Weekend storm prompts University closing

University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point

The Pointer

Volume 29, Number 14

December 5, 1985

by Joanne Davis
News-Editor

This past weekend's snowstorm left the majority of UWSP students enjoying another day of vacation. The storm, leaving most of the state with at least 12 inches of new snow, prompted University officials to officially close UWSP Monday, Stevens Point received more than 15 inches of snow.

Other UW-campus cancelling classes Monday were Eau Claire, Oshkosh, and Stout, due to the extremely hazardous road conditions statewide. Road crews were pulled off the road in many areas, unable to get through some snow drifts. Poor visibility also hampered snow removal efforts.

UWSP Acting Grounds Supervisor Warren Sroda said Tuesday, "We'll spend at least 30 total hours plowing out from this storm." Some employees were called in on overtime to help clear the sidewalks, parking lots, and streets before the majority of the student body returned Tuesday. Sroda added, "Since school was out Monday, the sidewalks did not get as packed down as usual, making the snow easier to remove."

The students who did return faced biting cold wind matched with temperatures down to minus 13. An increase in southerly winds is expected across the area with temperatures reaching the upper teens. Scattered light snow across the state is expected to end today.

Around the area:

— Two Reedsburg brothers, lost in the storm, found a legging road that led them out of a swamp.

— 300 persons spent Sunday night at the Tomah Holiday Inn. Many spent the night in hallways and bathrooms.

— Minnesota received 21.1 inches of snow, closing over 500 schools Monday.

— 32 families were evacuated from the Lake Superior shore line on Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

— Highways 41 and 46 in Wisconsin were virtually closed by jackknifed semi-trailers.

— Highway 2 near Ashland closed due to drifting and zero visibility caused by winds off Lake Superior.

— After 15 hours, the Coast Guard retrieved two cars carried in Surgeon Bay after they broke free of the moorings during heavy winds early Monday morning.

— The Green Bay Packers ploved under the Tampa Bay Buccaneers 24-3 in the second game of the championship at Green Bay's Lambeau Field Sunday. The Milwaukee Sentinel quoted Packers Coach Forrest Gregg on his players' abilities: "I think they prepared mentally for this game. We worked out as much as we could last week outside. Being able to go out and practice under those conditions helped us sort of prepare mentally for this game."

Jazzfest 1985

University News Service

Jazzfest 1985, featuring the Milwaukee-area bands Oceans and Duos, will be held Friday through Sunday, Dec. 6-8 at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

The performances are at 9 p.m. in the Encore Room of the University Center. They are open to the public without charge.

Jazzfest will be presented by WISU-98FM, the student radio station. It will include 54 hours of jazz from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight on Sunday and the concerts by Oceans and Duos which will be broadcast live on Friday and Saturday. The University Activities Board is co-sponsoring the performances.

Oceans, the three-member band of David Goldfiles, Scott Henderson and Scott Proffitt, will play on Friday evening. Goldfiles, founder of the group, has been appearing professionally for more than 14 years. He has toured with the Greg Allman Band and has toured and recorded albums with the Allman Brothers Band and Dickey Betts and the Southern Rock Band.

Henderson has performed with artists such as Nancy Wilson, Diahann Carroll, Donald O'Connor and Jimmy Raney. He has been teaching for about ten years and has served as a music clinician in this country and in Germany and Denmark. Proffitt, the group's percussionist, is the newest member of the band.

Oceans will perform on Saturday evening. Formerly known as "the jazz fusion band," it plays a combination of different styles, including Latin, jazz, funk and rhythm and blues. Last year, the band was named Wisconsin's best jazz group and Warren Vito Wirgau, its saxophonist, was recognized as jazz soloist of the year at the Wisconsin Music Industry. Oceans currently performs at the Milwaukee Bucks home games and at a Milwaukee-area restaurant, Sardi's.

Mania at Point

by Bob Wrzinski
Staff reporter

Tri-Center Mania, a festival type of open house designed to promote the many uses of the Allen, U.C., and Debolt centers, began yesterday.

The idea for the event originated with the university centers Promotion Committee and the building managers from each building. Direy Burbach is the Promotion Coordinator for the affair.

Debit Building Manager Bob Fastbinder said it will be "a kind of a take-off of what Com­ merton has been in the past. The goal of Tri-Center Mania is to inform people who use the services and to educate those people who don't."

Tri-Center Mania is a series of entertainment and activities.

A plan for the perfect Christmas...

Page 6

The Porter

University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point

Jeff Shaffer, 201 Lind­bergh Avenue No. 38, will seek re-election as Second Ward alderman. Alderman Shaffer serves on the Personnel Committee, Public Protection Committee, Transit Commission, Legislative Committee, Telecommunication Committee, and was Chairman of the Telecommunication Subcommittee on the 1986 Budget and Chairman of the Action/Fair Housing Commission.

Alderman Shaffer is a member of the Portage County Demo­cratic Party Executive Board and also an executive board member of the Women's Re­source Center. He is also co- chairman of the Stevens Point Young Democrats and a member of the Student Government Association Legislative Commit­tee.

Shaffer is employed at J C Penney and is majoring in eco­nomics at the University of Wis­consin-Stevens Point.

Shaffer said it is important for an alderman to question assumptions in policy making rather than have them go with­out debate on the council floor.

"It's my responsibility to be representative of my neighborhood to be as informed as possible before each vote."

In his second term as alder­man, Shaffer will encourage continued public participation in neighborhood meetings. Shaffer says public input will be needed to resolve the downtown parking problem and the traffic patterns at the intersection of Stanley Street and Minnesota Avenue.

UWSP student seeks re-election as Second Ward alderman

by Bob Wrzinski
Staff reporter

Tri-Center Mania, a festival type of open house designed to promote the many uses of the Allen, U.C., and Debolt centers, began yesterday.

The idea for the event originated with the university centers Promotion Committee and the building managers from each building. Direy Burbach is the Promotion Coordinator for the affair.

Debit Building Manager Bob Fastbinder said it will be "a kind of a take-off of what Com­ merton has been in the past. The goal of Tri-Center Mania is to inform people who use the services and to educate those people who don't."

Tri-Center Mania is a series of entertainment and activities.
"What about the student who needs a hug?"

I think we're seeing the end of an era in the teaching profession. And it does have to do with sexual harassment.

This is my 31st year in teaching. I started in 1956 in Valley Stream, New York, a suburb 17 miles from the heart of New York City.

Ira C. Murnett, District Superintendent, called me in October of that year and asked me if I was interested in a teaching job. What had happened was that a teacher, Ms. Forcey, had gone home the previous summer to Vermont and had failed to come back.

Wheeler Avenue School had used a substitute to hold the job for Ms. Forcey but she finally decided to remain in Vermont. The result was my first paying job as a teacher. I'd taught weapons and military strategy as an army officer, but I don't count this town, three elementary schools that I'd swatted them if.

As schools that had failed to come back. Those days the concern was how _ thing, I told him to be careful. I know I'm out of line. I let them believe that.

There was no problem with sexual harassment that I ever heard about. My wife, however, thinks there probably was but that there just wasn't the publicity that there is now about this kind of issue. She's probably right. She is about most things.) Of course, any sensible male teacher knew it was less likely to be misunderstood if you gave a shoulder hug to a boy rather than to a girl. I was careful that any touch a girl received was on the shoulder, or high on the back.

Now, however, we have meetings on sexual harassment, we have speakers, we have procedures, we have publicity and we have a suit filed against a faculty member by a student for sexual harassment.

Where will it all end? I know it's made me more cautious. A colleague of mine recently said to me, "What am I supposed to do when a student needs a hug?" I told him to be careful. I know I'm going to be. I will avoid any touching of female students. And I worry about how some people will perceive my policy of advising and talking to students with my office door closed.

Dec. 5, 1985

THE POINTER STAFF

Editor: Christopher T. Dorsey
News Editor: Joanne Davis
Features: Richard L. Kugnow
Sports: Kent Walker
Outdoor: Andy Sagavan
Graphics: Cyndi Streck
Advertising: Andrew S. Zakrow
Layout & Design: Mark Lake
Business Manager: E. Ann Skupienewicz
Copy Editor: Amy Seiber

Vol. 29 No. 14

Senior Editor: Alan L. Lemke
Photographer: Peter T. Schack
Office Manager: Bryan Sear
Photographers: Mike Hammen
Peter Hints
Adviser: Dan Houlihan

Contributors:

Jenny Slom
Karen Retzich
S.M. Anderson
Linda Fortier
Wade Turner
Scott Moser
Julie Thayer
Carol Daer
Jean Doy
Crystal Gustafson
Scott Hiebclamp

POSTMASTER: Send address change to Pointer, 117 Communication Arts Center, Stevens Point, WI 54481.

Peinter is written and edited by the Pointer staff, composed of UWSP students, and they are solely responsible for its editorial content and policy.

Letters to the editor will be accepted only if they are typewritten and signed, and should not exceed a maximum of 350 words. Names will be withheld from publication only if appropriate reason is given. Pointer reserves the right to edit letters if necessary and to refuse to print letters not suitable for publication. All correspondence should be addressed to Pointer, 117 Communication Arts Center, Stevens Point, Wisconsin 54481.

Written permission is required for the reprint of all materials presented in Pointer. Copyright © 1985.
Madrigal dinner makes Christmas magical

by Karen Bettich

Interviewing for information

What’s one of the best ways to prepare for an interview? It allows you to become comfortable asking questions. The next step might be this:

It must be fun.

It must be just a conversation with someone.

It should deal with your leisure activities or hobbies, or some feature of the community you are seeking about or some issue you care about, or someone you have always wanted to meet.

It can be done with others.

If you don’t know what else to talk about, you can ask: How did you get into this? What did you like best about it? What do you like least about it? Who else do you suggest I go see?

When you set up your interview, explain your purpose of gathering information by saying something like, “I’m a college student at UWSP and I’m considering a career in (whatever). I’m researching the field right now and I’d like an appointment for some information and advice.” Ask for a half hour at her/his convenience.

Be clear that the secretary or other personnel may try to discourage you by saying there are no jobs available or that you are not qualified. Be assertive and clarify that you are seeking information, not a job. It might be helpful to say that you have been involved in

SCHOLARSHIPS

The Harry Eskrit family has increased the Harry Eskrit Scholarship, which is reserved for nontraditional students at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, to $2,000. The award will generate funds for three additional nontraditional scholarships worth $666 each.

This year’s winners are Patti Massin of La Crosse, Paula Le Bouton of R.L. Elko, and David Benge of Waukesha.

