IN MEMORIAM

We at C.S.C. will not soon forget the kindly gentleman, Mr. Mott, to whose memory we fondly dedicate this Iris.

He will always be endeared to his students and associates as the tall white haired teacher of educational psychology, philosophy, and English. Mr. Mott held the enviable record of never having been absent from class because of illness until last spring. He was a popular speaker for men's groups and civic organizations in this area.

His scholarliness, kindly manner, frequent words of encouragement and dry humor will long be remembered by his students.
IN MEMORIAM

We, the students at Central State College, dedicate this nineteen fifty three Iris to the memory of Dr. Harold Tolo.

His little office on second floor was more than just an office, for few passed by without stopping in for some friendly advice or just a brief chat with "Doc." His laughing manner and deep-toned voice ringing through the halls were a welcome sound to all; newcomers soon knew he was a friend. Dr. Tolo's classes, conducted in the most home-like atmosphere, were no cinch; but who did not love the heated discussions there, whether it be the history of yesterday or the politics of today?

Yes, we shall always remember "Doc."
To Our Readers:

This year we have furnished a guide to take you through the pages of the Iris. You will find that your guide is a very familiar symbol of our college. We have taken the liberty of naming him Stevie, the Pointer.

Stevie will take you on a pictorial tour showing the events of the past year at Central State. He is stationed at appropriate places to help you find pictures of various phases of college life.

The Iris staff hopes you will enjoy your tour with Stevie and spend many happy hours recalling past memories.

CLASSES
After four years of fun, friendships, and fervent studying, the class of '53, under the leadership of Henry Drechsler, president; Robert Gruling, vice-president; Mary Lund, secretary; Eleanor Curtis, treasurer; Bill Clayton, student council representative; and Miss Isaacson and Mr. Crow, faculty advisors; is ready to set out on the long last walk from the warm shelter of C.S.C. We and they are truly sorry to watch these happy years come to a close; but together we look forward eagerly to the new paths, new fields which lie before them.

Happy traveling, seniors; and know that you never walk alone, for we at C.S.C. are solidly behind you!

JUNIOR CLASS OF 1954

The class of '54 was led this year by Ray Anderson, president; Betty Crook, vice president; Jeannette Diver, secretary; Joyce Zellinger, treasurer; Fred Schadewald, student council representative; and Miss Bainter and Mr. Trytten, faculty advisors. Well on their way to the end of the college walk, our juniors walked with a quickened pace — both in their studies and their many activities, chief of which was the gala Junior Prom. Many in teacher training had their first opportunity to work with the children at the Training School. We know that they will live up to the highest traditions of C.S.C. seniors.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OF 1955

Their proving days over, the sophomores turned with eager stride to become an active force in the college program this year. Choosing for their officers, Leroy Purchatzke, president; John Miller, vice president; Judy Clayton, secretary; Marguerite Smith, treasurer; Gary Krueger, student council representative; and Miss Davis and Mr. Lewis, faculty advisors; the class of '55 made a fine record for themselves in every way.

FRESHMAN CLASS OF 1956

There is one thing to be said for the nervous students who came up the front walk for the first time this September — they certainly were strong in numbers! Partly because of this, the freshmen were quick to form into an active and enthusiastic class, and even put on a highly successful Frosh Hop. Much of the credit goes also to their energetic leaders who were Homer Plumb, president; Carmen Breitenfeldt, vice president; Roberta Vaughn, secretary; Phil LaLeike, treasurer; Gene Kussman, student council representative; and Mrs. Pfiffner and Mr. Pierson, class advisors.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

"Will the meeting please come to order" ... once a month these familiar words echo as the various professional organizations meet to study and discuss the pertinent problems in the field. Upon enrolling in the department of their choice all students are invited to become members of its professional organization. The organizations include: The Future Teachers of America, Round Table, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Primary Council, Forum, Home Economics Club, and The Rural Life Club.

HONORARY ORGANIZATIONS

The reward for a job well done, and the stimulation to be a real leader in his chosen field — that is what the honorary organizations mean to the students of C.S.C.

