INSPIRING PERSONALITY,
HER MASTERFUL SCHOLARSHIP,

AND HER

EXEMPLIFICATION OF THE
HIGHEST IDEALS, WE, THE
SENIOR CLASS, DEDICATE
THE 1927 IRIS.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This is the first issue of the Iris since the right to grant degrees in Home Economics and Rural Education was given us by the State Normal School Board. Thus, it becomes a milestone on our School's path of progress. Others have labored and we have entered into the fruits of their labor.

But we may not merely enjoy these fruits. We must enter into their labor. We, alumni, undergraduates, must demonstrate our entire worthiness of the right which now is ours. For, like the Romans of old, we insist that every right carries with it its own full measure of responsibility.

May this word, then, to those who have already builded well, and to those who in days just dawning we confidently expect will build even better, carry sincere and hearty greetings; and more: May it steady our vision and steel our purpose to achieve in the fields of intellect, of character, and of social service those triumphs which honor Alma Mater.

Robert Dodge Baldwin.

To the Class of 1927:

In the arts of music, painting and letters, the outstanding characteristic of gifted people is the happiness they find in their work. Artists in these fields hold the vision of a completed masterpiece and have an absorbing interest in its development from the beginning to the end.

If the outstanding characteristic of the teacher is to be happiness, there must be a vision of that which it is possible for the individual pupil to become. Absorbing interest and effort in this achievement will mean getting away from the piece-work type of service, and will win recognition of the great art necessary in the interdependent grades and departments of the public schools.

Unlike the other arts, teaching must be carried on "among us mortals" who still repeat the history which caused the schoolmaster of yore to conclude,—

"Uneasy lie the heads of all who rule,
His most of all whose kingdom is a school".

However nothing can take away for long the joy of the job for the teacher whose spirit is suggested by Alfred Noyes in his drama, "Sherwood" in which the hero "oft saved a fairy whom he thought only a may-fly in a spider's web".

The main source of happiness for the teacher will be in meeting the very great need of the individual pupil to be understood, — particularly those who, despite privation, give evidence of great possibilities such as were comprehended by the one who wrote, —

"The pen of the author and statesman,
The noble and wise of the land,
The plane and the chisel and palette,
Shall be held in the little brown hand."

Elizabeth C. Maloney

Senior Class Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1927, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make this, our last will and testament.

Although we realize how keenly our absence will be felt by those we leave behind, and that the school will be practically disabled in the coming year, we feel it our duty to do our best by bequeathing our numerous talents, ambitions and characteristics as follows :

To our President, Dr. Baldwin, we leave the building, slightly damaged, but still intact, and our records by which he may set a standard for the coming classes.

To the faculty we leave our impressions, some written in black, some in red, for better or for worse.

To the Junior class we leave our spirit of progress, originality, and hope that they will use it as we have this year.

Individually we bequeath our belongings and achievements as follows :

Irvin Gaulke wills his speedy line to Jacob Block as he intends to take a little Rowe into the stormy sea of life soon.

Edwin Groh leaves a paper on which he has put much work and thought to Mr. Evan's Physiology Class. The title of the paper is: "How a Foote may affect the Heart."

Helen Knope wishes to will her power of speech to Agnes Kleese to be used on heavy dates only.

Thelma Kroll, through a generous impulse, wishes to leave her knack of wearing pins to Arline Carlsten.

Arnold Malmquist leaves the library a copy of his latest book entitled, "What Happened to the House of David."

Gladys Nelson leaves the school a large Marsh to be cultivated with care.

Harold Foss leaves a saxophone solo to Walter Allen entitled, "I'm a Drug Store Cowboy Shiek."

Minnie Van Wyk leaves that soulful look to Margaret Collins to be used when she sees fit.

Julia Van Hecke leaves her melodious voice to the 1928 girls' Glee Club.

Henrietta Timme leaves the school a sadder and wiser girl.

To this document we put our hand and seal, on this the twenty-ninth day of March in the year of our Lord, 1927,

Signed and Sealed
Irving Gordon
 Senior Class President.

The Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class began the school year with an enrollment of thirty-six. The class spirit, manifested from the start, has been maintained throughout the full term making the Sophomores prominent in all scholastic activities. The Sophomores figured largely in athletics as well as Forensics and Dramatics. This class promises to be one of the most active, school-spirited classes that has ever been in the school.

The Freshman Class

This year due to the addition of a four year degree course to the High School and Home Economics Department, Stevens Point Normal School has a Freshman Class, the first in the history of the school.

The class, although very small, has been able to hold its own in school activities. It was represented on the Football team as well as the Basketball team, and a few Freshmen are among those in the Girls' Glee Club, Boys' Glee Club, and the Orchestra.

The class as a whole is very peppy and has proved that in spite of its size it could show a great deal of enthusiasm especially when it came to school affairs.

The Purple and Gold

I.

*Let other Normals boast of victories galore—
Of laurels never lost, of triumphs by the score,
Let them tell you of their prowess
Of warriors strong and bold,
But their colors ever lower to the Purple and the Gold.*

II.

*Our men are all victorious through every State around,
Our athletes and debators are winning great renown.
Though we're proud of all Wisconsin whose fame in story told,
Our heart's with Stevens Point Normal and the Purple and the Gold.*

III.

*To the banks of old Wisconsin when these years are past and gone
When as school mates we have parted and our lessons all are done,
We'll return and show our comrades, we're loyal as of old
And cheer them on to vict'ry 'neath the Purple and the Gold.*

Grammar Department

The Grammar Department as usual has had a very successful year. Its membership has steadily increased due chiefly to the Director, Mr. Watson, who at all times is sympathetic and has the interests of his people at heart. There has been an addition to our ranks in the person of Mr. Roberts to whom the members are to feel free to go for assistance and advice at any time.

The Grammars were well represented in both athletics and forensics. First and second places in the oratorical contest were won by members from our group. In the Homecoming parade the department members showed their spirit and ability by making a float which won first place for its cleverness.

The Round Table Club, our official organization, has afforded us many evenings of pleasure because of the fine programs given and the social hours spent in getting acquainted with one another making us all feel as members of one large family.

GRAMMAR

High School Department

The High School Department is one of the largest and best organized departments in school. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that the regular three year High School course has been changed to a four year degree course. Many of our old graduates have returned for their fourth year, while many new students have enrolled in this new course.

We owe much of the success of our department to the efficient leadership of Mr. Smith. He is well fitted for his position both by his education and experience, as well as his knowledge of his students and their needs. Miss Jones, his assistant, has also given us much help during our work here.

The Forum is our departmental society. In it we meet all the members of our department socially. It serves to bring the members together and furnishes pleasant entertainment for them.

The High School Department has always contributed to a large extent to the outside activities of our school.

Home Economics Department

Home Economics is coming into more prominence each year; and evidence of this is shown in the various ways the work is applied in new and old fields. As a vocation, Home Economics work is new, but it aids in solving the problems of the home, hospital, institutions and school, that have not received due attention in the past.

Miss Allen is our director, leader, and friend. She expects her people to do their best, to be truly interested in the work they have chosen and to apply it for the betterment of humanity. She has worked and worked hard to have the present course in our school. Misses Meston, Church, and Wilson, who have specialized in particular phases of Home Economics, help us in countless ways many of which will be more fully appreciated even later in our lives. Beside being our Chemistry instructor Mr. Rogers is our club advisor. We will always remember him particularly for his cheerful, friendly manner.