The scholarships are memorial gifts to Lenice Christine Marrack Eskrit and Donald Richard Eskrit. Lenice was the first wife of Harry Eskrit Sr. and the mother of his children.

All of this year’s winners are students and members who have been involved in their hometowns. Mrs. Le Bouton stays in Stevens Point during the week while the others commute from their homes. For Mrs. Massin, the trip each day is 160 miles.

Mrs. Massin and Mrs. Le Bouton are pursuing degrees in elementary education with a reading endorsement and a dual degree in communication major and minor in business administration.

All of the women are married students. Mrs. Le Bouton received her B.S. from UWSP either in May or December of 1985.

Application forms for the three scholarships are available at the beginning of the fall semester from the Nontraditional Student Services Building. Applications can be completed full or part-time but must have completed three semesters with a 2.0 cumulative grade point, demonstrate financial need, and have dependent children.

LCR Hours

The Editor:

Should the LCR stay open longer on the weekends? In the Nov 21 issue of the POINTER, the editor suggested that the LCR weekend hours were inadequate for the hard-students. I agree, in full, with the arguments presented, and believe many people would benefit from longer hours of operation. However, if students are just looking for a quiet place to study, there are alternatives.

This weekend is TRI-CENTER MANIA! The student employees of ALLEN, DEBOT, and the U.C. have all worked long and hard not only to provide entertainment all weekend, but more importantly to try to increase the awareness of what the centers have to offer.

One of our many services is to keep students informed. I have talked to some students who have not agreed or disagree at all. As of now, the LCR is open until 10 p.m. on Friday and 12 a.m. on Saturday. Students may want tocry or take advantage of the study services. I do not think the LCR hours might not even be a problem if more students realized that excellent places to study already exist.

All three centers offer XEROX typewriters, CANON copiers and microfilm readers, reference, reference, books, typing pa- pers, and other equipment to make you feel comfortable and relax your studies. All three centers have been open at least 10 lounges open to students. And more, all three centers provide music for your studying enjoyment if you request it.

So rather than wishing the liberty stay open longer on the weekends, remember that ALLEN, DEBOT, and U.C. already have everything you need.

Sincerely,
Shane L. Peters Head Building Mgr. Allen Center
No class

To The Editor:

In the past, I have never been to class, because my own money's worth out of a class. I am usually bored during a lot of papers, readings and exams. But this semester was an exception.

Never before have I felt so cheated out of what I've paid for in a class. A right class from 8:30 to 9:50 p.m. called organizational communication. Granted, a night class is kind of a pain to begin with, but I still deserve two-and-a-half hours of instruction a week.

It was decided in our class after the first week or so that instead of taking a break midway through the class, we would just end a little early. Well, ending a class early is a mistake. As a matter of fact, some didn't bother with final helpings. Instead, I frequently saw men returning to my line for seconds, thirds, and even fourths. I guess they just had no self-control when it came to greasy food.

Maybe you see more overweight women because they gain weight more easily in more visible spots, a harder time losing it and need a higher percentage of body fat than men since their bodies are biologically designed to bear children.

I don't know why you can justify saying that you find women less physically active here. Women are probably more active in this city than any other because of long commutes during regular class times, he has to fight our way to the exams. The exams take away any incentive for us to exercise for two hours to complete. After we receive the exam, our assistants give us the week of grade, and we have to leave the day after we complete the exam. That's three weeks of missed class.

I imagine there are students out there thinking I'm crazy and would give anything to get out of classes that much. Don't get me wrong, I like getting out of class early or having class cancelled, but certainly not to this extent.

The way I see it, our class has been dressed at least 90% of the total class hours. I pay too much in tuition and fees to get ripped-off like this. Actually, I believe our class should be getting some of our tuition returned since we didn't get near what we paid for. I know there are many students in the class that feel as I do. That is why we are being ripped-off!!

Several times seems to have been a waste of my time. Not only did this professor miss class on a regular basis, but when he did he feel like making himself present in such a way that the rambling-type lectures did very little to teach me about organizational communication.

Name Withheld

Dear John,

To The Editor:

I absolutely love and admire your columns. My friends and I are disgustingly happy with your columns.

Though none of us are "fat," obviously we are in your opinion not appearing that way. You have overlooked the major element which seems to define a personality. Are you only looking for fatness, or do you feel with and enhance your appearance? I know some great overweight people and I also know some skinny bitches. A nice body doesn't always hold a nice personality. It may come as a surprise to you that women won't put out on earth for your viewing pleasure. No one can please everyone.

You mentioned Debut as a possible cause for obesity. As a former Debut worker I rarely had a women come back to me for seconds. As a matter of fact, some didn't bother with first helpings. Instead, I frequently saw men returning to my line for seconds, thirds, and even fourths. I guess they just had no self-control when it came to greasy food.

Maybe you see more overweight women because they gain weight more easily in more visible spots, a harder time losing it and need a higher percentage of body fat than men since their bodies are biologically designed to bear children.

I don't know why you can justify saying that you find women less physically active here. Women are probably more active in this city than any other because of long commutes during regular class times, he has to fight our way to the exams. The exams take away any incentive for us to exercise for two hours to complete. After we receive the exam, our assistants give us the week of grade, and we have to leave the day after we complete the exam. That's three weeks of missed class.

I imagine there are students out there thinking I'm crazy and would give anything to get out of classes that much. Don't get me wrong, I like getting out of class early or having class cancelled, but certainly not to this extent.

The way I see it, our class has been dressed at least 90% of the total class hours. I pay too much in tuition and fees to get ripped-off like this. Actually, I believe our class should be getting some of our tuition returned since we didn't get near what we paid for. I know there are many students in the class that feel as I do. That is why we are being ripped-off!!

Several times seems to have been a waste of my time. Not only did this professor miss class on a regular basis, but when he did he feel like making himself present in such a way that the rambling-type lectures did very little to teach me about organizational communication.

Name Withheld

No class

To The Editor:

In the past, I have never been to class, because my own money's worth out of a class. I am usually bored during a lot of papers, readings and exams. But this semester was an exception.

Never before have I felt so cheated out of what I've paid for in a class. A right class from 8:30 to 9:50 p.m. called organizational communication. Granted, a night class is kind of a pain to begin with, but I still deserve two-and-a-half hours of instruction a week.

It was decided in our class after the first week or so that instead of taking a break midway through the class, we would just end a little early. Well, ending a class early is a mistake. As a matter of fact, some didn't bother with final helpings. Instead, I frequently saw men returning to my line for seconds, thirds, and even fourths. I guess they just had no self-control when it came to greasy food.

Maybe you see more overweight women because they gain weight more easily in more visible spots, a harder time losing it and need a higher percentage of body fat than men since their bodies are biologically designed to bear children.

I don't know why you can justify saying that you find women less physically active here. Women are probably more active in this city than any other because of long commutes during regular class times, he has to fight our way to the exams. The exams take away any incentive for us to exercise for two hours to complete. After we receive the exam, our assistants give us the week of grade, and we have to leave the day after we complete the exam. That's three weeks of missed class.

I imagine there are students out there thinking I'm crazy and would give anything to get out of classes that much. Don't get me wrong, I like getting out of class early or having class cancelled, but certainly not to this extent.

The way I see it, our class has been dressed at least 90% of the total class hours. I pay too much in tuition and fees to get ripped-off like this. Actually, I believe our class should be getting some of our tuition returned since we didn't get near what we paid for. I know there are many students in the class that feel as I do. That is why we are being ripped-off!!

Several times seems to have been a waste of my time. Not only did this professor miss class on a regular basis, but when he did he feel like making himself present in such a way that the rambling-type lectures did very little to teach me about organizational communication.

Name Withheld

Dear John,

To The Editor:

I absolutely love and admire your columns. My friends and I are disgustingly happy with your columns.

Though none of us are "fat," obviously we are in your opinion not appearing that way. You have overlooked the major element which seems to define a personality. Are you only looking for fatness, or do you feel with and enhance your appearance? I know some great overweight people and I also know some skinny bitches. A nice body doesn't always hold a nice personality. It may come as a surprise to you that women won't put out on earth for your viewing pleasure. No one can please everyone.

You mentioned Debut as a possible cause for obesity. As a former Debut worker I rarely had a women come back to me for seconds. As a matter of fact, some didn't bother with first helpings. Instead, I frequently saw men returning to my line for seconds, thirds, and even fourths. I guess they just had no self-control when it came to greasy food.

Maybe you see more overweight women because they gain weight more easily in more visible spots, a harder time losing it and need a higher percentage of body fat than men since their bodies are biologically designed to bear children.

I don't know why you can justify saying that you find women less physically active here. Women are probably more active in this city than any other because of long commutes during regular class times, he has to fight our way to the exams. The exams take away any incentive for us to exercise for two hours to complete. After we receive the exam, our assistants give us the week of grade, and we have to leave the day after we complete the exam. That's three weeks of missed class.

I imagine there are students out there thinking I'm crazy and would give anything to get out of classes that much. Don't get me wrong, I like getting out of class early or having class cancelled, but certainly not to this extent.

The way I see it, our class has been dressed at least 90% of the total class hours. I pay too much in tuition and fees to get ripped-off like this. Actually, I believe our class should be getting some of our tuition returned since we didn't get near what we paid for. I know there are many students in the class that feel as I do. That is why we are being ripped-off!!

Several times seems to have been a waste of my time. Not only did this professor miss class on a regular basis, but when he did he feel like making himself present in such a way that the rambling-type lectures did very little to teach me about organizational communication.

Name Withheld

One Day Only
SALE on Discontinued Texts.

You can carry for $2.00.

Friday, Dec. 6.

No Early
Sales

Cont. p. 21
And of course, she wouldn't have had to restrict her feelings to a mere sonnet's length, either.

After all, you can always think of one more way to tell someone you love them when you're on the phone.

Let us count the ways you can save. Just call weekends till 5pm Sundays, or from 11pm to 8am, Sunday through Friday, and you'll save 60% off AT&T's Day Rate on your state-to-state calls.

Call between 5pm and 11pm, Sunday through Friday, and you'll save 40% on your state-to-state calls.

So when you're asked to choose a long distance company, choose AT&T. Because with AT&T's 60% and 40% discounts, you can satisfy your heart's desire without exhausting your means.

Reach out and touch someone.

