the Pointer

In This Issue:

Kennedy Memorial Balisle Poetry Kathy's Kitchen Marshfield Clinic The Hammerstroms

SERIES VIII, VOL. 16

UW-STEVENS POINT, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1972

NO. 11

Interview Of The Week

Margarito(Mick) Martinez

Mick Martinez is co-director of the Wautoma office of La Raza, Inc. translated "the people." A junior majoring in social science, Martinez plans to enter law school.

Pointer: What is La Raza, Inc.?

Martines: We've been in existence for a year and a half. The organization really evolved out of an idea that Father Pancho, a priest from Spain, had while I was still in Wautoma working for the Mexican-American Self-Help Project. We talked to interested people and the organization developed. I was hired to continue working in the same area. Pointer: What does La Raza do? Martinez: What we do is provide assistance

Martinez: What we do is provide assistance to families settling out of the migrant stream and to those that have already settled out. This involves any number of things—houses, jobs, seeing that the children go to the right schools, tutorial programs, adult basic education courses, English classes, driver's license preparation. During the summer we have a radio program and we have a bilingual newspaper that comes out every month. Pointer: How large is La Raz?

newspaper that comes out every month.

Pointer: How large is La Raza?

Martinez: The organization has four staff members and we're supposed to cover eight counties. As co-director of the Wautoma office, I'm more or less in charge of Portage, Waushara, Waupaca and Green Lake counties. The Appleton headquarters is responsible for another four counties. We also count heavily on volunteers, people from the universities and from the community with a few hours they can spare. One week we may have five or six volunteers and week we may have five or six volunteers and the next week no one may be free. Right now the students are really enthused about sup-porting the organization—students from Stevens Point, Green Bay, Oshkosh and Lawrence in Appleton, expecially now with the lettuce boycott.

Pointer: Is the lettuce boycott a major project? Martinez: Martinez: It hasn't been, except in-dividually. We all abstain from eating nonunion lettuce and we encourage our friends to and sign pledge cards and things of this sort supporting the boycott, but we never actively got into it until this year.

During the summer we went to stores and tried to find places that have union lettuce so we could promote that fact. About a month ago, we called together a meeting of students, volunteers from the universities in the area, and wound up with a skeleton organization. This month and next month we are going to get this organization working and assign each group to a specific area. We'd like to cover the whole state but it's going to take some the whole state but it's going to take some time. The way things are going, the boycott will be around a long time. Pointer: How is La Raza funded? Martinez: We get money primarily from the Catholic Church. We also receive funding from the Migrant Mission, a branch of the Wisconsin Council of Churches. Other Wisconsin Council of Churches. Other contributors have been the Dioceses of Green individuals, and businesses. The primary contributors have been the Dioceses of Green Bay, La Crosse, and the national Campaign for Human Development. The Department of Local Affairs and Development in Madison have us a $10,000 grant for "grass roots" organizations for the development of community leadershin.

organizations in the development of com-munity leadership.

Pointer: Are you adequately funded?

Martinez: This year we have enough, but again, there's another fiscal year coming up in July. It's always difficult getting money.

Pointer: What are La Raza's most important activities?

Martinez: Our primary emphasis is on the development of community leadership. We also have to have programs to make it easier for someone that just decided to settle in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin.

One big thing is the English courses. In the southern part of Texas, you don't need English to get along. Spanish is enough there so when people come here, they have to learn the language so we conduct English classes. To make it heasier, because heads of households can't go to school and let the family starve, the Manpower Training Program of the Labor Department provides stipends for education or training. We have a contract with an organization in Milwaukee that gets money from the Labor Department so we can pay the heads of households attending English classes.

So one of our big preoccupations is

So one of our big preoccupations is education, whether it be for adults or dropouts or children. We're in the process now of starting a class to help dropouts get their high school equivalency certificates. Pointer: Where do the migrants settling in Wisconsin come from Wisconsin come from?

Martinez: Most of the people in this area are from Texas. Each state more or less has are from lexas. Each state more or less has an area where its people migrate to.

The pattern is changing. You go back to Texas and there's nothing to do there so many people are deciding to just stay where they are and wait for work, which I think is good. I wish we could put an end to the migrant stream right new but we con! stream right now but we can't.

Pointer: How many Chicanos are in the Martinez: Portage County alone has somthing like 60 families. Green Lake County has about 45 families, Waushara County has close to 40 and Waupaca County has 25

In Portage County, there's a concentration of about 20 families in Bancroft, a couple in Point and Plover, some more in Almond and cont. on page 3

Food For Thought On Thanksgiving

A long time ago there was a famous hunter who used to go all around hunting and always brought something good to eat brought something good to eat when he came home. One day he was going home with some birds that he had shot, and he saw a little snake by the side of the trail. It was a beautifully colored snake with all pretty colors all over it, and it looked friendly too. The hunter stopped and watched it for a while. He thought it might be hungry, so he threw it one of his birds before he went home. birds before he went home.

A few weeks later he was-coming by the same place with some rabbits he had shot, and he saw the snake again. It was still very beautiful and seemed friendly, but it had grown quite a bit. He threw it a rabbit and "hello" as he went on home.

Some time after that the hunter saw the snake again. It had grown very big, but it was still friendly and seemed to be hungry. The hunter was taking some turkeys home with him, so he stopped and gave the snake a turkey gobbler.

Then one time the hunter was going home that way with two buck deer on his back. By this time that pretty colored snake was very big and looked so hungry that the hunter felt sorry for him and gave him a whole buck to eat. When he got home he heard that the people were going to have a stomp dance. All the Nighthawks came, and that night they were going around the fire, dancing and singing the old songs, when the snake came and started going around too, outside of where the people were dancing. That snake was so big and long that he stretched all around the people and the people were penned up. The snake was penned up. The snake was covered all over with all pretty colors and he seemed friendly; but he looked hungry too, and the people began to be afraid. They told some of the boys to get their bows and arrows and shoot the snake. Then the boys got their bows. They all shot together and they hit the snake all right. That snake was hurt.

He thrashed his tail all around and killed a lot of people. They say that snake was just like the white man (America?).

Give thanks "America" while the Red children who gave you life remain captive in your forced abject poverty.

Providing Specialized Health Care For Wisconsin

Marshfield Clinic

William Matthews, Marshfield Clinic Administrator

E. David Dare, Personel Manager of the

by Carol Cartwright
About 35 miles from Stevens
Point in the small city of Marshfield, is one of the finest clinics in the United States. With 114 specialists and over 500 other employees, the Marshfield Clinic provides the specialized health care that most people would only expect to find in large urban centers.

The Clinic was founded in 1916 by six doctors for the purpose, considered radical at the time, of combining the knowledge of specialists into a group so that the best care could be given to the patient.

Today, the clinic's philosophy is pretty much the same, "to provide the best possible medical care at a reasonable cost to the natient." cost to the patient.'

Departments in the clinic include Pediatrics, Anesthesiology, many kinds of surgery, including heart; Urology; Internal Medicine; Family Medicine; Allergy, Otolaryngology, Ophthalmology, Obstetrics and Gynecology; Speech Pathology; Physical Medicine and rehabilitation; physical therapy; pathology; Social Work; Radiology; Radiotherapy; and Audiology.

There is also a patient counselor and dietician on the staff. Besides physicians, the Clinic contains X-ray, clinical, electrocardiographic and Metobolic laboratories for any kind of tests a person needs.

E. David Dare, personnel manager at the clinic stated that the main source of pride for the clinic is to have an establishment of this size and complexity in a rural area.

Dare said the clinic is also proud of its community work; the Wood County Mental Health Association is in the Clinic. The Greater Marshfield Community Health Plan is also a source of pride to the clinic.

This is a private, pre-paid group insurance plan offered to persons in a 15-mile radius of Marshfield. Under the plan, a person pays a monthly rate, $56.90 for a family, and receives $56.90 for a family, and receives all necessary health care including hospitalization up to one full year: outpatient care; services in the home for posthospital care; maternity; mental-care; vision care; and all services in the clinic itself including appreciance fees including physicians fees.

Dare explained that the clinic is a multi-million dollar cor-poration governed by the board of directors of which every doctor is a member of after two years on the staff. The board's years on the staff. The board's working arm is the executive committee, elected by the board. The clinic is in business to make a profit, but Dare explained that this profit is distributed back in salaries, equipment, and other patient needs. All doctors are paid on an equal basis in six years or less after coming to the clinic.

The money to run the clinic comes from fees paid by either the patient or his insurance plan. There are some charity cases and Dare said that the clinic doesn't turn anyone

The cost to be treated at the clinic is comparable to national averages, according to Dare and depends on the kind of treatment the patient receives. Since no treatment is similar for different people, cost is higher or lower, depending on the treatment received

Dare said that it is hard to compare Marshfield Clinic with other clinics since other clinics other clinics since other clinics have different specialities. For example, Marshfield has a large nuclear medicine department with a machine which treats cancer with pincent accuracy which another. which treats cancer with pin-point accuracy which another clinic may not have, but may have another area of high specialization. He did say, though, that Marshfield is rated about the seventh best clinic in the world.

The clinic works closely with St. Joseph's hospital in town and all physicians at the clinicare on the hospital staff. A new complex for the clinic will be built closer to the hospital in the future. Dare mentioned that other area hospitals utilized the clinic's computerized car-diogram equipment. This is the data phone system which allows another hospital to phone in-formation to the clinic for analysis, making diagnosis quicker and easier. Other services, including psychiatric work are given to hospitals in the area.

One might wonder why a clinic of this size would be in a rural area rather than a large urban center. William Matthews, administrator at the clinic, said that the clinic doesn't serve just this limited area but 75 per cent of the patients come from outside of 50 miles of Marshfield. Matthews feels that people should be in reasonable proximity of good medical care, that one should not have to go to Chicago to get

Matthews said that the only disadvantage was that exotic procedures are not done at Marshfield such as kidney transplants, but there are no real needs for this.

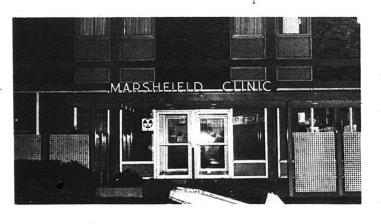

Marshfield Clinic also has a foundation for research which receives grants for projects. About 50 people work in the research area full-time inresearch area tuli-time in-cluding three PhD biochemists. Some of the projects include farmer's lung diseases, pulminary diseases and coronary heart diseases. A publishing department is also a part of the research area.

Dare said that many staff doctors work in this area but that their research doesn't distract them from their patient work. In fact, many projects have come out of the doctor's contact with a patient with a disease that needs research to help find a cure.

improvement Matthews sees is a take off on Marshfield's own Health care plan. He would like to see a system which allows anyone to get specialized health care regardless of how much money they have. He would like to see the government get involved in this idea.

Matthews would like to see an improvement in the handling of trauma cases such as car actrauma cases such as car ac-cidents. In most places there is a delay from when the patient is brought in to be treated to when he is finally treated. This delay involves taking the patient from one place to another for tests and analysis before treatment really begins. Matthews would like to see this process quickened perhaps with a better concentration of equipment.

He would also like to see a more simplified procedure of billing. But Matthews said that at Marshfield the facilities are as good as any clinic in the metropolitian area and the physicians are about the finest quality in the country.

What's Up Doc?

Gerhard (University Health Service)

What a dreary subject to talk about, you may say. And right you are, until you realize that suicide as a cause of death ranks second only to motor vehicle accidents amongst college-age students. And, of course, we con never be sure how many motor vehicle ac-cidents resulting in fatalities may have been associated with a suicidal wish. At any rate, we are not talking about an un-common occurence, either amongst university-age people or the general population. Indeed, in the United States this year, there will be in excess of 23,000 successful suicides or about one every 20 minutes. Why do we either not bother, or Why do we either not bother, or become afraid to talk about this subject? Possibly for several reasons. The subject of death and dying for many years has been associated with as many taboos as talking about sex. Because of this we have a generation of people who know yeary little about the subject of very little about the subject of death and dying, either as how it may apply to themselves, a relative, or even to a close friend. Although we have become quite proficient in recognizing when a person may be in dire medical straits that may eventuate in his death, may eventuate in his death, we are not so quick to recognizing the more subtle symptoms of the processes which lead a person to decide in their minds that suicide may be an answer at the moment. When it comes to knowing what to do, or how to feel comfortable with the person who has signs of impending death or a death wish pending death or a death wish, we are even more perplexed. We have information for almost every other situation in life that may confront us and yet there is almost no information available about death and dying.

Death, Dying And Suicide

Research is done and information becomes available on illnesses and diseases that affect only a small portion of the population and yet little if any research is done therefore not much information is available on this process which will affect the population. We have available much information on conception, adulthood and then suddenly the information ends.

What the happens when death occurs? We sort of muddle through as best we can, offering phrases which are trite and meaningless and going through antics and rituals which are poorly thought out. When our own death is imminent, we find that those who are caring for us may not even let us know it. They may give us the feeling that to talk about it would either embarrass them or imply that they are unable to do a proper job. When the time becomes quite close, those whom we might even prefer to be with us, even in silence, may be unable to do so because of their inability to handle the situation.

A few scanty reports which are finally beginning to come out indicate that death has many understandable facets many understandable facets and may follow a predictable schedule. As such, it can be approached in sensible ways as it inexorably draws near. When it is reasonably certain that a person will be facing death soon, this knowledge should be conveyed in as tactful a way a4 possible. Many fallacies exist concerning this. People have felt if somebody has an incurable illness for which the possibility of death is a real thing, we shouldn't talk a real thing, we shouldn't talk about it because it may cause them to hasten their death as by suicide, or we have felt that they just simply do not want to talk about this. Although the desire to not discuss this may occasionally be the case, in most circumstances, it is now felt individuals would like to know what the best prediction of may then order their affairs, conduct interpersonal relationships as they see fit, and prepare for what after all is a rather major step in life. Since one mode of death may be intentionally self-inflicted death, or suicide, it would be appropriate to comment on this also. Many individuals are still under the impression that to ever contemplate the idea of suicide means that you are "crazy" at one time or another. It is normal for all of us to at some time entertain the thought that there might be better things than life. Fortunately most of the time we have protective mechanisms which work to show us that after all, suicide is probably not the best answer and is obviously a longanswer and is obviously a long-term solution. Protective defenses against these thoughts may be "other people". It would be rare for a person to g ahead with a suicide attempt if they would feel that there was at least one person who felt their presence on earth was meaningful and of value. This, of course, reflects a bit of sage wisdom that we heard through the ages; namely, that it is a good idea to "love your brother as yourself." The inas yourself. The in-discriminate use of depressand drugs such as sleeping pills or alcohol may actually depress these protective mechanisms to a point where they are inef-fective with disastrous results. with all our advance in technology and the explosive increase in knowledge which we have experienced recently--if we do not find the time or the method to relate to each other as individuals, then indeed, as individuals, then indeed, there may arise situations when life may not be so desirable Although the role of suicide prevention in the past has been delegated to the so-called expert in the field, doctors, nurses, ministers, psychiatrists, etc., it would be my feeling that all of us could be concerned about relegating the role of suicide as the second leading cause of death in college students to a much lower rank.

