to governmental nutrition agencies in Peru and Hawaii. In 1955 she visited schools of dietetics in eight Latin American countries for the Pan American Health Organization, and in 1960, on a World Health Organization travel fellowship, observed public health and nutrition in Egypt, Lebanon, Jordan, India, Indonesia, the Philippines and Japan.

Dr. W. Mason Mathews, clinical and child psychologist of the Merrill-Palmer Institute, Detroit, Mich., will address the

Seed Lectures On American Revolution

The History Department will present Dr. Geoffrey Seed in the final history reception of this year. The meeting will be held Monday, Apr. 10, 8 p.m. in the Frank Lloyd Wright Lounge of the University Center.

Dr. Seed, visiting professor of history from St. Andrews University in Scotland, will speak on "The Declaration of Independence." Dr. Seed is at WSU in an exchange with Dr. Frank Crow, Chairman of the WSU History Department. Upon returning to Scotland, he will resume his post as senior lecturer in modern history at St. Andrews.

While his broad field of interest is the British Empire, Dr. Seed has specialized in the American colonies. He is writing a biography on James Wilson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, who came from St. Andrews. His degrees include an M.A. from the University of Michigan and a Ph.D. from St. Andrews University.

The meeting is open to any interested members of the faculty and student body. Following the meeting refreshments will be served by Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary society.

Student Senate Holds Two-In-One Meeting

Because of an unconstitutional infraction of the rules, when Student Senate convened its evening last week at Hyatt Hall, they were still technically in session from the previous meeting.

Senators who had been appointed to fill Senate vacancies.

A new system of representation was accepted, again. There will be two senators elected from each of the four classes, two representatives from each grade approved co-ordinating group, and two representatives from each Senate approved organization with a membership of 500 or more. A co-ordinating group is a campus organization which coordinates four or more groups with similar interests.

Residence Hall Council. Thus far, Senate approved groups are: Inter-Fraternity Council, Pan Hellenic Council, Associated Women Students, and the Council of Religious Organizations. Other groups desiring representatives may apply.

The previous meeting was adjourned and a new one convened.

Richard Wessell reported that he attended the educational subcommittee of the Stevens Point Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda.

It was announced that Warren Kostroski and Peter Juska would attend the National Phi Beta Lambda Student Leadership Conference in April, representing the Student Senate.

Jean Bartiz presented her report on the Bulletin Board Committee, which is attempting to expand and clarify the present school communications system.

Her report included size, cost, and placement of boards, plus her comment urging that some agency be given the power to approve all communications to be posted and to distribute and dispose of the signs.

The Senate endorsed Mrs. Bartiz's ideas which are now being submitted to the administration.

The Senate moved to recess for five minutes to read the Pointer.

They then voted to induct the four new senators who had been appointed to fill Senate vacancies.

John Keefe, John Wehrle, and Len Maric presented information to the Senate who reviewed and then accepted their committee's proposals for future homecoming rules. (The Pointer will carry an in-depth article on these rules in an upcoming issue.)

SS-9 concerning students studying in areas of electrical power failure not having to take exams the following day.

SS-9 was voted upon and passed. This provides that students studying in areas of electrical power failure would not have to take examinations the following day.

SS-10 was passed, establishing Senate election day as May 2. Nominations were discussed for the excellence in teaching award. Dr. Morrison, Senate advisor, asked to have his name withdrawn from the consideration as he believes a merit system should not be introduced into judgement of teaching abilities as every teacher has something of merit. He added that he was also opposed to the fact that it was brought in by an outside business firm through the excellence of teaching award given by Johnson's Wax.

The new Constitution was introduced.

SS-11 was passed nominating John Breymann, student senator, to the University Publications Board which will choose a new Pointer editor this fall.

The next Student Senate meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m., on Thursday, April 6, in the Van Hise Room of the University Center.

WSU Business Fraternity Goes National

On Mar. 8, 1967 the Stevens Point Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda became officially recognized by the National Fraternity.

Dr. Donald Koepfen, Chairman of the Business Education Department and advisor for the newly formed organization opened the luncheon held in the Dining Room with a short welcome.

Following a dinner served by Ace Foods the installation of the new officers was held.

President of the Eau Claire Chapter, along with Gayle Lancy and Tamia Schultz of Phi Beta Lambda, Eau Claire introduced the following as officers of the Stevens Point Chapter: Kathleen Eppelheimer, president; Marcella Pouch, secretary; James Gruber, treasurer; Sandra Pitt, corresponding secretary; Glennis Hold, reporter; Diane Zvolenski, historian.

Miss Lorraine Mieling, state advisor of Phi Beta Lambda, made the presentation of the new charter to president, Kathy Eppelheimer. Mr. Robert Deu, Personnel Director of Sentry Insurance, was the guest speaker for the evening. Both Miss Mieling and Mr. Deu stressed the responsibilities the future business leaders of America have.

