The Duke

Dear Editor:

In the wake of the last two presidential debates, many Americans have been accusing the politicians of their dishonesty, lack of responsibilities, and their inability to answer questions with substance. We, as taxpayers and future taxpayers, support the spending of billions of dollars on the research and development of new weapons and programs that may only be used to destroy us anyway. Besides, should we not be working to improve the quality of life rather than devising new ways to destroy it? Apparently, the Republicans do not think so. Almost 40 million Americans in this country do not have health insurance. The Republicans' response to this problem is no response at all. They have not only cut Medicare benefits but also cut $1 billion to the CDC, but they propose to cut another $50 billion to the war effort. This is the kind of future your parents and grandparents had to face. We, the citizens of America, want you for your children? Michael Dukakis is pursuing new solutions for long-term care, an issue the Republicans have chosen to ignore. As voters, our main issue of concern should be education. In the last 7 years, Republicans have slashed aid to education by 13 percent, jeopardizing elementary education programs like Head Start and nutrition programs like the School Lunch Program. Republics are allowed to continue spending millions of dollars on education, but they do not allow the nation to achieve educational excellence. Our education system needs a leader who will fight for it. Michael Dukakis can and will make America reborn and more competitive. Improvements in health care, education, and the elimination of nuclear warhead programs are the broad pieces to the broad puzzle Dukakis is capable of putting together. Contrary to what Bush has said, increased taxes are not synonymous with Dukakis. Yet, reducing the deficit will require making some tough, and possibly even painful decisions, but only Dukakis will make the right ones.

America is tired of a presidential candidate who in their campaign promises to put the country on the right track but in reality just promises to spend billions more on the war. And finally, America is sick of death of an administration that would have the nation behind me and flatliners behind me. America needs a leader filled with motivation and a renewed sense of innovation. America needs a leader who will fight for the real needs of its people.

America needs Mike Dukakis.
Respectfully,
Judy Young

Introducing The Safe Sex Kit--The Adult Novely Gift With More Than A Smile

Santa Monica, Ca--Encouraging a sense of humor as well as a sense of proportion about love and lust in the '80s, California novelty company JB Unlimited announces the national introduction of The "Safe Sex To Go" Kit, an outrageous, trendy gift to work to ensure the foundation lain is happy and safe for years to come. I was once just as much of a trouble to the family as the $2,600 gold rings that were passed down through the family which I worth at least $2,000 and didn't get a third of that for them. The cocaine came before any of my feelings of guilt.*

*What does it feel like to do something like that? I asked Pete.

"Forward the end, when you're coming down, when you realize what you did, there is a much depression. I've broken all the laws of man and half the laws God created to support my habit. It's devastating, especially after selling something like that (rings). I had no morals, because I didn't have a brain and I didn't think. I didn't have a choice, (because) my drugs were working for me. And I'm not going to leave alcohol out, because it had just as much to do with it as cocaine. The two things were my best friends. When you knew something was bad, you had chemical de­fects in your body where it sets off an alarm. Boom, it's time to sup­ply. That's the way it was."

According to JB Unlimited President, Lauren Weller, "Our broad cross­thetic audience--not only women but men at prices of $3.39 to $3.95 for a variety of the product from both the New York, Los Angeles, and San Francisco markets." The Safe Sex To Go Kit is currently available by mail order from JB Unlimited, 3341 Ocean Avenue, Suite 240, Santa Monica, California, 90401. Phone number (213)393-0999. It may also be purchased at selected outlets nationally. Suggested re­tail price is $8.50.

What is your greatest fear?
According to a recent survey done by the Book of Lists, the number two fear was the fear of dying.

Now you may be gauging at what was your greatest fear of all those who interviewed.

Let me give you a few hints.

What makes your palms sweat a gajillion a minute? What makes your tongue feel like a cat's tongue? What makes you say ah more than a breath does.
The number one fear is scar­ing the pants off of hundreds of thousands of people in the break­up.

You take a big chunk of a person's life that "died" because that's forever.

And what if this person isn't the one you see as your partner for life?

The UWSP Toastmasters allow you to gain confidence in communication, including written speeches, impromptu speak­ing, body language and effective listening.

Toastmasters International was founded in December 1905 in Santa Ana, California by Dr. Ralph S. Stubley. Since then, the club has been able to afford practice and training in the art of public speaking and personal growth, through a series of meetings and to promote social­ ity and good fellowship among its members. Today the organization has a total of over 5000 clubs in over 46 countries. More than two million members are learning by doing.

