New Suspension Rules Passed by Regents

By Bill Nelson
The Wisconsin State University Stevens Point campus will be subject to four new suspension rules that went into effect at the fall meeting of the university's Board of Regents on October 22, 1968. The new rules are the result of a student petition that asked that action be taken to reduce the length of suspensions for students who violate campus policies.

The provisions, which will go into effect immediately, are:
1. An automatic suspension of from 1 to 3 semesters for students with a cumulative grade point average of less than 2.00, who have failed five courses during the previous semester, regardless of whether they are required courses.
2. An automatic suspension for 1 to 2 semesters for students who have committed a serious offense (a serious offense is defined as sexual assault, drug dealing, theft, and murder) regardless of whether they are required
courses.
3. An automatic suspension of from 3 to 6 semesters for students who have committed a serious offense and who are required to have a cumulative grade point average of
2.00 or higher.
4. An automatic suspension of from 6 to 12 semesters for students who have committed a serious offense and who are required to have a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher.

These rules will be enforced immediately and will remain in effect until further notice. The new rules are a part of a broader effort to improve the academic climate on campus by making it easier for students to return to college after suspension.

McCarthy Will Give A Major Address On Campus Tuesday

By Bill Nelson
J. Edward McCarthy, president of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will give a major address on campus Tuesday afternoon. The address is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. in the Field House, and will be titled "The Future of American Higher Education." McCarthy's talk will focus on issues such as funding, accreditation, and the role of universities in society. It is expected to be well-attended, and there will be a Q&A session afterward.

Auditorium Features Two One-Act Plays

By Bill Nelson
The Wisconsin State University Stevens Point campus will host a one-act play festival at the auditorium this weekend. The event will feature two one-act plays, "The Man Who Was Thursday" and "The Inspector," which will be performed by the university's drama department. The festival will run from Friday to Sunday, with shows at 7:30 p.m. each evening. Tickets are available at the door, and are $5 for adults and $3 for students.

Money Is Released For Classroom Center

By Bill Nelson
The Wisconsin State University Stevens Point campus will receive $50,000 from the state for the construction of a new classroom center. The funds will be used to build a new building that will house classrooms, offices, and laboratories. The project is expected to be completed within the next year. The university has been working on this project for several years, and is excited to finally have the funding in place.

Poet Kenneth Rexroth Will Appear Thursday

By Bill Nelson
Kenneth Rexroth, a renowned poet and writer, will appear at the university on Thursday evening. Rexroth is known for his work on modernist poetry and his contributions to the Beat Generation. He will be reading from his latest book, "The Beano," and will be discussing his work with students in the English Department.

Academic Council Debates History Requirements

By Bill Nelson
The Academic Council at the Wisconsin State University Stevens Point campus will hold a meeting on Monday to discuss the history requirements for students. The council is considering whether to require all students to take a history course, or to allow students to choose their own electives. The council is divided, with some members arguing for a strong emphasis on history, while others believe that students should have more flexibility in their course selection.

Petitions Available For Senate Offices

By Bill Nelson
Petitions are available for students who wish to run for student senate offices. The student senate is an important student organization on campus, and serves as a voice for student interests. There are several offices available, including President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer. Petitions can be obtained from the student senate office, and must be submitted by the deadline set by the student senate.

Petition for Student Senate offices will be available begin ning Thursday, October 22, 2020. Any student wishing to run for office must complete a petition and submit it by the deadline set by the student senate.

Senator Eugene McCarthy

By Bill Nelson
Eugene McCarthy, a former U.S. Senator and potential 2020 presidential candidate, will appear at the university on Thursday evening. McCarthy is known for his support of civil rights, anti-war activism, and his role in the 1968 presidential election. He will be discussing his political career and his views on current events.

Extension Hours For Faculty

By Bill Nelson
University faculty members wishing to extend their hours will be able to do so beginning next semester. The university has approved an extension of hours request from several faculty members, who have been workload-intensive courses.

Petitions for Student Senate offices will be available begin ning Thursday, October 22, 2020. Any student wishing to run for office must complete a petition and submit it by the deadline set by the student senate.

McCarthy Needs Student Support

The words on the McCarthy for President poster were simply—"Let's Begin Again . . ." To a generation mired in the mud and death of an end, to a generation of youth who have been so battered that they have little hope anymore, to a generation that has been forced, after Eugene McCarthy's successful New Hampshire showing, the phrase has become a rallying point, an administration could find on a personal level of involvement in Vietnam. Eugene McCarthy has offered alternatives. He is for stopping the bombing, negotiating with the National Liberation Front and gradual American withdrawal.

