

Regents Revise Conduct Code

A new by-law of the Board of Regents of State Universities informs students and university administrators of student rights and rules of conduct which apply to all nine Wisconsin State Universities and their branch campuses. (The revised code is listed on Page 2.)

Eugene R. McPhee, Madison, Director of State Universities, said that the new by-law adopted Jan. 18 makes it clear that additional rules and regulations for student conduct may be established at each campus, if consistent with the by-law.

The conduct rules began with a statement drafted last fall by WSU deans and vice presidents of student affairs. The by-law contains a number of revisions and additions suggested by university administrators, by AMU, E. L. Winger, Madison, special counsel for the board and former justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court. Further revisions will be considered if proposed.

Student spokesmen have opposed a provision giving university presidents jurisdiction to suspend and expel students for certain kinds of conduct off the campus as well as on-campus. The by-law revision on that subject states:

"Students are subject to such reasonable disciplinary actions as the president of the university may consider appropriate, including suspension and expulsion in appropriate cases, for breach of federal, state or local laws or university rules or regulations. This principle extends to conduct off-campus which is likely to have adverse effect on the university or on the education process or which stamps the offender as an unfit associate for the other students."

The by-law specifically prohibits the following:

1. Interference with accepted functions or activities of the university or with its educational services, either by breach of the peace, physical obstruction or coercion, or by noise, tumult or other disturbances.
2. Unauthorized occupancy of university facilities or blocking access to or from such areas.
3. Interference with approved university traffic (pedestrian or motor vehicle).
4. Infringement of the rights of students, faculty, staff and other authorized persons to gain access to any university facility for the purpose of attending classes or participating in interviews, university conferences and/or other university activities.

Housing Revises Unapproved Housing Rule

Students who wish their 21st birthday during the semester may now reside in unapproved, off-campus housing, providing written parental permission is received in the Housing Office.

The change, first proposed by the Student Senate, was approved by the faculty and the Student Affairs Council.

In order to reside in unapproved, off-campus housing, the student must have his parents' permission in writing in the Housing Office before he signs a contract or takes up residence in unapproved housing.

Last semester, three students, Paul and Peter Johnson and Dave Rung, were found to be living in unapproved, off-campus housing before their 21st birthdays. By the time that they were discovered to be ineligible for unapproved housing, all had turned 21. Although they were allowed to stay in their present housing, they support the passage of the resolution through the Senate.

Plaque or demonstrating, with the use of obscene or indecent language, or with signs or banners containing such language or of such size, material or construction as to create a hazard to persons or property.

In addition to the rules adopted Dec. 1 summarizing steps to be followed by a student to assure that a student has a fair hearing on any charges against him. Detailed uniform procedures for distribution of disciplinary cases at State Universities are being prepared for consideration by the regents.

The complete by-law governing student rights and rules of conduct will be published in the February issue of WSU Report, for distribution to all universities and interested persons and groups. Copies are available at the State University system office, P. O. Box 932, Madison 53701.

Johnny Rivers Performs For Winter Carnival

Vicar And Deacon Also Featured

Johnny Rivers, who gained fame with his recording of "Memphis," will perform Feb. 18 at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point.

He will appear with the singing team of "Vicar and the Deacon" at 8 p.m. in the Fieldhouse. The program will mark the end of the annual WSU winter-carnival.

While "Memphis" made Rivers a star and sold over one million records, subsequent releases also were on the top forty lists including "Maybellene," "Mountain of Love," "Midnight Special," "Savannah," and "Where Have All the Flowers Gone."

The young entertainer started his career at a night club on Hollywood's Sunset Strip, then went on the road heading his own troupe called the "Memphis Special." His group included Chad and Jeremy from England, The Ventures, and Ronny and the Daytonians.

At 24 he is making his mark as a supper club entertainer but plans to turn his attention to the opportunities as a showman in Europe.

He lives in a mansion in Beverly Hills, is single, drives an XKE, and is described by Steve Allen as the "Piped Piper of the Twentieth Century."

