Man among men, boy among boys, student and scholar, who has won the respect and admiration of the student body, we, the senior class of '25, affectionately dedicate our book.

FOREWORD

Now, our task being over, we submit to you the fruit of our endeavor. If we hear but one little child say that it fittingly represents the year 1924-25 at S. P. N. we shall not have toiled in vain. So, with hopes high, and a sincere desire that this Iris shall keep in your minds fresh and delightful memories of S. P. N., we wish you every success in all your future undertakings.—THE STAFF.

Enthusiasm

To the Seniors — Class of 1925.

Nothing great can be accomplished without enthusiasm. We energize far below our maximum until the fire of enthusiasm, from whatever source — ambition, sympathy, patriotism, desire to do our work superlatively well, or the ideal of service — is kindled in our souls, and the desired energy is aroused.

By reason of your training here you have responded to the call of service in the public schools, and your hearts beat time to the measure of high hope. Enthusiasm in this work is a most potent factor in your success. Suffer no lapse in that enthusiasm, even for a short period, as passage of time without action weakens this force, often relegating us to the stage of indifference.

Mastery of our task, the desire to do our work to a finish, initiative, and the good will of our co-workers in addition to a burning desire to render best service are elemental and contributing factors in enthusiasm. Our fortunes are advanced as we deservedly earn the good will of our fellow craftsmen. Earn this good will by developing a trained capacity for mental labor, rapid, intense, sustained and constructive.

While your enthusiasm is highest, clinch your determination by action, and your enthusiasm will have a cumulative effect. You remember the old saying, "Strike while the iron is hot." "Strike" means hard, purposeful action. Determination — enthusiasm — must be clinched by "striking" and the time to strike hard, is when your enthusiasm is at white heat. Reveal it upon assuming your first responsible position as a teacher.

Success means making the most of yourself, and it is within the reach of every one of you. Your Alma Mater prays that you will achieve it in full measure.

Appreciation

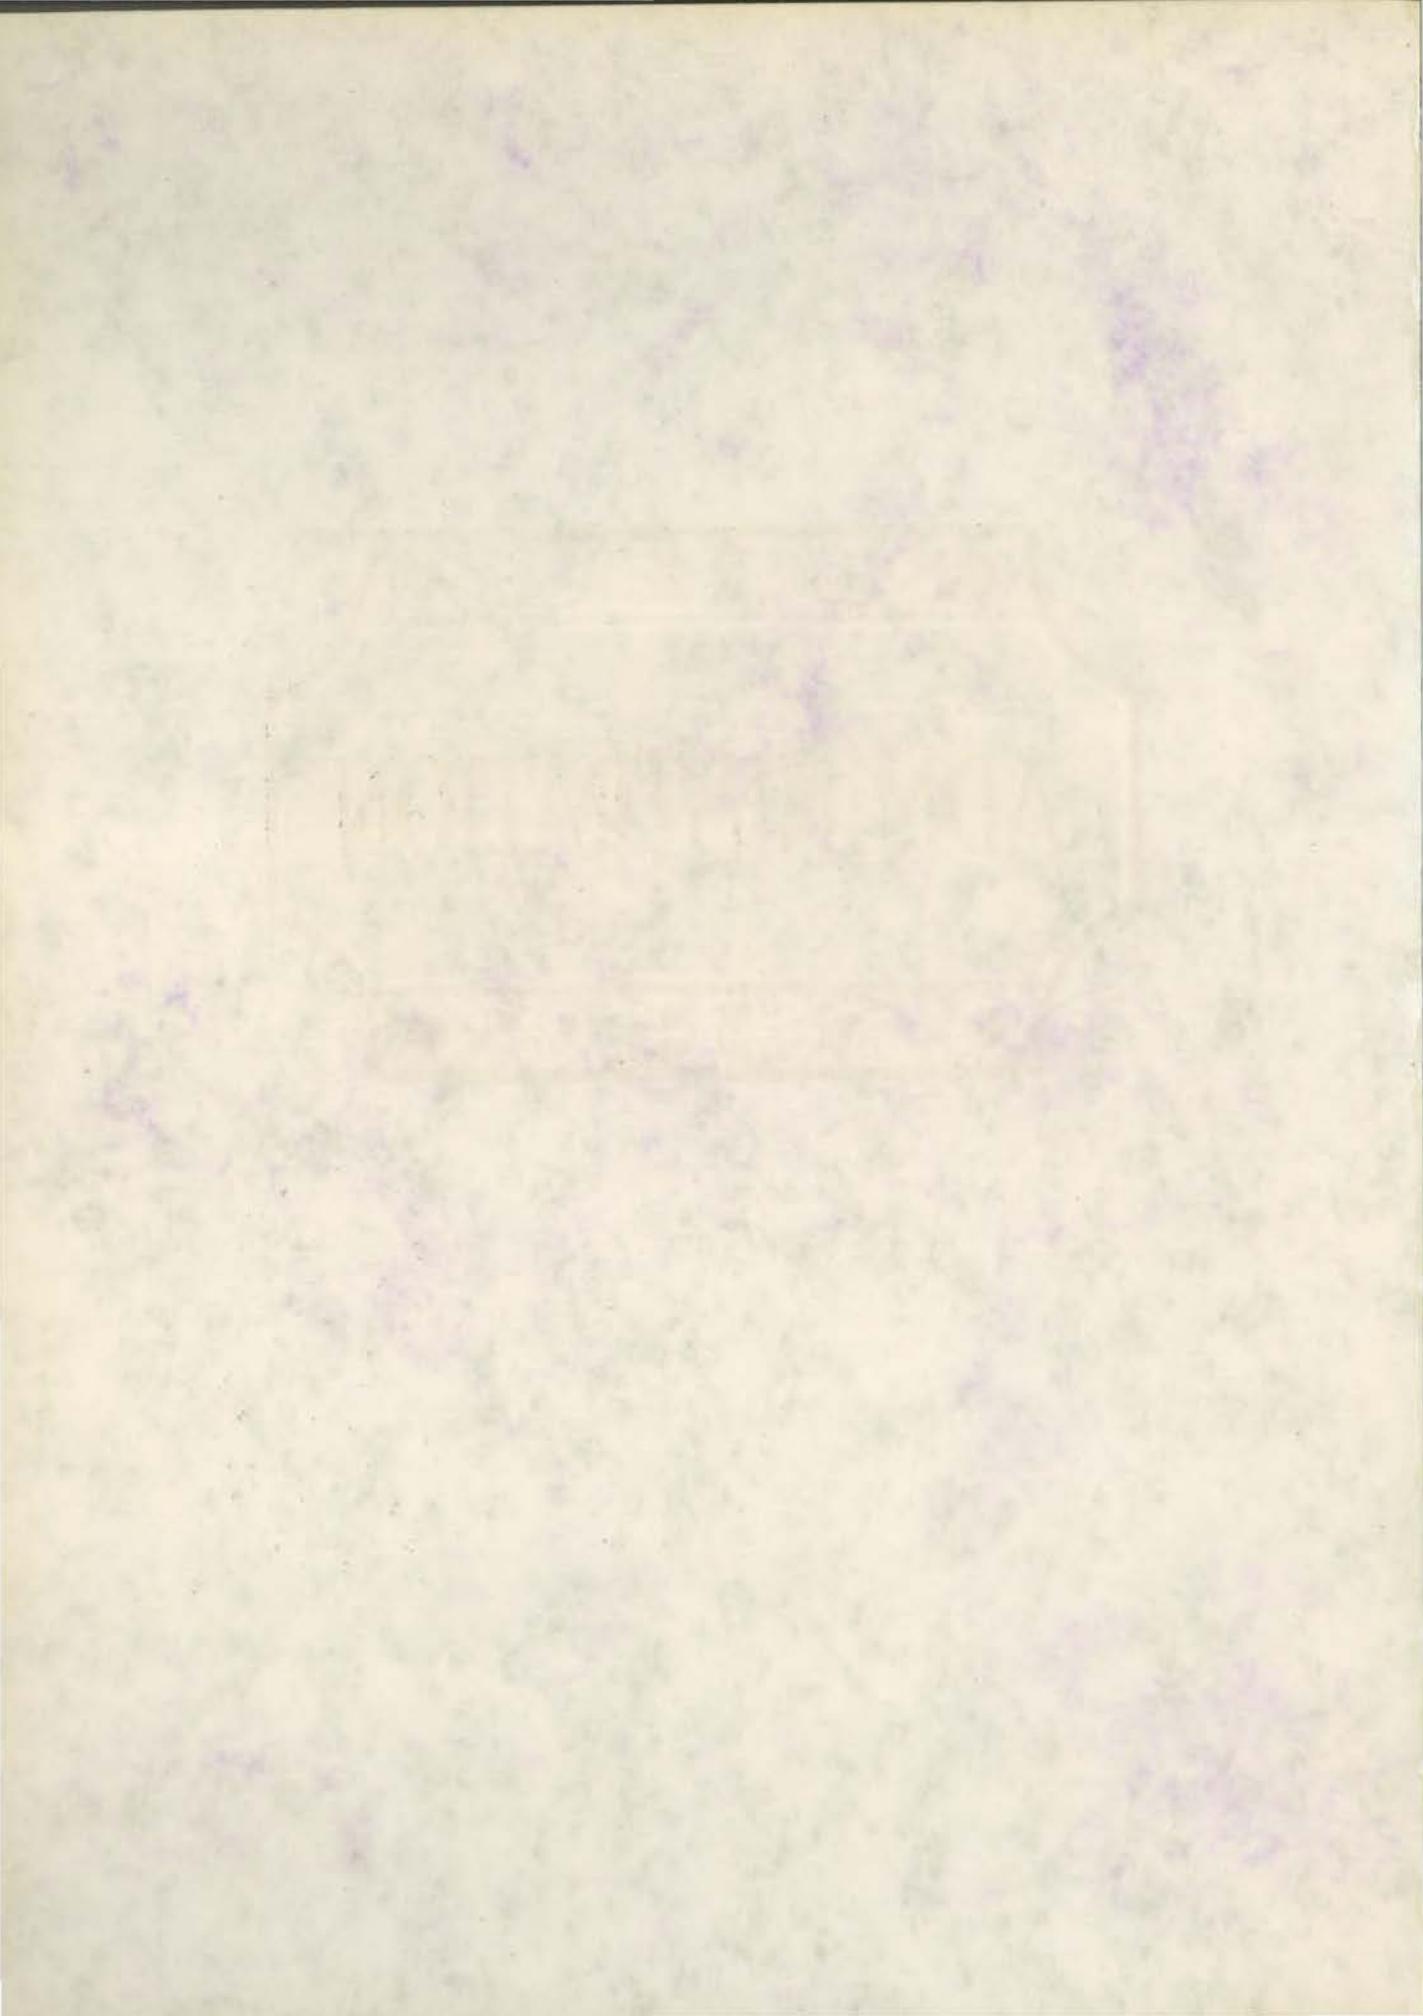

In this way we humbly extend our sincere thanks to the student body who have aided us in the production of this Annual by their co-operation. We extend our appreciation to the business men of this city who have helped to make this book a success. Especially is credit due to our faculty advisor, Mr. Dyer, who has seen us through from beginning to end and who has given us his time and effort for the betterment of our book. Again, we thank all who have in any way contributed to the successful publication of this Iris.

—THE STAFF.