With less than two weeks to go until the Wisconsin primary, 2.3 years of all who oppose the war on any reason at all—for what it is doing to us and for our children and possibly to all of us—"Let's Begin Again." If you think he is right, vote for him as you can. But I would write letters home urging your parents to support him. It is essential that we begin . . ."

Campaign Brings Point Into Focus

Within the next few weeks national attention will again be focused on Wisconsin. Eugene McCarthy and William S. Hirsey are campaigning for his nomination, and if he wins he will be in the city to deliver campaign speeches.

Although Humphrey's visit on Saturday afternoon was not confirmed as this issue went to press, his visit is expected to be an important part of the re-election. Whether his address is a major one or not, it will certainly bring the campaign to the attention of an important segment of the populace, and it is likely that some important questions or issues arise from it.

McCarthy on the other hand, has already publicly stated that his address will be of the same importance, and his campaign is being run as a campaign to win.

McCarthy's campaign has gone into full swing after yesterday's announcement that he had won the Iowa primary. In this state, the vote will now come into play on a national level, and it is expected to be a major factor in the election.

In the meantime, the race for the presidency continues, with both candidates working hard to win their respective states. In the end, it is likely that the winner of this election will be the one who can effectively communicate their message to the voters and gain their support.

Critical Mind Needed for Society Progress

By Fred Witkowski

American people are determined to continue the program of social progress. As President Johnson and other leaders in government try to control the war in Vietnam, they are also trying to control the war in our own society. This is a difficult task, and it is not just limited to one side of the political spectrum.

In order to achieve this goal, we need a critical mind. This means being able to think independently and analyze information critically. It means being able to see issues from different perspectives and consider the consequences of our actions.

The critical mind is needed not only for society progress, but also for personal growth. It allows us to question our own beliefs and values, and to learn from our mistakes. It helps us to develop a sense of responsibility and to take action to improve the world around us.

We need the critical mind, and we need to develop it. It is not easy, but it is essential. The world is changing rapidly, and we must be able to keep up with it. The critical mind is the key to our survival.

"Swathog "Term Existed Long Ago

I am in the marine corps, and am about to write a paper on the Swathog term. It is the first time in my brother's life that he has had to write a paper on anything, and he is very excited about it. I thought it would be fun to give him a little history on the word, so I did some research on it.

Swathog was a term used in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. It referred to a type of small, fast, and agile ship that was used for riverine warfare. The term was derived from the Old English word "swath," which means "swath," or a long, narrow strip of land.

The Swathog ships were used by various countries around the world, including the United States, Japan, and the Soviet Union. They were particularly effective in fighting small, coastal battles.

I have found some interesting facts about the Swathog ship, including the fact that they were built in the United States and that they were used by both the Union and Confederate navies during the Civil War.

I hope this information is helpful to you, and that your brother enjoys his paper.

Student Senate Will Consider Officers

A resolution proposing that the Student Senate consider the position of Student Senate President will be brought before the Senate at its meeting on Tuesday, 6 p.m.

The resolution was introduced by Mr. John Thomas, who said he had been approached by a number of students who felt that the current system of electing a Student Senate President was unfair.

Breaking Your Own Foot Can Take Five Days

By Bill McIlvaine

It was another pleasant Sunday morning. The time was ten minutes past nine. I had just lain in bed, having just woken up for breakfast, and was enjoying the sound of the birds singing outside my window.

I then heard a sudden commotion outside. I got up and went to the window to see what was happening. It was the sound of a car crashing into my house.

I ran outside to see what had happened. I saw that the driver had hit a tree and was trapped inside the car. I ran over to help him and found that he was badly injured.

I immediately called 911 and waited for the ambulance to arrive. The paramedics arrived shortly after and took the driver to the hospital.

I was then informed by the police that the driver had left the scene after the accident. I was also told that I should not drive anywhere while waiting for the police to arrive.

Boyd Says University Is Anti-Intellectual

By Mike Desmond

The University is anti-intellectual because it is no longer an educational institution. It is no longer a place where we can converse into the third-tenet of the great Church, the University. It is a place where we can no longer talk about the things that concern us, the things that matter to us. It is a place where we can no longer engage in serious intellectual discourse.

The University is anti-intellectual because it is no longer a place where we can learn. It is a place where we are taught. It is a place where we are told what to believe. It is a place where we are not encouraged to think for ourselves.

The University is anti-intellectual because it is no longer a place where we can be free. It is a place where we are controlled. It is a place where we are manipulated. It is a place where we are enslaved.

The University is anti-intellectual because it is no longer a place where we can be human. It is a place where we are dehumanized. It is a place where we are reduced to mere numbers.