Our home Economics Club is the place all the classes get together not as Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, but as one big group of friends whose work is the common interest that binds us more closely together.

GENEVIEVE CARTMILL,

MAYME CARTMILL,

ETHEL KULKE,

ESTHER SCHEERF.

The Stevens Point Normal School has reached another milestone in its progress. The students, faculty, and alumni have all looked forward to the time when this school could offer to the young people of Wisconsin a four year course of study leading to a degree. We are now in truth a Teachers' College and on Commencement Day 1927, the Degree of Bachelor of Education will be conferred for the first time upon three students who have completed the Degree Course in Home Economics Education, — Genevieve Cartmill, Mayme Cartmill and Esther Schlerf. At the close of the summer session the degree will be granted to several others, among them, Ethel Kulke.

Congratulations to these who are the first to receive this honor from their Alma Mater.

The Primary Department

Mr. Delzell, our director, with his ever-ready smile is always willing to encourage and help us in any way he can. Through his efforts our work has been both interesting and helpful. Mr. Delzell has been aided by: Miss Ivey, Miss Pritchard, Miss Tobias, Miss Treiber, and Mrs. Lovell.

The aim of the Primary Department is to train the girls who are taking this course to become efficient teachers of the kindergarten and the first three grades.

The Primary Council, our department society, was organized in 1914, the same time as the department. At the meetings, which are held every two weeks, we receive social and instructive benefits. Our officers are :

President	HAZEL WHITE
Vice-President	NORMA BORSACK
Secretary	MILDRED FISHER
Treasurer	HELEN SMITH

The Department of Rural Education

The improvement of educational conditions in rural communities is a challenge to all those who are interested in equal opportunities for the boys and girls.

One very effective means of answering that challenge, in part, is to provide well trained teachers and supervisors for schools in country districts.

With this purpose, the Department of Rural Education in our Normal School, provides courses for those who are preparing to teach in one room rural schools, in state graded schools of the first or second class, and for those who plan to do rural supervision or to teach in schools which train rural teachers. The school, through this department, offers a degree in rural supervision.

The success of this Department is due to the untiring efforts and the far-sighted vision of Director, O. W. Neale, who is now completing his twelfth year of service here. Keenly interested in the improvement of rural educational conditions, he is peculiarly fitted for his work by training, experience and personality. His practical knowledge of the problems of rural life, his clear presentation of these problems, and his optimism have been an inspiration to the students who have come under his influence.

The Rural Life Club is a wide-awake organization of a large group of enthusiastic students in the Rural Department.

The meetings are held on alternate Monday nights in the Rural Dep't. Assembly Room. The meetings have proved to be of great value in guiding the students toward good leadership and community organization, and have been a source of pleasure from the social standpoint. They will aid the students in carrying out the duties before them as teachers.

Due to the capable guidance of Miss Hanna, our Faculty Advisor, and the co-operation of the officers and every member of the Rural Life Club, this organization has been one of the peppiest in school.

Rural Demonstration School

The Demonstration schools, which are operated in connection with the Department of Rural Education, provide an opportunity for our students who are preparing to work in one room rural schools to do practice teaching under conditions similar to those in such schools of Wisconsin. Each school is organized and administered in accordance with the state course of study for one room rural schools.

The Orthman Demonstration School is located on the campus and is in charge of Miss Bessie La Vigne. This is a model building, equipped with a kitchen, shop and library in addition to the assembly room. The children are transported from a district several miles from Stevens Point.

The other Demonstration School is located in the open country at Arnott which is ten miles from Stevens Point. Miss Edith Heasty is in charge. Each prospective rural teacher remains for one week in this district while she is excused from classes in the Normal School. She devotes all of her time to observing teaching by the critic and to teaching of classes which are assigned to her. On Friday of each week the student teachers take entire charge of the school.

Both of these schools are very popular with our students and play a very important part in their training.

The Training School was organized when the Normal first opened in 1894 and is now considered the best in the state. It consists of a Primary Department, Intermediate Department, and a Junior High School. The Junior High School was organized in 1920, and was named in honor of Mary D. Bradford, former Training School principal. A new training school building costing $150,000.00 will be built this summer. It will house the entire training school.

For the past seven years the students of the Normal School have received beneficial practice training under the supervision of efficient and helpful critics under the leadership of Mr. Herrick. The progress made by Training School and the fame it enjoys are due in a large part to the work of Mr. Herrick.

The President of our University, Glenn Frank, has said, "I believe that the only real guarantee of sanity and safety in popular thought and expression lies not with more energetic policemen, but with more efficient school teachers." It is the purpose of the Training School to make the students who practice there a group of very efficient school teachers. The Training School teaches us to treat each child as an individual with individual problems. It teaches us to deal with the children in ones, and that is the very idea expressed by Angelo Patri when he said, "Children come in ones. If we are to get the best out of each of them, they must be taught and trained and praised, and blamed one by one."

In our old days, if there be such, we shall remember the Training School and the lessons we learned there. We were given assistance and advice in a kind and helpful manner. The Junior High School, which is part of the Training School, plays an important part in the student life of our school.

And when we shall turn the pages of this book our eyes shall rest for a moment in the Training School section and we shall reminisce.

Walter J. Hunting

Since taking over the reins of the Athletic directorship, Coach Hunting has given Stevens Point a start toward athletic supremacy in the Normal conference. The fact that a green, unschooled football team ended up with a percentage of .500 against heavier and more experienced teams speaks well for Mr. Hunting's coaching ability. Mr. Hunting has proved himself during his High school career, and shows his real worth by putting out good teams from this school where athletic material is at a premium, due to the small enrollment of men.

Football Resumé

The first game which the Purple gridmen undertook, was with Northland College at Ashland. The game gave the team a good chance to try themselves against a strong foe. They went on the field full of determination to make their opponents work. A new organization, under a new coach, they proved themselves well. Northland, a strong team, began the bout by scoring a touchdown, but the Point proceeded to even the score to six and six, where it stayed. The team came home feeling that they could give any team a good fight.

The next tilt was with the Superior Normal. It was played on the home field. This game was fast and hard fought for the entire period. While Stevens Point lost, there need be no shame about the 3 to 0 score. Superior was forced to kick for her points. The game finally resolved itself into an exchange of punts, one team returning the other's kicks. Superior threatened to score a touchdown only once, when they passed up almost to the goal line. The Point came within ten yards of their objective twice.

Stevens Point won the first Homecoming game for several years, when it defeated Eau Claire six to nothing. The Point gridgers fought with the strength of the whole school. They took possession of the field and proceeded to hold down their opponents for the entire game. The score is not at all indicative of the battle. Stevens Point did not run up a big total, but they more than made up for their little run-in with Superior the week before.

River Falls, Stevens Point's hereditary rivals, and one of the strongest teams in the State, came a march on the Point, when they pulled the wool over the Purple's eyes to tune of forty to seven. River Falls put on a queer offense which the Point was powerless to solve. They used a type of play popular twenty years ago. Their wedges and mass attacks were new to the home team and were not successfully stopped until the last few minutes of play. River Falls opened lanes lined with men, through the Point line, and the ball was only stopped by the Purple secondary defense.

Lady Luck had a hand in the last game of the season, when Whitewater defeated Stevens Point twenty one to twelve. This was probably the roughest game of the whole season. The Purple suffered several injured men. The very first play caught the Point napping. Whitewater pulled a fake punt and passed thirty yards, up close to the goal line, from where they were able to drive over for their first touchdown. Both teams were about evenly matched as to offense and defense, both making their scores on errors of the other team.