Representing the departments of English, music, dramatics, social science and science, these organizations are open to those who can make the required grade point and who are invited to "pledge." This is not ordinary pledging but a trying test of their abilities in their major field. Most of the organizations are chapters of a national group, and all offer their members the chance to be part of a close-knit, enthusiastic group. Proudly we hail this year's members of our Honorary Organizations!

THE GREEKS
GREEK ACTIVITIES

Looks like Greeks to me!
CONSTRUCTIVE PLEDGING
Tau Gamma Beta undertook another busy year beginning with the Fall Tea in September. The first sorority organized on the campus, it is distinguished by the colors of pink and blue and is known for its active group loyalty to our Alma Mater. Some of the annual Tau Gamma traditions include an alum tea, Senior Party and a Homecoming float, this year winning first prize. The Intersorority Dance in co-operation with the Omegs and Psi Betas was given on St. Valentine’s Day with a most appropriate theme — "Sweetheart's Holiday." Joyce Moll led the group through the first semester's activities. During the second semester, President Barbara Nelson guided the group through the activities including the "Tournament of Roses" rushing party and the "Cotton Swirl." A much treasured president's pin was presented to the sorority this year, the gift of an alum.
Celebrating its second birthday last fall, Psi Beta Psi's successful year began during orientation week with a skit for the freshmen. Contributing to the first semester campus activities, the group led by President Nancy Pautz presented the Annual Fall Festival with the theme of "Campus Carnival," a Homecoming float, and the "Davy Jones Locker" rushing party. Wearing the sorority colors of green and peach, the pledges kept ever within their reach the Davy Jones foot locker. The mid-winter tea and second semester pledging during which the prospective members donned new pledge pins were successful under the auspices of President Vivian Schultz. A climax to the year’s activities was the Intersorority picnic which with the cooperation of the Tau Gams and Omegs was held in the late spring.
Distinguished by the colors of violet and yellow, the Omega Mu Chi began another successful year in contributing whole heartedly to campus spirit. First semester activities included a fall tea, Homecoming float and the annual Christmas Knitting Bazaar, guided by President Barbara Hanson. The Omegs along with the other sororities experimented with an extended pledging season second semester. Previous to the rushing period, the sorority participated in the annual Intersorority coke party. As president, Marjorie Benson led the girls through the second semester activities including the colorful "South Sea Islands" rushing party and the alumni picnic. The year was climaxed by the traditional Omeg Date party.
Founded in 1930, the Chi Delts have maintained a prominent position at C.S.C. They have distinguished themselves in every phase of campus life, and this year sponsored the winning candidate for Homecoming Queen. Under the leadership of President Frank DeGuire the Wisconsin Delta chapter was added to the national roll of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity in December of 1952. It was a big day when the national officers came to install twenty-eight of the former Chi Delts into the new chapter, thus making the second national fraternity on the campus.

During the second semester under the new name the Sig Eps conducted a colorful rushing period of ten weeks which was climaxed by a traditional Senior Banquet on May 9.
The men of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, Kappa chapter of the national fraternity, no sooner got back on campus this year than they began their round of activity. Homecoming found them busy plugging for their queen and going over plans for a float. It was during the first semester under the guidance of President Jerry Bartosz that the much desired campus fraternity house, at 1022 College Avenue, became a reality for the Phi Sigs who use it for the convenience and pleasure of actives and alumni. In November the chapter played host to the regional conclave.
Second semester pledging found the prospective members prominent on the campus with their traditional red bow ties, hats and paddles. Along with the other Greek organizations, the Phi Sigs lengthened their pledging period. As President, James Wilkinson led the organization through a successful spring which was climaxed by the annual style show, put on for the public and the college. Thus the Phi Sigs chalked up another great year!

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS

It is indicative of the spirit at C.S.C. that we should have on campus seven active religious groups which are so well-supported by the students and faculty alike.

