Walk on the wild side

Dear Editor:

In response to Brenda Gou- tin's editorials, "Take A Walk On The Wild Side," last week's Pointer, I have to question what purpose the piece was to accomplish. In my view, the editorial's focus was to stir up controversy. If this observation is incorrect, please accept my apology. However, no matter what the editor's purpose was, I'd like to clear up some misperceptions regarding this year's Homecoming theme.

To begin with, the interpret- tion of Lou Reed's song "Take A Walk On The Wild Side" will receive no argument from me. The song does tend to raise a focus on some very controversial issues. It is precisely for this focus that a 1960's/James Dean approach was taken to accompany the "Take A Walk..." theme. The main in- tent for this approach was to steer away from the controversi- al aura of Lou Reed's song while still allowing for some traditional Homecoming fun. When developing the approach, a number of points were kept in mind: 1) Homecoming is a cele- bration of traditions (i.e. past history), 2) flexibility, creativ- ity and the student body's ability to have fun with theme, 3) the University's reputation in the eyes of our campus, faculty, staff, and alumni. I'd like to mention that "Take A Walk On The Wild Side" was difficult to work with in its ability to stay on the positive side of these points due primarily to Lou Reed's song's title.

Hence, the focus was shifted to the "wild" days of the 1960's when the young people of that era broke out of the con- servative moulds and expecta- tions of preceding generations. Yes, controversial issues also arose during this era. We've been asking students to focus on these controversial issues, rather than asking students to view them through the eyes and viewpoints of the young people from the 1960's era.

In taking a breath after this explanation arises a question, "Why choose a phrase that is difficult to make work in a tasteful way?" Well the answer, my friends, comes from you. The theme originated from student suggestion and was chosen by student vote. A campus wide vote was held from March 3-10 in which students casted votes for three theme suggestions. "Take A Walk..." gathered over twice as many votes as the other phrase. This system was used in order to give students an opportunity to take part in the decision making process for something that so many take part in.

In closing I'd also like to mention that I'm surprised that the senior editor did not contact me regarding this topic. Had she talked with me directly, maybe some light could have been shed on the misunderstanding of our Homecoming theme and its approach.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for taking the time to print the lyrics to "Take A Walk On The Wild Side" by Lou Reed. It is easy to see how peo- ple may become offended by these lyrics. However, Ms. Gou- tin listed the lyrics to the slight- ly edited version that was the last version of the song, which is missing the verse: "Candy came from out on the island.

Once again, the description has been created by one of your staff members. tember 23 issue of the Pointer, I was Laraligned to reflect on what a pher- sity it is that I do not under- stand English. However, I was fortunate enough to have a friend explain to me that the editorial had something to do with taste, for a nice example of which I would like to direct the attention of readers and of the Pointer's senior editor, to an article by one Mr. "Westin," beginning on page 19 of the same issue in which Ms. Bou- tin's editorial appeared.

Dear Editor:

Just a quick note for the ben- efit of the hundreds of freshmen and seniors who may be doing their school supply shop- ping at the University Book­ store. Don't let the myridal- lighters, pens, notebooks, etc, instatecte your common sense to "shop around."

The bookstores' motto of "stu- dents helping students" should be changed to "the students' motto helpful to students..." For example, let's say you need a calculator. The Texas Instruments Model TI-35 plus seems like a good choice. So, you hand over the $29.95 needed to purchase the calculator at the bookstores. But what is this? A week later while browsing at "Shoppo" or "E-Mart" you find the same model TI-35 plus for $19.97 and 29¢ respectively? Surely there must be some mistake?

The "University Bookstore" wouldn't charge you an extra over other retailer's prices wouldn't they? "They're students helping students..." or are they?

It is with my deepest regrets that I must present this column of September 17, 1984, and make a formal apology to my friends and followers of the late, great, and beloved Buffly. The following misprint appeared in my column: "are we going to Buffly's, or what?" In fact, it should have read: "are we going to The Big Moon Saloon, or what?" I regret that the more skilled readers of The Pointer - those of you reading above the sixth grade level - may have incorrectly read between the lines and inferred I was suggesting that Buffly's is a less than desirable establishment, and that it should not be frequented. The truth is that I have only ever been to Buffly's on one occasion, and although, during my brief visit, I was witness to a particularly inebriated individual leaving his cookies on the bathroom floor, I had no business suggesting that Buffly's Bar is anything less than a four star bar. I stand corrected. And now, to this week's column! In this, my fourteenth year as a columnist, I am delighted to announce that I am still here at UWSF, I am beginning to get a pretty good feel for college life. What makes being a college student so difficult is that after going to class, after working, after partying, after class, after the Pointer, after watching the women across the street un-dress in your telescope, after giving yourself a facial, after staring at the television, after watching television, after finishing your room, after cleaning the woodswork in your apartment, after shaving your teeth, and after shaving your teeth, there never any time left to cook yourself a really great meal. And remember, you are what you eat! Therefore, in my never-ending attempt to improve and enrich the lives of you - the loyal reader of The Pointer - I have decided to make public three of my favorite, great tasting, easy to prepare recipes. Recipe 1.) Soup a la Campbell's. Ingredients: One can of Campbell's Soup. The really great thing about this recipe is that after you are finished eating, you will not have any dishes to wash up. All you have to do is open up one can of Campbell's Soup - any variety (preferably the kind you don't have to add water). The next step is to take a scissors and remove the label. Place the can on the stove and turn on the burner. Continue to heat, and stir often until contents of the can are all melted. Serve with a nice red wine, such as MD 88/90 (1988 is a very good year). I have found that homemade

Liberal

Liberals have always been the first to pontificate tolerance, equality, and social justice. That is why I find it so ironic that, at times, they refuse to hear any idea but their own.