A big season may be expected next year. Practically the whole team is expected back next Fall. The past season was not characterized by any terrible defeats, with the exception of the River Falls battle. While it was not as successful as might have been, the team gained very valuable experience, and should be in a position to dictate some scores next Fall. With this excellent prospect before them, the College can look forward to a football team with good odds of being well toward the top in the '27 conference.

Resumé of Basketball Season

At the beginning of the basket ball season, the outlook was bright. Several of the men from the 1925 season were back, and a number of new men from other schools and from High schools signified their intention of trying for a berth on the cage squad.

Practice began and continued for several weeks before the actual playing season began. Candidates were out every night after classes, and stayed often until after six, sometimes coming after supper to continue their work. The result showed up in the expert teamwork and fine technique displayed on the court in subsequent games.

A brief resume of the season is:

Jan. 7. Game with Wausau Legion. The Point showed their basketball capacity by winning the game 34-25. The Up-river team lost because the Purple squad had much better wind and could keep up the terrific pace without pause.

Jan. 14-15. The first "barnstorming" trip ended in one win and one loss for the Point. The first game with Stout was exceedingly rough, five men being put out on fouls. The Point came out on top with a score of 23-24. The Eau Claire game was slow, and a good exhibition of basketball. The Point lost 22-27.

Jan. 21. The Oshkosh game ended with the Purple on the underside of a 21-22 score. This game was very fast, the Point being ahead 12-6 at the end of the half.

Jan. 28. The return game with Stout was lost when the Purple failed to get a good start. The Point score lagged until the last part of the game, when the Purple cagers sprinted and made seven baskets in as many minutes, gaining nineteen points to Stout's ten during the second period.

Feb. 12. The Purple took their first home win from Whitewater with a margin of two points. The final score was 13-15. The visitors began shooting from all angles, but the Point guarding tightened up and put a stop to this. Notwithstanding poor luck with shots, the Point won the game.

Feb. 18. The second out-of-town trip resulted in the same manner as the first. Oshkosh took the first game 18-19, playing on their own floor, which is long and narrow and to which the Point had to become accustomed before they could work out their plays effectually. The Whitewater contest ended better. The squad was somewhat belligerent over their loss the night before, and proceeded to trim the Downstate team 17-18.

Feb. 23. The Northern State Teacher's College of Marquette Mich. took the game in an overtime period by a score of 30-31. The regular time ended with the score tied, but the overtime spoiled the Point hopes for a victory.

Feb. 25. The Milwaukee game was fast, and although the Point lost 24-26, they were not far behind at any time during the game, and thought they had tied their opponents. However, the Referee ruled out a basket by Paukert, and the Purple had to be content with the loss.

March 4. The last conference game with a win for the Purple over the team which had beaten them by the greatest margin earlier in the season. Eau Claire dropped the game with a score of 30-25 when the Point worked behind the enemy guards and sank basket after basket.

The whole basketball season has been peculiar, in that of nine conference games played, six were decided by a one-point margin, one way or the other. While the majority of games was lost, the school does not feel that the cage season or the squad has been a failure. The school however, had all faith in both.

Girl's Athletic Board

The organization of the girls' Athletic Association is very active in promoting sportsmanship. This association encourages individual sports such as tennis, hiking, coasting, skiing, skating and also soccer, captain ball, basket ball, volley ball and base ball. Hockey was added to this list this year and much interest has been shown for this game.

When a girl has earned 100 points in some physical activity, she is eligible for membership in the G. A. A. A purple chenille letter "S" is awarded also when the 100 points have been earned. For 400 points, a bronze pin is awarded and for 600 points, a gold pin. The highest award for 900 points, earned in two successive years in organized athletics, is a sweater of the school colors awarded by President Baldwin.

Girls' Athletics

Apart from the Athletic activities of the G. A. A., Stevens Point Normal School has in its curriculum, a required amount of class work in athletics.

The work in this class is varied and interesting. Marching, exercises, folk dancing, and games are the subjects which make up the class.

The director of the Physical Education for the girls is Miss Foster, who puts forth every effort in making the work in the athletic field interesting and enjoyable.

Every year a Basketball tournament, is held. The competition between the departments and coaches of the departments is particularly keen and a fine spirit of sportmanship is displayed.

Girls' Athletic Board

Executive Board

President	HELEN LOHR
Vice-President	MILDRED PATCHIN
Secretary	ELIZABETH KELLY
Treasurer	MARGARET COLLINS

For a number of years the Girls' Athletic Association has been managed by a board of four girls who are elected annually. These girls plan the work to be done during the year and then help the other girls in the Association do it.

The board manages and promotes the point system and gives any awards that have been earned. The Girls' Basketball Tournament has for a number of years been sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association, the board being in charge.

The Association has pledged $100 a year toward the tennis courts which were built last year. They have earned this money by sales of various kinds and by putting on the girls' Basketball Tournament.

The faculty athletic board, Miss Foster, Miss Jones, and Mr. Schmeekle is an advisory board which helps out in time of any trouble. The two boards work together to promote the sports of Stevens Point Normal School and to arouse interest in all wholesome recreation.

IRIS

The Music Department this year is under the guidance of Mr. Percival, who has proven himself to be a very able and successful leader in all the musical ventures undertaken. The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs have appeared in concert many times during the year, and the Girls' Glee Club, with the Orchestra and a quartette, broadcast from the local station.

A new idea, the Opera Class, was carried out this second semester. The members of the class were trained during the regular school hours to present a clever operetta, "The Maid and The Middy". The success of the musical year here this year has spoken for itself.

Mr. Burroughs has been responsible for much of our success in Forensics.

Last year, debating teams, coached by him, won second place in the State. This duplicates a similar feat in 1924. A first place in the Interstate Oratorical contest followed by second place in the same contest the next year, and second place in the State Extemporaneous Speakers' Contest ever since its inauguration are a few of the achievements of students coached by him.

Mr Burroughs provides no staff upon which his debators and speakers may lean, but makes each one feel that the responsibility is largely his, and only by his own efforts can he effectively meet it. His willing, guiding hand is ever present to give the touch of success.

The plays produced by his Public Speaking Classes evidence the finesse and smoothness of the professional.

Oratory

Frank Joswick won the honor of representing Stevens Point Normal in the State Oratorical contest at Eau Claire. Leonard Sprague was chosen alternate.

Frank's oration, "Crime, — A Challenge to Youth", was a timely and a very interesting subject. At Eau Claire, where he competed with the cream of the State, Stevens Point ranked third, River Falls first, and Oshkosh second.

We can feel justly proud of the fine showing Joswick made. Third place puts us among the leaders in Oratory also. Frank's months of hard work have been rewarded with fine success; and to him and Mr. Burroughs, S. P. N. voices its approval.

With our orator placed very near to the top, our extemporaneous speaker winning first, and our debate teams swinging into the final triangle from which the State Champions will be decided, S. P. N. can rest on its laurels and feel quite satisfied in its Forensic achievements.

Extemporaneous Contest

Four years ago the Extemporaneous contest was inaugurated and held in conjunction with the State Oratorical contest. Donald Vetter for the third time was chosen to represent Stevens Point in this contest.

The two preceding years Donald won second place and finally this year crowned his wonderful achievements by winning first. His has been a remarkable record and his topic "Show That a Federal Reserve Bank is a Cooperative Institution" was an extremely difficult one to handle, yet he did it so well that he was awarded first place.