I see no reason why all in-dividuals cannot try to learn to recognize some of the early symptoms, for instance of depression, in their fellow cont. to page 12

Martinez Interview Cont.

around Plainfield there are about 10 families.
Pointer: Where do Chicanos settling out of Pointer: Where do Chicanos settling out of the migrant stream find employment?

Martinez: They usually work in agricultural work from painting to working in the warehouses. Then for several months, there's just nothing they can do. If they were lucky enough to work for a company that withheld unemployment insurance, they get that but the content was some that have the content was some that was some that, but there aren't very many that lucky.

Pointer: What problems does La Raza

Martinez: One of the biggest problems is developing some sense of community. It seems almost unbelievable that all the families don't know each other in the same area. They need each other; we all need each other. Yet there's no rapport. We're so far away from each other with so many living in country. Transportation is really the country. Transportation is really a problem.

We didn't have any events or parties that were particularly Chicano. Not very many people want to go to a movie thay can't understand. Most of the music at dances is different from what we have in mind. With the interest in polkas and old Polish music, however, a few families are going to those dances. They're starting to make friends with Anglos and that's good.
We have to have a complete acceptance in

We have to have a complete acceptance in the community but acceptance as we are. It wouldn't do at all to try to change our names and forget Spanish.

Pointer: Are federal efforts to aid the Chicano adequate?
Martinez: Nixon has vetoed some proposed programs to continue and intensify the war on poverty. The whole Congress and executive branch have cut funds that are really im-portant, programs such as additional monies portant, programs such as additional mones to retrain people with outdated skills. The Labor Department should get more money to take a farmworker, send him to school and train him as a carpenter or welder or whatever. The money appropriated doesn't keep up with the demands being made on the Department.

Department.
Church groups are also starting to cut down on funds to these programs.
Pointer: What are La Raza's future Plans?
Martinez: We'd like to see more extensive health programs. We have a project that runs for 12 weeks when the migrants are here and it's most needed but we're advocating a rural health project for Chicanos and for everybody else that needs it but can't afford regular health services.

health services. Health is the most important aspect of our lives. If you're not healthy, you can't do anything very well.

The Anglos, blacks, Indians, whoever is in need—that's the way it should be. I've been working with the director of the migrant health project we have now and we're thinking of applying for an extended grant to have the project run for six months instead of 12 weeks

The Migrant Health Act is in danger because it went to a congressional committee hostile to the idea of health projects due to a strong insurance lobby.

I was reviewing some statistics which show that for the average 84 day work summer, the average income was $922 per family. That's not very much. Even if they work all summer, they can't afford to buy insurance with that money or even pay for doctors.

There's going to have to be a whole redefinition of government and if there isn't, we're just going to continue to go downhill."

Pointer: How is the tutorial program doing?

Martinez: Right now, we have something like 40 or 45 tutors working with over one hundred kids. The problem is that the Chicano community is so far from the universities. The volunteers we have give up a whole night, often from 5:30 or 6 to 11 or 11:30.

A good number of the kids are getting paid because we have the funding from the Department of Public Instruction for this project. The pay ($2 per hour.) isn't much. So it really takes dedication.

One thing we like very much is to get whole families involved with their children in these projects so the tutors go right to the homes instead of to a center. They meet the whole family and work with the kids.

Pointer: How do the communites respond?
Matrinez: One thing we would like to see more if is rap sessions between Chicano and Anglo kids at the high school level. But here again the distance involved is a problem.

Transportation is always a problem and another difficulty is that the Anglo community does not really meet or accept the Chicano groups although they live almost side by side.

It's amazing how interested and involved some members of the community are but it's usually the ones who are not interested and usually the ones who are not interested and not very cooperative who are in the power structure. We were surprised at the recent elections that most of the Chicanos who voted were not challenged as to residency requirements. That's been a problem. Pointer: Would you call this official harassment?

Martinez: We run into this so many times, especially applying for welfare. A directive from the Department in Madison said that before commodities or any welfare assistance is granted to Mexicans, proof of citizenship must be checked.

Now that's ridiculous. How many Nor-wegians live here that are not citizens but because they're light-complected and blond-haired, they're not subjected to these questions.

We had a case this spring in Stevens Point where a Chicano was taken into custody and signed a confession. It took the defense attorney to discover that the guy didn't know any English. The officers had just told him to sign so he signed. The prosecutor was going great guns on the basis that because the confession was signed, the person was guilty. It's a problem during the summer because some of the migrants are Mixican and illegal.

some of the ingrants are mixican and niegal. The only way you can tell the difference is by asking for the papers.

Just two weeks ago there was a case of a young man, from Texas and knowing no English, put in jail because he didn't have any papers with him and the police assumed he was Marian. He was released when his was Mexican. He was released when his was Mexican. He was released when his papers were presented.

Our officials are really lacking in something. For example, look at the internment of the Japanese on the West Coast during WW II. There's something wrong with our whole system of government. There's going to have to be a whole redefinition of government and if there isn't, we're just going to continue going downhill.

The Hammerstroms-Two People For The Birds

Bob Lattin
For many years, the American people have been doing their best to prove that this country is not for the birds. this country is not for the birds. We have shot birds, poisoned birds, trapped birds, sterilized birds with DDT, and badgered birds with airplanes. We have wiped out whole species to make pretty hats, and tried our best to change the national emblem from that of an eagle to that of a parking lot. There. that of a parking lot. There are, however, a few diehards who continue to aid and abet our avian enemies. The Pointer sought out two such recalcitrants and traveled to their Plainfield home last week to talk to them.
Frederick and Frances

Hammerstrom are two Wildlife Biologists who live in a large, old farmhouse west of Plain-field which they aptly call their 'Eagle Rehabilitation Center'. For over twenty years this husband and wife team have, husband and wife team have, among other things, made their home a hospital for injured Eagles, hawks and owls. Frederick Hammerstrom has been, for many years, the leader in the fight to save the Prairie Chicken from extinction in the Buena Vista marsh south of Stevens Paint and both he of Stevens Point, and both he and his wife have become known as authorities on prairie Chickens and birds of prey. Mrs. Hammerstrom has written a number of books, one of which, entitled An Eagle To The Sky, deals with her experiences with two of the many eagles she has cared for. The two people are on the board of directers of the Citizens Natural Resources Assosiation and worked, until recently, for the Department of Natural Resources as Wildlife biologists.
Mrs. Hammerstrom stated that she has been caring for eagles for over 25 years, and that most of the birds were sent to her from wardens and friends after being shot or cought in traps. Though the eagles are, perhaps, the most well known of her guests, Mrs. Hammerstrom also had, at the time of this interview, a young barred owl on her side porch, a red tailed hawk behind the house, and a great horned owl roaming around the place somewhere. Mrs. Hammerstrom em Mrs. Hammerstrom emphasized that, though she releases the birds eventually, they must be kept around the house for a while after they are able to fly.

able to fly.

"A lot of people have the mistaken idea," she stated, "that if a bird can fly, then it ought to be let go right away; which is about as silly as saying that a man who has been hospitalized and is finally able to walk should be able to work on a constuction job. Its got to be gradual, but people don't realize that, they think 'oh, it can fly, its all right, everything is fine'. Thats just not so." Mrs. Hammerstrom was asked what she thought was the greatest danger to rare birds of prey in our country. She stated that DDT, removal of habitat, and the population explosion were the major factors responsible for the decline in bird populations, though the population explosion was ".... in population explosion was ".... in the long run, the most dangerous of any of these."

Mrs. Hammerstrom and her husband are, as was previously mentioned, on the board of directors of the Citizens Natural Resources Association, a conservation group which was instrumental in the banning of the use of DDT from Wisconsin, and which fought and is fighting aginst the use of Antimycin to poison carp filled streams. Mrs. Hammerstrom felt that the group was, perhaps, one of the most effective of it's kind in the most effective of it's kind in the United States, and emphasized the need for more young members. When asked what effect the group has had on state programs, Mrs. Hammerstrom stated that, "I think we have had some effect in having more of the game interests considered by the foresters. Many of them feel that anywhere a tree could grow a tree should grow, and much of the forestry has been monotype the forestry has been monotype tree planting. Whenever there's a fire, right away the tree planting machines go in. Fire is planting machines go in. Fire is a natural thing, it is needed to set back plant succession. You see, Smokey Bear is a terrible thing, all the little children think he's so wonderful, they get brainwashed to think that all fire is awful. We must have fire to create prairies. In have to create prairies, to have habitats for things like the Sharptail Grouse and the prairie Chicken. A tree plan-tation is really no more con-servation than a corn field is, its servation than a corn field is, its main purpose is to make money. You ask a little child what conservation is and he's apt to say 'planting trees', but if one plants trees in the wrong places, you see, its the opposite of conservation."

of conservation."

Mrs. Hammerstrom was asked what could be done to revitalise the ecology movement, and what dangers there were in the way the novement is proceeding at the present time. She stated that the first thing to be done would be to:

""" into our hose people. the first thing to be done would be to "...jump on those people who are working in the ecological movement trying to preserve this and that, who are going off the deep end and writing to their Senators without doing their homework. without doing their homework. They are very darn dangerous, they stir up a hornets nest of controversy because they don't do solid research. I talk with a good number of conservation groups and, oh, some of them have the zaniest ideas. Actually, the whole problem with the ecological movement today is one of immatrity. You today is one of immaturity. You see, almost every child realizes that saving an individual animal and keeping it from suffering is the right and proper thing to do. They don't mind if whole races are wiped out, however. If there were a little Vietnamese there were a little Vietnamese kid run over on the street out here, everyone would be rushing to help it, Yet, we go ahead and we cause misery to how many of them. We just aren't grown up enough, I guess. to carry our guess, to carry our imaginations far enough to save us. We live so incapsulated, like children. A number of the ecologists I know, speaking of ecologists I know, speaking of American businessmen, have said, 'why, they're just children, they're ethic is that of a little child'. They're so right.' Mr. Hammerstrom is known primarily for his work with the Prairie Chicken, a large grouse that is rapidly becomming extinct in other parts of the extinct in other parts of the country. Hammerstrom stated that the outlook for the chicken, at this time, is perhaps, the best in the entire country. Through in the entire country. Through his efforts, and through the efforts of Ray Anderson, a professor in the Natural Resources Department at UW-SP, the Prairie Chicken flock in the Buena Vista marsh, the Mead Wildlife area, and in the Fogerty marsh west of Stevens Point is on the increase. Mr. Point is on the increase. Hammerstrom credited this success, in a large part, to the effort of concerned citizens who have purchased land in the Buena Vista and Fogerty marshes to be set aside as Prairie Chicken preserves.

"You can talk conservation of, say, the sharptail sparrow for example," he stated, "and some of the dedicated Audubon types will travel hundreds of niles to get this bird on their lifetime lists. But, they are small, and hard to recognize. For most people, this is just a little brown bird which they are never going to see and couldn't care less about. We try to do something for this we try to do something for this little brown bird, and the people listen very intently and say 'yup-yup yup-yup, something ought to be done', but they just let it ride. But, the people who have come here to watch the chickens, are awakened at half past two, in the dark and the past two, in the dark and the whole thing is an adventure to start with. Well, those birds themselves are their own best salesmen. The people come back in and they're just popeyed, 'boy we've got to do something!', they say, and its all the difference in the world.

Its those people, to a very large degree, who put up the money." The Pointer, after the in-terview with Mr. Ham-merstrom, was taken on a tour merstrom, was taken on a tour of the Eagle Rehabilitation Center, and met Chrys and Grendel, the male and female Golden eagles the Hammerstroms are playing host to at the moment. Mrs. Hammerstrom has had success in breediers endelte his crifficial. breeding eaglets by artificial insemination, and the female cagle has accepted her as a mate, after rejecting Grendel, the male cagle. The whole story of the Hammerstrom's and their eagles is described in Mrs. Hammerstrom's book An Eagle

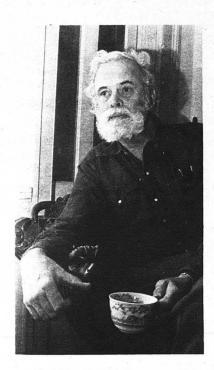

The Hammerstrom's Home, and 'Eagle Rehabilitation Center'

Frances Hammerstrom - "Many of the ecologists I know, when speaking of American businessmen, say Why, they're just like children, they're ethic is that of a little child. They are so right!"

Grendel, the Hammerstrom's male eagle, has fathered an eaglet through artificial insemination.

Fredrick Hammerstrom - "The greatest threat to all wildlife, and in fact the world we live in, is human overpopulation."

"The red tailed hawk was orphaned and given to us by a game warden."

Barred Owl - "This is a young barred owl. He was turned over to us because he was said to be attacking a young boy, which seems like a lot of rot."

Balisle Poetry

Editors Note:

The following are three excerpts from a collection of poems by Michael Balisle entitled BROKEN WINGS AND OTHER THINGS. Michael is a talented young poet attending this university.

Oh Yes

"I've heard your thunder, now where's your rain?"

The old man lies on a hill smiling at the sky-Behind him gardens where butterflies fly. There's sweetwater wine cooling in the creek, Laughter by the water as a little boy takes a peek. Ghost birdscruising on the wind cut holes in the sky with music bladed wings... A puppet in the head jerks around and stares 'I buy you an apple, I buy you a pearthen I slowly go somewhere.' The old man lies on a hill smiling at the sky-Behind him gardens where butterflies die

Decorations For The Stone

"Decorate the dull, decorate the grey, for soon their white heads will wing away." One last rain one last rain to splash dust hued fields and paint winter-like limbs. One last breeze one last breeze to sigh sweetly through the dusky empty trees (the green canopy's ghost) One last illusion one last illusion etched in morning's glaze upon the hollow windowpane (white blossom the childlike bloom whirls by, dancing through the tame forest with the statue from the brown hill.)