Case in point: John Deeth's letter last week (which I read, admit, set new record for rhetorical inanity.) Mr. Deeth is part of the ilk that moralize and aggrandize against those "horrible" country-club Republicans. Mr. Deeth should pay a visit to the country club - as did Franklin Roosevelt, John Kennedy, and Lyndon Johnson. Those lin­eolnites liberals were wealthier than Mr. Deeth's "friend" Dan Quayle.

Mr. Deeth whines about a lack of honesty among today's leaders. Last we forgot Ted Kennedy, Mario Biaggi, and Jim Wright. Before we return Quayle, let's talk about honesty - John Kennedy holds records yet to this day on Capitol Hill (ask any woman lobbyist from those days, peace was made). And now we have Mike Dukas, the new golden boy of the Middle East. Let's return to the good ol' days of Carteresque foreign affairs and runaway spending. Let's turn this nation into the People's Republic of Texas.

Mr. Deeth has the audacity to bid "peace" to his readers. What is this, a lesson form Yoda? Mr. Deeth, a T.A. is in the Communications Dep't, a dis­credit to his own students' abili­ itly to challenge, question and think. After all, when your coat is so thick with "Stop the Arms Race" buttons, what student would dare argue, and, heaven forbid, appear biased. Remember Mr. Deeth, what Wilson, FDR, Truman and Johnson all have in common - it sure isn't peace, unless you care to re­write history while you're at it.

One day I know Mr. Deeth's corpse wake up and realize who is A (Balancing the check­book), and B (has been paying the bills... namely, THEIR SALARY!!). It happens to be to us who have been expelled from the ivory tower for believing in anti-racism, personal re­sponsibility, and less govern­ment. And yes, we even say The Pledge of Allegiance and observe Flag Day! We also, unfortunately, respect, and toler­ate the most disrespectful, blatant­ly nutty gallery of re­grets... the Tom Hayden's, the Abbie Hoffman's, the Carles Mannon's, and the Timothy Leary.

Before you tear apart the ROTC, remember that it is or­ganizations such as this that do not force anyone to join. You aren't against individual choice, are you?

All amazing, these liberal hypocrites, who decry the infa­mity of the military, are the first to seek out for Heads up, and then chastise Sen. Quayle. Perhaps someone should tell them that blood has been shed for their ideology, and not to their content. Any volunteers?

With apologies,

"The real challenge"

For some students at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, "the real challenge" is finding ways to be finacially rather than academically.

That assessment is from Philip George, director of the Office of Student Financial Aid. A problem has developed for those students whose assistance is being cut.

Those who are closest to the middle income levels are likely to lose the most, he reports.

This year the U.S. Congress implemented a new method of determining eligibility containing many restrictive features. According to George, the new law requires that students will be able to make a final contribution toward the cost of education based upon their prior year's earnings.

Another restriction presumes that independent students with dependents of their own should provide more of a share of the cost. Financial aid programs should only support the needs of the student and not the student's family.

Financial aids officers at the university have worked on the problem with the new formula assumes that students will have to work out debt and salaries which may not be the case.

George noted that he and his staff counselors "can and will exercise professional judgment in cases where hardship circumstance cannot be documented. Adjustments can be made in individual situations. Special educational costs, extraburden medical-related expenses or unique financial needs will be recognized. Income losses as the result of the recent drought will also be considered.

A positive change, he added, is that students eligible for finacial aid may now participate in the regular work program on campuses without affecting other aid.

One area being heightened is the loan program. There is more money for outright grants that do not need to be repaid. The total amount of aid may be close to that distributed last year, only the distribution will be different. There already are 720 denial of aid requests for students this year. Last year there were 500.

The total number of aid recipients approved or pending so far for the coming year is 3,042. Last year, the count was slightly over 4,000 at year end.

In 1987 a total of $6.3 million in loans went to 3,306 students. As of present, $3.6 million in loans has been approved for 2,351.

If you have been the victim of a crime, or have observed suspicious activity and are uncertain what to do, the following information may be of assistance to you:

1. Remain calm and ensure your own personal safety.
2. If you observe a suspicious activity or a crime in progress, look closely at the perpetrator. Attempt to remember the most identifiable characteristics of the person such as: height, weight, build, age, sex, eye color and type of clothing worn, etc. If any type of vehicle is involved, attempt to record the number and color of the vehicle's license plate. Color, license, age of the vehicle, and any outstanding features are also important to note. If you are able to make written notes as soon as possible.
3. Report the incident as soon as possible. Delay in reporting may cause the loss of information, (i.e. evidence, witnesses, suspect, etc.), necessary to solve the case. If the incident occurs on the UWSP Campus, contact the Police Department at 346-2020.
4. Be prepared to give the exact location of where the incident is occurring. Stay on the phone until the other person hangs up on you. Remain near the phone you called from until officers arrive.
5. If you are aware of someone who has been victimized or has information about a crime or suspicious activity, encourage that person to make a report. Reports can be made on an anonymous basis.

One of the startling facts about crime is that for almost every unsolved incident, there is someone else who has knowledge of who the offender is. The key is in becoming an informed and aware citizen.

Chancellor Search in Progress

J.P. Harris

Reporter

In January 1989, Chancellor Phillip Marshall will be leaving his post at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point to teach chemistry. Marshall has held the position since 1979. The search for the school's 11th chancellor is well under way.

A 15 member committee, headed by Eugene Johnes, has been chosen to screen the list of qualified applicants. Johnson is a Chemistry professor and is Assistant Dean of the College of Letters and Science. The long process of finding a replacement began early last year when the vacancy was posted in higher education journals across the nation. As of the August 1 deadline, 113 applications had been received. Among the list included several minority and a few women. Most applicants are currently employed in the field with a number of them currently holding administrative positions.

Johnson says "We hope to be through with our portion of it by the end of October." The committee meets on a weekly basis to weed out and narrow the field of those still in contention.

As of August 19th, the list had been narrowed to a field of 29 still in the running.

Greg Dieckroger, a 1988 alumnus, has returned to the UWSP campus this year to interview for the position of Assistant Director of Campus Activities, replacing Rick Gerber who left the university this summer.