Toastmasters does not involve formal classroom training. The only grade you receive is based on your experience and the growth you achieve. "Toastmasters is different than lecturing or forum competition," said

Safety Awareness is key to Campus Security

By Stacy Hoyer

Contributor

Most of today's stressed college students do not stop to consider the security on our campus. This could very likely be due to, as statistics prove, the low numbers of violent crimes in our city, increased enrollment, or even a slight decrease in vandalism, but no increase has been seen in violent crimes.

One area of concern has always been our Schmeeckle Reserve. The Protective Services Department urges students not to enter there alone, particularly after dark. Most recent issues have concerned lighting in specific areas of campus. A few of you may have already noticed which are being dealt with by various student organizations. The area just north of our College of Natural Resources building, the walkway from the LRC to the site of the CHR building, and the walk from the Village Apartments through that area's parking lots.

The law in 1978 redesignated sexual assaults in terms of four degrees, which decreases in severity from first to fourth degree. Second-degree characteristics of first degree sexual assault include inflicted bodily harm, multiple assailants, and victims under the age of 12. Second degree includes threats of violence, and victims under 18 years of age. Finally, third degree sexual assault deals with sexual intercourse without consent and fourth degree with sexual contact without consent.

In the past thirteen years, there have been several reported "rapes" on campus, all of which, aside from grieving, were proved to be unfounded. According to Captain Schmidt of the Stevens Point Police Department, the numbers of sexual assaults in the city of Stevens Point are low. Stevens Point received reports in 1980 of 18 sexual assaults, six of which were later proven to be unfounded. 1981, up to this time, has had fourteen actual sexual assaults. There are several programs for the sole purpose of safety promotion here on campus. One is the Student Escort Service, which is operated through the Women's Resource Center. This program provides rides, free of charge, within a five mile radius of campus. Other programs are the tasks on sexual assault prevention. Those in residence halls by an officer from the Protective Services department. The forms mentioned in the presentations are tips for after-dark travel. These programs are very well received by the residents.

In the department's efforts to further secure the campus, Protective Services also now has a Student Patrol Program. There are four students now involved in those paid positions. These students are given basic training on grounds, problem areas, first aid and CPR. They are not to put themselves in physical danger of any kind, but are instructed to observe and report any situation by radio, after which security officers arrive at the scene.

Director of Protective Services and Safety, Donald Burling, explained, "It is an educational process. Students must be constantly aware of their surroundings. If people are not security conscious, they will be left open to potential danger." We are fortunate enough to reside in a campus with that is, for the most part, "safe. Awareness is the key to continuing this trend.

Published Course

WASHINGTON - The eighth session of the Howard University Publishing Institute will be conducted May 30 through June 6, 1985. Applications for admission and supporting materials are due by March 19. Financial aid is available, depending upon individual need. Early application is advised in order to assure full consideration.

This intensive five week course provides instruction in the basics of book publishing. The Institute curriculum is specifically designed to prepare individuals for entry-level positions in editing, design and production, marketing, and business.

Professionals from major publishing companies will conduct the lectures and workshops at Howard University's West Campus on Van Ness Street near Connecticut Avenue in northwest Washington, D.C.

Classroom instruction will be supplemented by tours of the Library of Congress, book manufacturing facilities, and bookstores in the Washington, D.C., area. The rapidly expanding book trade in the nation's capital will be covered in depth.

Key members of the Association of American Publishers, the Association of American University Presses, the American Booksellers Association, the American Library Association, and the Library of Congress are scheduled to participate.

Since the program was established in 1980, a grant from Time Incorporated, 110 individuals have completed the course. Many graduates have found employment in the publishing industry or related fields with such firms as: Addison-Wesley, the Book-of-the-Month Club, the Brookings Institution, Harper & Row, Hoorctt Brace Jovanovich, Alfred A. Knopf, Macmillan, Inc., Simon & Schuster, Time-Life Books, Wesleyan University Press, and John Wiley & Sons.

Students will be recruited nation-wide. A college degree is recommended. This requirement can be waived for individuals currently working in publishing houses.

For further information and applications, contact: Program Coordinator, Howard University Press Book Publishing Institute, 2300 Van Ness Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20008.

UW-SP Graduate Reunion

A reunion for graduates of UW-SP will be held in Madison on Oct. 25.

The event, from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the Monarch Room of the Marcia Pinez Hotel, is being scheduled to coincide with the Wisconsin Education Association convention for state teachers day.

The annual gathering, which will be held for more than a decade, draws alumni from the southeastern part of the state, and from all parts of Wisconsin who earned their degrees from UW-SP.

Also at the hotel, UW-Milwaukee, UW-Madison, UW-Green Bay, UW-Oshkosh, UW-Stevens Point, UW-Eau Claire, UW-Stout and UW-Stout will sponsor similar get-togethers.

Advertising Rep. Speaks

By Tracy Hetland

Women in Communications, Inc. has invited Ann Garber of Market Times Advertising Agency to be the first speaker of the month.