Mrs. Romney, Nixon Speak In Point Within A Week

Early Republican campaigning for the April 2 Wisconsin Presidential primary will hit the Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point campus this coming week with the appearance of former vice-president Richard M. Nixon and Mrs. George Romney, wife of the Michigan Governor.

Mrs. Romney will appear Friday, Feb. 2, in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center. Her speech will begin at 8 p.m. Area residents will interview her on a special program at 9:30 p.m. on cable television channel 6.

Nixon will deliver an address in the University Fieldhouse at 12:35 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 6. Classes for his hour talk may be called off the discretion of the individual instructors.

Both speeches are open to students, faculty and the general public. There is no charge in either case.

Mrs. Nixon's visit will be part of a two-day swing through Wisconsin. It will begin with a Feb. 5 evening address in Green Bay, followed by a Feb. 6 morning visit to Appleton, the noon address in Stevens Point and afternoon and evening stops in Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. The former two-term vice-president under Dwight D. Eisenhower carried his highest in his unsuccessful bid for the Presidency against John F. Kennedy in 1960.

Mrs. Romney's campus visit on behalf of her husband is part of an extensive tour of central and eastern Wisconsin.

His visit was arranged by members of the WSU Young Republican Club headed by Sue Anderson, sophomore from Rainierland. The members are working with Mr. and Mrs. Hall, 3125 Dan's Drive, Stevens Point, who are Romney for President chairmen in Portage County.

Mr. Nixon's visit is sponsored by the WSU-Stevens Point Political Science Association. Joseph Woodka, chairman of the political science department, says Nixon was invited to keep with a plan to have every potential and actual presidential candidate on the Stevens Point campus.

Mrs. Romney has done extensive campaigning across the nation for her husband. A former native of the Mormon Settlement in Salt Lake City, Utah, she was married to Romney in 1931. She has been a resident of Michigan for 24 years—the last five as the state's first lady. She is the mother of four children and the grandmother of nine.

Pro-McCarthy Group Formed

A McCarthy for President committee was formed on campus Tuesday, Jan. 30. Six WSU students met at the home of sociology professor Gordon Shipman and heard George V. Chas. McCarthy, campus coordinator from Madison. Weber helped in the committee's formation and support campaign material.

McCarthy's basic campaign rests on his Vietnam policy: "The bombing of North Vietnam should be immediately and unconditionally stopped."

"The United States and South Vietnamese governments should seek immediate negotiations with the National Liberation Front."

"To encourage these negotiations, the United States should gradually withdraw its troops from certain areas of South Vietnam and reduce its commitment to a point where the Vietnamese will have to negotiate with the Viet Cong and settle the war."

The campus McCarthy committee plans to have 8 table in the University Center at various times during the semester in order to inform students on the qualities of Mr. McCarthy.

Soroka Discusses Results Of Stalinist Terror Monday

A history professor, who served as an officer in the Polish underground Home Army and Peasant's Battalions during World War II, will discuss "The development and results of Stalinist Terror" in programs Feb. 5 and 6 at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point.

Dr. Wacław W. Soroka, member of the WSU faculty since 1963, said his own wartime experiences will discuss the "color" of the speeches.

The public lecture will be at 8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 5 in the Frank Lloyd Wright Lounge of the University Center and the faculty seminar will be at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 6 in the Muir-Schurz Room of the center. The program will be presented as the third in a series on "Russia and the Soviet Union: Democracy and Diversity."

Dr. Soroka said his lecture will include a discussion of Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, and a detailed report on four young Soviet intellectuals who were sentenced to forced labor camps last month for involvement in a protest movement.

The four had assailed the condemnation of two book writers whose works were published in Western Europe, beyond the reach of Soviet censors. After the Soviet government declared the writing of such materials a crime, a French communist

Dr. Soroka believes the message of the condemned is that the people of the Soviet Union are yearning for freedom, justice and the rule of law, as guaranteed by the constitution.

Dr. Soroka taught at the University of Lublin before and after the Nazi occupation of Poland. Part of the duties as a member of the resistance movement was service as chief of information and press of the Senate Revises Resolution

The primary concern of the Student Senate at tonight's meeting will be the resolution concerning the banning of military recruiters from campus.

