

Battle in Vietnam Is On Two Fronts—Albertson

Bombs and artillery shells exploded in the distance when President James H. Albertson of Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point toured the Tu Duc campus of the University of Saigon.

Albertson left here Jan. 2 to head a seven-man team of United States educators surveying higher education in Vietnam.

In a letter, he said he was told at his initial briefing that the United States is doing battle on two fronts in Vietnam—the military front and the reconstruction front. He wrote:

"This morning (Jan. 11) I had a good example of these two fronts in operation, for as we sat and listened, and as I walked through the corridors, and saw and had a chance to learn more about the program, in the distance were flying American planes dropping bombs on the Viet Cong.

"The ground shook and you could see puffs of smoke go up from the bombs and artillery shells were exploding some eight or nine miles to the east of us.

"... the daytime on-going... and viable instructional program is in progress. At night the VC move in and the Vietnamese have to move out.

"So far there has been no damage to the physical plant of the university of Saigon located at Tu Duc. There are a few bullet holes in the windows and the Vietnamese have several of the troops quartered in the space that is reserved for the faculty pedagogy.

"It will be a long time before I know what I saw and learned this morning."

Albertson's survey is financed by the Vietnamese government and the U.S. Agency for International Development.

He and his team are staying at a hotel in Saigon.

"Needless to say, Saigon is a fascinating place," he wrote. "In looking around the city you get glimpses of what its beau-

ALBERTSON has been, certainly in the days of the height of French involvement here.

"You can see why they have referred to it as the 'Pearl of the Orient.'"

Tu Duc, where the team visited, is eight or nine miles northeast of Saigon. It is the site of the new laboratory school and the school of pedagogy of the University of Saigon, but at present only the lab school building is being occupied.

The road to Tu Duc is six lanes wide, built by the U.S. government. "Everywhere the signs of heavy movement of equipment for the war zones can be seen," Albertson wrote.

"Tu Duc is the future of the University of Saigon and it is hoped that one of the recommendations that will come out of our survey will be the recommendation that the entire university be consolidated on one campus and that campus be the Tu Duc campus."

He praised the Tu Duc laboratory school, which teaches children in the 12-14 age group. He particularly cited a counseling program "headed up by a very fine progressive young man who was educated at Ohio University and who has a keen sense of the necessity of a counseling program to narrow the social gap that exists between faculty and students, and also to an extent between students and their homes."

Teachers are full-time and the faculty-student ratio is 1-15. Elsewhere in Vietnam, said Albertson, many teachers are part-time and in most schools there are 50-100 students per teacher.

The laboratory school has a library with several thousand volumes, but almost all are in English, which the youngsters can't read.

"The Vietnamese staff and the American counterparts working with them," said Albertson, "are very hopeful that in the future they will be able to acquire many books in the Vietnamese language, thus enabling students to have access to the resources they need."

"I and the other members of the team, were greatly impressed with the quality of the staff of this school. They are strong young people — young in age and in outlook — they are alert, they are aggressive, they know what they want in terms of their program, they are very much aware of the problems that they face, and yet they are optimistic regarding the future."

"They have developed a good program; they have ideas for improving it, and they are working exceedingly well with their American counterparts."

Albertson's team will survey four months and will give public universities at Hue and Da Nang the same attention. It is the first critical study ever made of Vietnamese higher education.

Before leaving here, Albertson declared that "education is at the very heart of winning the peace in Vietnam."

Point Presents Two Seminars At Plattville

The United Council Winter Conference will be held at Plattville for Feb. 10 and 11. For the first time in the history of United Council, one school, Stevens Point, has been invited to present two seminars.

Dick Wessel will chair a new seminar on Campus Planning and will be assisted by John Norton. Neil Devroy will chair a seminar on the Pass-Fall making system and will be assisted by William Volm. Neil and Bill have undertaken an entirely new concept on the seminar level. This is the second of their three seminars entitled, "Educational Reform."

Other business to be carried on during this convention will be the election of a new Vice President for Research Affairs.

The presidents of the nine state universities will discuss purposes, goals, and long range projections for the United Council. Also on the agenda will be channels of communication and resolutions brought to the floor by seminar chairmen.

The Council was not satisfied with the reaction of the Board of Regents on the textbook reform system again so this seminar will seminar be given.

Stevens Point has offered the permanent housing of the United Council Library and executive offices.

Joseph Lightfoot, Director of United Council of Stevens Point, will be the special Historian of United Council.

Stevens Point will offer the next Council of Presidents Conference March 21 and April 1. Members of the Stevens Point United Council attending the Plattville Conference will be Tom Czarnik, Neil Devroy, Barb Foxe, Jane Harris, Cliff Heise, Barb Hutchinson, P. E. Junka, Warren Krotzner, Peter Joseph Lightfoot, Mary La Berg, J.W. Norton, Peter Oernichen, William Volm and Richard Wessel. The advisors for the Stevens Point delegation will be Mrs. Coker, Director of Student Activities; Dr. Steven J. Pries, President for Student Affairs; and Dr. Beck, Chairman of the Psychology Department. Graduate advisors include Dr. Pries, Dean of the Graduate School and Dean Yambert. Wessel is the advisor for Arts and Sciences. The agenda includes registration, open session, followed by seminars and standing committees. A banquet and a second open session on Friday, Feb. 10. Seminars, standing committees and a final general session will be held up to 3:30 on Saturday when the conference will close.

"Sandpipers," Biff Rose Featured in Winter Carnival Entertainment

Providing entertainment for "Snowblast" will be the "Sandpipers" and Biff Rose climaxed Winter Carnival activities with a program on Sunday, Feb. 19.

The "Sandpipers," three young men who achieved rapid success with the song "Guantanamera" sing in 11 languages.

The three young Californians — Michael Pardo, Jim Brady, and Richard Shott — began their musical careers in choral groups ranging from members of the Mitchell Boys Choir.

When their voices changed, they left the choir pursuing acting, lessons, education, and work. They continued to remain active as performers by working together at charity affairs and small engagements.

In 1965, they formed a group called "The Trio" to hold a circuit of night club performances.