The image features a central decorative element on a light-colored, marbled paper background. The element consists of a dark purple rectangular field with rounded corners. Inside this field, the word "ADMINISTRATION" is written in a gold, serif, all-caps font. The purple field is enclosed within a thin gold border. This border is further embellished with intricate, symmetrical floral and scrollwork patterns in gold. The overall design is classic and formal, typical of a book cover or title page from the early 20th century.

Last and Final Will of Senior Class

State Normal, Stevens Point, Wis.

By these manipulations of ye honorable Underwood shall it be proclaimed unto this wide and wild universe that we, the Senior Class of this State Normal of Stevens Point, feeling absurdly rich in characteristics (if not in wordly goods) and confident that a straw vote of said globe would prove us perfectly sound in mind and body, do hereby exercise our privilege of surrendering and bequeathing the following unto the Juniors of said school:

First and Foremost, We bequeath the distinction of the title "Senior" (with all its trials, worries, gaieties, and practice) to all Juniors who return to this most noble institution.

2nd. To the Sophomore boys we leave the boiler room.

3rd. All funds left over from the Iris shall be turned over to the standing army to be used in purchasing chairs.

4th. Merton Stevens' ability to tell stories to George Rogers. Type of story — parlor.

5th. The Senior's ability to cut classes and get away with it is left, in its entirety, to the Junior Class in general.

6th. The following books are hereby bequeathed to the Culver Memorable Library.

1. "The Covered Wagon" by Bill Morris.
2. "A Short History of S. P. N." by Merton Stevens.
3. "The Marvel Girl" by E. D. Cook.
4. "Ten Ways to Win a Woman" by Max Myron Goldberg.
5. "Grapefruit" or "Applesauce" by Francis Knope.

7th. The position occupied by Virgil Herrick and Margaret Burrows on the dormitory davenport is lovingly bequeathed to any couple who feel capable of filling this position.

8th. Barney Google's way with the women to Max Monastersky.

9th. Ten copies of "Bughouse Fables" to Ed. Jensen.

10th. Lorena, with all sisterly consideration, leaves to Myrtle, one gallon (U. S. Standard Measure) of peroxide. The aforementioned gallon to be secured at room 306, Nelson Hall.

11th. The use of the library for the reading of "Life" is left solely and exclusively to the Sophomore class.

12th. Last, but ah, not least, the Senior Class LEAVES the newly built Iris office, with the provision that the best of care be taken of the luxurious furniture, draperies, et cetera.

In witness whereof, this being the content of our worldly riches, we do hereby set our hand and seal to this, our last Will and Testament.

Dated June 10, 1925.

DEPARTMENTS

Home Economics Department

Home Economics has come to play a foremost part in the schools of today. The field open to graduates of this course is very extensive; not only does it prepare a girl to teach but a good foundation is laid for those interested in dietetics, nursing, hotel management, designing, interior decoration, etc.

The course offered by Stevens Point Normal by far surpasses that of any other normal in the state and the department is most efficiently equipped and organized.

This has been brought about through the unlimited abilities of Miss Allen, the able director, who has striven most earnestly toward the success which her department has attained. Her inspiring personality and unfailing interest will ever be remembered by all who have worked under high helpful guidance.

The Home Economics Club consisting of all students enrolled in the course furnishes lively interests for all its members. Pleasant social and educational meetings are held in which both students and faculty members take active part. Miss Meston is faculty advisor of this club.

Beginning this year the two year course was eliminated and all courses from now on will be at least three years. The increased enrollment shows the interest which is being taken in this line of work and the realization of the value which is to be derived from it.

In the very near future it is expected that the highest hope will be realized, the extension of the course to full four years and granting a degree at the end of that time.

Primary Department

"God hath made children unfit for other employment that they may have leisure to learn."
—COMENIUS.

The Primary Department as usual, has been busy throughout the year with its many activities. The chief aim of this department is to train students to become efficient kindergarten and primary teachers, to acquaint them with the problems of child education, and to create in them a realization of the importance and responsibility of starting the child right in his school life, for "It is the way the little feet are trained in their first steps that mark the good path they make through life."

We Primary students indeed feel proud of our director, Mr. Delzell, who with his broad outlook of life, his big kind heart, and his ever-ready smile has made this year's work both pleasant and profitable for us. He has always been ready and willing to direct, encourage and help us in all our problems.

We also feel grateful to Mr. Herrick, who has given us such kind and helpful guidance in all our work in the Training School Department.

Our work was further made profitable by the encouragement and assistance of our critic teachers — Miss Ivery, Miss Pritchard, Miss Putzke, Miss Edmonds, Miss Parrish and Miss Dean.

Our departmental society, The Primary Council, met regularly throughout the year. At these meetings either an instructive and interesting program pertaining to phases of primary work was given, or a pleasant social evening was enjoyed. These meetings not only helped to train us for greater efficiency, but also brought us in closer contact with one another.

Although our interests were largely centered upon the activities of the Primary Department, yet we did not limit them to these, for the Primaries were always found ready and active in all events pertaining to our Stevens Point Normal School.

High School Department

The High School Department ranks as one of the best departments in school. Due to its members being three year students it has a splendid chance to secure the co-operation of every student, which it does. Thus the students have a better chance to thoroughly know each other as well as to prove their ability.

There is probably no other department which contributes as much to the outside activities of the school as the High School Department. Most of our football, basketball, and track men are members of this department. The personnel of the debate teams as well as our extemporaneous speakers and orators are incorporated from our ranks. We are well represented in the glee club and other musical efforts of the school. In the literary field it will be found that the majority of the members of the Pointer and Iris staffs are from the High School Department. In the religious affairs of the Normal this department has always been very active.

It is the members of the High School Department who go out to teach in the high schools. Thus are they able to come into contact with the graduates of the high schools from whose ranks this Normal School draws its new students. In this way they are able to perform a very important mission and not only help to build up the school while they are in it, but after they get out as well.

The success which the department has functioned is due to the interest and direction which Mr. Smith and his able assistant, Miss Jones, have given us. They have proven to be our real friends, patiently helping us through our difficulties and always helping us to increase our chances for success. It is through their conscientious and undivided efforts that we have become better men and women during our sojourn here. We can never become to big, not to look back and thank them for the helping hand they have given us.

Even though the lapse of time may scatter us far and wide, it cannot dim the memory nor take from our hearts the esteem which we hold for the members of this department and our Alma Mater.

The Grammar Department

The Grammar Department is one of the smallest and yet most capable of all the departments. During the past few years the membership has been steadily increasing, especially the Junior High section. For those who are interested in the child of the adolescent age there is no better field than the Junior High School Course. There has been a steady demand for better trained upper grade teachers and Stevens Point Normal has in the past few years sent out able candidates.

Our department has a capable director in the form of Mr. Watson who at all times has the interest of his people at heart. Although our social organization, The Round Table, has not the proportionately large membership due to the small size of the department itself we have been doing interesting work. Our girls' basketball team displayed a typical grammar spirit at the girls' tournament. The Grammar Round Table, under the capable direction of Virgil Herrick, will continue to keep up its good work in the future.

Officers of the Round Table are:

President	VIRGIL HERRICK
Vice-President	DOROTHY CARLSON
Secretary and Treasurer	MARTHA HERMAN
Faculty Advisor	C. F. WATSON

THE IRIS

The Department of Rural Education in S. P. N. offers a variety of courses to those who are preparing to engage in educational work in rural or state graded schools. There are one and two year courses for rural school teachers, two and three year courses for state graded school principals and two and three year courses for rural supervisors, teachers in training schools and county superintendents.

The Director of this department, O. W. Neale, has now completed his tenth year of service for S. P. N. and the state of Wisconsin. He is so enterwoven in the life of the school and the activities of the state that we often wonder what we ever did without him. His genial personality and kindly interest has endeared him to hundreds of Wisconsin teachers who have come under his guidance. At the meeting of the Central Teachers' Association this year, of which Mr. Neale was president, the graduates of his department presented him with a life membership in the N. E. A. as a slight token of their appreciation for what he has meant in their lives.

We, his students of 1924-25, are glad for this opportunity to express our deep appreciation and good will toward one to whom we owe so much.

In regard to the social life of this department, we have the Rural Life Club. The officers of this organization are:

President	CLARENCE POAD
Vice-President	LAURIN GORDON
Secretary	RUTH DIXON
Treasurer	ALLEN BUSSE

The purpose of the Rural Life Club is to stimulate the interest of its members in the problems of rural life, and to afford a training for leadership.

By the training received in the Rural Life Club, rural teachers will be able to successfully conduct community meetings and be leaders and a force in arousing community interests.

The Orthman Demonstration School

The new rural school on our campus, the Orthman Demonstration School was opened at the beginning of the present year with Miss Bessie La Vigne as critic. There are forty children enrolled, distributed from the first through the sixth grade.

The benefits which our prospective rural teachers have derived from this institution are immeasurable and it has been a great attraction to them. Each student one hour each day for a period of six weeks observing the work of the critic during the first semester. To give them an opportunity to see the entire program the assigned hour was changed each week.

During this period the students helped with routine matters. During the second semester each student was given practice teaching there under the direction of Miss LaVigne. During the time of observation and of practice teaching regular mass conferences have been held every week.

The school has followed the state course of study very closely so that the students are now familiar with the correlation of work and the combination of classes. The building has also served as a model for school management classes.

The department has retained its demonstration school near Arnott which is in charge of Miss Edith Heasty. Each student has spent one week there devoting his entire time to observation and practice teaching and remaining in the community nights.

These different types of teaching experience in addition to the training our students receive in the regular training school of our normal, fit them exceptionally well for the problems which they are to meet in their own schools.

For the past five years, the Training Department has progressed very rapidly under the able leadership of Mr. Herrick. It was organized when the Normal first opened in 1894 and is now considered one of the best in the state. It consists of a Primary Department, Intermediate Department, and Junior High School.

