Financial Statements To Madison?

by Mary Budde

The Higher Education Finance Board has recently made a proposal on financial aid for the UW system in Madison. Phillip George, Financial Aid Director at UWSP, and the Student Senate are in opposition to the proposal. Madison has stated the purpose of the proposal is for study and budget reports. Their purpose is vague and not substantial. It looks like an attempt to empower build, said George.

The proposal is a direct violation of the consent made with parents that their papers will be held confidential, he said. There is an alternative way to fulfill their request, said George. Madison can get information by asking for a state fiscal education report in which students are classified together according to need and aid received.

Centralization is impersonal and inefficient, lacking research and creativity, he said. Student Senate will be sending a resolution in opposition to the proposal to Madison, said student body president, Jim Hamilton. If the confidential statements were sent to Madison, it would severely limit the amount of information parents would give, said Hamilton.

If financial aid distribution was centralized, it would be a disadvantage to the university as a whole and to individual students, said Hamilton. "If centralized, there would not be free and equal financial treatment for all campuses. Locally, students can go in for help, but they would not be able to run to Madison."

Grad Cut Meeting Next Tuesday

by Kris Meun

The User Fee Program was one of the topics discussed at the October 7, 1973 meeting of the Student Senate.

President Jim Hamilton said that the User Fee Program is damaging to all the schools. He presented two recommendations to the Senate. The first recommendation was that the User Fee Program not be implemented because of the detrimental effect it will have on established and approved educational programs. Secondly, he presented an alternate program of the School of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics (HEPERA). They support approved majors and minors in the College of Professional Studies (CPS) and the College of Fine Arts.

Also discussed was the User Fee Program and the Central Administration demand for a determination of eligibility of students applying for aid. The four criteria are: 1. Student's social security number; 2. Student's family's contribution; 3. Student's budget; 4. Amount of award to the student.

This will hurt the student hoping to obtain any loans as it appears as if the Central Administration will make a state-wide allocation with loans. Senator Tim Scanlon reported on the progress of the campus mall. The plan must first go through the city planning commission, the city council and then into a public hearing in November. The cost of $100,000 will come from the facilities fund.

Mall May Be In Trouble

The proposed Franklin St. pedestrian mall may not become a reality. The Stevens Point Common Council voted Monday night to set up a public hearing in December on vacating the street. Franklin St. has been temporarily closed for about half a year and a half during campus building construction. Presently, thousands of students cross the closed area daily and the mall had been suggested to eliminate the danger of accidents. If the mall was approved, the street would be open only to fire trucks and other emergency vehicles. Alderman Jerome Bachinski said he had received about 20 calls opposing the vacating of the street.

Apprenticeship programs at UWSP are critical to the school's economic program. The Social Science program at UWSP must first go through the city planning commission, the city council and then into a public hearing in November. The cost of $100,000 will come from the facilities fund.

If financial aid distribution was centralized, it would be a disadvantage to the university as a whole and to individual students, said Hamilton. "If centralized, there would not be free and equal financial treatment for all campuses. Locally, students can go in for help, but they would not be able to run to Madison."

We Let Them...
by Dave Gneiser

What kind of nation are we when:
...Spiro Agnew is guilty of bribery and tax evasion but gets only a fine and three years of "unsupervised" probation?
...Lieutenant Calley commits a mass murder of civilians and is sentenced to confinement in comfortable quarters?
...Henry Kissinger falsely tells us "peace is at hand"
before the election and several months later becomes Secretary of State?
...the President can use taxpayers’ money to make efforts to "improve" his own home?
...politicians use "dirty tricks" in order to get elected?
...students are murdered at Kent State and we did not insist on an investigation be held?
...Congress can pass a bill lifting the TV blackout on football games almost overnight, but could not do one thing to get us out of Vietnam during eight years?
...a President can surround himself with scoundrels and then attempt a cover-up for their illegal actions?
...we let them go away with it?

Agnew Case Repercussions
by Dave Gneiser

Agnew's resignation was a sudden surprise to much of the nation.
Most reporters thought of all was his sentence of a $10,000 fine and three years un-supervised probation.
I don't exactly know what "unsupervised" probation is but I'm sure that Agnew, who often criticized the permissive judicial system, would insist on a stiff sentence. Some politicians said
Agnew has suffered enough
and is sentenced to confinement in comfortable quarters?
...a President can surround himself with scoundrels and
then attempt a cover-up for their illegal actions?
...we let them go away with it?