© 1985 AT&T Communications
From Pulitzer winning novel to Spielberg film

Goldberg in her motion picture debut as Celie

The Color Purple

Developing a plan for the perfect Christmas

Barney Street’s 8th issue

No, I feel inspired. I will do it. I really am going to get into this I might as well go all the way.

by Jean Dozy
Staff reporter

Barney Street is a student publication that was first published in 1918. It was, and still is, sponsored by University Writers, a USWP student organization. University Writers’ president this year is Dyane Korda. Serving as co-advisers are Richard Behm, published poet, and director of the Academic Achievement Center; and Lawrence Watson, critically acclaimed author of In a Dark Time.

Barney Street acquired its name from a 300-foot stretch of road that once extended from Franklin Street to Fourth Avenue. The Gilbert W. Faunt Lecture Hall now stands on what was Barney Street.

Barney Street was named after Barney Kostuchowski, and only existed for fifteen years. A Resolution of Discontinuance was issued on July 1962, and all lands abutting the street and all of the frontage of lots became the property of USWP. University Writers adopted the street’s name and attached it to their annual publication. Poetry, essays, graphics, photographs, and short stories are published by USWP students, members, in residence, alumni, and national members, as well as alumni.

This year’s editing staff consists of Dyane Korda as editor-in-chief, and co-editors Jean Dozy, Brian McComb, R. Lionel Krupnow, and L. Lionel Armstrong.
Guthrie presents Dickens' "A Christmas Carol"

News Release

Charles Dickens' holiday classic, A Christmas Carol, will be performed by the Guthrie actors in its eleventh season at the Guthrie on Tuesday, November 23 at 7:30 p.m. Directed by Howard Dollin, A Christmas Carol will be performed through Sunday, January 1, 1989. To celebrate the season of giving, the Guthrie invites audiences to share with the needy by bringing canned goods to help stock the Twin Cities' Emergency Food Shelves. Theater-goers are asked to bring packaged, nonperishable food and deposit it in baskets located in the lobby before any performance of A Christmas Carol. Speaking on behalf of the entire Guthrie acting company, Richard Ooms, who portrays the mischievous Ebenezer Scrooge commented, "In the same way that Scrooge realized that the greatest joy comes from giving, we encourage our audiences to give generously — then, like Tiny Tim, we echo 'God Bless You, Everyone.'"

Director Howard Dollin has staged productions in the Twin Cities at The Cricket, Mixed Blood Theatre, Chanhassen, T.R.P., The Playwright's Center, Center Stage, TheatreInvolvement, and Brass Tracks. His most recent works include Brecht/er at Brass Tracks, Gorki Explorers for ArtReach and March of the Palefaces for the New Classic Theatre. In 1972 he began his professional theater career as a McKnight Fellow from the University of Minnesota at The Guthrie Theater. In Playwright Barbara Field adapted the Dickens' Yuletide tale for the Guthrie stage in 1973. During her tenure as Guthrie Literary Manager (1974 to enjoyed great popularity and opened this season at the Guthrie, is currently on a 108 city tour of the United States and Canada.

Richard Ooms returns this year for his third season in the role of the cantankerous Scrooge. A member of the Guthrie acting company for the past five years, Mr. Ooms first appeared in Garland Wright's production of Candida. Since then he has been in numerous productions — The Three-Penny Opera, Guys and Dolls, A Christmas Carol, the Marriage of Figaro, Rejoice On Me, The Importance of Being Earnest, Anything Goes, and Midsommer Night's Dream, and Execution of Justice, to list but a few. Mr. Ooms, a founding member of John Houseman's The Acting Company appeared with the troupe for eight seasons both on and off Broadway, and in several extensive tours of the United States and Australia. His television credits include "The Time of Your Life" and David Meiner's "The Duck Variations," on PBS. In 1985, Mr. Ooms received the Twin Cities Drama Critics Circle Karen Award for his performances at the Guthrie.

Also featured in A Christmas Carol are Guthrie actors Jim Deans as Bob Cratchit, Alan Blakenes as Marley, and understudied in the role of Scrooge, Richard Iglewald as Marley's Ghost, Mark Havens as Tiny Tim, Chad Tldgewell as Fezziwig, and Claudia Wilkens as the Ghost of Christmas Present.

Composing the cast of A Christmas Carol are Robert Breuder, Thomas Glynn, Brian Hargrove, James Horvitz, Mary Ann Lippay, Paye Price, Gary Reisnike, Kurt Schwieckhardt, Peter Thoenike, Eric Wels, and Sally Wingert.

Chad Tldgewell makes his Guthrie debut as Tiny Tim. Other local young actors appearing in the production are Jolyne Berg of Columbia Heights, Raine Bro- dy of Minneapolis, Benjamin Cas- vera of Eden Prairie, Kathie Washburn of Eden Prairie, Laura Karpelsen of Edina, Johnny Mahoney of Brooklyn Center, Julie Miller of Minneapolis, Angela Nenn of Coon Rapids, Luci Oliver of Newport, Michael Ooms of Minneapolis, Tisha Remmers of Arden Hills, Dave Sinner of Spring Lake Park, and Todd Tidgewell of Minneapolis.

Tickets are still available for A Christmas Carol by contacting the Guthrie box office, 760 5th Street North, Minneapolis, MN 55403, or calling (612)377-2224, Toll Free Nationwide: 1(800)588-6432, Toll Free MN: 1(800)588-6483.

Off the wall anarchya

by Brian McComb
Staff reporter

A friend of mine said to me after his death, "Things fall apart; the center cannot hold; mercy cannot follow the world." End of the world, I thought. The big one. Cruise missiles and SS-20's and hello Mr. Mushroom Cloud!

While at the Pentagon, military strategists try to nail shut the window of vulnerability with $700 hammers. And Ronnie says, "Testing one, two, three—missiles are on the way." Chuckles all around. Except in Mos- cow where they're changing their underwear.

And back to the ranch, the biggest problem is to find a happy hour with two dollar pitchers. More serious? I asked my dead friend.

The end is near, the various cults proclaim. It's all in the Good Book, even if the big guy will descend from the heav- ens and kick some butt—as promised! Or if he does show up, will we take to the woods with our guns and wonder about this, sitting on my bed, cleaning my gun and bedding up Creations and canned water.

Maybe you should dig a bomb shelter or a hole in the yard. Yes, my dead friend says, everywhere.

Millions starve in Africa, while farmers here fight for higher subsidies. Food, the farmers tell us. That's what it's all about. Keep us in business or you'll starve.

A valid argument, I think to myself, as I stand in line for my free cheese.

The dead friend concedes, maybe more isn't the world.

Economic collapse. I heard it on the news. The heds spent $200

Sillion more than they had. Countries defaulting on their in- ternational loans. Why do these Sam guarantee them? Another depression and I owe $80 on my electric bill.

A person should hoard some water. God! Not really worth anything. Can't eat it during a depression. And you should listen to the farmers. I wonder what cut tastes like?

Cont. p. 39
Purple, cont.

was a student at California State University in Long Beach when his first 35mm film short, "Am¬ blur," followed by the critical¬ ly-acclaimed feature film "The Sugarland Express." His next two films, "Jaws" and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind," were phenomenally successful and were nominated for multiple Academy Awards. Following the big-scale comedy "1941," Spielberg directed the adventure

"Raiders of the Lost Ark," that year's top earner and winner of five Academy Awards. He also directed one segment of "Twilight Zone—The Movie," which he co-produced.

Future film releases include "Young Sherlock Holmes," "The Money Pit" and "An American Tail," an animated feature in the classic tradition, by Don Bluth.

Spielberg is also executive producer, Marshall and Kenne¬ dy executives in charge of pro¬ duction, on Amblin's entry into television, the eagerly-anticipated network anthology series
"Amazing Stories," episodes of which are being directed by the likes of Clint Eastwood, Martin

Scorsese, Irvin Kershner and Spielberg himself.

Producers Kay Profy began lay¬ ing a solid foundation in televi¬ sion production while still a stu¬ dent at San Diego State Univer¬ sity, working as a camera oper¬ ator, video editor, floor director, and news production coordinator at a local television station. She was producing a talk show when she moved into feature films as a production associate on "Raid¬ ers of the Lost Ark," was assoc¬

ciated producer of "Poltergeist" and "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom," and co-produ¬ cer of "E.T. The Extra-terrestrial."

ALICE WALKER is author of the inspiring novel The Color Purple, which was awarded the Pulitzer Prize and the American Book Award for Re¬

tation. Reviewed by Newsweek as a novel of permanent impor¬ tance, it stayed on the New York Times best-seller list for more than a year after its publi¬ cation in June 1982.

Walker authored two other no¬ vels prior to The Color Purple: Meredith, the story of a woman’s struggles in the Mississippi civil rights movement of the 1960s, and The Third Life of Grange Copeland, which follows the harrowing destiny of a Georg¬ ia tenant farmer. The author also wrote two collections of short stories, You Can’t Keep A Good Woman Down and In Love and Trouble; a collection of wo¬ mal poems, In Search of Our Mother’s Garden; and four vol¬ tumes of poetry: Harlem Make A Landscape Look More Beautiful, Once, Revolutionary Petunias and Goodnight, Willie Lee, I’ll See You In The Morning. She also wrote a biography of Lang¬ ston Hughes for children and edited an anthology of the works of Zora Neale Hurston. A con¬ tributing editor of Ms. and Parades magazines, Walk¬ er has also written for publica¬

"My hopes for the movie are that people will celebrate the spirit of Celie and Shug and the other characters," says the auth¬ ored spokewoman, "celebrate being strong, courageous, and maintaining our connections with each other— even though it can be hard to do.

"Maybe people will want to rethink their feelings about all the different kinds of love, and the connection between love as we experience it between peo¬ ple, and universal love.

"I want people to think of "The Color Purple," she adds simply, "as a gift for them—one that can make a difference in our ability to hold on and let go for the future."

WPOOP GOLDBERG makes her film debut starring as Celie, whose loving spirit and unshak¬ able bond with her sister sustain her through hardships and mis¬ fortune.

Goldberg won national atten¬ tion and rave reviews on Broad¬ way in her one-person show, "Whoopi Goldberg," which pro¬ ducer-director Mike Nichols asked to present on Broadway after seeing Goldberg in per¬ formances for the first time.

A native of Manhattan's Chelsea district, Goldberg began act¬ ing with a children's theater group at age eight. She later had small roles in the Broadway pro¬ ductions of "Pippin," "Hair" and "Jesus Christ Superstar." Goldberg moved to San Diego, California, in 1974, and became a founding member of the San Diego Repertory Company, star¬ ing in the title role of that com¬ pny's production of "Mother Courage," and in Marsha Nor¬ mann's "Getting Out." She also performed in San Diego with the improvisational company Spontaneous Combustion.