Although the students in a referendum voted against implementation of the resolution, an alternate proposal will be presented by President Paul Schilling. The new proposal will be essentially the same as the previous resolution with the exception of the suspension of military recruiting on campus.

Instead, the proposal will ensure the action of General Lewis B. Hershey but will not ban military recruiters on campus.

In other business, there will be discussion about the due process system in regards to the Student Conduct Code. There will be some discussion on the One for the Road Committee.

That Was The Year That Was

It was a year of the absurd, the ludicrous, the ridiculous, the "happenings," the 1967, notes the University of Kansas Daily Kansan, make one wonder how we got started down this staircase and where it's taking us.

Take, for example, the Kansas suggests, these phenomena of the year:

LBJ rejected an excellent portrait of himself as "the ugliest thing" he ever saw. Then he became a grandfather to a youngster whose "republican" father called him "elephant" and he married off his daughter to a Vietnamese Marine captain instead of the undrafted George Hamilton.

The birth and death of hippedom was heralded, and for a while Haight-Ashbury meant love, insouciance, it seemed, by Lady Bird's beautification program, flower power appeared to be a permanent thing. Bubble-gum companies were offering flower-printed paper dresses by mail order.

Paper was in, along with plastic and aluminum wrap. You could order a floor-length paper wedding dress for $1.50 or a full mid-dress for slightly more.

That development came in a year when a 17-year-old British girl weighing 90 lbs. and measuring 31-23-32 made $120 an hour modeling for the same fashion magazines which advertise bosom-building aids.

It became as difficult to separate the men from the girls as it was the actors from the politicians. As men's hair got longer and girls' figures became more Twiggyish, no end to the problem was in sight.

A matronly Shirley Temple, wearing the longest skirt in the wardrobe, she was back into the public eye for a few brief shining moments, while Ev-Dirksen entertained thoughts that he could sing while being LBK's best buddy. Posters of Ronnie Reagan in a cowboy suit are selling well, but does that mean the honorable governor can ride into the White House?

Bobby Kennedy became a father for the tenth time and Ethel still played touch football before breakfast.

Norman Miller wrote another book and for lack of a better title it "Why Are We In Vietnam?"

The hula hoop returned, this time with a ball bearing inside that caused a "shoop-shoop" when the hoop went around. It was called, cleverly enough, the "shoop-shoop hula hoop."

The hippies added a new dimension to American slang. The "straight" world was encouraged to "tune-in, turn on and drop out," "go where it's at," "do your own thing" and "find your bag."

Psychedelic posters heralded the psychedelic era and brought along some of the most establishment-shocking crazes yet. It was a year for the "don't touch" skin as bodies were painted in psychedelic swirls of color.

But it seemed girls couldn't decide whether they wanted to look like little girls-with-braids, Mary Jane shoes and a white stockings-or super-zombies, silver-painted, rhinestone-laden eyes and the smashier flasher fashions of psychedelia.

Designer Rudi Gernreich, creator of the topless in 1964, this year came up with the near bottomless in skirts that reach unprecedented heights.

Frank Sinatra was married, saw his daughter achieve fame, had his front teeth knocked out and was separated from his young wife—all in one year.

ROTC Head Arrives To Begin Recruiting

The first of seven military men who will direct a Reserve Officer Training Corps at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point has arrived on campus to begin preparing military study programs for students.

LT. Col. Jack E. Mowery will be chairman of the WSU military science department and head a staff of two other officers and four enlisted men.

The ROTC program will go into effect at the beginning of the fall term in Sept. In need of youths who will serve as cadet officers in the new unit next fall, Col. Mowery said he arrived early in Stevens Point to recruit sophomores who can undergo special training to serve in the leadership corps.

To qualify, the men are required to undergo six weeks of training at Fort Benning, Georgia, during the summer. They would receive the same training given in two years of "basic ROTC" study at a university or college campus.

Col. Mowery will speak to student groups during the next four months to explain ROTC, including the opportunity for men to receive $50 per month as participants in the advanced course.