In 1966, Herb Alpert signed the young men to record for his company and it was then that they changed their name to the "Sandpipers." They are slated to make a movie debut soon in "Guitar City" for 20th Century Fox.

Returning by request, is Biff Rose, the young comedian who appeared at WSU with Glenn Yarrowhough last November. His humorous rambles from longwinded poems by Joseph Newman, which he punctuates with verbal and physical sound effects, is timely political comedy.

Rose once confessed to an audience at the Hungry in San Francisco that when he was drafted he didn't want to go but he was afraid to burn his name. He was drafted at Louisiana, also worked several months as a political cartoonist in a civilian life. He needed a combo called "Manic and the Depressives" but in the army he changed his name to "Uncle Sam and the Imperialists."

The performance, sponsored by the UCB Winter Carnival Committee, will begin at 7 p.m. in the Fieldhouse. Beard judging and the awarding of Winter Carnival trophies will take place during intermission. Tickets for the program will go on sale for $2.00 beginning Monday, Feb. 6 at the Information Desk in the University Center.

Architectural Studies Proposed For WSU

Representatives of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education and the Wisconsin Chapter of the American Institute of Architects will visit the Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point, Wis., Feb. 2 as part of a study of proposed architectural programs.

WSU-Stevens Point, WSU-Platteville and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee have all requested permission to start courses in architecture.

The Coordinating Committee and the AIA representatives visited Plattville Jan. 13 and will be at UW-M Feb. 6.

No school in Wisconsin now offers architecture.

Stevens Point and Plattville are proposing four-year majors, and graduates would have to complete two more years at a professional school before licensing. UW-M seeks a six-year school of architecture.

In early December, a subcommittee of the Coordinating Committee recommended that all three programs be approved, but the full CCHCE disagreed and ordered a study.

In addition to investigating facilities and course offerings of the three universities, the Coordinating Committee staff is studying architecture schools in other states.

The staff is expected to have a recommendation concerning establishment of programs in Wisconsin for the Feb. 23 meeting of the Plans and Policies Subcommittee.

Plan to be there by 8:15 a.m. as the examination will begin promptly at 8:30. No admittance will be allowed to enter the room once the examination has begun. Bring a pen and pencil with a no. 2 lead and an eraser. No scratch paper, etc., will be allowed. Due to seating arrangements, directions and other information you must be there by 8:15 a.m.

If there are any questions, contact professor J. C. Paul, 654-C, Main, Ext. 214.

CAS Presents French Film

"Forbidden Games," a French film with English subtitles, will be presented this weekend. Showings in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center will begin at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 3, and at 7 p.m. on Sunday.

Directed by Rene Clement, "Forbidden Games" was awarded the Grand Prize at the Venice Film Festival, the Cannes States Academy Award, and the New York Film Critics Award.

The story begins in 1940 on a crowded highway outside of Paris. Suffering, German planes will be the refugees. Moments later a year-old girl rises before the bodies of her parents, clutching a dead puppy in her arms. A young boy finds her and takes her to live with his peasant family. The two children become playmates — not in the traditional games of childhood however. They develop their own game — the building of a sanctuary for dead pets and insects. In their innocence they ransack a church and village graveyard for crosses and decorations.

UW Professor Lectures On Mountains

Dr. Robert West, University of Wisconsin-Madison chemistry department, will present a lecture, "A Wisconsin Expedition to the Selkirk Mountains of British Columbia," at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 8 in A-12 Science Building.

Dr. West, an avid mountain climber himself, will accompany his presentation with slides of the expedition. All students and faculty members are invited to attend this program.

Dr. West will also lecture during a Chemistry Colloquium at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 8, in 122 Science Building. His subject will be "New Aromatic Species: Oxocarbons and Halocarbons." A social hour will follow.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. West will be available to discuss with interested students opportunities in graduate school and careers in chemistry.

Senate Members Vote To Assume Fund-Drive

The Student Senate has voted to accept the responsibility to raise a money for lights and path construction on Reserve St. It is hoped that this project will stimulate interest and enthusiasm in the student body.

"One - For - The - Road" campaign was recently conducted on campus. Since the university cannot legally provide tax money to support the Reserve St. cause, it was hoped that the students would philanthropically contribute a total of $5,000 of the cost. A total of $5,000 is needed. Sentries include: Oxocarbons and Halocarbons, and Four Hairs have each agreed to donate a fourth of the cost.

The campus-wide "One-For-The-Road" hardly fulfilled its purpose. Prior to the holiday season there was insufficient time to formulate, direct and publicize the campaign. This lack of organization and communication in-part caused the spotty and in some cases the ignorance of the student body toward their role in supporting part of the cost.

"One - For - The - Road" ended with limited success, however it was a 1st-step toward getting something started.

Dr. Stielstra of Student Affairs talked to the Student Senate about accepting the responsibility to raise the money. He felt that since most students were aware of the imminent danger and become involved in any undertakings to correct the situation.

The Student Senate is involved with student activities and welfare. After Stielstra's talk the Senate deliberated, and voted to accept the responsibility.

The Senate wants to coordinate organizations to take on particular projects to raise money. A variety show was suggested as a possible activity that might appeal to students. OCSA (Off Campus Student Organization) has sponsored a bake sale for the Reserve St. cause.

The Senate will meet Thursday, Feb. 2 to appoint chairmen, and define the duties. Committees will be selected in the near future to coordinate organizations.

The Senate would like every group on campus to participate. Smaller groups may even come up with an innovation to raise money.

SPEC (Student President Executive Council), and the Presidential Advisory Board will be talked to in the future by the Senate concerning this project.

The Senate hopes that through their efforts, student interest will develop and make individuals aware of their responsibility.

WC Committee Changes Award Procedures

The UCB Winter Carnival Committee has announced a change in the method of awarding trophies for Winter Carnival winners. For the first time, they will award trophies to the over-all Greek and non-Greek independent winners in both the women's and men's divisions. The Committee will also present trophies to the over-all women's and over-all men's division winners as was done last year.