Moving to Northern California, to join Berkeley's Blake Street Theater, Goldberg then de¬ veloped a repertoire of disparate characters which served as the basis for "The Spook Show," which she performed in San Francisco and toured successful¬ ly in the United States and Eu¬

ope.

It was while Goldberg was performing in a small San Francisco theater that a member of the audience, author Alice Walk¬ or, was first exposed to her work. "When I first saw her in that tiny little theater, I knew she was my ideal Celie," remarks Walker. "Like Celie, she is in¬ credibly smart, with a sky-point¬
"Yes - No? Well here's one you won't want to miss!

Funnest Clown/Comic/Percussionist

Appearing Dec. 5 - Thursday

9:00 P.M. $1.00 w/ UWSP ID

U.C.-Encore $1.75 w/out

Sponsored By:

UAB Special Programs

In 1986, Goldberg moved to New York, where she joined the improvisational group Second City. Her work has been seen on Broadway, Off-Broadway, and in various regional theaters across the country. She has also appeared in several films and television shows, including "Ghostbusters II" and "The Naked Gun." Goldberg has been a catalyst for change and has used her platform to advocate for social justice and equality.
JOAN NORTH ACCEPTS LIFE'S CHALLENGES

by Peggy Kushel
Staff Reporter

Joan North, Dean of the College of Professional Studies at UWSP, is not your average working woman who works eight hours a day at her job and then goes home to pursue her other interests.

This petite woman is anything but small when dealing with her job. Her secretary, Julie Bodensee, finds her "... dynamic and always in control." Her job includes helping to set the tone for the college and facilitating major directions for the college. Besides doing this, she also teaches a class, University 108.

But still her day may not be complete where the college is concerned. Many evenings will find her with some UWSP work set before her, waiting to be completed.

"I like seeing an overview of the college. I like to see how things mesh together." This is what Dean North likes best about her job. But she also believes that "Life is not a matter of black and white. There is a lot of gray in-between." In other words, the best part of her job may also be the worst part of her job.

But work is not the only side to North. She is also a very active woman. Although she doesn't have too much free time, she does take time to work out physically and mentally. She enjoys the challenge of tennis and golf, has attended some Poitier football games, has gone to art shows and lectures, and has even given rappelling a try — although she doesn't plan on repeating the experience.

Still, she finds time to spend with her family. She is married and resides in Stevens Point, and is also the proud mother of a "new 30-year-old daughter." Her husband's daughter is now living with them, a nice addition to the family.

North has had a positive effect on her job. Billie Sands, one of four assistant deans, in charge of the Home Economics Department, believes "Dean North tries to keep a positive outlook on this. That is important to Sands. She can see positive feedback being given to those who work with North."

Greg Peitzel, who works on an advisory council for North, finds her very outgoing. Although he doesn't know her well, he has noticed in her the quality of "... always being interested in what is going on in the COPS building." Peitzel has noticed that she is very interested in the military science area, and "wants to make COPS the best school on campus."

The one quality that sticks in the mind of her secretary is that she is always ready with a smile. Her pleasant personality also helps to brighten the day of those she comes in contact with.

Although she has only been here a short time (since August), she has already had an impact on those with whom she has associated. People seem to remember the kind word or feeling of camaraderie she exudes.

Cont. p. 20

WOULDN'T YOU LOVE TO LIVE HERE?

THE VILLAGE Now Has

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE FOR SECOND SEMESTER

BEST DEAL IN TOWN!

• Spacious 2 bedroom, 2 bath fully furnished apartments • Heat & hot water included. • Each student is responsible for only his share of the rent • Modern kitchen appliances including a dishwasher • Free off-street parking • Security deadbolt apartment doors • On site laundry facilities • Cable TV hook-up • Swimming pool • Air conditioned • Resident manager & maintenance staff on site.

STOP IN OR CALL TOM NOW AT 341-2120

JOHN NORTH ACCEPTS LIFE'S CHALLENGES

by Peggy Kushel
Staff Reporter

Joan North, Dean of the College of Professional Studies at UWSP, is not your average working woman who works eight hours a day at her job and then goes home to pursue her other interests. This petite woman is anything but small when dealing with her job. Her secretary, Julie Bodensee, finds her "... dynamic and always in control." Her job includes helping to set the tone for the college and facilitating major directions for the college. Besides doing this, she also teaches a class, University 108.

But still her day may not be complete where the college is concerned. Many evenings will find her with some UWSP work set before her, waiting to be completed.

"I like seeing an overview of the college. I like to see how things mesh together." This is what Dean North likes best about her job. But she also believes that "Life is not a matter of black and white. There is a lot of gray in-between." In other words, the best part of her job may also be the worst part of her job.

But work is not the only side to North. She is also a very active woman. Although she doesn't have too much free time, she does take time to work out physically and mentally. She enjoys the challenge of tennis and golf, has attended some Poitier football games, has gone to art shows and lectures, and has even given rappelling a try — although she doesn't plan on repeating the experience.

Still, she finds time to spend with her family. She is married and resides in Stevens Point, and is also the proud mother of a "new 30-year-old daughter." Her husband's daughter is now living with them, a nice addition to the family.

North has had a positive effect on her job. Billie Sands, one of four assistant deans, in charge of the Home Economics Department, believes "Dean North tries to keep a positive outlook on this. That is important to Sands. She can see positive feedback being given to those who work with North."

Greg Peitzel, who works on an advisory council for North, finds her very outgoing. Although he doesn't know her well, he has noticed in her the quality of "... always being interested in what is going on in the COPS building." Peitzel has noticed that she is very interested in the military science area, and "wants to make COPS the best school on campus."

The one quality that sticks in the mind of her secretary is that she is always ready with a smile. Her pleasant personality also helps to brighten the day of those she comes in contact with. Although she has only been here a short time (since August), she has already had an impact on those with whom she has associated. People seem to remember the kind word or feeling of camaraderie she exudes.

Cont. p. 20

WOULDN'T YOU LOVE TO LIVE HERE?

THE VILLAGE Now Has

APARTMENTS AVAILABLE FOR SECOND SEMESTER

BEST DEAL IN TOWN!

• Spacious 2 bedroom, 2 bath fully furnished apartments • Heat & hot water included. • Each student is responsible for only his share of the rent • Modern kitchen appliances including a dishwasher • Free off-street parking • Security deadbolt apartment doors • On site laundry facilities • Cable TV hook-up • Swimming pool • Air conditioned • Resident manager & maintenance staff on site.

STOP IN OR CALL TOM NOW AT 341-2120

Page 9 December 5, 1985

Christmas, cont.

way.

To sell my wardrobe, it isn't too much. I still, it is special to me. Clothes to wear. But no, I'll sell it and start wearing tatered old rags. Christ was poor. I'll even dress in a harmonic Christ's face, and I assume he had a bed. It would be hard to impart with my beauty.

Come to think of it, Christ had good clothes. He had a job. A carpenter, if I remember cor­rectly. Maybe I should keep my clothes. I'd hate to scare the people that I'm going to visit. I suppose there can be something nerve-racking about opening the closet and seeing a naked blue man. Okay, I'll keep the wardrobe. I didn't believe in logic dictates that it is essential to carrying out my mission.

Sleeping in a barn might be a bit much, too. Well, a lot of my friends, in the city, a sim­ler cow manure might offend some of them. If I am going to maintain the Christmas spirit I can't risk offending attention. Besides, they might not let me into their house and then they would not be able to give themselves to others—not many people want to risk the Christmas spirit is giving. I don't mean to take it from you. You won't risk being hurt by sending it to someone who won't appreciate your efforts because you already know that I will. It doesn't mat­ter that you don't care for me. Christianity says we are to love all men and women. If you love me, in the true Christian sense of the word, you'll do me a present.

Bankruptcy? That doesn't matter. Christ said if someone asks for your cloak, give him your shirt, socks, pants and shoes also. Keep your under­wear. That doesn't believe in in­decent exposure. I hope my plan will help you to have a great Christmas. Merry Christmas. And I await your gift with store acceptance.

Barney, cont.

nel Kropf, Marianne Ritzer and Bernie Blank.

Submissions for Barney Street are currently being accepted for this year's issue. All students are encouraged to submit their favorite masterpieces. Submissions should be sent, along with a SASE, to University Writers, c/o UWSP Writing Lab, 336, University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point Stevens Point, WI 54482.

Don't put it off. This is your opportunity to let everyone know you're quick with a pen.
BASEBALL HAPPY HOUR
Downstairs
MR. LUCKY'S EVERY SAT.
5 - 8 (PARTY BEFORE BASKETBALL GAMES)

A CHRISTMAS MATCH
Buy any Shirt & Sweater
SAVE $10
Get $5 OFF any additional Shirt or Sweater
All items $16 or over to qualify
NO LIMIT!

The Closet
1121 MAIN STREET•DOWNTOWN STEVENS POINT

Was it Mr. Black, Mr. Green, Mr. Mustard, Mrs. Peacock?
Could it have been the Colonel?

In the 毎 with the,?
Clue
IT'S NOT JUST A GAME ANYMORE

Opens Friday, December 13th
At A Theatre Near You.

BEFORE A LIFETIME OF ADVENTURE,
THEY LIVED THE ADVENTURE OF A LIFETIME.

YOUNG SHERLOCK HOLMES
Opens Wednesday, December 4th
At A Theatre Near You.
Utilities claim DNR's research 'outdated'

by Andy Savagian
Outdoor Editor

A week ago I made a phone call to Ed Newman, the environmental supervisor for Wisconsin Public Service, to talk to him about his company's acid rain research.

"What research, I thought? What could he be telling me, a CNR major, about acid rain? If there's one environmental issue people in the CNR know about, it's acid rain. The stuff's dangerous; it has the potential to put your favorite lake and muff out of business for good. The DNR has already proven that acid rain is the only major cause of lake acidification, right?"

"That's ridiculous."

Ed Newman's blunt statement cracked through the phone receiver, and brought me out of my Tuesday morning doze. O.K., I thought, tell me how a major Wisconsin utility corporation is going to fight the DNR over lake preservation, the Department's home turf. And he did.

The DNR has been studying lakes around the state for years, making observations and collecting data. Their findings showed that a number of lakes in Wisconsin were becoming more acidic, due to various factors. The biggest contributor to that acidity was acid rain, which is caused mainly by fossil fuel (i.e. coal) burning sources, like power plants and pulp mills.

Until recently, the DNR had maintained a "hold the line" policy about the problem until more information could be collected. However, in April of this year the DNR stated that some 300 state lakes were acidic, and substantial reductions in sulfur dioxide (the source of acid rain) emitted by fossil fuel burning plants was needed. Recommendations were made, public hearings held, and finally legislation was passed by the 1985 legislature to cut the sulfur dioxide emissions of the state's major utilities and pulp mills by 50-60 percent in less than eight years.