"I have no expectation of being indicted," says Strangler and he continues,
"I will not resign even if I am indicted."
The trial continues for several days and things do not go well for Strangler,
that with all those dead
bodies that keep coming up.
Strangler took some time off from the trial in order to address his women sup­
tence. Some politicians said
Agnew has suffered enough
and is sentenced to confinement in comfortable quarters?
...a President can surround himself with scoundrels and
then attempt a cover-up for their illegal actions?
...we let them go away with it?

"I want justice," says Strangler.
"I will fight to prove my inocence
while the crowd
who chooses
...on destruction of America
...on individual existence
...on thoughts--too late
...on your needs
...on your education
...on yours...

On October 11, 1972, the month before the fire occurred, there was the scene of a fire which caused approximately $10,000 in damages. Charged at the time was 25-year-old Michael Kirchen, a student from the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

Kirchen lived in the same dormitory as the two others, but at the time of the fire, he was in a different dormitory. A promotion essay was issued by the university at the time, and Kirchen was a resident assistant in that dormitory.

Kirchen arrived on campus at about 2:30 a.m. and was the first to notice the fire. He ran to his dormitory and called the fire department. He then returned to his dormitory and waited for the police to arrive.

The fire was so hot that it caused a hole to be burned in the floor of the dormitory. Kirchen said he had been in the dormitory just two days before the fire and that he had seen the hole in the floor.

Kirchen was questioned by the police and was eventually charged with arson. He was later convicted and sentenced to five years in prison.

Kirchen's friends put out two bulletin boards to prevent the fire from spreading, but the fire was too much for them. The fire department arrived on the scene, but it took them several hours to put out the fire.

The fire caused extensive damage to the dormitory, and Kirchen was charged with arson and later convicted. He was later sentenced to five years in prison.
Recycling Organization Discussed

The UWS Environmental Council held its monthly meeting on October 2. The main topic of discussion was the organization of recycling and environmental education programs.

The recycling situation in Stevens Point, according to Council Chairman Lyle Updike, is "at a dismal state." Last year the program lost $600, and the Stevens Point City Council has limited additional funding until the next budget session in December. Updike said that the organization of recycling programs was the main topic of discussion.

"Last year the Council Chairman Lyle Badzinski, a junior majoring in economics, replaces Michael Aird, who resigned from the position of student controller on October 5.

Badzinski has been active in student affairs. "I was a member of the DeBed program board in 1968, the Hansens Hall Council in 1969, and a member of Program Affairs and the University Activities Board in 1973," Badzinski said. His economics major as well as his business-related courses make Badzinski qualified for the position, Hamilton said.

One of his major goals during his term as student controller is "to increase student involvement in the Financial Allocation Committee," Badzinski said.

$300 Scholarship Offered

The Portage County Association for Mental Health is offering a $300 scholarship to help promote and encourage careers in mental health. The scholarship will be awarded second semester to a full-time junior or senior student with a major in sociology, psychology, pre-medicine or education.

Applicants must be Wisconsin residents having an overall grade point of 2.5 and at least a 3.0 in their major. Students are asked to provide three references, one of which should be a faculty member in the applicant's major.

Applications can be picked up at sociology, psychology, pre-medical and education departmental secretaries' offices. Applications should be mailed to the Portage County Association for Mental Health by November 15, 1973.

Take advantage of job interviews

All graduates are urged to take advantage of the following interviews by contacting the Placement Center, 106 Main Building at their earliest convenience. Literature concerning the companies listed below is available in our placement library and should be read in preparation for your interview.

NOTE: The FEDERAL CIVIL SERVICE EXAM will be given on campus on Saturday, October 27th from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon in the Science Building, Room A-11. All interested students please sign up for the test in the Placement Office and pick up the necessary application form. (Further dates for the exam are as follows: November 24, 1973 and January 26, 1974).
Centralized Faculty Advisors Formed

by Shirley Spittlemeister

A proposal to establish a group of faculty advisors to help students with an undecided major, was passed at the October 11, 1973, meeting of the UWSP Faculty Senate.