Continuing on the change, Mark Deadman, Winter Carnival Chairman, said that he hoped it would promote individual enthusiasm rather than produce a spirit of Greeks versus independents.

The winners are determined by the total number of points they have accumulated for all events. Judging will be done by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, and infractions of regulations will be subject to appeal by a judging review, organized for this purpose by the Student Senate.

Last year, overall WC winners were: men's division — Sigma Tau Gamma, and women's — Alpha Phi.

WSU-Platteville Changes Award Procedures

Point Beauty Pageant Is Still Open

Interested young women may still enter the 1967 "Miss Stevens Point" Pageant as the deadline for applications has been extended to Feb. 7.

Applications are available from housemothers at residence halls and at the University Center Information Desk. They should be aware of the imminent danger and become involved in any undertakings to correct the situation.

New Winter Enrollment Record Set

Second semester enrollment at WSU-Stevens Point has reached 4,800 and will probably end up between 4,900 and 5,000. Registrar Gilbert Faust said Tuesday.

Though the semester began Monday, registration has not been completed for late afternoon and evening classes.

The enrollment is a record for a winter term. The form year high 4,400, was recorded last year. In 1965, the figure was 3,361.

The first semester record, 5,123, was set last fall.

Dance To The Numa

Delta Omicron and Phi Mu Alpha, the music sorority and fraternity on campus, are sponsoring a Welcome Back Dance Saturday night, Feb. 4, from 9:12 p.m. in the Wisconsin Room. Admission is 25 cents per person. Tickets will be provided by the Numa.

WSU Needs Orientation Leaders

Looking for a summer job which offers a chance to meet people? Then look into the position of orientation leader for the 1967 summer session. Applications for the position are now available in the Counseling Center, Room 207, Main Building. They must be returned by Feb. 25.

The position offers full-time work, 40 hours a week. The responsibilities of the job include: serving as student assistant in an orientation hall, leading orientation groups, assisting in record keeping, leading an evening film and social presentation, assisting the parents program as a host or hostess, helping in the registering process, and assisting in testing as proctors or scorers.

To be qualified for the job the student must be enrolled for the fall semester for 1967-68, and may attend the summer session. Juniors are preferred, however, all applications will be considered.

It Must Be Done

The editor of the "Stevens Point Daily Journal" extended a "round of applause" to our student body for assuming part of the fund raising for improvements on Reserve St. This "applause" should, however, be directed to the members of the Student Senate. After lengthy debate, the Senate voted to assume the responsibility of heading the thus-far unsuccessful drive. In this area, the Senate has understood their purpose — to work for the welfare of the students.

It is easy enough for anyone to realize the initiative and manpower which will be necessary to turn this drive into a success. We urge students to cooperate with the Senate to help them achieve something which must be done by the students of Wisconsin State University.

A Point Well Taken

By BILL McMILLEN
"THE CONVERSATION"

He: "Hi, glad to see your back this semester."
She: "Oh, thanks — I really just made it, though. How did you do?"
He: "Mostly B's. I plan on doing better next semester."
She: "Oh, so do I. I really need to bring my grade point up."

He: "Mine isn't so bad but I figure, one good semester, I mean a real good semester, and I'll be right up there around a 3.0 point."
She: "Oh, you're smart that way, you won't have any trouble."

He: "You never know. Last semester I had a B all the way in this one course and I ended up with a C. I always seem to get one fouled up course like that."
She: "I sure would. I've got a test in one of mine tomorrow too. Actually though, a test now isn't that important. In fact it's better if you don't do real well in them now anyway. They can always show improvement."

He: "Oh yes that's very true. This course is just flooring me anyway. We haven't done anything that makes any sense and that horrible textbook!"
He: "I haven't had a decent textbook yet. They're useless to read. You got to know how to take notes, that's what rely on."
She: "Oh that is important and I just don't take good notes."
He: "And then so much depends on the teacher."
She: "Oh that is so right. I've had a couple good ones but most of them have been terrible."
He: "Mine too. Well, uh, say even though you have that little quiz tomorrow, how about going out for a quick beer?"
She: "Oh I really shouldn't. But I have done a lot of studying for that dumb test."
He: "I've done a lot for mine too. I'll pick you up in 15 minutes."
She: "Oh, O.K. I'll be ready."

Oliver, Chapman Teach Non-Credit Course Offerings

Disgusted With Frsh Orientation

Dear Editor,
As a freshman, I can't help but look back on my short but interesting and somewhat disingenuous attitude toward the two-day pre-registration and orientation session for incoming freshmen.

The operation, lasting throughout the summer period, was to acquaint students with the school. Each new student was to come for a two-day session, staying overnight in one of the dormitories. The only good thing about this session was that one did get the chance to register early and know what classes one was going to take.

The session, which was supposed to prepare new students for college life, did anything but help to get oriented. It consisted of seminar meetings in which faculty and school officials talked about things every one already knew. "College would be harder than high school; one will spend more money; but don't worry, every minute of your time studying, get some recreation filling the part of absent professor in chemistry at the next fall to take the position of freshman chemistry co-ordinator at WSU."

The fact of being set in his honor will be used to provide scholarships for chemistry students and will be given to an outstanding chemistry major at the beginning his senior year at WSU.

Contributions are welcomed. They may be sent directly to: Dr. Roland Trytten, Chairman of the Chemistry Department of the cashier's office, Room 005, Main Building, Kallander Memorial Fund.

War Objectors May Go North

Many young men facing the service have chosen an alternative to fighting in Viet Nam. Those who object to their status and have emigrated to Canada.

A committee has been formed to provide information on the Canadian immigration laws to those interested in possible alternatives. The committee may be obtained by writing to: The Committee To Aid American War Objectors, Box 100, Vancouver 9, British Columbia, Canada.

Heroine Of Week

The freshman girl who mis-directed directions on her English final, was the heroine of the week. She was the only one to get eight topics instead of one.