Wisconsin Public Service is one of these major utilities.

WPS began their research, according to Mr. Newman, in 1985; a number of lakes in northern Wisconsin were monitored on a monthly basis for their acid levels. The biggest find, though, came this fall when WPS conducted a lake water testing program. WPS customers, mainly those in Vilas and Oneida counties, were given equipment and instructions on how to collect water samples, which they brought in to WPS field offices for analysis. The results: 37 lakes acidic, 131 lakes sensitive and 180 not sensitive.

What is so interesting is that Newman claims all those lakes found to be acidic or "extremely sensitive" were influenced by bogs. Sags are very acidic, and Newman says bog-associated plants, primarily spagnum moss, are a major cause of the lake's acidity, and the DNR's claim of acid rain to be the sole source is, in a word, "ridiculos."

Newman goes on to state that these findings show how much the DNR has gone overboard in their attempts to cut sulfur dioxide emissions. "A limit on sulfur dioxide emissions is not necessa-ary in this state at this time," said Newman. Not only does he stand by WPS's results, Newman claims the DNR is using data that is 12 years old to support their findings, and "it should not be used." Other utility companies, such as Wisconsin Electric Power, have also made these claims.

"Is this true?" Not according to Don Thelher, Director of the Air Management Bureau of the DNR. In a letter to the chairman of the Wisconsin Utilities Association, Theiler said "we have carefully evaluated your concerns and - we have ruled out all plausible causes for clear-water acidic lakes in Wisconsin except for the acid rain which falls into them."

Also, the DNR's estimate that about 300, or 35 percent, of the state's lakes are acidic agree with results found in the National Lake Survey conducted by the Environmental Protection Agency in 1984. The method in which Newman is challenging the DNR is being used by other acid rain related industries, Newman, industries were saying the sulfur content.

Record opening for gun hunters

As predicted, the nine-day firearm season in Wisconsin was a success, as hunters in the DNR's North Central District braved cold temperatures and snow to bag 25,541 deer the first two days of the season. DNR wildlife staff specialist Arlyn Loemann says that the figure is up 36 percent from the comparable period last year. "This reflects," says Loemann, "the large deer herd and good weather conditions for the hunt."

In the 10-county North Central District, hunters made sure the deer harvest got off to a record start as hunters in the Woodruff, Antigo and Wisconsin Rapids areas registered 31 percent, 44 percent and 13 percent more deer, respectively, than last year. What makes the hunt this year even better, says Loemann, is safety.

Space Trash

Scientists are becoming increasingly concerned about the chances of a major collision between a space shuttle and one of the thousands of man-made objects orbiting the earth. According to authorities, about 5,400 objects the size of a baseball or larger are now orbiting the earth at speeds of 17,000 miles per hour. The worst threat is the space junk that are the size of golf balls. As many as 60,000 of these particles may be orbiting the planet!

Wildlife Benefits

Wyoming ranchers received more than $400,000 from the state's Game and Fish Department last year for deer and pronghorn taken on their property by hunters. Ranchers are given checks for the department, which reim-urses a number of fees for each animal killed. More than 37,000 coupons were redeemed for deer and nearly 47,000 coupons were collected for pronghorn.

Great Cmpella

Acid Rain Study

The University of Minnesota's departments of Forest Resources and Soil Science are probing the large area of the Interior Electric Power Research Institute to study the influence of acid rain on tree growth and

DNR. In a letter to the chairman of the Wisconsin Utilities Association, Theiler said "we have carefully evaluated your concerns and - we have ruled out all plausible causes for clear-water acidic lakes in Wisconsin except for the acid rain which falls into them."

Also, the DNR's estimate that about 300, or 35 percent, of the state's lakes are acidic agree with results found in the National Lake Survey conducted by the Environmental Protection Agency in 1984. The method in which Newman is challenging the DNR is being used by other acid rain related industries, Newman, industries were saying the sulfur survival.

Clay Molds Life?

Clays may have played an important role in the formation of the first life forms on earth, say scientists at NASA's Ames Research Center.

According to authorities, clay may have played an important role in the formation of other chemicals that are important building blocks of life.

Restoration for Overgrazed Land

The Isaac Walton League of America recently formed a Public Lands Restoration Task Force to examine methods for restoring overgrazed federal lands in several western states.

Endangered List

to be Serviced

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has recently added the least tern to the endangered species list and is trying to determine if the ivory-billed woodpecker has been on the list since 1986. The birds are currently classified as "specially confirmed sightings since the 1930s."

Research in Michigan

The U.S. Forest Service has established its 100th Research Natural Area on the Uncompahgre National Forest in Colorado. Research natural areas are printed areas used as a basis for monitoring changes in forests. The Society of American Forest-ners (SAF) maintains a registry of some 400 natural areas for the same purpose.
Acid rain — for beginners

by Andy Savagian
Outdoor Editor

What is the acid rain? I mean, I’ve heard so much about it I keep expecting to see huge drops of water fall from the sky and burn four-foot holes in my family’s party barge! Is it really that terrible?

If the above dialogue sounds very familiar to you, the following explanation will hopefully make the facts about acid rain a little easier to understand.

pH

The pH scale is a scale that measures the acidity or alkalinity of certain aqueous solutions, like the water in lakes and streams. The scale runs from zero (most acidic) to 14 (most alkaline or basic). A pH of seven is neutral; anything below it is by definition acidic. Also, the pH scale is logarithmic, which means a change in pH from seven to six would be a tenfold change in the water, from neutral to acidic.

Nature’s rain, without all of man’s pollution, is naturally acidic, with a pH ranging from 5.0 to 5.5. Thus, any lake or stream with a pH below 5.0 is considered acidic due to the added acid from manmade sources.

Acid Rain

Rain’s pH becomes acidic (below pH 5.0) because of “fossil fuel” burning sources. In other words, coal burning power plants, coal burning mills, and carbon emitting automobiles. Burning the coal releases a gas, sulfur trioxide (SO₃), into the atmosphere and after mixing with all sorts of other gases and particulates will change into sulfur dioxide (SO₂), the main source of acid pollution, precipitates into lakes and streams in the form of rain or snowmelt.

Effects

At a pH below five, fish reproduction is effected and certain species have difficulty surviving. When the pH drops to four or lower, the increasing acidity kills numerous species of fish and plants. At low pH levels such as this, only the hardest beasts survive—few of them are fish. (SOM, the state diagram for Wisconsin lake pH’s.)

The winter scene in Wisconsin would not be complete without those silent stalkers of the night, and Schumack Reserve will be featuring these animals in their winter display — “Wisconsin Owls: The Unseen Hunters.”

The exhibit will open December 13 and run to the end of March. On display will be owls from around the state, hides, tapes of owl calls and other sets of interesting facts and figures. All kinds of behavior will be featured including the owl’s amazing silent flight, haunting calls, night, hearing, breeding and many other aspects that make the owl a unique bird.

The exhibit is free and open to the public. There are also displays that will show people where to observe owls and their nests, as families are especially welcome.

Outdated cont.

Dioxide reductions would put a end to the CNR and there would be re-freshments served after the talk.

ATTENTION SKIERS:

Now that the snow is on the ground and Rib Mountain is open, take advantage of the NEW Top-Line rental ski equipment (downhill & cross-country) and low student prices at: Rec Services.

We also do complete ski tune-ups including edge sharpening, P-texing and hot waxing. Come down and reserve them ahead of time.

Complete downhill package only $5.75
YOU MUST CHECK US OUT
Located in lower U.C.
346-3848

WINTER SALE
25% Off
Planters, Wall Decorations, Wine Baskets and Picnic Baskets, Etc.
We have many Christmas Gift Ideas at Hardly Ever
1036 Main St.
The most exciting few hours you'll spend all week.

Run. Climb. Rappel. Navigate. Lead. And develop the confidence and skills you won't get from a textbook. Enroll in Army ROTC as one of your electives. Get the facts today. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Capitan Steve Miller
Room 204, Student Services Building
346-4007
Eco-news

Deer hunters lost in blizzard

Monchesville Swamp was familiar territory for Gene Zipperer and his brother until they got lost in a snowstorm while hunting deer. "We were familiar with the area we were in," Zipperer said. "But with the snow, wind and the swamp, we just got turned around. Then when it got dark there was no telling one landmark from another. Everything looked the same."

Zipperer, 35, and his brother Robert, 40, both of rural Reedsville, said they lost their way Sunday morning while tracking a deer they had wounded in northeastern Manitowoc County. Their ordeal ended about 4 a.m. Monday after walking through deep snow in a road near their parked car, where they found deputy sheriffs who had been searching for them.

"I had a little frostbite on my hands, but mostly we were mighty cold and tired," Zipperer said.

"We tracked the deer until 2:30 in the afternoon, and that's when we realized we were lost," he said.

"It was a bitter cold, and once it was dark everything looked the same," he said. "It wasn't good."

The sheriff's office began a hunt for the brothers after they did not show up. Deputies used two snowmobiles and search dogs, sighted with pistol shots and blow horns.

Trophy bear killed

A Department of Natural Resources official says it's tragic that a trophy-sized black bear was shot and killed during this year's deer hunting season.

The carcass of the 600-pound animal is being stored in an evidence room, in case the shooting of the bear on the first day of the state deer hunt results in a trial.

"What happened here is tragic," said Todd Wippermann, a warden for the state DNR. "We've lost one of our larger breeding bears," he said. "Bears are at an all-time low now, and that is why there is an emergency order of a closed season."

Wippermann said last week that DNR personnel were consulting with the district attorney's office and charges were pending in the case.

According to DNR records, the bear was shot at 2:16 p.m. Nov. 23, in a cornfield northeast of Marion.

Wippermann said the bear apparently had a den picked out in the hillside, and "was getting some last-minute munching going on the corn."

One of four deer-hunting companions who happened upon the bear allegedly shot it four times with a shotguns.

"Statements were taken at the scene, and the hunter was released," Wippermann said.

Under state law, fines of up to $1,000 and imprisonment for up to nine months can be ordered in cases of animals considered endangered or threatened.

The state canceled the bear hunt this year out of concern that recent heavy killing has cut the population too far down. Wippermann said the DNR had also been concerned that smaller and smaller bears were being bagged by hunters in recent years.

"We were seeing a lot of 150-pound yearling bears being taken," he said.

"But a 400-pound male black bear is a trophy," he said. "They might get bigger, but it would be extremely rare."