Ann will be speaking Wednesday, Oct. 26 at 7:00 p.m. in the Room Four of the Union Center. After her talk, she will open the floor for a question-answer session.

This forum will be open to everyone interested.

No State St. Halloween

By Amy Lardinois

News Editor

The Madison Police Department has announced that the city will not hold its traditional Halloween party on State Street this October 31. The event's past sponsor, the Wisconsin Student Association, will no longer provide funding due to the changes in the legal drinking age and increased liability costs. As a result, streets will not be closed and all city ordinances, such as open intermastics and public consumption of alcohol, will be strictly enforced. Any questions regarding this matter can be directed to the Madison Police Department, Patrol Team/Officer Jeff Eberhart or Officer Mike Edelstein at (608) 356-4146.

ATTENTION, WE NEED VOLUNTEER HELP!

The "Traditions in Action" planning committee is still searching for its second-year "Families in Action" students. As part of UWSP's major fund-raising campaign, the planning committee is designing a campaign for new students, scholarships, faculty development, campus facilities, athletics, and athletics arena improvements. After receiving a letter to ask for support, alumni are called by volunteers to make pledges.

Last year, 137 volunteers called over 4,800 alumni around the country who made pledges totaling $25,446. With the help of many people, we exceeded our campaign goal of $30,000 by $4,554.

Come join us for the fun and excitement! We'll have lots of fun and entertainment! We'll have UWSP students, staff, and faculty are welcome!

Bluegold's too much for Pointer V-ball

The Lady Pointer volleyball team took three games to defeat UW-Eau Claire last Wednesday. The closest of the three was the third at 15-13.

The Lady Pointer volleyball team took three games to defeat UW-Eau Claire last Wednesday. The closest of the three was the third at 15-13.

Coast Schoen commented, “We did not play very aggressively on the serve. I thought we could have done more, but they were not very aggressive, either.”

Top server was Annette St. Germain with 13 aces.

Top spiker was Tammy Kuester with 1 ace and 2 errors. Top spikers were Jody Geisel with 3 and 0 errors.

Stevens Point was the coin toss and elected to have Illinois serve first. Their first player sent the ball past a diving John Clark. In this set of five shootouts, Stevens Point sent Dave Valentine and Steve Mitchell. This gave Point a 2-0 lead. Mankato State did get on the scoreboard however, off a corner kick that was misjudged by Point goalie John Clark. At first the ball was heading out more in front of me, said Clark. But it began to hook and I was not far enough and my dive didn’t help. Clark made up for his mistake as he headed off several Mankato attacks late in the game in order to win 5-1 and advance into the final match against the University of Illinois.

The “Fighting Illini” were 2-3 this season going into the game, with 5 shutouts in their last 5 games. This had them ranked fifth nationally and brought them into the UW-Madison City for a conference game against the Pointer Page 8.
Win and a Loss

Last Wednesday the Pointer Tennis team travelled to Stout in a 6-1 victory over Stout. This improved the Pointer record to 4-1 in the WILAC and 7-3 overall.

In singles:
1. Linda Tomshak lost to Jill Jacobson, 6-3, 6-4.
2. Beth Neja defeated Susan Steiner, 6-4, 6-4.
3. Kathy King defeated Sue Kril 6-2 and 6-4.
5. Chris Diehl defeated Beth Barrett, 6-4, 6-4.
6. Amy Standford defeated Stacee Thompson, 64 and 6-1.

In doubles play:
1. King/Neja defeated Bilz/Hagland, 6-4, 6-0.
2. Standford/Thompson defeated Keli/Camarena, 6-2, 6-4.
3. Diehl/Sandford defeated Barrett/Thompson, 64-63.

Coach Page comments, “Beth and Amy had slow starts, but they were able to get on track and defeat their opponents easily after the first set. Our doubles were strong as they have been all season. Stout has had a large turnover of players this year.”

On Saturday the Pointers travelled to LaCrosse where they lost 2-7.

SINGLES:
1. Linda Tomshak lost to Jill Jacobson, 6-3, 6-4.
2. Beth Neja defeated Deb Rousier, 6-4, 6-3.
3. Amy Standford defeated Tricia Staehling, 6-7, 6-3, 6-4.
4. Chris Diehl lost to Beth Pick, 6-4, 6-4.
5. Amy Standford lost to Sarah Frieder, 34, 31, 6-0.

Doubles:
1. King/Neja lost to Jacobson/ Rousier, 7-5, 6-4, 6-7(3-7).
2. Standford/Thompson lost to Kuepper/Staehling, 7-6, 6-4.
3. Diehl/Sandford lost to Barrett/Thompson, 64-63.