At the Interstate Contest, held at Cedar Falls, Iowa, Donald tied for first place.

Since this contest was begun, Stevens Point has consistently been one of the leaders. For three years we have been awarded second place and this year advanced to the top position.

Debate — Affirmative

The question debated in the Inter-Normal League this year was: Resolved, That the Essential Features of the McNary Haugen Bill be Enacted into (Federal) Legislation.

This year, for the first time, marked the organization of a class in debate for which two hours credit were given. The debate teams were selected from this class. The affirmative team was composed of Bernice Vinkle, Allen McVey, Irving Gordon (Captain), and John Prologuski (alternate).

The question pertained to farm relief and was extremely complicated necessitating much intensive study on the part of the debaters. On March 4th, the affirmative met the La Crosse negative team here. Mr. Bost of Carroll college awarded the decision to the affirmative with the rating of 100-96.

Debate — Negative

The negative side was ably upheld by Elizabeth Kelley, Arthur McNown, Donald Vetter (Captain), and Alma Hougam.

The negative team journeyed to Oshkosh and met a strong affirmative team there March 4. Oshkosh won by the close score of 100-96.

When points were tallied it was found that Stevens Point and La Crosse were tied with 196 points each. At the Oratorical contest at Eau Claire, the Forensic Board decided the tie by lot and we were the victors. Consequently our teams had the privilege of debating in the final triangle for the State Championship. On April 4, we won second in the state; Platteville, third; and River Falls, first.

In the first round of debates all the affirmative teams in the State, with the exception of one, were given decisions over the negative.

Last year our debate teams finished second in the race for the State Championship.

"His Majesty Bunker Bean" was presented in the Normal auditorium January 18th, 1927 by the Public Speaking Class under the direction of Mr. L. M. Burroughs.

From the first curtain to the last it was a realistic and inimitably hilarious comedy. Its unusual nature, its spontaneous revelations, its suspended plot, and its subtle humanism required an alert and capable cast and an efficient management. Each of the roles was played with ability, and the precision with which the theatrical effects were handled gave to the presentation a characteristic professional tinge.

A musical score, of an overture, between act selection, and a final march, was arranged and given by the Normal School Orchestra under the direction of Mr. E. Percival.

The Pep Club is a very important factor in all school functions. Their enthusiasm and loyalty puts spirit into every game of the season. Homecoming is sponsored by this worthy organization and every year becomes bigger and better.

Members are appointed into the club each year by the directors of the departments, the membership never exceeding thirty. The Yell Leaders, captains of all the teams, and members of the band are considered honorary members. Each member represents the pep of his department and the club is an exponent of school spirit.

A fund has been started as a reserve that any worthy school enterprize may draw from. Special campaigns are contributed to from this fund.

This is the Pep Club's fourth year and all its members are proud to belong to it and feel they are all out for S. P. N.

Loyola, an organization for the Catholic young men and women of our school, furnishes an opportunity for these students to gather for the discussion of problems of a religious and spiritual nature.

Meetings are held on alternate Thursday evenings when the local pastors and others appear on programs planned to instruct and entertain. We owe much to those who so willingly have given their instruction, leadership and council to us during the year.

Several events of a social nature are held during the year which are popular with the members. Among those are the Knights of Columbus reception, house parties, sleigh rides and excursions to near-by points of interest.

Although the club has been slightly smaller this year than previously because the school enrollment has dropped a little, our energy, enthusiasm and interest has kept Loyola as active as ever.

The Margaret Ashmun Club is a literary society composed of faculty members and students who are interested in English, Dramatics and speech work. It is named for Miss Margaret Ashmun, noted novelist who was born in Stevens Point and who attended the Stevens Point Normal.

Miss Ashmun has offered a prize of twenty dollars to the Club member who writes the best short story during a contest held during the second semester.

The club has taken in two groups of pledges and has several honorary members. Each member is held responsible for a review of one piece of modern literature. Some very interesting and valuable reports have been given, and members have derived much enlightenment from the study of contemporary literature, and plays which the Club made throughout the year.

The faculty members are instructors in science courses, and the students are elected to membership because of excellence in scholarship, interest in science, and school loyalty.

The Club has been entertained with some remarkable and interesting programs this year. These varied from astronomical and electrical phenomena to radio and chemical subjects. Both faculty and student members derived considerable understanding and benefit from them.

During the past three years the Club has sponsored the Culver Memorial Fund, which is directed toward buying scientific books for the Culver Memorial Library, which is open to any student who wishes information upon any scientific subject.

The Girl's Athletic Association is now an organization of much interest among the girls participating in Athletics. A few sweaters and a large number of pins were given to the girls earning the required number of points last year and the association hopes to give many more this year. There are about fifty girls who have won hundred points or more in one or more athletic events and are therefore entitled to active membership.

This year the association has given a party for the new girls who joined the organization each semester. In the winter a sleigh ride party was given and this spring some other form of entertainment will be enjoyed.

The Girl's Athletic association contributes a hundred dollars each year for the tennis courts. The girls tournament furnishes our chief source of revenue but this year the girls have added substantially to their funds by selling novelties, and bars at the games of the season.

The advisory board consists of Miss Foster, Miss Jones and Mr. Schmeekle.

Due chiefly to the sustained and energetic efforts of Mr. Schmeekle, the tennis club was organized in the spring of 1926.

A tournament, the first since 1915, was sponsored by the club last spring. About fifteen girls and twelve boys were entered in the singles and as many in the doubles. Mr. Schmeekle provided gold medals for each winner. It is hoped that even more interest will be taken in the 1927 tournament.

The purpose of the club is to promote tennis as a school sport and sponsor improvements and upkeep of our four splendid courts.

There are nearly thirty members in the club now and the membership is expected to exceed that number as soon as the Tennis season opens again.

The Pointer, the school paper, edited by a staff chosen from the student body, helps it bring the students into closer relationship.

Press Association

The State Normal School Press Association is a new organization which will likely become permanent.

Its purpose is two fold. First, it is the medium through which "the folks back home" may know of the students' activities at their chosen school. Second, it is a means of advertising the school that is unique, yet to the point.

News of individual activities is written and sent both to the town and county papers of which the student is a resident. Thus the Press Association hopes to be a great asset in advertising Stevens Point Normal.

Iris Staff

The 1927 Iris Staff has been enlarged by the addition of an understudy Editor and Business Manager. These people work on the staff, doing as many kinds of work as possible, in order to gain experience in all phases of producing an annual. Several Juniors have worked on the Staff this year to get a background for next year's work.

This idea gives the people who have the work of putting out an Iris much valuable experience. It also encourages an earlier and better organized start on the book next year. With the system in practise, each year should produce a bigger and better Iris.

The Iris Staff wishes to hereby acknowledge the valuable services received from the many persons who co-operated with us in the production of this book.

We would especially mention the following:

Mr. C. Hunting, who took many pictures for us.

Mr. Mueller, who generously gave us the Homecoming pictures.

Kenneth McCarr, who supplied many cartoons.

Mr. Rogers, who gave us valuable advice and supervision.

Miss Diehl and Miss Ivey, who have given much time to the planning of the Intermediate and Primary section.

Faith Herrick, Helen Weber, and Florence Nelson, who have helped with the typing of this book.

Nelson Hall

Nelson Hall is a very familiar place to all students and teachers of the college.

A new girl first approaching Nelson Hall is confronted with an all-alone feeling, but on entering she immediately encounters an atmosphere of friendliness.