He said the fact that a very large bear was inhabiting the Marion area had become common knowledge.

"People had reported seeing a larger bear ever since late in the summer," said Wippermann.

"There were a few in the area, but they're not common. A few come down from the Indian reservation, and some of them will move long distances."

December, cont.

Snow: they had walked the logs and picked the berrry projecting here and there within their reach. This was a quarter-mile east of the down area.

That evening, sunset, I saw a group of deer in a pimple thicket a quarter-mile west. There were no tracks. This completed the story. These birds, for the duration of the soft snow, were covering their home range s-wing, not at, and the range was half a mile across.
Look what’s happening at Greyhound.

Anywhere Greyhound Goes $100.00 Round Trip
Based on $10 per day. Minimum purchase 10 days.
Senior Citizens of 65 and older, 10% discount available.
Call agent for details.

GO GREYHOUND
And leave the driving to us.

Now there’s a new way to O’Hare/Mitchell Field
Introducing the Greyhound Airport Express.
Service from Stevens Point to O’Hare and Mitchell Field
Now when you have to catch a plane, you can catch Greyhound’s Airport Express. Straight-to-the-airport service in plenty of time to catch your flight.
Call Greyhound for complete fare and schedule information.

GO GREYHOUND Airport Express System™
Fares and schedules subject to change without notice. © 1984 Greyhound Lines, Inc.

Send a gift that brings someone you love closer to you.
A prepaid ticket on Greyhound.
If there’s someone you really want to see, send them a gift that brings them closer to you — a prepaid ticket on Greyhound.
Just stop by your local Greyhound Agent and purchase the ticket. You can even send a cash advance, if you’d like.
The ticket can be forwarded within hours after it’s ordered, and the service charge is included in the total price.
So bring someone you love closer to you.
On Greyhound.
Some restrictions apply to amount of cash advance available. Cash advances not available on credit card purchases.

GO GREYHOUND
And leave the driving to us.

Fares and schedules subject to change without notice. Subject to ICC approval. Some restrictions apply.
Call Greyhound for details.

GO GREYHOUND
And leave the driving to us.
GREYHOUND TERMINAL
1725 WEST RIVER DRIVE
341-4740
© 1984 Greyhound Lines, Inc.
Pointers open season with 2nd place in Tip-Off Tourney

by Kent Walstrom
Sports Editor

Despite a dismal 1-3 record, the Pointers have had the 1985-86 basketball campaign in respectable fashion. The Pointers, who began the season with their own Tip-Off Tournament, clinched a 34-34 victory with a resounding offensive surge in the closing minutes of Friday's opening game against UW-Milwaukee and made successful the coaching debut of Pointer mentor Jay Eck.

UWSH, however, suffered a heartbreaking, 23-21 overtime defeat in Saturday's championship game against St. Thomas Aquinas, ranked No. 3 in the NAIA preseason poll. The Pointers followed with losses to Southern Illinois University, 71-69, the next weekend, and Murray State (KY) on Monday, 70-60, both of which are Div. I schools, but UWSH gave both teams all they could handle before bowing.

Suffice it to say, the 1-3 record is more representative of the competition UWSP has faced than the talent or play of the Stevens Point team itself.

In the Pointers' opening game against UW-Milwaukee, held in the Quandt Fieldhouse before nearly 2,000 fans, UWSH found a revitalized second half defense and used the leadership of seniors Tim Naegeli and Kirby Kulas to outscore UW-M 28-24 down the stretch on their way to the victory.

Naegeli led both teams with 25 points while shaving six rebounds. Kulas added 17 points and four rebounds in the win.

The overtime loss to St. Thomas Aquinas on Saturday was a trying setback for the Pointers, who never trailed in the game until James Carter made two free throws with 13 seconds left in the overtime period.

Aquinas, despite scoring better than 90 points a game, entered halftime with a 12-17 deficit.

The Pointers controlled the boards with a 23-23 rebound advantage and also used a variety of zone defenses, a tactic that kept the Spartans' run-and-gun style of play in check throughout the game.

However, however, pressured the Pointers into making mistakes at critical times in the ball game.

St. Thomas ousted UWSH, hitting 24 of 46 from the field (52 percent), compared to 21 of 45 (46) for the Pointers. Each team had 16 turnovers.

Senior James Smith totaled 21 points for the Spartans, while Kirby Kulas and Tim Naegeli voted the tournament MVP combined to score 33 of UWSH's 54 points.

Kulas finished with 17 points and eight rebounds, while Naegeli managed 16 points and seven rebounds. Jeff Olsen added five points, along with a game-high nine assists and five rebounds.

"We wanted to hold them under 56 points," lamented Pointer Coach Jay Eck. "We knew we had to do the job on the boards to keep them from running. What hurt us is that we got too impatient at times and didn't shoot the ball as well as we can."

"We learned a few things that should help us down the road. We don't think St. Thomas was thinking in that we could give him this kind of game." Aquinas Coach Dave Possinger had words of praise following his team's narrow victory.

"Nobody plays defense like Stevens Point. We didn't get a good shot the whole night," Possinger said. "There was always a hand in our face."

"This was a great tournament and a great place to play," Possinger continued. "We hope they'll invite us back. Stevens Point has a great program with a winning tradition. We'd like to think we have the same thing being for us.""

"You have the best basketball fans in the world here and I think we gave them their money's worth," Possinger concluded.

The Pointer defense, characterized by its consistent success, faltered during UWSP's clash with Southern Illinois University the following weekend.

"There's not too much I'm happy about," said Eck, following his team's 77-65 loss. "We didn't have the defensive intensity or court awareness we needed, especially early in the game when we had a chance to be ahead by more than we were. The ball just wasn't bouncing our way tonight."

The Salukis used a 13-2 spurt at the close of the first half to turn a 34-28 deficit into a 36-20 lead at intermission.

The Pointers' continued to pressure SUI in the second half, drawing to within three points at 45-42 with just under a minute remaining in the game.

SUI scored to gain a five point advantage, and held off the Pointers in the closing seconds.

Kirby Kulas led the Pointers with 20 points, 14 coming in the second half, and grabbed seven rebounds. Naegeli added 14 points and four rebounds while Jeff Olsen chipped in 10 points.

"Although we battled back, we're not the kind of team which can afford to trade baskets with people," Eck noted. "We shot 67% forward Tim Naegeli (34), the Tip-Off Tournament's MVP, already has 79 points to his credit in the Pointer's first four games. that did little to diminish the respect they earned in playing the Div. I power.

"We won't face anybody tougher than that," said Murray State Coach Steve Newton, whose Racers continued their unbeaten streak with 79-66 win.

Lady harriers 6th at Nationals

by UWSH Sports Information Office

ATLANTA, GA. — The UW-Stevens Point women's cross country team capped a great season by placing sixth in the NCAA Division III National Meet held here Saturday.

Franklin-Marshall (PA) was the overall team champion with 79 points. St. Thomas (MN) placed second with 81 points, followed by Ithaca College (NY); SUNY-Cortland (NY); UW-La Crosse, 106. The Lady Pointers, who finished with 141 points, rounded out the top six in the 18 team meet.

Beata Rickels led the way for UWSP with a 14th place finish in 31:28. Kris Hoel ran to a strong 22nd place finish in 31:35. Both Rickels and Hoel earned All-American honors for their performances.

Other finishers for the Lady Pointers included freshman Amy Cyr, 46th in 31:22, Sue Rauscher, 48th in 31:36, Cathy Aulio, 85th in 31:15, Andrea Berceau, 86th in 31:28 and Kathleen Selds, 102nd in 31:56.

"I'm very proud of how this team ran today, as well as all season," stated head coach Len Hill. "We started the season slow, but kept getting stronger and more confident each week. Our best races were the conference, regional and national meets, so we proved that we could run a really count- ed."

Hill also singled out the two All-Americans on his team, not.

Cont. p. 18
The Pointers, despite their hardest efforts, were unable to overcome their opponents, who dominated the game from start to finish. The Pointers' coach, Scott Mazzoleni, commented on his team's performance, saying, "We played very well. We have a lot of respectability. They played a good season," he added. Mazzoleni also congratulated Stevens Point on their victory, saying, "I thought Arnie and Don ran as well as they possibly could," he Witt stated. "It was a tough HC course with more hills than we've seen all year." The Pointers were able to pull out a 3-1 victory in the third period, with a shot from Tim Coghlin. The Pointers dominated the game throughout, with their first goal coming on River Falls Friday and Saturday. Both games were slated for 7:30 p.m.
Pointer 5 on all-conference team

"We led the league all season in offense and the accomplishments of that unit speak for themselves."

- Coach D.J. LeRoy

The Wisconsin State University Conference football race this season was no surprise that the Pointers, who finished first in school history to gain more than 4,000 yards, also dominate the WSC all-conference offensive selections.

The Pointers, who finished third in the league race at 5-3-1 while compiling an 8-3-1 overall record, landed five first team berths on the offensive team as well as one second team spot and two honorable mentions. Selections were made on an all-opponent basis by the nine league coaches at the Holiday Inn here Monday.

Despite rising to third place in the final league statistics, the Pointers were shut out on the first team defensive unit. However, UWSP did land three second team berths as well as three honorable mentions. All told, 14 Pointer players received some type of all-conference recognition.

Senior quarterback Dave Geisler was one of only three unanimous selections on the all-league team. The others were Eau Claire running back Lee Weigl, who was named for the third straight year, and La Crosse guard Tom Newberry. Pointer senior guard Mark Rietveld was one of four repeat selections on the offensive team. The others were Weigl, Newberry and Platteville wide receiver Jamie Scherenbach.

Other UWSP second team selections were senior guard Eric Jones on offense and senior linebacker Mike Ruefman on defense.

Pointers given honorable mentions were senior quarterback Dave Geisler, senior running back Guy Otte, senior wide receiver Jim Lindholm and junior running back Mike Christman. Two Pointers missed first team defensive honors by the narrowest of margins. Losing out in tie-breaker votes were senior defensive end Dennis Lane and junior free safety Rich Smigaj.

The Pointers were shut out on the defensive unit. River Falls did, however, pick up four spots on defense, including senior Ellis Wanglin who was named at both safety and return specialist.

Pointe Coach D.J. LeRoy had mixed emotions about the all-conference selections.

Contr. p. 19

McNeill of Whitewater. Mike Farley, who directed River Falls to a second straight championship, was named WSC Coach of the Year.

Although leading the league in rushing, the Falcons failed to land anybody on the first offensive team. River Falls did, however, pick up four spots on defense, including senior Ellis Wanglin who was named at both safety and return specialist.