Dieckroger, originally from Green Bay, graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Communications, then moved to Madison for a job in marketing and promotion in a professional audio company. Most recently he was the Assistant Production Manager for the Madison Festivals of the Lakes, a five-day event held over Labor day weekend.

"There is a good possibility for major concerts this year that are being looked into," said Dieckroger. "Stevens Point is rich in tradition, keeping up the quality programming is what I want to stress this year."

Student Success Seminar

by Blair Cleary

Although it got just a wee bit chilly during the seminar, the participants who showed up in the Treessum, mesh tents and canopies, the 1998 Success Seminar was considered a success by most students that attended.

The participants departed from Stevens Point Friday afternoon on a two and one half hour bus ride to Camp Luther, located in northern Lake Wisconsin, the site of this year's Success Seminar.

The participants were divided into cell groups which were named after such investment firms as Paine Webber, Charles Schwab, and Smith Barney to reinforce to the campus leaders who attended that this was an investment in their future. People from campus organizations such as UAB, RHA, and SGA were among the people in attendance.

The leadership programs included mini-sessions for small groups on such topics as problem recognition, group motivation, the difference between managers and leaders, recruiting for organizations, and assertiveness. In addition to this, there was a large group presentation on Leadership at U.W.S.P. Where do you fit in as a leader on The keys to credibility and a panel discussion on leadership.
Pointers Beat UW-LaCrosse

By Jimmy Callen

Sports Writer
The Pointers will lead into this weekend's key WSC contest against Northland in a battle with UW-LaCrosse.

Kirk Baumgartner completed 36 of 36 passes and threw for six touchdowns. The Blancos were on the receiving end of 14 of those passes for 180 yards, and also caught two TD’s. Don McKenney also had a big game as he gained 75 yards in pass receiving. Jim Maros not only caught two TD’s, but the main running back for the Pointers gained 98 yards on six rushing attempts for a total of 146 offensive yards and one touchdown.

The Pointers aerial attack gained them 46 yards and their best running attack garnered 14 yards for the season gained them another 145 yards.

The Pointers first touchdown occurred near the end of the first quarter when Baumgartner hit John Johnson from Twin Lakes (Wilmette), for his first touchdown reception of the season; the extra point failed, but it would not be a factor on this drive as Valparaiso struck right back, though after one quarter of play the score was 7-6 in favor of Valparaiso. The Pointers had the advantage of scoring first and then driving at will before Baumgartner and Johnson hooked up for their TD. However, we were only down 7-6 by the end of the first quarter.

The Pointers countered and took the lead 14-7 when Baumgartner completed seven of eight passes enroute to a 73 yard scoring drive. “The Pointers third possession of the football saw Baumgartner throw his second interception of the day and this set up Valparaiso’s second touchdown at the Pointers 11-yard line.”

After an exchange of punts, the Pointer defense moved the Valparaiso line of scrimmage from the 23-yard line to the three-yard line, setting up excellent field position for the Pointer offense at Valparaiso 33-yard line. The offense complimented the defense by quickly scoring a TD and at halftime the score was 21-13 in favor of Stevens Point. I don’t believe the Pointers ever claimed to be a hall control type of team and this was apparent in the second half when the Pointer’s offense had the ball for just over 10 minutes and when the Pointers had the ball they scored five times out of nine possessions.

A close game turned into a rout as the Pointer’s aerial attack struck for three TD’s on its first three possession of the second half. Before Valparaiso knew what hit them, the score was 45-13 in favor of the Pointers, the only consolation for Valparaiso was the fact that three quarters of play were done.

The Pointer’s fifth unanswered TD was an 83-yard run by Maros during the Pointer’s second possession of the fourth quarter. Substantial offensive and defensive substitutions took place at this point and they did a fine job for the purple and gold. Valparaiso added a touchdown down to their score, but UWSP also added a touchdown when White Lake native Robert Ros- toff guided the Pointers 87 yards and threw a TD pass to Benito Alba from Hamilton High in Milwaukee to make the final score 56-13 Pointers.

One of the many reasons the Pointer offense was so successful is the fact that the Pointer defense played its best defensive game of the year (led by Bob Bobstad who had 11 tackles) by allowing their opponent to gain only 206 total yards. Five times the defense forced the opposition to punt from deep in its own territory thus enabling the Pointer offense to start their drives from within the 50-yard line. The Pointers take a win-live record of 3-2 into this Saturday’s game against the 5-0 Indians of LaCrosse. The Pointers are 6-0 in WSU play and La-Crosse has fallen to their 3-4-2 win over UW-Platteville last week. Now don’t party too much before the game because it should be a game-and-a-half to win.

Two Wins For Point Soccer

By J. Patrick

Sports Writer

The UWSP Men’s Soccer Club improved its overall record to 6-2 with victories against Northland College in Ashland last Wednesday and against Milwaukee School of Engineering this past Saturday.

Against Northland, Stevens Point had to overcome several obstacles in order to come away with the win. "We moved some people around due to other players not being available," said tri-captain Tim Foye. "We only had 11 players so there wasn’t the opportunity to substitute for our tired people."

The team did the job with only 11 players as they got their first 40 minutes of play as Foye took a cross-pass from Dave Valentine and put a left-footed volley towards the right corner of the goal and past the Northland goalie.

The entire Point team played well with several players playing well above their usual level. Senior Perecza, Kopp, Dow and Fobbe Prokop also played as the Point defense all did their job well, as was evidenced by their slow wearing down. "We were lucky to be playing on a smaller-sized field," said tri-captain John Clark. "It gave us the chance to control the soccer tourney, which they won last year.

The Runners

by Timothy Rechner

Both the Men’s and Women’s soccer teams traveled to Whitewater Saturday to run a course on an excellent day. The Men’s team finished out of 4 teams present and the women finished out of 8 teams present.