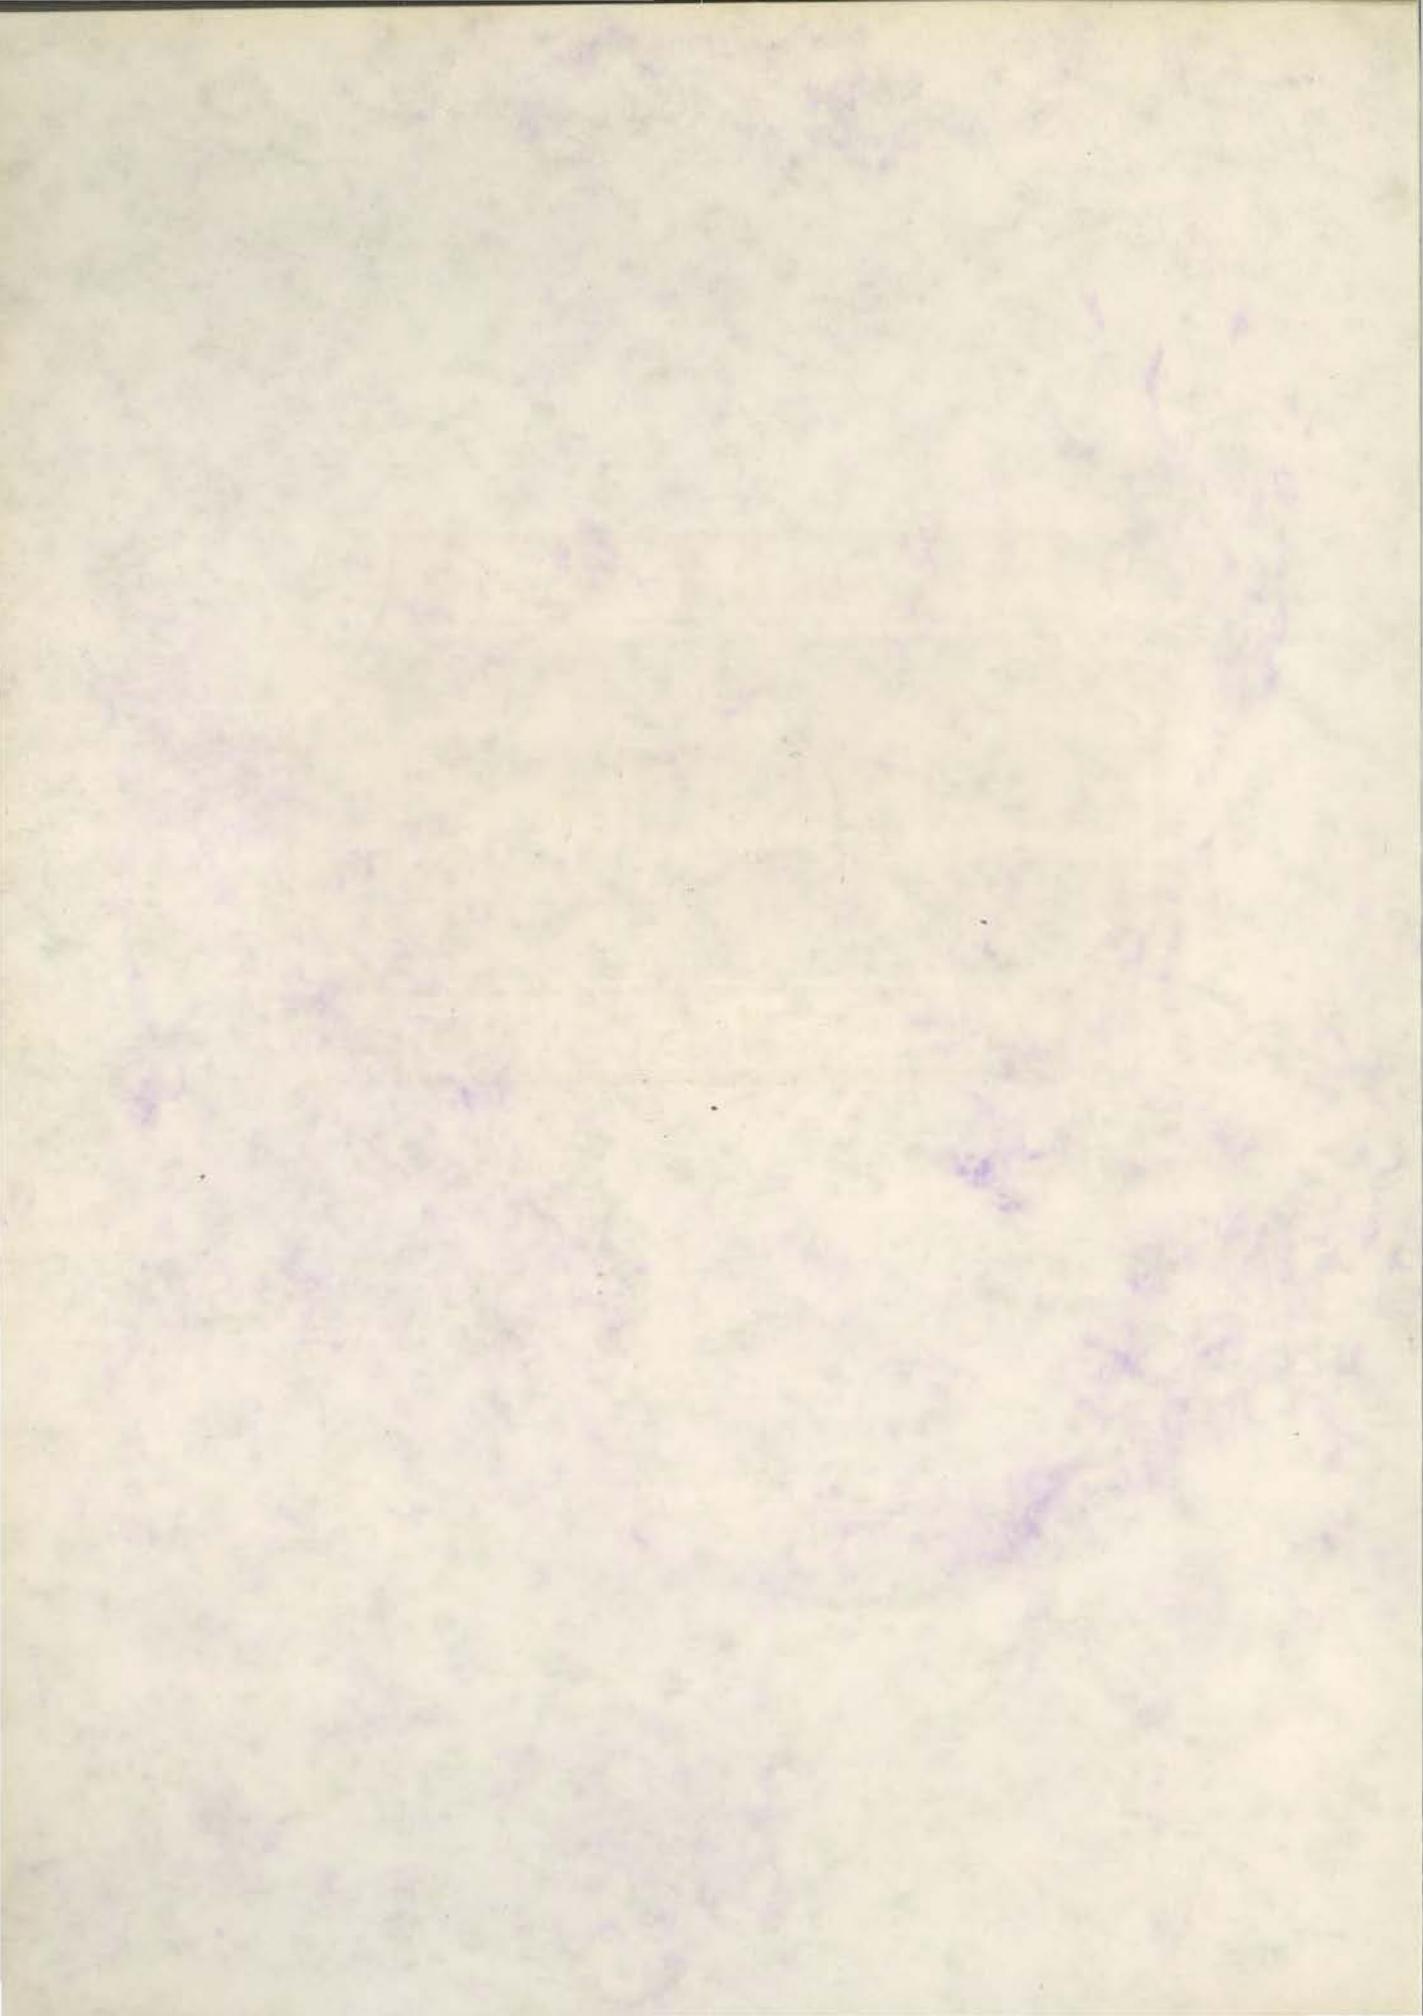

The Junior High School was organized in 1920, and was named in honor of Mary D. Bradford, former Training School principal.

The Normal students receive beneficial practice training under the supervision of the very efficient critics and Mr. Herrick.

COACH J. E. SWETLAND

Athletic Retrospect

BY J. E. SWETLAND

Most people see success in Athletics when the teams are invariably returned winners. They do not take into consideration such things as material, working conditions, and methods used in winning or losing games. Is it better to win a poorly played game from a weak team than to lose a well played game to a strong team?

Some one must lose in any contest. It has been our lot to lose more than our share of athletic contests in the past year but have the participants not received as much benefit as they would in winning with excellent material against weaker teams? One thing can be truthfully said and that is that the more we lost the harder the fellows fought. They played the game to the best of their ability and continued to do so against adverse circumstances.

In football, the boys reported for early practice so that we got off to a flying start with victories over Ripon and Platteville. That early practice, however, would not last through the season. After school got under full swing time for practice was short and the team could not be improved as it should have been. Still the team played only one really poor game. As luck would have it, that was the Homecoming against Eau Claire. An excellent game was played against River Falls, the Normal School Champions, and only the breaks of the game kept us from at worst a tie game. Injuries and lack of time for practice hurt our chances in football more than lack of ability or willingness to work.