Jesse Red

Woman, here then are the flowers they promised to send.

He was a child we'd take him to spend still afternoons by the creek. We'd sit and watch rainbow trout rise as the mountains changed colors against the sky. You'd wear a flowered dress and make him robes of clover and watercress. cut poles from the willows and we'd fish from moss covered stones. look around hoping I've just heard a sound for I cannot put his life up on the shelf. The birds were flying escaping winter's first storm (it's dark curtains were opening and closing with the winds.) He wondered where birds go to escape from the freezing snow I was older and I should know.

We watched the storm's cold border

come nearer

stalking and painting the trees with ice.

What Thanksgiving Means To Me

Pat Girard AIRO

Thanksgiving used to be just being back home and going to Grandpa's for a big feast of venison and dumplings, everyone being together. Aunts and Uncles coming many miles so all could be at one place. First, the older people would sit around and have tea, talking about how they been and the little ones would play together. All the women would bring food to prepare and it always seemed at this time I was never so hungry in all my life as it took the longest time to wait til I could eat.

Church also played an im-portant part. It was like if you missed mass on this day you felt guilty about eating. I can remember how everyone took special time to wear their best outfit which was purchased from either the mission or a rummage sale. Prayers were said most of the time before meals, usually the one who has been away from home the most would start the prayers.

It was also practiced that

It was also practiced that various sacrifices were taken such as not eating certain things so that they could be saved for sharing them with many other people. We would purchase yams, cranberries, etc. Because there is a cranberry marsh on the reservation some older women would make jam. older women would make jam spread. It was like everything was stretched so it could satisfy

Thanksgiving now to me is so very sad. Being in school means not getting home for this. Means not seeing the older ones and the little ones. Means not going to church, not dressing up. Not caring to eat, but means sacrificing food this day. Thinking that, in good hopes, my family back home will have enough to eat on this day and that in all good hopes it can return to be what it used to be. I do not care to make others feel sad when I write this but hope I can cheer others up probably by being with the people here at school that would like it this way.

Chas. Wheelock

Obviously this term includes "American" deceit, treachery, bribery, theft, violation of treaty, Mother Earth and Native rights. In addition thoughts of "american" butcher, hypocrisy, and prevarication come to mind. This list remains partial not inclusive. The thoughts in essence are of a sad nature for the original intent of giving essence are of a sad nature for the original intent of giving thanks has been so distorted and corrputed by the "pilgrim children" that "america's" future carries a rather destructive end. It remains so obviously ironic that the very human beings who gave this "america" life are so heavily oppressed and must continually oppressed and must continually confront the denial of those rights of freedom, justice and truth. At the original thanksgiving for Anglo concern all our people had to do was turn back and walk away. We did not have to destroy the untimley visitor. — his own impresance visitor - his own ignorance would have accomplished that without Native intervention. Presently once again the Anglo ignorance and omnipresent oppression becomes more oppression becomes more obvious and sadly will result in a more permanent destruction, accurate assistance and cirrective suggestions remain oppressed by the "dominant society". America's exercise of rights without commensurate responsibilities soon turns freemen into swine. Such remains the "thankful america, yet the diseased suffering will terminate subsequently." Iroquois Confederacy Oncida Nation

Oneida Nation Turtle Clan Wheelock

The Best Of Kathy's Kitchen

A Chinese Feast

Editor's Note: Kathy has returned to the world of academics and graduate school and is no longer able to send KATHY'S KITCHEN However, in the interest of good eating, we will be presenting our readers with the choicest columns from the past two years.

Your mother or your grandmother can show you how to make turkey-and-trimmings, for they probably can cook this traditional Thanksgiving meal far better than I. Ask Thanksgiving meal far better than I. Ask them to teach you sometime: their experienced knowledge is invaluable.

Let me suggest that this year you celebrate Thanksgiving with this Chinese feast—apropos of the triumphant-entry of The Peoples' Republic of China into the United Nations. I especially liked that part of George Bush's obscene rhetoric when he pleaded that all fairness and decency requires that a nation of 15 million people should not be omitted from the deliberations of the United Nations.

I also liked the glee among the other representatives when the United States and its lackeys were finally beaten on this issue. its lackeys were finally beaten on this issue. And let me make one thing very clear: I suspect much of the glee came from a sophisticated realization that these votes represented far more than the entry of one nation into one international organization. Rather, the votes reflect a probable alteration in the extent to which the United States dominates the decisions of the governments in most nations of the world.

I am delighted that we are now beginning to have access to information about China, for have access to information about China, for the American people have much to learn from China's revolution and its principles. (Our leaders, of course, are beyond educating.) But I am not pleased with Nixon's trip to Peking; the thought that there may be an identity of interest between the reactionary United States and revolutionary China is very

United States and revolutionary China is very depressing.

On to the meal: This meal serves 4 to 6; double it to serve 8-10. It suggest that you divide up the work among all who will be eating together. If you want to prepare and serve it all yourself, I've included some suggestions at the end of the column. If you wish, add white wine to the feast, along with a fresh fruit salad and sherbert for dessert.

EGG DROP SOUP

- 2 cans clear chicken broth
- 4 t cornstarch
- 14 t sugar
- 12 t salt

¹s t pepper 1 egg, beaten slightly (just stir the yolk into the white)

the white)

12 cup chopped green onions, including tops Heat broth to boiling in saucepan. Meanwhile, in small bowl make a smooth paste of cornstarch, sugar, salt, pepper and 2 tablespoons cold water. Slowly stir paste into hot broth. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly mixture should be slightly thickened.
Reduce heat. Add egg, a small amount at a time, stirring to separate it into shreds.
Remove from heat, add green onions, serve at once.

. Be sure to prepare this lovely soup at the vary last minute, immediately before serving

CHINESE ROAST CHICKEN

.. Be sure to include the dipping sauce, in an individual bowl or cup for each person. This

1 cup soy sauce (Kikoman)

2 teaspoons sugar

2 teaspoons sugar
1 t salt
4 cups water
1 chicken, about 3 pounds
2 green onions, cut in 2" lengths and slivered Mix chopped onions, gingerrot, sherry, soy sauce, sugar and salt with water in large pot.
Bring to a boil. Put whole chicken in boiling liquid, cover and let simmer for half an hour.
Remove and put on rack in roasting pan in 375 degree oven (cover the pan with tinfoil and it'll be easier to wash). Roast ½ hour to 45 minutes, until chicken is browned and tender.
Served Chinese style, the chicken is split in two and each half is chopped into five or six pieces and arranged, skin side up on a serving dish. Garnish with slivers of green onion.
Serve the hot broth separately as a dipping sauce, after boiling it down a bit. Serves 4.
(An interesting note on soy sauce: A Japanese soy sauce factory is trying to set up a plant in southeastern Wisconsin and local people are strongly opposing it. Interesting people are strongly opposing it. Interesting how Americans react when economic im-perialism appears in their backyard...)

PAKE NOODLES

- 34 C butter 4 C cooked thin egg noodles (8 to 10 oz. un-

GOLDEN SWEETSOUR BEEF

...This dish is a problem. While it is attractive, it is surprisingly bland. A more authentic sweet-sour taste is much stronger, and I think more interesting. But perhaps this taste is a good place for you to begin.

1 can (8 ounces) sliced peaches

5.00

is a marvelous taste!

3 green onions, chopped 2 picces sliced fresh gingerroot (or ½ t pow eered ginger) two-thirds Cup sherry

1 t salt

- This taste will surprise you.
- cooked)

 14 C bread crumbs
 15 C sesame seeds
 1 t MSG (optional)

1 t MSG (Optional)
1 t salt
1s t white pepper
Melt butter in large skillet, add noodles and stir until well mixed with butter and heated. Add the rest of the ingredients, mix well and serve immediately. Serves 4 to 6.

SALAD

- 1 large tomato
- 1/2 large onion Sauce:
- 1 T soy sauce 1 t vinegar
- 1/2 t salad oil 1/2 t sugar

shake of msg or salt
Seed tomatos: cut in half and squeeze out seeds and juice. Thinly slice tomato and onion and mix together. Add sauce, cover tightly and chill at least ½ hour in refrigerator. Serve cold. 4 small servings.
You'll find this salad is an appropriate cold, sour counterpoint to the above salty-rich dishes

8-10 oz round steak

- 1/2 C sliced onion
- 2 T salad oil 2 T vinegar
- 1 T cornstarch 1 T brown sugar, packed
- 1 t soy sauce ½ C water
- salt

Sait
4 C green pepper strips
hot cooked rice
Drain peaches, saving syrup. Slice steak into thick strips and saute with onion in oil in into thick strips and saute with onion in oil in skillet until lightly browned. Remove from skillet. Blend vinegar, cornstarch, brown sugar, and soy sauce into remaining oil in skillet; mix in reserved syrup and water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to boil and is thickened. Add salt to to boll and is unickened. Add salt to taste. Cook with lid on for 10 minutes on low heat. Add peaches, steak, onions and green pepper; heat through. Serve at once over rice. 4 small servings.

Shopping List

Depending on what you already have in the house, it will cost you $7.00 to $9.00 for the dinner

- 1 bottle sherry 1 8 oz. can sliced peaches 2 cans chicken broth
- white rice 8 to 10 oz. thin egg noodles
- bread crumbs sesame seeds
- large bottle soy sauce green tea brown sugar

- cornstarch vinegar
- small piece fresh ginger 1 bunch green onions
- 2 large white onions 1 large tomato
- 1 green pepper 1 3 lb. chicken 8-10 oz. round steak

- 1 egg

sugar, salt, black pepper, white pepper, msg, ginger

Timing Plan on spending about 3 hours preparation time — early in the day, if you wish. Much can -Measure out the dry ingredients and chop (and refrigerate) the vegetables for the first 3

-Prepare the sald, cover tightly, and

-Do most of the sweetsour beef: saute the beef and onions, place in a small bowl and refrigerate. Mix sauce as directed, then refrigerate. Mix sauce as directed, then refrigerate, Add peaches, peppers, meat and onions later.

1 hour and 15 minutes before you want to eat: Simmer the chicken

30 minutes before you eat: transfer chicken to oven

boil and drain noodles cook rice, and let sit tightly covered

- 1. prepare and serve soup
- prepare noodles cut and garnish chicken
- serve chicken, noodles and salad together 3.. finish cooking sweetsour beef serve over
- 4. serve wine, tea and rice throughout the meal

GOOD LUCK!

zero hour:

Thursday, Nov. 30

7:00 p.m.

Adm. 50c - Old Main Auditorium

UNIVERSITY FILM

"Movies of the '30's" Series

presents
The Busby Berkeley Musical Technique GOLDDIGERS of 1933"

Politics . . . the Media . . . one's relationship to violence.

MEDIUM COOL

The story of a cameraman at the 1968 Democratic

Tuesday, Nov. 21

7 & 9 P.M. - Old Main Auditorium University Film Society

All Lines of Insurance

Special Student Auto Rates

University Insurance

Center 2225 Sims Avenue

1/2 block from Campus 344-3599 9-5 Mon.-Fri.

Attention Students! Join The ACTION CLUB

Monthly Salaries:

Presid	lent	,										$300.00
												100.00
Secre
Treas

- 11 Committee Members
- Membership dues are 50c per month. Officers are drawn on 3rd Thursday of each
- Membership is limited to 2,000.
- Membership cards are available at the University Center and any member of the University Choir.

Editorials

"Anyone who carries 49 states has a mandate to do whatever he wants." Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz Nov. 14, 1972

Four More Years

The time has come to speculate on the course of American life over the next few years. Richard Nixon is now thoroughly entrenched in the White House. American business and the press are awash with relief and optimism. Their sacred cows, profit and private property, have been rescued from untold horrors. The infamous "silent majority" has once again walled itself up, after emerging long enough to be taken in by the slickest propaganda show in years. Americans are being saturated with optimism and visions of good thing to come-the Horatio Alger stories will at last come true and the good life is just around the corner. But is it really? To claim certainty about the future is impossible. really: To claim certainty about the future is impossible.

However, we can and must speculate on the course life may take if we are to have any control whatsoever upon it. It is with this view in mind that we must look at the Nixon Administration and postulate the course it will take with regard to various intitutions of American life. The Military. American life.

The Military. Military appropriations will continue to soar, perhaps through increased taxation, but more likely through money diverted from social welfare programs. It is of direct benefit to business that money be fed to the military, both in terms of profits from government contracts and interms of political control through its alliance with, if not control of, the military. It is quite possible that we will find an increased or more overt use of the military as a domestic police and espionage force.

World Affairs. The Indochina War will continue. Despite its protestations of seeking peace, the U.S. has already refused to sign one cease-fire agreement and seems slow in coming to another, particularly with the presidential election over. The Nixon Administration appears to be manuvering to place the blame tor failure on the Vietnamese-preferably North, but South will do. We must remember that Vietnam is but a part of the Indochina question; settlement in Vietnam is not enough. There are still over 100,000 U.S. troops in Southeast Asia and U.S. military activities are being carried into Laos, Cambodia, and Thailand. In addition, there is the collapse of América's Asian and Pacific showcases of "democracy," South Korea and the Philippines, under governmental corruption and tyranny. There is a very real possibility of open U.S. military activity in these areas.

World opinion of the United States is low and will probably not improve. There is strong distasts and repulsion toward U.S. World Affairs. The Indochina War will continue. Despite its improve. There is strong distaste and repulsion toward U.S. barbarism in Indochina. There is also growing defiance and rejection of domination by American business, particularly in Canada, Western Europe, and Japan. Nixon's sojourns to China and the Soviet Union, in addition to being election ploys, were also attempts to bolster this fading image. The U.S. suddenly flip-lopped from cold warrior to harbinger of peace. It remains highly questionable whether trust in the United States was rekindled thoughout the world.

Business. The business system already controls American government and Nixon poses no threat to its hold. The Nixon Administration operates upon business principles of force and fraud and seeks to serve business interests. This will manifest liself in a decrease in taxation and federal regulation of business. The wage freeze will continue while prices and inflation continue to soar. Neither profits nor unemployment will be controlled.