"As a team we looked we looked pretty bad. However, we have people who play every game and they are very well. Renee Buren and Mike Arells are good players and excellent races. If they keep improving the way they are, they can do well. The top runners had this week off as the Wisconsin-Oshkosh meet next week. "Coach Hill Player-of-the-week award was given to Todd Green for the men and Renee Buren for the women.

Soccer

The women’s soccer team split a two game series this weekend, beating Whitewater 4-1 and losing to Lawrence 2-1. In the Lawrence game the only goal for our team was kicked from a pass from a fake by Jill Kielwanz. Updeath played a great defensive play by scoring three goals against Whitewater with another by Val. From the U-W-Platteville game last Wednesday, Stevens Point controlled the rest of the ball, waiting Northland to make the first score, but UWSP could not put the second ball, but couldn’t put the rest of the ball to the goal line. The Pointers will boot UW-Oshkosh on Wednesday, September 28 at 4 pm.

Other players cited by the team were Tom Layedendeker, Jean-François Fauconnier, Mitchell Mike and Mike Harbert.

On Saturday Stevens Point played UW-Oshkosh on the road and this time south as they traveled to take on the men of the Milwaukee School of Engineering. In the first half of the game, in spite of being outplayed by their opponents, they only had a lead of one point and then they traveled to the net. A Point goal was called back due to a player being offside. Several good shots were made by Point player were either just wide or off their mark, which made the 9-4 tie at the half.

At 15:24 into the second half, Stevens Point found the net as Tim Foye scored his sixth goal in as many games as he took a Mike Harbert pass to put Point at 49-41 as he scored unassisted from a corner kick that went past the Milwaukee defenders and their goalkeeper.

This gave Point a 50 lead which lasted the rest of the game. This gave Point goal as John Clark in his third shutout of the season.

We have scored several more goals in the game," said tri-captain Clark, "but the referees did not call them. "The first goal was a close, which caught us. Tom Figueiro, our right wing, had a wide-open goal and was called back by the referee." Stevens Point is on the road this weekend as they travel to Houghton, MI to play in the annual Michigan Tec-
The intramural department is trying to figure out why participation has been down this year compared to other years. The declining ratio is not overwhelming, but it is something they feel should be looked into.

With a new class of incoming freshmen, things are most likely going to be different. A main point the intramural department is planning to accomplish is to inform the new students of what the intramural department is and what they do. The intramural department has added a new position this year with this job in mind, and from speaking with the supervisors this new position is working out perfectly.

So what events are up and what events are down? Outdoor soccer and the annual golf tournament have both been cancelled due to the fact that only one team has entered each event. The number of participants in the horse shoe competition is also down from the number that it was last year. The men's softball tournament that was held this past weekend only had five teams entered.

Other sports like football and beach volleyball are staying the same in number, as compared to last year. Problems have also entered into the successes of some of these sports. The number of playing fields has been cut due to a damaged varsity practice field that had to be reseeded. The number of volleyball courts has been increased but because of no demand the intramural department had to start charging forfeit fees for court sports.

When asking why the sudden change in participation, Intramural Student Supervisor Heather Seering replied, "This is a new breed of students coming into the university." She also described it as, "These people aren’t as active, they feel studying is more important." Volleyball Supervisor Lisa Bonche said that she was upset that these students didn't realize that to be fit mentally you had to also be fit physically.

The intramural department has also had to rearrange the starting dates for indoor floor hockey due to the resurfacing of Quandt Gymnasium. All in all, the intramural department feels that the numbers will come back up to where they have been in the past. They said that it may just take a little time for everybody to get settled in and see what is around.

Point Rugby

The Stevens Point Rugby Club faced one of their toughest tests of the young season. And even though they didn't pass it with flying colors they did come out on top, as they handed Stout a hard-fought 14-10 defeat.

Point came back from a 10-4 second half deficit for the victory. After a sloppy first half, in which numerous mistakes kept Point off the scoreboard, Stout broke through to open up a 4 to 0 halftime lead.

Point back Jim "Osh" Osbashi said, "we had plenty of opportunities to score, but mental mistakes kept us out of the game." The second half turned out to be a different story for Point as they rallied behind a strong scrum. After tying the score at 10-10, a try by Joe D.J. Pike, Stout took advantage of two critical mistakes by Point as they booted two penalty kicks for a 14 to 10 lead.

Jeff "Griz" Grisestroy stated, "even after we were down in the second half none of the guys gave up, we knew as long as we kept hustling we had a chance to pull this one out." Scrummer Todd "Freddy" Predovich slipped the try zone following a line out from five meters away. Predovich added the two-point conversion to knot the score at ten.

A brilliant run by Ed Bradshaw resulted in the final try, Bradshaw broke a couple of tackles as he was able to get outside and score. Point held off a late threat by Stout to hold on to the win, and raise their record to 3-4.

The Beise however, didn't fare as well as they suffered a 18-10 setback. Dave "The redhead" and Steve "The New Guy" each scored a try and Tom "Boda" Laiuda added a two point conversion as Point trailed 15-10 at the half. Beise couldn't put it in the try zone in the second half as their record dropped to 1-4.

Point will take on Northern Michigan this weekend. The match is set for 1 p.m. next to lot Q.

The plot is typical Tom Cruise crime—boy meets girl, boy kills girl, boy and girl break up and then get back together. But if the plot is a bit edible at times and the characters slightly stereotyped, the audience can't be mind. The back-and-forth action between Planagan and Glad, the fancy battle between two bakers, and the deadly sex scene with S. and raise lend this movie its realism, (and of course, Cruise's even though it's the box office ratings).

The soundtrack runs the gamut from the Beach Boys' "Kokomo" and John Cougar Mellencamp's "Rave On" to Bobby McFerrin's "Don't Worry, Be Happy." It's a good blend of music, with songs to appeal to a variety of musical tastes.