An Evaluation

By RICH HARRIS
By now everyone has received his lovely little white paper containing a grade point average for the semester's work. Now to be sure, these numbers imprinted by a machine, ranging from a 0.00 to a 4.00 (I'm sure that both extremes were achieved this semester) are not a total evaluation, as any faculty member is free to add. To this, I see that Mr. Faust has not taken Jim Kelleman's advice and abolished the Records Office so that further inquiries are to be made on the grading system, it's here to stay.

Greeks Defend Frat Life

Dear Mr. Baumgartner,
I read your article, entitled in your penny loafers, levis, dark socks and tapered pants, "The Greeks and their truly diversified tastes which depict your individuality. We are ashamed at being such conformists as to wear sport coats on Tuesday. As exhibited in your article, your tact and ability to understand people shows the strength of your personality. Having completed almost an entire semester, your extensive contact with fraternities certainly qualifies you to judge these organizations.

Podium Policy

The Podium is dedicated to the expression of opinions in the form of editorials and letters to the Editor. Letters may not exceed 300 words. The Editor reserves the right to delete all letters if they exceed 300 words or are judged to be written in poor taste. Opinions expressed will not be entered in any way. All letters must be signed, but names will not be published upon request. A maximum of 11 letters "Editor."

Greeks Top Men's Averages

WSU-Stevens Point was one of 43 out of 295 colleges and universities in which the scholarship of every fraternity chapter was a very large number of the All Men's Averages for 1964-65, announced the National Interfraternity Conference.

Of the 43 institutions receiving the Summa Cum Laude rating, Stevens Point was one of seven schools which has received this honor for three consecutive years. The other six are: University of Akron (Ohio), Arkansas State College, Georgetown College (Kentucky), Murray State College (Kentucky), Temple Technological College and WSU-Whitewater.

Kallander Memorial Fund Started

A Memorial Fund has been established in the name of Dr. Lawrence Kallander, a WSU professor who died unexpectedly about a year ago.

Kallander had been a member of the chemistry department for seven years and was away on a leave of absence filling the post of visiting professor in chemistry at the University of Arkansas.

The fund is being set in his honor will be used to provide scholarships for chemistry students and will be given to an outstanding chemistry major at the beginning his senior year at WSU.

Contributions are welcomed. They may be sent directly to: Dr. Roland Trytten, Chairman of the Chemistry Department of the cashier's office, Room 005, Main Building, Kallander Memorial Fund.

Students Fined If Checks Are Dishonored

Effective Jan. 1, 1967, students are being charged at the following rates for dishonored checks: checks under $5, a charge of 50 cents; a charge of $5.00 to $100, a charge of $1.00; checks from $100 to $200, a charge of $1.50; checks over $200, a charge of $2.00.

Checks will not be issued from anyone who has honored more than one dishonored check to this University unless proven to the satisfaction of the people will be advised to make future payments by money orders, bank drafts or cashier's checks. Should another dishonored check be returned, the student's name will be sent to the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Stricter law enforcement a more realistic solution

By RICH HARRIS
I feel that there is little to be gained by raising the beer drinking age to 21. Recalling my high school days, it comes to mind that myself and others in the age group from 16 to 18 had no problem getting beer. Bearing this in mind, I can see no reason why those in the age group from 16 to 18 will have any trouble getting alcoholic beverages.

Age limits fail to taken into consideration level of maturity

By RICH HARRIS
Why the magic age of 21? My opinion of Governor Knowles' proposal is one of dissent. Our society is always setting age limits for us, but these age limits fail to take into consideration the individual's level of maturity. By maturing, I mean a person who realizes his capacities and acts accordingly in a responsible manner.

Will only increase the illegal sale of beer

By RICH HARRIS
No, I don't! I think it will only increase the illegal sale of beer. The temptation will be increased just out of the person who has the beer to bring it to the bar. Drinking beer will only increase traffic accidents. The more people who drink heavily now and are more apt to have accidents because of this will only continue drinking. This is because beer is banned and in other states with twenty-one drinking laws.

The Gallant draft

By JIM KELLEMAN
One question debated in our nation's capital this season concerns the draft. Our leaders are trying to find a better system to pick our nation's killers, better known as "gallant men" who are sent to die for certain of our citizens into the profession of public killing!

If You Ask Me

Compiled by BILL McMILLEN and BOB FIEHWEG
QUESTION: Do you approve of Gov. Knowles' proposal to raise the beer drinking age to 21 as part of his highway safety program?

"Minors can obtain beer from any bar"

Jim Fitzgerald, senior, 1530 Franklin St., from Green Bay, majoring in biology.
No, I do not approve of this proposal because it really is not practical. Take for example Milwaukee County, which is a 21 year old county. The underage people in this area are not able to drink there so they pile into their cars and race to the nearest bar out of town.

"There should be uniform beer-drinking age"

David Arnold, 21, junior, Hyer Hall, from Granton, majoring in sociology.
I approve of the proposal because over one-half of the people killed on our highways had been drinking and many of these were under 21. There should be a uniform beer drinking age because this can eliminate extensive drinking over the beer drinking age is 18, and in Milwaukee County the beer drinking age is 21. Surveys taken in Ozaukee County have revealed that over 75% of the teen-ager drinking were from Milwaukee County. These people are driving home under the influence of alcohol and are a threat to all other drivers. Most teen bars are located in Milwaukee County. A considerable amount of driving to the individual who drinks in his own county.

"Knowles would only be creating more problems"

Rosie Dollar, 18, freshman, Detzell Hall, from Green Bay, majoring in English.
By raising the beer drinking age to 21, Gov. Knowles would only be creating more problems. The eighteen, nineteen, and twenty-year-olds would be forced to obtain beer illegally. The majority of the kids are mature enough and responsible enough to know when to stop drinking. It is only a small fraction of the kids who ruin the reputation of the rest. If deprived of this privilege the kids would probably drink more, get drunk more often and cause more accidents. However, drunken drivers aren't the only ones who cause accidents. Reckless and irresponsible drivers are also to blame. By requiring drivers to take a driving test every two years and improving the condition of the streets and highways, Gov. Knowles' Safety Program would accomplish a lot more.