Health, Education, and Welfare. The blow will fall quickest and Health, Education, and Welfare. The blow will fall quickest and heaviest here, perhaps including elimination of the department. At the very least, budgets will be severely cut in all areas. Aid to the poor, the unemployed, and the elderly will become virtually non-existent. Federal support of education at all levels, wheather grants to schools or to students, will dwindle to meaningless amounts. There will be no encouragement of national health and medical programs. The problems of the cities will remain unattended-there will merely be more policemen and more streelights.

tended-there will merely be more policemen and more streelights. There are other areas which could be gone into-environment, economy, law and the judicial system, race relations - but the above suffice to make the point. The impending years of business rule promise nothing positive, nothing of value for American life. The quality of life will simply deteriorate further, both with respect to the life we live and the world we live in. In the process, the institution which should be most critical of the quality of life and the direction it is taking-the university-will be silent, its head comfortably in the sand. That business now controls American life is evidence that the universities have already failed to concern themselves with the question. They have turned instead to playing games and training neophyte businessmen. It is questionable whether American universites will ever again be concerned with scholarship, critical thought, and the search for truth. Over the next few years, any vestiges of criticism that remain will be squeezed out as funds are cut off, and we could well see a purge of critical professors and students. It must be remembered that Nixon has vowed to put an end to the "era of permissiveness." Undoubtedly, criticism of business-government, whether through the university or the press, will fall under this axe. the universtiy or the press, will fall under this axe.

The Pitfalls of the Medical Institution

Every man deserves good health. And, in conjunction with that, every man deserves to have the proper facilities in order to maintain his good health. A hospital, then, is an institution basic to society and mankind. The Pointer featured two examples of this institution: St. Michael's (November 10 issue) and Marshfield Clinic (see page 2). In doing so, we hoped to establish a basis from which the student may judge and question the institution of medicine. And, to enable the student to compose in his mind what a decent hospital encompasses. The Marshfield Clinic is representative of the basic philosophy upon which an ordered institution should exist.

Some public medical services are businesses which exist solely

Some public medical services are businesses which exist solely for profit and control (which probably are 95 per cent of our "hospitals"). They are run by high executives totally removed from the hospital itself. The Marshfield Clinic, however, is run by a board of directors who, after two years, become a member of the clinic's staff. They are more apt to know the needs of the clinic and thus further its development. Where profits are invested and put into steadily increasing executive salaries in some hospitals, the Marshfield Clinic stabilizes all employee salaries and distributes its profits in new equipment and other patient needs.

The Marshfield Clinic is ordered around the philosophy that the best care should be available for its patients. This is evident in its extensive insurance plan to people in the immediate area. This philosophy in an institution is what tends to build a society and the world. For, this is one of the reasons all institutions were built. world. For, this is one of the reasons an institutions were built. They exist as a base for a decent life in that they have alleviated many of the hardships of earlier times. What, however, we find in most hospitals is a perversion of this idea. A pervision by substitution of profit and control as the end goal of a institution. These are the things which every student must be aware of in judging and living with the institutions that surroind him. A student must seek out the good institution, use it and support it. For, if they do not, that which is decent in the world will soon also decay.

Guest Editorial

The inherent inequity of the temporary American occupation of the land known as the United States of America remains most obvious at that period of anglo blessing commonly accepted as Thanksgiving. Apparently American history and policy remains a matter of convenience and half-truths. The "American Myth" so obviously apparent and appalling during the divine blessing period of "Thanksgiving". The Puritan Pilgrim, freedom, justice, peaceall of the basic truths pampered and cherished by most Anglo Americans are myths. It is one thing to tell lies and another to believe them - such remains American and her majority. The half-truths are half lies and if such were the sole detriment to Native People, I would not feel so sad, yet the careful, systematic implementation of these lies has created a disease out of the oppressor - America, this diseased country with such greed, avarice, and anti-life policys has disenchanted the actual being of not only Native Human Beings (Indians for the benefit of those displaced who believe in the myth of discovery) yet in addition, the Black Brother the Mexican-American Brother and Sisters. In essence all of those who were not relevent Anglo stock. I would not stop there. The omnipresent hypocrisy of those Founding Fathers "puritans The inherent inequity of the temporary American occupation of who on their voyage to freedom stole my Black Brothers and Sisters to sweat and build this country - the puritan would steal by butcher and trust from the Native Human Beings (true holders-stewards - of these lands). The Spanish speaking brother would be summoned up to toil and reap the harvest of that land. America's majority has reaped so much life from so many cultures and individuals. Perhaps the time has come to return a portion of the harvest to the true producers. As the creator knows no boundaries so do the Native people. You are trespassing America - not solely by your undesired physical presence throughout the universe, yet also by your imposed "americanization" upon the souls of the true freedom-loving Native People of all creation. We ask for justice and truth - America - remains unable to provide either. America - we will tolerate no more lies. At your Thanksgiving feast be thankful yet be honest and think-for America's: blessings are numbered.

Chas. Wheelock, AIRO (American Indians Resisting Ostracism)

Letter

UAB Defense

To the Editor: Most students would have to agree that there is somewhat a problem here at Point with getting good entertainment programming. What they do not realize is that the blame for this realize is that the blame for this lack of good entertainment lies in the student body itself. The main reason for this lack (besides shortage of money) is student apathy. There is simply not enough interest shown by the student body for organizing good entertainment. Also attendance at most activities is usually poor so this campus has a hard time getting back entertainers. Most "big name" entertainers have to be assured a substantial amount of money. a substantial amount of money.

And Point really can not assure them since attendance fees foot a large part of the bill. Do you know that U.A.B. offers all students a chance to offers all students a chance to help choose what entertainment this campus will get? One part of U.A.B. is the Special Events Committee. This committee is composed of anyone who wishes to help decide what entertainment Point will get. Unfortunately, not many people ever show up for these committee meetings. Do you really expect a few people to have the rare ability to choose en-tertainment that'll appeal to everyone. No? Well, this is what you're demanding

As was stated earlier, student apathy isn't the only reason why Point has difficulty in getting good entertainment, U.A.B. and good entertainment. U.A.B. and other entertainment trogramming groups work with a seriously limited amount of money. All activities on this campus have to make do with what money they are allocated from Student Senate. And Student Senate also has a limited amount of money to allocate the Student Activities. allocate-the Student Activities

So before anyone complains that at Point there's a shortage of entertainment, he should first take a careful look at the reasons. He'll probably discover that Point could have one of the best entertainment programs in the state if only the student body wasn't

Jill Alverson 336 Hansen Hall

Washington Watch

HOW TRICKERY PROSPERS - "This is a low conniving age indeed; nothing but trickery prospers nowadays." (Moliere in "Le Misanthrope.") This is true today in what the Washington Post describes as the "rancid" atmosphere in Washington, and, in particular the wheat deal. Thanks to it, the housewife will have to pay two to three cents more for a loaf of bread. American tax-payers have "subsidized the Soviet consumer at the expense...of pearly $132 million. "Manchester Guardian Grain experters some payers have "subsidized the Soviet consumer at the expense...on nearly $132 million. "Manchester Guardian Grain exporters, some of whose executives contributed handsomely to the Nixon campaign, "made a great killing." (The National Farmers Union says the wheat exporters made $100 million in "windfall profits.") Wheat farmers lost an estimated $88.4 million because exporters were tipped off and bought grain cheaply. Farm costs will go up for feed grains.

were tipped off and bought grain cheaply. Farm costs will go up for feed grains.

A Post editorial questions "whether President Nixon and his Agriculture Department upheld the normal standards of competence and public morality."

The story begins with a suppressed report. The Agriculture Department "withheld a controversial report from the public on disastrous dimension's of Russian grain failures this year (due to drought), thus keeping the farmer in the dark and preventing some from getting maximum prices for grain," said the New Republic. Russia had no place else to buy wheat except the U.S, because "Canada and Australia had already committed their wheat," The New York Times tells. Then:

On June 28, a Soviet delegation came to Washington to negotiate for credit to buy wheat. (Eleven days before Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clarence K. Palmby who had gone to Moscow in April for the opening talks, resigned to join Continental Grain Co., which became the largest seller to the Russians.) The large exporters were apparently tipped off that the talks were going well and sales were imminent, for says the American Bakers Association, "We have indications that one or more of the large wheat exporters were buying wheat futures before that time (the White House announcement)." The traders were Bunge, Cargill, Continental, Cook and Dreyfus.

announcement). The traders were Bunge, Cargini, Continental, Cook and Dreyfus.

Campaign Contributions Checked - "A spot check of campaign records...shows contributions to Nixon re-election committees from officials of four grain firms in excess of $10,000," says NR, which states that Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz is "an old pal of agribusiness"

of agribusiness."

Representative Pierre S. DuPont IV (R-Del.) asked the General Accounting Office to find out if the sales were set up in such a way that exporters and speculators could "reap a windfall on the commodity market by purchasing wheat futures at a time when the public was ignorant of the deal."

Wheat farmers are outraged. The Times, in a report from Kansas, says the complaint "has taken on a bitter and cynical tone...There is now genuine unhappiness among many of the dusty figures in blue-grey denim overalls who handle the roaring tracfigures in blue-grey denim overalls who handle the roaring tractors and flailing combines that keep America and much of the world in bread. 'They really stuck it to us,' said Elmer Frick. He sold his entire 1972 wheat crop of 4,000 bushels...just a few hours before the 400-million bushel, $750,000-million deal was announced. He got $1.27 a bushel. Today, the price was $1.91 a bushel.' Wheat prices jumped twenty-two cents after word of the Russian purchases. A Christian Science Monitor story from the southwest savs that Oklahoma wheat farmers lost an estimated $12 million in "missed profits."

To subscribe: WASHINGTON WATCH, South Point Plaza.

Thissey profits.

To subscribe: WASHINGTON WATCH, South Point Plaza, Lansing, Michigan 48910. Price: One year at $12; six months at $7. WASHINGTON WATCH is published twice a month, 24 issues a

Thanksgiving Prayer

O Lord, We thank Thee. For in Thy great wisdom Thou didst see fit to choose our Pilgim fathers to begin to bring a great civilization to thy poor, degraded, benighted heathen savages of the New World. We thank Thee for the many gifts that Thou has continued to bestow upon us, Thy chosen people. For the more than 16,000 school-aged Indian children not in school, we thank Thee, O Lord.
For the Indian level of formal education which is half the national average, we thank Thee O Lord. For the Indian unemployment rate ten times the national average, we thank Thee O Lord. For the average Indian income 75 per cent below the national average, we thank Thee O Lord. For the fifty thousand Indian families living in unsanitary, delapidated dwellings in huts, shanties and abandoned automobiles, we thank Thee, O Lord. For the infant mortality rate twice the national average, we thank Thee O Lord. For the average Indian life-span of forty-four years, twenty-one years below the national average, we thank Thee, O Lord.

For the tuberculosis rate five times the national average, we thank Thee, O Lord.

For the contaminated water which more than half the American Indians drink, we thank Thee, O Lord.

Let us pray. On this Thanksgiving Day, we humbly entreat Thee, O Lord, to continue to bestow upon us Thy great blessings of peace, progress, and prosperity.

DOO LOUK AT YOUR SKINNY WALLET

Lets salute those who got us where we are today...We present this crest in honor of the American Politician

The Assassination Of John F. Kennedy

Index And Guide To Locations

.. The ninth anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy is next week, on November As a reminder to our readers that the events which happened in Dallas on that day still have not been fully explained, that the truth has not come to light, we take this opportunity to reprint the following spatial map prepared by Richard Sprague and R. B. Cutler. Based on photographic and other evidence, and compiled with the aid of computers. this map reveals the probable location of the gunmen involved in the shooting, the line of fire of each bullet, and the time-sequence of the shooting. It also shows the location of the key witnesses to the assassination.

For further information on this topic, we refer you to the May 1970 issue of Computers and Automation, which contains the article written by Richard Sprague on the use of computers in analysing the photographic evidence. Mr. Sprague develops the argument that there was necessarily a conspiracy involved in the assassination of John Kennedy.

Permission to reprint this map was granted to the Pointer by Berkeley Enterprises, Inc., the publishers of Computers and Automation. It appeared in the May, 1971 issue of Computers and Automation as a revision of the map which appeared in the May 1970 issue.

1. Areas on the Chart. The spatial chart is divided into square areas 40 feet by 40 feet, each labeled by a letter A to K from top to bottom (I is omitted) and a number 1 to 15 from left to right.

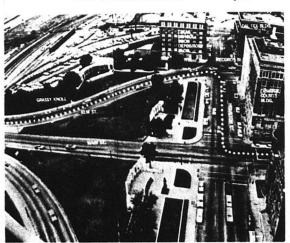

2. Persons Names. The name of a person in the following index refers to the location of such a person.

3. Numbers. A number following the name of a person refers to the films (or roll) number of a still photograph, or the frame number of a moyie sequence taken by such a person. Numbers preceded by Z refer to frame numbers of the color movie film taken by Abraham Zapruder standing in area D 7

4. Motorcade. The leading portion of the motorcade including President J. F. Kennedy is shown diagrammatically 7 to 8 seconds before the first shot. The motorcade is arranged in sequence along Houston St. and Main St. All these cars, of course, were moving and therefore occupied different positions at later times. The only successive locations shown for later positions of the motorcade are the locations of President Kennedy's head in the lead car. These head locations are marked by a sequence of dots along Elm St. These locations were carefully determined by the FBI; they are identified by the frame numbers of the color movie film taken by Abraham Zapruder; these locations were used by the Warren Commission in their investigation. Successive frames were 1 18th

Aerial view of Dallas and the scene of the Kennedy assasination.