Instructor Librarian

As you may already know, the University Library Catalog has been up and running since early June, and except for some minor glitches in the beginning, its operation has been smooth and reliable. The Online Catalog provides access to all books, non-book items, and journal titles owned by the University Library and to a large number of documents held in the Government Publications area. Journal holdings are not yet loaded but should be by the beginning of second semester. The Catalog is linked to the main circulation system, allowing users to hold immediately if a title is checked out. We expect the Reserve circulation system to be brought up during second semester.

There are 12 public terminals available with the Library (11 on the first floor and the rest distributed on floors two through six), and by the middle of the semester all campus personal computers linked to the Internet network should be able to access the Online Catalog too. We believe this should be a real boon to those of you doing library research or working on course bibliographies.

The search system is user friendly, especially for the Author, Title, and Subject searches formerly done with the card catalog. However, the Online Catalog also allows for many other ways to search, including Key Word, Call Number, ISBN, etc. You will need to explore these alternatives to discover the most appropriate methods for your discipline and/or your personal research needs.

To help you get started, the Library staff is offering a series of ongoing instructional sessions specifically for faculty and staff. The sessions will be held in the smaller computer lab in the basement of the LRC at the following times:

* Thursday, September 29 at 4:30 P.M.
* Friday, September 30 at 9:00 A.M.
* Friday, September 30 at 1:00 P.M.

If you are interested in attending one of these sessions, please call Marianne Nielson (the Library secretary) at X388. Space is limited to 15 people per session so please make your reservation early.

If none of these times slots in convenient or if the slot you need is already filled, please leave your name, number, and desired time slot with Marianne, and we’ll make every effort to accommodate you.

Finally, please remember that if at any time you need assistance with the Online Catalog, you are welcome to consult with the Reference librarian on duty, either in person or at ext. 304.

"The runner stumbles" opens at COFA

"The Runner Stumbles," a psychological drama based upon a 1911 murder trial, will open at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 7 at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

Directed by Susan Rush of the theatre arts faculty, the production will be staged in the Jenkins Theatre of the Fine Arts Complex. Curtain time is 8 p.m. on Oct. 7, 8 and 9. Tickets are on sale at the College of Fine Arts box office.

Playwright Milan Sutt adapted his story from the transcripts of the trial of a priest in Traverse City, Mich. Father Brian Rivan (played by Todd A. Sickett of Antigo), a middle-aged cleric, is accused of murdering a young man, Sister Rita (Susan Spencer of Green Bay), in 1982. Because he has been living in Detroit for several years, Rivan is not tried until five years later.

The story is told in a series of scenes, juxtaposed with flashbacks of situations leading up to the crime.

Rush describes the priest as "a man in a public position in a world of solitude. No matter how hard or how long he runs, he can't escape himself," she explains in interpreting the title. "The one thing can be said for many of the play's characters— they are not psychologically whole, accurately wrong with them and the world in which they live."

Cinderella at Sentry

"Cinderella," Rossini's comic opera, will be performed by The Minnesota Opera Company at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 12, at the Sentry Theater.

The English-language production is sponsored by the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point's Performing Arts Series. Tickets are available at the College of Fine Arts box office.

The opera brings the tale of princes, balls and glass slippers to life in a new touring production. Rossini's "Cinderella" adds a few twists to the original story, bringing a court philosopher, a disguised prince and a greedy stepfather together with the mere familiar characters in a mix-up of mistaken identities and family rivalries.

The performance is part of a seven-week Midwest tour presented by The Minnesota Opera Company. The company specializes in providing opera experiences to audiences which usually don't have the opportunity. The troupe has brought 20 productions to more than 245,000 people in 151 upper Midwestern cities since its beginning in 1979.

The opera is under the musical direction of Dale Johnson, artistic director of the tour and assistant music director for the company's mainstage season. The production is staged by Alexia Kolia. The cast includes mezzo-soprano Mary Burt Keller in the title role and tenor Bruce Fowler as Prince Ramiro. Don Magnifico is sung by baritone John Andreassen, and Clorinda and Tisbe are portrayed by sopranos Nancy Lillie and mezzo-soprano Miriam Langsjoen.

During the day on Oct. 12, the public may observe master classes in stage movement from 9 to 11 a.m., acting/coaching from 1 to 3 p.m. and vocal performance from 3 to 5 p.m. Also, a class in arts management is being arranged and the company will perform "A Dark and Stormy Night at the Opera" from 1 to 1:45 p.m. at Washington School. Further information is available by calling 346-2385.

FAST TRACK, the honorary Business organization for high-achieving business students at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, is looking for Business, Economics and Accounting students interested in personal growth and active participation in the 1997 "Student Organization of the Year."

The purpose of FAST TRACK is to provide its members with learning opportunities beyond the usual repertoire of the classroom, co-curricular and extra-curricular experience. Some of the activities include dinner meetings with area executives, field trips to corporate headquarters and career workshops.

To take advantage of this worthwhile opportunity, pick up an application and FAST TRACK brochure in the Business Advising Office, 304 CCC. Applications must be returned to 002 Old Main Building no later than Monday, October 1.

Campus Activities
by Susan Hanson

Tuesday night over 300 students crowded into the Encore room to watch the 1st annual Homecoming Talent Night sponsored by RHA and UAB.

Residence Halls Campus Organization and fraternity members participated in the event. Live bands to male and female exchanging seacules performed and all were well received.

The top five performers were chosen and their placements were announced at the end of the Homecoming activities among the top five were Baldwin, Hansen, Seale, Roach and Watton Halls.

A few amusing comments from upper classroom were that they were impressed with the audience and turnout. All were high spirited and brought past memories of on-campus living, the unity of halls and friendshipships made the night was entertaining as well as worth seeing. If you didn't catch it this year, make sure to see it in 1998.
The advisory recommends that no one east of mallards down from the Sheboygan River from Sheboygan Falls downstream to Lake Michigan; from the Milwaukee River from Highway 111 in Thielenville upstream to the Lime Kiln Dam at Graton; from the Appleton and the New River to the Bridge of Visions; and from Water Park to Oconomowoc Harbor and from Menomonee to the Milwaukee River.