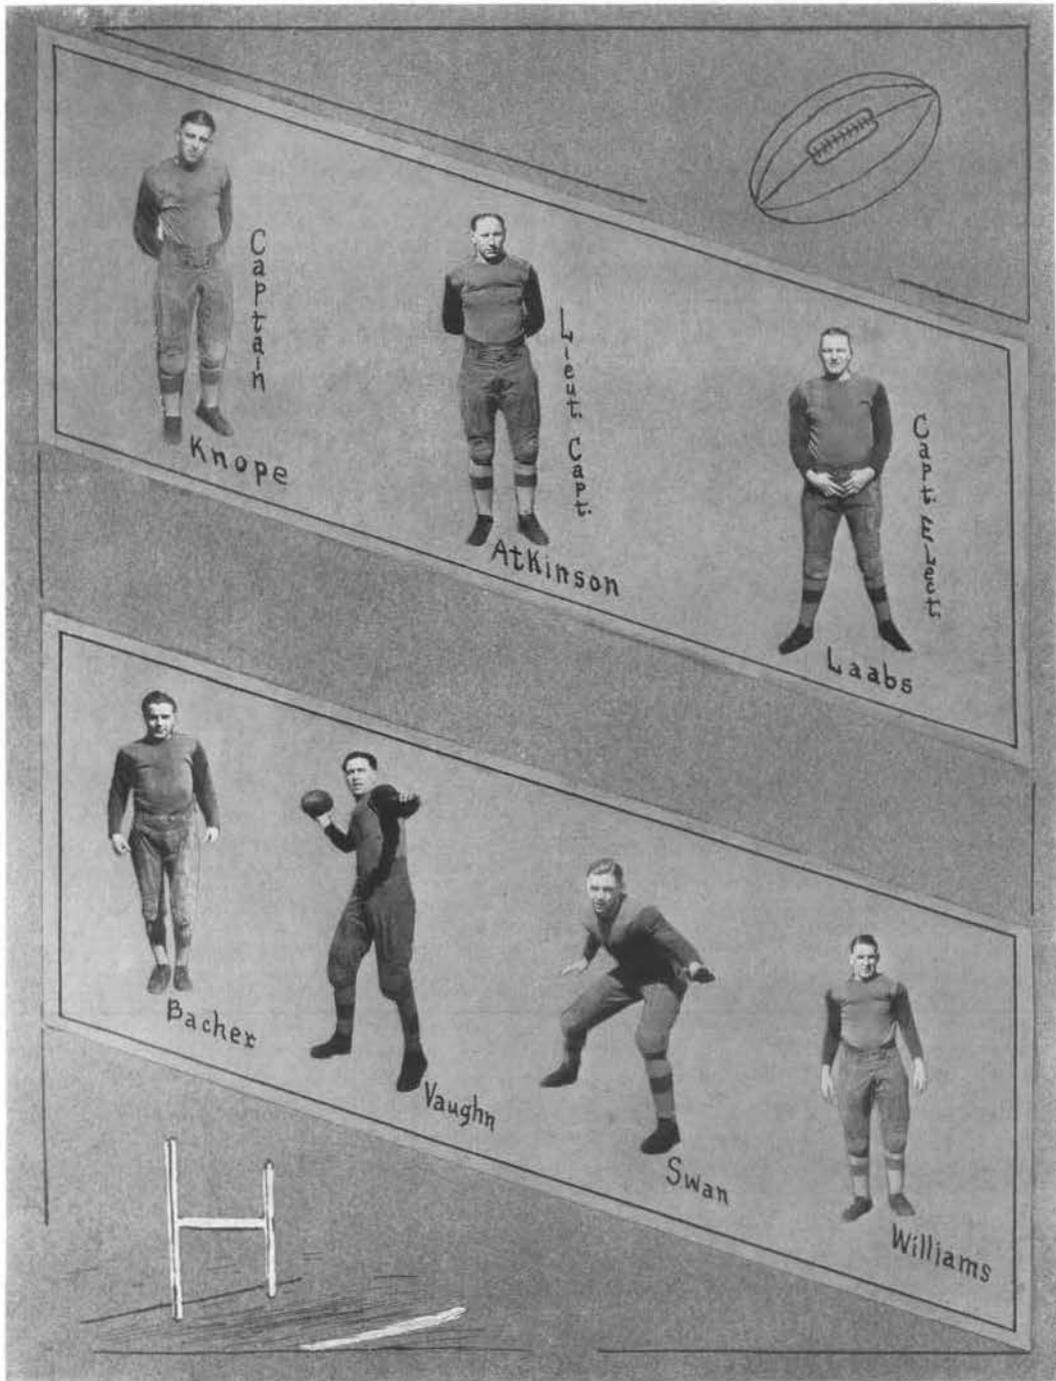

It was hoped that the Basketball team would be a winner but it failed to come through. Off to a poor start, with three conference losses away from home, the team could not seem to hit a winning stride and won only one Conference game, that from Milwaukee. However, personally, the writer was much more satisfied with the work of the team in the Oshkosh game at Oshkosh, and those with Whitewater and River Falls at Stevens Point, even though we lost all three, than in the one in which we defeated Milwaukee Normal. When a team does nearly what it has been taught to do against a strong opponent it is more satisfactory to the coach than winning a game from a mediocre team. There is such a thing as seeing the dough in doughnut.

One outstanding feature in the last year of Athletics has been the fact that about one-half of the boys enrolled have been active participants in the major sports. Then there are 64 boys and 14 faculty members taking part in the annual Volley Ball League. This is not a bad number out of our less than a hundred boys. With our small enrollment of boys we cannot often hope for championship teams. But we do have teams which nearly always "play up and play the game."

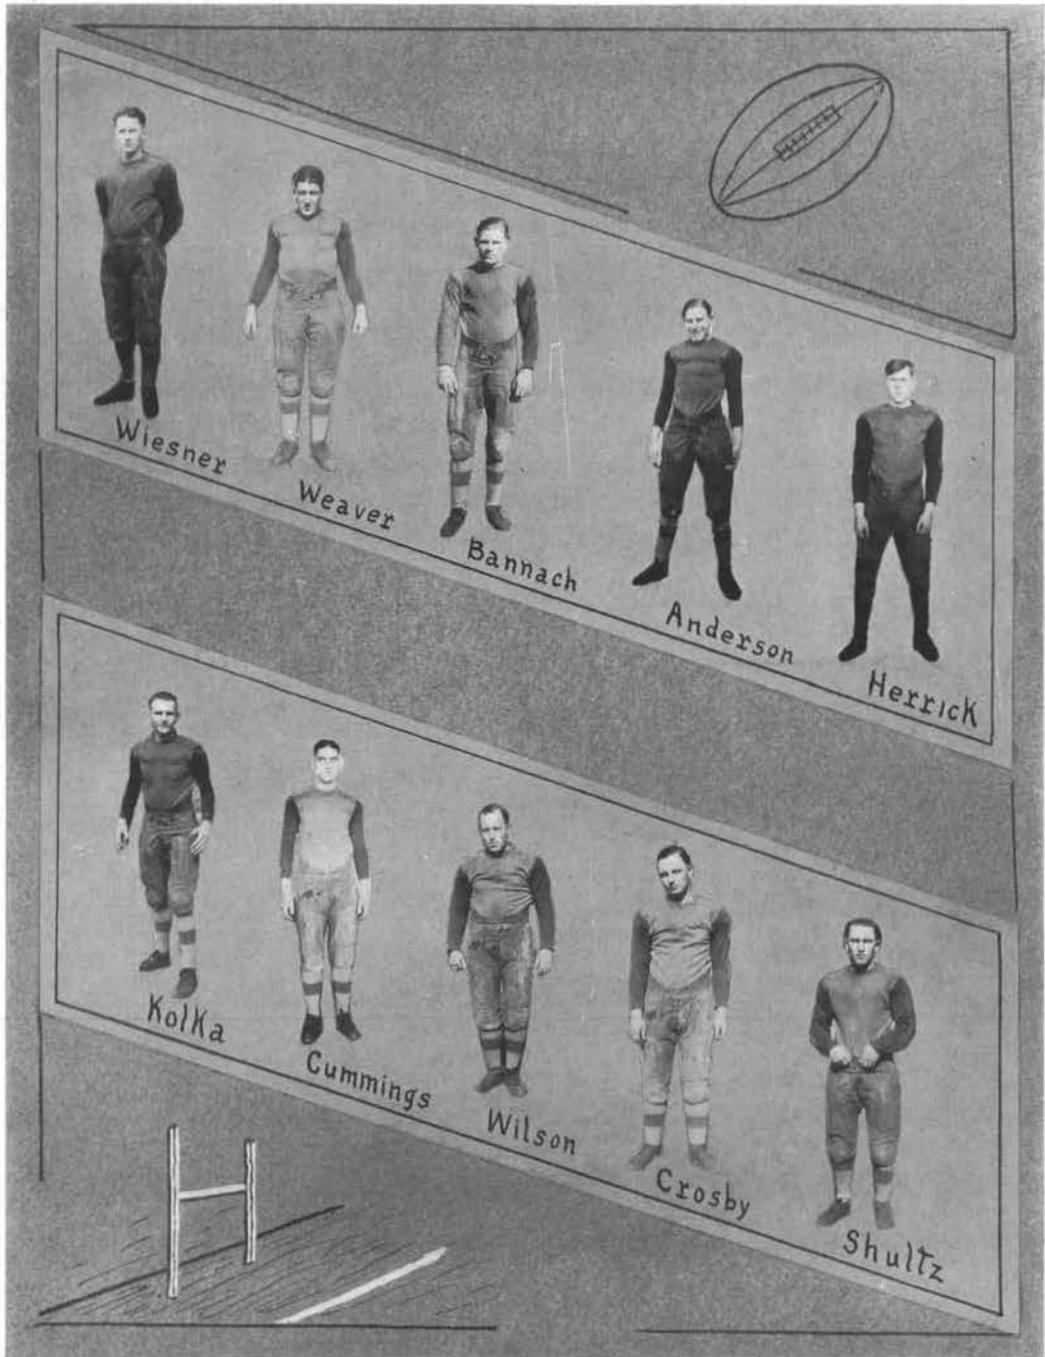

In closing I wish to thank the members of the "Pep Club" and the School generally for the support accorded losing teams.

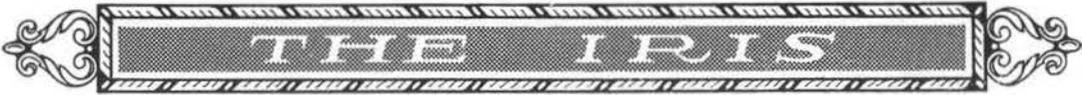

This support is bound to bear fruit. However, School Spirit is not entirely made up of yells, and members of teams could well be encouraged to do what is best for the team when not actually playing the game. It is easier to support a winning team than a loser, everyone will admit. Do not forget that it is also easier to play on or coach a winner. No matter how badly the rooters may feel just remember that the players and coach feel many times worse, especially when they feel that they have not been able to do themselves justice.

Football

The 1924 football season for S. P. N. was not as successful as was expected. All the boys returned to school a week before school started to get in condition for the first game which was two weeks after school began. The old members of the 1923 team who returned early for practice were Capt.-elect Knope, Wiesner, Weaver, Atkinson, Cummings, Bannach, Williams, Wallace, Vaughn, Anderson, and Craney. With the new men, Shultz, Laabs, Herrick, Swan, Wunroe, Kolka, Wilson, Crosby, Johnson, and Bacher, we thought there would be a successful season for S. P. N. The boys were on the field every night and they worked hard. The lack of experience on the part of many of them began to show at the very outset of the season.

The season opened at Ripon. Ripon College boasted of one of the strongest teams in the history of that school and they wanted a so called practice game. The team knew they had a battle on their hands and they went down there with the one purpose of defeating Ripon. They were successful and Ripon was on the short end of the score of 3-0. Vaughn, whose toe was the deciding factor in many games, made a drop-kick from the 30 yard line.

With a 3-0 victory over the Ripon eleven the team journeyed to Platteville to play the Platteville Normal eleven. Due to injuries a few of the regulars were out of the lineup. This had no effect on the remainder of the team because they knew they had to fight harder than ever. Their efforts were not in vain and again S. P. N. came out on the long end of the score of 13-2. This evened up matters because Platteville defeated us the year before by a score of 6-0.

With two victories to our credit we prepared for our next game with Stout Institute. In this game the real "Purple and Gold" spirit and fight was at its highest degree. Our boys were outweighed and the game ended a 6-0 victory for the Stoutonians.

With no game for the next Saturday the team and school made preparations for the homecoming game with Eau Claire. We wanted to average the 13-6 defeat by Eau Claire in '23. The team, crippled by the hard game with Stout did not show up as well as was expected. The 20 points which Eau Claire managed to chalk up came in the first half of the game and the entire second half was in the Points favor. The final score was 20-0.