"Stricter law enforcement a more realistic solution"

By RICH HARRIS
I feel that there is little to be gained by raising the beer drinking age to 21. Recalling my high school days, it comes to mind that myself and others in the age group from 16 to 18 had no problem getting beer. Bearing this in mind, I can see no reason why those in the age group from 16 to 18 will have any trouble getting alcoholic beverages.

"Age limits fail to taken into consideration level of maturity"

By RICH HARRIS
Why the magic age of 21? My opinion of Governor Knowles' proposal is one of dissent. Our society is always setting age limits for us, but these age limits fail to take into consideration the individual's level of maturity. By maturing, I mean a person who realizes his capacities and acts accordingly in a responsible manner.

"Will only increase the illegal sale of beer"

By RICH HARRIS
No, I don't! I think it will only increase the illegal sale of beer. The temptation will be increased just out of the person who has the beer to bring it to the bar. Drinking beer will only increase traffic accidents. The more people who drink heavily now and are more apt to have accidents because of this will only continue drinking. This is because beer is banned and in other states with twenty-one drinking laws.

Greeks Top Men's Averages

WSU-Stevens Point was one of 43 out of 295 colleges and universities in which the scholarship of every fraternity chapter was a very large number of the All Men's Averages for 1964-65, announced the National Interfraternity Conference.

A Memorial Fund has been established in the name of Dr. Lawrence Kallander, a WSU professor who died unexpectedly about a year ago.

University Fine Arts

Sounds...

By Russ Baumgartner

This is a column dealing with music. Some of you will question the validity of using the word "music" in respect to some of the styles and types discussed here. None the less it is all music. I'm primarily interested in jazz, rock-and-roll, folk, blues, and popular sounds.

I plan on reviewing new records, giving opinions and information on bands playing the campus area and data on records, artists and activities possible not heard before.

Today, I'm concerned with jazz. I've heard that this university in the past has employed the Dave Brubeck Quartet. I salute them for this. Mr. Brubeck has one of the finest groups in the country. Lately however, there has been a noted lull in the area of jazz music here. Last semester, there was none at all and to my knowledge there are no plans to have any this semester. I know that it is possible to have jazz entertainment here. Most groups spend about half of the year doing nothing but college concerts. They also do this for a very minimal fee. Oscar Peterson Don Shirley, Miles Davis, Charlie Mingus and a Wes Montgomery are but a few who are available.

I am certain that such a concert would prompt a positive response by the students body here. Jazz is a most universal sound and I think there is a need and possibly a demand for more of it here.

For the "Quintanema" and "Lute, Lute" people, the Sandpipers will be here to perform for Winter Carnival.

The Rolling Stones' new side, "Let's Spend the Night Together," has been banned in four states already.

I'm afraid I have some bad news for the folk-rock crowd. Your friend and mine, swingin' Bobby Zimmerman, better known as Bob Dylan is now in a poppy ward. This is a result of the accident he had last September in California. While riding a motorcycle, Mr. Dylan ran into a mountain and suffered a broken neck (and a badly crumpled Harley Davidson). Just recently he started to freak out in recurring psychodeptic trips. Hence he is now in that poppy ward.

A new coffee house will open on campus next week. The "Hole in the Wall" will be in the basement of the Canterbury House. Friday, Feb. 10, they will feature the Spontaneous Jug Band specializing in folk, blues, and ragtime music. Admission is free. I hope to see all of you there.

THE INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS BARTOK QUARTET will present a concert Feb. 3 in the Auditorium at 8 p.m. This program is the fourth of the Chamber Series, sponsored by the WSU Arts and Lectures Series.

Bartok Quartet Presented In WSU Concert, Friday

The Bartok Quartet, a stringed ensemble of international fame, will present a concert at WSU-Stevens Point on Friday, Feb. 3 at 8 p.m. in the University Auditorium. Sponsored by the WSU Arts and Lectures Series, the quartet is the fourth program in the Chamber Series. Tickets for the performance may be obtained at the University Center Information Desk.

Peter Komlos, violin; Sandor Devich, violin; Geza Nemethy, viola; and Karoly Botvay, cello; were all born in Budapest, Hungary and began to play chamber music during their student days. Encouraged by Professor Leo Weiner to form a quartet, the group made its first public appearance in 1937. However, their international career began when they were awarded the second prize at the International Haydn Competition in Budapest in 1959 and second prize at the International Schumann Competition in Berlin in 1960.

After being awarded first prize at the International Music Competition in Budapest in 1963, the Ministry of Education and the members of the Bartok family jointly bestowed upon the group the name of one of Hungary's immortal composers in recognition of their achievements and musical accomplishments. Since then they have been known as the Bartok Quartet and in 1964 were awarded another first at the International String Quartet Competition in Liege, Belgium. The ensemble was awarded the Franz Liszt Prize in Budapest in 1965. The quartet has traveled extensively throughout Europe appearing in concert halls, radio and television networks in Italy, Scandinavia, Germany, France, Belgium, Finland, Poland and U.S.S.R. The group has also recorded classical works as well as modern and contemporary selections on Hungarian, German and Belgian labels. Besides their quartet activities, the men hold first chair positions with the National Philharmonic Orchestra in Budapest.

The concert program will include "Quartet in G minor," Op. 74, No. 3 (Reiter) by Haydn, "Quartet No. 2," Op. 17 by Bartok, and "Quartet in C minor," Op. 31, No. 1 by Brahms.

Magazine Sponsors Poetry Contest

"College Arts Magazine" is sponsoring a $2,000 poetry contest open to all poets.

The first four grand prize winners will have their own book of poetry edited and published by the JTC Publishing Co. Every entrant will receive an anthology of the top 100 prize-winning poems.

Interested poets may write for details to: Poetry Contest, Box 314, West Sacramento, California, 95691.

MR. A. L. HERMAN, associate professor of philosophy, is shown working on the translation of Sanskrit, the ancient language of India.

Herman Helps Open Doors To World Understanding

By Mary Lou Rentmaster

As October, 1966 in the Indian "P.E.N." (for poets, playwrights, editors, essayists, and novelists).