Person or object	Location	Man these were men whose
Altgens 2,3	J 13	names have not been deter-
Altgens 6 (at Z 255)	F 8	mined
Altgens 7 (at Z 346)	G 8	Man no. 1, source of 1st shot at Z	D 5
"Babushka Lady" (who took an	F 8	189
entire movie of the motorcade		Man no. 2	E 7
from the opposite side from		Man no.3	E 7
Zapruder)		Man no.4	E 7
Bell 1,2	H 11	Man no.5, source of 6th shot at Z	D 6
Bell 3	H 11	313
Betzner 1	E 13	Man no.6, off map in Dal-Tex	A 15
Betzner 2	C 13	Bldg, source of 2nd shot at Z 226
Betzner 3	C 12	and 4th shot at Z 285.
Bond, 1 to 3	G 13	Man no.7	D 8
Bond, 4 to 9	G 11	Man no.8, source of 3rd shot at Z	All
Brehm's	F 9	238 and 5th shot at Z 312
Brennan	D 13	Man with Umbrella	D 8
Bullet mark(s) on curb	J 3, H 6	Martin 0	H 13
Commerce St.	K 1-6	Martin 1	G 13
Compass directions	J 8	Martin 2	C 12
Connally, Gov. J.B.,		material picked up by Walthers	H 6
back shot (at Z 238)	E 9	and others
Dallas County Criminal Courts		Moorman	F 9
Bldg.	F-H 15	Muchmore 1	G 1
Dallas County Records Bldg.	C-E 15	Muchmore 2	F 1
Dallas County Sheriff's Office	H 15	Newman (s)	E 8
Dal-Tex Bldg.	A 15	Nix 1, 2 a.	K 1
Dillard 1	C 13	Nix 2 B	J 10
Dorman, Mrs.	A 11	Oswald's alleged window	A 13
Elm St.	H 1 to B 15	obtained anogon trained.
Elm St. extension	A-B 6-12
former Dallas County Courts	off map, see K 15	parking area and railroad ward	D E
Bldg.	off map, see K 15	parking area and railroad yard puff of smoke (shown in 9	B-E 4
garage bldg. next to TSBD	A 8-10	photos)	E
grassy knoll	G 4 to C 10	railroad yard and parking area	D.F.
Hester (s)	C 7		B-E
Hill, Jean	F.9	scale in feet shots, sources of:	K 8
Holland	H 2	1st
Houston St.	A-K 13-14	2nd	E
Hudson and two friends	F 6	3rd	A
Hughes 1,2	K 14	4th	A
Hughes 3	K 12	5th	A
Hughes 5	K 10	6th	A
Kennedy behind "the" oak tree,	D 10-11	Sitzman	D
from Z 161 to Z 207	D 10-11	smoke, puff of (shown in 9	D
Kennedy at:		photos)	E
Z 133	C 11	Stemmons-Freeway sign	D
Z 161	D 11	Taque (who was hit in the face
Z 189 (throat shot)	D 10	by a fragment of a shot)	K
Z 226 (back shot)	D 10	Texas School Book Depository	A 10-
Z 238	E 9	Bldg. at 411 Elm St. (TSBD)
Z 255	E 9	TSBD, 6th floor easternmost
Z 285	E 9	window, from which Warren	A 1
Z 312 (head shot)	F 8	Commission alleged Lee
Z 313 (2nd head shot)	F 8	Oswald fired 3 shots
Z 346	F 8	Towner, J. 1	C 1
Z 400	G 6	Towner, T. 1	Ci
Z 433	H 5	Towner, T. 2	Di
Z 465	Н 3	"Umbrella" Man	De
Z 485	H i	Willis 5,6	Di
	4	Zapruder (location of Abraham	D 7
Knoll graces	C 24- 22	Zapruder during the entire	٠.
Knoll, grassy Main St.	G 2 to C 9	color movie which he took)	4
main st.	J 1-15	I . Color movie winch he (OOK)

What's Up Doc Cont.

classmates-symptoms which may not be severe enough to cause them to seek help. Symptoms may be present in an individual who feels he cannot talk to anyone at the traditional sources of help: namely, the Health Service, Counseling Service, UCM etc. If the friends, roommates, etc. of these individuals can understand that maintaining a meaningful relationship with this person is essential, they may then conduct themselves in a manner which could make this possible. They then might have an opportunity to suggest perhaps there could be others who would be willing to help find a way to make a person feel better or enjoy life more or have some other suggestions for finding answers which may be nearly incapacitating a person at that particular time. I see no reason why good principles regarding the handling of stress, both good and bad, or anxieties or feeling of hopelessness or worthlessness, cannot be passed on to everyone so that we in essence may all do a better job of being our brother's keeper. Going even below the university level, I think we should consider including in junior high curriculum and high school, courses which deal with the subjects of death, dying, separation, isolation, etc. and that when individuals of prominence die, or deaths occur within a family, these can be discussed openly and freely with the recognition that this is an everyday part of the life cycle. There are mechanisms for coping with death. We all share many similar feelings and fears regarding this and together we can do a better job of learning how to help each other than alone.

oner than alone.

One might ask, supposing I don't have an individual friend, counselor, doctor, minister, that I can turn to in the time of need; where can I get help when I think I may be getting into trouble? Fortunately, several sources may be available. It is my personal feeling that we are fortunate to have Pagissi in

7 P.M. - 11 P.M.

Intervention Center located by St. Michael's Hospital. Although this is not manned 24 hours a day, certainly during the hours when an individual may be experiencing the most stress, such as evenings or stress, such as evenings or anytime on the weekends, there are trained counselors available to talk over the phone or rap in person with in-dividuals. The phone number for Pacisci is 341-5260. It has always been my feeling that a person should not be made to feel that he should not see his doctor until he is half dead but he should come in while health may still be maintained and when illness may be prevented. In the same light, I feel a person should not allow themselves to sink to the depths of despon-dency before they feel it is legitimate to express their needs and allow a fellow human being to demonstrate one of the highest priorities of namely, empathy for another individual. Many law en-forcement officers, private physicians, ministers and other health professionals have had training in dealing with in-dividuals for whom death may be near either at their own hand or through illness, however, by far the majority of individuals even amongst health professionals could probably use further training in reacting to this situation in a wholesome

At the university we would hope all individuals in the Health Service and Counseling Service would be able to give some helpful advice and deal with this problem in a mature way. Certainly many members of the faculty and staff have found a need to deal with this sort of situation in the past and by virtue of need have tried to gain some knowledge about dealing with such situations. Somewhere I recall reading that to educate means to "lead out". It would seem to me that leading a person out of isolation and into a meaningful relationship with others could be conceived of an expression of whole idea was expressed by James Baldwin very succinctly when he said "for nothing is fixed, forever and forever and forever, it is not fixed; the earth, is always shifting, the light is always changing, the sea has not ceased to grind down rock. Generations do not cease to be born, and we are responsible to them because we are the only witnesses they have. The sea rises, the light fails, lovers cling to each other, and children cling to us. The moment we cease to hold each other, the moment we break faith with one another, the sea engulfs us and the light goes." How well equipped is each one of us to prevent the light from going out?

UW-SP To Participate In Model U.N.

A delegation consisting of five to eight UW-SP students will participate in the Harvard National Model United Nations on March 22-25, 1973. Interested students may obtain application forms from C.Y. Allen, Communications Department, with November 21st being the absolute deadline. The delegation will travel to Boston by car to participate in the three day conference which includes over seven hundred students from the United States and Canada.

The Harvard National Model United Nations includes a General Assembly (meeting in five committees and plenary sessions). a Security Council and an International Court of Justice. The setting of the conference allows participation in both formal debate conducted according to procedure and in informal behind-the-scenes negotiations. The program offers the opportunity for students to play the roles of diplomats coming from countries all over the world and to engage in negotiations and political maneuvers.

Participating schools may send one or more delegations which will be assigned a country on December 1st from the membership roster of the United nations. The delegation is responsible for researching their nation's position and submitting resolutions to the Secretariat by February 1, 1973. Copies of all accepted resolutions will be mailed by February 28th to all delegates. During the conference no resolutions will be accepted unless they are sponsored by one-third of the nations present and have the approval of the Secretariat.

Once their applications have been filed, delegates from UW-SP will be chosen through personal interviews after a general meeting prior to Thanksgiving recess. When the specific country is assigned on December 1st those delegates chosen will start their research of such aspects as economics, geography, legal system, political and social structure as well as the country's positions in the United Nations. Researching students have the opportunity to earn credits through independent study. A number of faculty from several departments have volunteered their services to aid in the research of the assigned research of the assigned country.

Once in Boston, delegates will have the opportunity to use the Harvard University library facilities with their complete collection of United nations documents. Along with conducting the model U.N. business the delegates will have the opportunity to participate in several tours of the area, hear several speakers of international importance and attend the Secretariat reception.

Allen feels that this program has appeal to a broad spectrum of majors. The program is sponsored through Debate-Forensics, giving the delegates the opportunity to engage in argumentative dialogue. Allen sees this program as an opportunity for students who might not otherwise get the chance to participate in debate.

Holiday Dnn

Dinner reservations - 341-1340

"Black Portraits"

for Christmas gifts. Each copy handdrawn. 18x24" or 12x16," $2.00. (No orders after December 10).

Call: Mary Zahorlic 341-1162

Needed: Girl to sublet Village Apt. second semester. Only $230.

Call 341-3639

Wanted: Females & males interested in film series.
Programming & Promotion. Many benefits. Call 346-5380 or Ext. 4167.

Needed: one, two or three girls to share apartment at the Village. Starting Jan. 321 Michigan, Apt. 3. 341-5671

Classifieds

Buying Christmas gifts? Litho prints (on display in LRC) and watercolors for sale. Call Sally 341-1162.

3rd Annual Florida for Semester Break
10 days (Jan. 5-14)

Dayton Beach $125.00 Complete

Includes: Round trip transportation via charter bus. Accommodations at New Frontier Beach Resort (pool, kitchen in every room) plus a trip to Disneyworld. $25 deposit holds seat.

> Peter Burnham 1225 College Ave. 344-9930

Needed: One bedroom apartment for second semester, about $100 per month. Call 341-4061 before noon.

Needed: Girl to share apt. at Village for second semester. Call: 341-5879 or stop in at 321 N. Michigan, Apt. 7, anytime after 3:00.

For Sale: Trailer 12x50; 1968 Detroiter carpeted, semifurnished, air conditioned.

Call: 341-2564 evenings & weekends.

Must sell: Moving to Europe. '70 Pontiac GTO, low mileage, fully loaded, disc brakes, auto. transmission, factory air. Excellent condition. New tires, also snow tires. Best offer. 344-8924

Moving Sale:
1733 Water St.
Saturday.
Refrigerator, back pack, 1950 Chev
pickup, kitchen set,
miscellaneous.

Role Of The Press-To Assure A Free Society

Neil Sheehan, noted author of the Pentagon Papers spoke here Thursday night as part of the UAB Lecture Series. The title of his talk was "The Media and Our Freedom".

Sheehan opened his talk by explaining he is a "print media man" and when he refers to the press he means "all media in general." The role of the media in American society he said, started with the first amendment and the freedom speech." He stated that He stated that the press does not belong on anyone's team. "It must act like a fourth estate, if not it fails. It must avoid partnership with government or anyone Sheehan stressed that the role of the press is to assure a free society by providing citizens with an unbiased look at the news. "Freedom of speech and freedom of press go hand in hand," he said.

"The founding fathers of our country," Sheehan added, "sought to keep freedom of speech and of the press. They considered it an evil that this freedom would be abused." Sheehan used the comparison of America and England to stress his point. "In England," he said, "government can prevent certain news items from being published but in America you cannot prevent publication."

Sheehan continued by asking the question: "What kind of relationship exists today bet-ween press and government?"

"An adversary relation exists," he explained, "and it's greater today than ever before in our history. This relation can degenerate into antagonism as in the case of the Pentagon Papers." In the case of the current campaign referring to current campaign, refering to the Watergate Affair, he said, "we see corruption in the domestic arena." Sheehan added that Watergate occured because the executive branch "engaged in doing this abroad and finally thought of doing it in the domestic arena.

Sheehan then proceeded to talk of effective ways the government controls the flow of talk of effective ways the government controls the flow of news. The backgrounder is one of these means. An informed White House advisor, such as Henry Kissinger, would explain what Nixon is saying in a given speech. "This is why the administration gets upset when, after a speech, TV men give interpretations" of it," he explained. The second control he spoke of was that of the deadlock. "The administration," he said, "would give the press or TV time. Thus, there isn't enough time to do much with it," The third means is to use objectivity. "Objectivity is exactly what a public figure says," he explained. "Rank plays a part in this too. If the president wants to dominate the news he goes somewhere or does something."

Having been areporterin Viet Nam, Sheehan feels the "failure of journalists was not that they were too critical but rather that they were not critical enough." Sheehan added that the "ex-Sheehan added that the "ex-ploitation of POWS is done very effectively. The people use them as a way to get the war ended so they can come home. Nixon describes the POWS as gallant men and the North Vietnamese use them to show that they are humane."

Sheehan continued by ex-plaining that the news media will never be perfect.

"Freedom of the press," he said, "has a major role in our society and it is better done imperfectly than not at all."

When questioned about the Pentagon Papers, Sheehan answered, "It is a public document and therefore public property. How do you steal from the public? If the freedom of the press is not pressryed then we press is not pressryed then we press is not preserved, then we are eventually going to lose it and I don't see how we will ever

Attention Natural Resources Majors

There will be a Pre-Registration Advising Session for ALL NATURAL

STILE JOE DRINKING ESTABLISHMENT ROLLING STONES IN CONCERT Brought to you by

Blaine General Store EPI Speakers from The Stereo Shop FRIDAY. November 17 Little Joe's Drinking Establishment

RESOURCE MAJORS on November 28, 1972 in the Wisconsin Room - University

Freshmen and Sophomores -

7:30 - 8:45 P M Juniors and Seniors - 8:45 - 9:45

If you have any questions you may call Ext. 2656. Thank you.

25 FOOT COILED HEADPHONE EXTENSION CORD WITH THE PURCHASE OF ANY SUPEREX HEAD-PHONE. CHOOSE FROM SEVEN DIFFERENT MODELS. PRICED FROM $19.95 to $69.95

> 1209 Second Street Stevens Point, Wis. 54481

Consultants Needed For Environmental Directory

A new publication, the Directory of Environmental Consultants, is designed to in sure professional examination of all projects that might affect the quality of our environment. It is intended to involve the professional with the problems and decision-making processes involved in balancing current standards of living with future environmental quality.

The annual Directory will be edited by William Cate, Coordinator for the En-vironmental Communication workshop and Director of a Phreatic Karst Hydrology and Ecology research project on the southern slope of the Ozark

Any practicing professional and-or faculty member in the Sciences, Medicine, Enigineer-ning, or Law may submit a resume to the Directory. Professionals interested in supplying free services to conservation groups, govern-ment and industry will be listed without charge. Individuals interested in a free listing may only charge direct out-of-pocket expenses. These expenses cannot include a salary for any member of the party. Failure to abide by this policy will bar the professional from future listing in the Directory. Professionals who charge for their services, will be assessed fifty dollars per year for a listing in the Directory.