WSU's program will include about 26 credits of work, of which nine or 10 credits would be in courses that the ROTC men would likely take as regular students.

Basic courses will be offered for freshmen and sophomores in military subjects, weapons, equipments, military history and leadership techniques. The class time will be three hours per week.

That advanced course will be solely for students who have demonstrated a potential in becoming effective officers, dealing with military techniques, tactics and full year leave at University of Minnesota.

He was an enlisted man from 1943 to 1946 in the Pacific and on the China mainland. After World War II, he studied for a B.S.E.d. degree at the University of Cincinnati and participated in the ROTC program. Upon graduation in 1951, he received his commission and was assigned to supervise the construction of a bridge across the Rhine River in Germany.

Later, he received a civil engineering degree from Texas A and M.

Col. Mowery recently was with the Defense Communications Agency in Washington, D.C.

He is married and has four children ranging in ages from 1 to 7. After he finishes his family will move to Stevens Point from their present home in Springfield, Ohio.

The Army stipulates that after a student receives a reserve commission, he is obligated to serve two years on active duty and four years in reserve status. Recipients of regular Army commissions are required to serve three years on active duty and three years in the reserves.

Mowery has logged about 20 years of military service, including time as assistant professor of military science.

Poetry Press Accepts Poems

The National Poetry Press has announced that it is now accepting manuscripts for its spring compilation.

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible to submit his verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme, but shorter works are preferred by the Board of Judges because of space limitations.

Each paper must be typed or printed on a separate sheet and must bear the name and home address and college of the student. Entrants should also submit the name of the English instructor.

The closing date for the submission of manuscripts is April 10. Manuscripts should be sent to: Office of the Press, National Poetry Press, 3219 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90034.

Herman Publishes Sanskrit Articles

A philosophy professor at WSU-Stevens Point, whose special interest is in studies of India and the Sanskrit language, recently published articles in Asian journals.

Arthur Herman had a paper, "The Nature of Aesthetic Judgment," appearing in three parts in the Aryan Path, a philosophy publication printed in Bombay. The objective and subjective criteria of beauty, a pragmatic criterion of beauty and a test case for aesthetic pragmatism were outlined by Herman.

In Sept. he had his translation of a 12th century Sanskrit work appear in another Bombay publication. He entitled his translation, "The Blind Culture and the Cat."

Student's Poem Published

Sally Troyanski, 2032 Center Street, a junior from Wisconsin Rapids majoring in history recently had a poem, "I Sometimes Think," published by the National Poetry Press, Los Angeles.

LELAND BURROUGHS, emeritus professor of English at Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point, will be honored Feb. 11 when the school's week-long Winter Carnival will be dedicated in his honor. A companion during the "Frost Fest" will be a Saint Bernard dog, "Brandy," which students have selected as carnival mascot.

Eagon Outlines Vietnam Missions

A Stevens Point university dean outlined his three recent educational missions to South Vietnam Jan. 18 at the eighth annual meeting of the Central Wisconsin Elementary Principals Association.

Dr. Burdette Eagon, who heads the Wisconsin State University college of education, was the featured speaker at the closing program of the meeting.

His three trips to Southeast Asia consumed almost six months of 1967 and involved leading a six-member study group exploring ways to improve primary and secondary education in the war-torn country.

The Saigon press gave a significant amount of publicity to the research team. The South Vietnamese government lauded the work of the Americans even though they advocated a spending of 25 per cent of South Vietnam's budget for education.

Convention activities got underway at 1 p.m. with registration in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center followed by the keynote address at 1:30 p.m.

Dr. William Clements, director of institutional research at WSU, spoke on "Elementary Schools - Threshold for Research." Afternoon sectional meetings conducted by WSU faculty members included: Jack Scharrschmidt, director of special programs for teachers in central Wisconsin with headquarters at WSU, spoke on "The Use of Tele-writer for In-Service Sessions";

Hildegard Kiser, "Aerospace Education for Elementary Schools"; Margery Aber, "Suzuki Method of Teaching Violin to Primary Age Children";

Laurene Tufts, "Speech Correction in School"; and Marjorie Spring, "Helping a Handicapped Child in School."