Also listed in the "don't eat" category are black ducks and ruddy ducks from the Milwaukee-West Allis and lesser scaup (bluebills) from the Sheboygan River.

Health officials also advise removing all skin and visible fat before cooking and discarding drippings or stuffing (because they may retain fat that contains PCBs) from mallard ducks from the Lower Fox River (from Wausau to the confluence with the Wisconsin River at Green Bay, and from lower Green Bay south of a line from Point Sebeka west to the west shore of Green Bay.

A recent change in the state statute has increased the penalties for killing endangered species, such as the bald eagle. Fifty-one percent of farmers and 35 percent of non-farmers opposed closing coyote hunting during season.

Thirty-six percent of the farmers and 23 percent of the non-farmers agreed that wolves threaten livestock. A majority of both groups would like to see some governmental compensation for farmers, an livestock damage due to wolves (91 percent of farmers, 74 percent of non-farmers) and live trapping and removal of predators (64 percent of farmers, 78 percent of non-farmers).

Bobcats were found that people are not afraid of wolves and are not afraid that wolves will hurt the deer herd," added Nelson.

Respondents did not view the well as a threat to deer populations—they tend to see hard winters and poor hunting as having larger influences. Twenty-seven percent of the farmers and 18 percent of the non-farmers regard wolves as a deer population threat.

"Whether farmer or non-farmer, people have an appreciation for the aesthetic quality of the wolf, and many of them are concerned with wolf protection and restoration," the survey report said. "We found that people aren't very much concerned with the wolf as they are with possible restrictions placed on their hunting and trapping or timber wolf recovery."

Dependants of the survey report, "Research Management Findings, No. 13," can be obtained by writing the Department of Natural Resources, Research, Department of Natural Resources, 57 Martin Street, Madison, Wisconsin 53707, or calling 608-266-4526.

MADISON, WI — Sales of state privatized deer licenses declined 12 percent in 1987, an "alarming trend," said Stephen J. Beach, Chief, Bureau of Wildlife Resources, Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

According to the bureau, sales of smallmouth bass stamps totaled 157,864, in 1987, that figure rose to 163,272.

License sales for small game were also down. The number of bear hunting licenses increased in 1987, which increases were not as large as had projected, said Donald Poole, Chief, Division of Law Enforcement. Poole noted that resident deer sales increased by 13 percent, and sales were made available.

Though he has retired from his faculty and administrative duties, Nelson will not be on the committee. The UW System Board of Regents has named Nelson as chancellor of the UW System.

In addition, friends and state legislators have contributed more than $10,000 to a Dan Trauner Fund that will be used to fund seminars and special projects in the college. Contributions continue to be received by the UWSP Foundation, Inc. 1989."
A Blast From the Past—Homecomings

From the banks of old Wisconsin...drifts the air of excitement from the 1955 Homecoming. It's time to forget the future and relive the past with those who were former Pointers. Old Friends become new to many, new faces become familiar, and familiar to us all is the anticipation of this annual celebration.

Last night began the series of festivities planned for this occasion. A dance at the student union, featuring the swing band and presenting the four queen candidates, highlighted the evening. Phi Sigma Epsilon, in charge of the dance, introduced Joan Dupuis, Marie Dero, Joyce Schottman, and Nancy Hager as the girls seeking the 1955 title.

There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight, as Tau Kappa Epsilon, assisted by the Freshman class, sets a match to the bonfire. The roaring blaze is scheduled to begin at 7:30 at Schmeeckle Field. Immediately following, Sigma Phi Epsilon will lead CSC students in dressing fashion to the Public Square. Here a pep rally will be held with the torch parade returning to the campus.

Friday brings the parade of minable masses to CSC, as Hobo Day begins. There are prizes for the best patches, the funniest hats and the worst bags. Just swipe those chintzy blue-jeans that your roommate keeps wearing, borrow your gal's bedroom slippers, ask the cheerleader lady for some of her scrunch rags and you'll look just like a page out of Hobo Vogue.

The mystery of the week will be solved at 3 p.m. during the pep assembly, when the captain of the football team crowns the queen. Homer Flumb is the master of ceremonies for the event.

Friday evening finds the Men's Glee club in a reunion at the home management house. An informal dance for all CSC students and alumni will be held from 9:11 in the Debelief Union.

Finally that day—Saturday—will come! The hammering steps, the music begins, and the Homecoming parade is under way. Greg Kryshak, parade marshal, will supervise the stream of floats that will parade over Clark and Main Streets to the Public Square and return. The event will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the Pointers will be challenging the Quakers as the strolling gridiron at Goerke Park becomes a maze of purple and gold. It's the Pointers going against and painting Whirlwind's victorious attempt to get that pigeon and keep it.

Following the game there will be open house for all at Debelief Hall from 3:30 to 5:30, under the direction of the Faculty alumni committee, with Mrs. Marjorie Kerst, chairwoman.

Bringing the big day to a close will be an informal dance sponsored by the S. I club at the P.J. Jacoby High school gymnasium at 9 p.m.

Sunday at 2:30 in the afternoon, the Men's Glee club will present the annual Homecoming concert. Following the program, the events and festivities will be Open House at Nelson Hall.

But these are slight differences from the same, the parade, the bonfire and the snake dance. In one past, it was customary that the bonfire be held after snake dance. One eventful Homecoming, someone set fire to the bonfire pile before the snake dance dance down town. Imagine their surprise when they reached the campus and found the fire department putting out the last sparks. (Watch that scrap pile, folks— spontaneous combustion's a real bummer.)

Twas an October day, way back somewhere in the twenties. Townsmen lined the main vista of this lovely city to view the students in parade, as CSTC celebrated its annual Homecoming. Materials were plentiful and so effort was spared to make the floats original and beautiful. All organizations were represented and practically all of the students were in the parade.