Resume Directions

1. Type on a single 4 x 6 index

2. List general area and special area of expertise.
3. List name and business address (last name first).

4. List business telephone number. On same line write no fee charged or fee charged. If you intend to charge a fee prepare a check for fifty dollars made payable to Directory of Environmental Consultants. 5. Skip one line.

6. List education (BA, MA, PhD, etc).

7. List primary research, teaching, or professional ex-

8. Limit outline of education and experience to fifty words.
9. Mail resume and check (if you are charging a fee) to: Directory of Environmental Consultants, P.O. Box 8002, University Station, St. Louis, Mo. Zip 73108.
10. Resume will be published as it appears on card.

A rough draft of your resume may be forwarded to the En-vironmental Council, 002 Main, through campus mail and it will be typed according to the above in tructions and submitted to the Directory. Anyone in-terested in consulting the Directory may use the copy in the Environmental Council

Protection And Security Report

The Pointer Editor's note: The Pointer received the following in-formation from the Office of Protection and Security regarding actions between the dates of Nov. 6 and through Nov. 10

NOVEMBER 6, 1972
Theft (Alleged) shoes from unlocked locker, Women's Locker room, Quandt Gym, Phy. Ed. Bldg. Approximate

Yeld. Bidg. Approximate value: $10.00

Theft (Alleged) Sweater from unlocked locker, Women's Locker room, Quandt Gym, Phy. Ed. Bidg. Approximate value: $10.00.

Theft (Alleged) Bicycle, Sch-winn, 10 speed, gold with gold tires. From University Center bike rack, unlocked. Approximate value: $40.00.

NOVEMBER 8, 1972 Theft (Alleged) Twelve 8-track stereo tapes from unlocked room, Watson Hall, Approximate value: $84.00. Lost - Maroon wallet, at Classroom Center. Total estimate value: $15.00.

NOVEMBER 9, 1972

Theft (Alleged) Bicycle, Vista, brown 5 speed from Lawn, Hyer Hall, locked. Approximate value: $100.00.

NOVEMBER 10, 1972 4 Theft (Alleged) and Van-dalism, Car vandalized, Tape deck and 10 tapes taken. Unlocked vehicle. Estimated value: $140.00. from lot Q. NOVEMBER 10, 1972

Theft (Alleged) and Van-dalism, Locked car vandalized, 3 gauges taken. Total estimated value: $45.00 from Lot Q.

Pointer Staff

Editor: G.E Rutkowski Associate Editor: Jennifer Urban Assistant Editor: Pat Solie Ad Manager: Dianne Riggs Advertising Assistant: Reporters: Carol Cartwright Bob Lattin Darlene Peterson Nancy Cordy Dan McGlynn Dave Gneiser Steve Okonek Business Manager: Becky Yeager Sports Editor:

Larry Gilman Advisor: Dan Houlihan

Secretaries: Lynn Roback Shelly Laska Assistant Editor: Jane Sadusky

Photography: Tony Menzer Rich Hagar

Technical Crew: Audrey Robran Chip Biglow Jane Weigel Julie Berner Bob Kellerman Feature Editor: Ellie Peterson

Graphics: Marty Lave

The Pointer is a second class

The Pointer is a second class publication, published weekly during the school year in Stevens Point, Wisconsin 54481. The Pointer is a university publication, published under authority granted-to the Board of Regents of State Universities by Section 27.11 Wisconsin of Regents of State Universities by Section 37.11, Wisconsin Statues. Publication costs are paid by the State of Wisconsin under contracts awarded by the State Printing Section, State Department of Administration, as provided in State Printing Operational Bulletin 9-24 of September 1, 1970

APOLLO $750 TO 10.000

JUDD $300 WEDDING RING 150

Say "I love you" in a special way...with a Keepsake diamond ring. Perfect quality, trade-in value and protection against loss. There simply is no more special gift than a Keepsake.

Keepsake EGISTERED DIAMOND RINGS

DIAMOND RINGS BY KEEPSAKE, COLUMBIA and ORANGE BLOSSOM

> Come in and see our Diamonds in Color Green - Canary - Burnt Orange

DIAMOND IMPORTERS

CHECK OUR PRICES

Diamonds Our Specialty WE STAY OPEN SATURDAYS

MAIN & 3RD ST.

SENIORS

ORDER YOUR MID-TERM

GRADUATION ANNOUNCEMENTS

BEFORE NOVEMBER 26

EMMONS

UNIVERSITY STORE

The Stereo Shop

901 CLARK STREET Corner of 2nd & Clark

Stereo Systems starting from *$159.95 (includes amplifier, speakers, turntable and magnetic cratridge) are our specialty!

Compact Stereo Systems starting from . . (includes AM/FM stereo and speakers) are our specialty

$59.95 Car Player Systems starting from . . . (includes player & speakers) are our specialty.

Check our record prices.

We Service What We Sell.

For sound advice call

THE STEREO SHOP

Fox Theater Reviewed

An interview with Mr. Lutz, manager of the Fox theater on Main street, Stevens Point, was conducted on November 10 concerning operation procedure and prices of the theater. There seems to be occasional objection to the shortness of breaks between movie showings and the corresponding waiting line. This leads to the fact that tits often impossible to be seated before the second feature begins. Mr. Lutz stated that this is the way they have always been scheduling the movies with approximate five minute breaks between showings. On occasion he has stopped the beginning of a movie so that everyone may be seated in time

General admission prices for the Fox theater are: $.75 for children age 11 and under, $1.25 for persons age 12 through 15, and adults $2.00. Mr. Lutz was instrumental in initiating a student discount rate for this student discount rate for this area. This rate is $1.50 with the showing of a student I.D. card. Special features may be subject to price increase such as the coming attraction "Fiddler on the Roof." Prices for this are: children $1.00, students $1.50, and adults $2.50.

The selection and prices of movies are made by United Artist Theaters whose main office is in Chicago. There is little or no local involvement in the overall operation of this chain of theaters, all is left to "company policy."

A new theater in Stevens

Point will be opening some time around Christmas. The Cinema around Christmas. The Cinema Theater owned by Central State Cinemas, with headquarters in New York, is located on the corner of 6th and Vincent streets, one block west of Division near Tempo. As there will be different ownership of the two theaters, expensiving the two theaters some price competition may exist. We will try to keep you informed in the event of a difference in any of the above mentioned areas.

Stamps On Exhibit In LRC

In commemoration of National Stamp Collecting Week, November 13-18, the Portage County Stamp Club is exhibiting in the Learning Resources Center several stamp collections belonging to its members. The Club holds regular meetings on the second Monday of the month at the Holiday Inn at 7:30 p.m. The November 20. The next meeting is

Some of the stamp collections include official stamps of the Vatican, Polish stamps, stamps of "Old Glory", com-memorative stamps of the moon landing and the 1972

Olympics, stamps of China and Red China, as well as com-memorative conservation

Also on exhibit is Raku pottery designed by Karlyn Cauley. If anyone is interested in purchasing her ceramic pieces, call 344-2830. Sally Vosters is also displaying litho prints for sale. Mr. Charles Zietlow will be displaying several works of art. Currently on exhibit are his oil pastels. Students or faculty wishing to display materials are urged to contact Ms. Zimmer, ext. 2775, at the LRC.

SECOND STREET

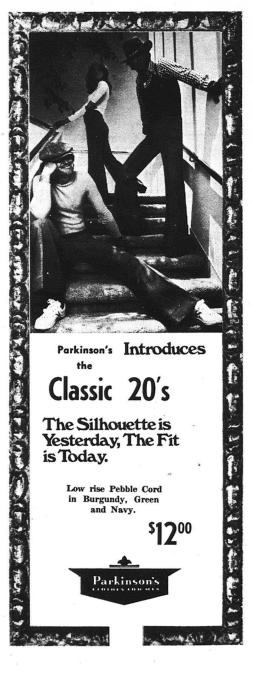

Elmer Fuddpuckers Rapid Rabbit

133o 2nd Street

BOOTS

Main at Water

for the Holiday ahead remember .

The Treasure Chest

- * fall weddings
- * that someone special
- * Thanksgviing gifts

($1.00 will hold your purchase)

P.S. Don't forget! Order your Christmas cards early!

POOR HENRY'S

PRESENTS

TRUTH

Friday and Saturday November 17-18

BAGSHOT ROW

Monday thru Saturday November 20-25

Coming Soon

DR. BOP

Attention Seniors

The Records Office reports that each semester it experiences problems with graduating seniors who do not complete degree requirements until several weeks (and sometimes months after the graduation date, but who expect to receive their degrees as of the date for which they applied. Dr. Gordon Haferbecker, Assistant Chancellor for Academic Affairs, decided that 30 days after the official end of the semester was sufficient time for a graduating senior to complete the required work, and for the instructor to turn in a grade. Notices appeared in November 1971 issues of the Campus Rag, the Pointer, and the Faculty Newsletter, which read as follows:

"We will approve for any graduation date only those who will have completed all graduation requirements within 30 days after the end of the semester. Those who complete graduation requirements after that time will be included in the next succeeding graduation list".

Regarding incompletes, some of the candidates for graduation were under the impression that they had one whole semester to complete their work. The statement in the catalogue regarding incompletes pertains to continuing students. Graduating seniors have just 30 days. This fall it was decided to send a notice to all December 1972 graduates, and instuctors, reminding them of the deadline, in addition to posting it again in the Pointer, and the Faculty Newsletter.

The official end of the semester this year is December 21. Therefore, all credits or courses required for completion of degree requirements must be on file in the Records Office by January 20, 1973. If received later than that date, the student will not be considered a December graduate.

Attention Tutors

There will be an Inservice Workshop held on Saturday, December 9 at 9:00 a.m. in the Nicolet-Marquette Room of the University Center for those tutors working with the Central Wisconsin Chicano Self-Help Program. Several area speakers will appear, and the topic of the workshop will be "methods and techniques in dealing with the human relations aspect of the program." Since this is to be the last full group meeting before semester break, everyone is urged to attend.

Walkathon A Success

.. Saturday, November 11, Phi Beta Lambda held a walkathon for the March of Dimes. Registration began at 7:30 with the ribbon cutting ceremony beginning at 8:30. Approximately 150 walkers started the walk and only seven or eight failed to finish the routed 15 miles. Various checkpoints were set up every three miles with hot chocolate, coffee and snacks for the walkers snacks for the walkers.

A "thank you" dance was held after the walk at Pacelli High School for those who participated in the walk.

Approximately $2,800 was made on the walk. A big. "THANKS" goes to all those who donated food, time, money and effort to make the March of Dimes Walkathon a success.

Biology Bowl Held

The Sixth Annual Biology Bowl, hosted by the UW-SP Biology Club, was held Saturday, November 11th, on the second floor of the Science Building. Biology Bowl is comparable to "GE College Bowl," except that the questions are strictly on biology. It is held every year, usually in November or December, hosted by a different school each year. All Wisconsin colleges and universities are invited to participate, as well as some out-of-state schools.

The schools participating were: Silver Lake College, Manitowoc; College of St. Theresa, Winona, Minn.; Marque et te University, Milwaukee; UW-River Falls; UW-Eau Claire;

UW-Platteville; UW-Whitewater; UW-LaCrosse; and UW Stevens Point. Members of the Stevens Point team were Birgit Sawatzki, Ralph Mizia, Eric Loudenslager, and Dick Witthuhn.

Following the final round, a banquet was held in the Wright, Lounge in the University Center. The travelling trophy, a mounted gold turtle shell, was awarded to the winning team, IW-Fau Claire.

awarded to the winning team, UW-Eau Claire.
The Biology Club would like to thank the team members. Special thanks go to Mr. Robert Quick, who put in much time and effort in helping us get ready to host Biology Bowl. Next year, the Biology Bowl will be hosted by UW-Eau Claire.

Phi Beta Lambda Inducts New Members

Phi Beta Lambda held its installation banquet Sunday night, November 12, at 6:30 p.m. at Sadie's and Jerry's.

Miss Barabra Crook, Phi Beta Lambda President, welcomed guests to the banquet. Dr. Lorraine Missling, State Phi Beta Lambda Advisor, was the guest speaker. Installation of new members took place and all members of Phi Beta Lambda stood and recited the Phi Beta Lambda Creed. Mr. Dick Ihlenfeldt, State Phi Beta Lambda President, gave a short speech and then installed the new chapter officers for the 1972-73 year. They are:

President - Barbara Crook Vice President - Randy Kaiser

Secretary - Debbie Teske Treasurer - Gary Swanson Reporter - Kaye Holschbach-Advisors -Mrs. Ann Carlson and Mrs. Rita Sheuerell

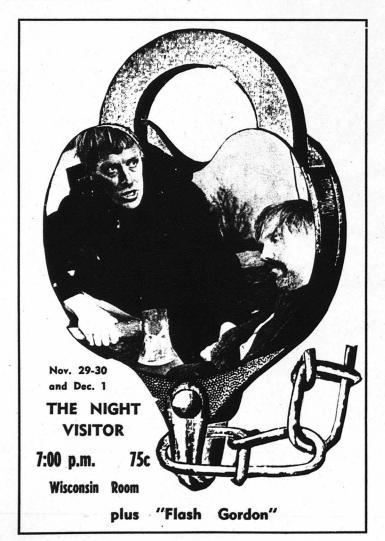

The installation took place by candlelight with each officer receiving a different colored candle that symbolized their specific roles of office. Miss Barb Crook took over the meeting and gave closing comments, thanking everyone who attended.

Women's Basketball Team Meeting

If anyone is interested in playing basketball on the Stevens Point women's basketball team, please attend the opening meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 29th at 6:30 p.m. in Room 118 of the Phy. Ed. Building.

Student Affairs Committee To Meet

The Student Affairs Committee will meet November 20 at 3:45 PM in Room 104, Student Services Center. The agenda will include a constitutional amendment to increase the number of students on the committee and the disciplinary appeals board proposal.

COLLEGE AVENUE GROCERY THE VINEYARD

1651 COLLEGE AVE. COM

Groceries Wines Liquor

341-0750 PARTY SUPPLIES

The Move is on to THE VILLAGE

- 2 bedrooms, 2 baths.
- Completely carpeted and furnished.
- All utilities paid by landlord.
- Dishwasher, disposal, air conditioner.
- Second semester means spring spring means swimming in our heated pool.
- Laundry facilities and ping pong tables on premises.
- Close to Campus.