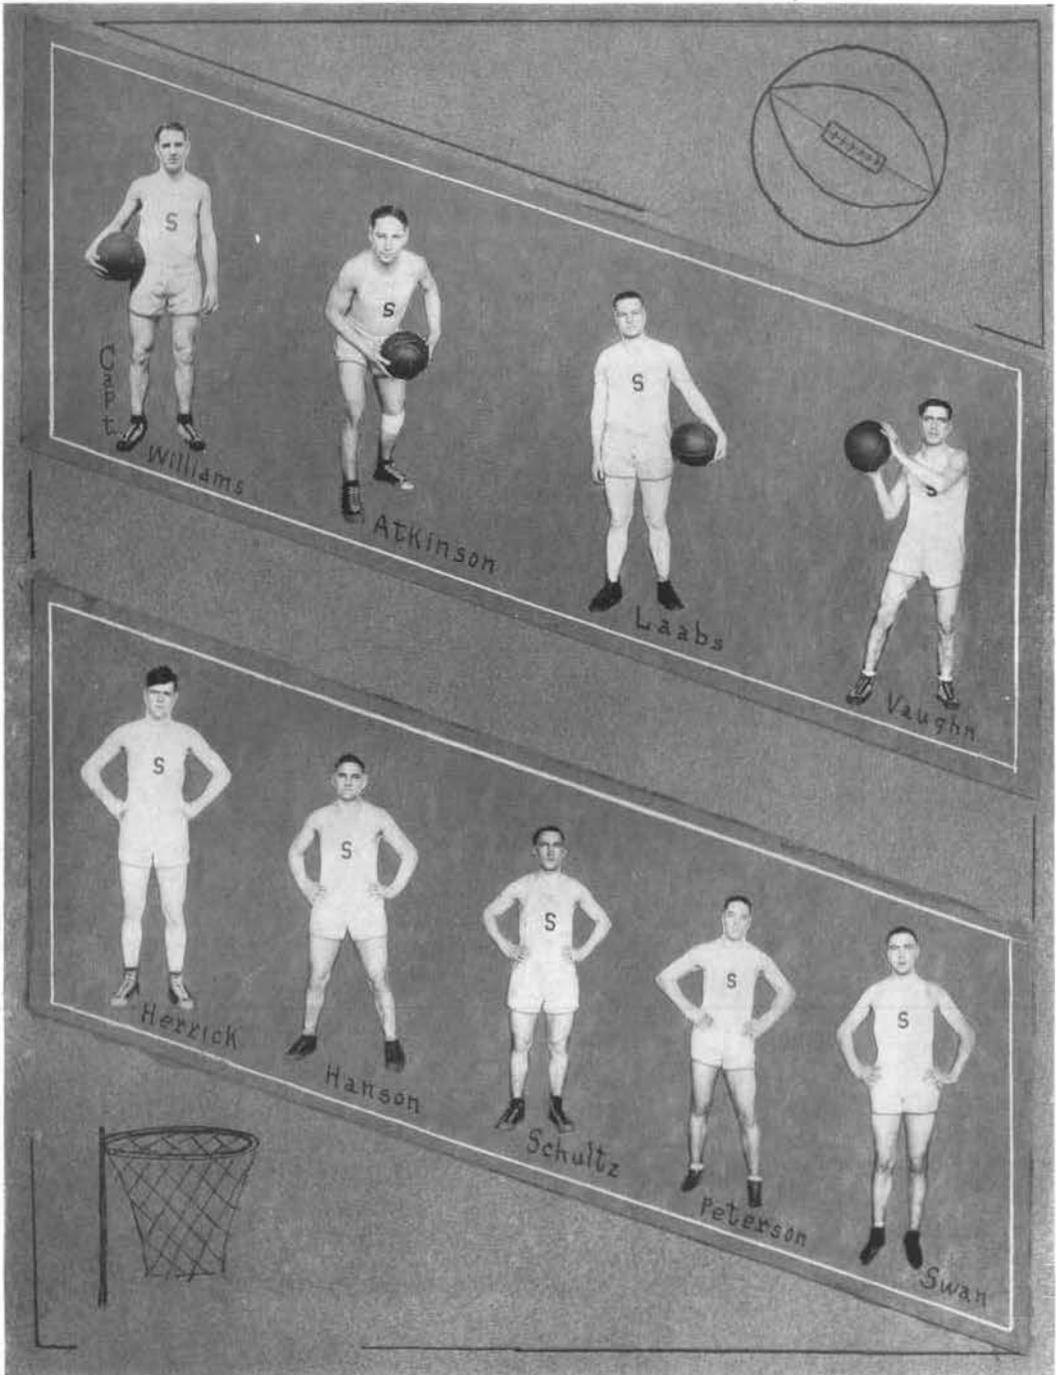

Superior Normal was our next opponent. Badly bruised up the team put up the best showing of the season. The final score, however, was in Superior's favor, 20-0.

The next game of the season was with River Falls. The field was covered with snow and made good playing impossible. All through the game the Point outplayed River Falls until finally River Falls scored a touchdown. The score at the end of the game was 6-0 in favor of River Falls.

The next Saturday the boys journeyed to Oshkosh to meet our friendly enemies. The field was one mass of mud but the team put up a real battle. Oshkosh had us outweighed and the score ended in Oshkosh's favor, 37-0.

Summing up the season, it was very successful but as you notice the team never lost the true S. P. N. spirit and fight. In June the following members of the team will be graduated: Knope, Wiesner, Williams, Herrick, Swan, Bacher, and Anderson. We wish them the best of luck in the future.

THE IRIS

Basket Ball

The basketball season opened with lots of pep. About forty fellows answered Coach Swetland's call for candidates. Four letter men, Captain Vance Williams, Virgil Herrick, Fred Vaughn, and Henry Swan reported. The first game of the season was with Scandinavia College. Here, Ham Williams caged five of his long berthas. Hanson, a new man, showed up well. The team played a good game considering their short practice and won 25-18. The next game was with the Wausau Star Clothiers, a quintet of former college stars. In this game Fritz Vaughn, Virge Herrick, and Rudy Shultz showed considerable skill and the Normal won 24-13. The Christmas vacation ended basketball for a time.

With but one short practice after the Christmas vacation the Normal journeyed to Wausau. They lost to the score of 28-17. Hank Swan was the mainstay of the team in this game. On January 10, the Normal was defeated in a slow game by the score of 23-13 at Depere by St. Norberts College.

The Normal opened their conference schedule by playing Superior Normal at Superior on January 16. Here a large floor combined with a smooth running team defeated us by the score of 27-12. We were far from down-hearted over the loss and prepared to defeat our next opponents.

The southern trip proved disastrous and we lost to Whitewater 24-8 and to Milwaukee 24-15. We lost both games by weakening in the second half.

The big game was at home on January 30 with Oshkosh. We had defeated Oshkosh last year so they came over with blood in their eyes. The Pep Club and the band were out with a surplus of pep as well as our faculty and student body. It was a hard game to lose because our boys fought so hard but could not seem to make the baskets. The final score was 46-19.

On February 12 we journeyed to River Falls where a crack shooting team defeated us by the score of 41-13.

The strong Northland College team from Ashland was defeated by the Normalites on February 13 to the score of 26-21.

The next conference game with Oshkosh was a change to the better for though our team lost they showed wonderful improvement and played real basketball. The score was 38-23.

On February 26, in a fast and hard fought battle, the Pointers defeated the strong Milwaukee Normal team to the score of 26-18. This game showed what the Normal could really do.

On February 28, the Normal met the strong Whitewater squad. The breaks were against us and we lost to the score of 24-19.

The last game of the season was with River Falls at Stevens Point. River Falls had defeated us by a large score earlier in the season, and we had lost two of our best players. It was a real game from the first to the last but River Falls received the long end of the score which was 28-18. This game marked the end of a basketball career under the Purple and the Gold for Captain Vance Williams, Virgil Herrick, and Henry Swan. We hope these boys will carry the same spirit and fight with them when they leave S. P. N.

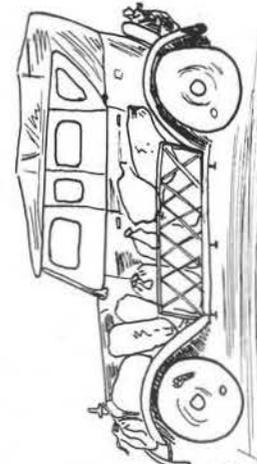

Thus ended the basketball season for 1924-25. Although we lost many games, we consider it a successful season in that our boys kept up the spirit and fight to the last minute of every contest. We hope all our future athletic teams are of the same type, for it is not all in the winning of the game. You must consider the material, equipment, and competition that we have to contend with and I am sure you will say that it has been a big season for us. We hope for another next year. See you then.

THE PURPLE AND THE GOLD

Let other Normals boast of victories galore—
Of laurels never lost, of triumphs by the score,
Let them tell you of their prowess
Of warriors strong and bold
But their colors ever lower to the Purple and the Gold.

II.

Our men are all victorious through every State around,
Our athletes and debators are winning great renown,
Though we're proud of all Wisconsin whose fame in story's told
Our heart's with Stevens Point Normal and the Purple and the Gold.

III.

To the banks of old Wisconsin when years are past and gone
When as school mates we have parted and our lessons all are done
We'll return and show our comrades, we're loyal as of old
And cheer them on to victory, 'neath the Purple and the Gold.

ALMA MATER

Hail Stevens Point, the School Supreme,
Of all the Normals, thou art queen,
Hail Alma Mater, thee we love,
For thou art great, all other schools above.

HAIL THE POINT!!!

Gems of Normals of Wisconsin, We to thee our homage bring,
And will loving admirations, We thy praises loudly sing,
Thou the proud and strong young giant, Stand on the Wisconsin,
Fair art thou and self reliant, Proudly then to thee we sing:

Chorus

Hail the Point—Hail the Point—First on platform, track and field,
Hail the Point—Hail the Point—Great the power that we wield,
Never shall thy students falter, All the State thy fame shall fill,
Naught thy loyalty can alter—Nor thy spirit of "I will."

II.

Come the students of Our great State, From the other states around,
Some of high and some low station, Seeking knowledge here profound,
With thy native sons and daughters, Aye, I shall love and honor thee,
Till like sound of mighty water, This our song of praise shall be.

Girls' Athletics

Athletics and sports for girls is one of the urgent needs of the present day. Individual sports, such as tennis, hiking, skating and skiing should be especially encouraged so girls may acquire the desire to continue some line of physical activity after leaving S. P. N. Organized athletics are promoted for the development of physical fitness, skill and sportsmanship.

With this aim in view, each girl is given 2 points an hour for each; tennis, skating, and skiing, 100 points for 100 miles of hiking and 100 points for a full season of practice in Basketball, Volleyball, Captainball, or Baseball.

When a girl has earned 100 points in athletics or sports, she is given a school letter. For 400 points she is given a bronze pin and for 600 points she is given a gold pin in exchange for the bronze pin.

The girls are organized into teams for Hiking, Basketball, etc., and given opportunity to try out for Track and Field events. The Basketball tournament is inter-department and the competition between the departments and the coaches of the department teams is especially keen.

FORENSICS

THE IRIS

We are very fortunate to have a man of the ability of Mr. Burroughs at the head of the English and Speech department. Through his untiring efforts Stevens Point has achieved distinction in these lines. His abilities are varied and cover many fields. He has gained prominence by his interpretations of literary masterpieces and his services as an entertainer have been in constant demand. His debate teams and orators have inspired the fear and respect of other normals.

In 1924, Miss Jeanette Wilson, trained by Mr. Burroughs, won the state oratorical contest at Whitewater and represented Wisconsin at the Inter-State meet. Upon the invitation of Stevens Point the Inter-State contest was held here. The thoroughness of the training Miss Wilson had received here made itself manifest and she was awarded second place in the contest. Paul Wright, who represented Wisconsin in the Extempore contest, was also awarded second place in that contest.

During the year Mr. Burroughs presented several plays. The most notable of these being Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Oratory

Out of thirty-five students who submitted orations, twelve were selected to participate in the preliminary contest. Of these Carrol Van Buskirk, Ethel Chapman, Donald Vetter, and Laurin Gordon were selected to compete further. In the final contest Carrol Van Buskirk was chosen to represent the school with Laurin Gordon as alternate.