In the United States Herman's philosophical papers have been published by the Vedanta Society of California, and this spring the Peter Pauper Press of Mount Vernon, New York, will be publishing his book of 25 translated Sanskrit stories.

Herman's past publications include an article on Albert Schweitzer's misinterpretation of Indian philosophy, and articles on Indian art.

The following is a story translated from the Sanskrit by Herman entitled: "The Donkey in the Tiger-skin."

Herman is one of the many talented professors outside our language departments who is fluent in Asian languages.

In the city of Hastinapura there lived a washerman by the name of Karpuravilasa. Now Karpuravilasa had a donkey, a sickly feeble beast, near death from years of carrying cruelly excessive loads. So one day Karpuravilasa, in order to keep the old beast alive covered him with the skin of a tiger so he would not be molested, and turned him loose in a forest near a bush field of grain. The owner of the field, seeing the tiger shape approaching his field, turned and ran for his life. And thus it was that the old donkey settled down in the field to enjoy his last days.

Then one day one of the guards of the field covered himself with a gray blanket and with his bow and arrows crept up to a concealing position overlooking the field. From a distance the donkey saw the gray shape and thought, "Ah, a lady donkey." And thinking this he made a cacophonous donkey cry and ran toward the fair object of his choice. When the guard heard the sound the beast had made he said, "Why it's only a donkey!" and with no trouble at all he crept up and killed it.

Thus I say, "By keeping quiet even fools can become prosperous. But an ass, no matter how well camouflaged reveals himself as soon as he opens his mouth."

The Opportunities Offered For Study In Britain

The Institute of International Education announces that it is accepting applications of candidates for 1967 summer study in a joint program offered by the universities of Birmingham, London, Oxford and Scotland. A limited number of scholarships are also being offered to qualified Americans. All programs are administered by the IIE.

The summer school opportunities in Great Britain include a choice of subjects and historical periods, with study to be carried out at the appropriate university concerned. The study of Shakespeare and Elizabethan drama will be offered at Stratford-upon-Avon by the University of Birmingham; the history, literature and arts of England from 1870 to the present day will be taught at the University of Oxford; Victorian literature at the University of London; and British history, philosophy and literature from 1688 to 1832 at the University of Edinburgh in Scotland.

Further information and applications for these British summer sessions may be obtained from the Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017. Completed scholarship applications must be received at the Institute by Mar. 1; applications for admission by Mar. 31, 1967. Travel arrangements to and from Europe are the responsibility of each student.

Financial Aids Noted

Those students who completed applications for financial aid in Semester II will be notified as soon as all information reaches the Financial Aids Office. It is not possible to process additional requests for Semester II unless they are:

- (a) an emergency, or
- (b) applications for Work Study employment. Additional Work Study employees are needed in a number of departments. There are many openings for students with clerical skills. Students who may wish to determine their qualifications for the Work Study Program are encouraged to make an appointment in Room 256. Main Building. This determination is based on a "need analysis" designed for college students and is no longer geared solely to poverty income levels.

Summer School Loans

After Mar. 1, students who plan to enroll for summer school may apply for loans. Such requests will be based on existing data for students already receiving aid. New applicants must complete the entire application process including the Parents' Confidential Statement.

Aid Application for 1967-68

Beginning Feb. 1, 1967, the forms for 1967-68 aid applicants will be available in Room 256 of the Main Building. All upper-class students must arrange for the filing of:

- 1) Student application
- 2) Faculty evaluation form
- 3) Renewal Parents' Confidential Statement

Students are urged to complete this process early in order that their file will be completed before the end of Semester II. This will permit decisions to be made early in the summer. Aid proposals will be mailed during July to those students who complete their application before June 1. It is important that the applicant come to Room 256 personally to secure the required forms. Certain data will be required at the time the application is secured.

Superior Hands WSU 3rd One-Point Defeat

SUPERIOR — Playing in one-point decisions to be a habit with Stevens Point State University basketball team.

The Pointers were involved in their third such win in a row here Wednesday night when Superior center Art Libby sank a free throw with seven seconds remaining, went down to their straight loss and third one-point State University Conference setback for the season. This time the score was 78-77 rather than the previous two 81-80 reversals.

Libby's gift shot following a disputed foul ruined another fine comeback by Coach Bob Krueger's charges who erased a 12-point deficit with only 13 minutes remaining to hold lead up to four points in the final stages of the game.

The defeat left WSU with a 2-5 league record and a 5-8 overall mark. Coach Dom Moselle's Yellowjackets, breaking a four-game losing streak, won 81-77 at Superior on Feb. 14 and their overall mark to 4-4. The contest was played in the sports center at Gates Fieldhouse with a crowd of about 500 looking on.

With 3:02 left to play, the Pointers appeared to be in control with a 77-73 lead. The Jackets had been steadily losing ground but when all of a sudden they held after seven minutes of second half play had elapsed.

The Pointers attempted to slow down the action but a couple of ball handling errors, mistakes that placed the ball too often during the tilt, enabled Superior reserve guard Dan Feldhausen to score easy buckets that tied the score.

The first came at 2:05 and the second at 1:45. The Pointers regained possession and called a time out when the ball was slapped off a WSU player out of bounds with 1:30 seconds remaining after the Pointers had missed a shot.

The Pointers stalled another time until Libby took a pass in the middle and was apparently tied up by Dick Ritzenthaler, veteran Pointer center making his first appearance since gaining second semester eligibility.

One official called for a jump ball but another gave the foul signal. Ritzenthaler took too much contact. It was an ironic call because contact in general costs a player foul but in this case it was the only infrequent foul call.

Libby hit the bonus rule with 7:07 left but missed the second shot. Ritzenthaler called time out but already two precious seconds had ticked off. Superior, which had a 33-32 field goal edge, made the throw-in and fired to forward Vye Koppang at midcourt. Koppang tried a penetration heave that was well short but Ritzenthaler leaped for the ball unaided.

The rebound pigtied the ball for an instant before putting up a shot. The ball went through but was promptly judged to have come a split second after the final buzzer. So instead of a tie game, WSU had its third defeat in one-point league decisions.