Hosting the meeting was Dr. John Pearson, director of the WSU Laboratory School, and Cal Haggen, principal of Howe School in Wisconsin Rapids, and Loran D. Volland, principal of Washington School in Stevens Point.

Clements Stresses Research Values

"History will record the progress we make in education, but only research will measure it," members of the Central Wisconsin Elementary Principals Association were told Thursday, Jan. 18. Teachers' strikes, federal aid to education and school consolidation were targets in the speech by Dr. William Clements, director of institutional research at the Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point. He gave the keynote address for the schoolmasters' eighth annual winter meeting at WSU.

He labeled the undertaking of research projects as one of the most important things we go out on strike for higher pay, we should prove ourselves competent to comprehend and solve the problems of our profession.

"Can you imagine a doctor who is unable or unwilling to read and keep up with the professional literature of his medical profession? The great majority of them do keep up, and are busier than teachers are."

He cited five areas of research that persons involved in elementary education should seriously consider: Evaluation of Pre-School A.D. Projects. Tests should be re-evaluated. defeated. He has done several studies and found the best college students usually are from small classes. "What we have ignored is the advantages of smaller schools, and the disadvantages of big ones." He assailed the long bus trips students have to take each day enroute to the "big schools."

"These students definitely have a disadvantage," he said. The Problem of Limited Finances-He recommends that sound research can determine what pays off and what doesn't in his time of skyrocketing costs in education. "But the time of increased spending is nearing an end, and the end will come when we invest unwisely in methods and equipment that do not produce improved education. The time soon may come when our task will be to maintain the same level of quality at less cost. Even federal sources of money will dry up if investments do not pay off," he concluded.

Prices Cut For Spouses

Spouses of students may now purchase Student Activity cards for the second semester at the cost of $5.00. These cards are good for all University events except the use of the Student Health Services and The Iris.

The change was brought about after the Student Senate requested to President Dreyfus that the student spouses be authorized to purchase Student Activity cards at reduced rates.

Tickets may be obtained from the University Cashier after Feb. 1.

Hall-A-Days

By MARY ROGERS

Among the seemingly numerous representative groups on the campus, one of the least heard of is the President's Hall Council. The council is made up of all the resident hall presidents, two student senate representatives and an RHIC representative.

The academic advisor for the council is Mr. Fred Leafgreen. One Klosterman is chairman. Wally Thiel is secretary.

The council meets every Monday for dinner at DeBot center. At their meetings, they have discussed such issues as the possible locking of men's halls and provisions for signs in residence hall windows.

This group has also met with Ace Foods representatives to ask about the prices of food in the vending machine.

Students next year can be grateful for one resolution they have passed: Students will receive two clean sheets, instead of only one, every week for a $2.25 extra charge per semester.

The ABC matches are slowly pointing out future winners. As of Jan. 7, these are the standings: Pray-Sims, Baldwin and Hansen are undefeated. Neale, Burroughs and Knutsen have won one and lost one. Roach has won two and lost two. Hyer, Steiner and Delzell have lost three out of three, and Nelson has lost two out of two.

The match Jan. 7 showed these scores: Burroughs over Knutsen 15-85, Roach over Schmeckle 25-5, Hyer over Steiner 20-60, Hyer over Neale 15-110 and Baldwin over Delzell 55-25. Nelson did not play.

The next match is scheduled for Feb. 4. Nelson will be at Roach, Knutsen at Smith, Schmeckle at Steiner, Hyer at Hane, Pray-Sims at Knutsen, Neale at Baldwin and Burroughs does not play.

Baldwin

With the coming of the second semester, Baldwin has some new personnel. Tom Lehr is the new resident assistant, replacing Le Neumeier, who graduated at mid-year. Lehr is a senior from Middleton majoring in biology and psychology.

Larry Reed took over a vacant student assistant position left open when Nathan Kawakami resigned in order to devote more time to Student Senate. Reed is a senior from Elkhorn majoring in psychology.