Miss Hussey puts forth all her efforts to insure happiness to girls coming to Nelson Hall for the first time. Due to illness, she left us at Christmas time and Miss Ivey is now taking her place.

We have heard vague rumors and interesting bits of various sorts about parties that have taken place at all times of the day and night. There were a couple of "get acquainted" parties at the beginning of the year. Besides these we had Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Birthday parties, which have made Miss Rowe famous.

Tuesday night has been made the most popular by having pie and the privilege of entertaining visitors in the recreation room after dinner.

There has been a new system of government introduced in the dormitory this year. Each corridor has a proctor who reports all late lights to the dean and takes the responsibility of saying good-night.

Among the many characters entering into the life of the girls of Nelson Hall is Pike, the mail man. We can truly say that there is no man who receives a heartier welcome than he.

Nelson Hall ranks as one of the best dormitories in Wisconsin, and accommodates about one hundred eight girls.

Girls leaving the dormitory have many pleasant experiences to recall and regret that they are no longer a member of the family of Nelson Hall.

The Social Calendar

usion to the festivities of Homecoming, the Homecoming dance was vening at 8:30 in the Moose Temple. The purple and gold decorations the occasion, as did the music, which was furnished by Jacob's Orchesen dancing party, sponsored by the Rural Life Club, was enjoyed by d the faculty on Thursday evening. The gym was decorated with ats and pumpkins. Ray Jacob's Orchestra furnished the music.

Mardi Gras

the Mardi Gras was bigger and better than ever before. Stunts, min-and confetti blended into a revelry of gay merry-making.
larity Contest was pitched at top speed to the end, bringing the High ces in as the winners.

n Vodvil was another of the main features. It consisted of six acts, for the ten dollar prize.

Masque, with its colorful splendor, completed the Mardi Gras. It was ue that music, costumes and color were found. It was here that the Popularity Contest were crowned. Prizes were awarded for the best stumes. Everybody took advantage of the fact that the next day was d whole-heartedly into the fun.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"The Fool" by Channing Pollock has been chosen for the Senior Class play to be produced this year. It is a four act drama with a thread of comedy running through it, and promises to be one of the "biggest" plays ever produced in Stevens Point by an amateur cast.

The fact that "The Fool" had a long run in New York and was put on at Princeton University with tremendous success, had a great deal to do with the selection of this year's play.

MODEST WILLIE: He doesn't tell you how he came about his downfall, unless you carry hip-ballast. Willie has an extremely sensitive nose, in fact it was because his nose was red that the Dean became suspicious. Willie's home-town newspaper stated that Deacon Price' son was "Traveling in the West:" after completion of his college career.

The career lasted half a semester.

Time: Anywhere from 7:00 to 8:00 P. M.

Place: Mr. Collin's room.

Characters: Iris Staff.

The scene opens with Graal Herrick seated at Mr. Collin's desk pouring over several annuals from Squedunkville and Squash Center. She is alone, and wears, among other things, a portentous frown. Several minutes elapse. Then the door at center right opens and Jean Mainland enters. She carries much yellow paper which to the naked eye reveals nothing but a vast expanse of blankness.

Jean: "It is seven-five, Graal, where are the others?"

Graal: (who has been working hard, and feels it) "Oh, I have stowed them away in the attic until after the meeting."

Jean: (Slightly aggrieved, but entirely trustful) "Oh, have you? Here comes some-one now.

(Enters Arlene Carlsten and Helen Weber in every evidence of haste)

Arlene: "Hope we are not late. Haven't got my work done, but am going to get right to work next week. Hello Julia!"

(Julia Van Hecke comes dashing in, portfolio in hand, a preoccupied frown on her face).

Julia: "Hope I'm not late, Graal. Have just been to choir practice, and could not get here a minute sooner. Can't stay but a little while because I've got to go home and change, and then go over to Harriet's, and then see Margaret, and take care of Bobby Baebenroth, and study my Sociology, and write a lesson plan, and wash my hair, and write letters to the kids, and go home and set the bread, and clean some of my clothes. Oh, say kids, have I told you the funny one on . . ."

Graal: (Gently but firmly): "Let's get to work, girls. Have you your write-ups Julia?"

Julia: (Blankly) "What write-ups? Oh yes, those for the Iris. Will surely have them next week. Haven't had a minute's time." (Enter Our Hero, Don Vetter. It would seem that if he wastes the next minute, all life would be lost. He carries a portfolio and a huge smile).

Don: "Hi, everybody. Got some money for me? Sorry not to have gotten here sooner, Graal, but the fact is, had a lot of debate work to do."

(We'll say debate work — he has been trying to argue that little girl from the dorm into believing that it wasn't he that she saw the other night with that fluffy blonde.)

Graal: "Well, let's get to work. I'll call roll. Velma Davis—" (Velma enters at a dead run, with her hat in one hand, and sketches dropping from the other)

Velma: "Here I am. Couldn't get here a minute sooner. Joe said I was to leave early because we're going to the dance at Roseland. Here's Bernice. Are you going to the dance?"

(Bernice comes sauntering in, blissfully unconscious of the fact that it is now 7:45. On taking off her coat it develops that she is dressed for a dance.)

Bernice: "Yes, Allen says I'm to meet him at 8:00 o'clock. I left my work home, Graal. Awfully sorry. I've got to go anyhow. Come on Velma."

(Exit Bernice and Velma, followed by Don, who thinks he is staging a clever getaway. Silence for a moment, and then Arlene and Julia arise and saunter away, leaving Jean and Graal busily working. At exactly two minutes past eight Jean yawns.)

Jean: "Come on Graal. Don't feel like working. Let's go over to the Piehouse."

(As Graal does not answer, Jean exits. At eight-ten Graal looks up and discovers she is alone, and the next day they remove her to a padded cell.)

GIRLS DISCOVER THEY DO NOT RATE

GAME FEATURED BY ROUGHNESS

The last game of the marble tournament which was held here a few of the days some time ago, was conspicuous for its unnecessary roughness. From start to finish the spectators, as well as the contestants, were disorderly and quarrelsome. One of the contributing factors of this was the fact that the Oshkosh team insisted on playing with all-steel shooters, while we used those commonly used by classy teams—namely unadulterated aggies. Several times the referee was forced to call individuals for pulling hair, and twice the spectators booed and hissed when a member of the out-of-town team slapped Homer Morrissey's wrist with unnecessary violence. But the crowning event of the whole game was when one of the husky Oshkosh men actually stuck out his tongue at "Bull Montana" Kleese. The game ended in a riot.

GIRL SUICIDES

The fortieth member of the Stevens Point Normal student body to join the rapidly increasing ranks of suicides, is Minnie Sarah Detail, who yesterday kicked off this mortal coil by going to the Biology laboratory and looking at the frogs which the class uses to experiment with. She left a note saying that she could no longer stand this vile place, and that life was no longer worth living. She gave as a reason for her act that her mother was unbearably cruel as she never allowed Minnie to go on a date without forcing her to take a hatpin, and that also her mother forced her to wear red flannels until January.

S. P. N. BUYS LAND

The Stevens Point Normal has just completed a transaction which will prove of undoubted value to the student body as a whole. A large sum of money has been invested in a tract of land situated just beyond the northern limits of the city. This investment is for the purpose of providing space for biological experiment. The vast zoo, which the former owners collected after many years of research and study, will remain intact, except that the bear will be given a bath, and several gallons of a good, strong deoderant, as he has been needing the same for many moons (not saying what kind of moons). Miss Jones, of the Biology Dept., together with Mr. C. Evans will have charge of conducting tours of students about the grounds. The building will be used for general recreation, busses going back and forth every quarter hour, conveying people to and from classes at the Normal proper. Light (very) refreshment will be served at a nominal cost by the girls of the Home Economics Department.