A highlight of this particular parade was a horse-drawn hay rack bearing the faculty women. There was much cheering between groups, as noise was a characteristic of all Homecoming celebrations. Things were going along beautifully when someone in a burst of exuberance shot off a cannon. Naturally, the horses were frightened and nearly upset the hay rack with its stately cargo. It would have been a run-away, but not the driver, a gracious lady of the faculty (who is still with us, incidentally) held the team in check and thus saved the day for CSTC. Such were the dazzling deeds of a bygone day. Of course, details varied from year to year. On one occasion everybody came dressed in costume; on another, the members of the faculty, garbed in clown suits, rode in their cars, all decorated alike in purple and gold.

The 1941 Homecoming will be ushered in by yellow chrysanthemums. For the first time in Homecoming history, they will not only be informal, but informal dance for all CSC students will be held at the H.C. at 9-11. Miss May Roach, a veteran rooter of CSTC teams, puts it well when she says, "We've had more than our share of winning, and we've done a fine job of taking our losses too. A defeat never seemed to dampen the spirit of the Homecoming."

For many of the students, last week's Homecoming festivities marked their first chance to observe and participate in a college Homecoming celebration. This account of Homecoming a quarter-century ago, should prove interesting to comparision.

The 1941 Homecoming will be ushered in by yellow chrysanthemums and the pep assembly on Thursday morning at thirteen thirty o'clock. At this gathering, the students of CSTC will begin "whoooping it up" for the actual homecoming activities which will begin with the traditional snake dance Friday evening. The dance will lead to Schmeeckle Field, scene of the freshman bonfire and then to the Training School Gym for the "College Combustion." Shortly after these affairs, the annual pre-homecoming dance will be held at Hotel Whiting, with music furnished by Beny Graham and his six-piece orchestra. To accommodate the returning alumni, the dance will be informal, the dress code being a deviation from the former custom of semi-formality. Admission will be seventy-five cents for each couple.

Saturday morning at nine o'clock, the parade floats will assemble on College Avenue. The parade route will be on Fremont St. to Clark St., then west to the public Square, turning east on Main St. and back to the College.

Saturday evening at sight, day, Norbert Gens and his orchestra will furnish the music for the finale of the gala weekend, the informal dance to be held in the Training School Gym.

International Study Expensive

It is becoming increasingly difficult for students at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point to afford overseas study. Helen Cornell, who stepped down recently as director of UW-SP's Office of International Programs, says the declining value of the dollar in foreign markets and higher eligibility standards for student financial aid have taken a toll among participants in the offerings she supervised.

She had been the director most of the time since becoming associated with the office in 1981, coordinating semester, summer and mid-year intern programs in all parts of the world.

Her business "changed completely" in her seven years on the job, she reports. "This university definitely had the cleanest image of the dollar in foreign countries, the declining value of the dollar in foreign countries, the declining value of the dollar in foreign countries, the declining value of the dollar in foreign countries." Cornell regrets that young people from small towns and families with modest incomes are being forced to cancel study travel plans. "They're the ones who need it the most," she suggests.

She recommends that the university address ways of securing funds to provide "modest help for well-qualified students." Cornell lauds efforts to further enhance semester abroad experiences so students can do internships related to their majors and local faculty members can do research in their academic disciplines.

The annual "Dinner Travel Escape Series," offered by the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point to acquaint area residents with the foods and cultures of foreign countries, focuses this year on Tanzania, Malaysia, England and tour from Paris to Poland.

The public is invited to register for these non-credit programs which involve presentations by people who have lived in or traveled to other parts of the world. The cost is $14 per person or $50 for the series. Each of the gatherings will be on a Thursday and include a 6 p.m. cash bar, a 7 p.m. dinner featuring the foods of each region and an 8 p.m. program.

Tanzania, from Kilimanjaro to Kilimandjaro, from the Rift Valley to the Ruffile River, will be featured Oct. 28 in the University Center's Wisconsin Room. Hans Schabel, a member of the natural resources faculty, and his wife Jill, who spent three years living in Africa, will narrate a slide tour through some of the world's most spectacular parks and game reserves including a climb to the top of one of Africa's highest mountains.

Ronald Lokken, a member of the physics and astronomy faculty, and his wife Judy will give their impressions of Malaysia as the program Nov. 17 at the Stevens Point Holiday Inn. The Lokkens, who lived in the Far East for a year, will show slides of Malaysia's great wealth and devastating poverty in a land of contrast where three races and cultures co-exist.

On Jan. 19 in the Wisconsin Room, Robert Wolewsky, member of the sociology faculty, and his wife Molly will discuss their semester abroad in England. They will include slides from travels in and around London, as well as trips to cities and towns throughout England and Wales.

The final program on Feb. 23 will be led by Daniel Trainer, retired dean of natural resources, who will explore some of the economic, ecological, political and cultural contrasts between eastern and western Europe. He will cruise the Rhine and Danube rivers and visit the Black Forest, East and West Berlin, Budapest, the Council of Europe, the Alps and Poland. In addition, he will discuss some major economic and environmental problems of Europe. The program will be held at SentryWorld's High Court. Registration and further information are available through Continuing Education and Outreach, 100 Old Main, UWSP.
Allen Speaks Before Toastmasters

8:30PM at the Heritage Co atrfbator

of those who were present at the meeting, 36 were UWSP Toastmasters' Club members, and five community guests who had come either to listen to Cast Speaker, Prof. C.Y. Allen, or to find out what the "Art of Toastmastering" was about.

The main event was Prof. Allen's Third Installation to the Club which he helped establish on December 12th, 1965. After the official opening by the Club's President, James DeCruze, the emcee for the evening, major, there was a period of self-introduction that was followed by Awards, Certificates, and Educational Designations to recognized personalities and new members of the Club. Of significant importance were trophy awards presented to Dr. Dan Dieterich, the Faculty Adviser, Dick Hawley, DTM, District 35 Governor and to Prof. C.Y. Allen, Founding Adviser of the Club. Prof. C.Y. Allen, Founding Adviser of the Club, Prof. Allen was also presented with an Award as the keynoter for the District 35 Convention, held on May 26th this year.