Coach Page comments “the match was a lot closer than the final score indicates. Five of the nine matches went three sets, and we lost three tie breakers in doubles. Linda’s match lasted over two hours and most games went to 3-3. We’re disappointed, but we will meet them again at districts and conferences.”

Women’s Soccer Team

The Women’s Soccer team lost 3-1 last Wednesday at Lawrence. This took the Pointers to a 6-4-1 record. The single UWSP goal was scored by Karsten from a pass from Sue Kos.

Although the Lawrence team have more shots (10-7), they lost the net, the Pointers ousted the Vikings 9-0.

“This was a disappointing loss for us. Lawrence scored their third goal with a minute left in the game. We controlled most of the second half and had some opportunities,” says Coach Miech.

Last Saturday the women travelled to Manchester, MN, resulting in a 1-4 loss. The Pointer goal was scored by Sue Kos on a Barb Updegraff pass. The Pointers were outshot 13-2.

On Sunday the team travelled to Augustus, MN, and were once again one goal behind in a 6-1 loss. The Pointers were outshot 30-13.

Coach Miech commented, “We had a very competitive weekend playing up in Minnesota. We played extremely well with Teri Clyse having a great game. Players played extremely well and everyone contributed.”

Ruggers Beat Eau Claire

By Tom LaBoda Sports Writer

After two straight losses the St. Louis Rugby team was looking for a victory. And they got it just that by beating Eau Claire 26-13.

Point jumped out to a 13-7 halftime lead on the use of their speed. Tim “Shine” Barnes had a fantastic Point on top after receiving a pass from Jim “Dob” Ochocki and slipping into the try zone for a 7-4 lead.

Paul “Pitch” Pitchard extended the lead for Point following a line-out from outside the Eau Claire backs for the try. Freddieckson added the two-point conversion to make it 15-7. Freddieckson added a three point penalty kick.

Suicide: Don’t Avoid the Warning Signs

By Jennifer Backer

In the eighth seconds, a person will attempt suicide. In the next year, 400,000 people will attempt it, and possibly many more. School statistics apply to today’s college student.

Studies have shown that many aspects tie into a person’s attempt to kill him or herself. First, there is a seasonal aspect. The most common times for a person to be depressed and contemplate suicide are from February to March, and mid-October.

Second, brain chemicals have recently been shown to be an possible link to depression and suicide. Three of the brain's chemicals, (cortes, serotonin, and norrpinephrine), help a person to be emotionally stable, but a lack of any of them could cause depression, followed by a suicide attempt.

Third, a combination of depression and drugs helps the suicide idea become a reality.

A fourth aspect is a person's longing for attention. Their love and affection is unfulfilled in his or her life. The fifth and final aspect plays into whether or not they might attempt suicide. It has been proven over time that when men kill themselves than women, one of the reasons for this could be the death of a loved one.

These are just some of the aspects that can play a part in a suicide, and help suicide to be the third leading cause of death among young people today.

In the eighth seconds, someone will attempt suicide.

According to Professor Tom Craig in the 1996 suicide rates, the age group of people who attempt suicide is the 15-24-year-old age group.

Some reasons why a college student attempts suicide could be it has a better student-to-student relationship, (the student isn’t just a number), and it could be that the residence halls have passed the rate of 1996.

Therefore, colleges do have a suicide problem and it may be increasing. Have students always been so suicidal?

Some reasons why a college student may attempt suicide could be it has a better student-to-student relationship, (the student isn’t just a number), and it could be that the residence halls have passed the rate of 1996.

Suicide Attempts and Drug Use

Suicide attempts and drug use are not mutually exclusive. Drug use can sometimes be a factor in the decision to attempt suicide. However, drug use can also be a barrier to seeking help.

Some students might use drugs to escape their problems and avoid seeking help. It is important to recognize the signs of suicide and take action to prevent it.

Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week

Campuses around the country are gearing up for the fifth National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week (October 16-23), and the scores from previous E.A.T. (Equalitarian Attitude Tests) indicate a refrains for college campuses.

Fewer people, on average, take this test than at any other time in the past.

Recent national polling reveals that less than half the public knows the crucial facts:

• the most common causes of death (20 years, beer, 12 years, wine, 9 years, spirits, 7 years, coed-relationships, 6 years, beer)

• the number of college students who have died in an alcohol-related accident can be found in the last three years. Drinkers and non-drinkers alike are at risk.

1. Eat before going to a party and while you're there—never drink on an empty stomach. Solid food like cheese can slow down the alcohol absorption rate. If you're throwing a party, serve lots of munchies and plenty of mixes. Adding toica, soda, or other mixers to spirits or vine down the rate of alcohol intake.