Model Open

301 N. Michigan 341-2120

If you move in January, you only pay for the time you're here - SAVE MONEY.

Campus Newsletter

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18

UAB Movie: 7 p.m., Wisconsin Room, University Center. Experimentals— "Anticipation of Night" and "Penny Ar-

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19 United Church of Christ: 1756 Dixon St. Sunday worship 10:00 a.m.

Sunday Worsmip 10:00 a.m.
St. Paul's United Methodist Church: 600
Wilshire Blvd, Sunday worship 9:15 and 10:45 a.m. (Bus pickup: Steiner-10:20; Delzell10:24: Schmeeckle-10:28; Watson-10:32; Roach-10:36).

Frame Memorial United Presbyterian Church: 1300 Main St. Sunday worship 9:15 and 10:45 a.m.

Church of the Intercession (Episcopal): 1417 Church St. Sunday mass 9:00 a.m. and 5:15 p.m.; Friday mass 5:15 p.m. ($.35 supper after Friday mass).

Lutheran Student Community: with Eucharist, Saturday 6:00 p.m. at Peace Center; Sunday 10:30 a.m. at Peace Center. We will have special Thanksgiving Service including film, feasting, and much celebration. As a portion of your offering, please bring canned or otherwise preservable predict of the calmed of outerwise preservative food for the offertory processional. This will be used to replenish the supply for the Emergency Food Service. NO SER-VICES ON NOVEMBER 25 and 26. Services

VICES ON NOVEMBER 25 and 26. Services will resume on December 2 and 3. Newman University Parish: Masses: Saturday 4:00 and 6:00 p.m., Newman Chapel and 11:15 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. Cloister Chapel. Weekday masses: Tuesday 11:45 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. Wednesday 11:45 a.m. mass only. Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) 10:00 a.m. Special Liturgy. Friday no masses. Saturday, Nov. 25, 4:00 and 6:00 p.m., Newman Chapel. Sunday. Nov. 26, 10:00 a.m. at Newman day, Nov. 25, 4:00 and 6:00 p.m., Newman Cn-puel. Sunday, Nov. 26, 10:00 a.m. at Newman Chapel. NO 11:15 a.m. mass this Sunday. 6:00 p.m. mass at Cloister Chapel. NO MASSES Nov. 28 and 29. (Tuesday and Wednesday). MASSES ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY (Nov. 30 and Dec. 1) at 11:45 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

Planetarium Series: 3 p.m., Science Building. Roots of Astronomy—The Oldest

Lecture on Chinese Music: 8 p.m., Michelsen Concert Hall, Fine Arts Building. Kuo-Huang Han, assistant professor of music history at Northern Illinois will speak. Public

UAB Movie: 7 p.m., Wisconsin Room, U.C. Experimentals—"Anticipation of Night" and "Penny Arcade."

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20
Women's Intramurals: Volleyball tournament in Berg and Quandt Gyms. These are the games that were to be played Nov. 13, but have been rescheduled. Please be on the court and ready to play at the scheduled time. Table tennis and basketball sign-up sheets are out. If you want to enter a team, pick up a form at the Intramural Office in the P.E. Building.

Building.

Nomination papers are also out. If you want to nominate a person for a women's intramural office, please pick up a form in the Intramural Office and complete it by Dec. 4.

UAB Movie: 7 p.m., Wisconsin Room, U.C. Experimentals—"Anticipation of Night" and "Penny Arcade."

Family Planning Service: 7:30-10:00 p.m., 1132 A Main St. The second training session for volunteer counselors for the Family Planning Service will be held. It is one of three sessions on consecutive Mondays.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 21
University Film Society: 7 and 9 p.m.,
Auditorium, Main Building. "Medium Cool."
Faculty Horn Recital: 8 p.m., Michelsen
Concert Hall, Fine Arts Building. Julius Erlenbuch, horn, will be assisted by Michael

Keller, piano; Raymond Luedeke, clarinet; Robert Van Nuys, trumpet; Rebecca Erlenbach, clarinet; and Kenneth Camlek, trombone and trumpet.

UW-SP NEWS

Registration for Second Semester. 1972-73: Registration for the second semester, 1972-73, will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 6. Seniors and juniors may pick up their registration materials in the Registration Office on Monday, November 20; sophomores on Tuesday; and freshmen beginning Wednesday, November 22. Credits earned before the current semester (1st sem) determine senior, junior, etc. status. Students who wish should schedule an appointment with their Registration for Second Semester 1972-73: should schedule an appointment with their adviser sometime between November 20 and December 5, depending on when they are to pick up registration materials.

December 5, depending on when they are to pick up registration materials.

Learning Resources Center: The hours of operation for the Learning Resources Center during the Thanksgiving recess 1972 are: Wednesday, Nov. 22, 7:45 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.; Thursday, Nov. 23 (Thanksgiving Day), Closed; Friday, Nov. 24, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 25 (Closed; Sunday, Nov. 26, 6:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Text Rental: Friday, December 8, will be the last day to purchase textbooks or pay for lost textbooks at a 25 per cent discount.

Attention Natural Resource Majors: There will be a preregistration advising session for all natural resource majors on November 28 in the Wisconsin Room of the University Center. Freshmen and Sophomores-7:30 to 8:45 p.m.; Juniors and Seniors-8:45 to 9:45 p.m.; If you have any questions you may call p.m. If you have any questions you may call ext. 2656.

History Graduate Exam: The Department of History Graduate Exam will be held on December 1 in Room 216 COPS from 1-4 p.m.

December 1 in Room 216 COPS from 1-4 p.m. All who wish to take the exam must register with R. H. Zieger, 409 COPS, ext. 3347, on or before November 28.

Gold Mass: The Golden Mass will be held December 10 at 6 p.m. in St. Stan's upper church. It is an early Catholic Liturgy clurren. It is an early Catholic Liturgy celebrated with great ceremony and pagentry with choirs in which gold vestments and gifts wrapped in gold foil or paper are offered by the participants. The gifts are brought for the poor. This year's gift to the poor (of money and food) will be donated to "the Pantry," the and food) will be donated to "the Pantry," the self help student food project of UCM for UW-SP campus. Father Al Thomas will be homilist and the University Choir will sing. Jim Benzmiller will be organist. Pre-Marriage Seminar: If you plan to attend the Pre-marriage seminar on December 2 at 8:30 p.m. at the Peace Campus Center, please call the UCM office (344-0034) and pre-register. This please is to have how and pre-register. This helps us to know how much material to get ready.

much material to get ready.

Stevens Point Symphony Orchestra: The Stevens Point Symphony Orchestra will perform Wednesday night, Dec. 6, in the Michelsen Concert Hall of the Fine Arts Building. Collegians will be admitted by showing the identification cards and others will be charged $1.50 for general admission. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Wanted: Talented Performers to Tour Europe: The UW-SP Theatre has been selected by the USO to take the musical comedy "Company" on a tour of Europe this spring.

spring

A variety show will also be prepared for performances. Fourteen student performers will have an all-expenses paid trip of some 5-6 weeks, earn academic credit, and get paid!

We're looking for actors, singers, dancers, comedians, majicians, acrobats, banjo and guitar players, piano players and other musicians of all kinds.

If you are interested, attend one of the special information meetings next Monday or Tuesday, November 20 and 21, at 12:45 p.m. in Jenkins Theatre.

Native American Works Exhibited

Currently on exhibition in the Carlsten Gallery, Fine Arts Building, are a series of baskets, pots, and assorted crafts of native American In-dians of the Southwest United

FEEL LONELY?

Maybe you need our community—

care about each other that's what difference the care about you! and

> JOIN US!

COMMUNITY NEWMAN

Masses

Sat. 4 6 P.M. - St. Stan's Basement Sun. 10:00 A.M. - St. Stan's Basement Sun. 11:15 A.M. - Cloister Chapel 6:00 P.M. - Cloister Chapel

AS YOU LIKE IT

"WE BAKE IT TO YOUR TASTE"

DOWNTOWN STEVENS POINT 44-9557 or 344-9577 DELIVERY SERVICE

Please Go Away!

Before you go - contact

TRAVEL SHOP

Next to Post Office

WE ARE AGENTS FOR Airlines • Railroads • Shiplines Chartered and Sightseeing Buses Rent-A-Cars • Hours • Hotels Resorts . ALL OVER THE WORLD

One House

"Fresh As A Flower & Germ-Free In Just One Hour"

Never an extra charge for one hour service.

Watch and Listen for Different Weekly Specials

7 WWW 67 PANIE POINTER Plain Trousers 79c each Coupon good Friday, Nov. 17, Saturday, Nov. 18 and Sunday, Nov. 19. Present coupon with incoming order.

Fridays 7 a.m.-8 p.m. Open Daily 7 a.m. - 6 p.m. 257 Division St. 344-5277

Superpickers Play It Straight

by Tim Sullivan and Mike Haberman

We are elated with our picks from last week, as we called ten of the games correctly, just as we said we would. Furthermore, we hit the Eagle game right on the button. We're starting to like Philadelphia again.

again. We missed the Charger game, but only by 45 seconds. Whoever the Charger cornerback was that let Frank Pitts catch the winning touchdown bomb should be given a free pass into the Modesto shark aquarium.

We also blew the Detroit game, but in our hearts we know the Lions actually won. We miss the Viking-Lion game every single damn time, but we will never pick Minnesota, because we don't like Bud Grant.

Grant.

Our third miss was Los Angeles. Actually, we didn't really care about that one, because who cares about the Rams anyways. Here is how week ten will turn out.

PITTSBURGH OVER CLEVELAND - The Browns will finally be going against a tough team, something they normally don't have to worry about. The Steelers are the hottest team in football now, and if Ron Shanklin can manage to hold on to a few Bradshaw passes, the Steelers will win by 21.

MIAMI OVER JETS - New York could pull off an upset, and rumor has it that Paul Warfield is injured. Miami should win if Namath stays home Saturday night eating his Jiffy-Pop popcorn

SAN FRANCISCO OVER CHICAGO - The Bears have absolutely no passing game, while San Francisco's Spurrier is capable of completing a few. Dick Butkus can't possibly injure enough 49ers to make this game close. San Francisco by 17. GIANTS OVER CARDS - New York has lost running back Charlie Evans for the season, and the Cards have a history of always beating the Giants. Therefore, we'll only take New York by 17.

KANSAS CITY OVER CHARGERS - The Chargers always find a way to lose. San Diego was dead before this season began. A look at their schedule shows why Duane Thomas refused to play. In order, San Diego's opponents are: 49ers; Deriver; Oakland; Colts: Dolphins: Lions; Chiefs; Cowboys; Cleveland; Chiefs; Houston; Oakland; Denver; and the Steelers.

WASHINGTON OVER FALCONS - This is the Monday nighter, and the Redskins have a perfect Monday night record. Look for Kilmer to out-gun Berry. Redskins by 10. BENGALS OVER COLTS
The Baltimore situation is unique. The Colts are doing a lot of hard-hitting, but unfortunately, its not on the field. Baltimore is a greatly demoralized team, with most of the fighting going on between the players and the Colt front office. Bengals by 7.

OAKLAND OVER DENVER-Visiting teams hate to play in Denver's Mile High Stadium, because the light air makes them dizzy. However, the Bronco players are usually dizzy before they even get to the park. Raiders by 20.

DETROIT OVER SAINTS -Judging by the way the Lions have been playing lately, this one could almost be classified as an upset. Look for Detroit to squeak by with 38 points.

VIKINGS OVER RAMS -Minnesota gets the edge in this one. Te Rams like to pass, but Gabriel can't throw more than fifteen yards through the L.A. smog. Looks like Alan Page goes berserk in this one. Vikings by 10.

HOUSTON

GREEN BAY OVER HOUSTON - The Packers are having a great season. They've surprised a lot of people, and right now, the Pack has as good a chance as anybody at making it to the Super Bowl. The Oilers, on the the other hand, wuld have a tough time winning the Cotton or Sugar Bowls. Pack by 14.

DALLAS OVER EAGLES -Philly was impressive last week, as Tom Dempsey kicked six field goals. Unfortunately, the Eagles won't get anywhere near field goal range against the Cowboys. Dallas by 21.

BUFFALO OVER PATRIOTS
-There are two good reasons for taking Buffalo. One is that New England lost their last game by 52 points. The other is that the new head coach at New England is none other than Phil Bengston. Phil's head coaching-career in the past was not overly impressive. Bills by 10.

Need A Lift?

Then Hitch A Ride to Erzinger's
during our Corduroy
Slax Sale

300 ° off

ENTIRE STOCK
MEN'S

CORD SLAX

Erzinger's

Tom Kat Shop

Dear Sir:

This comment is in regards to two things, first the conduct of the UW football team last Saturday night at Big Daddy's Bar and secondly the obviously biased reporting of the incident by WSPT. Let me deal with the conduct of our football players first. After the abominable record our team has compiled the past few seasons jubliation and gayety are understandable for the back to back wins the previous weekends. We feel that there is a limit when celebration turns to an uncontrollable mob, which is what happened with the football team Saturday night. Bottle smashing, beer throwing, pushing other patrons and jumping up and down on tables goes far beyond the limits of normal and sane celebration.

A complete disregard was shown for the police authority when their assistance was required and we wonder how there is enough respect for authority on the field to run a game, because there obviously is none for authorities off the field. After being forced to close the bar early, to the dismay of many because of the antics of a few, the crowd moved out in the street where it blocked traffic and caused general disorder. It's too bad when the employees and a business receive the blame for the actions of some of the crowd. This brings me to my second point, WSPT's biased reporting of the incident, Police assistance was required due to the fact of sheer numbers of the troublemakers alone. No one knows better than a radio station how intonation, wording and the completeness with which reporting is done can influence the listeners impressions. We feel that the reporters on WSPT should seek to attain this minimal degree of professionalism both in secondhand and on the spot news coverage. After all that air time is supposedly reserved for news, not commercialism.

The Bartenders of Big Daddy's

Pointers End Season By Demolishing Eau Claire 40-13

BY Tim Sullivan and Larry

The Pointer football team wrapped up its 1972 season by destroying the Eau Calire Blugolds at Carson Park, 40-13. For Point, the slaughter was the second win in a row, as the Pointers defeated Superior a week earlier.

The win advanced Point's Wisconsin State University Conference record to 2-6, good enough to tie both UW-Eau Claire and UW-Stout for sixth place in the conference standings.