Also passed at the meeting was a proposal to remove English 275 (Children's Literature) from the list of humanities requirements. It was felt that students who were taking the class only toward the humanities fulfillment were pushing out the students who need the class for an education major or minor.

The following is the schedule of events:

Morning Session:
- 8:45 Opening
- 9:00 Address: Lytle Updike, Chair, College of Natural Resources, Professional Studies; Hugh Noeske, Environmental Education Coordinator, McKenzie Environmental Center

Concerts, Game, Polkaing Highlight Fall Fest

by Reinhart
Fall Fest activities, highlighted by a 3K victory by the serial circus, produced and began from festival participants.

The Short Stuff and Circus concert Wednesday evening was parked and went through 11 half-barrels of beer. The crowd was described by Fall Fest Chairman Kathy Chop as "super enthusiastic."

The next day the Round Dog Band played at Allen Center and audience participation could have been better. Although the group is well-known in the entertainment they provided was at worst satisfactory according to Miss Chop.

The Friday night beginning drew a good crowd and signaled the start of the homecoming weekend. Siegel-Schwall Band played at Quanto, and although plagued by absence, stimulated, and technical difficulties, gave a dynamic show.

The bass player for Siegel-Schwall showed up late and had to check some of the university equipment cards. The group's p.a. system was put out of commission when it was dropped during unloading.

In an interview afterward, Siegal said, "I've never been through anything like it. By the time it was time for us to play, we didn't feel like it anymore.

Pre-U.S., the U.S.B. special events chairman, estimated that 1,000 of the 1,500 to 1,700 people that originally decided to show up decided in later.

Vets Should Apply For Grants

Between 250 and 350 UWSP students who are veterans of military service during the Vietnam War era are eligible for special grants ranging from $200 to $400, but have not made an application.

John Bohl of the Student Financial Aids staff said the monies were allocated in the new state budget for Wisconsin vets as an incentive for enrollment in higher education.

Married veterans, those who served longer than 90 days on active duty and received honorable discharges, are entitled to $400 while single veterans have been allocated $200.

Bohl said checks are now available at the university cashier’s desk for students who made an application. However, only about 250 vets have filled out the forms to date from a pool of 500 to 600 UWSP students eligible to do so.

Bohl believes lack of information about the new program has resulted in the small percentage of takers.

The funds available to any undergraduate; however, they are being used as recruiting incentives, and Bohl said veterans interested in signing up for classes at UWSP for the spring semester may apply for the funds in his office.

Student Misconduct

Dear Mr. Schiess:

I am writing in response to your letter of October 9, in which you expressed concern about the conduct of some students. Your letter is appreciated, and I assure you that we take all reports of misconduct seriously.

The incident you describe occurred during the recent football game against the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater. Several students were reported to have engaged in inappropriate behavior, including the use of foul language and the disorderly conduct of the stands. The administration is taking this matter very seriously and has initiated a review of the incident.

In addition to the review, we have taken steps to reinforce the expectations for student conduct at all university events. We value the contributions of our student community and expect all students to uphold the principles of respect, civility, and responsibility.

Thank you for your continued support of our university.

Sincerely,

Gary Hedlinger
Interim Chancellor

Dear Editor:

I am one of those who is concerned about the conduct of some students. Your letter of October 9, in which you expressed concern about the conduct of some students, is appreciated, and I assure you that we take all reports of misconduct seriously.

As the campus community, we are all responsible for maintaining a safe and respectful environment. I encourage all students to report any incidents of misconduct to the appropriate authorities.

Thank you for your continued support of our university.

FOOD CAUSES COMPLAINT

To Whom It May Concern: This is a letter to the editor in response to the recent article about the effects of food on health.

I am concerned about the effects of food on health. The article suggests that certain foods can cause physical and mental health problems. I believe it is important to maintain a safe and respectful environment. I encourage all students to report any incidents of misconduct to the appropriate authorities.

Thank you for your continued support of our university.

Sincerely,

"Ooie, oogie, oogie, oy, oy, oy - yeah!" Such was the battle cry that spurred an inspired 2 North team to victory over highly-touted 4 South. Leading the charge for Coach Tom "Yosemiti" Blotz' team was Bill Mawbey, accounting for 12 points in the 18-6 Burroughs win.