2. Don't be pushed into drinking more than you can handle or pressure your friends to keep up with you. Everyone has an individual tolerance. Let your friends pace themselves.

3. Keep a watchful eye. Cocktails should contain no more than 1/4 of spirit ounce in common no more than 5 oz. serving and a typical serving of beer is 15 oz. If you're missing your own drink, use a shot glass to measure your liquor.

5. Know yourself—and your mood. If you're tired, drinking is an easy thing to do, but you may not be ready to drink it.

RESIDENT ASSISTANT PROGRAM

"Grow With The Experience"

Applications available from Lorraine Olski, First Floor, Delzell. Applications close Friday, October 28, 1988.
Crime at UWSP has escalated, putting our small-town university in the limelight and in the headlines of such notable publications as USA Today. The crime rate at UWSP is right up there with that of Big Ten schools, such as UCLA. Our question this week: "What do you think should be done about the crime problem on this campus?"

NAME: Aaron Christman
HOMETOWN: Bruce, WI
MAJOR: History
ACADEMIC YEAR: Jr
QUOTE: I think something like a student watchdog organization would be very effective.

NAME: Elizabeth Doolittle
HOMETOWN: Stevens Point
MAJOR: Pharmaceutical Medicine
ACADEMIC YEAR: Freshman
QUOTE: Campus Security should be tighter and students need to be more sensible when it comes to going out at night. Traveling in large numbers often detours the possibility of them becoming victims.

NAME: Joey Todd
HOMETOWN: Lake Geneva, WI
MAJOR: Biology
ACADEMIC YEAR: Senior
QUOTE: Employment of some new or more campus security officers that are concerned with the well-being of the students and not with writing parking tickets.

NAME: Julie Postier
HOMETOWN: Rochester, MN
MAJOR: Elementary Ed.
ACADEMIC YEAR: Soph.
QUOTE: I think the students should become involved in some type of crime watch program.

Alternative Sounds is presenting the three-man Milwaukee based band, Wooten Parrish for this Thursday’s TNT from 6-10 p.m. in the Encore room of the University Center.

The band performs all original music that can only be described as “U meets the Doors meets the Flamin’ Groovies,” according to Marilyn Mar of WIZR FM/WM

The group, made up of Staci Maloney (who had a lead role in the movie, “A Date with Anthony”), Danny James Buick and Keith Adams perform

“Thirst,” a One-Act Play

An all-student production of “Thirst,” a one-act play by Eugene O’Neill, will open at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 26 in the Studio Theatre of the UWSP campus.

Directed by Michael J. Ormond of Stoughton, the performance will continue at 8 p.m. on Oct. 27 through and 1 p.m. on Oct. 30. Tickets are on sale at the College of Fine Arts box office and at the door. The price of admission is $3 for the public and $2 for senior citizens.

One of O’Neill’s earliest plays, “Thirst” was written and produced in 1913 by the Provincetown Players. Ormond says very little is known about the production except that the playwright was a member of the cast—there are no reviews or records of subsequent performances.

Ormond describes the play as “a powerful and multi-layered exploration of some of O’Neill’s favorite themes which he further developed throughout his career.” It was one of the playwright’s first dramatic excursions of subjects such as man versus nature, materialistic values, selfishness, and lack of control over one’s destiny.

Cheap Trick

By Molly Rae

Features Writer

The rock band, Cheap Trick, with its current single, has made it the number one slot on the Billboard and MTV music charts, will perform Nov. 2 at UWSP.

The show will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Quade Gymnasium and includes a $1 ticket price. The band, Fonda Fratale. Tickets at $3.99 apiece are on sale at Shopko stores in Stevens Point, Wausau, Marshfield and Wisconsin Rapids and at the University Center information desk on campus.

Cheap Trick is currently touring in support of its latest album, “Lap of Luxury,” which includes the hit single, “The Flame” that has moved to the top of Billboard and MTV charts. The latest single, a rendition of Elvis Presley’s “Don’t Be Cruel,” is currently number one on MTV and the top 10 of Billboard’s list.

The plot involves the survivors of a shipwreck, a sailor, a dancer, and a gentleman, who are adrift in a lifeboat on the ocean. Starving and deserted, the characters are forced to deal with their ingrained fear and desperation. Ormond says the triangular relationship among the three people escalates the tension to a shocking conclusion.

John A. Voight of Andigio, a senior theatre arts major, will portray the gentleman. Voight has appeared in several UWSP productions, including the title role in O’Neill’s drama, “Beyond the Horizon,” directed by Ormond last fall, and “Man of La Mancha,” a recent student theatre production.

Playing the role of the dancer will be Jodi Lambert of Wausau, a sophomore theatre arts major appearing in her first UWSP production. Lambert will portray an extra in the Menasha, a transfer student. The dancer’s role is described by Ormond as a “powerful and sacred symbol” which he will be bestowed upon “the one who is destined to inherit the title of the sacred symbol of the conquest room.”