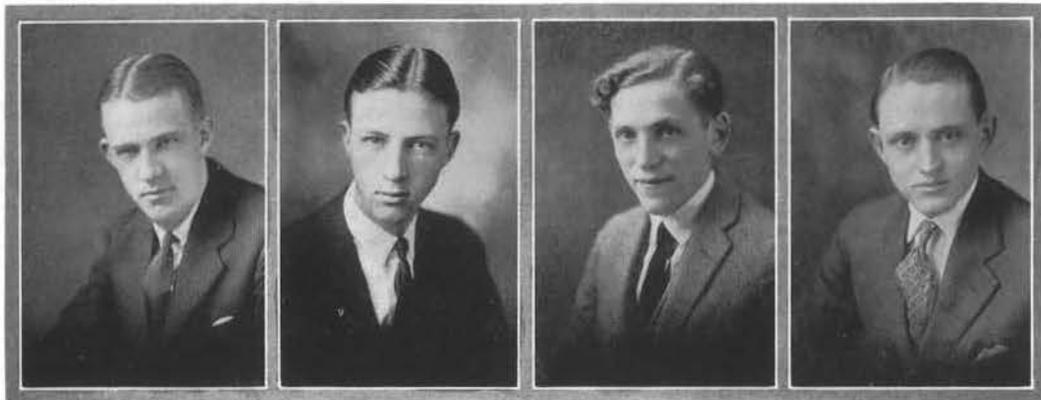

The subject of the winning oration was, "The Constitution of the United States." It was an excellent exposition on that great document and was given in the best oratorical style. All those who heard him were impressed by his earnestness and power.

The state contest was held at Superior on March 20. Superior was awarded first place, Oshkosh second, River Falls third, Eau Claire fourth, and Stevens Point fifth. Although Carrol was not among the first the contest was very close and there was very little difference in the speakers as named. Almost any order would have been acceptable.

Extemporaneous Contest

This was the second year this contest has been held. Donald Vetter was chosen to represent Stevens Point in the state contest. Edward Jensen was the alternate. The state contest was held at Superior the same time as the oratorical contest. Oshkosh was given first place, Stevens Point second, Superior third, and Milwaukee fourth. We can be very proud of Donald for the showing he made for the school. A queer coincidence of this contest was the fact that the order of the first two speakers was the same as last year, Oshkosh winning first and our contestant second. It puts us among the leaders in this type of contest.

Debate---Affirmative

The question for debate in the Inter-Normal League this year was: Resolved, That the power of the Supreme Court of the United States should be limited by a constitutional amendment providing that Congress, may, by re-enacting a statute by a two-thirds vote in each house make it effective over a judicial veto.

A large squad started work on the debate and was finally thinned down to eight men. Out of these the two teams were formed. The affirmative was composed of Laurin Gordon (Captain), Irving Gordon, Donald Vetter, and Edward Cook (alternate). They immediately began working and prepared to support the proposed change. On March 6, they met the La Crosse negative team here. A feature of this meeting was that the negative team was composed entirely of young ladies. Our team proved their equals however, and Mr. Keele of the University of Illinois awarded them the decision.

THE IRIS

Debate---Negative

Edward Jensen (Captain), Maurice Willet, Glen Dexter, and Lee Peterson (alternate), upheld the negative side of the question and defended the present system. They went to Oshkosh and met their affirmative there March 6. They were somewhat handicapped in that two of them were put on a little late due to the fact that two of the regular debaters left school. Mr. Burroughs, who accompanied the team to Oshkosh, said that they acquitted themselves very creditably and though they were not awarded the decision we know they did their best for S. P. N. and were a credit to our school.

A word might be said of the work our debaters did in preparing to represent the school. First they had to read every available reference in the library pertaining to the question. Then two or three times a week they held meetings to discuss the various phases of the question. After this the constructive speeches had to be written. However, it was very beneficial and interesting experience and everyone who took part was amply repaid for the time and energy spent. Let us hope that a large number will be out next year.

The Loyola Club is now completing its eleventh year in S. P. N. The membership is not as large as it has been previously, due to the smaller enrollment in the entire school, but the enthusiasm and interest are as great as ever.

The activities have followed much the same plan as heretofore with regular meetings every second Thursday night. An innovation has been introduced in the "open house" events held on alternate Saturday afternoons at the local K. C. club rooms. This has proved very popular and has been made possible by the generosity of our good friends, the Knights of Columbus.

At Christmas time Loyola played Santa Claus to the orphans at Polonia and spent one regular meeting hour in preparing a gift for each child. This was undoubtedly an evening of real pleasure.

The Normal School Science Club is now in its fifth year of existence. It was organized, at the instigation of Mr. Culver, for the purpose of promoting interest in the school along all lines of science.

The active members of the club are members of the faculty who are teaching scientific subjects. Associate members are students who, by reason of superior work in two or more sciences, and a generally good record in school, are invited to join the club.

At the monthly meetings, most interesting papers are read and discussions held, on all sorts of topics; and the members feel that the club has been one of real value. At the present, Mr. Watson, as president, is ably carrying on the work so well launched by Mr. Culver in 1920.

Music

Music is the very soul of man himself.—TENNYSON.

Who can tell what the Glee Club will accomplish in the future? We of today can exult only in present achievements.

The Ladies' Chorus of the Stevens Point Normal School for the year 1924-25 has been the best in the history of the school. Every girl of the the hundred and fifty who comprise the chorus has done all in her power to make it a success; and with such spirit behind it the chorus has truly flourished.

As their project for this year the members decided to earn money for a tour in the spring. The tour will be made by cars which the Chamber of Commerce promises to furnish. Some of the towns to be included in the trip are Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield, Nekoosa, and Wausau. The purpose of the trip is to advertise our Normal School and secure new students.

This year the Chorus had the pleasure of broadcasting from the Hotel Whiting of Stevens Point. A program of four numbers was sung, "Moonlight Sonata," "Ma Lindy Lou," "Night Song," and "Chilean Love Song." Word was received from all parts of the United States saying the program had been heard and enjoyed.

On Sunday, March 29, the Civic Orchestra and the Ladies' Chorus presented a musical program in the Normal Auditorium.

The officers of the Chorus are: President, Maude Marsh; Executive Committee, Kathryn Jole, Winnefred Burns, and Helen Donaldson; and Librarian, Marcelaine Melbe.

This year the Pointer was issued in the form of a newspaper and changed from a monthly to a bi-monthly publication. This change has been a popular one, enabling the staff to furnish a livelier and newsier school paper than was possible in the magazine of former years. Along with the change in the nature of the Pointer was also initiated a new staff arrangement. In addition to the regular editorial staff each semester a class in advanced English, under the general supervision of Mr. N. E. Knutzen, has taken over the publication of the paper as a class project. Thus benefits to the Pointer is having a bigger, more representative staff, and benefits from the Pointer in giving more people chances to become acquainted with editorial work have been inaugurated.

HARD LUCK.—Smith: "I heard of your son's breakdown at college. Is the condition serious?"
Jones: "Yes, it's the rear axle."

A PRECARIOUS RESOLUTION.—Dear Fritz: I have just about decided to cut fellows out. That resolution, I will take on New Years. Yours, Disgusted Mary.

RECORD HOLDERS.—Tumblers: Those who fall in love and those who drop in when not wanted.

Contortionists: Those who twist your meaning and those who are always in bad shape.

Vaulters: Those who leap into fame and those who jump at every chance.

Marksmen: Those who are clever at aiming remarks at anyone.

Miss Allen: "What are these specs in this tea?"
Home Ec. Senior: "Miss Allen, I couldn't find the strainer so I strained the tea through the flyswatter."

Statistics of 1924 show that 8,642 people lost their lives by gas. 42 by inhaling it, and 8,600 by stepping on it.

Mother: "Willie, why can't you be contented with a few, like other boys?"

Willie: "Mammy, daddy told me that a man who smokes too much gets a smoker's heart and—well I'm eating sweets too much."

ALL ON ICE.—Biggs: "Gonna make any New Years resolutions?"

Jiggs: "Don't need any."

Biggs: "How come?"

Jiggs: "Haven't used the ones I made back in 1920 yet."

Dear Editor: I am in love with a homely girl but she doesn't seem to care for me, while a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do?

Marry the one you love and send me the name and address of the other one.

"Money talks."

"Yes, but it never gives itself away."

THE PROPER PLACE.—Mr. Steiner: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Student: "Um-m-m-n-er at the bottom wasn't it?"

Those with bobbed hair say: "Oh, why can't this curler have some of the stuff—that keeps curls in the little pigs' tails?"

BRUTE.—Lady: "My husband is a deceitful wretch. Last night he pretended to believe me when he knew I was lying to him."

Mr. Watson: "How can you tell the approach of winter?"

F. Knope: "It begins to get later earlier."

Customer: "You're sure one bottle will cure a cold?"

Assistant: "It must do, sir—Nobody's ever came back for a second."

Nick: "Don't you think Connie looks spirituelle in that gown?"

Fred: "Well, I'll admit there is not much of the material about her."

"Why did you tell him you had to go to the dressing room for cold cream?"

B. Vinkle: "I had to do something to get the chap off my hands."

SAFETY FIRST.—Newrich: “Be sure you get a good-looking nurse for my baby.”

Mrs. Newrich: “Why?”

Newrich: “I want him to have police protection.”

He: “Say, Lucille, may I come over tonight?”

She: “Sure, Harold, come on over.”

He: “Why, this is not Harold.”

She: “This isn't Lucille, either.”

—:—

Surgeon: “I'll sew that scalp wound for you for $10.”

Patient: “Gee, Doc! I just want plain sewing, not hemstitching and embroidery.”

Conductor: “Is that child five years old?”

Lady: “Oh no, he's only just four.”

Conductor: “Then you must pay his fare. Only children under three ride gratis.”

—:—

“Well, Willie, and so you go to school, do you?”

“Yes,” said Willie.

“And do you love your teacher?”

Willie gave a sneering laugh. “No,” he said, “She's far too ancient for me.”

"How do you spell Constantinople?"
"Wrong."

It was all her fault officer. I was expecting her to shoot over to the wrong side of the road as any normal woman would—made allowance for it—and then she didn't.

American dentists are said to be the best in the world.

Someone went to great pains to find that out.

"I wouldn't touch him with a ten foot pole."

"Why not, what's the matter with him?"

"Oh nothing, only it would look so silly."

WHY DO MEN TAKE OFF THEIR HATS IN THE ELEVATOR?—A careful study of this question reveals the following answers arranged in order of their importance.

Their wives are with them.

Their wives are not with them.

Somebody might see them and tell their wives.

They have just become engaged.

They have just been divorced.

That's a darn pretty girl over there in the corner.

ODE TO BEAUTY

Ethereal oriflamme, that groping man
Strives ever to embrace with groping fingers,
Groping in blackness of an earthly ban
While groping through the dark he groping lingers.

Pale orb that gleamest through the ebon night,
Dim goddess swooning to Endymion's kiss,
Tell me, why are some things that poets write
Called beautiful that make less sense than this.

NEXT QUESTION.—"Hubby, how much do you love me?"

"How much do you need?"

A goat ate all our other jokes,
And then began to run,
"I cannot stop," he softly said,
"I am so full of fun."