SICKENING DISCOVERY MADE AT DORM

After a recent issue of the Jointer it was discovered that fully sixty per cent of the girls attending this institution of lower knowledge did not rate at all. In fact they might as well not be in existence at all, so far as any actual dating purposes are concerned. The Jointer published a certified and pasteurized list, alphabetically arranged according to color of hair and eyes, of all the girls available for dates. They were classified under four biological heads—First, redheads; Second, those who are real blondes; Third, those who wish they were blondes; and fourth, those who might be mistaken for blondes in the dark. The second classification was according to the individual tastes of the fellows. It consisted of first, those good for a car date; second, those living at home and can stay out after twelve; third, good dancers; and fifth, those who might pass; if your girl is out of town.

IS THIS TRUE?

A recent letter from an old grad states in no uncertain terms that school life is no longer what it used to be—that the rising generation lacks the "wim, wigor, and witality" to attack its problems. She states that our youth is becoming altogether too saintly for any good, and that if care is not shown by those in authority, it will soon develop that students will die at an early age caused by "all work and no play". She cannot understand why the student body as a whole does not care for dances, dates or athletics, and seem only to want to stay home and study. She says it is a decided change from the days of her youth.

GRANPA'S ADVICE

As we sit before the type-writer, with the balmy spring breezes floating in upon us, which will undoubtedly cause us to have a cold in our editorial heads, we believe that altogether too much time is spent in the school room. To think of the poor, misguided wretches sitting in uncomfortable attention, before the august personage of some bored professor, makes our eyes weep, especially since we are cutting a disagreeable class ourselves. What we would advocate would be a back-to-nature college with classes held in the open air on the campus, and students attending only those classes which they have a particular inclination to attend, and that the rest of the time be spent in playing tennis, or in wanderig about the campus, inhaling the nectar of the March winds. Also any fellow attending Normal should be forced to own at least a delapidated Ford, with which to entertain his girl friends. Come fellow students, rise against the old regime, and assert that you are all for "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

POT SHOTS OF THE PRINTERS' DEVIL

RHAPSODY BOLOGNIAN

Papers, yellow and white, words, oaths fluttered through the air. Through the intensity of it she groped blindly. Word after word, synonyms, mingled with despair and anguish flew out to oblivion. Yet the synonym did not appear.

She bent laboriously over the editorial desk and with renewed effort scanned every iota of her editorial mind and uttered guttural and futile squeals. Words, words—antonyms and synonyms—big words, small words, nice words, gall words.

Hopelessly the Society Editress pushed the copy across the desk. "It's no use," said she, "wieners mean wieners, sausage means sausage, but this Number is a lot of Bologna."

SOCIETY

An interesting social meeting of the "How Swell I Am" Society was held at the Pie Shop some days ago.

Over their sinkers and water they discussed the possibility of pledging new members, but many expressed the grave fear that there were no more than two or three students eligible as most of the school was most decidedly plebeian. After a protracted discussion the following program was given:

Paper on "How to Annex Any Fellow in Normal"—Angeline Marshall.

Song "All the Girls They Tice Me So"—Leonard Sprague.

Talk on "Why I Keep My Own Opinions"—Solomon Weltanzik.

Paper on "Why I Date Every Nite."—Elaine Osmundsun.

The new and unusual—that sparkling reality which is known as the life of each school year—is caught and held forever within the pages of Bureau built annuals. The ability to assist in making permanent such delightful bits of class spontaneity rests in an organization of creative artists guided by some 17 years of College Annual work, which experience is the knowledge of balance and taste and the fitness of doing things well. In the finest year books of American Colleges the sincerity and genuineness of Bureau Engraving quality instantly impresses one. They are class records that will live forever.

Kennedy's Studio

DECEMBER

- 7—Mrs. Porter comes to school to inquire about Antone's progress.
Mrs. Porter: But do you think my boy is really trying.
Mr. Smith: (wearily) Yes, madam, the most trying boy in school.
- 2—Y. M. C. A. organizes.
- 3—Home Ecs sponsor a Matinee dance.
- 5—Mr. Rightsell: When is the season for shooting stars.
Whitey: Don't know, sir: I am not yet acquainted with the state's game laws.
- 8—Foods 5 Class give a formal dinner. Everyone uses the wrong fork. Help, help, Emily Post.
- 9—Pointer goes on a weekly basis. Just means fifty cents more to students, but oh, all the work for the staff!
- 10—Athletic Fair and Dance. Basket Social a shrieking success, especially to Greg Charlesworth, when he couldn't find the owner of his box.
- 12—Minnie Van W., Napoleon must have been quite a boy in his day.
Keith B. Mebbe so, but he's a bust now.
- 13—Rural Department Play.
- 14—Formal dresses being rejuvenated for the dinner dance.
- 15—Frank Joswick named school orator.
- 16—Christmas festival under the direction of Mr. Percival.
- 17—All out for Christmas vacation. Teachers' give heavy assignments so students may be kept busy.

WHEN WINTER COMES

The winter of old ages will come to us all — if we don't die too soon, and we don't care to avoid old age in that manner.

The declining years, the sunset time of life, may be your happiest years, but for one thing — POVERTY. That causes much of the sorrows, the privations and bitterness of old age. Better prepare for that time right now. A Bank Account will prove the friend you need. Think it over.

THE BEST PAPERS ARE MADE FROM RAGS

If you want your letter to look its best, to withstand handling and the attacks of time, write it on a Rag Content Bond Paper.

The more rags, and the better rags, there are in a sheet of paper, the better the paper.

If you are interested to know why rags make better papers, we will be glad to mail booklet explaining in more detail.

ARTESIAN BOND is a good-looking, well-built representative of the class of "Rag" Bond Papers.

AND IT ALL HAPPENED IN CIVICS.

Mr. Steiner: Suppose a baby was born on a ship, a Norwegian ship, sailing from Germany to America. His mother was a Hungarian, his father an Italian. What nationality would he be? A citizen of what country?

Class: Same as his parents.

Mr. Steiner: Well Let's make it a little more complicated. Let's suppose his father was swept overboard the day before he was born, and his mother died the same day he was born. Now what would he be.

Keith Berens: An orphan.

Mr. Steiner: Class excused.

THE LOST CORD.

Seated one day at a table,
I was weary and ill at ease,
As I dined on a strange concoction
Called chicken croquettes, with cheese
I knew not what I was eating,
And my courage began to sag
When I struck a cord that tasted
Like a string from my laundry bag.
It clung to my left bicuspid
With passionate force it clung
It hampered articulation
I got it twisted about my tongue,
I tried to cry out for assistance
In vain since my tongue was tied
The cord stole down on my windpipe
And gasping for breath, I died.

GET IN LINE.

It isn't the radiance of your eyes
Like corn-flowers sprinkled with dew
It isn't your rosy cupid-bow lips
With little white teeth peeping through

It isn't your slenderness, softness, and grace
That draws me so strongly to you —
For the fact is, my dear, the reason you're here
Is because you're the best I can do.

And, departing, leave behind us

The easiest way of cleaning dishes after a meal is to take them to the back yard and throw them one by one at the rear wall of the house. This is an excellent method of keeping the hands white.