The revamped Pointers, led by the scoring of Ritzenthaler, freshman forward Rob Wentz and sophomore forward Dennis Carberry, played Superior men from 11:30 to 11:55 minutes of the opening half.

The Jackets hit their first three shots to vault to a quick 6-0 lead but the Pointers came back to take a 19-16 edge before Ritzenthaler was able to go. WSU had gained a 30-26 advantage and the score was tied 32-32, with 5:00 left in the half.

The next four minutes and nine seconds proved a nightmare for the Pointers and the final analysis, was the biggest factor in the eventual defeat.

Superior poured in 15 straight points, mostly against WSU reserves, to gain a 45-26 cushion with only 31 seconds remaining. Leading the surge was veteran Jim Sevals, 5-5, two-time league scoring champion from Barron.

Sevals scored 10 of the 15 points as he ran his string of consecutive field goals to nine. Firing away from 15-25 feet with uncanny accuracy, Sevals all told hit 20 points and hit 10 of 15 from the floor in the first half.

The Pointers finally ended the game and throttled the Jackets' intermission margin to 45-37, thanks to five points in the closing 41 seconds by Carberry.

WSU started very slowly in the second half and went 2 1/2 minutes before Ritzenthaler's free throw put the visitors on the score board. Fortunately, however, the Jackets hit only one point during the same stretch.

Sevals led another charge which opened up a 12-point gap before Ziegahn and Ritzenthaler led a Pointer counter-attack that slowly and surely also into the imposing deficit.

Soroka Takes Part In Commemoration

Associate Professor of History, Wlaskaw Soroka participated in a program commemorating the late Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former prime minister of Poland, who died on Dec. 13, 1966. The program was prepared by Radio Free Europe and was broadcast to Poland and other East Central European countries.

Professor Soroka's reminiscences were drawn from his personal cooperation with Mikolajczyk, who was also the leader of the Polish peasant party and of the International Polish Union. Professor Soroka's remarks were taped in Stevens Point and, together with similar contributions from other associates of Mikolajczyk, were broadcast to Poland and Munich. While The Wind Spoke Love

I watched the wind dance with the leaves while speaking of love to the emptied trees.

They twirled around in nature's flow till winters jealously covered — forevermore.

The snows had taken away the leaves while the wind spoke of love to the emptied trees.

Then came the sun to free those beneath all too late they stayed asleep.

Then the wind danced with new charms lozenge held within outstreached arms.

The trees cast down their new romance — once again began the dance.

While the wind spoke of love to the emptied trees.

U. Pierson Announces 1968 Dinner Session Offerings

Additional programs in driver education, physical fitness (gymnastics), creative dance and a Fine Arts Study Tour of Western Europe will be offered during summer session June 12 through Aug. 5 at WSU-Stevens Point.

According to Dr. Edgar Pierson, director of the summer program, about 1,400 undergraduates are expected to enroll in the 12-week program. About 200 students will participate in special programs at the Campusatory School.

The summer graduate program will feature an increased number of offerings which include a variety of study areas. Plans for the implementation of the Master of Science in Field Home Economics has been approved by the Board of Regents and is now being considered by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

A number of new programs and courses are available for the first time in the summer 1968 session. A three-credit workshop in creative writing, June 19-July 7, will be directed by Miss Mary Shumway, a university faculty member who received the 1965 academy of American Poets award for her book, "Song of the Archer." The workshop will be devoted to both writing and the evaluation of written materials.

An NDEA Institute on "Latin America and East Asia Problems of Development" will supplement the university's graduate program. The Institute, June 19-August 11, is open to 30 history teachers grades 8-12. Additional information may be obtained from Dr. Robert Knowlton, Institute Director, WSU-Stevens Point.

Also offered for the first time is a Fine Arts Travel Study Tour of Western Europe to include two weeks of campus study and six weeks of European travel. The tour offers six to eight credits, and will integrate a study of the visual arts, music and drama by visiting the cultural setting in which each of these arts evolved.

Another new program is the physical education workshop on methods and practices of teaching gymnastics. An Advanced Driver and Safety Education will be offered in a four-week block (July 10 through August 4) to permit students to complete both this course and the pre-requisite, Driver Education (June 12-13).

Following instructions in the Bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided to Selective Service Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 988, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. To ensure processing, applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, Feb. 10, 1967.

According to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file the application at once. By registering early, he stands the best chance of being assigned to the test center he has chosen. Because of the possibility that he may be assigned to any of the testing dates, it is very important that he list a center and center number for every date on which he will be available. Scores on the test will be sent directly to the registrant's local board.

Dr. Fortune discussed "The Use of Materials" and "Establishing a Linguistic Program" in group meeting sessions. Participating in the conference as both keynote speakers and group leaders were Judson E. Newberg, Assistant Superintendent, Delaware County Schools, Media, Pennsylvania, and Dr. Ruth G. Strickland, Research Professor of Education at Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana.

Pointers Set Big Decisions

Platteville Wins In Last Nine Seconds

A basket by Platteville's Ron Curtis with nine seconds remaining gave the Pioneers an 81-80 triumph over the Pointers on Monday night, Jan. 23, at the Fieldhouse.

The loss was the fourth of the year in play for the Pointers compared to two victories. The overall record is 5-5.

The win moved Platteville into a fourth place tie in the W.S.U.C. They have a 3-5 conference record and a 4-7 mark in all games.

5'9" point guard, Ken Ziegahn, led all scorers with 22 points. Robbie Westphal added 18. Jim Fitzgerald 13 and Vic Koppang 12.

Platteville also had four men in double figures with Gary Gust having the most points, 15. Greg Traupmann added 16 and Steve Schaefer 13.

Platteville grabbed a 39-33 halftime lead and shortly after intermission increased it to 53-33 by the Pointers' Jock Westphal to narrow the lead to 56-51.

With a little over ten minutes left, the Pioneers were back in front by 60-53, but the lead wasn't for long.

The game came back to grab a 72-72 lead with less than five minutes to go. Their lead dwindled down to 79-77 with three minutes left.