An Innovation
—in—
SCHOOL ANNUAL WORK

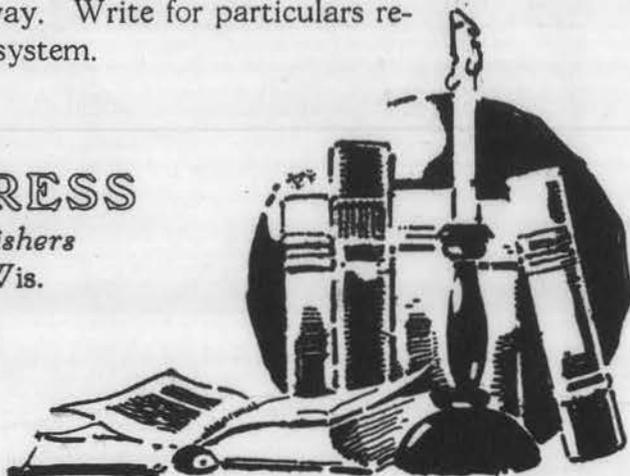

LOOK carefully through this issue of the Iris. Notice the excellent manner in which the illustrations are reproduced, the attractive type arrangement, and the perfection of the work through the entire book.

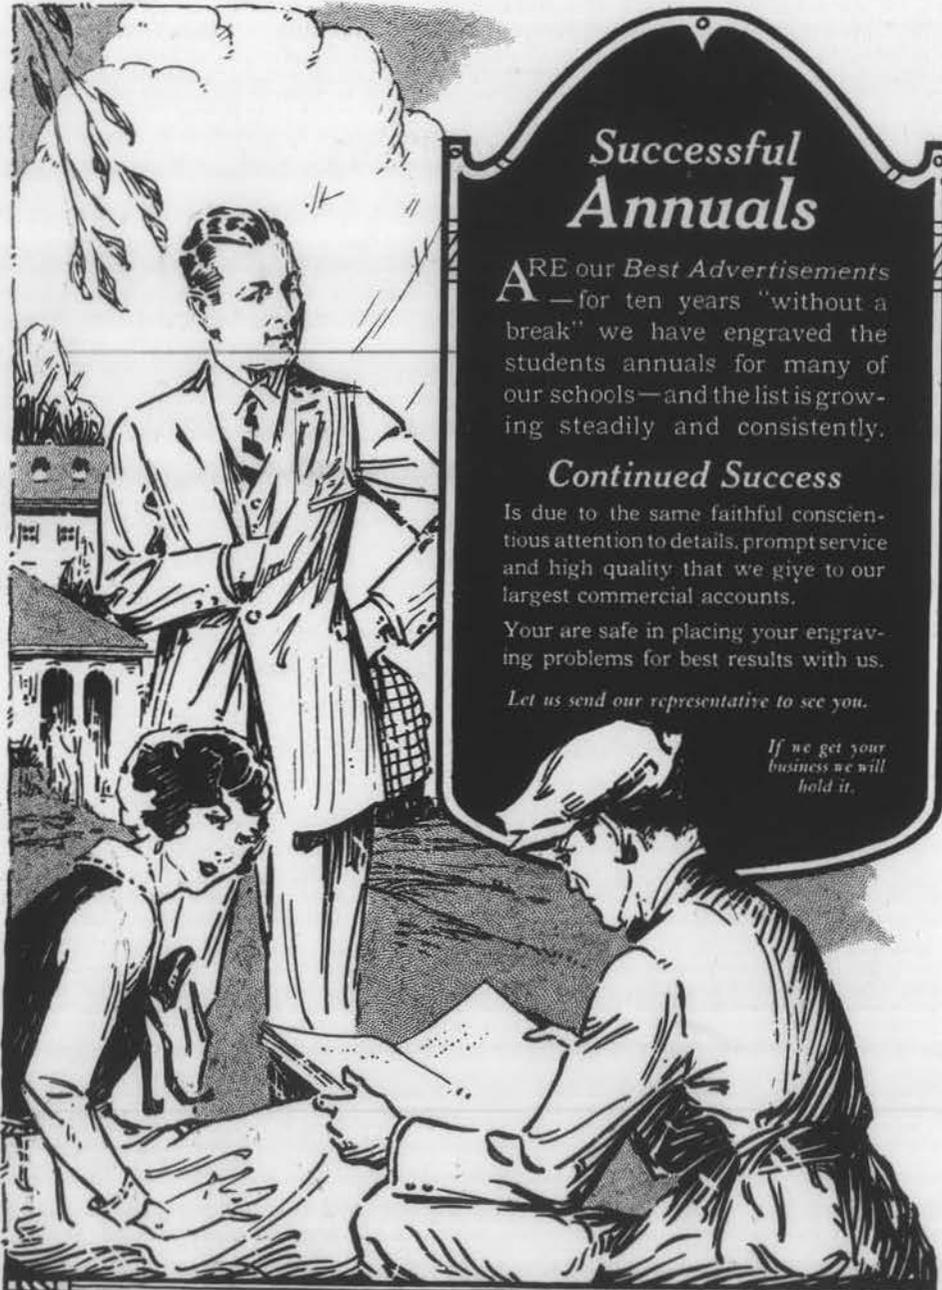

Add to this excellence of production a new plan of co-operation, which makes School Annual Building easy for the editors

This book is something absolutely new in the school annual business. It includes novel helps in every department of your annual that you can obtain in no other way. Write for particulars regarding this unique system.

"Now, f'r instance, see that Snail?"
"Yeah."
"See him move?"
"Hardly."
"Well, Congress'd think he was a Jack-Rabbit."

COMBINED HEREDITY.—The woman who counted her chickens before they hatched married a man who crosses his bridges before he came to them, and now their son is a huge success making promises for politicians.

FAIRY STORY.—"Gentlemen," said the famous after dinner speaker, "I have absolutely nothing to say this evening." Then he sat down.

SOLO.—Dyer (as Irene concludes a piece on the piano): "And Irene never had a lesson in her life!"
The addressed: "It's sweet of her not to put the blame on anyone else."

Dawes has found that his job at the Senate is no pipe.

Statistics show that nothing has done so much to improve the feminine figure as the one-piece bathing suit.

She: "So you've given up the idea of owning a yacht?"
He: "Yes, I bought a set of Conrad instead."

"The dread period of 1908 to 1920," writes J. E. House, "was that of governmental bunk."
We see that, and raise it five.

"Where were you last night?"
"It's a lie!"

In Australia a man walked fifty miles in his sleep. We understand that when he got back the sermon had finished.

There was a young man named Plank,
On one subject he was a crank,
Met some young women
And took 'em out swimmin',
My God, that can't be right.

SHORT STORY BY GLEN DEXTER.—Towards morning the party got rough and the actors appeared on the stage in their band suits.

To appreciate our jokes, fellows, you must be broad-minded. Of course, you must be, 'cause look at all the broads we have here.

FAT MAN'S TROUBLES.—On the way to the theatre Fatty stopped in front of a haberdasher's display window. His friend asked him if he was thinking of buying a shirt or pajamas or something, and he sighed when he said:

"Gosh, no! The only thing that fits me ready-made is a handkerchief."

Colored Mammy: "I wants to see Mistah Cummins."

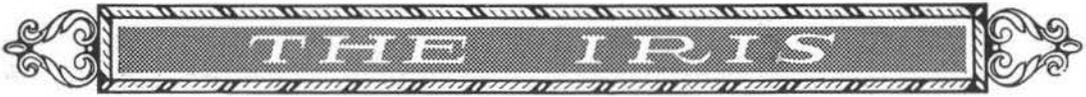

Office Girl: "Mr. Cummins is engaged."
Colored Mammy: "Well, I doan' want to marry 'im, honey."

Father: "What does the teacher say about your poor arithmetic work?"

Willie: "She says she'd rather you wouldn't help me with it."

Mr. Burroughs (in Lit. class): "If Shakespeare were alive today wouldn't he be looked upon as a remarkable man?"

Stevens: "He sure would. He'd be 300 years old."

"There must be."

—:—

THE POOCH KICKS IN.—"I got sad news. My dog died last night."

PLAYFUL WILLIE

Little Willie, full of glee,
Poured iodine in mamma's tea;
When dad got ma's insurance dough,

TO MAKE WIFE SPEECHLESS.—"What did your wife say when you came in at four this morning?"

"Didn't have a word to say."

"S'matter, tongue tied?"

"No, I put cement in her beaury clay."

When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
When the road you are trudging seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest, if you must, but don't you quit.
Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you can never tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you MUSTN'T quit.

"Is the world round?" a schoolma'am asked the little boy.

"No'm."

"It isn't eh? Is it flat, then?"

"No'm."

"Are you crazy, child? If the world isn't round and isn't flat, what is it?"

"Pop says it's crooked."

Mrs. Backpay: "Good morning, sir. Will you take a chair?"

Collector: "No, thank you, ma'am. I've come to take the piano."

Waiter: "This money is no good, sir."

Diner: "Then we're even—your dinner was no good either."

At the dorm: "Young man, the lights go out here at 10:30."

Young man: "That suits me."

"What does my little man wish to buy—chocolates?"

"You bet your life I do; but I've got to buy soap."

KEEP YOUR MIND ON YOUR BUSINESS.—Freshman History Teacher: "What was the Era of Good Feeling?"

Paulson (Dreamily and thoughtlessly): "Just after we left the Japanese Gardens."

S-SH-SH-S-SH.—"That new butler of yours certainly has a pointed nose and a hard face."

"Yes? I've noticed that all the doors are scratched around the keyholes!"

NOW ISN'T HE FUNNY.—Two men in a Los Angeles coffee shop were discussing the relationship between "strong drink" and broken homes.

"No, you're quite wrong," said one of them. "It isn't 'drink' that ruins so many homes."

"What is it, then?" queried the other.

"Why, thirst, of course," said the first man.

Small Boy: "Please, teacher, what is a rendezvous?"

Teacher (absently): "The place where you catch cold waiting for your best girl."

TUNE IN, FOLKS.—She bustled into the shop as though she hadn't a moment to spare "I want a book for my husband," she declared, "It's his birthday tomorrow." "Show me what you have, please," she continued, without pausing to take breath. "Nothing too expensive, I don't want anything cheap. He's a mild-mannered man and not fond of sport. Don't offer me those trashy novels." "Come, now! I'm in a dreadful hurry. I've already wasted too much time. Of course, you don't know my husband, but from what I've said can't you suggest something appropriate?"

"Yes, madam," replied the assistant politely, as he picked up a little red-bound book. "Here is an excellent volume entitled 'How to Manage a Loud Speaker.'"

SO SAD

An oyster sat on a cracker box
With his handkerchief to his eyes,
"Why do you cry, my dear old friend?"
Asked a cracker, in mild surprise.

The oyster replied: "To tell the truth,
I am shedding these tears for you,
For I know full well you'll be all broke up
When we meet in that bowl of stew!"

WOW, WHAT A LIAR.—A Salesman for automobile accessories was demonstrating his car equipped with twenty gas saving devices, every one guaranteed to save from 15 to 35 per cent gas.

"Do you use any gas at all with all those devices on your car?" asked the dealer.

"No," replied the salesman, "I drain my gasoline tank every morning, and by sundown I have accumulated ten gallons of gas."

A girl who wouldn't dream of riding barebacked thinks nothing of dancing that way.

Old man Meade says when he was young the boys used to get a whole peck of fun out of rassing with each other, but all they want to do now is rassel with these here half-dressed, pink colored gals and call it dancing.

To keep friends treat them kindly and frequently. With what?