Pray's 4 East proved to be a wrecking crew as they destroyed 2 West 30-4, and 3 West, 38-0. Quarterback Dederich of 4 West outgunned 3 Miscellaneous 6. The game was played in Quandt on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 p.m.

Entries for co-ed volleyball teams will be accepted until October 21. The matches will be played on Wednesday nights from 6:30. Table tennis, badminton, and paddleball will also be offered on a co-ed basis.

Pickers Try Series

by Joe Burke, Randy Wielow and Tim Sullivan

Last Sunday, as millions of pro football fans suffered through another plethora of field goals by all those Garos, Jans and Horsts, the New York Mets and the Oakland A's were engaged in a titillating World Series contest that should be typical of the entire Series.

Thanks to their 10-7 marathon conquest Sunday night from Fun City return to their zoo, better known as Shea Stadium, with a California stand-off.

It seems Burke has become infected with Metsamania and expects them to win it six. Meanwhile, Wielow and Sullivan are opting for Finley's Forces to reign supreme after a cliff-dweller.

"The Mets have the mound power and the clutch hitting," claims the irrepresible Burke. "Above all, they have what can only be categorized as something we seem to have forgotten--the American Spirit to Win!!"

New York also has a pretty fair defense plus a nearly phenomenal reliever in Tug McGraw.

The three mid-week night games in Shea are the vital ones, especially for the A's. Manhattan and Tug McGraw are already becoming unglued in the eerie din of the Mets' arena. Witness what happened to Cincinnati and Pittsburgh this Series, and, lest it be forgotten, Baltimore in '69.

Actually, what occurs in games 3 and 6 (if needed) should decide the whole venture. The teams who match the two titans of each squad's superlative mound corps, Tom Seaver and Catfish Hunter.

Should one ace completely trump the other, his team will win. Not should win, WILL win.

History should also boost the Mets' morale. Not since the '62 Yankees has a team won consecutive Series. Not since '65 has the host league (Oakland) been victorious and heading into game 3 the Mets had never lost in Series play at Shea.

But, really folks, the A's are the better team. To win they must play like the World Champions they are, not like the bumbler of the first two contests.

Not only do the A's have the pitching to neutralize the Mets' uniforms and mustaches, they have superior hitting, power, speed, and at least comparable fielding and pitching.

Oakland also dominates in another department: ball girls. These two beauties are Mary Barry and Debbi Sayer, both potential Hugh Hefner draft picks. Their job is to perch along each foul line and do nothing but distract enemy hitters and fielders.

"Sure the Mets relive the miracle of '69? They believe they are a team of destiny and despise the fact that they are not from the best team in baseball, they just might do it.

One word of advice. If the Series goes seven games, don't please watch some Bulgarian refugee attempt field goals; watch the finale of what promises to be a remarkable classic between two remarkable, if not classic, teams.

As for where all the cameras will be, try the Oakland dressing room.

Women gymnasts win

The Stevens Point Women's Gymnastics Team won their first meet Friday night over Superior by a score of 62 to 32.95.

In compulsory competition, Mary Willems took a first in vaulting. Mary Herford captured first place in uneven bars. In the optional competition, the Pointers pulled away from Superior. Carol Kraukramer had a 5.0 out of ten routine on floor exercise and a 4.47 on the balance beam. Sue Gigante was outstanding on the beam in uneven bars with a 6.1 score.

Among other team members contributing to the victory, Alison Jones took a third on compulsory begin-

Upsets Stun Superpickers

by Joe Burke, Tim Sullivan and Mike Haberman

Assuming the Miami Dolphins disposed of the Cleveland Browns in the Monday Night game, the Superpickers had a fairly impressive fifth week in picking the National Football League games. We called eight of the 13 games correctly and only missed one tie, and the tossup went to Burke and Sullivan, who intelligently compared notes and picked the lowly Philadelphia Eagles to upset the favored St. Louis Cardinals.

The Superpickers came close to having another fantastic week, but unfortunately two major upsets and one minor one wrecked their plans. The New York Jets again let us down by squeaking by New England, 9-7. Those Jets are hard to explain why the Lions can't figure out why the Lions can't beat Pittsburgh, so it's obvious they can't when they want to. CinCy by 3.