Pointe Coach D.J. LeRoy had mixed emotions about the all-conference selections.

CITED: Wisconsin State University Conference football race this season was no surprise that the Pointers, who finished first in school history to gain more than 4,000 yards, also dominate the WSC all-conference offensive selections.

The Pointers, who finished third in the league race at 5-3-1 while compiling an 8-3-1 overall record, landed five first team berths on the offensive team as well as one second team spot and two honorable mentions. Selections were made on an all-opponent basis by the nine league coaches at the Holiday Inn here Monday.

Despite rising to third place in the final league statistics, the Pointers were shut out on the first team defensive unit. However, UWSP did land three second team berths as well as three honorable mentions. All told, 14 Pointer players received some type of all-conference recognition.

Senior quarterback Dave Geisler was one of only three unanimous selections on the all-league team. The others were Eau Claire running back Lee Weigl, who was named for the third straight year, and La Crosse guard Tom Newberry. Pointer senior guard Mark Rietveld was one of four repeat selections on the offensive team. The others were Weigl, Newberry and Platteville wide receiver Jamie Scherenbach.

Other UWSP second team selections were senior guard Eric Jones on offense and senior linebacker Mike Ruefman on defense.

Pointers given honorable mentions were senior quarterback Dave Geisler, senior running back Guy Otte, senior wide receiver Jim Lindholm and junior running back Mike Christman. Two Pointers missed first team defensive honors by the narrowest of margins. Losing out in tie-breaker votes were senior defensive end Dennis Lane and junior free safety Rich Smigaj.

The Pointers were shut out on the defensive unit. River Falls did, however, pick up four spots on defense, including senior Ellis Wanglin who was named at both safety and return specialist.

Pointe Coach D.J. LeRoy had mixed emotions about the all-conference selections.

Contr. p. 19

McNeill of Whitewater. Mike Farley, who directed River Falls to a second straight championship, was named WSC Coach of the Year.

Although leading the league in rushing, the Falcons failed to land anybody on the first offensive team. River Falls did, however, pick up four spots on defense, including senior Ellis Wanglin who was named at both safety and return specialist.

Pointe Coach D.J. LeRoy had mixed emotions about the all-conference selections.

Contr. p. 19

McNeill of Whitewater. Mike Farley, who directed River Falls to a second straight championship, was named WSC Coach of the Year.

Although leading the league in rushing, the Falcons failed to land anybody on the first offensive team. River Falls did, however, pick up four spots on defense, including senior Ellis Wanglin who was named at both safety and return specialist.

Pointe Coach D.J. LeRoy had mixed emotions about the all-conference selections.

Contr. p. 19
GET READY!
HE'S COMING!

Prepare your mind and spirit for the celebration of Jesus' birth by joining us for: ADVENT SONG SERVICE.
(A worship celebration of readings and carols)
SUNDAY, DECEMBER 8
PEACE CAMPUS CENTER
Vincent & Marla Drive
(Behind Happy Joe's Pizza) 10:30 A.M.

Women lose to St. Mary's
by Julie Thayer
Staff Reporter

The UWSP women's basketball team lost their first game of the season against St. Mary's College of Wisconsin, 46-40.

The Lady Pointers fell victim early in the game as an aggressive St. Mary's team clearly dominated the entire first half while scoring 24 points. "They were a very physical team," commented head coach Linda Wunder.

"Each of their players had three to five inches on every one of our starters at each position," the Pointers fought back in the second half, holding St. Mary's to only 20 points. "We played them virtually even the second half," said Wunder. "We did a real good job defensively."

Unfortunately, it was too late for UWSP to undo the damage. "Mary's dealt the Pointers a very physical team, missed the free throw line."

Starting for Stevens Point were Senja Sorenson, Dina Rasmussen, Amy Gradeck, Dianne Beyer, and Clarise Rasmussen led the team in scoring with 14 points. Gradeck followed closely behind with 12 and led the team in rebounds with seven. Beyer, a freshman, scored eight points and was four for five at the free throw line.

Sorenson, last year's leading scorer, was held to only three points as she found herself in foul trouble early in the first half. Both she and Gradeck eventually fouled out of the game.

Defensively, the team did a good job at deciding the outcome of the game against St. Mary's at 46-40. It was a tough game for us," commented coach Linda Wunder.

The Pointers played their home opener against Eau Claire on Tuesday. Meanwhile, the team anticipates the return of co-captain Karla Miller, a member of the women's volleyball team, missed the opener with St. Mary's because of the bad weather that week in Illinois. "I've never seen that kind of impact one player can have on a team," said Wunder of Miller. "She adds that leader characteristic as well as her playing abilities."

The Pointers play again Friday, December 6, at home in another conference game against Platteville, which is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. in Berg Gym.

Gridders, cont.

"I'm naturally very pleased at the recognition our offense received," Larrys said. "We led the league all season in offense and the accomplishments of that unit speak for themselves.""My biggest disappointment is the omission of Demia Lane from the first defensive team. Demia is the best defensive player we've had here in the last decade and made so many contributions to our success."

"He was a team leader and so valuable because he played equally well both inside at tackle and outside at end. He also had the ability to block him up and I thought he'd be a shoe-in for the first team," LeRoy offered the following comments on the Pointers' first team selections.

"Geinier: "Dave's recognition was long overdue. He had both the ability and statistics to merit all-conference selection in previous years. An outstanding player for us the past four years and was an obvious choice as the co-captain of the league quarterbacks this season."

"Otte: "I'm very pleased for Guy. One of the best moves we made was shifting him from quarterback to tight end after his sophomore year. Great hands and field sense and special at making the big plays and key catches. Very respected around the league and will be our toughest player to replace this season. Guy should be proud of his accomplishments and contributions to the UW-Stevens Point football program.""

"Rietveld: "Constant player whose strength was run blocking. Also improved greatly at pass blocking. Usually took on the other team's best defensive lineman and could be counted on to rise to the challenge against good opponents in key games."

"Lindholm: "If we lost Jim on the best pass routes of any receiver on the field and had to get free to open up passing game. Because of his ability to do so, we were able to get single coverage on our other receivers like Christian and Otte. A real team player who gave us three inting that, "Sheila and Kris have run well all year long and this is a big thrill for them. They are both super people and great runners, and I'm extremely happy for each of them."

Cont. p. 35
Lady Harriers

Mail cont.

More than skinny

To the Editor:

I would personally like to hand the 1982 Student Award to Mr. John Burke IV, outstanding student and teacher in November 31st. Mr. Burke concerning the women on campus. Mr. Burke seems to believe that it is not okay to be overweight. To quote: "...women (men) are disgusting." He also says that he would "never say that there is just a long distance to find that beautiful creature..." It's too bad, however, that he did not say, "...the female..."

I am surprised and disappointed to find out that four columns devoted to it in the campus newspaper.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Morgan

Get away

To the Editor:

I hope Mr. Burke has a fuel efficient car. For, not only does he have a very long distance to find his poor, anorexic, "SKINNY, GIRLS," but he'll be extremely expensive to maintain. I have already found one that isn't hospitalized. Anorexia, like extreme obesity (unlike your friend Jane) is very dangerous and should be prevented. I think it's too bad that you feel an anorexic woman should be the feminine ideal, because thousands of teenage girls are anorexia from each year.

Cheri Marron

Discretion?

To the Editor: I am appalled by the absolute lack of discretion shown by the publishers of a letter entitled "One Man's Opinion," December 21, 1982 edition of the Pedestal. Now, for those not familiar with the content of this letter, it was a jolly knee-slapping drivel written by an individual who was penned by Mr. John Burke IV. This letter concerns itself with people about people like Mr. Burke. Some people's concept of taste and honestly not something beyond the junior-high level. Moreover, I have a question for Mr. Dorsey.

Interviews cont.

career counseling and have been advised to speak to someone who works in your field of interest.

Make an appointment with someone whose job is of interest to you and discuss what you want and are going to find out. You might prepare a list of questions to ask, following the advice of Mr. Dorsey, more detailed. The College

Student Guide to Career Planning

by E. Peil

Tri-Mania cont.

Albert L. Furbay includes a good list, as do other such reference books, one to consult the Career Services Office. Neat, be clear, be professional. Indicate your interest in his field in the letter. It is your responsibility to establish a good rapport with your contact. Refer to your list of questions, but set the conversation flow naturally, before the interview you should ask for referrals to others who may be helpful in your search for a career.

Harvard cont., mostly for my privilege. I'm bringing to feel I must keep a distance

Nothing I've said is to be construed to mean or imply that sexual harassment rules, procedures and public insults do not exist. If you are. I believe they have the right not to be touched or har-rassed, but there is a tradeoff for the new protections. We'll be more, more...

A little less funny

by Don Bohdan Pfeiffer

Griddles cont.

One year. Could have caught more passes but for the fact he (his friend) was hurt at his position.

"Christian: "Made biggest improvement on the squad between football and practice. His playing seasons in terms of becoming a competitor. Mike in my opinion is the top athlete in our conference. If it's going to be his year, he can be just as good as anyone." Christian is an extremely athletic who now believes in himself.

The award was for him."

In the following fragment, there is now little meaning and direction to the column. It seems that the editorial will no longer be scheduled with a column.

The opinions of Mike, Jon, Lemke, and others who happen to be friends, is not necessarily what I believe. It's my opinion."

You may find the letter which you approached me about it too much to ask that you write such a letter during a discussion.

And let me tell you, Mr. Burke, if Mr. Burke signed his name to his letter it was with me (the author) convinced. This, however, wasn't the only reason it was published. Since you seemed to be a hurry to leave our offices. I wasn't given the chance to say "discuss" or "discuss"... and then maybe he might reconsider why Mr. Burke's letter was printed. Other reasons for printing his letter include the fact that the letter was libelous and slanderous. More important, however, anyone who signs their name to a piece of writing is expressing his opinion clearly. I do not agree with Mr. Burke's comments but I necessarily agree with anyone's opinion.

I do not intend, however, to withhold letters because I happened to disagree with them.

Because of the controversial nature of the letter, however, I placed Mr. Burke to be certain that he did indeed write in this letter and that it wasn't written by some other individual. He returned to Mr. Burke assured me that this was the way he felt and that he was sincere in his feelings on the issue.

As I mentioned to you before you left my offices, I encountered people who feel strongly about this issue. After readings via the Mail section — and I commend you for doing just that.

In case" to hold a non-award on the Campus. Mike McCrisky, a comedian from Eau-

Clair, Wisconsin, at the Allen Center Ballroom.