Phi Beta Lambda is the college level organization open to all business education students whose aim is to aid in the development of good future business leaders. Mrs. Ann Carlson, of the Business Education Department is also serving as advisor for the Stevens Point Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda.

AWS To Hold Elections

Associate Women Students, the organization made up of all on and off-campus women students, will hold its election of new executive board members in conjunction with Student Senate elections this spring.

All interested women students are eligible for offices. These women may "register" for possible nominations through sign-up lists posted in their dorms. This listing will then be screened by the present AWS executive board and advisors. The final slate of nominees will appear on the ballot on election day.

All interested women students are encouraged to sign-up or contact their present AWS representative.

Folk Festival Planned For Stevens Point

The First Annual Central Wisconsin Folk Music Festival will be held at the Emerson School Auditorium, Stevens Point, on Saturday evening, May 20.

Sponsored by the "Spontaneous Jug Band" with WSU-Stevens Point student Paul Bentzen in charge, the festival is open to both performing groups and individuals.

The purpose of the program, according to Bentzen is "to foster a dialogue between folk singers and performers, to exchange songs and styles, and to keep alive an interest in folk music."

Invitations have been extended to some 80 state schools. Bentzen said, and replies have already been received from students at WSU-Stout, WSU-Platteville and Appleton.

A $50 first prize will be awarded in the competition with $25 second place and $10 third place prizes also to be given.

Students interested in participating in the festival may obtain entry forms from Bentzen. Information necessary includes type of act, group, combination; type of music (old time, bluegrass, folk, rock, etc.); names of persons in the act, and a preference of the act to be presented.

No entrance fee is required. The WSU-Stevens Point Spontaneous Jug Band was formed last year and reorganized this fall to include Bentzen, Dan Perkins, Russ Baumgartner and Dan Patenaude. As well as upcoming UCB performances, the band has also appeared in festivals at UConn and Sparta as well as an engagement at the "Cavern" in Appleton.

WSU Debaters Go To Superior

WSU Debaters will participate in the Speech Conference this weekend at WSU-Superior. The affirmative team will consist of Louis Buehl and Norbert Sibicki, who will contend that the bombing of North Vietnam be discontinued in order to allow peace talks to take place.

The negative team will be composed of Dean Zimmerman and Gary McLaughlin.

Many complaints have been received on the public-symposium which have been presented to business men's clubs throughout the district. Pat Fitzmaurice and Zimmerman spoke to the Wausau Rotary Club on Mar. 27, and the New London Lions Club Mar. 7.

A complete demonstration debate on the national debate question is scheduled for the Lamont High School Student Body Wednesday, April 12.

Theater Trip Planned To See 'Thieves Carnival'

A trip to the Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis to see the work of a contemporary French dramatist, a fanciful comedy — "Thieves Carnival" by Anouilh, is scheduled for Monday, April 24, by the Speech and Drama Department.

This is a special student matinee which precedes the formal opening of the theater season on June 1. The cost of the theater trip is $4.50 and includes roundtrip by Greyhound and the theater ticket.

Students may sign up for the trip and pay the full amount to the Speech Department secretary in room 113 of Main. The bus will leave the campus at 9 p.m. on Monday, April 24.

In "Thieves Carnival" the playwright Anouilh comments on present day society as he watches three intriguing thieves masquerade as Spanish noblemen in a wild pursuit of 'amour and money in a French chateau.

Ace Foods will supply box lunches and box suppers for students who have meal tickets provided they give their meal ticket numbers to the Speech secretary when they sign-up.

Women Attend Recreation Convention

Carol Raddant, Diane Urban, and Miss Vera Rinnac attended the Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women in Madison, Mar. 29-Apr. 1. The National Convention on the University of Wisconsin campus celebrated its 50th anniversary with the theme "Challenge of a New World."

Thursday, Mar. 30 began with state and regional meetings followed by a speech by Mr. Kenneth Haegensen, executive vice president, Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, on "Communications - Are We Getting Through to People?" Thursday afternoon called for workshops followed by a recreation period at Lathrop Hall.

A banquet highlighted Thursday evening with a speech by John Wilson, Dane Theater manager, followed by a dance presentation by Wilson and the Madison Dance Club.

Dr. Catherine Allen, Chairman, Department of Recreation Education, Bouie of Northeastern University, spoke Friday afternoon at the general session on "Challenge of Leisure in a New World." Dr. Allen also conducted a recreation session Friday afternoon at Lathrop Hall where she taught music and folk dances. Friday evening the delegates saw the movie, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

U.C.B. Initiates 'Bark Board'

The House Committee, of the University Center Board, is sponsoring a "Bark Board" to let the students and faculty to express their opinion on specific questions that are posed.

