Congratulations President Dreyfus

Most reflections on this past year at WSU that we have heard have been quite favorable. Whether a person likes controversy or controversy, beer or books, the fact is that we have had a very good time during this past year and the next. We wish to thank everyone here for making this possible and congratulating him.

Dr. Dreyfus has provided a challenge and has followed it up with great energy. We have not always agreed with his tactics, but we have always agreed with his goal. We wish he would join us in the future.

Seniors May Find Registration Difficult

Registrar Gilbert Faust explains the new registration policy on page 3 of this issue of The Pointer and concedes that this week’s column, "we are damned if we do change the current system" and damned if we don’t.

He and the registration office is changing the current system and possibly being damned the difference. He has pointed out that the number of students in the past year is that seniors instead of sophomores are doing the registering.

After waiting in lines for three years, most seniors are examining their future course of studies. If more than those present, they may close out sections or at least force the sophomore to register by whatever means he has such a demand. Some who have been waiting for some time have been forced to register for this semester. The question is how many of those will be satisfied.

Cream Should Learn Some Good Manners

The Cream were here Thursday night with their usual cream. The cream was brought in by Johnny Rivens and Jimm Hendrix. But with all the music they brought in the cream, they brought in a lot of seniors who will be very upset if these cream are not registered.

Do Early Birds Get The Grades?

Are you eager to be first? Consider registering for classes. In order to be first, you must register early. If you wait too long, you might not be able to register at all. This is a critical time. The earlier you register, the better your chances of getting the classes you want.

Former Student Wins Silver Star

A former student of Washington State University, Robert Johnson, has been awarded a Silver Star for his service in World War II. Johnson, who joined the army in 1943, served as a navigator in a B-24 Liberator bomber. He was shot down over Germany in 1944 and spent the remainder of the war as a prisoner of war.

Podium Policy

The Podium is dedicated to the following groups: students, faculty, staff, and visitors. The Podium is open to all groups, but some restrictions apply.

Correction

On May 26, 2019, Dr. James Brown, President of the University of Washington, announced his retirement after serving two terms as president. He will step down on June 30, 2019, after which he will assume the role of chancellor at the University of Washington at Bothell.

The Podium is a place for students to express their thoughts and ideas. It is a space for dialogue and debate. It is a place for learning and growth. It is a place for the expression of diversity and inclusion. It is a place for the advancement of knowledge and understanding. It is a place for the development of critical thinking skills.

The Pointer

Wisconsin State University

QUESTION: — As a graduating senior, what are some of your positive and negative reflections on your past four years in college?

"Dorm life was one of the best parts"

Paul Brown, 21, senior majoring in Business Economics, from Poughkeepsie, says he has no complaints about his college. "I have many more positives than negative reflections of my four years in college," he says.

Brown also reflects on his four years in college and says he is impressed with the university administration and the faculty. He says he would have liked to see more involvement by students in the administration, but he says he is satisfied with the overall experience.

Brown says he is excited about the upcoming graduation and is looking forward to the future.

"The university has provided me with a great experience," he says. "I am grateful for the opportunities I have had and I am looking forward to what the future holds for me."

Halls MUDdle To Victories

AREA GROCERY STORES REPORTED BRISK SALES of laundry detergents and fabric softeners Saturday afternoon as hall residents bathed in mud. At the same time Ajax reported that its white knight, who was stationed in Stevens Point, had disappeared. (Bob Holden Photo)

THE LOSERS IN SATURDAY'S TUG OF WAR faced more than defeat at the hands of their opponents. They also lost their cleanliness as they were dragged into the mud hole. Moments later this group was wagging its tail while frolicking in the mud. (Bob Okrasinski Photo)

THE POINTER THOUGHT theassothing issue was dead and buried, but evidently RHC revived it during last Saturday's games. The question arises as to whether the women's rope-pull teams really tried to win or throw the match in favor of the moment of frolicking. (Bob Okrasinski Photo)

SPLOUCH! Many members of residence halls found it vogue to take mud baths over the weekend instead of the customary shower. This halLOWed female found the trickling hose a comfort even though she had to take it laying down. (Bob Okrasinski Photo)

DON'T EVER SAY that people who live in residence halls never have any fun! Terminating RHC 'Week was a day of activities which included this exciting rope pull that rewarded the weaker team with a good reason to shower up. (Bob Okrasinski Photo)

FINDERS KEEPERS, LOSERS WEEPERS. Coeds dug furiously in the mud by Hyer Hall trying to locate some of the pennies placed there for the penny hunt contest. Many seekers will be happy to hear that over 400 pennies placed in the mud have yet to be recovered. (Bob Okrasinski Photo)