Curtis tipped in a rebound with 30 seconds left to set the stage for his game-winning basket a short time later after the Pointers had missed a free throw.

WSU Tumblers Beat River Falls, Lose To St. Cloud

The Pointer gymnastic team evened its season record at 2-2 on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 21 when it defeated River Falls 17-15. Friday night, Jan. 20, it had lost to St. Cloud (Minn.) State 16 to 134.

At River Falls freshman Gary Schneider led the Pointers with four first places in a meet that was won't until the final event, the vault.

Steve Koester took first in the parallel bars and Jim Spink won the tumbling event as the Pioneers won six of a possible eight first places. Both are freshmen.

The victory was also Stevens Point's second win over River Falls this year.

At St. Cloud, two members of the home team, Scott Lewis and Gil Gillespie, placed in seven of the eight events.

Schneider led WSU with two second places. Spink and Lee Izard place high for the Pointers.

Friday the Pointers will entertain Stout and Oshkosh in a triangular meet at the Fieldhouse. The events are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

Pointer Tankers Whip Oshkosh

Led by Bill Gelwick's double victory, Stevens Point State University's swimming team ended a long layoff here Wednesday afternoon with an impressive 55% to 40% victory over Oshkosh State.

The triumph, first action for WSU since last Dec. 1, was led by Coach Lynn (Red) Blair's charges with a 3-1 dual meet record.

The Pointers won eight of the 12 events and added three seconds. Five thirds and three seconds.

Blair's charges were the former by 7.1 seconds and the latter by a whopping 29.3 seconds.

Gelwick also swam the third leg on WSU's winning 400-yard medley relay team which was clocked in 4:31.1. He won the second ahead of Oshkosh. Other members were Rob Simkins, Dave Stebnitz and Joe Conacher.

Other Stevens Point individual winners were Conacher in the 100-yard freestyle, 53.3; Doug Jensen in the 1,000-yard freestyle, 13:10.6; Rick Pease in the 200-yard butterfly, 2:45.0; Simkins in the 200-yard breaststroke, 2:17.9, and Stebnitz in the 100-yard butterfly, 2:45.0.

Fitzgerald Saves Game For Point

Jim Fitzgerald's basket in the last two seconds gave the Pointers an 81-80 come-from-behind victory over the Lacrosse Indians Monday night, Jan. 9, at the Fieldhouse.

The Pointers had trailed by as much as 12 points in the game and were behind 49-34 at halftime before starting their winning rally late in the final half.

The victory was the second for Point in five W.S.U.C. games. This season and their fifth against four defeats in all games.

La Crosse's defeat left it playing at 3-2 in W.S.U.C. play and 4-5 overall.

Vic Koppang led the Pointers in scoring with 20 points. Ken Ziegahn had 18 and teammates Westphal and Robbie Westphal added 17 and 10 points respectively.

Mike Grainger was the only Pointers in double figures, netting 20 points to the Koppang for game scoring honors.

The Pointers jumped off to the lead but traveling violations, bad passes, and other Pointer mistakes allowed La Crosse to take the 49-34 lead into the locker room at the half.

In the second half the Indians lead slowly dwindled and the Pointers led it up at 56-56 with only 11 minutes to play, but four minutes later, the Indians held a 65-56 advantage.

The teams exchanged baskets and free throws with about six minutes left and the Indians in front 73-63, the Pointers put on a final surge.

The Indian lead was narrowed to 73-70 with 10 minutes left and baskets by Fitzgerald, Grainger and Koppang gave the Pointers a 78-78 lead with only four minutes left.

Grainger put the Indians back on top 80-79 with a long jump shot, but Fitzgerald's basket tied the game at 80-80. The Pointers the margin of victory.

A desperation shot by Grainger with 30 seconds left as the final buzzer sounded.

Gene's Sport Scene

by Gene Kemmter

It's just been about a year now since this column made its appearance. In that year many sporting events have occurred and some of them hold a great significance for years to come.

The first important event had to do with baseball. About this time last year the City of Milwaukee and the State of Wisconsin were fighting with Atlanta over who had possession of the Braves. Atlanta won.

The second and third most important events had to do with football. First, there was the merger between the AFL and the NFL. Then there was the Super Bowl game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Kansas City Chiefs. The Packers turned on some of their steam and routed the Chiefs, leaving the impression that the NFL is stronger. One game can't answer the question, though. There are too many differences between the two leagues in the type of ball they play to make a good comparison.

In the state college scene, football claimed the top spots. Whitewater's football team went to the championship game of the NAIA and Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin resigned as head football coach.

In state basketball circles, Milwaukee Lincoln won the state high school basketball championship and Stout won the 4A WSUC crown.

In baseball the Baltimore Orioles won the World Series by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers in four straight games. Baseball also saw the retirement of Sandy Koufax, one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

Getting back to the present, our basketball team stands in a prominent position. It seems to enjoy winning and losing one-point decisions, especially by the score of 81-80. It appears to be a team which likes to make a lot of mistakes in the first half to chase the fans away. Then after many leave at halftime it pulls itself together and goes out to play the basketball that the fans like to see only the fans have already left because they didn't see any basketball in the first half. What they had seen was a contest between the two referees to see who could blow their whistles the most times. It also seems to enjoy giving the ball to the opponent. What it should do is learn to grab the seams of the ball.

Despite being composed of nearly all freshmen and inexperienced gymnasts, the gymnastic team has already claimed two victories. However, the experience gained by this year's team could mean a rosier future for gymnastics at Stevens Point. A few more victories could increase more interest on campus for the sport which is being added to many colleges and universities throughout the U.S.

The wrestling team is struggling along this year trying to rebuild itself, while the swimming team has probably never reached its peak. More on these two sports in the near future.

Another big fight is coming up on Monday night when world (?) heavyweight champion Cassius Clay (Muhammad Ali) takes on challenger Ernie Terrell in Houston, Tex. Many would like to see Clay beaten because he talks too much. He may talk too much but he also happens to be the best fighter around right now. Clay should win but the fight most likely will go the distance.
