Greek Week Continues

Greek Week is in full swing! Throughout the week, Wisconsin State University-Supervisors of Greek Affairs will be holding events and activities, culminating in the annual Greek Week Rally on Sunday, March 28. These events are designed to promote Greek life, build community, and showcase the rich traditions of Greek organizations on campus.

Greek Week began Friday, March 25, with a series of events and activities. On Saturday, March 26, there was a Greek Week Rally held in the Student Center. The rally featured performances by various Greek organizations, as well as food and games. On Sunday, March 27, there were more Greek Week events, including a parade and a dance.

Homecoming Week Events Announced

South Vietnam Educators Will Visit Point Campus

STEVENS POINT, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point will host a group of South Vietnamese educators from March 28 to April 2 as part of a project sponsored by the Fulbright Program. The group will consist of 12 educators from universities in Vietnam and will be visiting the university to learn about American higher education and to establish collaborative relationships with faculty and students. The visitors will be joined by a group of American educators who will also visit Vietnam as part of the project.

If You Ask Me —

QUESTION

If you ask me, I would recommend that all students stay in residence halls unless they can afford to do so. The cost of living in a dorm or an apartment is too high for most students. Dorm life is not for everyone and many students would prefer to live off campus.

CLIFF H.EISE

The Dome must be a public place. It is a valuable resource for the university community. The university should consider alternative uses for the Dome that would benefit the students and the university as a whole.

"Dorm Life Can Be a Handicap"

DORIS KLEIN, 25, 162 Main St., Newry, majoring in art.

I feel the regulations should allow all students under 21, or those who are under 21 but have been married for at least one year, to live in a dorm or approved housing, regardless of parental permission. What is your opinion regarding these regulations?

"Benefits Many Freshmen"

VICKI GARDNER, 20, 3rd, 1419 Wisconsin, majoring in English.

I can understand the university's desire to have freshmen live in residence halls. It is important to form friendships with people your own age and the dorms fulfill this need. However, freshmen should also be allowed to live off campus if they choose to do so.

"Regulations Not Necessary"

ROE WALKER, 21, sophomore, 109 Fairview Village, from Freeport, majoring in pre-dentistry.

Since my brother is a senior and I am not interested in living in dorms, I do not think the regulations are necessary. I believe that freshmen should be given the opportunity to live off campus if they choose to do so.

"Sophomores Still Need Rules"

JOE WILKINS, 22, freshman, 121 Division St., from Iron River, majoring in education.

It is my opinion that sophomores should be required to live in residence halls for at least two years.

"Sophomores Can Still Use Hall Benefits"

ALVIN HANSON, 21, junior, 1302 Washington, from La Crosse, majoring in history.

I think the regulations are unnecessary. It is important for students to develop independence and responsibility. They should be allowed to live off campus if they choose to do so.

"A Liberal Suggestion"

HARRIS REED, 24, senior, 301 Center St., St. DePre, majoring in elementary education.

I think all students should be allowed to live in residence halls. It is important for students to develop independence and responsibility. The university should consider alternative uses for the space and learn to be flexible. Dorm life is not as important as it once was and it should not be regulated too strictly.

"Dorm Life Must Be a Public Place"

HELEN TERRY, 20, sophomore, 161 Main St., Newry, majoring in art.

Old Heating Plant Will Be Torn Down

The old heating plant, a landmark at What-Haven, is coming down to make way for a handsome new non-teaching Main Building and the Learning Resources Center. No speech, dinner or other event will be held as the building will be in use for a week, but the old heat plant will be kept until the new one is ready. The present building will be of use to a new building to be used for the purpose of expanding the school. The new building will be a modern, well-appointed structure, designed to meet the needs of the growing student body. The building will be built next to the main road and will be accessible to all students. The new building is expected to be ready for use by the fall semester.

Students receive scholarships

Four What-Haven students were awarded scholarships recently by the Eve Foundation. The scholarships, based on academic achievement, provide financial assistance to those who demonstrate a commitment to their education. The University Laboratory School board will provide funds for the rental of textbooks and other learning materials. The student's parents will be expected to contribute to the cost of tuition and fees.

Anson Mount Speaks On Playboy Morality

Playboy Magazine's Public Affairs Manager, Anson Mount, addressed the University's Playboy Club and the New Morality at a University Chapel program last Monday night. A title, "What You Believe in the New Morality," presented by Mount. He explained the change of attitude toward moral problems and the Playboy philosophy, which was seen as an anti-church establishment. Mount pointed out that submitting a personal philosophy, which is required by the establishment, must be justified to itself. He stated that the establishment is based on the idea that morals are not fixed in a culture. He claimed that the establishment is more flexible in the moral sense.

Mr. Mount challenged Playboy's position and support the moral standards of the establishment. He believes that the establishment is not better off than it was before. Playboy's philosophy is seen as a method of involving people in the establishment. Mount pointed out that establishment is not always involved in the situation at hand. He claimed that the establishment is not always involved in the situation at hand.

Mankato Drops Point From Unbeaten Ranks

Despite outageing their opponents by a score of 15-7, the Pointers lost their second conference game of the season Saturday night at Hamline in St. Paul. They outscored their opponents for the last three quarters, but the Indians were much too strong for the Pointers in the first period. The Indians put up 10 points in the first quarter and led 15-2 at the half.

The Pointers scored 13 points in the second quarter to bring the game within striking distance. In the third period, the Pointers scored 9 more and led 22-15 going into the fourth. The Indians put up 7 more points in the final period to win the game by a 15-point margin.

The Pointers were led by Roy Ciel, who scored 18 points. He also had 8 rebounds and 4 assists. Dan Bay led the team with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Peter Nolan scored 13 points and had 7 rebounds.

The Pointers are now 3-2 in the conference and 8-6 overall. They are currently in third place in the conference standings.

Athletes’ Feats

BY TIM LAGUE

It was one of those frustrating evenings for the Pointers last Saturday night at Hamline. They dominated play for hundreds of yards and organized the Indian defense by their superior ability on offense. Despite these efforts, they had dropped Mankato in the first quarter. This fine defense squad will receive this weekend against Winona State, which last week crushed Minneapolis, 27-0, after playing their opener in Duluth by a 147-yard margin. The Pointers fall to 2-1 in the conference and 2-7 overall. Their previous loss was to Winona State.

The Pointers also have a frustrating game against the Pointers in the last three months until Christmas, but the Packers were minor. They will play their first game without the services of Roy Ciel, who scored 18 points. He also had 8 rebounds and 4 assists. Dan Bay led the team with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Peter Nolan scored 13 points and had 7 rebounds.

The Pointers are now 3-2 in the conference and 8-6 overall. They are currently in third place in the conference standings.

Pointers Meet La Crosse Saturday

WII-Shiners. Point’s fast- ball team went on from the loss to a win over the Pointers. The Pointers lost 9-2 in the first game, then came back to win the second game 6-2. The Pointers scored 13 points in the third quarter to tie the game and win 14-12. The Pointers are now 2-2 in the conference and 4-4 overall.

The Pointers are scheduled to play La Crosse Saturday afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 2:00 p.m.