Johnny Carson show, was the big attraction among the audience. Mike McCrisky, a comedian from Eau-

Clair, Wisconsin, at the Allen Center Ballroom.

Johnny Carson show, was the big attraction among the audience. Mike McCrisky, a comedian from Eau-

Clair, Wisconsin, at the Allen Center Ballroom.

Johnny Carson show, was the big attraction among the audience. Mike McCrisky, a comedian from Eau-

Clair, Wisconsin, at the Allen Center Ballroom. The Allen Center also is a Greydart Center and is sponsored by many different services on campus.

Gridders cont.

Elsewhere

To the Editor:

Dear Mr. Burke,

Never use the long and "weighty" letter do you state your qualifications for judging others?

All through your letter you say "her" and talk about her. You doubted her. You doubted. Should it be that all the girls have to write you didn't have the guts to sign their names? If you did write the letter yourself, improper grammar may be able to be excused since you are only a freshman in college.

In his opinion, "...the feminine movement." The letter was much more thoughtlessly than any of the students, the "...the feminine movement."

Counter to your belief that obese women are "...we are more than Steven's Point "accounting" most do come to college for an education and an academic degree other than a Mrs. degree.

It is bad that you are so small minded that you can't look further than your nose. It may be that you have such a low opinion of obese women, I'd love to hear your biased views about Blacks, homosexuals, Jews, Hispanics, and mentally retarded individuals, for you must surely have them. Why don't you try to explain to me then to want to date such a creep? I can only hope you devote as much time to your studies as you seem to devote to watching the "disgusting fat women" of Steven's Point you so loathe. How do you know where and how much women on this campus exercise? You must keep close watch on all dis-gracing women in order to state with such conviction that the girls here just aren't very concerned with the facts that they are dis-gracing."

You just made your devision to the study of fat women. Why can it be that you can make your personal crusade to rid the world of all fat women? I mean, what will it be, get rid of all those pot-bellies and those fat women for that matter.

In conclusion, the old adage applies, "...you can't judge a book by its cover". Here, you can take it somewhere else. I suggest you do so.

Ruth Schulte

Mark L. Jones

Editor's Note: Mark, if you feel Mr. Krupa's views on the feminine movement are not consistent, how would you characterize his statements and comments regarding your grandmother's death?

"Mark, if you feel Mr. Krupa's views on the feminine movement are not consistent, how would you characterize his statements and comments regarding your grandmother's death?"

Library hours

To the Editor: For several weeks the library has had extended hours on Satdays. Mr. Almen Leiske displayed a lack of understanding of this editorial by not mentioning this change. The library has now extended hours, a large number of students, many of them are taking classes in reinforced and is looking forward to ice skating.

North, cont.

premises.

The library has now extended hours, a large number of students, many of them are taking classes in reinforced and is looking forward to ice skating.

North, cont.

18th St.

presumably.

The library has now extended hours, a large number of students, many of them are taking classes in reinforced and is looking for-

ward to ice skating.
energetic enthusiastic women? Or where is John when we're trying to find a place in line to stand during an aerobics class in the middle of the week? Apparently, John is looking in the wrong places for his so-called "skinny girls." Like alcoholism, eating disorders are only signs which hide a person's true emotional problems and feelings. If alcoholism is such a perfect escape why can't food be? If a person is truly understanding and open-minded, one could clearly see that those who eat for escape are less selfish than those who use alcohol to escape. While alcohol could affect or hurt others, an eating disorder is an unselfish task that affects only the individual himself. Thus, how is one unsearched and opinionated man able to tell the true reasons behind such emotional problems? Being a resident assistant, I deal with several cases all the way from alcoholism to eating disorders. I have experienced the reasons why one would go to such an extreme to find an escape. In addition, if John was open to such problems and was aware in some way of the type of problems that these women face, I'm sure John would think twice before making such insensitive and tactless statements. Coming from a farming family and trying to work out when I can find the time, I have concluded that no matter what part of the country we are from we will continue to find a mixture of women whether they are tall or short or fat or skinny. We will find among these women a mixture of different problems and a variety of emotional complications. It is just the way that these women and men go about handling these problems that must be changed. These so-called "obese" women are probably the most unselfish women John will ever meet. How can we call these women who only hurt themselves anything but unselfish? Think twice John J. Burke IV before making such an insensitive and tactless statement. Your logic is unintelligent and your reasoning is unrealistic. If you're looking for this so-called "perfect woman" take up literature or start reading!!! This is reality and such women only exist in the soap and in the minds of unrealistic and uneducated men.

The Lord gives us special ways in which to reveal ourselves. It is too bad that there are so many of us who are pressured into revealing ourselves from the outside in instead of from the inside out!!!

Yours truly
Angela Modell

No heirs

To The Editor:
In response to the letter to the editor printed November 21, 1985 about "fat bottomed girls written by John J. Burke IV" with that attitude I doubt there will ever be a John J. Burke V.

Sincerely,
Kathy Connell
P.S. Know what I am sick of seeing on this campus, John???
Shaved heads (except Troy Sue) and SKATEBOARDS!!!

Cont. p. 20

Psst...

The DEADLINE for TEXTBOOK RETURN is 9:30 pm Friday, December 20.

Spread the Word!!

TEXT SERVICES

JOB OPENING

Recreational Services will have a position open starting 2nd Semester.

Pick up applications at our front desk located in the lower level University Center. Don't miss this excellent opportunity!

Deadline for applications is Dec. 16th.

It's No Secret...

The DEADLINE for TEXTBOOK RETURN is 9:30 pm Friday, December 20.

Spread the Word!!

TEXT SERVICES
this week's highlights

Tuesday, December 10
Registration — Once again it's time for that biannual ritual that pits student against student in the battle for that elusive class card. As usual, registration will take place in the Quadrangle gym all day Tuesday with all classes being cancelled that day. However, if you have a night class, most of them still meet, so check with your instructor. Have those schedules made out and know where you have to go, maybe you could win that great prize of the schedule you actually wanted for next semester. Good luck and listen to WWSP for updated class closings throughout the day.

Thursday and Friday, December 5 & 6
"A Christmas Story" — This funny yuletide film will take the place of the originally planned film, "A View To A Kill." It will be showing both evenings in the UC/PBH at 7 and 9:15. Stop by and get in the holiday spirit with this humorous flick.

Friday, December 6
Women's basketball — The women's basketball team once again takes to the floor of Berg Gym, this time taking on UW-Platteville. The Pointers are coming off an opening season loss to Winona State 64-48. The game will start at 7 p.m. in the Berg Gym.

SPORTS

Thursday, December 5
Comedian David Naster — Naster is a funny man who blends his animated sense of humor and innovative musical abilities. He incorporates stand-up comedy in his act and has performed as a paid regular at the Comedy Store in Los Angeles. The highlight of Naster's show is that he still entertains people the old fashioned way, he makes them laugh. Naster will perform at the UC-Eccore from 9:30-11 p.m. Cost is $11 with tickets ID and $11.75 without. Brought to you by UAB-Special Programs.

PRIDE. It's a Guard Experience.
CALL TODAY TO LEARN HOW YOU CAN

FOR sale

FOR SALE: Recoditioner color television. Call 341-7219.
FOR SALE: Maxell XL II 96's, $2.50 each, $25.00 for 10. Call Pete 346-3001, 125 Hyer.
FOR SALE: 2 Pedal Steel guitars for sale: One CB Custom Double Neck, 8 pedals and 2 knobs $475. One MO single neck giggeneke student model $150. Call 341-2423 after 5:00.
FOR SALE: Is it true You can buy jeans for $44 through the U.S. govern­ ment? Get the facts today! Call 1-313-743-1143, Ext. 805.

for rent

FOR RENT: Interested in moving into the Village? Why not sublease and save $10. Female or male. For more information, call Tina at 341-4224.
FOR RENT: One room apart­ ment in house to share on Lake Dulaby. $80 per month plus heat. Call Steve at 407-2062.

FOR RENT: One female roommate to share apartment for second semester, $400 plus utilities. Furnished and close to campus. Call 341-5339.
FOR RENT: Two females to rent a nice house 5 blocks from campus. Single rooms, rent is $350 per semester plus utilities. If interested, contact Pat or Karen at 344-8370.
FOR RENT: One female to rent a 2 bedroom apartment. $225. Includes heat. Utilities cheap! Call 341-3589 for details.
FOR RENT: One female to share a 2 bedroom apartment. $125 per month. Utilities included. Call 341-7989.
FOR RENT: One room in a house in nice neighborhood. $275 for second semester. Call 341-1100.
FOR RENT: One empty room in a 3 bedroom apartment. $120 per month plus utilities. Available Dec. 30, call Kim at 346-3769.
FOR RENT: Large double bed­ room in a 3 bedroom apartment. $95 per month. Call 341-7989.

WANTED

WANTED: Roommate to share house with three others. Located on Indiana St. and single room, $500 plus 1/4 of heat and utilities. Available Dec. 30, call Kim at 346-3769.
WANTED: One female or male to sublease a spacious room in

The Pointer is currently accepting applications for Copy Editor and Ad Layout-Design Mgr. Please apply in person at the Pointer office, 117 CAC. Deadline is Wednesday, Dec.
Help bring the world together. Host an exchange student.

As part of International Youth Exchange, a Presidential Initiative for peace, your family welcomes a teenager from another country into your home and into your way of life.

Volunteer host families from all segments of American society are being selected. If you'd like to be one of them, send for more information.

Help bring the world together, one friendship at a time.
Buy One PIZZA, Get One FREE!

Buy any size original round pizza at regular price and get the identical pizza free with this coupon.

PIPING HOT AND READY TO EAT

Now available in STEVENS POINT
2501 CHURCH STREET - CHURCH STREET STATION SHOPPING MALL

345-2333

Call ahead for "Extra Quick" Pick-up! !
OPEN 11 A.M. TO 11 P.M. FRI. & SAT. 11 A.M. TO 1 A.M.

FREE PIZZA!
With the purchase of any size original round pizza at regular price. Offer valid with coupon at participating Little Caesars. One coupon per customer. Carry out only. Not valid with any other offer.
Expires: 12/19/85

TWO LARGE PIZZAS
"with everything": $9.99
10 toppings for only plus tax Reg. $18.15
Toppings include pepperoni, ham, bacon, ground beef, Italian sausage, mushrooms, green peppers, onions.
No peppers and anchovies upon request.
(NO SUBSTITUTIONS OR DELETIONS)
Limit with coupon at participating Little Caesars, Carry
One per coupon per customer
Expires: 12/19/85