Gregory (thinking fast) No indeed — But you haven't forgotten you said you wouldn't, have you?

Fair one: Now before we start out for this ride, I want to tell you that I don't smoke, drink or pet. I visit no roadhouses and I expect to be home before ten o'clock.

Young gallant: You're mistaken.

Fair one: You mean that I do any of those things?

Young gallant: No. I mean about starting for this ride.

My Experience With Women—

Abdullah-Bumbkin

Man is not much of an animal to get mushy often, except once in a while in the spring and sometimes during the summer, fall and winter. That is why I think I ought to be excepted from any blame in the matter which I am about to relate.

I was somewhat interested in a certain young lady during the High school season, when I was only a Soph. I am a Junior now, and when I think of some of my childhood escapades, I have to laugh up my sleeve. Well, about the young lady — I was out with her one night in my father's car. I was somewhat rash in my actions, and tried to embrace her with the hot, passionate type of embrace which I have seen Richard Bartholemess use on the silver screen. I think she was expecting something of the kind, for she repulsed my attempt and I retired with a shiner and some experience gained.

Well, I told her I would not ever give her another ride in my car. She laughed and said it was my Pa's car and that she would go with Rudy Howard, who has got a car which his father gave him for a birthday present. It's only an old Ford which Rudy's father got tired of having fixed, and it rattles like all git-out. Well, I said she could go with Rudy Howard and welcome, and she said she would, but he was too fat for her. She said she liked slim men. (I am a slim man).

So I reasoned out by devious methods, which are known only to men who know women inside and out, that she was fishing. So I said, "now my dear Allie, I am a man of the world and I cannot be bothered with innocent country girls like you, and she said well, she wasn't any innocent country girl, and I said prove it.

That is why I think I have a good excuse for my subsequent actions.

Because she did, in fact I think she knew how all the time and was trying to fool me, but she couldn't. I know women.

LAUGH IF YOU CAN.

Miss Gray: "Do you understand French?"
Crosby: "Yes, if it is spoken in English."

Julia (in chemistry) "Hey Butch, where did formalde hyde?"

Bill: "I think I will join the army."
Gladys: "You sure do need practice in the use of arms."

A school publication is a good invention,
The school gets all the fame,
The printer all the money,
And the staff all the blame.

Joe: "Say Choffer, how much do I owe you?"
"Seven dollars and fifty cents, sir."
Joe: "Well back up until you come to thirty cents. That is all I got."

Bernice: "Joyce told me that you told her that secret I told you not to tell her."
Helen, (gasping) "Oh, isn't she the mean thing? Why I told her not to tell you."
Bernice: "Well I told her I wouldn't tell you that she told me — so don't tell her I did."

Life is real, life is earnest,
But it might be more sublime
If the seniors weren't so busy
Studying lessons all the time.

Walter: "Would you like a pet monkey?"
Arlene: "Oh! This is so sudden."

John: "Well, I guess I'm the flower of the family."
Arnold: "Is that why your brother called you a blooming idiot?"

Miss Ivey: "Is Leith in here?"
Irma: "Have not seen her for hours." (after door closes) "Is she here?"

Son (writing home) "The checks you give me are getting smaller each time. Why is that?"
Father (in reply) "What can you expect with paper the price it is?"

Woman is a creature of moods — generally the imperative mood.—Ex.

A loud noise was heard in the back of the room during geometry class.
Mr. Collins: "Bright, what are you doing?"
Everett: "Oh nothing, Mr. Collins, I simply dropped a perpendicular."

A TOAST.

*Here's a toast to those whose names don't appear—
In poem, grind, jingle, or joke
For you've offered your bribe and shed many a tear
To escape the cruel pen of the Iris folk.*

Patch: "Did you write in your diary last night?"
Heinie: "No, I didn't have a date last night."

NAUGHTY.

The sofa sagged in the center;
The shades were pulled just so;
The family had retired;
The parlor light burned low;
There came a light from the sofa
As the clock was striking two;
And a student slammed her text book,
With a thankful, "Well, I'm through."

Mr. Rogers: "What is a nitride?"
Margaruite: "That is what we dorm girls can't have."

KEITH'S DRIVING ADVENTURE.

I cranked her up,
The clutch was in,
The ground came up
And hit my chin.

The gas tank leaked
I lit a cigar,
The Ford stayed there
But I went far.

The front wheel broke
A fence we knocked,
And I to sleep
Was gently rocked.

I asked my girl
To ride with me,
A tire blew out
And so did she.

We met a mule, —
No more to tell;
The Ford's in Heaven
And I'm—getting well.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

After dissecting the black cats, the Physiology class took inventory in the laboratory and store room, and then gave a banquet.

Money is the root of all evil. Oh Lord, give us more root!

Mary Agnes: "I think the opening line of Tennyson's 'Break, Break, Break' is sad."
Frank: "I think broke, broke, broke is a good deal sadder."

Mr. Smith: "If you've lost your voice, say so; don't sit there and stare!"

Burton: "Why did you come home so late?"
Joe: "I was best man at a wooden wedding."
Burton: "What do you mean, wooden wedding?"
Joe: "Two Poles were married."

ADVICE TO SOPHS.

Don't study; it is bad for the nerves.
Don't walk in the halls; running is better exercise.
Don't whisper in assembly; talking aloud is more easily understood.

MEN—AH—MEN.

Just ninety strong are they,
The men folks of this school;
But so it is, they say,
A general "Normal" rule.

Poor men, oppressed on every side
By girls, now two, now three;
But see, they turn and look with pride;
They care not to be free.

Just note this one; you know him, all,
And know his smile so well—
For which of these will Rusty fall?
(We'll let Dan Cupid tell.)

And so it is with all the rest,
They find it hard to choose,
So rush them all with vim and zest,
To each their heart they lose.
Men—Ah—Men.

Avoid the bed.—That's where most deaths occur.

'Tis said that life is what you make it. Seems to us, it's what the pedagogues make it.

The girl that is not good looking but can dance like a million is like an Elgin movement in an Ingersol case.

WRITTEN BY EDGAR A. GUEST.
for

MR. RELAHAN.
SINCE THE BABY CAME.

Time was that I could lie me down to sleep an hour or two
Or take a friendly book in hand and sit and read it through;
Time was that I could hum a tune or loudly sing the same,
But that was in the distant past before the baby came.

Once I was master in my house and boldly had my way
I'd cross my threshold with a grin and shout a glad Hooray!
But mightier monarch rules the home, and I am in eclipse.
The shout of joy is silenced by her finger on her lips.

Time was I bravely slammed a door or called down-stairs for aid,
Or boldly walked from room to room in search of things mislaid;
But now I tiptoe round the place, a narrow path I take
And I must hold my tongue until that little tyke's awake.

The home is not as once it was, we've built our lives anew
We're doing not the things we choose, but what he makes us do:
A tiny tyrant rules us all, the house is his to own
And that small crib wherein he lies is mightier than a throne.

In whispers now I speak my wants where once I loudly spoke,
The very walls are silenced, too, where once the laughter broke;
And though the ways of old are gone, their joy I'd not reclaim,
We do not want the home we knew before the baby came.

Our librarians
Are sage like centenarians.
If you crack a smile,
They rush up the aisle
Like Romans chasing barbarians.

Mr. Herrick (to training school boy): "Young man, if your behavior isn't better today than it was tomorrow, you'll have no more basket ball."

Maud Muller on a summer's day raked the meadow sweet with hay and the sun shone out as was his biz, in that familiar way of his, till Maud broke out with prickly heat, and then her language shocked the wheat.