Baldwin and Neale Hall will renew their rivalry Sunday evening with an ABC match at Baldwin. President Dryfus will moderate the match as the two halls fight for first place in the standings. The match will begin at 7 p.m., Sunday at Baldwin Hall.

Painters Win Crush LaCrosse, River Falls

The Stevens Point Painters played their best basketball game of the season thus far in a pair of road contests against highly regarded LaCrosse and River Falls, beating the Indians, 95-78, and the Falcons, 81-63, by a whopping 11-13 score. With the wins, which made it four in a row for the Painters, they climbed into second place in the state University with a 4-2 mark. The Painters completely dominated both contests with strong rebounding and near phenomenal shooting, breaking the existing conference record for field goal percentage in both games.

At LaCrosse on Jan. 6, the Painters got off to a slow start and trailed after six minutes of play. LaCrosse's high scoring Joel Hafner led the attack with several tips. The Painters then took control of the contest with 14 straight points in late 21-24. The Indians never got closer than five points after that. Mike Hughes used his 6'8" frame to good advantage around the basket, pouring in variety of short shots and awkward four tips. He ended the first half with 21 points.

LaCrosse crept within five at 33-28, but DeFauw connected on five straight shots. The lead swelled to 35-20 with two minutes left and the Painters won 94-78. Stevens Point scored an amazing 62.6 per cent from the floor in the second half and finished the game with a 52.6 per cent mark, bettering the existing conference record of 47 per cent set by Stout against Plattville last season.

The Painters hit on 42 of 80 shots for the game, with Hughes hitting 13 of 21. DeFauw, 11 of 19, Tom Ritzenthaler 7 of 12, Palmer Clements 5 of 9 and Ken Ziegahn 5 of 10. The Indians, who entered the game with a 21 point average, was held to 5 of 17 from the floor and only 11 points. Mike Granger, Gene Loughrin led the Indians with 18 each. Hughes and DeFauw finished with each other. Ritzenthaler added 15, while Ritzenthaler and Clements 11 and 10.

If the home fans at LaCrosse had a long evening watching the Painters, it must have seemed an eternity to the River Falls fans. The Painters crushed the Falcons, 81-63, in a 100-yard conference field goal percentage.

Point swimmers who finished the season with 52.6 per cent individual medley; Jeff Pagels—200-yard freestyle; Tom Ritzenthaler 7 of 12, Palmer Clements 5 of 9 and Ken Ziegahn 5 of 10. Hughes and DeFauw finished with each other. Ritzenthaler added 15, while Ritzenthaler and Clements 11 and 10.

Second place finishers included Doug Evers—100-yard freestyle; Jeff Pagels—200-yard freestyle; Mark Brodgen—300-yard freestyle; Terry Nick—500-yard freestyle; Tom Ritzenthaler 7 of 12, Palmer Clements 5 of 9 and Ken Ziegahn 5 of 10. The Indians, who entered the game with a 21 point average, was held to 5 of 17 from the floor and only 11 points. Mike Granger, Gene Loughrin led the Indians with 18 each. Wayne Jacobson—200-yard butterfly; Bob Schwengel—200-yard backstroke and Tim Siebert—200-yard breaststroke.

The following day the White-water swimmers came to two only to meet defeat at the hands of Coach Blair's swimmers. 40-44, Mass and the Painters and the 200-yard butterfly. Other first place performances were turned in by Sinkins in the 200-yard backstroke, Edwards in the 200-yard breaststroke, the medley relay team of Sinkins, Edwards, Mass and Pagels. Second place performances contributing to the victory were turned in by Tom Roga in the 200-yard freestyle, Pagels in the 200-yard freestyle, Evers in the 50-yard freestyle, Nick in the 100-yard freestyle, Siebert in the 200-yard breaststroke. The WSU wrestling team turned in an outstanding effort in a triple dual meet held on Jan. 6 at Menominee, beating Stout and LaCrosse and losing a close match to Winona (Minn.) State. Winona was rated sixth in the nation last year in wrestling. The wins improved the Painters' overall mark to 24. Complete results are as follows:
