HOME COMING

"Let's Go Crazy" was this year's theme for Homecoming and UWSP did just that. Festivities began with the "Yell Like Hell" contest won by Nelson Hall and the banner contest won by Roach Hall. Intramural field was the setting for the decathlon won by Ski Club-CLA. The King and Queen dance featured the band Bon Ton Society with winners Neale—Pray-Sims. Best float in the Parade was won by Ski Club-CLA. The Alumni held a pig roast on Old Main's front lawn. The highlight of the weekend was a 25 to 7 victory over Oshkosh with Nelson Hall's King Don Harris and Queen Katie Johnson being crowned at halftime. -HAH-
WAITE-ING FOR THE SCANDAL OF THE YEAR

On October 28, 1984, at 7:30 p.m. in the Quandt Gym, Scandal and John Waite thrilled a full capacity audience. Scandal appeared first including “The Warrior” in their song selection. John Waite rocked on with his “I Won’t Be Missing You.” -DMB-
Country music’s Male Vocalist of the Year, 1984, Lee Greenwood, provided more than just a concert on March 19. The concert was a showcase for a variety of singing, comedy, and instrumental solos, including Greenwood's own rendition of "Yachety Sax". Deborah Strauss, Miss Wisconsin, U.S.A., presented Greenwood with a "Pointers WSUC champions, basketball" t-shirt. Greenwood also brought a woman up on stage to "serenade" her. -DMB-
GEORGE THOROGOOD AND THE DELAWARE DESTROYERS

At 7:30 p.m. on May 4 George Thorogood and the Delaware Destroyers put Quandt Gym into motion. Playing the blues like no one else, Thorogood's energized guitar and backup saxophone had the audience on its feet for the entire concert. People danced on chairs and sang along with the duck-walking, knee-dropping Thorogood.

THE HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS

Stevens Point was one of the 300 cities worldwide that was treated to the absurd antics of the internationally known Harlem Globetrotters in 1984. Most of the team members got their start as Globetrotters by trying out for pro teams. Although only 2 or 3 of the team members are skilled at performing trick shots while the rest play straight men, young and old alike were content to witness the Harlem Globetrotters defeat the Washington Generals at the Quandt Gymnasium. -HAH-
TRIVIA

This year Trivia's theme was Sweet Sixteen celebrating 16 years of Trivia. The newest way to kickoff the 54 hours of madness was the parade from Fremont and Maria Streets to Georke Field. At Georke, Stevens Point Mayor Mike Haberman declared the official opening of Trivia at 5:00 p.m., April 12. Network answered the 500 point question to capture 1st place. -DMB-
KROKUS AND DOKKEN

February 3, at 7:30 p.m., Quandt Gym opened its doors to the heavy metal fans of Krokus and Dokken. Putting on a show of lights and fire, Krokus put the festival seated audience into a frenzy. Krokus included their version of “American Woman” in their song selection as a highlight for the evening. -DMB-
HALLOWEEN

Pouring rain and a deluge of lightning set the eerie scene for this year’s Halloween. Ghosts, vampires and whatever spooked the alleys of Stevens Point looked for unwar victims. Those that dared to venture out found the local haunts filled to capacity.

THE SCHMEEKLE VISITOR'S CENTER

A Visitor's Center was added to the Schmeekle Reserve, UWSP's outdoor laboratory and recreation area. Served the needs of the public and student, the Center is located in the northeast section of the Reserve. The Center slowly took shape over the past two years and celebrated its opening to the public in February, highlighting Wisconsin Owls. The Center, open year round, will add to "the things to do" for the tens of thousands of visitors to the Schmeekle Reserve. -JRS-
The UWSP Earthweek Committee kicked off their Earthweek celebration on April 22, which was also Earth Day. Slide shows, movies, speeches and earth tunes on the CNR front lawn highlighted the week. The main movie was “The Lorax,” the keynote speaker was Dr. Hugh Iltis, professor of botany at UW-Madison, and feature musician was Dave Parker. -DMB-
BRATFEST

Under cloudy skies and with a chill in the air, Sigma Tau Gamma's Bratfest went as planned on April 27. The event was sold-out by the second day of ticket sales. As usual, beer, brats, music, and fun filled the day. -DMB-
RHA “SNOWLYMPICS”

Thursday, February 7, marked the beginning of the Snowlympics, a week filled with fun in the snow events. Competitive events that Residence Hall residents could participate in included: tobogganing, innertubing, figure skating, snow sculpting, cross country skiing, snow softball and snowshoeing. Burroughs Hall won the overall competition. The week ended with a free dance at Allen Center featuring the Wally Cleaver Band.-HAH-
“Unity is Diversity” was the theme for the 15th Annual International Dinner. The dinner, which was held on March 9 at Allen Center, was organized by members of the International Club. After being treated to nine cuisines from different countries, the 500 guests were presented with an international display of song, dance and fashion. -HAH-
For a semester(s) of their college career, many students elect to take a semester abroad. There are now 7 different countries in which the UWSP student can choose to be educated. These countries are Germany, Spain, Poland, Taiwan, Britain, Australia, and Greece. Each student spends time traveling and time in classes. Upon returning from the exciting experience, it is not uncommon to find the student wanting to go again. -DMB-

1) England; 2) Australia; 3) Taiwan; 4) Germany; 5) Greece; 6) Poland.
The season’s opening production was Neil Simon’s “God’s Favorite,” a contemporary, whimsical retelling of the Book of Job. Directed by Thomas F. Nevins of the theatre arts faculty, the comedy ran from September 28-30 and October 3-6. -DMB-

The husband-wife duo of James and Linda Moore choreographed and directed, respectively, “Tenderloin,” a Bock-Harnick musical. During the “Gay 90’s” in “Old New York,” the Rev. Andrew Brock tries to reform the sinful “Tenderloin” area of the city, while high-spirited residents defend their neighborhood as “good enough for them”. The play included tearful ballads, raucous dances and a scandalous trial. It opened on November 9 and continued from November 10-11 and 13-17. -DMB-
"Abelard and Heloise," one of the greatest love stories of all time, set in 12th century France, was directed by Arthur Hopper, new chairman of the theatre arts department. Performances ran from February 15-17 and 20-22.

Dance Theatre '85 consisted of a wide variety of dance pieces ranging in style from classic ballet to authentic East Indian dance to various forms of modern dance. One selection, entitled "Two Variations With Neon," employed neon lighting constructions by local artist Carol Emmons. The program ran from March 22-25 and 27-28.
Education doesn't stop at the classroom for some students. On October 9, twelve students increased their mechanical knowledge by attending a UAB mini course on auto mechanics. Held at the Materials and Maintenance building, the interested people were instructed on how to care for their car and how to prepare it for winter. -HAH-

“Relax” and “I Get By With a Little Help From My Friends” could have been the theme songs for the massage mini course sponsored by UAB. Coming at a time when stress is high for college students, 28 people felt the need to attend the seminar. There they learned the art of rubbing, stroking, kneading and tapping for muscle relaxation. -HAH-

The week of Thanksgiving offers more to the Wisconsin sportsman than meets the eye. Recreational Services sponsored a mini course to educate novice hunters on what to do after the “thrill of the kill”. Participants were shown how to dress and separate the deer carcass. -HAH-
Convocation is an English academic tradition that is celebrated annually. Dr. Irving H. Buchen, UWSP Vice Chancellor elect, was the guest speaker for CONVOCATION VII. Dr. Buchen's topic was, "The Future of the Future."

Dr. Buchen's idea of the future is that we can learn from the past what people thought of the future. The speech began with a poem entitled, "The Future Ain't What it Used to Be," and continued with a brief synopsis of ancient times.
THE PRODUCERS AND BITTER PLEASURES

The Program Banquet Room rocked to the "power pop" music of The Producers on Monday, December 10, 1984. About 425 students gathered to listen and to boogie to the new wave, dance and rock music that the four piece band from Atlanta, Georgia provided.

Appearing before The Producers was Bitter Pleasures, a Madison based band. Bitter Pleasures prepared the audience by performing the same type of music as The Producers. -HAH

THE SILVER BULLET TURTLE RACES

On November 12, at 8:00 p.m., the UWSP Water Polo Club along with Coors Light sponsored a Silver Bullet Turtle Race. Off campus teams and 13 Halls raced turtles. Winners were: fastest—Pray Hall, best dressed—Roach Hall (Michael Jackson impersonation) and the all around—The Embassy awarded ½ barrel of Coors Light.

"ALL MY BAGS ARE PACKED, I'M READY TO GO"

On March 29, one lucky person and a guest headed for a free Spring Break in Florida, courtesy of RHA. About 300 people attended the dance, hoping to be the winner. RHA and UAB combined their efforts to bring Gerard, a Milwaukee based group, to Stevens Point to provide the evenings entertainment. —HAH—
WATSON HALL SPONSORS DONKEY BASKETBALL

Appearing for the first time on our campus, Bill Cosby's donkeys proved to be good sportsmen when it came to basketball. Watson's Hall Council sponsored the new event. Advertising for the games was very extensive. Posters and ads appeared in Plover and Park Ridge as well as Stevens Point. Those participating in the teams were hall council presidents, residence directors, and a celebrity team of Mike Haberman (Stevens Point Mayor), Diane Tracy and Jerry Steffen (WSPT disc jockies), Jay Masters (Channel 9 Wausau), Erin Davison (Channel 7 Wausau), and Dave Johnson (D.J.'s Pizza). A total of ten donkeys suited up for the games with one alternate and the riders assured their securities by wearing helmets. —DMB—

THE FUNNIEST MAN IN ILLINOIS—ED FIALA

February 10, UWSP and the Stevens Point community were treated to the analogies and sound effects of Ed Fiala. Fiala, Illinois' Funniest Man as rated by cable television's Showtime, has performed on such programs as The Tonight Show, Phil Donahue, and Soundstage. Some of the analogies recalled by Fiala were memories of his "fat sister wearing a leather dress—she looked like a bean bag chair" and memories of childhood: remember the scarf you wore across your face in winter? It's not a scarf; "it's a snot collector!" Presently, Fiala is working on his own dictionary. Entries include: ground beef—a cow without legs; inuendo—Italian enema (in-u-endo); pasteurize—too far to see (past your eyes); and therapist—Italian saying "They're a pissed!" Performing to a total of 450 people, Ed Fiala had the people rolling in the aisles. —DMB—
CLAUDIA SCHMIDT

Audiences of up to 250 people packed the Encore on February 1st and 2nd to see the Midwest's most famous folk musician, Claudia Schmidt perform. She showed her musical expertise on a variety of instruments including a pianolin, one of which only 700 were made. Accompanying her was pianist Dan Dance of Milwaukee. Together they presented parts of a musical that they collaborated on about Milwaukee's street people, as well as other folk music. —HAH—

THE TONY BROWN BAND

The Tony Brown Band traveled from Madison on March 1 to play before a capacity crowd in the Encore. Over 400 people listened to the five piece band perform the Reggae type music. Reggae music originated in the Jamaican Islands and was brought to America by people who like the beat. Tony Brown's back-up band was Electro Love Kit. —HAH—

JINX
The University Activities Board featured Jinx, a rock group from Chicago on Friday, Sept. 21 at 9:00 p.m. in the Encore to a crowd of 125 people.

STELLECTRICS
Part of a local talent night in the Encore, UAB featured the Stellec­trics, a contemporary rock band.
Beginning in Spring of 1985, students had a hard time keeping on talking. A new telephone/information system was being installed and the results were phones that worked some of the time, all of the time or even none of the time. The new AT&T System 85, ITS system, has a fiber optic backbone that will link every office and every residence hall room on campus in one of the first installations of its kind on an American campus. The new features of the AT&T system will allow students to secure library information via personal computers, three-way calling, call forwarding, and speed dialing.

The new phone system cost $1.3 million, and will be paid off over a 10 year period. Meanwhile, telephone workers were ripping out old lines, putting in new ones, and installing new phones. The project was completed in the summer of '85.

MUSICAL FIELDS: SHOULD THEY STAY OR GO?

In February, 1984, the University Facilities Planning Committee received a proposal concerning the parking problem on campus. The proposal would require removal of an athletic field located next to Quandt Gym, (pictured), in order to pave over the area for 500 metered spaces. To compensate for the loss of an athletic field, it was provided for in the proposal that removal of Lot Q portions, (located between the Allen complex and the Village apartments), for the creation of a new athletic field. The proponents in the proposal argued that more space near the academic areas would benefit commuters, visitors, and encourage larger audiences at activities held in the Quandt Gym. With the lot so close, those previously mentioned, would not have to walk so far to the academic buildings. Those people living on campus, and members of CNR STAB, RAC and RHA oppose the proposal. It has been questioned as to the beauty of a parking lot view from your residence hall room and as to the reasonableness of ripping up on field to create another. Also, if this is truly the Wellness Capital of the world, wouldn't the walk from your car to class help enliven you for class?

From a financial standpoint, can the university justify spending $40,000 to create parking space in one area when there is an abundance in another area? The university has tried so hard to hide their parking lots and this proposal invites a parking lot to be displayed. Those opposing the proposal have suggested alternate solutions to the parking problem, but as of May, 1985, the parking lot controversy was still being discussed. —DMB—

AN EXPENSIVE WAY TO PARTY

A crackdown by the Stevens Point Police Department of house parties led to citations being issued to two UWSP off campus students in October. Charged under Wisconsin State Statute 125.66, making it illegal for persons to sell alcohol without proper licensing, the citations totalling $1,180.00 were later revoked due to lack of evidence being presented in court.

As of the beginning of the month of May, no one else has been issued citations under this statute, but several persons have been issued citations for noise and providing alcohol to persons under the age of 19, according to Capt. L. Perlack of the SPPD.

When asked what kind of party receives the attention of the SPPD, Perlack stated that the parties visited by police are the ones that police have received complaints about. Perlack did say that no complaints were received about the party held in October. He did state that police had received “information of the party and two officers were sent to investigate.”

The reason for the crackdown was that numerous complaints were received from landlords and neighbors. When asked about the rumored pressure from local tavern owners losing business to parties having influence in the crackdown, Perlack stated that there was “no effect.”

REVITALIZATION OF STEVENS POINT

Centerpoint was the name chosen for the Stevens Point revitalization project. On Tuesday, September 4, at 10:30 a.m., a ground breaking ceremony was held to celebrate the start of the project. The projected cost of the project is over $33 million. Housing and Urban Development awarded the city a $6 million grant to help in the funding. A new Centerpoint Mall is one of the major revitalization projects. It will have two to three major department stores along with 40-50 small shops and it is expected to be completed in August of 1985.
On Thursday, October 19, at 1:15 p.m. in the U.C. Encore, the Political Science Association and the Young Democrats co-sponsored a campaign speech by John Zaccaro. Zaccaro is the son of Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate, Geraldine Ferraro. Ferraro was the first female ever nominated to any major party election ticket. Zaccaro spoke on such topics as the Nuclear Arms issue which intrigued the audience. At the November polls, President Reagan and Vice President Bush were re-elected to serve another 4 year term.

EVERYTHING YOU WANTED TO KNOW, BUT ...

On November 7, James Petersen, the Playboy Advisor on sex and love, gave a lecture on the subjects that was witty, informative and controversial. Interested persons were invited to submit written questions before Petersen's appearance for a lively question and answer session.

Petersen receives nearly 500 letters a month asking for his advice on subjects ranging from food and wine to sex. He doesn't claim to be an expert on the subject, but he admits he probably knows as much about sex as anyone in America. He credits his expertise to knowledge gained in research done among friends and professionals. —HAH—
MADRIGAL DINNER

The Fine Arts Courtyard was filled with its annual Christmas extravaganza from December 6-9. Students, dressed in costumes from the Elizabethan period, entertained the sellout crowd by singing carols and madrigals from the medieval period. The Madrival singers strolled among the candle lit banquet tables as the guests enjoyed the dinner prepared by food service management classes. —HAH—

RITES OF WRITING

The Tenth Annual Rites Of Writing began on Tuesday, March 26. This year's agenda included speakers such as: Susan Engberg, Donald Hall, Ron Leys, Tom Pease, Mark Wagler, and John and Tilly Warlock. Concluding the Rites on March 28, the University Writers, as sponsors of the event, held a breakfast in the Writing Lab. —DMB—

G.P.U. CONTROVERSY

Every year around February, the Gay Peoples Union controversy causes an uproar on campus. This year's dispute was hotter than ever. More than several articles were written either for or against the issue over a period of 8 weeks. Students argued over whether G.P.U. should be funded or not: are they self-serving or do they benefit the entire campus?

First the facts. G.P.U. asked for $4,617 from SGA for next year, 1985-86. That meant that about 50¢ out of each of the 9,000 (circa) students' fees at UWSP would go to fund G.P.U. Finance committee recommended funding at $2,019 while SGA passed the budget at $2,069. SGA stated that 15 members are paid and they average 10 people per monthly meeting.

Now the controversy. The articles written described students' feelings of the issue as G.P.U. being a secretive organization having the benefits of the organization limited to few people and very little effort going into campus awareness of their purposes. Also, some students felt that if a G.P.U. could be funded, why not fund a Heterosexual Peoples Union for support to straight students. G.P.U. articles expressed feelings that they were not self-serving and it was because of the students' feelings that G.P.U. exists. They also felt that minority groups have a hard time expressing their feelings to majority groups.

Although the debate has subsided, a definite solution to the conflict has not been found. —IRB, DMB—

DEBOT CENTER

Debot Center, larger than Allen Center, serves the needs of the residents in Neale, Hansen, Knutzen, Thomson, Watson, Burroughs, Baldwin, and Steiner Halls. Private dining rooms for wing dinners are located here. Students from on campus as well as off campus, can take advantage of the video rentals, valedine services and Mexican food offered at Amigo's all under Debot's roof. —DMB—
Serving Pray-Sims, Smith, Roach, and Hyer Halls, Allen Center is more than a cafeteria. Bus tickets, magazines, study areas, and typewriters are also available. Students can hang out at the Subway, a mini restaurant, to grab a bite to eat and take in a little MTV. —DMB—
Delzell Hall houses more than a free health center for UWSP students. Students refer to the housing department in the lower level Delzell concerning dorm and refrigerator contracts. Students wishing to move off campus can refer to the list of available housing supplied by off campus landlords at Delzell. Undecided majors can use the counseling and human development center's SIGI program to help them find and decide on a career goal. Delzell Hall handles the concerns that directly affect students. —HAH—
UWSP students along with the staff of the University, took part in a celebration commemorating the 25 years of existence of the University Center. The celebration occurred on Oct. 12-14, 1984, and included activities such as a TGIF (Thank Gosh It's Friday) at the Grid, a sock hop featuring 60's, 70's and 80's music, a giant 25 ft. submarine sandwich that was sold in the U.C. Concourse for 25¢ an inch and a celebration surrounding the collection of 1984 memorabilia that was placed in a time capsule. Bob Busch, director of the University Centers and Ray Konkol, director of the U.C. Physical Plant, joined together in planting a Magnolia tree on the U.C.'s South front lawn.

Memorabilia placed in the time capsule. The Horizon Yearbook was proud to be part of this collection.
AND THERE'S MORE TO COME!

Celebrities get dunked in front of to U.C. to benefit the United Way.

Daily, the University Center offers services and resources as diverse as the students who visit it. It is the in-between-class "home base" for commuting students. You can get a burger at the Park Place and relax in the Encore or you can converse with friends in the Main Lounge. Each day a designated quiet study area is reserved for the serious studier. Most importantly, the U.C. offers a place for people to converge and socialize and mainly to meet new people. —HAAH—

Going my way?
The Learning Resource Center offers more to students than books for research or enjoyment and a place to study. The lower level of the LRC offers a gold mine of opportunities for expanding personal interests. Although open to all students, the photo lab, computer lab, media lab and dance studio are mainly utilized by classes. The museum, located on the first level is the home of many things, ranging from living reptiles to ancient artifacts.

Protective plastic covering did not hinder students from studying.
Construction workers raised their own amount of Christmas Spirit.

Overall, students have dealt with the renovation very well. Allen Barrows, director of Public Services for the LRC, felt that “the biggest problem we faced was the shifting of the library materials. The constant movement of materials made them harder to find when staff was assisting students.”

The new addition to the LRC will total about 70,000 square feet, doubling the size of floors second through fifth and adding a sixth floor.

The prospective finishing date is set for August, 1985.

“Safety” was an important consideration in the reconstruction of the LRC.