Why do Normal students patronize neighboring stores when the counter is willing to soak them?

Which instructor was it who said goodbye to the garbage and threw his wife into the furnace before going to classes?

Mr. Smith (talking of the Trojan War): "How old was Helen?"

Patch (Just waking up): "Eighteen her last birthday."

REVIEW OF REVIEWS AT THE DORM.

Oh, bounteous dish of hash,
So lovely smelling,
Do you know what you're made of?
I hear no one's telling.

They say you hail from Hungary,
But this to me sounds rash;
For how could folks be hungry,
Surrounded by goulash?

WHY TEACHERS GO INSANE.

1. I don't understand the question.
2. I don't know the assignment.
3. I had my theme all written but left it at home.
4. Shall we write on both sides of the paper?
5. Miss Foster, may I please borrow your key?
6. The library wasn't open.

Margaret Lord: "Oh, I hate you. Every time I say anything you stand there and contradict me."
 Varney: "Why, I do not."

McVey: "Why is an ice-cream cone like a billiard ball?"
 Weldon: "I'll bite."
 McVey: "Because neither one can ride a bicycle."

Miss Jones: "The class will now name some of the lower species of animals, starting with Miss Normington."

Margaret: "Have you read Ivanhoe?"
 Graal: "No, those Russian novels bore me; the Iris is all I have time for."

When you're fooling at the dorm
 Having heaps of fun,
 A-laughing and a-shoutin'
 Making things all hum
 Be careful what you do
 Take care if you should shout,
 For Miss Ivey's sure to catch you
 If you don't watch out.

N. Cottage: "We haven't any milk in the house."
 S. Cottage: "You needn't hint around here for any. Call up the crematory and have them send over a quart."

It is better to have come and flunked than never to have come at all.

Velma: "You should see our Police Force at Pardeeville. He's an awfully nice fellow. Our Fire Department is a good scout too."

Helen: "What's all this bunk about vitamins? I don't believe a word about it. My ancestors got along without them."

Miss Allen: "Yes, but look at your ancestors. Dead, all dead."

A man's reputation is generally based on what isn't found out about him.

Teacher: "Where is Berlin?"
 Little Bosco: "In New York writing a new song hit."

JUST A VOICE.

The sole survivor of a shipwreck had just been washed ashore on a desert island. No signs of life were visible. Being afraid of cannibals or wild animals, he moved cautiously. As he neared the top of a sand dune, he heard a strange voice.

He crouched apprehensively, not knowing what to expect, when suddenly he heard a voice say, "Who in — trumped that ace of mine."

"Thank the Lord, murmured the man," there are Christians on this island."

TWO-A.M.

Wifey: "Didn't I hear that clock strike two as you came in last night?"

Hubby (who thinks quick)—"You did, my Dear. It started to strike eleven and I stopped it so it wouldn't awaken you."

ADAGE IMPROVED.

To err is human; to inherit is divine.

SO'S YOUR OLD MAN.

"Mamma, do heathens in Africa wear clothes?" asked the five year old Maryo.

"No, dear", was the reply.

"Then what good will that button do that papa dropped in the collection plate".

"Wanta go swimmin'?"

"I don't swim".

"Wanta go bathin'?"

"I don't—aw, shut up!"

Money is good. She married him for his own good.

"SEEING THE WORLD."

Our heart goes out to the man that joined the navy to see the world and spent four years in a submarine.

Yesterday we heard positively the last one on our friend, the absent minded professor. He slapped his wife and kissed the door.

THE BIG BATTLE.

An elderly gentleman was asked by one of his sons to go with him to a boxing exhibition. Accordingly all arrangements were made, the son paying $2 a piece for the seats.

"Now, dad", said the son, his eyes lighting up with the lust for battle. "You'll see more excitement for your $2 than you've ever seen in your life before".

Where upon the old man grunted with something very akin to disgust.

"I've got my doubts about that," he said gloomily. "Two dollars is all that my marriage license cost me."

Recent Procedure Established In The Training School

Absence or Tardiness: Student teachers coming late to class shall be considered tardy. Those not present shall be considered absent. No student teacher shall be absent more than three times to attend the funeral of the same person. In case of sickness, the student will notify Mr. Herrick at least thirty days in advance. If illness terminates in death, Mr. Herrick must be informed ten days in advance so a successor may be found. No student teacher may die during testing week, the end of the quarter, or when the critic does not feel like taking the class. Anyone violating this regulation will be immediately dismissed and his class taken away from him for the rest of his life.

Punishment: Student teachers may administer corporal punishment although it must be done with kindness, moderation and feeling. If the teacher does not feel capable of the task, he may call on the other members of the class to help him. Sloan's Liniment is the accepted panacea of the Training Department.

Preparation: Every student teacher shall have his lesson prepared before the class is over. Daily Lesson plans will be written after class so as to include the important parts of the lesson. Any student teacher knowing enough about the subject to correct a pupil will be dismissed from class by the chairman. Any student teacher found leaving his class before the beginning of the drill period will be removed from his class and given full credit.

Routine duties: Anyone caught doing board and room duty will be reprimanded for being caught.

Pay no attention to "See me" on plans or the bulletin board. They are there to take up space.

Any plans, reports, or notebooks handed in on time will have 25% deducted for promptness.

Never meet your chairman at the appointed time. It is annoying to the pupil. Chairman should be trained not later than during the discussion period.

Cooperation: Training teachers should cooperate with the student teachers by visiting the class only at appointed times. The student teacher will arrange with the class for this visit.

All Training teachers should cooperate by wearing bells. When in the vicinity of any class, they will ring the bell so the classes may find some work to do and assume a studious atmosphere.

Any student teacher found in Conference or at anytime trying to co-operate with anyone in the Training School, will be dismissed for a poor attitude.

Any student teacher found violating these rules will be punished by being recommended for a position next year.

BUT NOT VERY.

Springer: "That's funny!"

Oscar: "What?"

Springer: "Oh, I was just thinking."

Oscar: "Ha! Ha! That is funny."

Everett: "What would a cannibal be who ate his mother's sister?"

Leander: "I'll bite on that; what?"

Everett: "An Aunt-eater, of course."

Mr. Ware: "So your son has been injured and is coming home from college?"

Mr. Zeigal: "Yes, he sprained his ukelele finger."

Attempts at Poetry gleaned from Mr. Rellahan's English Class. Paraphrasing "To bicker down the valley" from Tennyson's poem, "The Brook" — "To have an undignified quarrel in a low place among the hills."

Another one given was the line from Lochinvar. "He stayed not for brake," paraphrased it: "He never stopped for a mechanical contrivance to reduce speed by means of friction."

The prize ruralite was the one who wrote and asked his "collegiate" son if Mardi Gras was some new kind of marsh hay.

Famous last words: "I can stay out of the dorm as late as I want."

Now that the co-eds are starting a fad for long hair, it will be tough for the guy who could formerly use the alibi that the hair on the shoulder of his coat was his own.

SONGS OF THE YEAR.

The versatile song — "I'll be loving you all ways."

The Scotch song — "I love to spend the evening."

Red Grange's favorite — "Where did you get those ice?"

The latest song of the evening—"Good-night".

SHORT STORIES.

"I was a promising organist until the monkey died."

"Now I ax you," said the Indian as he raised his weapon over his victim.

Wierinzinski: "What's the idea, Pete, wearing you sock wrong side out?"

Pete: "There's a hole on the other side."