Rozatski, our Hot-House Office Boy, sez: "Hands up means something to September Morn."

YE LADIES (Apple Sauce to Kipling)

My lovin' I've took where I found it
 And I've found me a heap, that I'll vow
 But in all of that raft of Sweet Mammass
 Four were the old cat's meow
 One was a nifty grass widow
 One was a broad at the beach
 One was the wife of a millionaire
 And one was a shy country peach.

I wasn't a shark with the gilies
 At first I was green as the grass
 It was like getting used to an auto
 To know when to give 'er the gas.
 There's times when you better go careful
 And there's times when you don't give a blow
 But the things you will learn from each one in turn
 Will serve you good stead as you go.

I had only a youngster's wisdom
 When I fell for the widow Leek
 But she took me in hand for a season
 And I thought I was quite a sheik.
 She was older than I was, but pretty,
 Like Grecian statues she were,
 Filled with burning desire were her kisses of fire—
 And I learned about women from her.

Next I got me a job in the city,
 And sought out the Bright Lights at night,
 'Twas there that I met a sweet mamma
 The wife of a Banker named White.
 She said she was sad and neglected
 And the week that ensued is a blur
 But her husband came home and cracked my dome,
 So I learned about women from her.

At last I went back to the village
 Where I had been raised as a lad
 And fell for a modest young lassie
 Who didn't know how to be bad,
 Her love was as pure as the Heavens
 And I felt like a cad, as it were
 So I packed up my grip and went off on a trip
 And I learned about women from her.

Yes, I've taken my love where I've found it,
 And now I must pay up in full
 For this line that you get it for nothing
 Is only a mouthful of bull,
 I'm a broken down, lonely old bachelor
 To love, I've no longer the key,
 So be warned by my lot, (which I know you will not)
 And learn about women from me!

SAY IT WITH GARLIC

Do you carrot all for me?
 My heart beets for you,
 With cherry lips
 And peach complexion
 Radish hair and turnip nose.
 My love is soft as a squash
 And as strong as an onion,
 If we cantaloupe—lettuce marry;
 We'll make a gourd pair.

Doctor: "Roll up your sleeve."
 K.: "But I use my arm in my orchestra work."
 D.: "Then I'll have to vaccinate you on your leg."
 K.: "But I must walk."
 D.: "Then take off your hat."

Rightsell (making Physics assignment): "Tomorrow start with lightning and go to thunder."

 Chorus: "Let'er break, you've got plenty more."

A SONG OF SOLAR AND A SPANISH GUITAR

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
She was cold as the cold Polar star,
But she fell for my stuff, though it wasn't so rough,
While I played on my Spanish guitar.

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
The Spaniards they woo from afar,
But I like my tamales served hot by the dollies
As I play on my Spanish guitar.

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
In Russia I loved like a Czar,
But down in the South I foamed at the mouth
When I played on my Spanish guitar.

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
I met her one day by La Mar,
Where the waves of the sea wafted romance to me,
So I played on my Spanish guitar.

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
At the door of the Rondo Bazar
She used a sharp dagger—that dame made me
stagger—
And I sat on my Spanish guitar.

Strum-te-tum, ting-a-ling, plunk-a-plunk, zing!
On my wrist is a long livid scar * * *
For you sure risk your life with another man's wife,
Better play on your Spanish guitar.

"Yep, name Si."

"Is he right smart of a worker?"

"Wall, I dunno."

"Whar is he?"

"Waal, ye see that speck way down there in the field, that looks like a fence post. That may be a fence post er it may be Si. Keep a lookin' en if it moves it's a fence post."

A DOUBLE DISAPPOINTMENT.—Rural Magstrate: "I'll have to fine ye a dollar, Jeff."

Jeff: "I'll have to borrow it off'n ye, Jedge."

Rural Magistrate: "Great Snakes! It was only to git a dollar that I was finin' ye.
Git out! Ye ain't guilty, anyway."

The reason most young girls have a love for

Said Too Much

One evening while sparking his girl, a Normal graduate, asked her to marry him. She readily consented and rested her head on his shoulder. After a long silence she asked: "Why don't you say something, John?" To which he replied: "I've said too blamed much."

And though it's not quite nice
To shamelessly admit it,
I've been to Deauville twice!

I've seen the sights of Paris
And wooed the Montmartre girls,
I've parked on public highways
And bummed around with Earls.

A dozen cars I've traded in—
To keep the latest style,
In every state and every clime
I've sped full many a mile.

And still I'm ever searching
For my quest was started late,
Each day I think I'll find her
I guess it's up to fate.

You see, I've set my heart upon
A certain kind of girlie,
It's strange I cannot find her
Though I hunt her late and early.

She needn't be so “awful” nice!
Still—I'll tour the world alone,
'Till I find, upon some starlight night
The kind of girl that walks home!

"Pumping away," said the fellow at the service station.

"Lots selling," said the real estate man.

"I just manage to scrape a living," said the violinist.

"Keeps me flying around," said the aviator.

"It gets me all out of spirits," said the boot-legger.

"On the blink," said the optician.

"Going at a good clip," said the barber.

If the man who intends to go over Niagara Falls in a rubber ball has any musical taste, very likely his favorite song is: "After the Ball is Over."

WAIL OF PESSEMISM

Dirty days hath September
April, June, and November,
From January up to May,
The rain, it raineth every day,
All the rest have thirty-one
Without a blessed gleam of sun,
And if any of them had two-and-thirty,
They'd be as wet and twice as dirty.

Co-ed: "Is this the Bureau of Information?"

"Yes, what do you want?"

Co-ed: "Is my hat on straight?"

:—:—:

Herrick: "Just had a date with one of those mind reading ladies."

Swetland: "Well! Well! And how did she enjoy her vacation?"

:—:—:

1: "An awful accident up street!"

Another: "What happened?"

1: "A car ran into a garage."

:—:—:

Sweet thing on corner: "Are you a college man?"

He: "No, I've been sick."

"Do you believe in love at first sight?"

"No, love is blind."

:—:—:

Collins: "Now, I want the students to be two seats apart during the examination and will Rogers please put his cuffs on my desk."

THE IRIS

He: "Ah, dearest, could we but fly together, you and I, to the ends of the earth—rediscover the garden of Eden. . . ."

She: "But deary, I haven't a thing to wear!"

American Tourist (trying to get away big): "Begorry, thot's a noice lookin' house ye have there."

Irishwoman: "Yeah, I'll tell the cock-eyed world."

Anderson (to girl on phone): "Now, you get another girl and I'll get another good looking fellow."

:::—

Waiter: "Will you have some pie?"

Stude: "Is it compulsory?"

Waiter: "No, apple."

Bacher: "I ordered strawberry short-cake. Where are the strawberries?"

Jensen (at the Pal): "That's what it's short of."

Lady (in butcher shop): "Is that the head cheese over there?"

Butcher: "No, ma'am, the boss isn't in."

Anderson: "How do you keep your balloon trousers from bagging at the knees?"

Bacher: "Walk backwards."

:::—

Lady (at Times Square): "Boy, how do I get to Washington Square?"

Urchin: "Aw, get the 'L' downtown."

Lady (hastily retreating): "Brat!"

:::—

Burroughs: "Have you read Beowulf?"

Stevens: "No, I don't like animal stories."

Girls, take this: If a college man doesn't speak to you, he isn't snobbish. He's just sleepy.

:::—

"I would:face death for you!"

"Then why did you run away from that dog?"

"It wasn't dead."

A mystery that puzzles me,

The answer—I can't find it,

Is how some stars got on the screen

When they should be behind it!

A man's reputation can be ruined now by eating a mint.

It's the long road that has no turning—and it's an easy one to do some one-arm driving on.

:::—

Mr. Clark, is this deductive reasoning?

1. Necessity knows no law.

2. A bootlegger knows no law.

Therefore: A bootlegger is a necessity.

Dexter: "What yuh say your nickname was?"

She: "Opportunity."

He: "Huh?"

She: "Sure, haven't you heard that we must embrace every opportunity?"

He: "Huh?"

She: "Oh, never mind."

:::—

I WONDER

I wonder if you'll ever know

How hard I fell for you?

I never really meant it so—

I wonder if you'll ever know

That through my brain you come and go,

The endless hours through—

I wonder if you'll ever know

How hard I fell for you?

:::—

First Burglar: "That five letter word for robber is thief."

Second B.: "Sh! Speak lower."

First: "I can't, I'm tenor."

Reggie wanted to do great things in life.

He wanted to be in the public eye.

He wanted to stop people with a gesture and cause them to tremble with apprehension.

He wanted to make people shrink whenever he looked their way, and so he did.

He became a traffic cop.

Low Brown: "Shucks, boy! Dat ain't nuthin'! De band what I plays in am so big dat it takes seben wheelbarrows to haul de rosum for de violin."

Gentleman Jim was polite to the last. He even offered his chair to the warden when he was about to be electrocuted.

FINALS

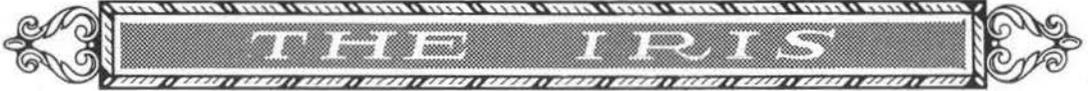

Flunked in Physics, failed in Math,
I heard him softly hiss—
I'd like to find the guy who said,
Ignorance is bliss.

Bill: "Will you go to the dance with me?"
Murray: "No, but I'll introduce you to a pretty girl who will go."
Bill: "I don't want a pretty girl; I want you."

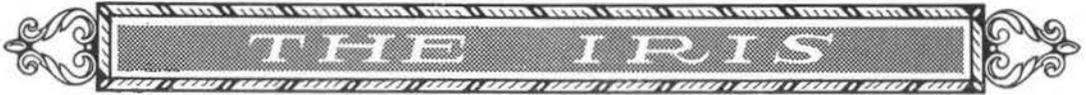

THE IRIS

On these pages so white
I want you to write
Your name, and perhaps, a story,
To remind me, your friend,
That from now to the end
We'll recall ol' S. P. N.'s glory.

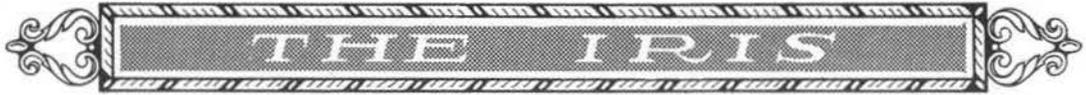

THE IRIS

Your name here, ol' timer
Just as a reminder
Of stunts that we used to try,
Many's the day
When we wandered away
From classes, Oh, how we got by!

THE IRIS

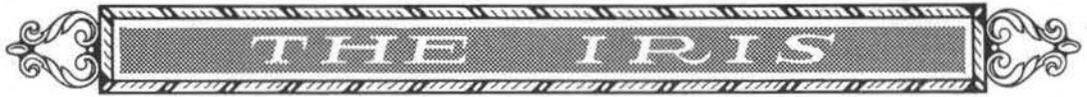

Here you may write
To your heart's delight,
Fill the whole page if you wish;
If you haven't a pen
Use a pencil then,
But make it a new, rare dish.

You've come to my end, but remember,
You're not quite through with me yet,
Go through me again
Every now and then
And see how much pleasure you'll get.