Following the Awards distribution was a short welcoming remark by Dr. Dan Dieterich, who, among other things, noted that "being a Toastmaster is a growing experience." Following this transition, Impromptu speeches were assigned to three Club members by the Table-Topic Master, Darrel Tzolinski. Topics were about international peace, Sports and opinions on Presidential candidates. In addition to this table topic segment, the Grammarian/Wordsmith of the day, Kathy Thesen gave a new vocabulary word and its meaning to the audience. Members were encouraged to use this "new" word as part of their address or topic.

Prof. Allen's topic was on "Leadership Strategies for Personal Influence." Much of his speech referred to Dr. May Tac's book "Personal Presence," dealing with overcoming anxiety in communication. "The book," said Prof. Allen, "is mirroring Tuck's inner personal feelings and tells how he overcame the language barrier, as a non-native speaker, in reaching out to his audience." He used Dr. Tuck's example to highlight the importance of reaching both the heart and the mind to grasp the audience's attention and interest.

"Toastmasters are a group of people who understand that to have the most impact on people and the environment is important," he told the audience. "Therefore," he added, "to establish a sense of communication one must reach out to the audience, get their attention and motivate them by showing them respect and consideration, (because) as Toastmasters we are always looking for good Models of Communication."

Pier Allen is a frequent recipient of many Communication Awards and has spoken nationwide as well as in Canada. As a testimony of his excellent speaking talents, he had even received recognition from Governor Tommy Thompson. This year alone, Prof. Allen has received 208 invitations to speak to different areas.

Most of the audience members I spoke to after the meeting were not only impressed by Prof. Allen's speech, but they also classified him as "A great speaker whom you can't help envy. " The audience's attitudes towards the Club itself were also tremendous. Eight of the people I spoke to, three of whom were guests, gave me their opinions. Six of them, five of whom were new members and one a guest, favored the idea of being a Toastmasters' Club member. Steve Olson, a student, said, "I think it is a great idea. I can already see a marked improvement in my overall speaking abilities. I think I am gaining self-confidence." "I hope my exposure to Toastmasters will help me in my personal and interpersonal communication, which is so vital in today's world of international business."

According to James DeCruze, Toastmasters International has 5,000 clubs around the world, at the growth rate of 500 newly chartered clubs a year. Out of the 5,000, 106 of them are in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. I asked him what it does for students: "It provides a professional speaking experience and an international exposure to various people at different levels and this helps students develop a sense of self-confidence beyond the classroom with which to face the corporate world."
Bailiff Trains for Triathalons

He didn't take up running until he was 42 and a decade later he is winning one race after another in scattered parts of the country.

John Bailiff, a longtime philosophy professor at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point, has been specializing in triathlon competition the past five years in which he swims a mile, bikes 21.5 miles and runs 6.2 miles.

Earlier this month, he garnered the 1988 state championship for men in his age group, based on a time of two hours 31 minutes and 34 seconds, logged at a county park near Menomonee Falls.

All told, Bailiff has entered seven races this summer and won four of them. Besides the state meet, he was victorious in Minneapolis, Milwaukee and St. Paul, garnering the best finish in his age group there last weekend.

This weekend, he'll be in San Diego, doubling up a visit to relatives with his participation in a U.S. Triathlon Series.

The professor ordinarily runs more races than he has this summer, but a fall while skiing left him with a fractured leg and limited mobility early in the season.

Despite his injury, he has improved his time this year by about 11 minutes. "My running time is down but the cycling time is way up," he explained.

As a runner, he says his current time for 10 kilometers is about 10 minutes better than when he participated in his first race in 1982. He also enters bike races.

Bailiff tells his friends that "running is the best possible activity." It must be done "judiciously," he adds with a further recommendation that top quality shoes are essential. He wears out at least two pairs of shoes in a season.

His fitness regimen includes swimming about six miles per week, hiking up to 200 miles per week and running 35 to 40 miles per week.

"I've found that this cross-training is a lot better than doing just one thing," Bailiff observes.

His goal is to participate in the Iron Man Triathlon, maybe as soon as next year, in Hawaii. It's a grueling experience which, for him, involves approximately a half-day of swimming 2.4 miles, biking 112 miles and then running the marathon 26.2 miles.

To qualify for the event, a certain time must be logged at a race in Muncie, Ind. At the moment, Bailiff feels up for it.

One of the side benefits from his athletic competition is the opportunity to meet people with like interests. "I've made many new friends all over the country."

Some of them aren't far away, such as Gary Weier, a teacher in Amherst, who joined Bailiff in Menomonee Falls recently and won the state triathlon title for a second year in the 30-34 age group, and Phil Mahoney, a physician's assistant in Iola, who won second place in the 40-44 age group.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The following is brought to you by your Student Government. The first part in the voting process is to register. You have lived in the Stevens Point area for at least ten days and are a citizen of the U.S.A. you qualify for the registration process. By law, the last day to register is Oct. 28. Before this time, you do not need any proof of who you are or where you live. You simply need to fill out a little card. Let me note though, if you have moved in any way, e.g. to a different resident hall or different address, you need to re-register. It is very painful! So, you ask, how do you register? If you are in the residence halls, we will come to you. For the off campus people, booths will be set up in the Concourse on Oct. 12-13. It is that simple! If you procrastinate and do not register before the cut off date, you will need two forms of identification and prove where you live along with how long you have lived there. This way is slow, long and painful, avoid the pain! Each week, I will have voter information in the Pointer or you can contact me in the Student Government office. I will be covering who the candidates are and what the issues are. Remember your vote does matter. So please vote. Thank you for your attention.