“Surrey with the Fringe on Top” will be performed by a small group of students, including drummer Jodi Lambert, bassist Jodi Lambert, and lead vocalist Jodi Lambert.

Another kiss follows and then the moment everyone has been waiting for arrives. All heads appear in the hallway, expecting to see Cheryl D'Arcy exit the sanctity of the conquest room.

There are giggles, guffaws, great grins, and outright belly laughs as everyone eyes eyes on...Elmer Funf's twin sister. All doors shut rather quickly and the creature leaves with a grin on her face; much as Lancelot after earning another soul.

After her exit, the doors open wide again and the hall is filled with laughter, finger pointing and a bewildered look on the face of your friend. In a naive tone he asks, “What’s so funny?” He already knows his fate and the futility of trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it. But pride dictates trying to avoid it.

“Surrey with the Fringe on Top.”

Heaton to Retire December

by Joe Harris

So you've finally bagged that trophy buck. The next thing you have to do is get the meat ready for storage. Here are a few tips to help insure that your meat will be good tasting and safe to eat.

1. If you have registered your deer and have brought it in, it is important to completely clean out the inner cavity of the animal and to hang it in order to prevent spoilage.

2. After the initial gutting of the deer, the insides should be washed out with a wet rag and rinsed with clean water. This will help remove any excess blood and anything you may have missed while field dressing it. By hanging up the deer with the skin on, they often don't smell as bad as you might think.

3. After skinning the animal, take a damp cloth and wipe off the outer surface of the deer in order to remove any large pieces of tallow (fat) from the carcass. The tallow may be used for a variety of purposes. Two of the most common uses are:
   a) As a soap for washing dishes.
   b) As a cooking or frying fat.

4. The fat is sometimes used for waterproofing boots and coats. In some areas of the country, the fat is traded for Indians who do not have a supply of soap.

Although the majority of hunters and fishermen do not clean their deer for them, many people still do it themselves. If you choose to do it yourself, you should be sure to do a few things which will make your meat more enjoyable to eat. Two of these things are:

1. To wash off any blood from the venison to, if nothing else, keep it clean. Also try to get out as many of the bone chips as possible. It is not pleasant to experience to bite into a chunk of meat that has pieces of bone or chips.

If you come across a piece of meat that has been damaged by your arrow or bullet, causing a blood clot on a portion of the flesh you should cut it out and throw it away. When you have removed cutting up the deer, take a damp cloth and wipe off the pieces of meat in order to get rid of any unwanted material which may have become stuck to them.

After you have cut up the meat you should wrap and freeze it quickly in order to insure freshness. Also, if you are going to be using it which may contain more than one animal, it is a good idea to try to use the packages so that you can eat the older meat first to help prevent freezing.

In addition to the things mentioned above, here are a few more things to remember when preparing your venison for storage:

1. Never keep an animal very long without at least field dressing it.

2. Do not save garbage bags to store game meat. Most garbage bags are treated with chemicals which can cause severe illness to humans who eat meat that has been stored in them.

3. In warm weather don't wait very long to clean your deer as waiting can cause spoilage.

When field dressing the animal be sure to remove all of the bone chips from the meat. This can be done by:

1. Using a large piece of cloth and wiping it over the outside of the shoe or boot along with some salt.

2. Using a sharp knife and removing the meat from the bone.

Dr. John Heaton believes that the success of his students is his greatest pride.

1996, Heaton also was actively involved in the faculty governance work leading to formation of the College of Natural Resources from the old Department of Conservation.

In Montana, he witnessed the successful recruitment, through peer political maneuvers, of a federally-funded Cooperative Education Unit. The unit is staffed by two Ph.D.-level scientists and enhance university industry programs through research and educational activities across campus.

His role in securing one of our UW-SP in the early 1970s was his major achievements here, he believes.

On his personal pride meter, the success of his students is at the top. There are more than 500 majors working across the country, including about 25 percent of the fish managers in Wisconsin.

The Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974 was passed to insure a safe water supply to all American citizens. Not much has been done since then to safeguard water supplies. He says that now 80% of US systems will need to be repaired due to contamination from drinking water. More information can be gathered from Ralph Nader's Drinking Water Newsletter, P. O. Box 13907, Washington, D. C. 20030.

Enclose a $10 or $11 with your address to cover costs for this non-profit effort.

The southern winter is drawing to an end and spring is coming to Montana. A research team just returned from a winter there and reported an amazing increase of plants and animals living in the polar ice cap. The pack ice that forms in the southern ocean is not solid but is like a Swiss cheese, the team found. In the holes live algae and other plants which feed on them. The most remarkable thing was the algae's ability to perform photosynthesis at or below freezing temperatures.