CLEVELAND OVER HOUSTON - A good reason why Cleveland always has a fine record. The Browns are nothing special, but these Oilers would have a heck of a time beating either Ohio team in the Rose Bowl. For that matter, the Oilers probably wouldn't get past Michigan. Cleveland by 17.

BENGALS OVER CHIEFS - The mere fact that we picked the Bengals will probably make us what the Chiefs will win, because it's standard procedure for CinCy to do this. Win of what we say. Nevertheless, we'll stick with CinCinatti, because they beat Pittsburgh, so it's obvious they can't when they want to. CinCy by 3.

DETROIT OVER BALTIMORE - It's difficult to explain why the Lions aren't having a better season. We happen to think Detroit's still a darn good team. However, it's not hard to figure out why Baltimore's not going anywhere. We knew the Colts were almost useless against good teams. Detroit should walk away with this one by 13 points.

ATLANTA OVER SAN DIEGO - The Falcons either destroy the opposition or get mauled themselves. Some reports have it that the Dutchman is walking a mighty high tightrope. A vote of confidence might be nice, but the best thing for Stormin' Norman would be a second consecutive convincing win. We think the Falcons will get one by winning by 14.

LOS ANGELES OVER GREEN BAY - As much as we'd like to, we simply cannot see the Packers winning this game. The Rams' Jim Bertelsen, from Hudson, Wis., thinks the Pack's up-front men honest all day, while Harold Jackson must be covered by at least two guys or he'll go crazy catching passes. The Pack's only hope is to knock Hadl out early and hope the Green Bay offense can keep the ball for a long time. Rams by 10.

VIKINGS OVER PHILLY - The Eagles are one winning streak. The Vikings are on a five game winning streak. We'd have to say the Eagles' winning streak will soon be over. Minnesota by 17.

DALLAS OVER GIANTS - The Cowboys are faced with a "must" game. On the other hand, the Giants realize they have to lose if they're gonna make the playoffs. They were tough enough in next year's draft to get anybody good out of college. Cowboys by 29.
Pointers Rout Stout, 33-6

JEFF GOsa (82) CATCHES RECORD SETTING TD PASS AS DOUG KRUeger (85) by Jerry Long

The UWSP Aerial Circus came out of hiding last Saturday to thoroughly destroy the UW-Stout Blue Devils at Goerke Field, 33-6. Leading the barrage was freshman flanker Jeff Gosa who set three school records for the Pointers and scored all of their touchdowns. Gosa set records for most passes received in a single game (12), most touchdowns in a single game (4), and most pass receiving yardage in a single game (191).

The Pointers ran up 26 of their 33 points in the first half. The first three of these came on a 34 yard field goal by Pat Robbins. The Pointers got into field goal range by doing something they are not noted for: rushing. Don Sager and Joe Pilecky opened up the Blue Devil defense with runs that left the Pointers with either second or third and short yardage.

In their second possession of the game, quarterback Mark Olejniczak made good use of the running game spiced with deadly accurate passes to Sager, Ben Breese and Doug Krueger. Then, with third and nine at the Stout 35 yard line, Olejniczak completed the first of a dozen passes to Jeff Gosa. Gosa took the ball in for the TD, and after Robbins added the extra point with 3:23 left in the first quarter, the Pointers were in front, 10-0. The drive covered 82 yards in ten plays.

The Pointer defense held the Blue Devils to only four plays in the next Stout possession, and forced their punter, Bob Prahl, to punt into the 25 m.p.h. wind. Ben Breese moved the ball to the Stout 49 yard line and two plays later Olejniczak connected with Gosa for a 49 yard touchdown pass. The extra point attempt was blocked, but with 0:49 left in the first period, Point 18, Stout 0.

The Blue Devils were not yet down for the ten-count. Taking the return kick-off at their own seven yard line, they put together a drive that took them 83 yards to the endzone. The Stout running attack did most of the work and consisted of the running efforts of John Osmanski, Dan Luer and Mike Kraft. With just less than four minutes gone in the second quarter, quarterback John Elkin of Stout handed off to Dan Luer who made the one yard push into the Pointers' endzone. The Pointers' John McDuffy blocked the extra point attempt, and Stout trailed, 16-6.