The Blugolds were overwhelmingly generous, as Eau Calire turned the ball over to Point an amazing ten times, four of the turnovers coming on fumbles and six more on in-terceptions. Pointers recovering the fumbles were Steve Zimmerman. DeWayne Derickson, Pat Sexton, and Lloyd Platson. Pat Robbins and Pete Thompson each in-tercepted two passes, and the other steals came from Bob Rivard and, as usual, Mike Blasczyk.

After the opening kickoff, the After the opening kickoff, the Blugolds chose to stymie Point by moving into a 5-2 defense. This failed to impress the Pointers, as Coach Monte Charles turned quarterback Mark Olejniczak loose. Mark proceeded to rip apart the Eau Claire defense, using tight end Bill Hamilton as his main target.

A few passes to Hamilton moved Point to the Blugold 41. Then Olejniczak put into action the old Greg Landry play, called the "X-15". This is the one where Mark says, "Okay, I want threee receivers to go deep, and the rest of you run-ning backs run out short. If nobody's open, don't worry bout

The "X-15" worked; nobody was open, so Olejniczak scrambled for a first down to Olejniczak followed his scramble on the next play by zinging a pass to senior Ken Golomski at the 17. Three plays later, Pat Robbins was brought in to successfully kick a 30-yard field goal. Point led, 3-0.

The next time Point had the ball, the Pointers again drove down the field, and Robbins nailed a 33-yarder, upping the lead to 6-0:

Immediately after Robbins' second field goal, it looked like the Pointers were in for trouble. Eau Calire quarterback Greg Hoffman unleased a bomb to flanker Steve Cooley. Cooley caught the pass in stride and raced 56 yards before defensive halfback Thompson caught him from behind. Thompson's effort quite possibly was the turning point in the game, because Eau Claire fumbled two plays later and Zimmerman recovered at the one.

The next Eau Calire drive was stifled when Rivard intercepted a Hoffman pass and returned it to the Pointer 43. Point then marched the remaining distance using four Olejniczak pass completions. Joe Farmer banged home from the one, giving Point 12-0 lead. Robbin's extra poing attempt Robbin's extra poing attempt was declared negative. Midway through the second quarter, Eau Claire's Dave Rendall got off a 23 yard punt, with the ball carrying to the Blugold 34. Hamilton ran the punt back 18 words. On the next play.

yards. On the next play, Olejniczak hit him with a strike to the five. Hamilton was one of the main guys responsible for getting the Pointers so deep into Blugold territory, so Olejniczak followed by throwing a five-yard touchdown pass to him. Robbins' kick made it 19-0.

In the middle of the third quarter, Eau Claire finally put the offense together. Rick Czechowicz returned a Pointer punt of the visitor's 36. Following a pair of quick first downs, the Blugolds found themselves at Point's 11. Four plays later, Hoffman ran for yard touchdown. The PAT made it 19-7.

The Pointers wasted no time in putting the game out of reach. Following Blasczyk's interception, a pass to Hamilton and Farmer's rushing moved the ball to Eau Calire's 38.

Olejniczak subsequently followed with his second touchdown pass, with this one also going to Hamilton. That enabled the Pointers to rest with a 26-7

The Pointers had no intention of stopping there. Thompson picked off a pass and returned it to Eau Calire's 31. Passes to Joe LaFleur and Kim Chartier set up another touchdown. Olejniczak rolled out and found Ken Golomski for a five-yard touchdown flip. The result was Less than two minutes later, Olejniczak threw his fourth scoring pass, a 9 yarder to Golomski. To say that Kenny was elated is an un-derstatement, because Golomski went into his second consecutive victory shuffle, which some say resembles a cross between Elmo Wright's and Rufus Fergesun's.

The Blugolds added their second token touchdown in the final munutes, when John O'Grady slammed over from the one. Final score Point 40,

Eau Claire 13. EDITORIAL

Although the Pointer football record was not entirely terrific, there were some outstanding performances turned in by a ew of the players. Quarterback Mark Olejniczak set two con-ference records. His first record was for the most passes at-tempted in a single game-56. His second was for the most amount of completions - 31.

Oleiniczak also set a Pointer record for most touchdown passes in one game with four. Joe LaFleur earlier in the season set a Pointer record for receivers by grabbing 7 passes for 141 yards. His record was erased in the last game when Billy Hamilton caught eleven passes good for 150 yards.

Passing and receiving records are not accomplished without the aid of up-front blocking. Jim Suski, a former Pointer sports editor and currently a Stevens Point Daily currently a Stevens Point Daily Journal sports writer, has followed every play of the Pointers this year, capably aided by spotter Russ Golomski's statistics. In Jim's consistent the following players opinion, the following players should be given credit for giving snould be given credit for giving Olejniczak enough time to complete his record passes: center John Miech; legt guard Joe Peplinski; left tackle Kevin Moll; right guards Tim Sweeney and Jeff Jenkins; right tackle Mike Wieden; and running backs Joe Farmer and Ren Bresse. Ben Breese.

The Pointers also had a couple of great defensive players. Suski and many others players. Suski and many others feel that two of the defensive players, Mike Sexton and Mike Blasczyk, should make all-conference. Both of these guys conference. Both of these guys had outstnading games, time and time again. Pat Robbins should also be given a great deal of credit, as he intercepted numerous passes and also kicked a lot of field goals.

We would also like to make a comment about the coaching comment about the coaching change.

The administration asked Pat O'Halloran to step down after three conference games. We thought the timing of the decision was bush league. If you ask a man to do a job for a certain amount of time, then you should have enought pride to follow your decision through.

O'Halloran was, and is, an excellent defensive football coach. Apparently, the ad-ministration realized this, but . infinistration realized this, but they felt the number one priority at the time called for a better offensive output. Therefore, enter Monte Charles, and soon after, Chris Charnish. The move, as far as direct football strategy goes, couldn't have been better. The defense, primed and guided by O'Halloran, was in top-notch shape. The offense, geared to the passing game, was ready to come out throwing-therefore all the records. A great combination as proven by the left. bination, as proven by the last two Pointer games.

Nobody will ever know if

Point would've won two games or more under O'Halloran. However, it is a fact that the football games were made more exciting by Charles' theory of coming out throwing, and he made no secret about that game

Mr. O'Halloran said time and time again that the Pointers never really lost some of those games - they merely ran out of time. Monte Charles took it from there. His team also lost some games, but the Pointers didn't run out to time - they ran out of the season. Stevens Point won its last two games in fine fashion. The Pointers did it with O'Halloran's defense and Charles' offense

Monte Charles deserves to be the Head Coach next year. His wide-open passing game is most enjoyable to watch, and it produces encouraging results. Mr. Charles in all likelihood will be the next full-time football coach, which he should be, but let's let not forget the guy who gave him most of the key players this year, Pat players O'Halloran.

Grid Scores

WISAA High School Finals Milwaukee Pius XI 10, Stevens Point Pacelli 0. State Colleges STEVENS POINT 40, Eau

STEVENS POINT 40, Eau
Claire 13.
Oshkosh 10, Whitewater 7.
Stout 14, Platteville 8.
St. Thomas 48, Superior 14.
La Crosse 17, River Falls 14.
Big Ten
Purdue 27, Wisconsin 6.
Minnesota 35, Northwestern

Michigan 31, Iowa 0. Michigan State 19, Omo State

Illinois 37, Indiana 20. Other Scores Nebraska 23, Iowa State 23,

Washington 30, UCLA 21. Alabama 35, LSU 21. First ranked South California did not play. Southern Stop in

Happiest Place In Town

Live Music Every Sunday Nite 8:30-1:30

Paul Bentzen and The Safety Last String Band

(Blue Grass — Country)

Wednesday Nite Specials

Women's Drinks 8-12 Men's Drinks 12-2 1/2 PRICE

Poor Man's Nite Last Monday of Every Month 5c-10c BEER

UNIVERSITY WRITERS

Now accepting submissions (poetry, essays, short stories) for our 1972-73 literary magazine.

Deliver your efforts - typed, name and address included - to 101 Nelson Hall or the English Dept. Office, 215 Nelson.

ENTERTAINMENT Every Friday & Saturday WHITING MOTOR HOTEL

FAMOUS JEANS

MAIN STREET

ENTERTAINMENT

Every Week Tuesday through Sunday THIS WEEK

DOLLY and KRISTY The Echo Nightclub

61/2 miles N.W. of Stevens Point, left off Mwy. 10

William Shakespeare's

by Tim Sullivan The most popular football sportswriter ever to wield a pen was a gentleman back in was a gentieman back in the 1600's named William "Willie" Shakespeare. Willie invented countless sports phrases and cliches, and many of his classics are still being used today in modern day sports. To offer you proof, let's rerun several football interviews which happen almost every

1) Reporter: "Coach Devine, why is Scott Hunter throwing more passes these days?"

Devine: "God made him, and therefore let him pass for a

(The Merchant of Venice. Act

2) Reporter: "Franco Harris, ou had a good career at Penn State. Now you're a rookie with the Steelers, and you're having a sensational season. How do you account for the transition from college to the pros?" Harris: "By heaven,

Harris: "By heaven, methinks it were an easy leap." (Henry IV, Part I. Act I, Scene 3.)

3) Reporter: "Mr. Halas, why did you hire Abe Gibron as coach?"

Halas: "Let me have men about me that are fat.

(Julius Caear. Act I, Scene 2.)
4) Reporter: "Mr. Garrett, what are your feelings about going from the Chiefs to San Diego?"

Garrett: "When I was at home, I was in a better place, but travelers must be content.

(As You Like It, Act II, Scene

5) Reporter: "Mr. Gillingham, as talented as you are, why do you prefer playing in the Green Bay offensive

Gale: "Nay, I shall never be aware of mine own wit, till I break my shins against it."

(As You Like It. Act II, Scene

6) Reporter: "Bill Peterson, our Oilers can't seem to win like they used to in the old AFL. What are your thoughts?" Peterson: "True it is that we have seen better days (As You Like It. Act II, Scene

7) Reporter: "Mr. Namath, what is the secret to your success?" Joe: "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them. (Take your pick.)" (Twelfth Night. Act II, Scene

8) Reporter: "Mr. Irsay, nov that you own the Colts, what will be your first policy?" Irsay: "Neither a borrower, nor a lender be; for loan oft loses both itself and friend."

(Hamlet. Act I, Scene 3.)
9) Reporter: "Howard, I think Namath is the greatest.

Do you agree?"
Cosell: "Aye, every inch a Cosell:

king."
(King Lear. Act IV, Scene 6.) 10) Reporter: "Mr. Osonka and Mr. Kiick, how do you two manage to have such great rushing games week after

Larry and Jim: "We burn daylight."

(The Merry Wives of Windsor. Act II, Scene I.)

11) Reporter: "Mr. Halas, the Bears just won their fifth game. Do you attribute the success to Abe Gibron?" Halas: "O, what a world of vile ill'favour'd faults, looks handsome in three hundred pounds a year!"

(The Merry Wives of Windsor. Act III, Scene 4.)
12) Reporter: "Mr. Thomas, you recently talked to the press for ten straight minutes. How do you feel?"

do you feel?"
Duane: "Reputation, reputation, reputation! O, I have lost my reputation!"
(Othello. Act II, Scene 3.)
13) Reporter: "Mr. Roone
Arledge, ABC's sports coverage was quite good until Howard, Dandy, and Frank began get-ting carried away. What do you think about the situation?" Roone: "O God, that men

Roone: "O God, that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains."

'ains."
(Othello. Act II, Scene 3.)
14) Reporter: "Mr. Rozelle, (Otherio. Acc. 1), 14) Reporter: "Mr. Rozelle, it is rumored that certain people wind fired of you. Would vou care to make a statement?

Pete: "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."
(Henry IV, Part II. Act III, Scene 1.)

15) Reporter: "Mr. Gentile, 15) Reporter: "Mr. Gentle, being a trainer for the Packers must be interesting. What do you tell a player who almost had his leg torn off by Butkus?" Dominic: "Courage, man. The hurt cannot be much."

(Romeo and Juliet. Act III, Scene 1.) Scene 1.)
16) Reporter: "Coach Shula, why did you cry when you looked at Tom Landry after the

^a Sports

Super Bowl?"
Shula: "How bitter a thing is to look into happiness through another man's eyes!"

(As You Like It. Act V, Scene

17) Reporter: "Mr. Sweetan, what did Coach Roberts tell you before turning you in for trying to sell him the Ram playbook?" Karl: "In nature's infinite book of secrecy, a little I can read."

(Antony and Cleopatra. Act I,

Scene 2.)
18) Reporter: "Dandyroo, how can you put up with Howard?"

Meredith: "I had rather have a fool to make me merry than experience to make me sad."
(As You Like It. Act IV, Scene

19) Reporter: "Max McGee, you were always being fined for missing curfews. What did you say to Vince?"

Max: "Does thou think, because thou art virtuous, there shall be no more cakes and (Twelfth Night. Act II, Scene

20) Reporter: "What happens when Howard Cosell stops talking for a Monday nighter?"
"The rest is talking for a half-hour during a silence.

(Hamlet, Act V. Scene 2.)

Intramurals

by Jerry Long Burroughs 2 West became the 1972 Touch-Football Champions in the "Dormitory Conference" last, week, with an 8-0 victory over Watson. Dennis Riddle of Burroughs returned the kick-off at the start of the second half for a 50 yard touchdown run. Burroughs then caught the Watson ball carrier in the wrong end-zone for a safety that gave the game its final score. Baldwin 2 South defeated

Hyer 2 East 32-22 in the Dorms consolation game. Details of the game were not available. Baldwin and Hyer finished the season in third and fourth place season in third and total in pace respectively.

Burroughs now meets the champions from the Fraternity, Student Organizations, and Independents leagues to determine the All-Campus

Champions.

Women's Intramurals

Sign-up sheets will be out soon for the following events: table tennis, basketball, the swim carnival, and the women's intramurals staff election.

intramurals staff election.

Table tennis starts at the end of November, so choose your partners and sign up now.

The Swim Carnival will be held on December 4th. The Carnival is open to all women and is designed for fun.

The staff election will be held on December 11. All women are eligible for nomination. If eligible for nomination. If you're dependable and hard working, women's intramurals needs you.

Basketball will start right after the Christmas vacation. You don't have to be seven feet tall to participate, you only need