The recently ascending Great Lakes shipping industry may be going to a much greater extent than ever before from the south. Enough coal is now being shipped from the St. Lawrence to Duluth to be revitalized, as the ships are equipped to accommodate this increased traffic. Although the diesel fuel prices are at their highest in years, the shipping industry, with high rate traffic, is not affected by this increase in price. The shipping industry is a major business in the Twin Cities area, and the increase in traffic is expected to continue to grow.

The chemical contaminants are washed down to the lake by the turbines. These chemicals can lead to the formation of dead zones, which can create a serious problem for the lake. The water quality is very poor and the oxygen levels are low. The Lake Ontario is one of the most affected lakes in the world. The lake is called the "dead zone" because it has no oxygen and no life. The water is so clear that sunlight can penetrate to a depth of 200 feet. The lake is very shallow and there is a lot of sediment. The lake is very important to the local economy, and the local government is working hard to improve the water quality.

"Traditions in Action"
Fund-Raising Campaign

A $10,000 goal has been set for this fall's "Traditions in Action" fund-raising campaign to support student scholarships and other special projects at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

The drive will include a solicitation of nearly $135,000 in pledges, nearly all of which were paid. Besides collecting more money this year, the goal is to increase the number of donors beyond last year's 1,700 participants.

The drive is sponsored by the UWSP Foundation and is being coordinated by Gary Keller, executive director of the foundation, and Terri Taylor, assistant to the executive director.

One of the major uses of the money to be collected is the student scholarship program. Other expenditures will be made for the purchase of computers to be installed on campus, support of men's and women's athletic programs, faculty development projects and miscellaneous needs.

The first phase of the campaign is a mail solicitation, which includes a letter from Chancellor Philip Marshall telling how students and faculty members have achieved notable successes in research and scholarly activities as recipients of foundation grants.

Phase two of "Traditions in Action" will include a phonathon in which faculty, students, and alumni will volunteer their time to call graduates and encourage contribution. This activity will be carried out on weeknights from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. for three weeks. Then, there will be a follow-up mailing to serve as a final appeal to those who did not participate in the earlier solicitations.

The foundation staff is continuing to recruit volunteers to assist in the calling.

Ruggers

Eau Claire was able to add a penalty kick of their own before the half.

Said Point rugger Jeff "Griepa" Griepentrog, "we played well as a team to win, and you have to give our scrum a lot of the credit because they pushed Eau Claire all over the place."

Terry "Cheeks" France was able to score for Point in the opening few minutes of the second half to make it 11-7.

Eau Claire, however, cut the lead down to the four as they scored a try and conversion about midway through the second half.

Oshanski then put the game away for Point on a brilliant play as he was able to pop-kick the ball over the Eau Claire backs and get down to it. Tim Frank received the pass from Oshanski and got the try for the final score.

Point was also able to pull out a victory in the tidal game, 10-9

Rapping with... Coach John Miech

By Jimmy Cullen

Sports Writer

Seeing that the 1988 UWSP football season is almost halfway completed, I decided that I would have a talk with coach John Miech, and get his opinions on the season thus far.

Coach Miech informed me that even though this is a rebuilding year for the Pointers, the team's goal at the outset of the season was to win the WSUC. Miech said, "Because of our losses to LaCrosse and Whitewater we have had to re-establish our goal; our goal now is to win our last six games (the Pointers have already won two of those last six.)."

Miech also informed me that so far he is satisfied with the play of his young team (only four seniors on the starting team), and the future of Pointer football looks positive. Miech said to me, "It is very pleasing to hear the team talk about how they should've beat LaCrosse and Whitewater, and he just hopes they can win their last four games."

Miech added, "If we win our last four games we may be ranked in the top 16 nationally, in NCAA Division II, and then we would be invited to play in the national playoffs." Miech also said, "We must take one game at a time."

Miech informed me that the team has been improving in every area, and the defense (especially the line) has been playing exceptionally well. Miech also said, "We have to do the same as the offense."

Offensive leaders for the Pointers are Kirk Baumgartner, Jim Mares, Dan Meichling, and Theo Blanco, but the whole offense has been slaving very well; including the non-glamous offensive lineman. Baumgartner has been completing over 50 percent of his pass attempts for an average of 391 yards a game, and because Baumgartner has passed for over 3100 yards already this season he has moved into third place in all-time career passing leaders of UW-Stevens Point.

The team has third in total offensive leaders of UW-Stevens Point.

Miech said that the Pointers main receiving individual is Theo Blanco. Blanco has caught 45 passes for a total of 737 yards, and this has enabled him to move into second place in career Pointer receivers of receiving.