An interception by Jim Quasera set up the Pointers' next scoring drive. The Olejniczak-Gosa combination brought the Pointers down to the Stout 14 well within range for Robbins' second field goal try. The attempt was good and the Pointers assumed a 19-6 lead.

The Pointers again forced Stout into a fourth and long yardage situation, this time with disastrous results for the Blue Devils. A low snap from center forced the Stout punter to catch the ball just as it was about to hit the ground. In doing so, his knee touched the turf, thus downing the ball at the Stout 18 yard line and giving possession to the Pointers.

Gosa and Olejniczak didn't waste any of the remaining minute and a half and combined on the very next play from scrimmage for the Pointer's third TD. Robbins added the extra point and the half ended with Point holding a commanding lead, 26-6.

Becoming hostilities at the beginning of the third period, the Pointers added the frosting to their homecoming cake early in the quarter. Using a halfback option by Pilecky to Krueger and a lateral from Gosa to Breese, the Pointers blitzered their way to the Stout 11 yard line. Then, once again, the Olejniczak to Gosa combination caught the Blue Devils napping and added the Pointers' final touchdown. With the extra point, the Pointers went to a 33-6 lead with 10:40 left in the third period.

The Blue Devils were able to penetrate Point territory only one more time in the game. Moving the ball to the Point 41 line, Stout elected to go for the first down on fourth and one. The Pointer line held and the Pointers took over on downs. The Stevens Point defense stifles the Blue Devil offense for the remaining two quarters. Robbins intercepted a Gary Johnson pass to snuff out a drive almost from the start. Roger Volovsch did the same. Gary Devillers fell on a Stout fumble to squat another Blue Devil march.

The game ended with Point safely ahead, 33-6.

Stout attempts for 328 yards against Stout. Olejniczak completed 26 of 49 attempts for 295 yards. Reserve quarterback Matt Smith connected on two of three passes for 14 yards while Joe Pilecky added 19 yards on a successful option pass. Jeff Krueger was the leading receiver with 12 completions for 191 yards and four touchdowns; all school records. Doug Krueger caught three passes for 36 yards; Joe Pilecky took one for 25 yards. Danny Eskritt two for 19 yards, while Don Sager and Ben Breese netted four and two passes for 16 and 15 yards respectively. Larry Sowka and Steve Donson each added one reception for three and eight yards respectively. The Pointers did not throw a single interception, nor were there any Pointer fumbles.

The Pointer running game gained 83 yards and served to break open the Stout defense. Joe Pilecky accounted for 54 yards. Ben Breese ran for 19 yards, Larry Sowka added 16 yards and Don Sager added one yard.

Willie Kyle was the Blue Devil's leading pass receiver with five catches for 93 yards.

The Blue Devils threw 27 passes with 14 completions and three interceptions. John Elkin completed seven passes of 193 yards.

Dan Luer and Steve Schuknecht were the leading Stout rushers with 47 and 31 yards respectively. Over all the Blue Devil running attack gained 143 yards.

Jeff Krueger was offensive player of the week for his outstanding performance. Dan Luer and Stevens Point's defense honors for the role in spiking the Pointer defense.

The Pointers face Superior this Saturday at Superior. This game will be Superior's homecoming.

Women

Sweep Two

by Diane Pleuss

UWSP's women's volleyball team completed a successful week by sweeping a pair of matches from UW-Eau Claire and UW-Milwaukee.

The Pointers opened up the week on October 10 by taking their first two games of the match, 15-13, 15-4. Eau Claire capitalized on Stevens Point's weak serves, countered and took the next two games, 15-13, 15-4. Stevens Point bounced back in the final to whitewash Eau Claire 15-5 and took the match three games to two. In the last game Marg (Freckles) Schmeltzer was very strong defense as she served nine out of the fifteen points.

Stevens Point ended the week on a successful note by sweeping a pair of matches against Milwaukee on Friday, October 12.

In the initial contest, Stevens Point was taken by surprise by a young Milwaukee team and lost 15-9. In the second game, Stevens Point was led by Kay Schuknecht's 14-6 victory. Coach Stormer described this game as a nerve-racker as the Pointers came from seven points down to pull out the match. The tiebreaking game of this best of three game match was taken by Stevens Point, 15-9.

Stevens Point's record now stands at 4-6 with three matches against LaCrosse, Superior and Eau Claire this season.
