"I realize that patriotism is not enough. I must have no hatred or bitterness towards anyone." —Edith Covell

Did You Ever Get Feeling That Way?

I know you aren’t going to believe this but that amphibian in back of Main Hall isn’t there anymore. They tore it down and now they’ve plated this huge space with concrete. This is the end of the road for those who have forestry majors. We better have some forestry on campus. In fact, it is this very idea that I have proposed to the president that this would not be the first time they have restored that space with concrete. It would have been more than $200,000, and then we can renovate the whole campus. Well, that’s pretty good news.

And then the other day at noon I ate lunch with these 3 girls and they told me they were sick of our campus. They wanted to see some of the other students near Milwaukee and they all have girl friends there. They also said that they can’t study in the hall because they can’t study in the hall.

Forties are coming and that will be cause only one incumbent will be left. But the forty’s won’t be enough to lose off-campus if they stayed here. I think it’s too bad they’re leaving.

And then a little while later I was talking to a few girls and they were telling me how great it was the last time when they were at the basketball game because I had agreed to go.

Now I was just wondering where the value system was? I guess some things are important and the fact that we try to get them saved. I don’t think the Course are coming and that Bitch Henderson will perform on campus is important. But, you know, I don’t think that Bitch Henderson and I mean I like that, what’s really important?

—Bill McHillen

What’s This Campus Coming To Anyways?

Wednesday had to be one of the most beautiful days of the week. You could see the turn of the leaves, and the forecast for today and tomorrow is still forty and thirty days before.

The rain that fell most of last week has made the campus look like a carpet for all those who own a car with automatic shock absorbers. There is even speculation that the intersection of Bissell and Suspense Streets, the center of campus, will be washed out later this day. Senate enter the tournament, it will be a new team because only one incumbent is seeking re-election. President Dreyfus has been criticized by the late Joseph Mc-Clooney, editor of the student newspaper. He is active in his duties as president of the University Center.

Point Blank

By Ed Marks and Mike Ehr

As a polite service to the Pointer is featuring this column to answer questions that are of interest to students. Submit questions to the Pointer Office.

Why do the twenty-one-year old bars close at 1 a.m., while the Milwaukee bars close at 2 a.m.?

According to the Student Police Department it is a state law that all bars must close at 1 a.m. except for weekends when bars can stay open until 2 a.m. Central Standard Time. This city ordinance is in effect regardless of whether the bars have the bars open again later. If you have problems with bars you can write a letter to the editor.

With the same change in women’s hours, will the hours of the University watchtower be extended? —The Bishop, Phillips

A change in telephone hours has not yet been considered. If you have problems with the University watchtower you can write a letter to the editor.

The addition of Int J. Pint, Ferro, to the Pointer columns this fall, most likely caused by students for parking, have eliminated the need for a parking lot. It is the only way to solve the parking problem.

There is a parking problem on campus near the university with the construction of several new buildings and a steady influx of new students. The only solution is to provide more parking facilities near campus.

There will be no parking problems on campus near the university with the construction of several new buildings and a steady influx of new students. The only solution is to provide more parking facilities near campus.

With a continued increase of cars on campus this past summer, the university administration and the Police Department are looking for more parking space. Clue: the Police Department is looking for more parking space for their cars. The police have requested that students use the new parking facility near the university.

With all of the activities on campus these days, we wonder how this could be taken into account. Perhaps we should think of trying to decide which would be most important, and then plan the activities accordingly. (Bob Bolen Photo)

Although the entire future of our campus does not lie in the hands of Miss Carolyn Sand, she has a small part in the planning of new facili- ties. Miss Sand has been particularly interested in the renovation and extension of the library building. She is not only the president of the Wisconsin State University Student Senate, but also the president of the national Student Senate. She has made several visits to the campus to observe the progress of the library renovation and extension project. Peoples' Choice Play At Variety Review

"The People's Choice," a luncheon Point dance band, happily answered that question Saturday when they performed in Chicago as a guest with WGN. As usual, the large, enthusiastic audience showed its appreciation with cheers and applause. Dr. John Baker, WGN's director of music, was on hand to help the band.

More important to the dance band is the annual "People's Choice" vote, conducted by the Illinois Association of Broadcasters on the airwaves of the state's radio stations. The group is composed of 5,000 station announcers and news directors who each cast a vote for their favorite dance band. "The People's Choice" has been the winner for the past two years, and the band is hoping to continue its winning streak this year.

The group will be one of four music organizations performing Sunday night at the "Variety Review" in the fieldhouse.

manship is high among the board members. They work hard for the organization and their success is evident in the growth and popularity of the group.

Smith said his business must be continually on the lookout for new ideas and techniques. "There is no room for complacency," he said. "We must always be striving to improve our services to our customers."

The Pointers Blugolds; Weekend Action Rained Out

By Mike Dahl

The question was whether or not the Pointers would be able to play their season opener against the Blugolds on Saturday. If it did rain, they would have to play on Sunday.

The Pointers, with their last game against the Blugolds last year ending in a 3-3 draw, were looking to avenge that loss with a win last Saturday. But their hopes were dashed as the rain fell once again.

The Pointers were not able to play on Saturday due to the rain, and they had to reschedule the game for Sunday. The Blugolds also had to make the same decision.

The Pointers fell to the Blugolds 3-1 on Sunday, ending their season opener with a loss. However, they will have to wait until next week to see if they can make up for this loss with a win.

Tennis Wins Opener Over Winona

Mike Nichols, longtime tennis coach of the Pointers, was ecstatic after his team defeated the Winona State Warhawks 4-0 on Saturday.

The Pointers have been practicing hard all season and were ready to show off their skills in the season opener against the Warhawks.

The Pointers dominated the match, winning all four singles matches and one doubles match. The team's confidence is high heading into the rest of the season.

Lash's Sports Flashes

By Tim Lash

The Big question in the Major Leagues this year has been the one about the new rules. But the greatest question has been "Does it go in or out?"

The Lash family has been watching the games closely. The family is divided on the new rules. Some think they make the games more exciting, while others feel they take away from the game's tradition.

For those of you who are new to the Lash family, here is a quick summary of the new rules:

- The pitcher can now throw any number of pitches without fear of being ejected.
- The batter can now hit a home run if the ball goes over the fence.
- The umpire can now call a strike if the pitch is not in the strike zone, regardless of whether the batter swings or not.

For those of you who are familiar with the Lash family, here is a quick summary of the previous rules:

- The pitcher had a limit on the number of pitches he could throw without being ejected.
- The batter had to hit the ball for a home run to be scored.
- The umpire could call a strike if the pitch was in the strike zone, whether the batter swung or not.

We hope you enjoyed our analysis of the new and old rules. Check back next week for more Lash's Sports Flashes.