Blanco is currently tied for first place in the all-time career scoring leaders of UW-Stevens Point with 229 points. Baumgartner's two other receiving leaders are Dan Meichling, who had 39 receptions for 693 yards, and Jim Mares who has 66 receptions for 383 yards.

Mares is also the Pointers' leading rusher with an average of 6.8 yards per carry, 67 yards a game, and a total of 472 yards on the season. While Blanco leads the Pointers with 11.5 yards per punt return, Mares leads with an average of 18 yards per kickoff return. Mares also leads the Pointers with 392 yards per game in all-purpose running, and Theo Blanco is next with 138 yards per game.

Other offensive statistics show Todd Christiansen, Wausau (East), averaging 35 yards a punt, and David Schneider making 16 of 19 point after conversions. Schneider has also made four of five field goals from between 26-39 yards.

The whole Pointer defense has been playing exceptionally well, and its five main leaders are Bob Boettig with 37 solo tackles and 70 total tackles, Craig Verhagen with 18 solo tackles and 50 total tackles, Kevin Deates with 35 solo tackles and 48 total tackles, Mark Bloomer with 32 solo tackles and 43 total tackles (including five quarterback sacks) and 27 total tackles.

One final statistic shows the Pointers playing in front of a home crowd averaging 1400 spectators a game, and playing in front of an away crowd averaging over 4000 spectators a game.

Gruszynski Announces Waste-to-Energy Grants Available

As much as $50,000 is available to any company or municipality to help with waste-to-energy projects, according to State Rep. Stan Gruszynski (D-Stevens Point).

"For example, a business or municipality trying to use waste products to create steam or electricity, or trying to recover energy from waste oil, would qualify for the grant," Gruszynski explained.

The $1.4 million fund to help Wisconsin businesses and local governments develop lower energy costs and improve environmental quality, at the same time," Gruszynski pointed out.

Grants are available for almost any stage of the project, anywhere from feasibility studies to process testing and management. The only ineligible costs are capital construction costs and technology research and development costs.

The grants are awarded on a competitive basis and a 36 percent match is required. The application deadline is November 1, 1988.

"On January 16, 1989, $50,000 in grants will be provided," Gruszynski added. "I hope any eligible business or community in this area will look into this opportunity."

UAB Offers Mini-Course

Three non-credit mini-courses on nutrition, hypnosis, and career development will be offered during November at UWSW.

Sponsored by the University activities Board, the classes are: "Eating in the 80's: Food and the Lifestyle," led by Linda Zorn Newcomb, a registered diettitian from the National Wellness Institute at UWSW. Sessions will meet on five Tuesdays, beginning Nov. 1, from 8 to 9 p.m. in Room 102B of the University Center. People may sign up from Oct. 19 through 28 at the Campus Activities Window in the lower level of the University Center. The cost is $11 for the public and $8 for UWSW students.

The instructor says the course will cover everything people need to know to eat right for a healthy life. The topics will include: being a fat finder, healthiest fast foods, snack and lunch ideas, how to watch the scale and enjoy your life, eating for top performance, and supermarket survival tips.

"Hypnosis: Doorway to Our Expanded Self," will meet on five Mondays, beginning Nov. 7, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the University Center Communication Room. It will be taught by John Zach of UWSW's Career Services. The cost is $11 for the public and $8 for UWSW students.

People may sign up from Oct. 31 through Nov. 4 at the Campus Activities Window. Participants in the course will learn about and the use of hypnosis to develop in areas such as learning, problem solving, career development, sports, and health.

"What Color Is Your Parachute?" will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. at a location to be announced. It is free and open to the public. Led by David Swanson, a former member of the National Career Development Project staff, the presentation will include information about career developments and job hunting. Swanson who has lectured throughout the country to university, government, and private business groups is currently a counselor of Career Seminar Inc. Milwaukee.

Further information about the mini-courses is available through UAB, 940-3412.

Help

The UWSP Hockey team is forming a pay band to perform at the games this season.

They need your help!

Participants do not need to be presently involved in band at UWSW. Band members will receive Monetary Stipend for participating, plus a free UWSP Hockey Sweatshirt, along with free admission to home games.

Those interested please contact Coach Mark Mazonelli at x3332.

Two License-Plate State

The Police Department is reminding owners and drivers of motor vehicles that Wisconsin is still a license-plate state. Because they receive only one renewal sticker from the State (which should be affixed to the license plate on the rear of the vehicle), some persons may have the mistaken impression that they are no longer required to display the plate on the front of the car. The fact is under Wisconsin law both the front and rear plate must continue to be displayed. Officers will be watching for violations of this requirement and will be taking enforcement action. Wisconsin remains a 2-license-plate state.