At the business meetings which are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month, the members also talk things over with their advisors and have a pleasant time socially. This year was a busy one, filled with many extra projects — such as the Christmas Fund for the Sparta Orphanage, a variety show, a state convention held on campus, contributions to a convent building fund, the Deputation Team, the annual banquets, and the Camp-Out planned for the summer.

Yes, it was a busy year and we hope that C.S.C. "Grads" will always keep this generous spirit, for as long as that exists, the world has little to fear and much to hope for.

Wislinsky hits for ten!

Is she in the stands, Joe?

Where's the Piano?

Don't miss that one!

Refresher for Stan!
Will anyone ever forget the fighting, charging, spirited, never-say-quit gridiron aggregation of 1952? Coach John Roberts stepped into his new assignment like a seasoned veteran as he expertly blended a squad of eager yearlings with learned lettermen, instilling in them an unexcelled desire to play the game for all it was worth and win, win, win.

And win they did! Six straight foes fell victim to the Pointer surge before champion Platteville could head the Purple and Gold contingent. Bruised but undaunted, the P and G's used their two-platoon system to its fullest to romp over the final foe of the season and pocket an admirable 7-1 record for their efforts.

Seven Pointers fought their way into all-conference berths. Seniors Bryan Purchatzke, Jack Popeck, Marlyn Gilbert and Stan Karls along with Juniors Mark Schommer and Nubbs Miller and Sophomore Bob Bostad, were the men honored by rival coaches.

It was a well known fact that the Pointers lacked the size usually associated with college teams. Nevertheless, the Robertsmen were giants — giants of desire!
Nubbs hits the hole!

Hey! The ball, Jim!

Hit him! Jack!

BASKETBALL

Scrapping every inch of the way, C.S.C.'s hardcourt men used their patent scoring power to its fullest advantage and wound up the season with a creditable 12-8 record. Supercharged from the starting whistle, the Pointers took on each opponent in turn with only one objective in mind — to emerge the victors.

Point used their home-court advantage to bring down such powerhouse contingents as Lawrence, of the Midwest conference, and St. Norberts, along with strong Milwaukee and Oshkosh aggregations in Wisconsin State conference action. Fast breaking, shooting, passing, driving, veteran competitors Ray Anderson, Bob Bostad, Bob Blomiley, Dick Bechard, Fred Schadewald, Les Thompson, and Jerry Boldig carried the brunt of the Pointer attack, ably supported by such outstanding freshmen as: Erv Redding, Joe Sanks, Ken Roloff, William Schroeder, Carl Wieman, John Amburgy, Pat Buchberger and Ken Wasserman. The Pointers had a great season; bigger things are yet to come.
Ugh! Just a little more!

Got it zeroed in!

Use the other hand, Moose!

Hang on tight!

Free ride!
After making a brief but welcome appearance last year, wrestling emerged from its embryonic period to take its place beside its brother sports in 1952-53. The Training School gym, for the first time in many years, again became the haven of a varsity sport.

C.S.C.'s grapplers embarked on an ambitious six match schedule and batted an even .500. The three victories came in two decisive wins over Carroll College and one over perennially strong Ripon College. On the other side of the ledger, Coach John Robert's boys became victims of Lawrence College twice, and of Ripon once.

Leading the crew were Dave Hurlbut and Ron Wislinsky, both undefeated in collegiate competition. Terry McMahon, John Langton, Ralph Seefeldt, Don Herrmann, Bernie Junior, Ken Hurlbut, and Ron Hunter, filled in by Terry McCauley, Dave Ross and Jerry Munderloh made the necessary victory points for the Central State College. A creditable showing, which has insured the sport's long stay, is the enviable record of this year's wrestling team.

This year marks the first time in over two decades that Susan E. Colman has not been a member of our faculty.

When Miss Colman announced her retirement in September, 1952, the faculty and student body together felt a personal loss. She had become so much a part of C.S.C. that it was difficult to imagine college life without her. Her spontaneous enthusiasm, wide experience, great knowledge, unswerving loyalty and friendly personality made her a friend of all that knew her.

C.S.C. wishes Miss Colman all good fortune in whatever future tasks she undertakes.