The AWRA, American Water Resources Association, provides a meeting place for all Water Resource majors. The organization assists in public awareness of water resource related issues. The organization also gives students the opportunity to meet faculty and professionals in the related field. Funding comes from T-shirt sales, lab manuals, ground water manuals and a spring banquet. The money is put toward sending students to State and National conventions. The executive board of this year consisted of President Dan Sullivan, Vice-President Paul Daigle, Secretary Nick Potter and Treasurer John Stauner. Earl Spangenberg advised the organization of 20 members.

The Student Legal Society is comprised of 26 members. To be a member, one must be willing to work in the Student Legal Services offices for 2 hours each week. Money that is obtained from persons consulting with lawyers goes to funding the clubs' activities such as a law school caravan taken to Madison. Ed Miller and John Morser advised the group. President Nancy Schlieve and Vice President Julie Anderson worked with Secretary Chris Koback and Treasurer Jane Jorgeson.
ABES, Accounting, Business, and Economics Students, is an organization formed for students interested in the business world. ABES is the only student business organization on campus. The group provides the opportunity for students to seek out and achieve job related experiences, while pursuing their educational goals.

Some of the annual events sponsored by ABES include, career planning workshops, art of interviewing, mock interviews, faculty/student socials, Fall Together, and their Winter Social.

Alpha Delta Alpha, Dietetic's Club, is an organization that creates an awareness and interest in the area of food and nutrition for the UWSP campus. To be a member of Alpha Delta Alpha requires a major in the area of Dietetic's or Food Service.

One event that Alpha Delta Alpha sponsored was a Holiday Bread Sale in the UC-Concourse. The quick breads were available for consumption before Thanksgiving.

You are students at an excellent institution of higher education; One that is well regarded throughout the educational world! We have the largest program in Natural Resources in the United States as well as the largest program in Paper Science. The placement record of our graduates in Forestry is more than twice the national average. Programs in theatre, dance and jazz, those in philosophy, history and managerial accounting have repeatedly received wide acclaim. Our program in wellness is a national leader. Our men's basketball team was again a national power. And Terry Porter was acclaimed as one of the premier players in the United States.

All of these things make life as a student here at UWSP well worth remembering and the HORIZON will certainly help you to remember. I trust that you are glad that you were here and that you will look back on your years as a POINTER with joy and appreciation.

Philip R. Marshall
Chancellor
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-STEVEN'S POINT
May 1985
When I think of the first year (actually less—I came after school started) certain words and feelings spring forward:

--- Lively
--- Stimulating
--- Deep
--- Caring.

I am fortunate. I work together with people who want to work together. I benefit enormously by listening to what others have to say, and especially to efforts that others believe should be launched.

Our family has been warmly welcomed and I think Pointer fans are the most irrepressible that exist. I would hate to be a cheerleader for the other side.

Above all, I find that people are proud of where they work. They speak glowingly of their outstanding students, of the school spirit, of the student leaders, of the faculty's professionalism, and of the commitment to shared governance that structures and guides the relationship between faculty and administration.

I am very happy to be here.

Irving H. Buchen

One of the two returning Horizon veterans, Donna Brauer served as the 1984-85 Editor. Donna handled contract negotiations as well as some of the lay-outs, photos and copy. As the outgoing Editor, Donna trained new staff members for next year.

Photographer Jim Sell is the other returning veteran to the Horizon staff. Jim shot all the photographs in this book that do not have a photo credit by them and did the black and white photo processing. Jim will be the first one to tell you about the expanded color section in this Horizon.
Bob Busch has advised the Horizon staff since 1976. Giving advice and insight, Bob is the resource that all staff members use.

Fui-Fatt Wong balanced the books for the 1984-85 Horizon. As Business Manager, he also sold a record number of ads.

Maggie Passler, Copy Writer, worked for the Horizon 1st semester, writing copy for activities in that semester. Unfortunately, a credit overload forced her to be unable to work with us second semester.

As Lay-Out Designer, Helen Hermus planned most of the black and white pages. Helen also wrote some of the second semester copy.

Photographic staff: Steve Sopel, Doug Burger, Matti Palm Leis. Missing from the photo, Mike Heimark. They were there for the Horizon when we were in a bind.

Very special thanks to Rick Gorbette for concert arrangements and to Varden Studio's for all color processing on page 1-29 and for Senior Portrait arrangements and processing.

The 1984-1985 Horizon Yearbook staff wishes the best of luck to the all new 1985-1986 Horizon Yearbook staff!