The Board will be located in the Gridiron on the wall in the southwest corner of the room.

A specific question will be asked every two weeks. Anyone can express their opinion on the question by writing a "form" and posting their opinion on the Board.

The Board will be answering the questions as follows:

1. A Bark Board form is the only paper questions can be answered on and allowed posted on the Board.
2. The person answering a question must include their name and address on the form. Names will be withheld if so desired, but all forms must be signed.
3. The best answer or answers to the question of the week will receive a certificate worth $10.00 in food at the Gridiron. This certificate will be redeemable at any time.

National Science Grant Awarded

Kurt Johnson, a WSU junior majoring in biology, has received a National Science Foundation Grant to study at the Pigeon Lake Biological Field Station, Wis., during the summer of 1967.

Johnson, 20, from Chadron, Neb., has done entomologic research in Western Nebraska since high school. He attended Nebraska State College for two years before coming to Stevens Point last fall.

His first paper will soon be published in a journal by Notre Dame University, the "American Midlands Naturalist." His paper is a survey of the butterfly fauna of Nebraska's Pine Ridge region, in northwest Nebraska's national forest area.

Prepare For Interhall Competition

The Resident Hall Council and The Podium Society, University Debaters, announce the first Inter-hall Speech competition, which will be held during SIC Week, Dean Zimmerman, President of Podium, announced today.

The contest is entitled "Speak Up" and will be open to freshmen and sophomore residents. Speakers will prepare a seven-minute extemporaneous talk on an international problem related to the United States' participation in Vietnam. Each residence hall will have two representative speakers who will engage in a preliminary during the week of Apr. 17. Six finalists will be selected to give their talks before a public audience on Apr. 18.

Dean Zimmerman, is general chairman of the event with Gary McLaughlin, Norbert Skibicki, Gordon Meyer, and Paul Fitzsimmons, members of the Affairs Committee.

Students desiring to participate in the "Speak Up" should see their resident director immediately. Names will then be given to Mr. Rogers, advisor to the Podium Society.

Gene's Sport Scene

The gymnastics team closed out its season on the first two days of Easter vacation with a fourth place finish in the conference meet at Eau Claire. Although the Pointers had no conference champions in any of the events, they did place three men on the first team of the District 14 NAAU gymnastic team. John Schless was selected in the horizontal bar event; Gary Schneider, who led the Pointers in points all year, in the long horse; and Jim Spink in tumbling.

A little over a week ago the "dunk" shot in basketball was outlawed. Many people feel that the reason that the shot was outlawed was because of Lew Alcindor, UCLA's All-American sophomore. One hasn't the real cause of the banning, however. One reason was the injuries suffered by players while attempting the shot. Another was the damage caused to the backboard and the rim of the basket by such shots. At least two games had to be canceled in the U.S. because of broken rims or backboards while others were held up until repairs were made.

Although the "dunk" shot was a real crowd pleaser, I don't think that basketball around here is going to suffer because of the silly time that shot was really used was during warmups to get reactions from the crowd.

With the snow gone and the ground starting to dry up a little bit, the spring sports on the campus have begun. The track team, which has already had two indoor meets, has now begun working out outside. The baseball team should also be moving out of the annex soon. The tennis team has also begun practice and the golf team should be starting shortly. As the varsity sports shift outdoors so do the intramural sports. Softball, track, golf and tennis will be offered as well as a relay meet. This will give everyone the opportunity to get a little exercise in the fresh spring air.

Major league baseball will begin shortly and a lot of changes have taken place. Trades have seen fixtures such as Ed Mathews, Roger Maris, Clete Boyer, Maury Wills, Bill White and Carmelo Escobar change uniforms. Also gone is Sandy Kousser who retired from baseball to go into sports broadcasting. To make any predictions this year, I'll have to take a few courses in baseball trades just to figure out what's going on. At any rate I should be finished with that course by next week so everyone can sit on the edge of their chairs and wait for my predictions next week, same time, same column, same newspaper.

Korth Plans Study In New Mexico

Irving L. Korth, assistant professor of conservation at WSU-Stevens Point, has received a National Science Foundation grant to attend a short course on water resources to be held at New Mexico State University, Silver City, N.M., June 17 through July 7.

Participants in the program will be teachers concerned with national water resources development, and the course will include lectures, seminars and field trips. Special emphasis will be given to ground water hydrology and weather modification to increase water resources. Each participant will present a paper on some phase of the water resources problem typical of his area.

A native of Antigo, Mr. Korth joined the WSU faculty in 1962. He received a B.S. degree from WSU-Stevens Point and an M.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He has taken additional graduate study at the University of Minnesota and Utah State University.
